In Oakton Manor high voltage wires were down in the Keeney-Ozanan area which caused the blackout there.

Friday, East Maine Junior High began to flood, and school was dismissed around 1 p.m. Maine East was without power Tuesday, the first time the school has been closed in more than 20 years. Niles Public School also closed Tuesday. The school buses were at the school before many of the teachers arrived, and they turned around and took the children back home.

While the Christmas spirit seems to renew itself during times of stress, the 8100 block of Wisner showed an unusual bit of brotherly love. When one side of the street blacked out, water-proofed cable was extended to neighbors across the street from homes across from them, allowing the blacked-out area to use current from the homes of the more "enlightened" Wisnerites.

A lady telephoned late Tuesday afternoon to let us know mothers at Cumberland and Dempster were parading with their children with signs protesting the dangerous crossing which is unguarded. Certainly, if Niles can successfully combat the battle of the ice age, she can come up with a solution to this danger, which has plagued these residents for years.

Robert Wente has devoted long hours to his job as Trustee for very little remuneration and overtime with no recognition for the work done. Why does he do it?

Said Wente, "I ran for office four years ago because I saw Niles going downhill, and had to try to do something about it. Not only have we stopped the downward trend, but we have done a complete about face. Our village is now on a solid forward course and gaining in prestige. I would like to stay on as trustee to see the job continued. True, it takes a great deal of hard work—most people don't realize it. However, there are rewards in just seeing the improvements taking shape and in knowing that I was part of it. It is a great source of self-satisfaction."

The names of the other two candidates for Trustee on the Forward Era Party ticket will be announced in about ten days.

Possibility Of A Niles Teen Center Considered

The creation of a Teen Center in the village of Niles has taken several steps closer to becoming a reality. After several meetings, student representatives from Maine East, Niles West and St. Pat's have decided to continue with plans to survey the teen agers of Niles for their opinion regarding a Center, solely administered by teen agers. The deep concern for present and future facilities for teen age activities in Niles has brought forward this action. In the preliminary discussions, it was agreed that the Center should provide, in addition to dancing, a lounge, ping pong room, snack bar, reading room and any other activities teen agers may decide upon. The administration of the Center would be performed by teen agers who would elect their own officers and board of directors, do their own purchasing and provide their own help. Activities aside from social are also seriously considered, such as, welfare committees, help with village functions, Niles Days and possibly have a voice as a representative group with the various governing bodies.

Niles Teens who initially attended the meeting were: Sue Rost, 7321 Crain, Bob Blake, 7444 Lill, Paul Nielsen, 8131 Elmore, Peggy Murad, 8726 Madison, Mike Place, 7100 Birchwood, Donna Drew, 6848 Concord, Paul Angelino, 7523 Neva, Sharon Rek, 6920 Keeney, Janet Hoglund, 6835 Oakton Ct., and Francis Rajski, 7703 Nora.

All teen agers between the ages of 13 and 19 who are interested in such a Center are requested to fill out the questionnaire appearing below and mail to: "Teen Center, c/o Village Hall, 7166 Milwaukee Avenue, Niles, Illinois, 60648.

Bill Reed Runs For Mayor ... Attacks Blase On Sewers, Self Interest

(Press Release)

William (Bill) Reed has announced his candidacy for mayor of Niles along with a full slate of village officials. Reed, age 36, lives at 8444 Johanna Drive with his wife and three daughters. Reed, a local businessman, has been a resident of Niles for the past 11 years.

Bill Reed stated he is prepared to wage a vigorous campaign, a campaign nurtured by his belief in good government and the failings of the present administration. Reed said, "I don't have the financial backing of the incumbent, I oppose the mayor's methods of filling his campaign coffers. Mayor Blase is guilty of using his public office as an instrument for private gain. I resent the mayor's pressure tactics and stand four square against them."

Bill Reed said the issues in the campaign are clear. He believes the mayor should provide community leadership, serving as the vehicle for civic pride and local progress. "Niles is my home. The mayor of our community should have the village's welfare as his foremost concern. Nick Blase has repeatedly demonstrated that he is his own first concern. That's why I am blasé about Blase," said Reed.

Bill Reed further charged Blase with full responsibility for the inadequate sewer system which plagues sections of Niles. "Blase made the initial mistake, and now he wants the homeowners to pay for his blunder," he said.

