Electrical power shortage at Herman's

(By Alice M. Debra)
Herman's World of Sporting Goods store in the Golf Mill Shopping Center experienced a fire scare Monday morning, Oct. 12.

The Niles Fire Department was already enroute to the Golf Mill store, summoned by a trouble light signal, when the call for aid from the fire department was telephoned from the store.

Store employees, alerted by the smell of smoke shortly after 10 a.m., went to the rear of the sports store to investigate. Electrical wires on the panel in the rear loft area were burning and sparking, and the back end of the store was filled with smoke, stated an employee.

"When the electrical power shorts out, we are notified by a trouble signal," said a fire department spokesman. "We always send a fire engine to investigate the occurrence."

There was no report of smoke damage to the store. An electrical damage estimate was set at several thousand dollars.

"There was no way to avoid the occurrence," said Fire Chief Albert Hoelbl. "It was definitely a short in the electrical panel. A fast stop was effected by arrival of our firemen on the scene."

Senior Citizens' NEWS AND VIEWS

by Diane Miller

Library Exhibit

Don't forget to stop in at the Niles Library, 6960 Oakton, and see the unique wood carved exhibit being displayed through the courtesy of Mr. E. W. Gaul of Niles. Mr. Gaul's exhibit will continue through the month of October. The exhibits would be interesting to children and adults alike since he has characters from Bozo's Circus, the sea god Triton and he also has a reproduction of Copan, Honduras' "Stonehead", together with an exceptionally good likeness of "Snowflake".

In the question box located near the exhibit, Mr. Gaul has received inquiries asking how he can make all of these items since they are all so different. His philosophy is you can do anything if your brain says you can and he feels everything starts from the brain. It has taken him anywhere from 30 days to five months to complete these works of art. He has been asked if he will sell any or all of the models on display and he says he will; in fact, some are sold already. Mr. Gaul did all the painting on the models himself and the one which took the most time and effort was the "Apollo II". Another exhibit of his work is planned after the first of next year.

MORTON GROVE GOLDEN SENIORS

The regular meeting of the Morton Grove Golden Seniors, a new club which is now six months old, was held on Wednesday, Oct. 16 at the Morton House restaurant. At present they are meeting at the Morton House through the courtesy of Mr. Ken Hoffman, owner of the Morton House. All residents of Morton Grove who are Senior Citizens are cordially invited to attend these meetings every Wednesday at 12 noon. Coffee and rolls are furnished for a nominal fee. After the business meeting concludes, anyone wishing to play cards may do so.

At the last meeting, the members were honored with the presence of Park Board president Thomas Bodkin and Park Supt. Dave Huber. They presented an outline of the new park facilities which they are working on, especially the future Senior Citizens section in the proposed building. Beginning Wednesday, Oct. 23, the Park District mini-bus will begin picking up members for meetings. Calls for transportation will be accepted until noon on Monday. Call Wally at 965-0527 or George at 965-0112.

Grandmother's Club visits Candlelight

The bus was ready to take forty-two grandmothers from the Niles Grandmother's Club on Sunday, Sept. 15. They left the Recreation Center about 11 a.m. and drove down Milwaukee ave. to Harlem, then to the Tollway and south the Candlelight Dinner Playhouse at 56th and Harlem, Summit, Ill. to see the "Sound of Music". We arrived in time to relax and look around before we went to our tables.

The tables were set for four or six people. The waiters started taking our orders around 12:30 p.m. We had a choice of one of five dinners which were Beef Flamande (beef and onions braised in beer), Mostaccioli with Meat Balls, Chicken Imperial, Halibut and Roast Loin of Pork (served with sauerkraut and mashed potatoes). The above dinners included Salad with French, Thousand Island, Cream Garlic, Russian, Oil and Vinegar dressings. Rolls and Butter, Coffee or Tea, Dessert duJour. Everything was very good and everyone was very happy with the dinners.

At 2:30 p.m. promptly the lights went out and the show was about to begin. The stage was in the middle of the room, and when the show started the stage would go up so all the audience could see the players no matter where they had their tables. The play was beautiful, as was the lovely music of the "Sound of Music" ... "Do Re Mi" and the other beautiful arrangements with Rodgers and Hammerstein. There were beautiful voices singing with Rebecca Clements as Maria Rainer, Lee Pelly as Capt. Georg von Trapp, the Mother Abess and all the Sisters of the Abbey, and last, but not least, all the seven von Trapp children. It was a marvelous cast and they played their parts as in real life. One woman, who was with another group, was celebrating her birthday and told us that this was the fourth time she was seeing it. It really was enjoyed by all, young and old, and we were sorry to see it end.

We then left the theatre to go to our bus, which was waiting for us at the door, when Rebecca Clements, the star of the show, came by and waved to us all.

Aspiring firemen take eligibility tests

Candidates for Niles firemen undertook the written tests after successfully passing physical exams and agility testing. Eligibility examinations took place Sept. 28 at the Niles Fire Dept. There were no female applicants.

Of the 34 applicants to take the eligibility exams for firemen, which were given at the Niles Fire Dept., Dempster and Cumberland ave. on Saturday, Sept. 28, 19 remained eligible to take the final testing phase, of psychological and oral interviews, according to Deputy Fire Chief Charles M. Bobula.

Fire and police exams are open only to residents of Niles, said Navy Commander (Ret.) George Hansen, secretary of the 3-man Board of Fire and Police Commission. Sam Bruno is chairman and Len Borkowsky, both of Niles, are the other two board members.

Niles firemen and policemen must reside in Niles by reason of a recent Supreme Court decision, which applies to all communities. "We are quite pleased with this ruling," said Hansen, "since it motivates our police and firemen, as residents of the village."

Duties of the Board are to examine, qualify and appoint men to police and fire depts. The Board also assesses and evaluates disciplinary actions taken in either village department.

According to Hansen, who has been an active member of the Board since its inception in 1953, of the total number of applicants for Saturday's fire testing, 4 men did not take the physical exams, 5 did not take the written tests, finalizing in 19 men to undergo psychological testing.

Dependent upon receipt of evaluation by a Board of Analysts, stated Hansen, oral interviews will be held "sometime within the next 10 days or 2 weeks."

An eligibility listing will be made from successful candidates, to augment the departmental roster from time to time, as needed. Names are listed in accordance with the relative excellence each applicant has attained. The listings are of two years' duration, as of the time the list is "posted."

"We (Fire and Police Commission) pride ourselves on the exemplary manner in which our fire staff operates and the efficiency which they have displayed. Morale continues to be high in both police and fire departments," said Hansen.

To his knowledge, no vacancies exist at present, on the fire department. Fire and police complements are established by village ordinance, authorized by the Niles Board of Trustees.

Although there were no women applicants on Saturday, Fire Chief Albert Hoelbl stated quite clearly that female applicants are acceptable, with the understanding that should they become eligible, they accept living, eating and sleeping conditions equal to male firemen.

Free hearing test

A FREE hearing test is being offered to the residents of Niles by the Niles Commission on Community Health on Saturday, Oct. 26 and Sunday, Oct. 27 from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. at Notre Dame High school, 7655 Dempster st., Niles.

The Commission would especially like the people that participated in this program last November to take the test again this year so that they can begin comparison studies of yearly test results on these individuals. The Commission would like to follow any changes that may occur in these persons' hearing levels.

