10th District election Tuesday

Voters in the 10th Congressional District will trek to the polls next Tuesday for the second time in 6 weeks to select a new Congressman. The victor of this special election will fill the vacancy created by the appointment of former 10th District Congressman Abner J. Mikva to the United States Circuit Court.

In Tuesday's special election Republican John Porter, who lost a close race against Mikva in his last congressional bid in November, 1978, is vying for the 10th District seat against Democrat Robert Weinberger.

Porter, 44, is an Evanston attorney and former 1st District state representative. Weinberger, 35, also an attorney with offices in Glenview, resigned as a Commerce Department aide to run for Congress.

Both candidates who have conducted a low-key campaign since the Dec. 11 primary met last Wednesday, Jan. 9 in a debate at New Trier West High School in Northfield. The debate was sponsored by the League of Women Voters of the 10th District. Approximately 400 persons attended the only debate of the campaign which sparked little friction between the two candidates.

by David (Bud) Besser

We got a bunch of "zonker" letters this week. We got a zonker from an anonymous letter-writer who took apart Keith Peck, director of Public Services in Niles. The anonymous zonker was angry because she contended Keith forced Ed Bacher out of his job as head of the Public Works Department. The letter-writer, a she-zonker, increased the amperage as the letter progressed, winding it up by reminding Keith he should stay away from Ed's upcoming retirement dinner. The lady-zonker signed her letter, "A Fan of Eddie Bacher".

The zonker should know Ed's retirement came about because he is approaching the retirement age. A management study, paid for by the village, recommended an upgrading of the chain of command at the Public Works Department. Because of its ever-increasing size, the department has been divided into 3 divisions - engineering, public works and transportation, with a superintendent over each. Peck, a professional engineer, now heads all these departments.

Both Ed and Keith are among God's better children. There is no resident in Niles history who has done more for the village than Ed. But time marches on. Niles is moving into a new decade with new people and new ideas. Ed has given his

by Diane Miller

No one, but no one, was more surprised than Adele Lyczak, 8211 N. Ozanam, Niles, as she sat in her business office last Monday morning and heard her name announced on the "Wally Phillips Show" as the first prize winner.

Mrs. Lyczak, a resident of Niles since 1972, told The Bugle she had gone to the office of Chicago builder Louis Munao where she has been a secretary-bookkeeper for the past 14 years and turned on the radio to WGN which is her custom. Phillips, who conducts the Neediest Children's Fund Drive each year through his radio program, also receives donations of hundreds of prizes from businessmen to be used as an inducement for contributions. The fund drive usually culminates the first week in

For the sixth straight year these young men have waited during the early morning hours to be first to purchase the new sticker. Assisting Clerk Wagner is his eight year old son Frankie, who seems to have aspirations of taking over his father's job!

Clerk Wagner is reminding all Niles residents that the 1980 vehicle and animal licenses must be displayed by midnight January 31, 1980. Failure to display these necessary licenses could result in a summons from the Niles Police Department. All purchases of vehicle and animal tags must be made with the pre-printed application that was mailed to all residents some weeks ago. In the event you no longer own the described vehicle on your pre-printed application, please return the application indicating the disposition of the vehicle.

Vehicle tags for all passenger cars are $10 each and must be affixed to the lower right hand corner (passenger side) of the windshield of the car. Animal tags, all dogs, cats and other household animals are $2 each and must be worn on the animal's collar. If you need additional information regarding these licenses, please call the village administration building at 967-6100.

'Freeze' over for handicapped at Maine East

The "freeze" is off permanently for the considerable number of physically handicapped students who attend Maine East High School.

On Jan. 14, the Office of Hearing and Appeals, Central Regional Center, Department of Energy, granted a permanent exception to the order requiring maximum winter temperatures of 65 degrees in five classrooms utilized by the handicapped students in Center Court, Maine Township High School District 207's Special Education facility located in Maine East.

The temperature in the five classrooms will now be maintained at 72 degrees. Actually, the temperatures in the classrooms have been at the 72 degree level for the past 20 days as a result of a temporary stay of the 65 degree edict by the energy department.

The temporary stay was granted following the filing of an application by District 207 of an exception from the 65 degree regulation with the Department of Energy. Parents of handicapped students had complained to school district officials about the medical risk of continued lower temperatures on their children.

"Because this is a federal energy regulation governing all secondary schools we had to apply to the Department of Energy for an exception to the 65 degree heating restriction," advised Donald Stillwaugh, Coordinator of Purchasing and Facilities for District 207. "We presented the Department of Energy with several medical opinions that the absence of relief could result in serious health risks for the students."

"We explained that Center Court houses a considerable number of physically handicapped students, who are limited to wheelchairs, and that these students are highly susceptible to respiratory infections. It was also documented that low room temperatures have an adverse effect on muscular activity and general motor performance, of particular concern to students with muscular dystrophy and cerebral palsy," Stillwaugh said.

The temporary stay order ended Jan. 11. Stillwaugh said, "We congratulate the Department of Energy for acting so judiciously on this important matter."

Stillwaugh noted that the rest of Maine East High School, Maine West, Maine South, and Maine North High Schools and the District 207 Ralph Frost Administration Center are all complying with the 65 degree temperature regulation.

He said that he is very satisfied with the cooperation of school district administration, faculty and students in complying with the federal energy regulation. He added that he knows "first hand" that the administration center is in compliance with the regulation because of the number of complaints he personally receives about the cold.

Olympics 1984???

Pat is now skating in Oslo, Norway-Davos, Switzerland, and will skate in the Junior World Meet in Assen, Holland, on January 26 and 27. He will be back in time to watch the World Sprint Team meet in West Allis, Wisconsin, Feb. 9-10 with 17 nations competing. Good Luck in 1984 Pat.

LGH program for women and their families

"Women, Wives, Mothers" will be the topic of a public program at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 29 in Olson Auditorium, Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge. Sandra Coorrough and Carole Elstien, both certified social workers at the hospital, will be the speakers. They will discuss the changing role of the family in the 80's and how women can prepare themselves and their families for these changes.

"The present definition of the family, two parents and two children, doesn't hold true for 93 per cent of the families in this country," Coorrough explains. "It will be necessary to re-define the term family often because it is hard to keep such definitions current."

A family doesn't necessarily have to include relatives by "blood" or "marriage." Elstien believes it is possible for a woman to create her own family through friends and neighbors. "It is important that a woman understand her own life's expectations and that her family understand them as well. The entire family could benefit from this type of discussion program," she says.

Coorrough received a Masters degree in science and social administration from Case Western Reserve University, Cleveland, in 1970. She has been associated with Lutheran General for three years.

Elstien graduated from the University of Chicago in 1970 and has been associated with Lutheran General for nearly nine years. This program is offered free of charge. It is the second in a series of four lectures entitled, "The Family in the 80's" and sponsored by the Division of Social Work at Lutheran General. For more information phone the hospital at 696-5475.

If your caller has a hangup,
just hang up.

That's the only way to discourage anyone who's abusive, harassing or obscene. After all, it takes two to make a conversation. If your caller remains silent for a while, just hang up. If your caller makes an obscene or suggestive remark, just hang up.

