(Reprinted from June 11, 1970)

I've found out a truth which I'm sure many of you've known for many years. It's simply you say good-bye to your kids a little bit at a time, as the years slip by.

Tonight our number 3 child graduates from grammar school. And while I don't want to hold back the clock, still I wish it wouldn't move quite so fast.

Until last week-end she was a little girl. While everyone says 'this child looks like that one,' and 'she's going to be just like her sister,' still her Mother and Dad know this isn't true. She's not like anybody, just as the other 3 kids are quite different from one another. They all live under the same roof, and they're the progeny of the same source, but that's the end of their sameness.

While Dads in particular like to think of their daughters as soft willowy flowers, gentle and fresh, and fragile and warm, this graduate brings back the memory of music . . . the kind with a beat, which drives 'Old 45' to the wall. I was nurtured on Glenn Miller and soft oozy schmaltz which was muted and sweet . . . Charley Spivak trumpets and blended saxophones which accom-

PURCHASE OF JONQUIL TR. PARK NEAR

By David Besser
Editor & Publisher

The Bugle learned exclusively Tuesday the long-awaited purchase of 1-1/2 acres of land in the Jonquil Terrace area to be used for a park is likely to be culminated at Tuesday's park board meeting. School district 64, which will sell the property plus legal costs for about $87,000 will be realizing about a 48% profit on the land which it received when it threatened con-

Kosiba Named Youth of the Month

Ambrose Panico, Chairman of the Niles Youth Commission, presented an Outstanding Youth of the Month Award to Dan Kosiba, 6957 Wright terr., Niles, at the Youth Commission meeting of June 7.

While at St. John Brebeuf, Dan was Captain of Patrol Boys and Captain of the Altar Boys. At Notre Dame, he was an honor student and at that time began his many activities that were so helpful to Niles youths. While at Loyola university, after his own classes, he would coach and/or instruct sports and other activities at St. John Brebeuf in demnation proceedings. The district paid $50,000 for about 4.5 acres about 10 years ago.

In the 1972-73 park budget $87,000 has been earmarked for land acquisition, which is the amount of money to be paid for the Jonquil Terrace property. Approximately $8,000 will be paid to school district 64 for legal fees acquired by the district, and the remaining $79,000 will be paid for the actual purchase.

Niles park district had applied 3 or 4 years ago for a federal grant of 50% for the land, and park officials are optimistic the federal government will reimburse about $40,000.

The huge 48% profit the school district will realize on the sale was assured by a last year court decision which okayed the school district's right to sell the land.

Former landowner Ben Mattion was unsuccessful in his bid to re-acquire the property after the school district decided it no longer needed the land for a school. Originally, a condemnation threat by school district 64 resulted in the sale of the land in about 1963, at a price of about $50,000. This cost breakdown of $16,667 for the 1-1/2 acres the park district is seeking will now actual-

Family Enrichment

(By Larry Renetzky)

A woman inquired of me the following: "What do I do to get my husband over this 'silent treatment?' I can't stand it! It is driving me batty! If he doesn't come out of it soon, I am going to have to leave him! What can I do to snap him out of it?"

I hear many wives and husbands say that the "silent treatment" hurts them the most in their relationship. Maybe some of you wish that your spouse was a little more quiet instead of yelling, screaming and hollering. Yes, it is refreshing to have some quiet and/or a time for meaningful verbal exchange, but not the "silent treatment!"

You might ask - what is the "silent treatment?" It is simply but cruelly lack of communication. Usually one spouse will cut the other off verbally, physically and emotionally. It varies in degree, but the greater the degree the more difficult it is for the other spouse to take it, in time even to survive.

I don't believe there is anything more cruel or inhuman as the "silent treatment." No wonder people in jail kill themselves and/or go crazy while they are in solitary confinement. The silence becomes unbearable. I have had many wives and a few husbands speak of the pain endured - that it was like solitary confinement in their own home.

As destructive as fighting, yelling and even physical abuse is, it is not as unbearable as the "silent treatment." At least it is some expression and you can fight that in some measure, but how do you fight silence and passivity? I believe it is the most damaging and hard to accept mode of behavior that exists. Of course, I'm not advocating that you fight, yell and scream in place of silence, although it may be necessary temporarily to provoke at least your spouse to speak and involve themselves.

