Our nostalgic columns about the days we were growing up on the south side brought a note from a DG in Park Ridge. He (or she) mentioned White City, which was the south side's answer to Riverview Park, back in the pre-1940 days. And the letter-writer was nice enough to mention I was probably too young to remember this south side fun center. It's true I did not mention it but it's untrue I'm too young to remember the 63rd and South Park area.

White City was the first roller rink I ever skated on, the first roller coaster I ever rode on, and the place where the first candy cotton was consumed at a rather young age. Meaningless memories of things past often do stay with us. I remember White City best for the football games we saw there. My grandmother took me to my first game after she saw I was disappointed because the planned big game I was to attend at Stagg Field during the Periwanger days never materialized. The game was between 2 Negro colleges and the fans ended every cheer with a "Sun Boy Smith" or whatever his name was. All the way home I mullied over the Sun Boy cheer puzzled that all the players had the same nick-name. Not until I was a mature 7 or 8 did I realize the Sun Boy was Some Boy.

A note from another former south sider, Jack Burkhardt, reminded me about "the old crab" (every neighborhood had one) who was a special target of halloween merry makers. Jack mentioned pumpkins on the stairways and "stink bombs" in the vestibule were the 8000 S. Merrill Ave. kids on Chicago's south side way of getting back at "the old crab". Jack also reminds me mattresses used to be placed on street car lines on Halloween to block the old red monsters which used to screech and buck their way down the tracks. Interestingly, Jack also asks, "Are we really getting that old?" If we're reaching back 25 years to old and pleasant memories we must be inching up there, Jack, though you and I don't look our age.

Passing personal notes while watching TV Monday night.....

.....The best interpretive news show in Chicago is Monday night at 9:30 when Harry Homewood reviews the week's news on channel 11. Homewood's cogent and thoughtful coverage of the week's most important stories deserves much greater exposure. It's unbelievable the 4 commercial stations in Chicago are continuously jockeying their shows with new people and formats and yet overlook probably the best and most thoughtful newsmen on Chicago TV.

.....The new Dick Cavett show is perhaps the most erudite show ever to grace late-evening TV programming. Despite this very witty, cultured man, who is likely the best interviewer on late evening shows, he'll have a difficult time picking up another 13 weeks on TV....a sad commentary of TV and Americana.

.....The Vote toothpaste commercial includes the white announcer kissing an oriental girl, an insane bit of fluff, which loses our vote. We remember 25 years ago the tensions on the west coast when a white and oriental couple were seen in public together. And we recall in 1964 we saw Sammy Davis kiss a white girl in a musical in New York, and the uneasiness of the audience was audible. However, despite this grab for the sensational, perhaps Americans are slowly growing up.

We've been in 3 hospital emergency wards the past year, and never fail to be shocked by the misery which we encounter crammed into the short time we're there. Last spring daughter number 1 was rushed to Michael Reese at 2 a.m., and we were shocked by all the misery and pain we saw in their emergency room at this hour. Last summer daughter number 2 was taken to Lutheran General with a broken elbow, and here in our community, a dozen emergency cases were being handled there at midnight on a Sunday.

We noted one child with a possible fracture was brought into the

NEW DRESS CODE FOR MAINE HIGH

A new, modified dress code for Maine Township High school students went into effect on Monday, Jan. 5. The new dress guidelines were formulated through the combined efforts of the school administrative staff, officers of the Student Councils of the 3 Maine High schools and their advisors, who have been working together since October to develop a new dress guideline policy.

In a letter sent to parents of all Maine students, Dr. Richard R. Short, Superintendent of Schools, reemphasized the schools' sincere belief that attitudes and behavior are greatly influenced by appearance and requested the cooperation of parents and guardians in helping their students determine that they will dress and groom themselves in an appropriate manner and in good taste. He pointed out that the new dress policy places the basic responsibility for students' dress and appearance on their parents and guardians.

"The new guidelines reflect both Federal and State court decrees and constantly changing fashions, as well as the important principle that the student's individual appearance is mainly the responsibility of the student and his parent or guardian," stated Dr. Short. "The parental role long played by schools in such matters as dress can no longer be maintained."