All testing will be done by graduate students from Northwestern University who specialize in audiology.

Protect your hearing by having periodic checkups. In most cases, one is no more aware of progressive hearing loss due to excessive noise than you are of growing older. You should be aware of these warning signs: shattering noises seem less shattering, you feel you have become "used" to noise, your ears ring for a long time after exposure to loud noises, or your friends and relatives seem to mumble an awful lot lately. Loss of hearing can seriously affect communication with your fellow man and become a real social problem. If noise is loud enough to interfere with normal conversation, it is loud enough to damage your hearing.

Let the entire family join in taking advantage of this FREE community service. Protect your hearing before it is too late!

"History repeats itself" was proven again in the annual frosh-soph tennis tournament at Notre Dame High School in Niles. Bill Plain of Park Ridge and Rob DeLorenzo of Niles were in the finals last year and again this year. Plain defeated DeLorenzo in straight sets.

This year there were 38 boys in the tournament. They played at least two matches. Those who lost in the first round went into the consolation round of 16.

The tournament was held on the courts of the Niles Park District at Jozwiak Park on Touhy Ave. All matches were played after school or on Saturday mornings. It ended with the final match between Bill and Rob on Wednesday, Oct. 9.

Rev. Charles Lavelly, C.S.C.,

Notre Dame tennis coach, conducts this tournament each year to enable him to get a look at the younger players who will be trying out for the team next spring. The Notre Dame Racket Dons are the current champions of the Suburban Catholic Conference.

Bruce Leska of Niles, a freshman, won the consolation round.

Ignited gas fumes hospitalize victim

A 19-year-old Lake Barrington man was rushed to the hospital Friday afternoon, Oct. 18, with burns apparently caused by ignited gasoline vapors.

Upon approaching an attendant refueling a station wagon at Vinci Flooring Co., 7255 Harlem ave., the 19-year-old was said to have lighted a cigarette. As the gasoline vapors ignited, the startled attendant jerked away from the car, apparently withdrawing the gas pump nozzle and spraying the man holding the cigarette.

Gary Baldassari, 33 Lakeview dr., Lake Barrington, Ill., was taken to Lutheran General Hospital with burns on both hands, arms and face.

Park District Derby fishermen outsmart fish

[by Alice M. Bobula]

According to educated guessmates, almost all of the 250 pounds of fish purchased for the Fifth Annual Park District Fishing Derby have been caught.

The fish were still biting during the extended hours of fishing, from 7 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. on Oct. 19 at the Recreation Center Fish Pond--er, Swimming Pool. But only the hardy Nilesites--about 20 of them--ventured out on the cold, rainy Saturday morning to try and catch them.

The prize catches, two 8 pound carp still had their freedom, however, somewhere in the deep end of the pool at 7877 Milwaukee ave.

One Niles fisherman was credited with a catch of 23 bluegills; another with 15 fish; another with 12, down to the least, single catch of 3 fish during the Saturday morning. Most of the fish caught were bluegills.

Niles West student Paul Nawesniak, 14, lost his pole mid-morning and almost dove into the pool to retrieve it. He had already caught a "large" bluegill earlier, on worms.

Joe Nessler wasn't fishing this year, he said. "I only came to help my brother Pete," said the 13-year-old, who was baiting his older brother's hooks.

The Derby was officially closed at 10:30 a.m. by Park pool supervisor Mike Walger, who made final tallies of the morning's catches.

Derby prizes of a fish reel and rod, a reel and a tacklebox were offered to the Nilesite with the best catch during the four days of fishing; and for catching each of the 2 carp.

Credited with the best Derby catch was Joe Nawesniak, 6810 Oakton ct., with 61 fish; Pete Nessler, 16, of 7441 Keeney, was a close second, with 57 fish; and 14-year-old Al Bremer, 8144 N. Ozark, was in 3rd place with 25 fish.

Winter Swim Team

The Niles Park District's re-designed winter swim team has just started. You can still register for the program with the emphasis on more fun, rather than long tedious workouts.

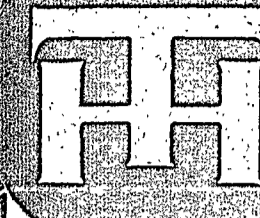

Al Brennan, the new head coach, with five years experience, will be holding workouts on Wednesday and Saturdays. Workouts will be held on Fridays before and after the regular High School swimming season. The program is divided in two sessions with 30 workouts in each session. Session I is from Oct. 23 thru Feb. 5. Session II is Feb. 8 thru May 7. All workouts are held at Maine Township High school East.

The fee per session is $18 for one child ($36 for family of 2 or more children) for Niles Park District residents. The non-resident fee is $26 per session for one child ($52 for a family of 2 or more children).

CHURCH & TEMPLE NOTES...

Holy Name Peace Parade

In spite of the gloomy and coldy weather, over 600 "Crusaders for Peace" marched with St. John Brebeuf Holy Name members from the Grennan Hts. fieldhouse in Niles to St. John Brebeuf Church for the 9:15 Mass on Sunday morning, Oct. 13.

Their prayers were to "Our Lady of Fatima", the Lady of Peace who appeared on this earth in May of 1917 and made five prophecies. All of these prophecies have been fulfilled with the exception of the conversion of Russia and an era of peace. In marching we prayed that the light of our divine Lord direct the liberations of all people on earth. Our prayers were that "Our Lady of Peace" would inspire rulers and leaders of all nations and bring within them the wisdom and counsel of meekness and bring all men in loving harmony and restore everlasting peace to this world. We also asked that "Our Lady of Peace" through the immense goodness of Her Mother's Heart arouse in each of us the love of the trust, the justice and the charity of her son, Jesus Christ.

In memoriam

(by Diana Miller)

Anthony Rea, 39, of Niles passed away last week.

His name will probably not be familiar to the majority of you reading this since he never ran for or held any political office in town nor did he hold an executive position with a large corporation.

He was just a regular guy who worked hard at his job with Salerno Biscuit Company in Niles. We all say we work hard at our jobs, but for Tony, it required more effort and perseverance for he had been confined to a wheelchair since he was stricken with polio at the age of three.

Tony was a member of the Apostolate of the Handicapped and eight years ago, he met and married his wife Arlene who is also confined to a wheelchair due to a birth defect.

Two years after they were married, Tony and Arlene's search for just the "right house" ended in Niles. They found exactly what they were looking for in a house that had a flush front porch and a single level on the inside so they could maneuver without having the obvious disadvantage of stairs.

Tony and Arlene were the type of neighbors who proceeded immediately to prove themselves an asset to the community. Their independence was commendable and astonishing to say the least. This very special couple worked endless hours and turned their house into their "dream home". Tony's pride was evident when he asked us over to see their newly completed family room and remodeled kitchen. He was a great admirer of Spanish architecture and the rooms with the dark paneling and wrought-iron fixtures exemplified his favoritism for that era. His face beamed with enthusiasm as he wheeled himself from room to room pointing out the light fixtures, wall hangings and furniture that he and Arlene had chosen. He was truly a proud and happy man.

Tony and Arlene had many friends. Some of their closest friends, who were also confined to wheelchairs, were given added incentive and encouragement when they saw what this couple had accomplished together.