If you get anonymous nuisance calls designed to irritate you, never volunteer information. If your caller asks you who you are, don't say. If you're asked something confidential, don't tell. Try instead to find out who the caller is. If you can't, just hang up.

If you're bothered by excessive sales or survey calls, don't feel obligated to answer questions just because the caller sounds "official." Always find out the name of the person calling and the company represented. If you're not interested, say so. If your caller is insistent, just hang up.

If you keep hanging up and a persistent caller still doesn't get the message, just call your Centel Service Representative. We'll do our best to help.

Kidsplace to open afterschool program

Joanne S., a Morton Grove resident, is a single parent working at a 9-5 job in Chicago and caring for her two school-age children, Kelly, 7, and Alex, 9. At the end of the school day Kelly and Alex go home, prepare a snack for themselves and sit in front of the TV until their Mom arrives home from work. At this point Joanne sees no alternative but to leave her children alone for those afterschool hours until her workday has ended.

There is an alternative for Joanne and other working parents of school-age children. On Monday, Jan. 21, the Young Men's Jewish Council will open the doors to Kidsplace, a nonsectarian afterschool day care program for children such as Kelly and Alex. Kidsplace, for children, 5 to 9 years old, will be housed at Mark Twain School in Des Plaines.

This afterschool day care center was developed as a result of canvassing families in the communities of Des Plaines, Glenview, Morton Grove, and Skokie. It was discovered that many children in these areas come from homes where both parents or single parents are employed. Throughout the week of Jan. 21 from 3:15 to 6 p.m. families are extended an open house invitation to take a look at Kidsplace and meet with Corky Wiczer, head teacher, to discuss the center's program.

Kidsplace is open five days a week, Monday thru Friday.

"Sensitivity: The Key to Better Communication"

Have you become concerned about your "communication gap" with your wife, husband, son or daughter?

Are you even aware of a breakdown in communication? Do you feel cut off, shut off verbally, physically, emotionally, socially or spiritually?

Have you taken time to appraise your situation, your possible marital or parent-child conflict by really trying to see, hear and understand your communication or the lack of it?

Before you even can do anything about your "communication gap" you have to be aware that it exists. Then and only then can you begin to do anything about it in a conscious way to try to increase meaningful communication in your marriage and family.

For example: Your child is talking with you, trying to communicate his thoughts, anxieties, concerns and feelings. You might respond positively later, but right now you say, "Johnny, can't you see I'm busy?" (Unfortunately, later rarely comes until there is a crisis to get your undivided attention.)

Or, you respond while reading the newspaper or watching TV, or listening to the radio, or while you are cooking or cleaning or tinkering with the car or lawnmower — without giving your full attention to your child or spouse. By so doing, you put your child or spouse off, by not really listening and responding to them when they are trying to communicate with you. It has been said that Listening is Loving.

What does not listening do to those you love? Maybe you are giving them the impression that they can't really communicate or share anything with you because you are too preoccupied with something else more important.

How many times do we sit down and really talk, really communicate with our children or spouse? It's easy to get absorbed and busy and deal with our loved ones on a superficial level, ignoring their real needs to communicate with us.

We aren't always able to sit down and to give our undivided attention to our child or spouse and most of the time they can understand and accept this. But try to see if what they want to share with you is urgent. Maybe they have been trying to build up nerve for hours, days or even weeks to approach you. If you cut them off, cold, then it may be very difficult for them to bring it up again to you.

The key is sensitivity. In other words, really listening. You can hear the way your child or spouse talks if it is difficult for them. Really look at them and you can usually see if they are in anguish about what they are trying to share.

Be understanding of their feelings and you can tell how troubled, anxious and upset they might be. Otherwise, you may "blow it" in terms of your opportunity to help your child or spouse better handle their problems.

As a young lady who was on drugs told me, "I tried to let mom know I was on drugs, but when I mentioned I had tried marijuana, she went into hysterics and started crying." She never mentioned it again to her mother until two years later, when she felt she was almost dying from some drugs she had taken. Then and only then did she once again reach out for her mother.

Do you see yourself mirrored above? If we are honest, I am sure most of us see ourselves shutting off communication with our loved ones and thereby helping to create a "communication gap". Notice I said, helping to create, not totally causing, because many times our children or spouses also help to bring about this communication gap.

How? A child or spouse, too, can become too busy, not take the time, not really try to listen to you, think they know it all, and sometimes be downright disrespectful.

Nevertheless, when a concerted effort is made by at least one of the family members to open up lines of communication, you do begin to communicate better.

When any of us feel cut off, we don't like it, because we feel that we are not loved, appreciated, wanted, or that we really belong. Who doesn't want to feel loved, wanted, that they belong? You? Your husband? Wife? Son or daughter?

Once lines of communication are restored, it goes a long way to help both of you feel that you truly are important and appreciated. Then, instead of tearing down your child or spouse, or being defensive, you begin to be more open, receptive, and try to build up your husband or wife, son or daughter, and they in turn respond positively most of the time to you.

It isn't easy, but it is worth the effort because the rewards are great. Being a sensitive and conscientious spouse, parent, son or daughter takes a lot of hard work. How much are you putting into it to have meaningful communication in your family? Remember, "Listening is Loving."

Next subject we will discuss in greater detail are ways to increase meaningful communication in marriage.

Niles Library features doll collection

An exhibit at the Niles Public Library, 6960 Oakton, in the case near the children's room, features the doll collection of 2 Niles girls.

Joan and Mary Jane Marusek were so fond of the old Storybook dolls which belonged to their mother that they began to acquire similar dolls of their own. Their display includes about 30 dolls, new and antique, in addition to the Storybook and Amish family dolls which belonged to their mother.

Joan, 7 years old, lists a sailor doll, given as a souvenir on an ocean liner, as her favorite. Mr. and Mrs. Claus and Uncle Sam also belong to her, along with the newest members of her collection her "Wizard of Oz" dolls which were a Christmas present this year. The only member of the Oz group not at the library is Glenview, the Good Witch, who is at home playing with some of Joan's other dolls which didn't make the exhibit — a gypsy, a bread dough farmer doll, and a Mexican girl.

But the Bad Witch, complete with green color and a broomstick, and Dorothy, Toto, the Scarecrow, Lion and Tin Man are all at the library.

Mary Jane owns most of the foreign dolls, some given to her by relatives who traveled to other countries. She has dolls from Scotland, Venezuela, Canada, Poland, Greece and the Scandinavian countries. One of the most beautiful is a Japanese doll made by victims of the atomic bomb at Hiroshima.

Judging from the reaction of children who have played with them over the years, the dolls, in spite of their variety, mean just one thing to children — a chance to use their imagination and create a fantasy world of little characters.

WILL BURYING NUCLEAR WASTE BURY US ALL?

It's enough to strike fear in anyone's heart. Nuclear waste, by-product of every reactor in the world, radioactive for tens of thousands of years, lying there like some malevolent genie in a bottle waiting to be let loose.

That's what the future of commercial nuclear power hinges on. What do we do with the waste? Where on earth is it safe? Can burying it really keep it from coming back to kill us?

No matter what you've heard, there are answers. Solutions exist. Now.

