Morton Grove Board denies deletion of individual item pricing

Dominick's turned down on pricing revision

by Anthony DeBartolo

When Thomas Roti, Vice President and General Counsel of Dominick's Finer Foods stood before the Morton Grove Board of Trustees Monday night requesting that the pricing ordinance be dropped, he might as well have asked for permission to put hand guns on the shelf.

That's how unpopular Dominick's proposal to stop item pricing at its Dempster Street store proved to be.

When universal price code scanner technology first appeared in the mid-seventies, several municipalities, including Morton Grove, passed ordinances requiring all retail stores to individually price items offered to the consumer.

Niles park district is seeking bids for a swimming pool water slide for its main pool this summer. The fiberglass pool is expected to cost in the area of $26,000 to $30,000 and will be installed by park personnel. It will be less than 150 feet long which is half the size of the Des Plaines pool slide. It also will cost less than half the price of the D.P. pool slide.

Niles park board president Elaine Heinen said it would be a great attraction as well as a revenue producer. While there would be no charge for using the slide, a cost of 50 cents would go for the renting of a mat which would be used during the vertical descent. It is expected the water slide would be installed and completed within six to eight weeks.

"It looks like hell", was Niles park commissioner Jim Pierski's description of the battlefield on north Washington Street formerly called Courtland Park.

Last August a Water Commission finished installing water pipes under the Commonwealth Edison property there which is used as a park by Courtland Parkers. It is now so ruptured children using the park could be endangered. It is so serious.

Free blood pressure readings

Free blood pressure readings will be taken Thursday, April 5 by the Niles Community Health Department, 7601 Milwaukee ave. between the hours of 4 and 8 p.m.

We urge you to take advantage of this service especially if you are between the ages of 25 and 55 years. Hypertension, if discovered in your younger years, can be readily treated and add many years to your life.

Students correspond with authors

The simple reading of a book can be developed into an exciting, challenging project. That was the case recently at Niles Elem. South School when Mrs. Seleen asked her 4th graders to choose a book to read by a contemporary author. Reading the book was only the beginning.

Then the students were to write letters to the authors. Popular choices included children's authors, Bill Post and Donald Sobel.

So far, 4 students have received replies, some with personalized illustrations from authors who also illustrate their own books.

MG Cancer Crusade chairman

The 1984 American Cancer Crusade is scheduled to begin in April with hundreds of North Shore volunteers distributing free current information and urging Morton Grove area residents to "Give Yourself the Chance of a Lifetime."

Celia Hansen, Crusade Chairman for Morton Grove, noted the "American Cancer Society Crusaders will be trying to reach as many residents of the Morton Grove community as possible during April while seeking their statewide goal of $7.9 million dollars. The 1984 leaflet, "Give Yourself a Chance of a Lifetime," will also provide each age group with specific information on how they can significantly increase their odds of living long and healthy lives."

Crusade Chairman Celia Hansen went on to point out that "research tells us that 60% of all cancers are preventable, and that early cancer is curable in up to 90% of all cases. With the public's continued support of ACS programs we'll all learn more about preventing cancer and reducing its effects on our lives."

Hansen concluded by urging the Morton Grove community to give generously to ACS volunteers when

SJB hosts forum on peace and war

On Wednesday evening, April 4, at 8 p.m. a forum entitled "The Bible, the Bishops and the Bomb" will be presented at St. John Brebeuf Parish in Niles. This second lecture in the current Lenten series will be led by Ligaya McGovern, a sociologist from Our Lady of Ransom Parish and an active organizer in the Chicago Philippine community and by Sr. Dorothy Schwenninger, adult educator and counselor on the staff of SJB and a member of Pax Christi. Participants will be given an overview of the U.S. Catholic bishop's pastoral letter entitled "The Challenge of Peace" and then an opportunity to question and dialogue on the challenges the bishops offer.

A recent Catholic survey revealed that no other moral/political issue has brought the Catholic bishops so into the media spotlight as has the debate on the nuclear issues. In many minds what they have written raises compelling moral conflicts about the implications of war and armaments in the nuclear age, about church-state issues, about public policies and for some it provokes the question "What about the Russians?" Early on in the pastoral the bishops clearly state that they wish not to have said the final word but to have contributed to the wider public debate and they urge Catholics and all citizens to join in the dialogue which will shape the future. SJB parish, therefore, extends this invitation to all in the community - both Christians and Jews - who may wish to come. There is no need to preregister. The meeting will be held in the rectory basement meeting room.