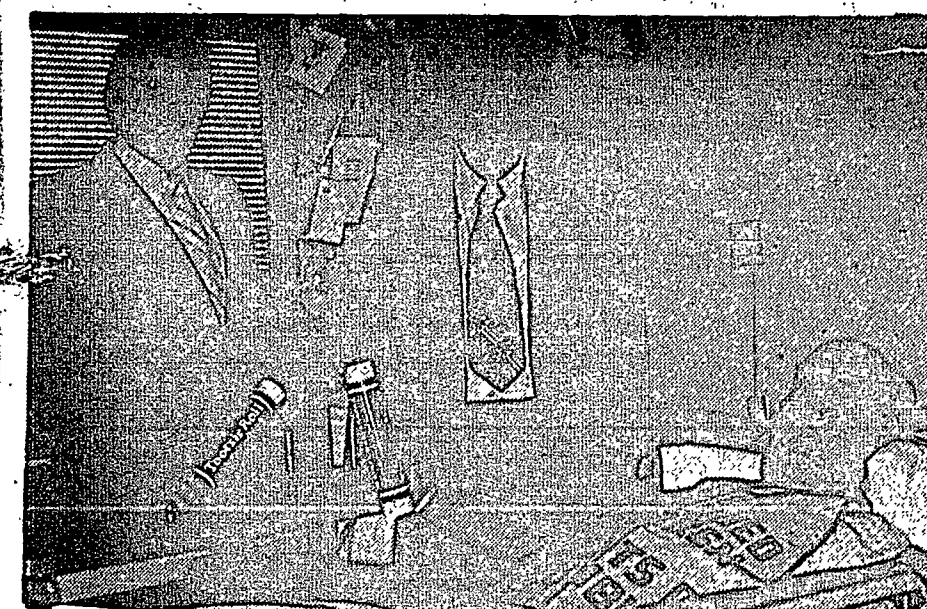

Tony was an ardent Cub fan. Many times during the summer he would sit on the patio or out in his driveway with his transistor radio blasting in his pocket so he wouldn't miss a single "Hey, Hey". He could quote batting averages and statistics as only a diehard Cub fan could.

Last year, he and Arlene flew to Las Vegas for four days. They took in the sights, saw several shows and when they got back home, Tony termed their trip as fantastic.

Tony crammed a lot of living into his 39 years. He enjoyed life and despite his handicap, he lived it to the fullest.

May God keep a special watch over Tony, Arlene and all their "special friends" for they exemplify a brand of courage which most of us could never equal.

Members of North American Martyrs Council #4338 Knights of Columbus in Niles will cover the Niles area for their annual Tootsie Roll drive on Friday, Nov. 1 and Saturday, Nov. 2. Proceeds will go toward the Retarded children community centers and institutions. Altho chairman Augie Pranske of Niles is confined to a wheelchair from an operation, he is planning and directing the Tootsie Roll Drive with the cooperation of co-chairman Kenneth Piasecki and Grand Knight Bob Komos. They are appealing to the public for their support and cooperation in setting a record year. Last year donations reached a record high of $400,000 in the state of Illinois with a goal of $500,000 this year.

We've looked at the records of the candidates for Congress in this district, and we've found that there is a big difference between them when it comes to education. Sam Young had a 20% rating from the National Education Association for his votes on education in 1973. Ab Mikva, the Democrat, had a 100% rating for his votes on education in 1972 when he was in Congress.

Nimrod receives support of young people

State Senator John J. Nimrod this week received the enthusiastic support of young people of the 4th District which includes most of Niles, Maine, Wheeling and part of Northfield Townships.

The Senator was a guest speaker at Maine South High School and Oakton Community College last week and spoke Thursday at Maine East. Youth coordinators are arranging for talks by the Senator at Maine North and Niles North.

Ron Peterson of Morton Grove, youth coordinator for Senator Nimrod, paid tribute to the enthusiasm of volunteers and young Republican workers, especially in the recent "blitz" which covered the entire northwest suburban area. Peterson is being assisted by Brian Davidson of Skokie, president of the Niles TARS, who have given Nimrod their full support. Niles YR's, led by Don Singer, have worked hard for their favorite. Among the team workers are Gordon Hirsch, Debbie and Liz Rubin, Dena Redick, Dave Greenberg, Mark Giancola, Nancy Lloyd, Jackie Lavin, Debbie Stark, Lorry Kuperman and others.

Maine Township workers supporting the legislative candidate include Brad Kummer, Marjorie Butz, Betty Creasy, Jim Hershey, Sue Langfield and Brian Hennessey. From Wheeling, TARS president John Shell leads a group including Kathy Nugent, Bob Bloom, Doug Wiltse, Ken Recknago and others. "These fine young people are learning the grass roots of our political system," said Senator Nimrod, "and I am proud to be a part of an education in the mechanics of how their government is run."

"The experience they are gaining in precinct work, registration, canvassing, etc., will make them better able to contribute to the running of the state and the nation in coming years," Senator Nimrod concluded.

Most important election for suburbanites

Cook County Commissioner and candidate for re-election Floyd T. Fulle has called Nov. 5 the date of "the most important election ever" for suburban Cook County residents, because it can give them, for the first time, a voice in the financial affairs of the county.

In remarks made at the Maine Township Republican Dinner last week, Fulle pointed out that Cook County suburbanites are voiceless in county money matters. The present Cook County Board of Commissioners is composed of 10 commissioners from Chicago and five from the suburbs, he stated, and that all financial matters require a 2/3 vote. Because the city commissioners usually vote as a bloc, they have been able to control the budget.

But, Fulle continued, as the result of a suit he brought before the circuit court, the suburbs representation will be increased to six members after Nov. 5. The consequences of that change, he added, mean that in the future it will require 11 votes to constitute a 2/3 majority with the city commissioners holding only 10 seats on the board.

The suburbs must, Fulle concluded, elect six Republican Cook County Commissioners, or lose the first and only real chance they have to ensure that the suburbs share in the financial decisions of the county board and receive the benefits they deserve from the taxes they pay.

Rockefeller's tax exempt income

Dear Editor:

We have all read that Vice President Rockefeller paid NO federal income tax in 1970 on $5 million of income. He paid no tax because most of his income came from tax exempt municipal and state bonds. I feel this is unfair to the working people and suggest that Mr. Mikva and Mr. Young do something about it.

I call upon Messrs. Mikva and Young to propose legislation that would make interest earned from small bank and savings and loan institutions accounts tax exempt. The average savings account is less than $10,000. In other words, the working classes own the majority of savings accounts. The millionaires pay no tax on their bonds and I feel that we working people should not pay federal income tax on the little interest we earn in our savings accounts. This suggestion will also stimulate the economy and produce a deflationary effect. The deflation will result from lower interest rates for credit because of an abundance of deposits into the banks. I hope that Mr. Mikva and Mr. Young will carefully consider this suggestion. It's about time all elected officials did something for the working man and woman.

Sincerely,
Thomas W. Flynn
Democratic Candidate
State Representative
4th District

Young "too conservative"

Dear Editor,

I would like to state that I believe Rep. Sam Young is much too conservative to represent the 10th District.

Young's stance on some of the following is certainly out of step with majority thinking in our area:

His constant voting against appropriations for such social needs as mass transportation, education and medical programs while approving every whim of the Pentagon, needed or not. His abysmal record on legislation to clean up the nation's air and waterways.

His allegiance to the oil lobby and to big business.