One is reprocessing. Dissolving spent fuel rods in a strong acid, then separating out the plutonium and leftover uranium for reuse. It leaves just four percent of the total to bury. And in six hundred years, that four percent won't contain any more radioactivity than all the uranium ore mined to make the fuel in the first place.

Now, if six hundred years still sounds like an eternity, consider the process called vitrification. In plain English, that means immobilizing the waste. Actually turning it into a piece of solid glass. Inert, chemically stable glass, enclosed in a steel jacket an inch thick and buried.

Really buried. A good two thousand feet down in a bone-dry salt bed or granite formation whose very existence means it hasn't been disturbed by groundwater or an earthquake in at least ten million years. And in all probability, won't be for millions more.

But what if? If there were a quake. If the shifting earth drowned the site in a river of water. If the steel jacket ripped apart. If the glass inside were exposed to the current for ages to come. If somehow, in some inexplicable way, though glass is highly insoluble in water, it still managed to dissolve. And the water, though separated from the surface by two thousand feet of rock and soil, still managed to find a way up.

If all that happened, against all odds, the very volume of water would dilute the dissolved waste even further. And the slow flow (groundwater travels less than a hundred yards a year) would give the radioactivity remaining more than enough time to decay to about the same level as the background radiation we're exposed to all the time.

None of that is a pipedream. It's fact. Documented fact. Spelled out again and again in countless government reports and independent studies. Proven again and again in exhaustive tests and pilot projects (in England, France, Germany, Sweden and Canada, as well as Kansas, Nevada and Washington State). And almost universally accepted by the scientific and technical community world-wide.

What's more, there are literally thousands of square miles of salt beds and granite formations under America, and only a few square miles could easily hold every ounce of high-level waste generated by all our nuclear power plants put together. Not to mention the eighty million gallons stored up in the thirty-five years our country has been making atomic weapons.

The only problem we haven't solved yet is how to get the show on the road. We can't reprocess because the government won't okay it. Despite the knowledge that every pound of plutonium we salvage not only leaves one less to bury, but also can produce as much energy as seven hundred fifty tons of coal or one hundred thirty thousand gallons of oil.

And we can't bury what we've already got, even though doing it safely doesn't depend on reprocessing, because Congress gave the government a monopoly on permanent storage back in 1970. And despite the weight of affirmative evidence, it hasn't acted yet.

The problem is, if all seventy-two nuclear power plants in the United States vanished tomorrow, nuclear waste wouldn't. There's still a lot sitting around, and less than one percent of it is from power plants. Remember, years of nuclear weapons production have amassed eighty million gallons, and there's more coming.

Isn't it time we laid the problem to rest?

Traffic Safety Slogan Contest

It is that time of the year when teen-agers' thoughts turn seriously to traffic safety as the Chicago public and parochial high school students compete in the annual Traffic Safety Slogan Contest. The competition, being held for the 31st consecutive year, is sponsored by the Chicago Bureau of Street Traffic and the Chicago Auto Show.

Off the previous record, more than 20,000 entries are expected as the students vie for prizes totaling $700 in U.S. Savings Bonds. First prize in each public and parochial division is a $200 Bond; second prize a $100 Bond, and third a $50 Bond as well as complimentary tickets to the Auto Show to be held February 23 through March 2 in McCormick Place. Twelve runners-up in each division will receive ball point pens and also Auto Show tickets.

Students are asked to submit traffic safety slogans of ten words or less. They do not have to rhyme. Neatness, legibility and originality of thought will be the judging factors. A panel of traffic officials, educators and automotive writers will select the winners after the contest closes at midnight Jan. 31.

Mayor Jane M. Byrne has proclaimed the period of the Auto Show as "Traffic Safety Days in Chicago." Prizes will be awarded in a special ceremony in her City Hall office. The Chicago Public Schools and the Catholic School Boards are cooperating in this effort to impress teen-agers with the importance of traffic safety.

More about ...

Betty Coed's date with destiny

by Ed Hanson

Death Date (A very ancient fable)

Once upon a time, a merchant in Bagdad sent his servant to the market to buy provisions. Soon the servant returned, pale and trembling, saying, "Master, when I was in the market place I was jostled by a woman in the crowd. When I turned and gazed upon her face, I realized it was Death that jostled me. She stared at me and made a threatening gesture. Please, kind sir, lend me your horse. I will ride away from this city and avoid my fate. I will go to Samarra and there Death will not find me." The merchant lent him his horse. The servant mounted, dug his spurs in its flanks, and swiftly galloped away towards Samarra. The merchant then went to the market place. He saw me standing in the crowd and he said, "Why did you make a threatening gesture to my servant in the market place?" "That was not a threatening gesture," I said. "It was only a 'start of surprise' and an expression of disbelief. You see, sir, I was astonished to see him in Bagdad, for I had an appointment with him tonight in Samarra."

Isn't it a beautiful night, daddy? So bright. Look, the moon is almost full."

Her father, George Quinn, told me last Saturday those were the exact words — the last words — uttered to him by his daughter, Betty, the pretty Coed from the University of Southern Illinois, who was "wasted" on Dec. 31, 1979.

He was standing with the front door ajar (as he always did) when any of his five children left his home at 3617 W. Armitage, Chicago. He waited watchfully, as did the two German Shepherd dogs by his side who whimpered softly and sadly.

When the Pontiac Station Wagon eased out of the driveway, he closed, bolted, the door and flipped off the porch light. His only worry was the gas. The Pontiac's gas gauge indicator wavered between low and empty. He had warned his daughter Betty to get gas. Slowly his worry withdrew because he knew his daughter. She had always been obedient, resourceful and intelligent.

And then Betty Coed drove off into the bright moonlight to meet her best friend, Eileen Kampwirth, a nurse's assistant in a large northwest-side hospital. She worked in the emergency room and would not be off duty until midnight, which some say is the witching hour.

And later Betty did as the servant did in the ancient fable. She came to the market, for she parked her car in the parking lot of the Jewel Food Store in the 5800 block of N. Milwaukee ave., Chicago.

And it came to pass, that she could not change her destiny nor avoid her fate, any more than the servant of ancient Bagdad could in the world's oldest fable. In the world's oldest fable, Kismet! Finish! For Death, save one, possesses the supreme finality of all humans, creatures and things.

Bugle exclusive

After The Bugle's story about "An American Tragedy — The Death of Betty Coed," the father of the slain college student called me and asked if I'd care to meet with him and Bessie Quinn, Betty's mother. (How he came by my story I do not know.)

Last Saturday at 11 a.m. I met with George Quinn and his wife Bessie in the Niles police station. We had a light breakfast at Jake's Restaurant. (I guess after the tragic death of their second eldest daughter Betty it will be a while before their zest for food and life returns to normal again.) George Quinn is a tall man, muscular and lithe of build, 6 ft. 4 in. in height, 195 lbs. in weight.

Betty Quinn

Quinn family was so shocked, so horrified by the tragedy that destroyed a member of their closely knit family, a family (as the saying goes) that stayed together, prayed together, and enjoyed all the holidays and the good things of life together, and equally shared the bad.

As the father, George Quinn, said to me, "Mr. Hanson, no one, no way can appreciate the full horror of it unless they themselves experience it — the absolute hell of it!"