Admiral Rickover to speak at OCC

Admiral Hyman G. Rickover, father of the nuclear-powered submarine and aircraft carrier, will present a speech entitled "Thoughts on Man's Purpose in Life," April 5, at 7:30 p.m., at Oakton Community College, 1600 E. Golf rd., Des Plaines. Rickover's speech is part of the International Week activities scheduled for April 1 through 7 at OCC. Other activities will include an ethnic food festival, tours of ethnic neighborhoods in Chicago and musical performances. Rickover, 84, a colorful and controversial figure throughout his naval career, served under seven presidents. He was responsible for the development and construction of the world's first atomic-powered submarine, the U.S.S. Nautilus. He is the recipient of numerous awards, including the 1965 Enrico Fermi award for contributions to atomic science, and the 1980 Presidential Medal of Freedom. Adm. Rickover also has authored several articles, such as Education and Freedom, American Education: A National Failure, and Swiss Schools and Ours: Why Theirs are Better. Rickover's speech is free and the public is welcome. No flashbulbs, please. For further information call the OCC Office of International Studies at 655-1844.

Homeowners can apply for property tax savings

Cook County Assessor Thomas C. Hynes said his office this week is mailing applications for the Homeowner's Exemption to all Cook County homeowners.

The Homeowner's Exemption now provides an annual property tax savings of up to $350 to those who live in their own single-family home, condominium, co-operative or apartment building, of six units or less.

This year, due to legislation proposed by Assessor Hynes, the Homeowner's Exemption was raised to $3,500 from $3,000. It now eliminates up to $3,500 of the increase in a home's taxable value over what it was in 1977.

"We are very pleased that beginning this year homeowners throughout the State of Illinois will receive greater protection from rising property taxes," said Hynes. "This legislation has been part of a tax relief program we have been proposing during the last few years. We are pleased that finally the need for homeowners to benefit by this extra relief was realized."

In order to grant the exemption, the Assessor's Office must have proof that the applicant qualifies. Homeowners when they receive the card should complete the form and return it to the Assessor's Office immediately. The deadline for filing is March 21.

The property must have been occupied as a principal residence of its current or previous owner as of January 1, 1983.

Last year the exemption saved $13,000 Cook County homeowners over $200 million.

Child molester captured by Niles police officer

Quick actions by a Niles policeman resulted in the apprehension in unincorporated Des Plaines of a burglar who has since been charged with taking indecent liberties with a minor.

Niles Police Officer Martin F. Stankowicz was on patrol about 5 a.m. on Friday, March 23 when he heard a Glenview Police radio dispatch ordering Glenview officers to assist Cook County Sheriff's Police who were on their way to a burglary in progress in the 700 block of Greenwood Ave.

Stankowicz, who was close by, turned north on Greenwood off of Milwaukee Ave. at which time he saw the suspect running south on Greenwood Ave.

The suspect, Paul L. Lyke, Jr., 22, of Chicago, was apprehended by Stankowicz at Greenwood and Maynard.

According to Sheriff's Police officials, Lyke had broken into the home stealing money and keys. Additionally, he was charged with molesting a five-year-old girl in the house.

When the child's screams awoke her mother, Lyke ran from the house cutting the mother with what may have been a knife.

The mother immediately contacted the police. Lt. Bernard Singer of the Sheriff's Police credited the mother for her actions. "A great deal of credit has to go to the mother who had the presence of mind to notify us."

Singer said police dispatchers were able to get the burglary report onto the police air waves "within seconds."

The mother was treated for her minor wound at Glenbrook Hospital.

Lyke was charged with aggravated battery, home invasion, residential burglary and taking indecent liberties with a minor.

He is being held at Cook County Jail in lieu of $250,000 bond.

How to select the right nursing home

We Americans are not just living longer, we're living more useful, productive lives.

But an increasing number of the chronically ill, the old, the convalescent, need some place other than the hospital and their home where they can receive personal health care, round-the-clock attention and the opportunity to continue to live their lives with meaning.

As your community nursing home, we want to help you make the right decision. Here are some guidelines: see your family physician to determine the kind of care needed; feel free to visit our facility; ask us for our costs in writing and examine all of our facilities; check our food quality; verify our safety features; and finally, observe how our residents spend their time.

There's a lot more to selecting the right nursing home. We want to help. If you have any questions, please call or visit us.

A memorable trip to NASA Space Center

by Steve Sacco
St. John Brebeuf - 4th Grade

During my school's Festival break, I went to Florida with my mom and dad.