Bill Reed went on to state,

"The conflict of private interest with public trust which exists in the present administration is shocking. Without question, Mayor Blase's activities violate the spirit of existing state law. Trustee Scheel knows this. So does Blase. That's why Blase defeated Scheel's proposal to eliminate this conflict of interest. I am going to defeat Nick Blase and all he represents in April. I know only one measure of success, hard work. I have committed my total energies to this campaign. And I shall not sleep until I carry my message to every citizen in our village."

Bill Reed is a veteran of the Korean War, active in the Oakton Manor Home Owners' Association, and a member of the Our Lady of Ransom Church.

Reed emphasized his desire to be, if elected, an accessible mayor, a mayor who is always available for the comments and concerns of his neighbors. Reed suggested that anyone desiring more campaign information telephone him at his home at 823-7240.

From The Left Hand

Thursday morning at 3 a.m. at the cold, cold corner of Milwaukee and Dempster, Niles Fire Department was putting out a fire at the tavern on the southeast corner. Despite the below zero temperature at least 25 firemen were on the scene, doing their usual fine job. Being a born indoorsman, we lasted no more than ten minutes on the scene before retreating home. And while we were all admiring for Niles' finest (both the policemen and firemen) we were equally impressed with the many Niles Paid-On-Call firemen who were also on the scene. Half of Niles Public School Board, Foss, Hoppe and Eckel, all paid-on-call volunteers, were there, leaving the warmth of their early morning bed to battle the sub-zero temperatures, as well as the fire. Nilesites can be thankful they have three top public departments, which continuously go "above and beyond the call" for residents.

The political pot began heating this week and you can expect a witch's brew to begin boiling from here on in.

Last week's story of Szymanski's decision not to seek re-election in the village election was met here with dismay. Len proved to be one of the best trustees we've seen in Niles in our eleven years here, and his loss will be missed.

This week's announcement that Scheel will once more run for trustee on Blase's ticket came after much soul-searching on Scheel's behalf. As late as the past week he was being approached by groups in Niles to join with them in the upcoming election. The Niles Republicans, led by Ed Gembicki, were interested in Scheel, and while Scheel's private convictions likely lean in the Republican direction, he has long expressed little interest in a Democratic-Republican alignment in local elections.

Scheel disavows the upcoming Blase political fundraiser at Tam this month, and mentioned retiring trustee Szymanski also was not in agreement with the Blase rally. Said Scheel, he would not attend the affair, manifesting the same independence which he has followed during his six years in politics.

Join Wente, Lieske On Ticket

(Press Release)

The Forward Era Party of Niles has announced the names of the two candidates for Trustee which will complete the ticket. They are the incumbent Kenneth Scheel, and Keith W. Peck, presently a Niles Park Commissioner.

"Kenneth Scheel," said campaign manager Len Borkowski, is part of our original team which was elected four years ago. It is good to have him with us. We are sorry that Leonard Szymanski has decided not to be a candidate again. His work as Trustee has been outstanding. But after 10 years of service to the community he would like to devote more time to his family. Therefore, he is retiring from the hectic pace of public office. The time and effort Len Szymanski devoted to the betterment of Niles will not soon be forgotten."

Orylle Ottow, working with Borkowski for the Forward Era Party, said: "We feel that in Keith Peck we have a gentleman who can follow in Szymanski's footsteps. Keith is no stranger to public office. He is now completing four years as a commissioner with the Niles Park District, and is familiar with the problems and

Demon Wrestlers Suffer Defeats

Last Friday and Saturday the "Steamin Demons" from Maine East suffered their fourth and fifth conference defeats, giving them an 0-5 record.

The Demons have had several problems this year. Phil Eaton, who was heavily counted on, has been a big disappointment. There has been no one individual who has been particularly good. A major problem has been poor attendance at home meets. A little support from the student body could improve team spirit.

Next Saturday the "Steamin Demons" will play host to Downers Grove, beginning at 2:30.

District 63 Board Adopts New Salary Schedule

A new salary schedule for the school year 1965-66 was adopted by the Board of Education of East Maine School District No. 63 in Maine Township on Tuesday, January 26.

The salary for a beginning teacher with a bachelor's degree will be $5,150.00 with a maximum of $8,050.00 after 16 years of experience.

Teachers with a master's degree will start at $5,650.00 and a maximum of $8,550.00.