Betty, after leaving the hospital (the same hospital strangely enough that would in a few hours notify her parents that their daughter had been shot), and her girl friend stopped at a place called "The Bag", near the market on Milwaukee ave. They were unable to find a gas station open at that late an hour. They met two of their friends, Betty's friend, William J. Will, 23, a medical student, as was W. Somerset Maugham, drove her to his house to get a hose so that he could siphon some gas from his car into hers, so she could make it back to her home.

According to Eileen Kampwirth, Betty's best friend, she and her friend Mark Tatom, 21, a student, were standing in the parking lot laughing and chatting, awaiting the return of Betty and her friend. When they returned, Will backed Betty's car into the number 2 stall in the parking lot and was just getting ready to siphon in the gas when: BANG! Betty, standing at the back of her Dad's Pontiac Station Wagon, turned her head with "a start of surprise" (as it was in the ancient fable) and she was no more.

Her mother Bessie told me before the car was washed the entire back window, the body of the car and the chrome bumper were drenched with the blood of her pretty Betty Coed. "There were," Bessie Quinn paused ... and reached for my hand. She cleared her throat and her grip increased its pressure on my hand as tears welled in her eyes. "There were fine silvers of Betty's skull or chrome bumper."

District 64 caucus to meet board candidates

On Jan. 22 delegates to the District 64 caucus will have the opportunity to meet and question the candidates for the District 64 and 207 school boards. This will follow the report of the nine-member nominating committee. The task force committee will also propose changes in the by-laws.

The public is invited to attend this meeting at Jefferson School, 8200 Greendale in Niles. Registration for delegates and alternates is at 7:30; the meeting begins promptly at 8. Delegates are reminded that attendance at this meeting is mandatory in order to vote at the Feb. 26 meeting.

Nominations from the floor may be made by members of the caucus also, but written consent of the nominee and a statement of his qualifications is necessary. For further information, contact Joe E. Chandler, caucus chairman, at 825-0479.

The caucus is composed of representatives of schools, churches, and civic organizations in the District 64 area. Its purpose is to elect a non-political school board and to encourage qualified persons to seek election. The voting public makes the final decisions in the elections in the spring.

Three positions are open for the District 64 elementary schools, and two for District 207 high schools. The nominating committee has been interviewing potential candidates since November.

John Prochaska, chairman of the group, will report on their activities. Other members of the committee are Maureen Thon, Jim Parisi, Jacquie Hovland, Gerry Anderson, Katie Lussenhop and Richard Wilson, Jr., delegates, and Sue McGarry and Dorothy DuSod, alternates.

By-law committee members are Bernice Wilson, chairman, Lynn Huedepohl, George Lester, and Justin Ventacchi. Parliamentarian for the caucus is George C. McKann.

Evans Scholars from Notre Dame

Two Notre Dame High School Seniors were awarded Evans Scholarships given to outstanding Chicago-area caddies by the Western Golf Association.

Thomas McAuley, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael McAuley, 8440 N. Oleander, Niles, and Steven Zimmer, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zimmer, 9839 Lauren Lane, Niles, were granted the scholarships based on their academic standing, caddie record and need for financial aid.

These are four-year grants covering full tuition and housing. More than 200 scholarships were awarded on a national basis this winter, including approximately 30 more in the Chicago area.

D.A.R. Award Winner

Senior Karen Pavlovic of Niles has been named the Maine East 1980 recipient of the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizen Award, presented by the Twenty-first Star Chapter of the D.A.R. in Park Ridge.

Members of the senior class initially nominate three students they believe are best qualified on the basis of citizenship, dependability, leadership, and patriotism. From these three students, the faculty was then asked to select the one girl to represent Maine East as its Good Citizen.

During Karen's four years at Maine East she was a member of debate as a freshman, sophomore, and junior and served on Quad Council her junior year. This year she is very active in speech team, competing in dramatic interpretation, extemporaneous speaking, and dramatic duet acting. She is also a special education senior leader, a member of Russian Club, and will serve as chairman of the Maine Historical Society spring Cherry Pie Festival. She participates in Sigma Chi Sigma (reading society) activities and served as its president her junior year. Lastly, she is vice-president of Student Council and served as chairman of Homecoming activities.

Karen will attend Loyola next fall, enrolling in its special nine semester accelerated history program.

very best. His retirement shouldn't be marred by the obvious hard feelings generated by the changing of the guard. We can think of no one in Niles who would be less likely to push anyone out than Peck. A gentle soul, Keith was moved up by the village powers after deciding to revamp the departments. The management reports made recommendations for all departments. They have been heeded their due and changes have been made. Public Works was one part of the changes.

There is nothing personal in the recommendations which resulted in the changes. Ed deserves the thanks of all of us. And certainly Keith does not deserve the vilification heaped on him by a friend of Eddie's.

Two more zonkers crossed our desk Monday. This time the anonymous zonkers were he-letter-writers who are concerned about the compulsory retirement for Niles policemen and firemen at the age of 60. One of the zonkers refers to the officials down at the village hall as "mental midgets". He contends, "They tried to get our pension money, then they tied our hands with in-town residency and now our usefulness is not needed after the age of 60. Did I hear that we must live in the Village because of PRIDE?" The zonker criticized the Chiefs as being self-centered egotists who think only of themselves and not the men who help them. He ends by noting the Joe Hanna clause will be remembered at election time. Hanna, who is nearing 60, will be retired under the new law.

The second zonker suggests Niles needs big changes in the offices of the Mayor, Manager and Police Chief. He, too, is spitting mad because of the compulsory 60-year-old retirement. He contends neither of the Chiefs could pass a physical, if they were required to do so.

Village manager Ken Scheel told us both the fire and police chiefs said at age 60 men couldn't keep up with the physical requirements for their jobs.

Scheel indicated the inflationary cycle plus the retirement of many men at the same time would be an added pension fund burden.

The manager explained a retiree receives 50% of his salary after serving 20 years on one of the forces. He must be at least 50 years old before receiving his pension. After 50 he receives a 2% increase in pension benefits up to age 60, to a maximum of 75% of his salary for each year he serves beyond the 20 years.

Scheel said many communities retire their men after 20 years. "Twenty years and out" was his exact phrase. He said spelling out the age of retirement enables a man to prepare well in advance for that time.

Getting away from the "zonkers" we'd like to drop over to the school district which can drive you "bonkers". East Maine District 63. In the last episode of this rudderless district the school board was going thru its every-7-years recycling of its school superintendent.

The recycling process begins with a district which is run quite capably though temporarily by the assistant superintendent, Don Stetina. Meanwhile, the board members form a search committee or hire an outside company or form citizens' committees or send questionnaires to its residents, or try to placate the union bidders, all in its quest for finding a new superintendent. About March or April, after much scurrying around the country, the new White Shadow is discovered, the man who'll bring the district into a new era of peace and enlightenment. Teas and press conferences will be scheduled and the new man will begin to superintend until he's shot down two or three years henceforth. Then the recycling will take place again. The school board, which takes itself much too serious, will go into private sessions in its board room, and begin the very cerebral process of scientifically choosing the very best new man for the job.

While all this huffing and puffing is taking place the school district is moving along quite ably under the leadership of the assistant superintendent, Stetina, who 3 times has been the temporary head man of this weebegetten district.