Also, I challenge you to evaluate your own past behavior and involvement with your spouse, your child or friend, etc., that you are experiencing the "silent treatment" with. When they were communicating with you how did you respond? Did you have a tendency to put them down frequently, ridicule them, cut off their communication? Did you make them feel like what they said was important? Did you trample on their feelings when they extended themselves? Did you make your spouse feel inadequate and not appreciated in the sexual act?

The woman that I counseled came to discover that she had very much helped to create the "silent treatment" from her husband. She began to recognize that she had been greatly responsive for his present behavior. She was always criticizing him, finding fault - he never seemed to do anything right including intercourse. Her husband indicated that he felt like he was being pounded into a rat hole so he just retreated into it - the "silent treatment" was born. He also further indicated that she never seemed to appreciate any of his gifts or his attempts to do anything around the house. Most of all he felt that she really didn't appreciate him.

What can the woman do to "snap him out of it?" Something of what this woman mentioned above tried to do. She first took a good look at herself and began to see how she helped bring this "silent treatment" into existence. She then let her husband know in small but sure ways that she was greatly to blame. She began to recognize the slightest thing he did and praised him for it. She let him know he was appreciated.

It has been my experience in counseling and in my own personal life that people on the whole will respond positively to encouragement and recognition much quicker than constant criticism and/or lack of appreciation. Sure we all have faults, but we all have some strengths and good points too. See if you can find them and dwell more on them than all of their bad points. Just ask yourself, when do I feel uplifted and better able to extend myself? When someone is constantly picking on me and tearing me down, or when they are trying to encourage me and build me up? I know that my wife is much more loving, sweet and responsive when I give her some praise and recognition. "Try it, you'll like it because you too will find that it works most of the time and that it can snap him (or her) out of the "silent treatment."

Jane Fonda stars as a prostitute who is the intended victim of a killer in Warner Bros. contemporary mystery, "Kluge," now at the Golf Mill Theatre. Starring in the Technicolor film with her is Donald Sutherland.

Chamber Plans MG Days Sales

Morton Grove Days is scheduled for July 1 through July 4, and the Chamber of Commerce committee is arranging the co-operation of local business houses in the sales program, particularly on June 30 and July 1.

THE CORNERS

of Where it's at and What's happening...

By Ed Hanson

Success... Many successful men didn't succeed — their fathers or grandfathers did.

The only place where success comes before work is in the dictionary.

The trouble with inherited success is when it turns the head it doesn't wring the neck at the same time. And when success goes to a man's head it usually pays just a short visit.

SUCCESSFUL MAN: One who makes more than his wife can spend.
SUCCESSFUL WOMAN: One who can find such a man. Instant success usually goes from the head to the mouth.

Once upon a time, due to the kindness of a rich millionaire, I attended the grand opening of the most posh hotel in the world. The invitations cost three hundred bucks apiece and were made of tooled leather. These invites were mailed to two classes of people: Rich millionaires and poor millionaires. The class distinction between the rich and poor millionaires, at this bash was readily discernable. Those worth 10 million and over formed their own cliques; and turned their noses up at the poor millionaires worth under 5 million.

But one of the poor millionaires, by sheer power of personality, forced his way into the select group and informed them, in a 20 minute boring dissertation how he was a self-made man and had made one million dollars by pulling himself up-by-his-own-bootstraps.

A voice from one of the fat cats boomed across the room, (I think it was Jake Rupert, who at that time owned among many other things, the New York Yankees.) Rupert said to the poor millionaire, "I'll match you for it!" and he held up a coin.

Speaking of success BIGGY'S RESTAURANT & LOUNGE's grand opening at 9300 Ballard rd. was just that. Their grand opening was jammed with folks who enjoyed not only the wonderful cuisine and cocktails but the rustic decor with its old world atmosphere including the enchanting fire place. My tender thick juicy steak was of the finest quality and broiled just the way I like it. For I like my steaks so rare that they should be served with a bandage. BIGGY'S will be open 7 days a week with business man's lunches and special brunches served Saturday, Sunday and holidays... Biggy's has something special for everyone.