One of the best places we visited was Cape Canaveral and the NASA Space Center.

The Space Center is important to science, military and business and you can't just drive around the complex. They do have bus tours though. The bus tour is two hours long and costs $4 for adults and $2 for children.

On the tour you see the V.A.B. or Vehicle Assembly Building. The spacecrafts are assembled in this building. Now that solid fuel is used, it is put in the two boosters inside the building. That makes it too dangerous for visitors to go inside.

Next on the tour is the Crawler. The Crawler's job is to carry the Mobile Launch Pad and space-craft to the launch pad complex. The Crawler requires twelve engineers to operate it. It has many tanklike treads. It is so heavy the roads it travels on are seven feet thick.

The road is covered with small round river rocks to reduce friction. The Mobile Launch Pad is next. It is stored outside on jacks so the Crawler can drive underneath.

Last on the tour is Launch Pad 39A. The bus stops about 200 yards away but it still looks big. It is the first true spaceport. The Saturn 5 missions left from Launch Pad 39A and so do the shuttles. It is already American history and heritage.

New state law on motorcycle drivers

By Secretary of State Jim Edgar
With the arrival of spring and a new state law allowing 16 and 17-year-olds to ride any size motorcycle, all drivers of cars, trucks and buses should be on the alert for increased motorcycle traffic.

Since Jan. 1, 16 and 17-year-old riders can be licensed to operate any size motorcycle if they have completed a driver education course, motorcycle training course approved by the Illinois Department of Transportation, and Secretary of State motorcycle driver examination.

Motorcycles, no matter how big or small, have the same right-of-way privileges as other vehicles. When you are near a motorcycle, avoid an accident by observing these safety rules:

1. Never crowd a motorcycle. Getting too close can make the rider nervous and cause him or her to lose balance and fall in front of you. A motorcycle can stop faster than a car, so allow more following distance.

2. Motorcycles are entitled to use the full width of a traffic lane, regardless of size. Do not try to stop next to a motorcycle in the same lane. Either change lanes or stay behind. Do not try to pass a motorcycle in the lane it is using.

3. If you are following a motorcycle, allow even more distance when approaching a railroad track. If the crossing is rough or the tracks cross the road at an angle, the rider not only has to slow down but needs room to maneuver.

MG consideration of stable rezoning a detriment to area

Dear Editor:

The recreational opportunities provided by our parks and forest preserves are a unique resource of Morton Grove and its residents. The Carl L. Gardner & Associates Comprehensive Village Plan (9/24/59) commissioned by the village to guide the growth and development of our community recognized this resource and recommended that Central ave. (Harms rd.) between Dempster and Golf be zoned for residential development. This concept has been upheld twice since by previous village administrations: first in denying a rezoning request from a major oil company which wished to build a service station at the intersection of Central and Church and later in restoring the property occupied by Bix's Bit & Bridle supper club to residential zoning when the club went out of business. This property, bounded by Luna, Harms and Central was subsequently developed with single family homes. Similar treatment was understood as regards the riding stable complex south of the intersection of Central and Golf, that is, the property would revert to residential zoning should the stables go out of business. Meanwhile these stables provided a useful and necessary service for users of the network of bridge paths in the adjoining forest preserve and were compatible with the forest preserve and with the neighboring residential area which was subsequently developed. A second study, commissioned in 1979, took note of the fact that two stable buildings were structurally deficient and recommended their removal. Additionally, the study report observed that the northeastern stable is poorly maintained and recommended that this condition be corrected. The village agency with the legal authority to implement this recommendation was either unable or unwilling to get the stable owner(s) in question to comply and the property has continued to deteriorate. The third stable at the south end of the complex on the other hand has been maintained to village standards by its owners and the buildings and grounds are kept in good condition.

If you believe that this area should continue to be recreational and residential in character, please contact members of the Village Board and the Plan and Zoning Commission and ask them to deny the requested rezoning change from residential to commercial. Further, encourage the administration to enforce existing Village ordinances with respect to the operation and maintenance of the stable complex. If the present operators are unable or unwilling to comply, perhaps they can be encouraged to sell to operators who will, finally, indicate to board members your willingness to continue to support the long term benefit of having this recreational resource in Morton Grove rather than sacrifice it for questionable short term increases in tax revenues resulting from commercial development of the property claimed by its promoters.