Somewhere along the line the board members are going to conclude they may have the best superintendent candidate available right in this district in Stetina. Three times he has pulled the district along during chaotic periods, each time with reasonable success.

While the board searches thruout the country, and always comes up with a man who has far less experience than Stetina, they nevertheless think the new man is preferable because some outside group of "consultants" recommends him.

The entire recycling period is all a bit absurd. The new superintendent will want input from the teachers, administrators and public will vow an open-door policy. Meanwhile, the new malcontents in the community will already be preparing to shoot down the new guy. The union doesn't like the cut of his job. The board members think he's too authoritarian or too wispy-washy. And the public pouts and shouts.

Prize winner...

January and all the cards and letters from the donors are placed in a drum for the prize drawings.

Last Monday Chicago Mayor Jane Byrne guested on the radio show and drew the first winning card which turned out to be Mrs. Lyczak's.

"You can't imagine the shock when I heard my name announced by the mayor. I was alone in the office and began screaming to myself," Mrs. Lyczak told The Bugle. "I couldn't believe it."

She said she received a phone call from her husband, Edmund, a short time later after he had been informed by a co-worker of his wife's good fortune.

Mrs. Lyczak and her husband, after pondering the list of prizes available to them, decided to take the 1979 International Scout valued at $11,000. "Since we are both close to retirement, we feel we will get a lot of use out of it," she noted.

Mrs. Lyczak stated she had sent her card into the Neediest Children's Fund in November and was told by the radio station personnel that there are approximately 50,000 cards in the drawing.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyczak plan to meet with International Harvester personnel on Friday at the WGN studios to accept the keys to their new Scout.

"The Niles Lions... who are they?"

Safety, always a number one object of the Niles Lions, our nation, our community and our kids. In 1961, 11-year-old Kathy Bergstrom wrote the winning entry in the Bicycle Safety Slogan contest. Her slogan, "Be Alert, Be Aware, Always Ride Your Bike With Care" won over more than 5,000 slogans considered. Words to really live by then, and still as important as ever.

The Lions enjoy life and living the good life but unfortunately, not everyone in Niles in the early 60's had it that good. Christmas baskets were given out to those needy families in Niles by the ever-caring Lions.

Another of our most cherished projects was naming the "Fireman of the Year." One of the first honored firemen was Joseph Lammersfeld, who "worked like a machine with so much vigor and energy, almost reaching the point of exhaustion" said Fire Lt. Albert Hoeft, "but did not quit until Mr. Ted Marion was completely free and out of the cave in excavation where he [Marion] was buried."

The Safety provided by the Niles Fire Department means a great deal to all of us but the Polio Clinic held in Niles in 1963 held another hope. To be safe from the dreaded Illinois Polio.

As we all know, Polio has been brought to a screeching halt, and through the efforts of research, we hope more of the killers of mankind will be stopped. Safety, in health, in education, in service in departments, and for the good of all will always be first in the village of Niles. If you look close you might recognize a Niles Lion doing his job and saying "It's Great to be a Lion!"

Shinasties—Improve your body with Mary Carrigan and Mary Gausselein. Several classes are scheduled to begin the week of January 21.

Cheerleading—Will be taught by instructor, Jackie Lolacano on Saturday afternoons for 5th through 8th graders. Classes begin January 28. Cheers, skills and pom-pom routines will be taught.

Stained Glass Art—Will be offered for adults on Tuesday evenings at the Prairie View Center beginning January 29. Instructor, Ginger Holm, will teach various techniques of this art.

For more information on the above classes consult your Winter/Spring Brochure or contact the Recreation Office at 965-1200. Non-resident fees are ½ more the regular rate.

Bell & Gossett and ITT Fluid Handling Division officials celebrate the 25th anniversary of "The Little Red Schoolhouse" in December, with a cake cutting ceremony at the Morton Grove facility.

Founded in 1954, the Little Red Schoolhouse has long been recognized as "the" training ground for the fluid handling industry. During its quarter century of existence, more than 24,000 students from around the world have graduated from its School of Living Comfort, Design & Application Seminar and its Service & Maintenance Seminar.

Bob De Wyze, director of training & education, said close to 1,000 programs have been conducted for representatives of major corporations, government agencies, wholesalers, contractors, engineers and ITT personnel. "Large companies like State Farm Insurance, IBM and others whose buildings are equipped with Bell & Gossett products, regularly send people for training in the design and maintenance of hydronic systems."

The classes usually consist of 3 to 5-day long sessions combining lectures, demonstrations, and problem-solving techniques. Working models of hydronic systems and textbooks prepared by the Fluid Handling Division training department are used to teach each student the proper way to design, maintain, and troubleshoot hydronic and steam systems in their own buildings. Classes usually range from 25 to 32 people.

"Records show that our first graduate was Chalmers, Aires from the R.L. Deppman Company in Detroit, MI in 1954," said De Wyze. "Since that time we have had students from every state in the U.S., Europe, South America, South Africa, India, Japan, Australia, and most other countries in the world," he added.

The weekly classes are not the only teachings the ITT Fluid Handling personnel do. De Wyze and Joe Flasch, manager of service training for the ITT Fluid Handling Division, regularly conduct field seminars and short courses at many leading universities including: Ferris State, University of Illinois, Fairmount College, University of West Virginia, Michigan State, University of Wisconsin and Purdue University to name a few.

Last year alone, 5,846 people attended field seminars sponsored by FHD representatives and presented by the training department.

For the past 26 years, the United Association Apprenticeship Committee has invited Bell & Gossett to participate in their training seminars at Purdue University. This course trains their instructors in the proper method of teaching the design of hydronic and steam systems.

"When we teach classes in Quebec, Canada, it's necessary to use interpreters to translate our English to French and vice versa," said De Wyze, "we have many foreign students attending the classes at the schoolhouse also."

In addition, many ITT Fluid Handling Division Representatives across the country sponsor field seminars periodically for engineers, wholesalers and contractors. Seminars have been conducted as far away as Akiachak and Kewethluk, Alaska, where De Wyze and Flasch spent two weeks teaching Eskimos about repairing and maintaining hydronic heating systems in their schools.

Other Schoolhouse staff members include Dean Lewis, systems instructor and Marion Carswell, technical assistant.

"We will do all we can to help educate and inform the industry about hydronic and steam heating," De Wyze summarized.

"As a result, I think the Little Red Schoolhouse has become a well-known institution throughout the industry."

"We are very pleased to be celebrating such an important milestone," said Robert J. Berkshire, vice president-director of marketing ITT Fluid Handling Division. "The company takes a great deal of pride in the fact that we have helped educate and train so many people in our industry."

Demon grad plays "Son of Svengoolie"

Everyone asks what goes bump in the night? Well, one definite thing that goes bump is Rich Koz. Who? Well, most people know him as "Son of Svengoolie" and in case you didn't know, he graduated from Maine East in 1970.

Rich Koz appears weekly as the narrator of the Channel 32 Monster Movie. Rich has not always been involved in television. Before "Son of Svengoolie," Rich worked at W.M.A.Q. with Jerry G. Bishop the Chickenman. The Chickenman is somewhat of a take-off on Superman, but instead it is a chicken. Rich wrote 65 episodes of this character's adventures. Rich also does many radio commercials, including some of the Time Magazine commercials. Rich is still involved in many of these commercials plus his "Son of Svengoolie."