And Jake of JAKE'S RESTAURANT in Niles is so successful, he tells me, that from July 1 thru July 31 he'll send up a flock of balloons. In each of these balloons will be a card good at Jake's for $2 to $5 in trade. These food cards will be good until December. So beginning July 1 — watch the sky — for what goes UP must come down and you may grab one of these valuable balloons... and each balloon has Jake's name on it.

"Success is getting up just once more than you fall."

The most successful car salesman in the area is George M. Economus, who celebrates his tenth year with White & Cronen Ford just across from the Golf Mill Shopping center. Let GEORGE put you in the driver's seat and the money he'll save you will be your own.

FLASH: Meanwhile, back at the ranch — Cal's Roast Beef, I see, bought out Roy Rogers but I understand his horse didn't go with the deal...

The number 1 rated success in it's field is LOS AMIGOS, 9000 N. Milwaukee — just two blocks from the Golf Mill Shopping center. Their authentic Mexican and Spanish dinners and their fabulous entertainment is great and groovy...

And Clarence Jensen, top V.P. with the Des Plaines Bank, Oakton and Lee, in Des Plaines came up with a real success-builder-upper when he announced TUCKAWAY. You can open a TUCKAWAY account, silver savings, 90 day account for as little as one buck and the D.P. Bank will give you a safe deposit box to "Tuckaway" your valuables for a year FREE!

Ethel of DOWN THE STREET, I understand, from the time she opened her classy place at 6913 N. Milwaukee, was an 'instant success.' Her lunches, dinners and late snacks pack the quality that makes people come back...

BOOBY'S or bust for the best, the juiciest, tasting hamburger anywhere... all BOOBY'S quality food made him the SUCCESS he is today.

Another local success in Mexican food is TIJUANA TACO at 7830 N. Milwaukee ave. in Niles. Eat in or carry 'em out — all their Mexican food is delicious...

Nothing succeeds like success. And for unbeatable home cooking you can't beat the CHAMBERS, 6881 Milwaukee ave. Like Ironside of TV fame I love CHILI... that homemade chili at the CHAMBERS is so delicious Ironside would flip over his wheel chair to get it. All their foods have fresh home-made taste appeal...

Nurses, Ambulance Crew Study Emergency Procedures

A program to acquaint future emergency room nurses at Lutheran General Hospital with the problems of fire department ambulance crews, was completed recently for the first group of senior student nurses with the cooperation of the Niles Fire Department.

According to Mrs. Beverly Harlov, emergency room instructor of the hospital, this is the first program of its kind in the area.

Mrs. Harlov, in cooperation with Fire Chief Albert L. Hoelbl, said the purpose of the training program for the 12 nurses was to make them aware of the community services available and to permit them an opportunity to get a better understanding of what the nature of the emergency would be, how it is handled, and what stress and crisis situations exist prior to the arrival of the victim.

She said that the nurses are well trained and familiar with the hospital's end of the operation, but knew little of what the firefighters faced in the street.

The 12 nurses who completed an 8-hour tour of duty, are: Khris Aberle, Shirley Kurowski, Jan Stetzer, Pat Lienhardt, Margene Ortel, Wendy Strohmayer, Joan Harthe, Linda Salsgizer, Lorna Willerton, Jan Meyer, Evie Stibaldi, and Diane Tanner.

The Niles Fire Department operates the oldest emergency ambulance service in the area. It has two completely equipped $10,000 ambulances, outfitted with the latest first aid equipment.

Capt. Harry Kinowski, in cooperation with Lt. Gerald Cameron, developed a series of visual aids to familiarize the nurses with the equipment available. Then they observed first aid techniques as they used by the firefighters in home emergencies and street accidents. Afterwards, the nurses rode with the men on actual calls and observed the actions of the men under actual conditions.

Mrs. Harlov termed the program a tremendous success and said that the nurses agreed the experience they gained was invaluable. She said the hospital intends to continue the program, with the orientation taking place in Niles, and participation divided between the Niles and newly formed Park Ridge ambulance services.