Teachers with 10 semester hours beyond the bachelor's degree will receive $100.00 additional salary and teachers with 20 semester hours of work beyond the bachelor's degree will receive $200.00 in addition to the bachelor degree salary. In the master's degree categories when teachers have earned 10 additional semester hours they will receive $150.00 additional salary. If a master degree teacher has earned 20 additional semester hours they will receive $300.00 additional salary.

The new salary schedule will provide increases for teachers ranging from $250.00 for beginners to as much as $825.00 for teachers with experience.

The new schedule developed by the Board of Education provides substantial increases for each year of experience beginning with third year. The Board indicated that they were interested in retaining experienced teachers in the district and felt that the new schedule would encourage teachers to remain in the district rather than seeking positions elsewhere.

No Classes At Maine East Feb. 11 & 12

Maine East high school will not hold classes Thursday or Friday, February 11 and 12. Principal Milo S. Johnston announced yesterday.

One week from today will be township institute day, when teachers of the various schools will go on field trips throughout the Chicago area, visiting factories, museums, public buildings, newspaper offices, and a variety of utility companies.

"These visits acquaint not only new teachers with the gross cultural and industrial complex of the Chicago but reinforce of der faculty members of change and new installations since our last visits," Johnson said.

School will be closed Friday because of Lincoln's Birthday, a legal holiday in Illinois, Johnston explained.

Vatican Council Discussion Hi Lites Human Relations Meeting

by Frieda Aron

The Niles Human Relations Council met on Thursday, January 28, at the Niles Community Church, 7401 Oakton. The panel of speakers and a full house audience braved the bitter cold to attend and no one was sorry.

Dr. L. Gish was the moderator - and the subject under discussion was the impact upon the world of religion by the twenty-first Ecumenical Council. In the history of the Roman Catholic Church only twenty Ecumenical Councils have been called, the last one in 1869. The present one was called by Pope John XXIII in December, 1959 and has been continued by his successor Pope Paul VI.

Speaking for the three Major Religions of the Western world, were Monsignor John Quinn, Chief Deputy of Cardinal Meyer in Judicial Matters for the Archdiocese of Chicago, and Theological expert at the Vatican Council, Rabbi Sidney J. Jacobs, spiritual leader of the Niles Township Jewish Congregation, Skokie, Illinois, vice-chairman of the Human Relations Commission of the Village of Skokie, recipient of the 1961 Thoman J. Crowe Award for Interracial Justice of the Catholic Interracial Council of Chicago; and Dr. David M. Granskou, Asst. Professor Biblical Theology at the Lutheran School of Theology, writer and Teaching Fellow, Princeton Theological Seminary.

The key results of the Vatican II was a growing together of all men of God and good will from all walks of life and all parts of the world. It was agreed by all speakers that Pope John had opened the windows of the Catholic Church and let in much needed fresh air and a re-evaluation of the inner life of the Church, to make it a vital living design in the lives of men. Pope John wanted unity for all Christians and living together with separated brethren in goodness and harmony. This is a unique first in the history of Catholicism, for never before was it permissible to accept other religions with understanding and tolerance. The matter of dialogue, the disavowal of the crime of deicide upon the Jewish people, the acceptance of mass media of communication, the change in Liturgy, the proposal for religious freedom.

has caused a great upheaval and shaken the foundation of the Church. These changes have been a long time due and after the program Monsignor Quinn admitted, "It's as if we have been children all this time and now are allowed to become adults finally."

Rabbi Jacobs said that Pope John was a God-given and God-inspired man and "Seldom has a man achieved so much for so many in so short a time". The Schema on the Jews, is satisfactory and long awaited. There has been two revolutions in his lifetime, said the Rabbi. One was the final rebirth of Israel, after such a long dormant period and second was the open door to Catholicism.

Dr. Granskou admitted that the Schema on religious freedom was disappointing, for it had not been passed and it seemed there would be much more work necessary to bring it into the fold where Protestantism would find it acceptable. "However, the council is moving with all deliberate speed and at that is moving faster than the changes planned and needed within the life of the Protestant church." Said Dr. Granskou, "How does one recognize reform, recognition and ecclesiastical maneuverings?" Dr. Granskou was skeptical of the results so far, but agreed it was a step forward.