While I obviously cannot speak for everyone, I do feel that his priorities and loyalties are not in tune with a constituency which, for the most part, appears to have kept up with the times.

Sincerely,
s/ (Mrs.) Eileen Schaffel

Grateful daughter thanks Fire Dept.

Editor's note: The following letter was received by the Niles Fire Dept. Paramedics

Dear Mr. Pickup and Mr. Marcotte:

It would take many pages of paper to express our gratefulness for the wonderful and successful treatment that you administered to our father who had a heart attack in the Niles Drug store on September 12.

We understand that without your medical treatment he may not be alive today. He is a wonderful Dad and your paramedic training has made it possible to have him with us again.

He is home now and doing fine. It's hard to believe what happened.

just one week ago today. Again THANK YOU Mr. Pickup and Mr. Marcotte.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Theodore Rahn
(daughter of
Mr. Selmer Johnson)

Thank you

Dear Sir,

We would like to take this opportunity on behalf of the officers and members of St. John Brebeuf Holy Name Society in Niles to extend our sincere appreciation for the publicity you have given our Holy Name Peace Parade held on Sunday, Oct. 13.

Very truly yours,

Niles Library art show winners

During the Niles Public Library District Board Meeting on Oct. 11, Mr. Martin Hodes, Board President, presented awards to nine proud young students for their entries in the Niles Branch Library's summer art competition. Approximately 80 persons crowded into the branch library for the awards presentation.

The art program, designed to encourage students to visit the library during summer vacation, attracted 45 participants. Contestants were divided into three categories: grades 3-4, grades 5-6 and grades 7-8.

The following winners were selected by a panel of judges: Grades 7-8: 1st, Dawn Manzo; 2nd, Laura Novak; 3rd, Robin Klein. Grades 5-6: 1st, Laura Friedman; 2nd, Mark Lewis; 3rd, Dan Goldberg. Grades 3-4: 1st, Kendra Svatos; 2nd, Sari Rowitz; 3rd, Scott Lewis.

First prize winners were awarded cash deposits ranging from $10 to $25 by Golf Mill State Bank. Each second prize winner received a book from Books and Cards Inc. of Golf Mill, and a free meal at Golf Mill McDonald's. McDonald's also provided "dinner for three" coupons to the third prize winners.

On or after Nov. 4 the remaining participants are welcome to pick up their art work at the library's new location, 9010 Milwaukee ave., in Shoppers' Walk, Niles.

Young charges Mikva with "dirty tricks"

Rep. Sam Young today asked the Fair Campaign Practices Committee to "immediately investigate the campaign literature and political tactics" of his opponent, Abner Mikva, in the 10th Congressional District race.

Young charges that "Mikva's campaign literature and political procedures have violated the Code of Fair Campaign Practices."

Young's complaint to the Fair Campaign Practices Committee features letters from various officers of the League of Women Voters who have complained that Mikva misused the League's Political Accountability Rating in his literature.

Young said Mikva has distributed campaign literature that "is distorted and deliberately creates false impressions for the purpose of misleading the voting public."

To substantiate this charge Young presented to the Fair Campaign Practices Committee and League of Women Voters' letters criticizing Mikva's use of the Political Accountability Rating in his campaign literature.

In his complaint to the Fair Campaign Practices Committee, Rep. Young specifically objects to the misuse of special interest groups' ratings in Mikva's campaign literature.

Young charges that Mikva misleads voters by attempting to compare his ratings from 1972 with Young's ratings in 1973. Young stated this was like comparing apples and oranges.

Young also charged that Mikva tried to create the impression that the ratings used in his literature are directly applicable to the 10th District. According to Young the ratings are not compiled for a specific district.

In the complaint Young also said Mikva campaign literature attempts to depict Mikva's past record on busing as something other than a pro-busing position. Young stated that is "false and misleading" and pointed out Mikva's past record shows 16 votes that can only be interpreted as pro-busing or against anti-busing measures.

Young asked the Fair Campaign Practices Committee to investigate Mikva's "irresponsible" charges regarding Young's alleged "abuse" of the "frankling" law.

Mikva had lodged a complaint with the House Commission on Mailing Standards, amended it twice, thus delaying a final resolution of the matter.

The bi-partisan Commission unanimously determined there was "no reasonable justification" for the Mikva complaint.

Real estate facts

[By William B. Sebastian, President, Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors]

Most prospective home buyers are aware that they must agree to carry adequate fire insurance to obtain mortgage financing. Now, under a new federal law, flood insurance also is a prerequisite to obtaining a mortgage loan for property in one of the nation's federally designated flood risk areas.

Special flood insurance has been available nationally on a voluntary basis since 1968. However, with the enactment of the Federal Flood Insurance program in March, such protection now is mandatory for FHA-insured and VA-guaranteed loans on houses located with any flood hazard area. The same requirement applies to most conventional loans.

The broadened program is intended to ensure property owner's awareness of flood hazards, discourage unwise development in flood hazard areas, substitute insurance funds for general tax dollars in applying for flood relief, and to lower insurance rates through flood protection measures and an enlarged pool of risk.

The Federal Insurance Administration in the Department of Housing and Urban Development is currently designating the nation's flood hazard areas. By June 30, they identified 12,000 such areas, leaving an estimated 2,500 for future designation.

Flood insurance is not required for all properties in a community, but only for those homes located within the designated special flood risk area. It is conceivable that the boundaries could divide a street or separate one part of town from another.

For this reason, and because mandatory flood insurance is still so recent a requirement for government-backed loans, each home-seeker owes it to himself to know whether or not he requires this additional protection. All prospective home buyers should determine as soon as they seek financing if special flood insurance is required for the property they are planning to buy. Failure to investigate this point could add unnecessary time before closing the loan.

Realtors and real estate brokers are aware of the Federal Flood Insurance program and can help the prospective home buyer determine whether or not flood insurance is needed.

Niles Jaycees attend General Convention

(by Alice M. Bobula)

"I can't wait," said 27-year-old Nanette J. Mele, the first woman to be posted on the eligibility list for appointment on the Niles Police force.

Nan ranked 7th highest of 12 eligible candidates for patrolmen as posted by the Fire and Police Commission in October of 1973.

She is now second on the list. Of the other five, male, successful applicants, one requested his name be removed from the list and four have already been appointed to fill vacancies on the police force.

Of 41 candidates, 39 men and two women took the competitive examinations for patrolmen in Aug. 1973.

"She has successfully passed the necessary requirements," said Niles Police Chief Clarence Emrikson on Monday. "and when she is at the top of the listing, she will be appointed to the (police) force."

No vacancies exist now, stated the Police Chief, who anticipates three. Two men eligible for retirement have indicated their intention to retire "about May 1st or June 1st" and a third is expected to go on a medical leave, which will create three vacancies.

Following any selection of appointment, said Chief Emrikson, the candidate will go to Recruit School, ranging from 6 to 14 weeks. "We prefer the longer courses because it gives the appointee a more rounded education."

"Nan will receive the same treatment as any candidate interested in police work," stated the Chief. He foresees the possibility of objections from wives of male officers, but predicts that "they'll get used to the idea, just as wives of patrolmen have, in other cities."

The Chief discourages any indication of competition between male and female officers. "They all get paid to perform identical duties."