Under the new minimal guidelines each student must be clothed from the shoulders to mid-thighs. A decent coverage of the body is expected. Numerals, slogans and drawings (which are not morally offensive, obscene or profane) on buttons, pins, arm bands or clothing are acceptable. Health and safety standards will be maintained at all times for the protection of students. Where a student's appearance disrupts the educational process, he may be subject to disciplinary action.

The newly formulated dress policy was submitted to Mr. Allyn J. Franke, the school district's attorney for review. After studying it, Mr. Franke was of the opinion that it was "adequate and enforceable under current decisions of the courts relating to the authority of schools to control dress of students."

In speaking of the new dress code, Dr. Short remarked, "The intent of the new guidelines is to promote a good learning environment without imposing undue restrictions upon each individual's freedom. However, even with minimal guidelines, it should be recognized that different modes of dress are suitable for different occasions. As an example, the classroom, being a serious learning situation, is an inappropriate place for wearing play attire. The color and style of clothing can also be distracting in a classroom. For safety and health purposes some form of protective cover-

Rock-A-Thon Huge Success

With a squeal of wheels and a hail of dust they were off to ROCK-A-THON U.S.A. Saturday night, Dec. 20, 1969. Presented by Karnes Music Stores and Audio Artists Records the action WAS THERE. The Mill Run Theatre in the Golf Mill Shopping Center at Golf and Milwaukee had a Christmas-like atmosphere of wholesome young adults "Doing Their Thing".

ROCK-A-THON U.S.A. was recorded, live, and 36 full selections, by all eligible groups, will shortly be available on a new type of X-tra Long Play 12 inch disc developed by Audio Artists and reported on by United Press International newspapers and magazines Dec. 1, 1969. It will be the first Rock and Roll X-tra Long Play record ever produced and will be sent as a limited edition on a satisfaction guaranteed basis to the first 5,000 persons mailing check or money order for $4.95 to Audio Artists Records, 6524 Jody Lane, Des Plaines, Illinois.

"Two 45 RPM singles of each eligible group will also be available on the same basis at $1.00 each. The profits from Audio Artists, ROCK-A-THON U.S.A. will be used to further the musical education and careers of those groups involved and to provide instruments for those youngsters who honestly can't afford them in our local schools.

New Washington St. Sidewalk

Niles Mayor Nicholas Blase is cutting the ribbon officially dedicating the sidewalk between Foster Ln. and Golf rd. This newly installed sidewalk was made possible because of the swift work of the Niles Village Board and local residents' participation relieving area of the danger walking along Washington St., to both the Washington school and St. Isaac Jogues schools. Pictured with Mayor Blase are (l to r) Mayor Blase cutting ribbon, Jerry Rosenstein, president of the Golf Mill Homeowners Association, who played the most active part in the final installation of the sidewalk; Harriett Sumner (holding baby) secretary of the association, and Mrs. Millicent Dechman, former secretary of the association, and some of the many children from the area that will benefit from this action.

Open House Friday At San Lorenzo School

An especially interesting open house is planned at the San Lorenzo Montessori school this Friday, Jan. 9. Program starts at 6 p.m. sharp, and the general public is invited.

Melanie Kirshisighe, directress at the school for children ages 2-1/2 to 6, will demonstrate the progression of various classroom activities and exercises which directly and indirectly prepare the young child for writing.

Pre-school children learn best with verbal instructions kept to a bare minimum with emphasis preferably placed upon demonstration of the task by the adult. This will be the form the demonstrations will take.

As Miss Kirshisighe demonstrates, Mrs. James Bychowski, administrator of San Lorenzo, will provide a narrative of her actions to better inform the audience of the rationale behind each piece of equipment and method of presentation.

Miss Melanie, as she is affectionately known to her students, arrived here in August from her native Ceylon where she taught Montessori classes, and originally earned her International teaching accreditation. Presently she resides in Niles.

Also on the program is a movie of an average day's classroom activity, starring all the young students of San Lorenzo at their candid best. There is no better way for parents to learn what a Montessori preschool can do for their child than observe for themselves.