Another Morn 'nother Yawn..

by Frieda Aron-966-9889

She was four days old and by an odd coincidence or two, the hospital was short of beds and her parents were short of funds, so with mutual magnanimity, the baby was discharged into the care of her parents. The first night at home, her doctor father and nurse mother jumped out of bed every hour on the hour to see that their newborn was not tangled in the covers, -mothering under her so-tiny nose; she slept on undisturbed. When she was three months old, her mother took her to work every morning. The hospitals were desperate for nurses and promised to care for the infant in exchange for the nursing services of the mother. The nuns of the Order of the Sacred Heart treasured their Jewish baby; her playpen was in the lobby of the hospital, she went to chapel with the sisters, to retreat, to meals and they gave her excellent care and so much love. Every night, the baby had another religious ritual pinned to her little gown. One Sunday morning, the baby was home with Daddy while Mummy worked and an $8.50, came into the hospital - "Come home quickly, the spinach from last night is all over the crib, all over the baby and all over the walls."

Then came the years of haranguing and close supervision and time blended into a gigantic "NO." The epitaph for all mothers must be essentially "She always said NO." But children want everything, want whatever their friends have or are doing and who else but the mother will say no? Certainly not the father! This mother was very determined to see that her children grew up with a sense of values, not set by friends or shopkeepers, but in their own family group.

She was twenty years old as I came down the stairway, that afternoon of her wedding. Her father was photographing her and she stood there like an angel so sweet, so gentle, so accessible. Brides are supposed to be radiant and glowing with ecstasy, she was neither. There was a calm hush, a decorously delicate chastity, a patient containment of the wonderment and expectation in her eyes. She nudged at the veil and it came down over her face and she smiled into the camera tremulously - my heart melted and the stupid tears flowed. The heavens seemed to have opened and this star-covered child, the first-born of our love, was now herself the symbol of God's greatest gift to Man - the privilege of loving and being loved.

As we stood alongside her under the wedding canopy, listening to the rabbi conduct the marriage service, her sober face broke into little giggles, but this only enhanced the magic of the moment. Catching the eye of the mother of the groom across from us, I saw that she, too, found it difficult to hold back her mingled joy and tears. Did she also watch the face of her first born, so handsome and proud and manly, with melting heart? I rather feel that it was so. We twinkled at each other and knew that this was a good thing, a warm, loving, secure future our children were going into. May they indeed cherish each other and give to each other the succor and utter contentment and rapture that only love between man and woman can bring.

The Talmud says; a man should first build a house, then plant a vineyard, and after that, marry. And in our modern days, having furnished an apartment and found a secure niche in business, it is then befitting that Allen Baum take unto himself Linda Sue Aron as treasured spouse.

A Rose Is BUGLE

Dear Dave,

That's better, Dave!

I'm referring to the roses you tossed from your "Left Hand," January 28, to our incomparable Public Works Department, and Fire Chief Al Hoelbl and the work of the Fire Department during Mother Nature's recent blight to our town and the surrounding area.

It was surely obvious to all Niles residents the allegiance these men bear for this fine village which is our home.

Thanks, Dave. Roses smell so sweet.

MG Is 'Low & Wet

Dear Mr. Bessert

I have noted with interest the picture of Mayor Schreiber and the trustees on the front page of the January 21 edition. I particularly got a kick out of the "Pledge to continue past accomplishments" bit. I am thinking - what accomplishments? Like letting builders erect homes that have water in them every time it rains, inadequate sewers, etc.

I think it is fitting for the Bugle and other papers to bring this group to task for what they haven't done. I would like to see some editorials and articles written on how Mayor Schreiber and the trustees have left the people in N. W. Morton Grove "Low and Wet".

Sincerely,
B. L. Stalschmidt

Businessmen In Politix

Gentlemen

Upon reading an article in your paper last week, entitled "Officials: Should Not Solicit Employees - Could be Political Hot Potato", - I wish to make some comments as President of the Chamber of Commerce and as a local business man. My remarks are not those of a prospective political candidate as I do not reside within the Village and, therefore, am not qualified to hold office.

I take strong issue with certain comments made in this article because, at a time when the United States, State and local Chambers of Commerce are urging both business and professional men to enter politics so as to upgrade the quality of public servants, it is suggested that we restrict these very people from running for public office. There are many cases of local pharmacists, doctors and other professional and business men who hold public office from the Mayor's post on down in villages throughout the country, and if we say that these particular men cannot do business with any of the village employees, then we are proposing that they be restricted from holding public office and by so doing, we are narrowing the choice of political aspirants.