The "Son of Svengoolie" character is quite popular in Chicago, with Rich averaging about 200 fan letters a week. And when Rich had his Halloween Special, the show rated very high. Rich hopes in the future to go into comedy somewhat like that of Mel Brooks. Although he is not recognized on the street, he often hears people talking of his character. By the way, to "become" Son of Svengoolie takes Rich about 15-20 minutes of work with make-up.

Rich graduated from Maine East in 1970, and he was involved with the school's radio station, WMTH, and the annual variety shows. He mentions that it was helpful going to Maine East because it was where he had the opportunity to develop his own style.

So the next time you hear a bump in the night, just yell "Rich Koz" and hope that he answers. By the way, you can see Son of Svengoolie on Channel 32 on Saturday nights starting at 8 p.m.

Niles West dancers will step out

The Orchestra dance company from Niles West High School will present its annual show, Steppin Out, in early February. It will be better than ever, according to dance company president Mary Lauders, a senior from Morton Grove. Officers Yvonne Johanson and Kathy Krasowsky from Morton Grove and Marcia Block, Lincolnwood, agreed, adding that the great variety of dance styles, the specially selected music and the flashy costumes planned for the show should combine to make it a great experience for the audience. They're promising a jazz number of Barry Manilow's "Jump Shot Boogie," a production number using tunes from the musical "All That Jazz," a modern ballet number performed to music by Pink Floyd and a host of others. A disco number, done to Donna Summer's "Sunset People," will be a highlight of the show, the officers say.

She is an active member of the Jimmy Payne Dancers, who performed for a Field Museum Benefit in 1975 to a capacity audience.

Mrs. Kirpanos, her husband, Stefanos, and their two sons, Jimmy and Johnny, live in the Washington School area of Park Ridge, where she took the role of Betsy Ross in "Fowl in Fare," was choreographer for "Mum's The Word," and helped with script, performing, backstage, etc. on "Blazing Tales" and other Washington School PTO annual variety shows.

As Maggie in "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," Suzy is appearing opposite John Marquette of Des Plaines (Brick), who teaches drama at Buffalo Grove High School, and will direct "Our Town" for Des Plaines Theatre Guild in July. Marquette was most recently seen at Guild Playhouse last season in "Equus," for which he won a Best Supporting Actor award, and other appearances with DPTG include "Taming of the Shrew," "Zoo Story," "Dark of the Moon," "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" and "The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail." He has appeared in over 35 shows and directed about 50 in the Chicagoland area.

Others in the "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" cast include Ron Mills, speech and drama director at Maine West in Des Plaines, as Big Daddy; Anne Cargola, a Schaumburg actress and model, as Big Mama; Don Collignon of Mount Prospect and Betty DeGroot of Arlington Heights as Gooper and Mae; Pat Moyer of Des Plaines as Dr. Baugh, and Ted Lindgren of Chicago as Rev. Tooker.

Gooper and Mae's five children are played by Veronica Mills (daughter of Ron Mills), Adrian Fulle and Mike O'Reilly of Des Plaines, Krista Harris of Elk Grove Village, and Robyn Unell of Glenview.

Tickets to the remaining performances of the Tennessee Williams drama on January 11, 12, 13, 18, 19 and 20 are $4 and may be reserved by calling 296-1211 between noon and 8 p.m. daily. Students and those 65 or older with I.D. cards receive half-price discounts on Fridays and Sundays.

Curtain time is at 8 p.m. for all but the Sunday, January 20 final performance which is a 2:30 matinee.

"The Matchmaker"

Thornton Wilder's comedy "The Matchmaker" will be presented by Niles East High School students on January 24, 25, and 26 in the school auditorium (Lincoln and Niles ave., Skokie). Mr. Jerry Proffitt is directing the play upon which the musical "Hello Dolly" was based.

While seventy-five students are involved in all phases of the production, fifteen have roles in the play. They are: Arthur Rosenssen, Barry Leb, and Mindy Levin, seniors; Steve Charous, Eleah Horwitz, Tim Ortmann, and Scott Tauber, juniors; Helen Moshak, Jeff Sumner, Hal Meitzer, and Kathy Barry sophomores; and Freshman Julie Stone, Barbara Shedroff, Greg Bart, and Brad Dorfman.

Mr. Frank Mayfield is technical director and Ms. Beth Golata is serving as costume coordinator. General admission is $2 for the show which will begin at 8 p.m. each evening. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Theatre Guild members meet Jan. 23

The regular membership meeting of Des Plaines Theatre Guild has been rescheduled for Wednesday, January 23 at 8 p.m. in Guild Playhouse, 620 Lee St., Des Plaines.

Originally announced for January 16, a week's postponement was decided upon by the Board of Directors to accommodate the performers who will entertain for the active members and guests who attend.

Excerpts from the St. James Theatre production of the musical "Of Thee I Sing" will be presented by some of the cast which includes several Des Plaines Theatre Guild members.

"Of Thee I Sing" will be presented in March under the direction of JoAnne Calzavara of Arlington Heights, who appeared earlier this season in DPTG's "Gypsy." Her husband, Tony, is the producer. The show will benefit St. James Catholic Church of Arlington Heights.

Among the DPTG members who are in the cast of the musical are Don, Lisa, and Marilyn Collignon, Donna-Lynn Cargola (who played the stripper, Electra, in "Gypsy"), and Mike Taylor.

Anyone in the area interested in community theatre is invited to attend the meeting and program on January 23. For further information, call the Guild at 296-1211 after 12 noon daily.

"Des Plaines, Yesteryears"

"Is the Irish Coffee House in the 3rd or 4th grade room?" With questions like this echoing through the halls, the children of St. Mary's will wonder what is happening to their school.

The answer: "Des Plaines Yesteryears." As February 15 and 16 approaches, preparations are being made to transform St. Mary's school into a bi-level composite of the Des Plaines of Yesteryear.

Storefront flats are being constructed including an 1880 replica of Haas' bakery for the County Bakery and an old hotel for the Sing-Along Lounge. Rehearsals for the Musical Revue have begun and other parish volunteers are making posters or selling tickets.

The celebration of "Des Plaines Yesteryears" will extend from 7 p.m. to 2 a.m. Friday, Feb. 15 and Saturday, Feb. 16. In addition to the main show, intermittent entertainment will be provided in each of several lounge areas, and various restaurant samplings including those from an Italian Cafe and a main Country style restaurant will be available.

Tickets are now on sale. Anyone over 16 years of age is invited to attend and enjoy "Des Plaines Yesteryear."

Maine East orchestra concert

Members of Concert Orchestra will perform Sunday, February 3, starting at 2 p.m. in the auditorium. Among the selections will be Mozart's "Concerto for Harp and Flute," featuring soloists Faith Prano, harp, and Karin Engelstad, flute.

OLR Senior Band

Highlighted are some of the Senior Band members as they play for Our Lady of Ransom. Tuesday, Dec. 18, the children of Our Lady of Ransom participated in an enjoyable program for the parents and parishioners. Sister Mary Gracilia conducted Grades 1, 2, 3, 4, and 6 in the singing of Christmas Carols. It was highlighted by the Junior and Senior Bands, directed by the new band director, Mr. Patrick Henning. The 6th grade choral group soloed, and was accompanied by Mrs. Karen Riske on the piano.