Time will be provided for questions and answers, as well as time to wander through the classrooms to "play with" the various self-teaching exercises particular to a Montessori school.

Refreshments will be served. San Lorenzo is located at 9000 Home st. in Des Plaines, within the Good Shepherd Community Church at the intersection of Ballard and Home, about 3 blocks due north of Lutheran General Hospital. For further directions or free literature, please phone 965-1710.

Free Films and Talk Program

Mrs. Joni Dertinger, Public Relations Special Clerk, puts the finishing touches on mailing Illinois Bell's "1970 Free Films and Talk Program" catalogs to clubs and organizations in the area. "We've added eight talk-demonstrations and ten films," Mrs. Dertinger said, "bringing the totals to 12 and 50 respectively. If your club program chairman would like a copy of this catalog, just call me at 256-975."

Scouts Ready For First Aid Meet

With annual unit and district first aid meets scheduled for January, boy scout troops in the Maine Ridge district are improving their ability so that they can render skillful and effective first aid in any emergency.

The three top patrols selected at each troop first aid meet will be eligible for the district event at Emerson Junior high school on Friday evening, Jan. 30.

Veteran scout leader John Breen, 7258 Greenleaf, will again have an important part in the operation of the district meet. The three top patrols will compete in the Northwest Suburban council meet in the spring, probably at the Scout-O-Rama.

years old were called to the podium, Ken Schneider, Terry Frick, Jim Ignatius, Steve Welsch, Pete Welsch, Ronald Friedman. As their father presented them with their Eagle certificate, a boy grew and a father was proud; when the Eagle pinned his mother with "her" pin she knew that her boy was a young man; when mother pinned her "young man" with the "medal" that he worked, studied and struggled to achieve, he knew that he had earned something only one in a hundred scouts ever attain, Eagle Scout.

The closing prayer was given by Life Scout Bob Sandvik and after a standing ovation for the new Eagles the Court of Honor was officially closed.

"First aid is the immediate and temporary care given the victim of an accident or sudden illness until the services of a doctor can be obtained," says Breen. Accordingly, the scouts are taught to treat massive arterial bleeding, stoppage of breathing and poisoning and shock. The boy scout handbook is the final authority for use in instruction and judge's decisions.

Emergency preparedness is important for scouts to learn today to live tomorrow. Troops should notify the Service Center the names of the participating patrols and furnish one adult judge per patrol for the meet. Ribbons and medals will be awarded.

Pack 5

Cub pack 5 held their Christmas party at St. Anselm's Church Dec. 17. Cubs and webelos with their families were greeted by Cubmaster, Wally Lang.

The cubs presented their parents with handmade gifts. The fathers received mocassins. Den 2 made straw baskets and hot plates. Den 3 made seasonal scenes on burlap to hang on the wall.

The webelos under the direction of leader Fred Weldenbauer surprised their parents with jewelry boxes and oak cutting boards; that they made themselves.

The boys brought can goods collected from friends and neighbors to give to Randall House in Chicago. The party ended with refreshments of cookies and punch.

THE GOOD NEIGHBOR

God bless him! We all need the good neighbor—for the pleasure of his company, for sharing joys, for his sympathetic interest in our problems, and for comforting strength in adversity. One could rightly count his riches in terms of the number of friends that are his.

But beware of his medical advice! However well intentioned, remember, he is not a doctor. What he recommends, even though it may not harm, may keep you from the doctor too long, or spoil the "picture" your symptoms would present for diagnosis. When the good neighbor expounds on lemon peels and vinegar, or how quickly sawdust and honey cured his Aunt Amelia's arthritis, or when your hairdresser or butcher gives you a very confidential diet for losing pounds or growing hair, watch out. You know about the place that's paved with good intentions.

Your doctor is the only one for medical advice. It is he that has the knowledge, training and experience, not the back fence, self-appointed specialist.

It's sound advice for you to come to us with your prescriptions. Our reputation was made and earned on the solid basis of service, knowledge and sincerity. BRICHWAY DRUGS... 7503 Milwaukee Ave... Phone 647-8337.