A bill has been proposed that will prevent men running for public office who might have in mind doing business with the Niles more than 120 employees. I wonder if the editor realizes that it takes a great many more than 120 customers for a business to flourish. From the connotation of this article,

Cub Pack 62 Blue & Gold Dinner February 8

February 8th, 6:30 P.M. Cub Pack 62 will hold its annual Blue & Gold Dinner in the All Purpose Room of the Niles Community Church. Entertainment for the evening will be provided by Skipper the Clown former member of the famous Ringling Bros. Circus.

Mr. Warren Baird, or Skipper the Clown as Circus fans better remember him started his Circus career back in 1905. He served a four year apprenticeship as a "first amy". First amys are the whipping boys, and brunt of all jokes. If someone has to get hit on the head, or dropped in a tub of water the "first amy" is the "lucky" one.

For many years Skipper's partner in his act was "Hogan", the pig. Hogan was trained to open and close gates, ride in a baby carriage squealing, and was an expert at sliding down a children's slide.

Skippers long and varied circus career includes playing to presidential audiences, escaping elephants, and the panic of circus fires. The many vaudeville acts which he was in during the winter season, and the Charlie Chaplin movies he appeared in are among his fondest memories.

Although Skipper is retired from the circus profession, he still finds time to entertain children at fun fairs, and benefits. He is a man blessed with the wonderful gift of bringing laughter to others. Pack 62 is indeed fortunate that skip has consented to appear before us.

Recent advancements: Wolf - George Jensen; Wolf Gold Arrow - George Jensen & Bill Wichlac; Wolf Silver Arrow - Bill Wichlac.

Frank Wichlac recently graduated from Cub Scouting into Troop 62 of the Boy Scouts.

Niles Citizens Committee Reviews Accomplishments

If you have been asking, "What has the Niles Citizens Committee been doing lately?" there is good news, especially for voting residents. Everyone is aware of the great number of elections held in Niles in recent years and in many cases several conducted on the same day. Voters in some instances were required to vote at one location, then travel many blocks in order to cast a ballot on still another issue.

In accordance with required procedure and apprised of this unhappy situation, Ben Sosnowski, then Kirk Lane Homeowners representative to the Citizens Committee, at the November 13, 1963 meeting of the committee suggested that the group undertake a study of the situation and initiate steps to alleviate this problem of concern to a majority of voters.

A sub-committee, comprised of Mr. Sosnowski, Stan Lowe and Mrs. Alvin Neuhaus, began immediately to contact via letter, phone and personal contact the many persons involved in the tremendous task of the correlation of polling places, the Cook County Election Commissioner, the boards of all administrative bodies. It has taken 15 arduous months of dedication on the part of many persons to be able to announce that the last major step has been accomplished.

Redistricting of precincts in our expanding community was the task of Marge Lleske, Niles Village Clerk and trustee Santo Bruno, chairman of judiciary and ordinance committee of the Village of Niles. In every instance, for the drafting of this new plan consideration was given to proximity of voters to the polling place and that those traveling to the polls on foot would not be required to cross a busy main street. A legal notice of the new boundaries is being prepared and will soon be released.

Niles Park District commissioners, Jack Leske and Ray Egan studied the statute governing their operation and learned that they could hold their elections in conjunction with those of the Village. As a result the Park Board this coming Spring will probably realize an increase in numbers of persons voting at that election.

As stated before, the first step has been taken. Other governing bodies might be brought into the plan in the future but at present two main restrictions keep them from inclusion at this time. State statute does not allow for the change of date on which election is held and each individual board must weigh the expediency of the expenditure of additional tax dollars for convenience of the voting public. You, the taxpaying public, may wish to express your wishes and are not denied this privilege of doing so, either directly to the boards or through the Niles Citizens Committee. Should funds be allocated for election expenses, reducing those for books and equipment in schools and libraries? You have a voice in this matter, all you have to do is use it.

The Niles Citizens Committee wishes to remind you that new residents and those residents of Niles who have moved from one precinct to another must register to vote. Registration will be held on March 1st, 2nd and 3rd in the Niles Village Clerk's office. If your name has not been recorded in the registration books, you will not be allowed to vote in a 1965. In the April 20th election, you will be selecting two park district commissioners and to govern your village for the next four years, a village president, three trustees and a village clerk.