During their daily stay at the Niles fire station, the girls were accepted in the daily routine of the firehouse, and even washed dishes for the men after mealtime, and all agreed that firemen made excellent cooks.

Some of his many unselfish accomplishments are manager and coach in the Niles Baseball League for all age groups as well as well as manager of 11 Niles All-Star teams; serving as Co-ordinator of Tournaments, Umpiring Chairman, Scheduling Chairman, Trophy Chairman and Chairman for the sports activities for the Little League; coaching the CYO teams from the Niles area in basketball, football and baseball; organized cheerleaders at St. John Brebeuf; heading the intra-mural girls' softball league, helping the Parish Teen club; arranging many specialties for the participants of teams, such as guest appearances at half-time during the Chicago Bulls games at Chicago Stadium; helping the Niles Park District form their own basketball league in 1968 and conducting a basketball intra-mural program at a neighboring parish; and helping organize the Niles Youth Congress Girls' Softball League for the 1972 season.

Dan has given freely of his time for many years with his goal being to provide adequate and interesting recreation for the youth to enable them to develop morally as well as physically and is extremely worthy of this award.

ly cost about $79,000 plus the $8,000 legal fee cost.

When Niles Park District approved a $1,750,000 referendum in July of 1968, the money was earmarked for land acquisition as well as for the Grennan Heights Gym and the Ballard Park Sports Complex. But the park board's unbelievable payments of around $300,000 for a Kirk Lane park strip next to Lawrencewood Shopping Center which measures about 1,300 feet deep by 120 feet wide, or about 3.6 acres, the promised money for a Jonquil Terrace park began to disappear. The aborted triangular park on Washington Street which also is about 3.5 acres cost about $270,000, which again took away money for the Jonquil Terrace park. Thus, the hoped for 4.5 acre park in Jonquil Terrace disappeared due to lack of funds, and now the 1.5 acres is all the land the park district can now pay for park property there.

While there was a likely misunderstanding, park commissioner Jerry Sullivan (then park president) told The Bugle only recently the land purchase would be for 2.5 acres. However, other park officials contend the 1.5 acre figure was always the anticipated purchase figure, and the mistake was expressed inadvertently.

panied such euphonious names as the Modernaires and the Mellow Larks. But the graduate has her sound with names that must read the Cacophony Chorus, the Garbage Can Drum Beaters and the Ersatz Noise-makers.

'Old 45' and The Graduate have other generations-and-a-half gaps as well. For instance, it's a little thing, but as they say, it's the little things . . . Like, "Hey graduate, where's my pen?" It's the third one she's grabbed this week and it's my one tool of the trade. Without it I'd have to go back to those ten cent ink-stainers, or even to a pencil.

For another example I'd like to say, take my shirts . . . but if I did, you can be sure she grabbed them long ago. Take that grey knit sweater I bought at a knitting mill in Vermont last year. Well, you can be sure she took that one long ago, too.

I could mention the telephone, but best I keep the blood pressure down. I guess these kids are more refined these days. Back in the 30's and 40's you'd go over to a guy's house and yell, "Ohhh, Joeeee." Or you'd whistle. Or you'd just wait out in front or in the gangway or in the backyard for him. But this classy Miss Suburbia does it much more genteely. She uses the phone. If she wonders what Jan is wearing to school on Arbor Day . . . telephone. "I saw Bob with Sue . . ." telephone, telephone, telephone. (that's worth 3 calls). Homework . . . telephone. It's sort of a game. If she gets home early the phone never rings. It couldn't because she's on it . . . telephoning. If she comes home, like ten minutes later than usual, and 'Old 45' is there, he becomes an answering service. For instance, take the time we were having dinner some months ago. For a real laugh 'Old 45' answered her phone and told the caller, "This is a recorded message. The graduate is eating dinner. She will return your call after 7 p.m. At the sound of the beep you can leave your message . . ." That was pretty funny. The graduate's caller giggled so long she hung up without leaving her name. During the next half hour every acquaintance of the graduate since kindergarten called to hear funny 'Old 45' and his recorded message.