The village administration is now considering a request by a commercial developer to change the zoning of the stable area from residential to commercial. If it grants this request, the administration will turn its back on the established precedents which upheld the recommendations of the Gardner study. It will reward the stable owner(s) who have allowed their property to deteriorate to the point of becoming a village liability and penalize the residents of the area who have complied with village requirements. It will cause this picturesque area to be scarred by a four story office building and adjoining four tiered parking garage jutting out of the trees and congesting the area with additional traffic. This will create a situation in which the stable owners to the south, confronted with this commercial nuisance, will no longer be able to operate and their stable which, in turn, will be replaced by yet a third four story structure.

If you believe that this area should continue to be recreational and residential in character, please contact members of the Village Board and the Plan and Zoning Commission and ask them to deny the requested rezoning change from residential to commercial. Further, encourage the administration to enforce existing Village ordinances with respect to the operation and maintenance of the stable complex. If the present operators are unable or unwilling to comply, perhaps they can be encouraged to sell to operators who will, finally, indicate to board members your willingness to continue to support the long term benefit of having this recreational resource in Morton Grove rather than sacrifice it for questionable short term increases in tax revenues resulting from commercial development of the property claimed by its promoters.

Tucker thanks voters for backing

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Republican voters of the 56th District for choosing me as their candidate for the State Legislature and to pledge to all of you that I will wage a vigorous campaign in the upcoming election.

It took the hard work of many people to amass the 57% vote plurality. I am deeply grateful to each and every one of them. It would be impossible to recognize them all here by name.

Special thanks go to my campaign committee, chaired by Joan Dechert, for their dedication and many hours of hard work; to Representative Penny Pullen (R-55) for her advice, support and efforts on my behalf; to Committeeman Phil Raffe, Deputy Committeeman Dee Conroy and the Captains of the Maine Township Regular Republican Organization, who produced over 60% of the vote; to the volunteers in Northfield and New Trier Townships who produced vote totals which were more than 15% greater than our projections; to the volunteers in Niles Township whose hard work produced 56% of the vote; to Sue Janson, for her many hours of hard work and her generosity; and to Dick and Nancy Dunbar for their fruitful efforts in recruiting volunteers and their hours of work.

To all of the above and the many I cannot mention, THANK YOU!

Approves of Blase's use of public employees

Dear Editor:

Private sector accounting makes appropriate adjustments for Shareholders that use Company inventory for personal purposes. Public servants are entitled to same use of P.W. labor and material on a re-imbursement basis.

We want Niles to be represented by the very best. A Mayor from a nice home and a luxury automobile represents the village in a professional manner. The Mayor is the symbol of the last best hope of earth.

By your Politicians are ye known. We must take great care and pains to supply as our representatives men of wisdom, the scarcity of such men in public office is unfortunately the greatest weakness of our nation.

We have resided in Maine Township for 17 years and appreciate the services of P.W., Police, Fire and the Chicago water supply. We are in a business world and when business is badly organized, everybody suffers. When business is efficiently organized, everybody benefits.

DIGEST
BY
GARY M. LAMANTIA, D.D.S.

When a child loses a deciduous or "baby" tooth prematurely, your dentist may recommend that the child wear a space maintainer.

A space maintainer is a dental appliance that acts to hold open the space previously occupied by the lost tooth. They are usually made of plastic or wires, and they may be either removable or cemented into place. The space maintainer only has to be worn until the permanent tooth starts to come into the mouth.

Without the use of a space maintainer, teeth already in the mouth may shift position, causing problems in the alignment of teeth. In addition, the proper eruption of permanent teeth may be hampered. This could lead to orthodontic problems for the child which are more difficult to correct.

Home Improvement TimeHome remodeling advice

"This Old House" Master Carpenter to Answer Questions Norm Abram, Master Carpenter from the popular PBS home renovation series, will give home remodeling advice to visitors at the 6th Annual Energy & Home Improvement Fair scheduled April 4-8, at the Arlington Park Race Track Exposition Hall. He will also present slides showing "This Old House" history and projects.

Following each formal presentation he will answer specific home remodeling questions. For more information and tickets, call: Tower Conference Management Company at 462-5360.

Batteries

Most homeowners keep one or more flashlights on hand for possible emergency use. However, all too often when the need does arise, the batteries are dead or nearly so. Keeping spare batteries on hand in a drawer or closet is not always the answer since batteries deteriorate with age, even when not used. However, one way to prolong their life is by storing them in a refrigerator. Colder temperatures slow up the aging process. They can be preserved almost indefinitely if stored in a freezer, but they will have to warm up above freezing before they will return to full strength.