The Niles Citizens Committee wishes to thank those above named and others for their splendid cooperation in this project. The next regular meeting of the Citizens Committee will be held on March 31, 1965 in the Niles Council Chambers, Waukegan and Touhy at 8:00 p.m.

one would think that village officials were adequately compensated so that they did not have to make a living from sources other than political office. It is a well known fact that local mayors and trustees must earn a living from outside endeavors because part time officials receive a nominal salary for their services. As was pointed out in the article, some officials do business outside our village and, therefore, are not dependent upon patronage from local customers. However, a retailer or merchant must rely upon local trade. If this bill is presented, I will, as President of the Chamber of Commerce, vigorously oppose such a bill as this would affect the welfare of the business and professional men whom I represent, as well as the general public whose interests should not be ignored.

It has been inferred that a business relationship between public officials and employees of the village are irregular. This implication is not in keeping with the high standards demanded of business and professions today.

Troop 107 Observes 2nd Birthday

Our Lady of Ransom's Troop #107 and Pack #107 under the sponsorship of the Holy Name Society have entered their second year in charter. Mr. Tom Powers, Institutional Representative reports continued success towards Scout objectives for both units. The Troop is especially proud to have a Life Scout, Joe Orman and a Star Scout, Bernie Schupback in our ranks. Much applause goes to Dan Foster former Scout Master and Jay Wolff Scout Master and Bob O'Donnell Chairman, as well as these boys for creating a climate of inspiration. We hope to have an Eagle before our third year ends.

Troop #107 and Pack #107 serves the catholic boys in the Parish of Our Lady of Ransom. Both units welcome new boy candidates and adult leaders. Both have made considerable contributions to the community (Park Ridge, Niles and Des Plaines) served by the parish. These are active organizations under very fine leadership, join us and become a Scout.

Niles Art Guild News

The Niles Art Guild is pleased to announce formation of a class in portraiture in addition to the class for children and the Adult classes in oil painting and Mosaics. Mrs. Agnes Kirschbaum will be the Portrait Instructor. Mrs. Kirschbaum is well known for renderings in pastel of children and adults. She is always a popular artist at art fairs doing her "on the spot" charming portraits of children. Classes will be limited in size and will be held one evening each week for 8 weeks or Saturday afternoons. For additional information please call 698-2191 after 6:00 P.M.

We are fortunate to have Mrs. Kirschbaum demonstrate her technique in pastels at the next Niles Art Guild meeting, February 3, 1965 and Niles Park District Recreation Center, 7877 Milwaukee Ave. Guests are always welcome and refreshments will be served.

Niles Womans Club Pot Luck Supper

Surprises galore were in store for the members of The Woman's Club of Niles and their guests who were expecting the usual pot luck supper. Foreign dishes, decorations from many lands and hostesses in costumes greeted them as they entered Bunker Hill Country Club. The United Nation's 20th Anniversary inspired the International Relations theme. Invocation was given by Mrs. William Egan, president of the 10th District of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs and a past president of the Woman's Club of Niles.

A completely American touch was added to the festivities by the appearance of "The Duffers" a barbershop quartette that entertained the crowd with humor and old time harmony.

Mrs. George Pierre reported that because of the members' diligence and support, the Philanthropy department was able to make recent donations to the following: Orchard School, Family Service, Visiting Nurse's Assoc., Arthritis Foundation, Indian Cheer, Downey Hosp., Veterans Research Hosp., Park Ridge School for Girls, Lincoln Lodge, Salvation Army and the Puerto Rican project.

Illinois Bell Announces Reduced Long Distance Rates

Reduced rates for many long distance calls crossing state lines which will result in substantial savings for telephone users, will become effective Monday, February 1, according to Illinois Bell Telephone.

The lowest interstate rates will apply any time on Sunday and on weekdays beginning at 8 p.m. These rates are the same as the present "After 9" (9 p.m. to 4:30 a.m.) three-minute station calls. They are $1 or less for calls to any point in the continental United States (except Alaska).

The new charges are a part of the $100,000,000 rate reduction plan announced last November by the Federal Communications Commission. When fully effective on April 1, telephone customers in Illinois Bell territory will save about $7,000,000 annually, a company spokesman said.