There are memories which are precious and private but if she'll forgive me I'll mention just one. After a 4 day routine check-up in the hospital I came home to a deserted house. But when the 10 year old pre-graduate heard I was home she flew across the street with tears in her eyes, and I got kind of misty over a very silly reunion.

Well, last week those Farewell Blues began to hit home. At 6 o'clock a little guy, all freshly pressed and brushed down, with a box under his arm, came into call for the graduate. Normally, I'd put him at ease by telling him he has to be fingerprinted and mugged before he can escort one of my daughters. But he outpulsed me, and I just sort of mumbled a gayer hello than I was feeling. And as they say in the movies, "here, she comes" . . . and she walked down the steps in a light fluffy thing with roses all over and lots of brown curls atop those 2 brown eyes . . . and for that ever-brief moment, I wanted to stop the clock.

Tonight, I opened the refrigerator and those pretty white carnations still looked fresh, tied up neatly with the red ribbon. And across the table sits Number 3, the graduate. She's kind of anxious to get going because tonight is the big night. And while she rushes to get thru with dinner, and looks longingly at that damn telephone, I'm trying very calmly to tell her to take her time. After all, what's the rush?

A great team effort and the sound pitching combination of Keener and Czernak, brought the Red Legs a 2 to 0 victory over the Artistic Trophy Pirates. The pitching duo registered their 1st no-hit performance of the early campaign, with Keener striking out 10 and allowing 3 walks, and Czernak striking out 5 and no walks. Leading the hitting attack were Sam Rea with 2 hits, B. Keener with a triple and Eric Beuther and Mike Herr a single.

4 Innings of 2-hit shutout pitching by Dennis McInerney, a double by Ron Reeve and a single by Sam Hoffman, proved a tough loss for the Red Sox against the Senators. Scott Erickson held the Sox to 6 runs for the first 4 innings, striking out 9. Mike Anderschat hitting a long triple for the Red Sox driving in 3 runs. Rick Fermannski came in to pitch the next 3 innings, striking out 5 of the 13 men he faced. As the game moved into the last of the 7th, with the Senators behind by 3 runs, the first 2 men up reached base and a double by Scott Erickson scored 2 runs. A walk to Mark Parr and a hit by Fermannski scored Erickson. Heads up base running by Parr scored the 7th and winning run.

A home run with bases loaded by Dave Scher, helped him win his own game, as the Astros pulled to a 500 team at 2 and 2 against the Artistic Trophy Pirates.

Lum's Giants with 13 hits and 10 walks, scored 15 runs against 2 by Northwest Honda. The only bright spots for the Honda Twins were Greg Urban's home run with a man on, accounting for both runs, and Phil Ludkowski, 2 singles in 3 times at bat. Dennis McInerney and Todd Peterson of the Red Sox pitched the Red Sox to a hard-won victory over the Northwest Honda Twins. To date Dennis has pitched 10 innings and has 22 strikeouts to his credit. Dave Elin, Steve Channess and Greg Urban of the Twins allowed only 3 hits, but 10 walks was their undoing.