The Chief commented on the excellence of Miss Mele's background. "She has worked two years in the Social Service Dept. and another year in our (police) records dept. She knows what police work entails and it appears that she has already made up her mind that she likes it. The experience has to help her. She'll have an easier time fitting into the Department, but not any easier than a male counterpart in the same position."

Nan has not changed her mind about becoming a policewoman in her year of waiting. "As it (her appointment) gets closer, I'm getting more anxious," she said.

She attends evening school at Northeastern Illinois University with one semester left to graduate. She believes her degree in psychology will aid her greatly in police work.

The present listing, in force for two years, will expire in Oct. 1975. If she is not selected by that time, the candidate for police-woman will have to take competitive exams again, for a new, 2 year eligibility list rating.

CitizensBank honors Great American Retailers

CitizensBank introduces a unique program this month, saluting the area's small businesspeople.

The program, called the "Great American Retailer," will honor two leading Park Ridge area businesspeople each month. All businesspeople selected will be CitizensBank customers well-known to local residents.

A colorful red-white-and-blue brochure has been created to carry out the Great American Retailer theme. Each month, the brochure will highlight the businesses and personalities of the retailers selected.

Brochures will be mailed to all CitizensBank personal checking account customers, and will also be available in Park Ridge area retail outlets.

This new CitizensBank program has two purposes: the first is to recognize the individual initiative and hours of hard work needed to become a successful businessperson in today's economy.

The program's second purpose is to gain added recognition among local residents for Park Ridge area retailers.

William M. Frew, CitizensBank President, explained how the program came about. "We wanted to do something positive, to let everyone know about the contributions the small businesspeople are making to this country, and to our area in particular."

"It is the small businessperson, whom we call the 'Great American Retailer,' who keeps our American free enterprise system working," Mr. Frew continued.

He cited the constant business adversities the retailer regularly overcomes -- materials, shortages, unpredictable merchandise deliveries, increased competitive pressures, rising costs, and rapidly-changing consumer trends.

Through its new Great American Retailer program, CitizensBank salutes the hard work and individual initiative of its local businesspeople.

The Great American Retailer is another in a continuing series of CitizensBank programs designed to benefit the Park Ridge area businesspeople. These programs carry out the CitizensBank pledge of service, "For people who mean business."

Tips to reduce home heating costs

SUBMITTED BY LEROY PLAZIAK, PRESIDENT OF SKOKIE TRUST & SAVINGS BANK

With the cost of home heating cutting so deeply into our financial resources, it is important to every economy-minded family to stretch its home heating dollars.

By using a few tricks suggested by heating experts you can save 10% to 20% on your monthly bills and still be comfortable this winter. Here are 9 tips from the experts.

1) Attics are generally for storage, but, where heat is concerned, they become escape hatches. Insulate and weatherstrip the door or scuttlehole cover leading to your attic.

2) The fireplace might let Santa in but it lets heat out -- as much as would be wasted through an open window if the damper is open. Make sure your fireplace has a damper and that it is closed when not in use.

3) If you open your bedroom window at night, close the door and see that it fits tightly so the cold air doesn't reach the thermostat.

4) Don't choke off heat by blocking your registers or radiators with furniture or heavy drapes. This may involve some shuffling of furniture but your efforts will reward you with greater comfort.

5) Whenever a room will not be in use, close the radiator or register and shut the inside door. Again, be sure the door fits tightly.

6) If you have a warm air system, it will operate more efficiently if you keep the filters clean. Gently brush them once a month. If you have hot water, open the air vents - carefully - once a month to let any accumulations of air escape.

7) Turn the thermostat down every night. By setting it back 10 degrees, you may save close to 25% on your heating bills.

8) Make sure the insulation in your home is adequate. If you need to install more, it could pay for itself in several years with the money you will save on heat. For instance, three inches of rock wool over the top floor will reduce your heating bill by as much as 30%.

9) Remember that dry air is costly in several ways. It absorbs moisture from the skin at a rapid rate and produces a chilling effect which must be offset by increasing air temperature.

A properly humidified home is as comfortable at 70 degrees as a dry one at 73 degrees.

A.B. Dick celebrates 25 years in Niles

[By Alice M. Bobula]

A. B. Dick Co., 5700 Touhy, celebrated its 25th year in Niles and its 90th anniversary last Oct. 12, in huge circus-type tents erected on the grounds.

A Service Awards dinner for over 500 employees on Friday, and an Open House and buffet luncheon for 7,000 employees, their families and special guests climaxed the anniversary event.

Only those employees with 25 years or more with the Company were guests at the Friday night Service Awards dinner. Guests of honor, marked by 25 years of service, were gifted with engraved watches in appreciation of their length of service with the company.

On Saturday a complete tour of the buildings and grounds was encouraged, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., finalized with a buffet luncheon in huge tents placed on the northeast corner of the grounds. The weather was beautiful.

Customarily, according to Linda Graves, co-ordinator of the celebration, the awards dinner was held, in previous years, in the Grand Ballroom of the Palmer House. "However, in conjunction with the Open House this year," she said, "Mr. Dick decided to hold everything on company grounds."

"When Mr. Dick wants to do something special, he has the tendency to do it first class," observed a company employee.

Large, illuminated candelabra swung from the tops of the balloon decked red and white striped immense tents, where Andy Frain ushers guided guests to the buffet. Chicken, barbecued ribs, vegetables and salads highlighted the luncheon menu completed with cakes baked especially for the occasion. Cost was estimated, unofficially, in six figures.

Total planning for the entire event took approximately two months, said Miss Graves, who has been employed with A. B. Dick for two years. "We knew last February that a celebration was in order, although we were unable to decide on a date. We finally settled down to the planning around the latter part of July."

Originally located at 720 Jackson Blvd., Chicago, the Company had to make way for Chicago's new expressway system. In 1947 the company purchased 122 acres of land in Niles for construction, in October, of a new complex. The complex, built on 50 acres to accommodate 2,700 employees, was dedicated in October of 1949.

The company is listed as a world leader in the manufacture and distribution of duplicating, printing and copying equipment and supplies.

Albert B. Dick, company chairman, holds the admiration of his employees, and endeavors to hold close relationships with as many of them as possible. "We have such infrequent opportunity to invite our employees and their families on the property--particularly for safety reasons. This was a dandy reason to hold a celebration for and with our employees. As the old saying goes, 'if you're going to do it, do it well' ... and I think we did. Everybody pitched in to help. I was immensely pleased with the success of the entire event and by the attendance of our employees."

"We were proud of what we had to show off, now that we are a public company. It was a superb job, well done. Everybody worked hard."

Stock sales of A. B. Dick Co. were opened to the public for the first time in 1972.

'Last of the Red Hot Lovers'

The king of Broadway stage comedy extends his reign to Guild Playhouse in Des Plaines on Nov. 1 when Neil Simon's long-run New York hit, "Last of the Red Hot Lovers", opens a series of six performances.

This ninth winner in Simon's unbroken chain of successes (which includes "Come Blow Your Horn", "Barefoot in the Park", "The Odd Couple", "Plaza Suite" and four others) pokes fun at, and compels sympathy for, the trials and frustrations of a timid owner of a seafood restaurant who fears that after 47 years of deserving good conduct medals, he may be letting some important good things in life pass him by.