New Sterilizer At Lutheran

Anything from letters to cameras, and even telephones can be sterilized at Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge, in the hospital's new ethylene oxide autoclave. The autoclave is designed to sterilize anything which will not tolerate the heat and humidity of conventional steam sterilizers.

"With this unit we can sterilize all types of plastics and other materials which we couldn't sterilize before," said Mary Evans, director of the hospital's sterile service. "We can put practically anything into the autoclave from letters to whole respirator units. The patients' contaminated personnel items can be sterilized, and hospital equipment which was previously thrown away after use can now be re-used."

The new unit can sterilize packaged metal and glass items, rubber goods, plastic tubing for heart-lung machines and items in which the composition is unknown.

The ethylene oxide process takes longer than conventional steam sterilization, so is used only when necessary. The same sterilizing chamber can be used for steam sterilizing.

Arts and Crafts

The ARTS AND CRAFTS classes for youngsters are held on Saturdays, beginning Jan. 10 and culminating March 7. Children may attend a morning session from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. or an afternoon class from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Very creative projects have been planned and youngsters of all ages and ability will be able to complete some outstanding works of art. Included on the list of projects are several Indian crafts, as a bank, trinket and tomahawks. Other projects include book ends, lint removers and so on. Register your youngster now at the Park Office for a class that will be fun, challenging and creative. The fee for the nine-week class is $3.50.

A Tumbling Exhibition will be held in May at which time they will perform all the skills and routines that they have learned. The class ends March 7, but will be followed by another nine week session, from March 21 to May 16. The fee for the nine week class is $2.00.

TAP DANCING INSTRUCTION will be held at the Niles Recreation Center, 7877 Milwaukee ave. on Monday or Friday afternoons at 3:45 for beginners and 4:45 for advanced beginners. Class begins the week of Jan. 5 and ends March 6. A fee of $3.00 for the nine week session is charged.

The instructor for tap and ballet is Mrs. Carol Freeman, who has taught these classes at the Park District for several years. Besides being extremely skilled in the art of dance she has an exceptional talent in working with youngsters. To culminate three sessions of work the youngsters who participate in the ballet and tap classes have the opportunity to participate in the annual Spring Recital that is held in later May. At that time the children perform the various numbers and routines that they successfully mastered.

hospital by her baby-sitter. The hospital authorities insisted the parents, grandparents or the child's doctor be notified to give the hospital authorization to complete its work on the child. Because of the difficulty in notifying these people, it left us the message parents leaving their children alone with a baby-sitter should always be within a telephone call of their children, and give the sitter a written note for such an emergency.

Our most recent family emergency was also in a city hospital at 2 a.m. While sitting in the waiting room a guy who had a bad case of the shakes was wheeled in next to me. While I was lighting a cigarette for the guy, the nurse chewed me out noting the oxygen in the adjoining rooms which spells danger. While I meekly complied I became exasperated when the doctor alongside of her was lighting up and smoked with utter abandon. But in retrospect the tremendous pressure and effort the young doctors are exposed to particularly in a center city hospital, had my unflagging admiration and gratitude.

Niles Library Presents Korean Program

A treat is in store for all those who come to the entertainment provided by the Friends of Niles Public Library District on Thursday, Jan. 15, at 8 p.m. This will be a chance for the families of sons and fathers who served with the American Military Forces in Korea to learn about that small country, known as "The Land of the Morning Calm".

Bong Lee Stephens who attended Sook Myung Womens University studying Home Economics, Traditional Korean Dancing under Korea's most famous instructor, oriental flower arrangement, and other interesting subjects, will present a program of Korean Folk dances and songs in authentic costumes. She will speak about "Every-day Life" of the Korean people which will show the differences and similarities of the Oriental and Western Culture. Her young son will appear in traditional birthday costume.

No admission charge - every one is welcome.

Performance is in the Auditorium Room of the Niles Public Library - 6960 Oakton street.

Dr. Short gave praise and thanks to the Student Council Advisory committee that had worked with him in formulating the new policy. "The development of the new guidelines has been a challenging, sometimes frustrating, and definitely a time consuming responsibility," he stated in a letter to committee members. "You have played a vital and responsible role in the democratic process, and your assistance is most appreciated."