Here are sample rate reductions on Sunday three-minute station calls from Chicago:

New York, from $1.15 to 70 cents, a saving of 45 cents; Los Angeles, from $1.50 to 90 cents, a saving of 60 cents; Denver, $1.20 to 75 cents, a saving of 45 cents; Philadelphia, from $1.10 to 70 cents, a saving of 40 cents; Minneapolis, from 80 cents to 60 cents, saving of 20 cents.

Rates also will be reduced on many between-states, evening station calls (6 p.m. to 8 p.m.). The evening station schedule of rates also will be in effect all day Saturday until 8 p.m. The result is to make the cost of a three-minute station call to any point in the continental United States, except Alaska, $1.50 or less during these periods.

Following are examples of reductions in rates from Chicago on Saturday for three-minute station calls (4:30 a.m. to 8 p.m.):

Atlanta, $1.35 to 95 cents, a saving of 40 cents; Dallas, $1.45 to $1, a saving of 45 cents; Des Moines, $1 to 75 cents, a saving of 25 cents; San Francisco, $1.95 to $1.30, a saving of 65 cents; Niagara Falls, N.Y., $1.20 to 85 cents, a saving of 35 cents.

In cooperation with the Hawaiian Telephone Company, rates on overseas station calls between the continental United States and the Hawaiian Islands also are being reduced.

The company spokesman pointed out that this substantial reduction in rates is the latest of more than 30 interstate rate changes resulting from the continuing surveillance of Bell System operations by the FCC since its establishment in 1934. The cuts, he said, have been made possible through increased operational efficiency, technological advances in the telephone arts and continuing improvement in the economy.

Total savings to Illinois Bell customers resulting from all rate reductions since late 1959, interstate and intrastate, now total more than $20,000,000 with this newest cut, he said.

We'd like to give you all a medal

For the patience of Job. The understanding of a saint. The hardiness of Daniel Boone.

It was tough—darn tough. Tough for you and, we admit it, tough for us.

If we live to be a hundred, chances are we will never see another week, according to the weatherman, like this week, the week that was. It was a freak.

This storm did not roar in. It came in on cat feet. No wind, just a quiet, relentless drizzle that froze as it hit. The ice formed quietly for many hours and then began its devastating work with rifle like reports late Saturday night and early Sunday morning.

Branches fell, trees crashed and power lines went down. Everyone called us but few got through. An estimated 100,000 phone calls reached our service centers in the first 72 hours of the storm. We were swamped. Many failed to reach us.

This meant frustration. People wanted straight answers. "We know things are bad—but just tell us when we will be back in service.
Then we will know what to do."

We couldn't say. Lines were snapping faster than we could fix them.

In some homes lights would pop on and everyone would sigh with relief, and then they would blink off again—and stay off. Yes it was frustrating.

There were mistakes. There were bound to be. After you have sat for a couple of days in a 38° house, some of these mistakes seem mighty stupid. We could have been better organized, but this was a situation for which it was hard to rehearse.

Power line work is always dangerous. Under storm conditions even highly-trained, experienced experts are risking their lives. You can't send just anyone up a pole to splice a high-tension line. It is also possible to be killed on the ground.

The equipment for the men and on the trucks is highly specialized too.
We begged, borrowed and darn near stole anything that would help us.

We gathered together the largest line-repair force ever assembled in the Midwest, top linemen—the pros who can work with 12,000 volts and more on 50 foot poles and talk about it afterwards. The men came from Pennsylvania, Colorado, and all the nearby states.

These "foreigners", arriving by plane and truck—trucks equipped with different radio frequencies than we use here—worked tirelessly under hazardous conditions.

There were a few slip-ups. Some got out of touch, some got lost, but none lost courage and none would admit to fatigue.

One housewife opened her door to be greeted by "Public Service Company of Colorado, Mam." "Oh!" she said, "Is that why it took you so long to get here?"

During the first 72 hours these crews restored over 250,000 customers. Almost all of you are back, but we will be cleaning up and rebuilding for months ahead.

We want to thank the news media for the finest coverage we've ever seen. For many of our customers this was their only way of knowing about our progress.

We received tremendous cooperation from city governments, police and fire departments, school systems, Civil Defense units, Red Cross, the Salvation Army, military installations.

Since we can't award each and every one of you a medal for your unswerving patience beyond the call of duty, we at least want to take the time to thank you all.

It's great to be back.