Don Schroeder of Arlington Heights will star as Barney Cashman in Des Plaines Theatre Guild's second production of the season. A faithful husband for 23 years, he decides that in the moral climate of his time, he is obliged to undertake a foray into adultery. The least impressive sort of fellow to be the last of the red hot lovers, Barney makes three successive attempts at a fling, and ruefully, comically, discovers he hasn't the heart or

"Sheriffs--
Then And Now...."

Once upon a time in the wild, wild, West, Sheriff's wore 10-gallon hats, tin stars and shot from the hip. And Sheriff's were not always good guys for many were crooks. Like the one, a lean, leather-tough, Texan, named Johnny Ringo, killed outside of a saloon in South Dakota about a hundred years ago. Seems this western sheriff wanted a buck from Ringo for hitching his horse to a hitching post in front of an old saloon and dance hall. This fast-on-the-draw crooked Sheriff was really ahead of his time demanding payment to tie a horse to a hitching post for this was the forerunner to the parking meter. For from the old hitching post did, indeed, spring today's unpopular parking meter.

Ringo shot the bad sheriff between his eyes faster than you can blink your eye.

From then to now, sheriffs have been both good and evil men, mostly, the latter.

In a court of law you can testify to what you have seen and heard or 'what you know of your own knowledge'. And back in the thirties and early forties, I have known of some Cook County sheriffs who were 'on the take' and it was common knowledge that back in those days, the sheriff's office was worth about five grand a week if certain gaming coin-operated machines and other nefarious activities were permitted to run by the 'boys' thruout Cook County.

I know because I sold a great many of these gambling machines, including slots and token payout ones. When the 'fix' was in, the machines spun their star wheels merrily and when the 'heat' was on they'd disappear for a few days and reappear again like magic--the magic of the payoff.

And again speaking from my own knowledge, felons and hoods became, in those old days, deputy sheriffs, so they could legally pack a rod. There were even members of the Cook County Sheriff's police with criminal records. I knew several. One owned a joint in Lyons, replete with B-broads. He could be hired for head-busting jobs and even worse, yet one day, lo and behold, he wound up a member of the County police. And there were others whom I knew too.

But things in the sheriff's office have changed, for the BETTER. Ogilvie was an improvement but our present Sheriff RICHARD J. ELROD is the BEST, in my humble, but knowledgeable opinion, in the long history of this office.

His new, young police officers are intelligent and a different breed of cat from many of the former "bums" who, thru political 'pull' wangled a job on the sheriff's police.

Recently my car 'conked' out of Ballard rd. and Cumberland (or did it?). A Sheriff's Police squad came by and stopped. The young county cop pushed my car off the road and at my request drove me back to Bugle newspapers. On arriving I tried to pay him a few dollars for his trouble.

"No, thank you sir, we're glad to be of service and we do not accept gratuities." In the old days my arm might have been wrenched from its socket by the cop's eagerness to grab the loot.

RICHARD J. ELROD has cleaned up the Sheriff's office, both literally and figuratively.

Four years ago The Sheriff's Police building on Milwaukee ave. here in Niles was dirty and dingy. Now four years later I again had occasion to visit this building and it's appearance inside is neat and clean. There is a new professionalism, a new dedication upon the part of those who make up its compliment of police officers which one did not see or 'feel' a few years ago.

As Sheriff of Cook County, RICHARD J. ELROD wears five hats. His primary police function is providing protection for some 162,000 persons who live in the 256 square miles of unincorporated Cook County. The Sheriff's police also provides back up and investigative services for the 123 municipalities in suburban Cook County.

Sheriff Elrod also has charge of the Cook County Department of Corrections, a large penal complex which has a daily inmate population of from 3500 to 3800. The Sheriff is the working arm of the Circuit Court of Cook County thru the Sheriff's Court Service Division. Under law, the Sheriff also serves as custodian of the County Bldg., and Criminal Courts Bldg.

Of the many innovative programs which Sheriff Elrod initiated when he took office, one was the creation of a new division, THE YOUTH SERVICES DEPT. This innovative program is designed to keep young people out of the criminal justice system by counseling. This is based upon crime prevention rather than criminal apprehension-PREVENTING a crime before the fact rather than solving it after the fact. It has been very successful as a deterrent to future serious crimes.

And no longer can any guy with political pull become a deputy sheriff. For the first time in the long history of this office, deputy sheriffs, who are not police or correctional officers are given professional, in-service training to fully equip them for their duties.

The crime curve in the Sheriff's Office since Elrod took over shows SOLUTIONS of major crimes to be up. Nearly half of the serious crimes, such as murder, manslaughter, rape, robbery, assaults, larceny, burglary, narcotics, and auto theft, investigated by Cook County Police were solved. And this is a trend in the right direction and will continue if Elrod continues to be YOUR Sheriff.

Space does not permit mention of all of the creative programs to better the Cook County Police he instituted, but one was his formation of the Investigative Support Unit started in July 1973.

12 experienced police officers in the Investigative Support Unit are assigned full time to five west suburban police depts., for investigative purposes thru cooperative arrangements with those depts. Since its inception, the unit has been well received by participating depts., Chief Dobbs stated, and has resulted in a better exchange of information because of a common intelligence network connecting the various agencies.

To sum up, SHERIFF ELROD is a clean man, and although they are of different political beliefs, he is somewhat like President Jerry Ford, who is also Mr. Clean, and that's no bull.

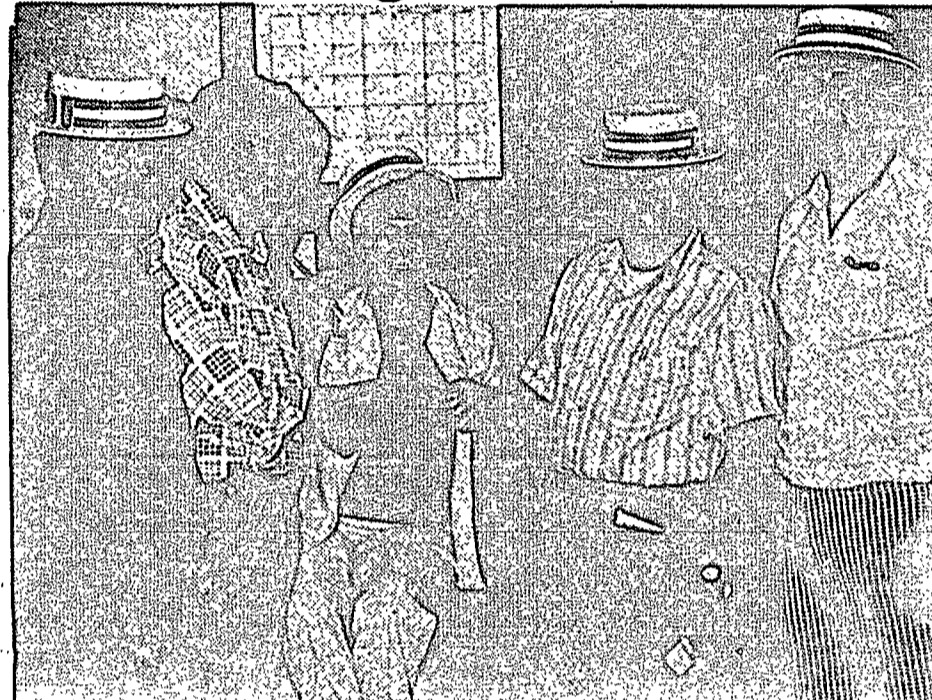

Elrod has been a working sheriff and he has the record to prove it! He deserves to be reelected so that he can continue the fine progress he has achieved.