Miss Fyda will be one of 55 graduates to receive their diplomas and pins in the graduation ceremonies. This class will be the past to graduate under the nursing school's three-year training program. She is a 1967 graduate of Mother Theodore Guerin High school.

The recreation center building will be a one-floor building construction and will be smaller than the multi-room two-floor recreation center at the site of the present swimming pool.

The initial budget for the project was about $400,000 for the building of the complex. The increased higher bids plus the use of government federal funds will determine whether or not the plans can be completed in their entirety or whether the complex may have to be restricted to a lesser plan.

East Maine Jr. High Report

A report on educational activities at East Maine Junior High school this year was heard by the board of education of East Maine School District No. 63.

Principal James Boesen made some general comments, pointed out a number of goals set forth for this year and introduced five members of his staff who discussed specific areas.

Among the goals listed by Mr. Boesen were to increase the educational exposure of the students of East Maine Junior High school through field trips, to make available mini-courses to both 7th and 8th grades, to expand the number of volunteer speakers and to better organize the teaching staff and improve staff morale.

The Junior High school schedule, Mrs. Shirley FINDER, guidance counselor, described the schedule in use at East Maine Junior High school as a "mirror schedule". While seventh grade students are attending non-academic classes such as art, music, home economics or industrial arts in the morning, eighth grade students attend academic classes. In the afternoon, the schedule is "flipped" with seventh graders attending academic classes and eighth graders attending non-academic classes.

With this schedule, she said, every available room in the building is in use every minute of the day.

Seventh graders entering the junior high school this year were "hand scheduled", she said. "We tried to place individual children in teams where they would function best according to the advice of their sixth grade teachers."

The major change in the schedule this year, she said, has been to put foreign language into the non-academic time block. This change permits the teams of academic teachers to exercise greater flexibility in planning activities for their 200-minute time block. While not teaching, teachers are available for tutoring and assisting with the mini-course program.

The educational program is operating within an interdisciplinary team teaching structure. A team of five teachers, a science, math, social studies, language arts and reading teacher, are responsible for the total educational development of 125 to 150 students. The students remain with the same team of teachers for two years.

Although a number of junior high schools are organized in inter-disciplinary teams, according to Mr. Boesen, East Maine Junior High school may be the only one in the country developing interdisciplinary units of study.

The Interdisciplinary Unit of Learning: Robert Jabalon, seventh grade assistant principal, in discussing the theory, practice and development of an interdisciplinary unit, noted that it permits a relationship and relevancy to occur between academic subjects that frequently was lost in the past.

One such unit, the "Colonization of a Planet", about to begin in Alpha 7 team, exemplifies the type of learning possible. Within the framework of this unit, students will be exposed to such subjects as atmospheric conditions and composition, physical elements, design and construction of a rocket and space ship, geographic and topographic skills, development of a social order and government, graphing and coordinates, math principles relating to space travel, science fiction and the development of systems or oral communication.

Another example of interdisciplinary teaching would be the language arts teacher and the social studies teacher who present study of The Red Badge of Courage and the Civil War together in one unit.

Narcotics and Law Projects: "With the abuse of narcotics taking place in our society," Mr. Boesen said, "it became obvious to us that we must take some action." The results is a unit, "The Use and Abuse of Drugs," which will be taught as a two-week pilot project in science in one seventh and one eighth grade team.

The unit, described by A. Dale Lilyfors, eighth grade assistant principal, is designed to give students better understanding of the physiological, psychological and sociological effects, both immediate and long range, of drugs and how they affect the individual and the community.

The unit will include movies, seminars, class discussions, lectures and lab work. Guest speakers will include a representative of the Niles Police Department, Officer Frank Wichlac; Harry Trumfo, guidance counselor at East Maine Junior High school, and possibly a pharmacist.

A flyer will be sent home to parents of participating students inviting them to attend a meeting to view the movies and direct questions to teachers of the unit.