We should take special mention to the Junior Band, for they have been only playing a few short weeks; but put on a fine performance. Our sincere thanks to all who attended the program to make it such a success.

Parent-family education lecture series

A four-week lecture series entitled "The Family in the 80's" will begin in January at Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge. The series is sponsored by the hospital's social work division. Discussions will focus on the effects that social pressures have on raising a family and how to avoid family problems.

"Divorce, television, social violence and the availability of drugs are some of the factors that can lead to family problems," says Jon Yost, a certified social worker at the hospital.

In keeping with Lutheran General's philosophy of preventive medicine, Yost believes this type of parent-family education may help prevent many of the problems families encounter. He encourages entire families to attend the series. "It is important to preserve the family," says Yost, "and that requires time and energy."

The topics and dates are: Tuesday, January 22, "How to Parent Your Teenager"; Tuesday, January 29, "Women, Wives and Mothers"; Tuesday, February 5, "Sexuality Is a Family Affair"; and Tuesday, February 12, "Stresses in Family Living."

All of the speakers are certified social workers at Lutheran General. The lectures are offered to the public free of charge from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the hospital's Olson Auditorium. For more information phone the social work division at 696-5475.

"Art of Being an In-Law"

Passages Through Life, a weekly series of Oakton Community College dealing with the growth and development of adults in mid-life, will begin its winter program of free lectures and discussions with "The Art of Being an In-Law" at 1 p.m. on Tuesday, January 22.

"The Art of Being an In-Law" will be led by Dorothy Hoffman, lecturer and researcher of in-law problems. She will examine the myths, stereotypes and practical solutions to dealing with in-laws.

Being an in-law is one of the most difficult of human relationships, according to Ms. Hoffman. "In-Laws often don't know how to behave with each other. In order to avoid misunderstandings they need to be open, welcome communications, and respect one another's feelings," she said.

Sponsored by Oakton's Office of Community Outreach, the weekly programs meet on Tuesdays at 1 p.m. in Room 306, Building 3 on Oakton's Interim campus, Oakton and Nagle, Morton Grove. The programs are free of charge.

For further information, call Oakton's Office of Community Outreach, 967-5120, ext. 350.

Ron Brisk, owner of Brisk Automotive Supply, Milwaukee ave. & Harts rd., Niles, is shown congratulating Bugle Newspapers columnist Ed Hanson.

The large card board box is stuffed and overflowing with Ed Hanson's column of Dec. 27 in which Brisk gave away one dollar's worth of free gas to everyone who brought in Hanson's column.

Ron Brisk, Hanson claims, is a mastermind, an absolute genius in creating merchandising ideas. Hanson said, "I'm proud to be a friend of so fine a fellow - and I will defend Brisk to his last buck!"

"You ain't seen nuthin' yet," Hanson says. Brisk is putting on the biggest and the best advertising and merchandising campaign in his history. "I predict that some day the entire Village of Niles will be one huge auto parts company bearing the trade name of Brisk Automotive Supply."

K of C combat obscene literature

One of the obligations of a Knights of Columbus member is to combat the distribution of obscene literature in his area. This type of literature is one of the real sources that develop juvenile delinquency.

Delinquents are made, not born. They come from a poor home in the slums, a tenement, a middle class home, a good residential neighborhood, a very rich home or an upper middle class home, so it can breed from any home. We as parents also have a parental responsibility. The child who is educated to values who are morally good and ethically right chooses and acts to the end for which God has destined him or her. The child who has been deprived of such values is his own enemy, society's cancer and the devil's victory.

Much is said about juvenile delinquency but not much work is contributed to combat it. The solution lies with the parents and a strict enforcement of laws pertaining to obscenity which already exist on our Statute Books. Be alert! Always object to those sources publishing or selling obscene stories and literature. Television is the most available medium of entertainment and parents should see that their children do not watch provocative exhibitions. It is more important to see that your children's religious training is not neglected.

Parents of all boys and girls who are attending public schools have a serious obligation to see to it that they receive instruction in their faith. Quoting His Eminence Francis Cardinal Spellman in one of his speeches on juvenile delinquency years ago, "Parents and educators should realize that the only effective prescription for prevention and cure is spiritual strength derived from religious training."

Kennedy for President Committee

The Kennedy for President Committee in the Tenth Congressional District filed its petitions today only a few days after announcing its slate of candidates. More than three times the required number of signatures were filed. The slate of candidates for delegate consists of: Diana Hunter of Skokie; Edward A. Warman of Skokie; Veda Kauffman of Niles; Donald Eslick of Northfield; Cathleen Quinn O'Rourke of Glenview; and John M. "Jack" Marco, Joyce S. Rubin of Wilmette, Susanne F. Brady of Evanston, and Maxine Lang of Evanston are running for alternate delegate.

The committee is also pleased to announce that on Jan. 24 at 7:30 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hazelkorn of Glenview will host a fundraising party for the Kennedy effort at their home. Noted historian and commentator Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., will be the featured speaker. Anyone wishing to attend should call Donna Lowmore at 835-5143. The public is invited and there is no admission charge.

"I Quit" Smoking Clinic

Skokie Valley Community Hospital will conduct a six-day "I Quit" Smoking Clinic from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 29, through Friday, Feb. 1; Monday, Feb. 4; and Monday, Feb. 11, in the fifth-floor lounge of the hospital.

Registration will be held at 7 p.m. Tues., Jan. 29. Cost is $30 for all six sessions, with a $10 rebate to participants who attend all six sessions and do not smoke from the first through the sixth session.

To pre-register for the six-day clinic, people should call the Good Health Program of the hospital, 877-8600, ext. 376.

Gomberg states support for ERA

Larry Gomberg, Democratic candidate for state representative from the Fourth Legislative District in Illinois today declared that he is in support of the Equal Rights Amendment.

As Mr. Gomberg has stated: "I have today notified the National Organization of Women and the ERA Ratification Project that I support fully and unequivocally the idea that women should be allowed to seek and enjoy the same rewards out of life as men. It is a shame that women find themselves having to campaign for rights which are considered by many to be inalienable. However, I believe the Equal Rights Amendment will provide women with a legal base from which to direct such a campaign."

Mr. Gomberg went on to say that his support of women's rights would not end after next November's general election. "When I am elected state representative, I will take my support of equal rights for women in Illinois to the state legislature. I believe our citizens must recognize that passage of the Equal Rights Amendment will make our state and this country a better place in which to live."

Sargent Welch employees donate blood

Sargent Welch, 7300 North Linden ave., Skokie, is sponsoring an employee blood drive Friday, Jan. 18, in cooperation with the North Suburban Blood Center, the regional volunteer blood donor program of the north and northwest suburbs. An estimated 140 Sargent Welch employees will be donating that day to help to assure an adequate blood supply to the fourteen hospitals of the region.

CBS documentary to feature LGH

The pastoral care department of Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge, will be the subject of CBS's "For Our Times" program, 11:30 a.m., Sunday, Jan. 27, on Channel 2 TV.