I'm going to vote for him--and I'm more Republican than even Barry Goldwater, whom some people tell me I resemble.

Yep, I think SHERIFF ELROD has been as good for Cook County as MAYOR NICK BLASE has been good for the Village of Niles.

three prongs, each representing a unit housed at the Center, of the Teen Center, Senior Citizens and Niles Family Service.

Sokolowski, away on vacation at the time of the announcement, could not accept his award of a $100 Savings Bond. Several of the names submitted were duplications, such as the All-American Center, said one of the judges and many entries requested that the building be named for specific individuals. The winning title, said Committee Chairman Bob Goldberg, was the unanimous selection of the judges which included senior citizen Al Martin and Mrs. Helen Skaja.

In other action, village trustees undertook an informal, preliminary discussion of a community animal control ordinance for Niles with guidelines suggested by Cook County.

The County ordinance which covers licensing of all animals on an equal basis, was suggested last July and brought back into sharp focus through a recent news article concerning a five month old kitten which bit or scratched several members of the same family. The black, male kitten, which originally came from Barrington, Ill., was destroyed after becoming ill. Tests made by the Cook County Rabies Control Department proved positive. The mother and two children are receiving rabies shots at Lutheran General Hospital.

In discussion, Mayor Blase reminded trustees that the original reason for licensing dogs was because of their ferocity, an ordinance created by pressure from citizenry. Trustee Peck commended the proposed ordinance "because it is much better than the one we are now using." Trustee Bast, a cat owner, believes cats do not present the same problems as a dog, therefore should not be subject to licensing. According to Village Manager Kenneth Scheel, the new ordinance is proposed for control of the animal population.

Trustees approved re-zoning at 3101 Maynard from R1 to R1 with variations and subdivisions. . . . Approved a re-zoning at 9351 Knight from R1 to R2.

Approved re-zoning at 8652 Sunset Road, from R2 to R2 with variation and resubdivision only under conditions as set by the Niles Plan Commission.

Approved petition by Anthony Riggio for re-zoning of property from B1 to B1 Special Use to remodel and expand the present building.

Proclaimed Oct. 27 to Nov. 2 as American Education Week; Nov. 11 to 17 as National Youth Appreciation Week; the Month of October as PTA Month; and the month of November as National Ice Skating Month.

"Looking in on Lincolnwood"

Troop 74

Lincolnwood Boy Scouts and fathers left the American Legion last Friday for the start of Galapagos Camporee. 28 Scouts and 8 fathers joined in helping to make it a big success. They entered into each event of the field such as the Moonwalk (where stilts are used and the boys have to walk on them). There were 15 events and so many points for each event. Lincolnwood received their awards for each event. Cooking was done by the fathers led by Jerry Cohan, Assistant Scoutmaster, and Steve Muth. Tents were arranged by Scoutmaster Fred Hossfeld. Tent setters with the boys were Norm Snitovsky, Shelly Klinsky, Norm Kremen, Committee Chairman, Arnie Horwitz, Assistant Scoutmaster, Ray Gilbert.

The boys said they can't wait until the next hike or camporee. There are still (4) openings for any boys who are 11 and up and interested in scouting.

OCC Board. . .

the action to seek committee recommendation for the program.

Teacher Jim Kallas, who heads the mechanics program, was in the role of a Pied Piper Tuesday. After pleading for an hour with the Board to improve the program and facilities at the previous meeting, he walked out of Tuesday's meeting in disgust, with his students following in his wake. One student said Kallas told the students to go back to the meeting and demand action, several minutes after the discussion terminated. While the Board was discussing other school matters, the students and several parents returned to the meeting room, interrupted the ongoing meeting, ricocheting 4 letter words around the room. A mother of one of the students spit out the most graphic four letter word, while another of the enraged parents shouted "Hitler" and used a scatological term describing a bodily function as a derogation upon the Board. It stimulated a bit of free flow four letter forensics from one of the students, who suddenly became unharassed.

The request of the students and parents is for a "on hands" lab program which will equip the students to handle their apprentice jobs in dealerships. Some students complained their present work at auto dealers is limited to unskilled grease jobs. Their contention is theoretical book work at the college is insufficient to prepare them for their apprentice roles.

Many of the students are older than most junior college students. Several said they love auto mechanics work but are deterred from fulfilling their ambitions by this lack of practical "on hands" work at the school.

Board members Steve Loska and Tom Flynn led the fight for the immediate approval of the lab program, supported by 3rd member, Mrs. Ritter. But the procedural need to first go to committee in order not to offend the state board, which approves the program, resulted in remaining 3 members opposition votes. The 7th board member, Paul Gilson, was absent from the meeting.

The Mulcrone also have an 18-month-old girl, Mollie Colleen, who waited for a hospital delivery.

The mother was already in process of delivery upon our arrival, said Niles paramedic Richard Pickup, who has two children of his own. Three other firemen, Lt. Gerald Himmeler and F/ Terrence Salm and Sheldon Mikkelsen aided Pickup, who was in radio contact with a nurse at Lutheran General during the delivery.

This was the paramedic's 4th delivery this year, for the Fire dept., he said, "although the other three babies didn't wait." Another, totaling five N.F.D. obstetrical calls from Niles, was also in process of delivery, by another paramedic earlier this year.

"It was a unique experience," said father Brian, who decided to call the fire dept. for aid Tuesday morning. "The credit all goes to the paramedic and the Niles firemen...there was a lot of excitement," he said, "but those men were very serious, altho humorous, as they did what was necessary."

"In act," said the grateful Niles father, who comforted his wife during the delivery, "If the Fire Department went over their budget this year they can well afford it."

These same authors will be in the "Authors Corner" of the PTA Book Fair the following week, Nov. 7 thru 9, to meet those attending and to autograph books for purchasers.

CREATIVE WRITING CLASS The Beginner's Creative Writing Class at the Morton Grove Public Library still has openings for children in grades 4, 5, 6 and 7. The class meets on Tuesdays from 4 to 5 p.m., and encourages fun in writing.

The country seems to be sliding back into its old comfortable ways, despite the endless trauma around us. Down at Champaign the past weekend we were told about 1,400 girls were rushing sororities this year. After several declining years, in which fraternities and sororities were closing with great frequency, suddenly the old days seem to be returning. The calm establishment days on campus are returning, and firebrands of the late sixties are but ghosts of the past. Obviously, if the younger sororities are returning to the raucous coat days then their parents' generation must be even less aroused.

I wonder what it takes to stimulate the citizenry. Since few of us really remember the depths of the depression, I don't believe the spectre of those days would really move the troops. And if a war was on our doorstep I imagine most of us would obediently pack up our bags and report to our local boards, if we received a missile from Uncle Sam. Probably, most of us older guys would balk in the complicity of being asked to join up again. So, what then would move us to action? If the sewers backed up and flooded our recreation rooms we'd be moved. And if the local politicians suggested a low income public housing project was to be built near us, we'd knock the doors down at the local village halls. And if the powers to be decided to bus our kids, it would be no big deal, since they've been bussed for years. But bus them away from home, and bring outsiders inside, and they'd have to rent Soldier Field to house the complainants bellowing at their public men.