Another unit, "You and the Law", taught at the eighth grade, level is almost completed. Mr. Lilyfors said. The unit is designed to give students an understanding of the rights of others and civil liberties. Speakers have been Officer Frank Wichlac, Niles Police Department, who discussed the role of police in the community; Thomas O'Brien, a criminal lawyer, who presented information about criminal law and discussed juvenile delinquency and youthful offenders; and William Bowes, a civil lawyer, who discussed civil law. The students also viewed films and participated in discussion groups, lectures, seminars, group projects, debates and field trips.

Mini-Courses: The mini-courses which were introduced to seventh grade students last year were so successful, Harry Trumfo, guidance counselor, reported, that this year the program has been expanded to include eighth grade students.

The mini-courses are taught by persons, usually outside the school, who come in to discuss their special interest, skill, knowledge or experience. The courses may touch on the areas of guidance, academic or leisure time pursuits. The Volunteer Bureau has been in charge of securing persons from the community to participate in the program.

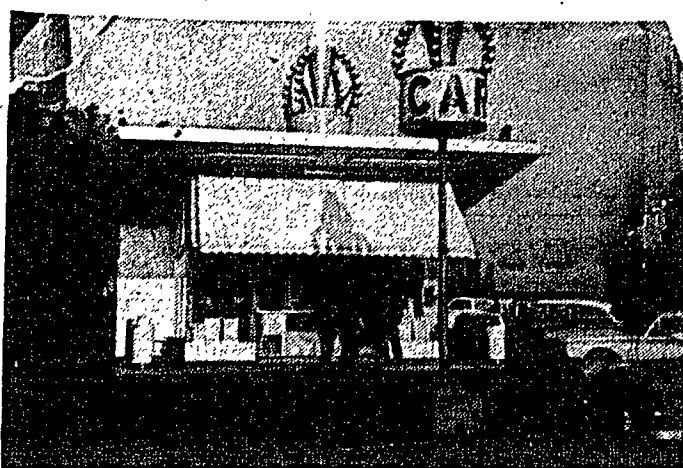

The next special educational report will be made by Milo Hellman, principal of Washington school, at the Dec. 16 meeting of the District 63 Board of Education. Meetings are held at 7:30 p.m. in the gym at Ballard School, 8320 Ballard Road, Niles.

Maine Hi's Placement Tests Jan. 31

Placement tests, given annually in Township High School District 207, will be given at Maine East, Maine South and Maine West High Schools on Jan. 31. This year the district will again administer the Differential Aptitude Test (DAT) for this purpose.

All students who plan to enter the 3 high schools or the new Maine North High School next September as freshmen are required to take this test prior to enrollment. No other general testing date will be scheduled.

Students are to take the test at the high school they will attend next year with the exception of freshmen entering Maine North. Students who will attend Maine North from the current Maine East attendance area will be tested at Maine East. Students entering Maine North from the current Maine West attendance area will be tested at Maine West.

At the Maine East testing center, beginning at 7:45 a.m., students from the following schools will be tested: East Maine, Emerson, Chippewa, parochial and private.

At the Maine South testing center beginning at 7:45 a.m., the following schools will be tested: Pennoyer, Emerson, Lincoln, parochial and private. The testing program at Maine East and Maine South will be held only during the morning and the testing should be completed by 12:15 p.m.

At the Maine West testing center both a morning and afternoon testing session will be held. Beginning at 7:45 a.m., the following schools will be tested: Algonquin, Our Lady of Hope, St. Mary's, St. Zachary, and St. Emily's. The testing for these schools should be completed by 12:15 p.m. At 1 p.m. at Maine West the following schools will be tested: Chippewa, Ironquills, St. Stephen's, Immanuel Lutheran (Des Plaines), River Trails, and all other parochial and private schools. The afternoon test should be completed by 5 p.m.

Students taking the test should arrange for their own transportation to and from the testing centers and bring two sharpened No. 2 lead pencils with them. It is important that students arrive and be seated before 7:45 a.m. and 1 p.m. Late arrival will jeopardize the individual's test performance.

The testing program is identical in all Maine High schools and will be administered by members of the counseling department of each school. The areas covered by the test are: verbal reasoning, numerical ability, abstract reasoning, space relations, mechanical reasoning, clerical, speed and accuracy and language usage.