The half-hour documentary will be called "Human Ecology", reflecting the hospital's philosophy of patient care. Lutheran General's pastoral care department plays a vital role in putting that philosophy to work. Pastors and a rabbi are active members of a patient's health-care team. They work closely with physicians, nurses, social workers, therapists and other hospital staff, adding a religious dimension to care.

"We are extremely pleased that CBS chose Lutheran General to depict and describe hospital chaplaincy in the United States," says the Rev. Larry Holst, chairman of pastoral care. "We hope that this broadcast will contribute a broader understanding of the role and importance of pastoral care in today's health-delivery system."

The program will show chaplains in their various roles at Lutheran General, its Alcoholism Treatment Center and its Community Pastoral Counseling Center.

With one of the most extensive clinical pastoral education (CPE) programs in the nation, the hospital provides a setting where clergy gain experience in hospital chaplaincy.

The documentary also will visit a class in which a CPE student relates his experiences during an on-call night.

A CBS network film crew spent three days on location at Lutheran General last October for the production.

The "For Our Times" program usually is scheduled in the Chicago area for 6 a.m. Because of local interest, WBBM-TV (Channel 2) has rescheduled the broadcast to the 11:30 a.m.-to-noon time slot.

BUYER/EXPEDITOR

District 67 interviewing tenants for Golf School

by Deby Eisenberg

Negotiations are underway with prospective tenants for the Golf Elementary School building, which will be closing after this term. "Things seem to be falling in place," District 67 School Board President Ted Lucas commented at last Thursday night's board meeting. The Board has given approval for the rental committee to pursue a lease agreement with the Niles Township Special Education District. That body as well as the Maine-Niles Special Recreation Department and Glenview's Center on Deafness have been considering renting sections of the structure. Rentals should generate approximately $20,000, according to Ron Kochman, who has been heading the rental search.

The district is asking for $1 per square foot and 50 cents per square foot for the gymnasium or other shared areas. Tenants would be responsible for all janitorial services and utility payments. Certain surplus equipment, such as gym items or excess library books, would become negotiable items in the leases.

Lucas revealed that there was already an attic full of furniture at Golf School. The Board then voted to offer the Parent Teacher Organization 150 Griggs desk units if they would wish to sell them for $5 apiece at the Feb. 16 Fun Fair.

The latest in the district's detachment litigation with Glenview District 34 is that the Court date has been moved to Monday, Feb. 4 at 2 p.m. District 67's attorney Anthony Scarrano has made his 84 page legal brief available for public inspection.

It had been revealed that a second detachment move was underway in the Glenview West area. Lucas insisted however that only a small group of pre-school mothers was investigating this end, and already opposition to such a move had formed.

Meetings are being scheduled with concerned residents.

State tax moneys earmarked here

Corporate local property replacement taxes will begin to be locally distributed to local municipalities and school districts within the next two weeks.

The end of the corporate personal property tax saw local property tax revenues dwindling. However, revenues from the corporate income tax were expected to take-up the slack. But local officials are wary the expected bonanza will not be completely fulfilled since local officials look with jaundiced eyes at money figures projected by the state officials.

Nevertheless, Niles Township High School District 219 is expected to receive $1,775,048. East Maine District 63's estimate is $246,049. Morton Grove Elementary School District 70's estimate is $170,737. Golf School District 67 has an estimate of $162,543. The Village of Morton Grove will receive about $161,628. Niles Elementary District 71 is earmarked for about $116,116. The Village of Niles is scheduled to receive $102,234.

Road improvements...

between Glenview rd. and Howard st. will be resurfaced with intersection improvements, new traffic signals and land acquisition included in the $632,000 package.

...In Niles, the intersection of Milwaukee ave. and Dempster sts. will include reconstruction of the interchange and land acquisition at a cost of $2.7 million.

...In Niles, Caldwell ave. between Illinois 43 and Touhy ave. widening and resurfacing improvement and land acquisition—1.8 miles at a $1.4 million cost.

...In Morton Grove, Illinois 43 at Illinois 58—new traffic signals (Waukegan and Golf rds.).

S.A.R. Citizenship Award winner

This year's recipient of the S.A.R. Award at Maine East is Homecoming King Mike DiGirola of Niles. Aside from being an honor roll student, Mike keeps himself busy with a countless number of extra-curricular activities. He is known for his terrific art work, which includes three Party Line covers, and posters he's designed to publicize numerous Maine East drama/music productions.

Mike starts his school day a bit earlier than most. At 7:30 a.m. he rehearses with the Maine East Singers, which performs for many community functions and organizations with song and dance.

Mike is also involved with the speech and drama department. He has acted in six fall and winter plays and could also be found doing an array of fabulous things in musicals and V-Shows. Mike is not just limited to singing and acting alone as he has danced in two Orchestras concerts. And if your memory serves you correct, you'll recall that last year Mike took a first place at the IHSA speech tournament along with luminous Lawrence Nathanson for dramatic duet acting.

Mike works diligently in the field of art as well. Members of the senior class elected by vote three students who they felt were best qualified to receive the S.A.R. Good Citizen Award. From these three students, members of the faculty chose Mike to represent the school.

After graduation Mike would like to go to a college for the performing arts in New York, and if his future is anything like the present, it means "success".

Supreme Court hands down rape shield decision

At a Springfield press conference held on January 10, 1980, Rape Study Committee members State Rep. Aaron Jaffe (D-Skokie), Chairman, and State Rep. Peter Peters (R-Chicago), Vice Chairman, announced that a landmark decision handed down by the Illinois Appellate Court upheld the validity of the Committee-sponsored Rape Shield Law. This law generally prohibits admission of the past sexual activities of a sexual assault victim during the court trial of the accused offender.

Jaffe, commenting for the Rape Study Committee, stated: "We are especially gratified that this most significant Supreme Court decision not only affirms the judgement and work of our Committee, but also provides the People of Illinois the strongest Rape Shield Law in the Nation. As a result of this statute, more victims will be willing to report sex crimes and participate in many more successful prosecutions of offenders. You may be assured that our Rape Study Committee members and staff remain totally committed to fulfilling our mandate to examine and provide the best possible remedies for the wide range of problems."

Chicago graduate
Thomas Bradley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Bradley of N. Mason ave. in Chicago graduated from the College of the University of Chicago in convocation ceremonies June 16. He received the B.A. degree with a major in economics. Mr. Bradley is a graduate of the Notre Dame High School for Boys in Niles.

John Porter's Commitment...

Thoughtful leadership... tough decisions... firm independence. These are the qualities that earned John Porter a Best Legislator Award from the League of Conservation Voters in 1973, the Independent Voters of Illinois in 1974, and the Chicago Crime Commission in 1976, among numerous other honors during six years in the Illinois General Assembly... and these are the qualities John Porter will bring to Congress.

John Porter deplores the loss of American prestige in the world, the helplessness in Washington as the value of the dollar continues to dip, the ravages of inflation as it depletes the life savings of millions of Americans and robs the future of new generations. America today is vulnerable to Arab oil blackmail, to demagoguery at home... We have allowed ourselves to become weak... because of the leadership void in Washington.

Leadership is the key... just as it was the key to Porter's success as an Illinois lawmaker. John Porter for Congress... for proven independence and strong leadership