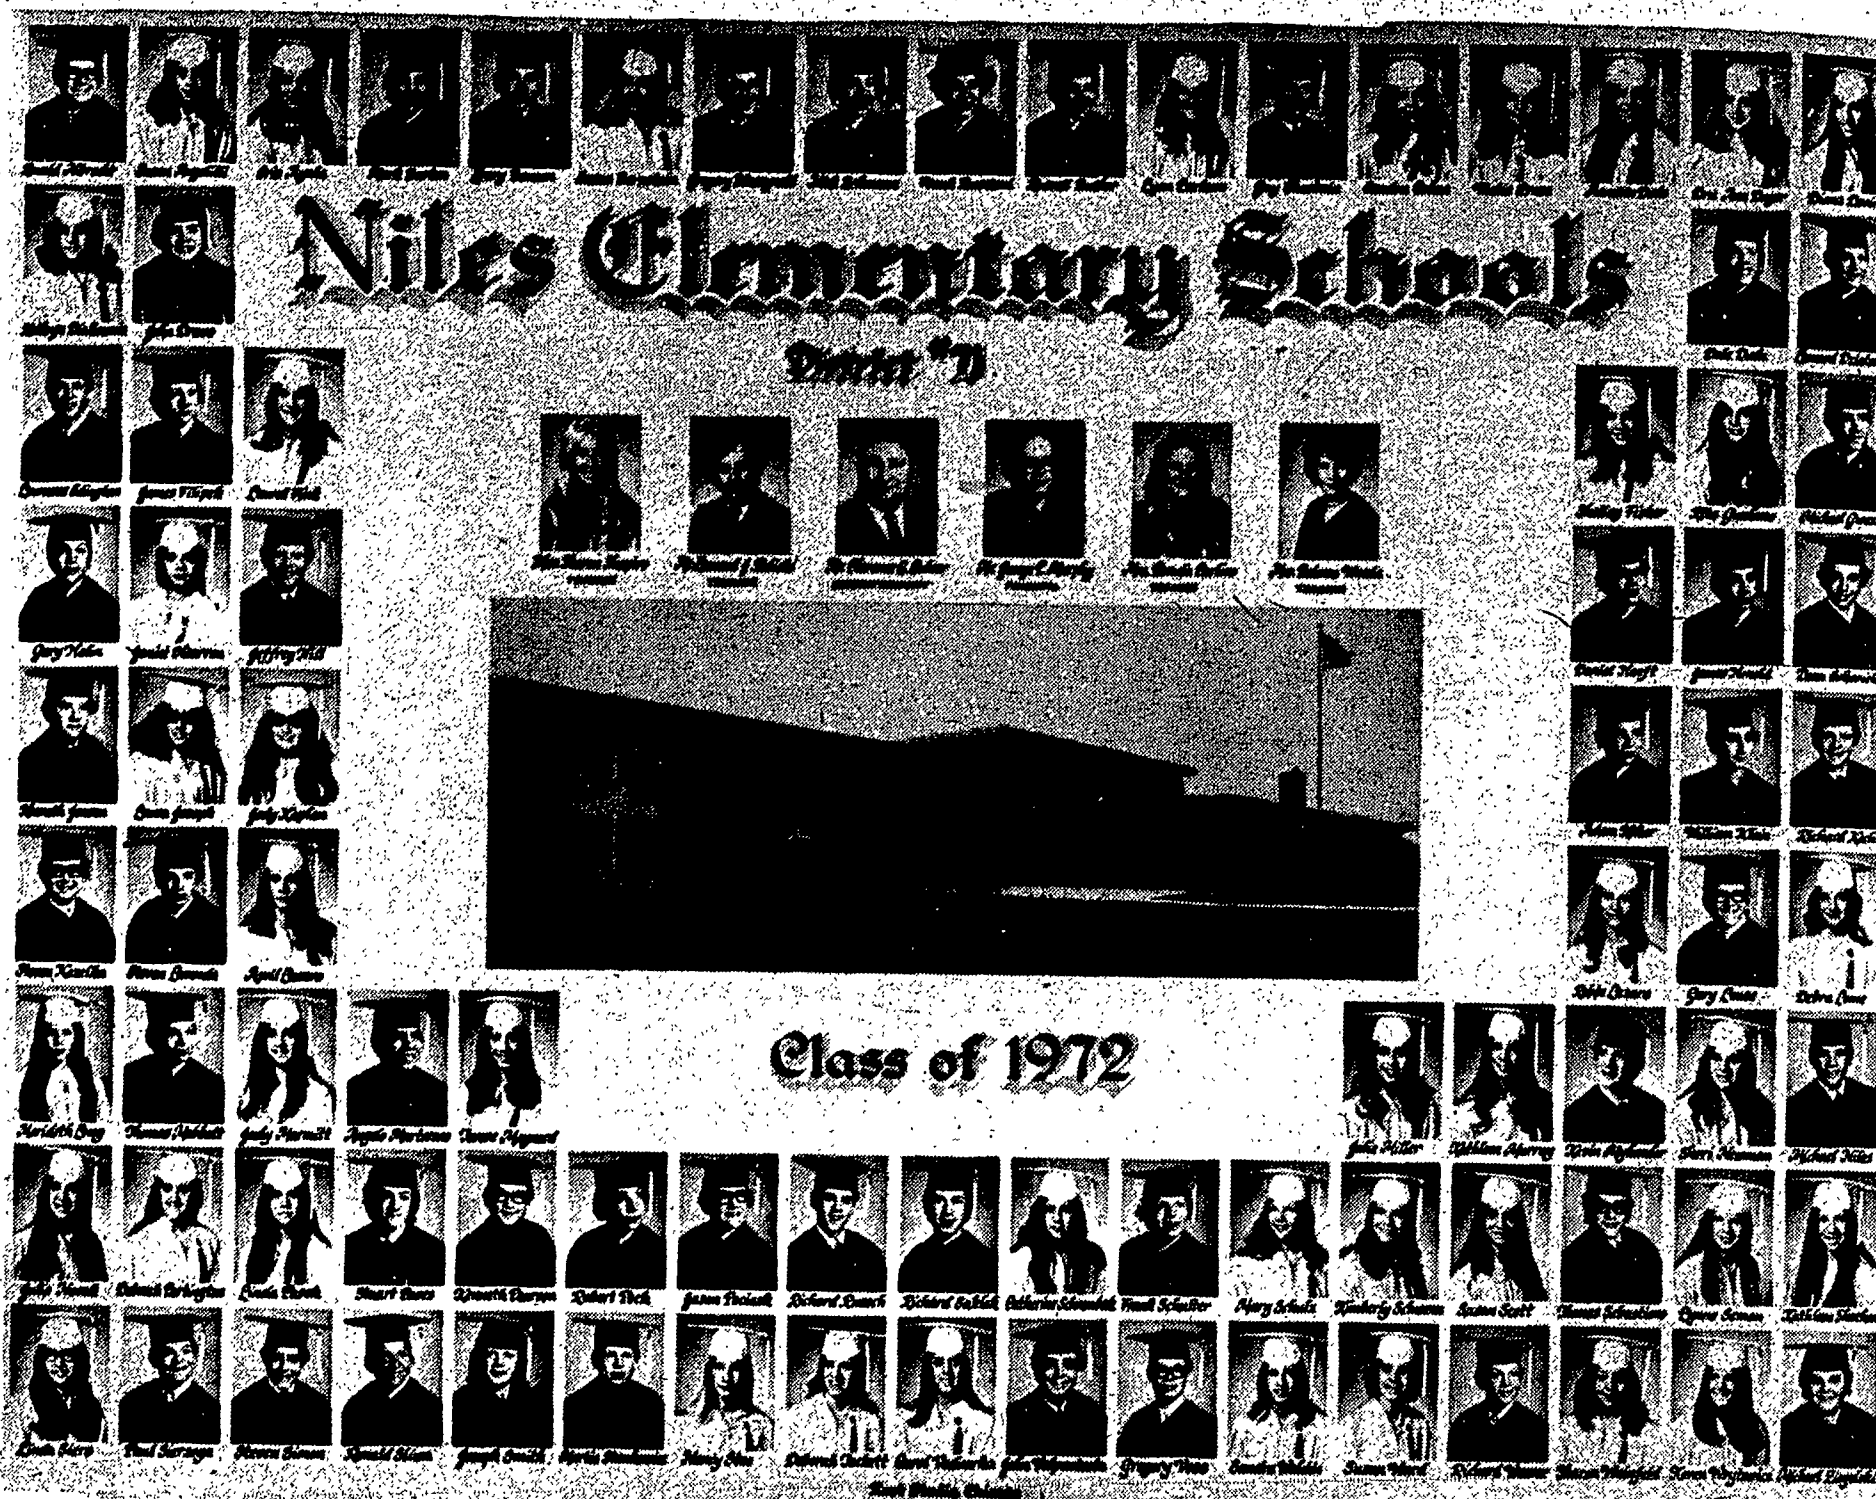

Clarence E. Culver, Superintendent of Niles Elementary Schools, was the speaker at the 8th grade graduation exercises on Tuesday, June 13, at Niles Elementary School North. Eighty-eight students were presented for graduation by George P. Murphy, Principal.