According to Merlin W. Schultz, Coordinator of Pupil Personnel Services for District 207, the Differential Aptitude Test helps students, parents, and counselors in making decisions regarding course selections which meet the needs and interests of the student. It is used as only one of the criteria along with the student's past performance and judgments of former teachers in deciding on a program of studies to be taken in high school.

The results help evaluate relative strengths and weaknesses in a variety of aptitudes which are important to educational progress and the making of career choices. The results help to decide: What courses should be taken next year? College, business or technical course? More science and math? How about languages? Do the student's abilities jibe with his interests? What careers should be considered?

Parents desiring additional information concerning the testing on Jan. 31 should call the guidance office of the high school in which their child will be tested. The telephone numbers are Maine East: 825-4484, Maine South, 825-7711 and Maine West, 827-6176.

Synagogue Council Meets

The Synagogue Council of the Northwest Suburbs will meet for its monthly dinner meeting Thursday, Jan. 15, 6 p.m., at the Maine Township Jewish Congregation, 8800 Ballard rd., Des Plaines.

The Council, which is made up of the Rabbis and Presidents of the 15 major Synagogues and Temples of our area, meets each month in an effort to promote a spirit of mutual cooperation between the various congregations. The Council consists of Traditional, Conservative and Reform Synagogues.

African Trip For Lutheran Staff Members

Thirteen doctors, nurses and other staff members from Lutheran General hospital, Park Ridge, will spend 6 weeks in Africa working with medical missions there. The group will leave Chicago today.

The program begins with orientation in Nairobi, Kenya, East Africa. After that, team personnel visit various hospitals and institutions in Kenya, Tanzania and Uganda and a week-long professional seminar in Nairobi.

During the seminar, the team will relate as a group to local health care personnel from East African mission and government hospitals.

The East Africa clinical-ecological team experience, as it is called, is first in a series of scheduled visits throughout the world. It is established under the Medical Mission program sponsored by the Lutheran Institute of Human Ecology and its member hospitals: Lutheran General and the Lutheran Medical center in Brooklyn, N.Y.

"Clinical-ecological team experiences are designed to create opportunities for mutual education, consultation, stimulation and fellowship among our team members and those missionaries and nationals whom we meet," said Ernest Holman, former mission hospital administrator in Africa and coordinator of the Medical Mission program.

Holman said professional isolation is one of the most often expressed hardships of medical missionaries. They have little or no opportunity for professional stimulation and education such as is available to stateside health care personnel, he explained.

"We believe our team membership can help counteract professional isolation," he said. "But, in addition, we believe we can significantly contribute as new minds sharing new ideas and we can give confidence and encouragement to men and women who work alone most of the time."

The team experiences are also designed to expose members to some of the excitement, problems and programs of overseas medicine. As the series is continued, it is hoped some team members will be motivated to consider extended periods of service in overseas medical programs.

Team members from Lutheran General hospital who are participating in the East Africa clinical-ecological team experience are Mrs. Dorothy Barkdoll, R.N., associate director of nursing research; Dr. Noble Correll, thoracic surgeon; Dr. Jack Davis, obstetrician and gynecologist; Dr. Herbert Hesketh, anesthesiologist; Dr. John Gollisch, clinical psychologist; Rev. Lawrence E. Holst, chaplain; Marvin Johnson, social worker; Rev. F. M. Norstad, D.D., vice president and program director of the Lutheran Institute of Human Ecology; Mrs. Ruth Ponticelli, R.N., associate director of nursing; Dr. Richard Schultz, plastic surgeon; Dr. Jonas Valaitis, pathologist; Mrs. Margaret Burrows, director of volunteers and Holman.

Savings Bonds Now Pay 5%

Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy today announced an increase in the interest rate on United States Savings Bonds from 4.25 per cent to 5 per cent.

The new 5-per cent rate applies to all outstanding Series E and H Bonds sold on or after June 1, 1969, if held to maturity. The higher rate also applies to older Bonds. Beginning with the first semiannual interest period starting on or after June 1, 1969, rates on outstanding E and H Bonds will be increased to yield 5 per cent when held to maturity or extended maturity. The original maturity of the Series E Bonds has been shortened from 7 years to 5 years, 10 months; H Bonds will continue to mature in 10 years.