Since these highly emotional issues would move us why can't some of this same emotion be transferred into our working for the candidates of our choice?

You've still 11 days to invest in America, in the most productive way we know. Pick up the phone and call your local candidate and get involved. The country you save may be your own.

Niles firemen deliver baby boy

[by Alice M. Bobula]

Niles firemen delivered a baby boy, Peter Brian, 7 lbs. 13 oz., born at 3:17 a.m. Tues., Oct. 22, to Mrs. Mary Mulcrone at 9038 Cumberland.

"He was a big surprise," said Mrs. Mulcrone cheerfully, Tues. morning at Lutheran General Hospital. "The labor pains were so different this time, I couldn't believe they were labor pains... and I hesitated too long."

The Mulcrone also have an 18-month-old girl, Mollie Colleen, who waited for a hospital delivery.

This was the paramedic's 4th delivery this year, for the Fire dept., he said, "although the other three babies didn't wait." Another, totaling five N.F.D. obstetrical calls from Niles, was also in process of delivery, by another paramedic earlier this year.

"It was a unique experience," said father Brian, who decided to call the fire dept. for aid Tuesday morning. "The credit all goes to the paramedic and the Niles firemen...there was a lot of excitement," he said, "but those men were very serious, altho humorous, as they did what was necessary."

"In act," said the grateful Niles father, who comforted his wife during the delivery, "If the Fire Department went over their budget this year they can well afford it."

over it again, with my blessing!" Informed it was the Niles Fire Department's fifth delivery he replied, "It was the first one for the Mulcrones!"

Baby and mother are doing well, said the father, who commented that he was a former news delivery boy for the Bugle. "receiving my first paycheck" from owner-publisher Dave Bes-ser.

MG Health plan.

He explained that for medical bills of $3,000 and more, the village would pay the first $500, the employee pays $500, and the insurance company pays the remainder. "And that is as high as it will get for the individual, no matter what the bill is. Anything over $3,000 is 100% covered," he said.

Because of the $500 deductible, the premium paid by the village would drop from $58,000 to $38,000. "The premium would have gone up with the old plan," Huber said.

Approximately 100 village employees and their families would be covered under the plan.

Seminar experts see good news and bad news in 1975

Area businessmen today heard a "good news" and "bad news" report on the current business outlook and the 1975 economy at a special business seminar sponsored by the Golf Mill State Bank at Navarone Restaurant, Elk Grove Village.

Bank president Robert A. Sharpe, chairman of the meeting, said he felt some of the "good news" might be some of excellent buys the stock market presently offers while the "bad news" is a projected $4.5 trillion of capital needed over the next 12 years to keep American business healthy.

Noted broadcaster-commentator Larry Butler of Television News, Inc. said inflation could be bridled successfully. To do this, he said the three basic areas of "cause must be seriously attacked with thoughtful programs."

He listed these as 1) Monetary policy, 2) Fiscal spending by the government and 3) Special factors such as the recent oil embargo, droughts in the Midwest, etc.

On the negative side, Butler said that federal government spending continues to go along at record rates and that "interest on the national debt is costing taxpayers $50,000 a minute of each and every day." He cited several "wasteful government-funded programs such as a $375,000 study on 'How Frisbies

Fly" a unproductive use of taxpayer monies" and withheld his support of President Ford's surtax plan since the government "is irresponsibly handling our present tax dollars."

George Cloos, vice president and economist for the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago was positive about the economy saying he didn't think "the country was going to pieces. He feels the U.S. "has already been buffeted by those forces which would have been critical several years ago."

In the bad news department, Cloos said the Federal Reserve Bank's power to control inflation "is very limited" and warned that "close controls can sometimes work very badly," rather than truly solve the inflationary situation.

Michael Shanks, district manager for the Ford Motor Company reported his company's official position on the 1975 outlook is "reasonably optimistic." He cited the record-breaking month of Sept. for car sales as one of several good signs on the horizon that "could make the year not as bad as many people are saying."

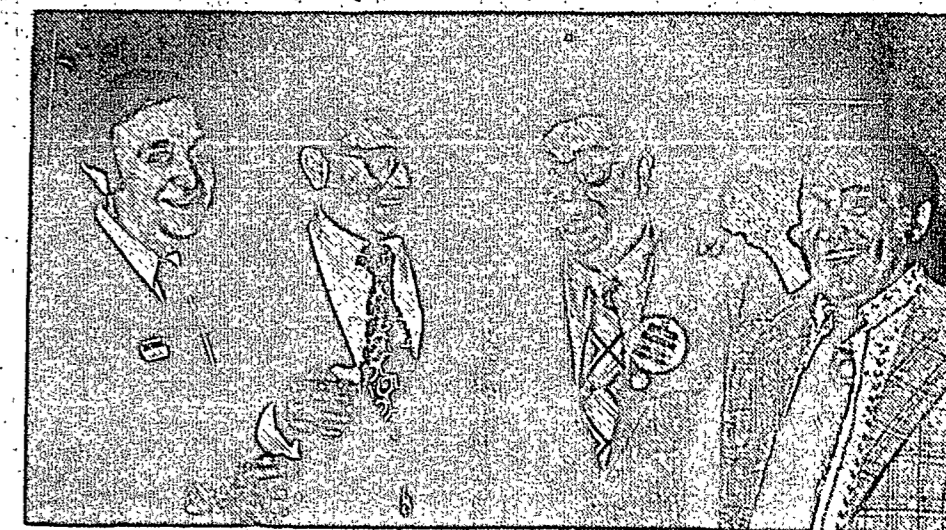

Ford's projection for 1975 is 500,000 car units better than the 1974 projections. Shank's company anticipates an 8% inflationary rate by the end of 1975 as against a 1974 12% inflationary rate. Shanks urged businessmen to help in the motor industry's need for relief on further safety and air pollution devices required on car models of 1976, 1977, and 1978. He said if requirements are not temporarily lifted, it will be necessary to increase automobile prices another $750 per unit. This could add to the nation's inflation problems. Adherence to new laws would mean Ford Motor Company must put up over $1 billion of fixed investments by that time. Such a commitment could hamper Ford's earnings and dividends performance as well as for other car manufacturers in the U.S., said Shanks.

Attendees at the seminar viewed a display of early machine tools dating from the late nineteenth century. The display was made available through Armin Engelhardt of Engelhardt Gear Company.

Sole celebration honors Norm Dachman

Sharing one of the evening's many warm and happy moments are (l-r): Aaron Jaffe, 4th District incumbent State Representative candidate; Calvin Suther, Niles Township Democratic Committeeman; Norman Dachman, Candidate to the Cook County Board of Commissioners; and Tony Scipioni, Niles resident.

The occasion was the Sole Celebration to honor Norman Dachman on the completion of his seven-week walk for representative government throughout suburban Cook County, an unprecedented move for either County Board members or candidates to the Cook County Board. Several hundred guests which included public officials and candidates for election Nov. 5 heard Dachman relate some of the concerns voiced by the more than 15,000 suburban residents he met and spoke to in suburban Cook's 127 municipalities.

Dachman has called for Cook County Commissioners to be elected from single member districts to provide greater representation to constituents; decentralization of county government and the continued support of mini-centers in the suburbs for the convenience of suburban taxpayers; his continued opposition to the County Home Rule Commission's recommendation for a county income tax.