Maine Hi Schedule Unchanged

Maine Township High Schools will continue to operate on a nine period day for the 1970-71 school year.

The decision to maintain the present daily schedule for at least another year was reached by the District 207 Board of Education at its regular monthly meeting held Monday, Dec. 15, 1969.

The Board acted on a recommendation made by the chairman of its Education Committee, E. Hoy McConnell, Park Ridge, that the present schedule remain in effect. The Board has directed the administration to continue the evaluation of the relationship of this expanded schedule to the quality of the school program, the cost of operation, the efficiency of staff utilization and facility management.

For the past several years the district's three high schools have been operating on an expanded school day. Initially, the change from an eight to nine period day was made to increase the use of school facilities to accommodate an ever-growing school population. With the nine period day, general school hours will be approximately 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. However, with parental approval some students will complete their daily schedules in less time.

"Having worked with this expanded schedule for several years, we find that it has many desirable features," stated Dr. Richard R. Short, Superintendent of Schools. "The present schedule in its flexible and expanded form has made it possible to provide for educational innovations such as team teaching and to provide for additional course offerings, both elective and required," he said.

The superintendent noted that team teaching makes possible the maximum utilization of a teacher's talent and can best be provided within the nine period day. An example of a team teaching program in District 207 is Maine South's new humanities course in which a group of five teachers - from the school's art, music, history and English departments - combine their talents to give students an opportunity to study in depth a particular period of history. The team instructs two large groups of students of about 60 each. The classes are then divided into smaller groups of 15 students each for an in-depth discussion of the material presented in the lecture period. The added flexibility of the nine period day is necessary to schedule large numbers of students into a given period, as well as to provide adequate facilities for the smaller group discussions.

According to Dr. Short, many students are now enrolled in more courses than was the case a few years ago. "Before we initiated the nine period schedule most students had a program which included four academic or vocational subjects, plus physical education, and a lunch period. Some students also took courses in music or typing," he said. "Today, however, counselors and other staff members are encouraging all students to carry a greater course load, and to take advantage of the great diversity of subjects taught in the Maine high schools. The nine period day makes this possible. As a result, many students are enrolled in five or more courses, and, in addition, take music or typing."

The superintendent pointed out that most courses in vocational-technical education as well as science meet for a period and a half each day - approximately 70 minutes. "The expanded, nine-period day provides us with six 70 minute periods. With eight periods we can only schedule five," Dr. Short stated.

Koehnline, newly appointed president of Niles-Maine Township Community college, announced this week that he is starting a search for applications to fill key positions for the college faculty. "Barefoot" is being directed by Nancy Koe, who has not directed a DPTG production previously, but appeared last March in "A Delicate Balance" at Guild Playhouse, and has extensive acting and directing credits with Theatre First in Chicago, and in summer stock and children's theatre.

MNLL Registration Jan. 17-18

Registration for the Maine-Northfield Little League 1970 season will be held Jan. 17 and 18 at Flick park, 3 blocks north of Glenview rd. between Pfingsten and Longmeadow in Glenview, instead of Rugen park as previously announced. The change was made necessary by the more seasonal ice skating at Rugen.

Despite the sleeting and ice skating surroundings at Flick, however MNLL registration will be held for boys who live within the area of Lake-Euclid rd., including Timber Trails and The Willows; Dempster st., Sherman and River rd. The enrollment hours are 9 a.m. to Noon on Saturday, Jan. 17 and Noon to 3 p.m. on Sunday, Jan. 18. Age limits are 8 years old before Aug. 1 through 15 years old by July 31. Only a limited number of 8 year olds can be accepted and all registrants must be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

The early registration dates and age limitations this year were determined to allow more time for making up teams and for giving more boys an opportunity to play according to their own capabilities. For the same reasons, the intermediate and major divisions have been expanded from 6 to 8 teams each.

League officers this year are Ed Karlins, Niles, president; Jack Maly, Glenview, vice-president; Manny Lubelfeld, Des Plaines, treasurer and Jerry Mendralla, Des Plaines, secretary.