Energy & Home Improvement Fair

The 6th Annual Energy & Home Improvement Fair, featuring over 500 exhibits, will be held April 4-8, at the Arlington Park Race Track Exposition Hall.

The Fair is both a "home" show and a home improvement show. On display will be all the decorative and aesthetic items and services as well as those major items that typically fall under the heading of "home improvements" - remodeling, energy improvements, additions, patios, landscaping and hundreds of other categories.

New this year at the Energy & Home Improvement Fair is a Lawn, Garden and Patio section - highlighting this will be special floral and garden displays. The entire area has been designed by a landscape architect and will feature a full size swimming pool and deck, commercial displays and family entertainment.

Many special attractions are scheduled for the 1984 Fair that will significantly add to the information obtained from the exhibitors. These include:

*Norm Abram, master carpenter from the popular "This Old House" TV series, will give several presentations on various aspects of home remodeling. *The Independent Contractor's Association of Illinois has organized a Speakers Forum, Answerman Tables and a Little Theatre - all designed to provide personal, accurate information on specific questions or problems. *A fully landscaped and furnished model home places heavy emphasis on energy savings and affordability. *Mrs. Fix-It, Beverly DeJulio of WBBM radio, will make regular appearances each day to offer practical advice on every day home care problems.

Skylight Lights Naturally

A skylight is one method homeowners can use to lessen their reliance on artificial indoor light. Skylights with double-domed acrylic, says APC Corp. of Hawthorne, N.J., minimize glare and excessive heat gain while providing lots of balanced, natural daylight.

Ways to Conserve Energy:

To cut water costs, check for leaks at the sink, in the shower, in the toilet tank.

Be sure and wash only full loads in your dishwasher or washing machine, and don't forget to install water-saving devices in your toilet tank and shower.

"House of the Future"

ITT's "House of the Future" was awarded the grand prize in the first International Design Competition held recently in Osaka, Japan. The house designed by a team of 24 students, is a "kit-of-parts" that allows it to be adaptable to individual housing needs. Its features range from a robot that vacuums the rugs and picks up discarded clothing to a sophisticated computer system that warns residents against break-ins and fires.

The "House of the Future" will be on display at the 6th Annual Energy & Home Improvement Fair, April 4-8, at the Arlington Park Race Track Exposition Hall.

For additional information and tickets call: Tower conference Management Company (312) 462-5360.

Saving energy: expert advice available

Saving energy is no longer a "patriotic option." It is a "pocketbook necessity" for every homeowner.

But where does the homeowner begin? With literally thousands of energy-saving products and services on the market, which ones are really needed? And, just as importantly, who can be trusted to install them?

To assist homeowners with these, and other energy related issues, "The Energy Professionals" was formed. It is a voluntary cooperative of qualified energy conservation service contractors all of whom are members of the Independent Contractor's Association of Illinois.

The Energy Professionals will be at the 6th Annual Energy & Home Improvement Fair, April 4-8, at Arlington Park Race Track Exposition Hall, to discuss energy questions and problems one-on-one with Chicago's homeowning.

Discount admission tickets to the Energy & Home Improvement Fair are available from Sears home improvement departments, Dominick's Finer Foods, True Value and Saxon stores, many banks and savings & loans.

For more information, contact the show organizer: Tower Conference Management Company (312) 462-5360.

Inventory the pantry

Inventory of pantry cabinets should be taken every few months to improve access to food and use of space, notes the Ed. Services Department of Tupperware. Here are some suggestions to help you organize your pantry:

- Cereals need to be kept dry and stored to keep out dust and insects. Transfer contents to tightly sealed containers of the proper size, and store in a cool, dry place away from sunlight. Label clearly. Stored this way, cereals will keep fresh 2 to 3 months; spaghetti and rice, a year. Some plastic storage containers for cereals have a convenient pouring spout.

- Whole grain flours need refrigeration in a tightly sealed plastic container to keep from going rancid.

- Brown and seasoned rice keeps only half as long as plain white rice. Eat the fancy rice mixes within a few months.

- Teas and coffees which come in paper packages should be transferred to plastic containers sealed tightly to retain flavor and aroma. Keep coffee in refrigerator, cocoa and tea in a cool cupboard.

- Dried peas and beans need sealed plastic containers to keep out insects and dust, and to keep them from spilling onto the shelf. Crackers need a tightly sealed container to stay crispy and fresh. You can find plastic cracker-keepers that will hold both square and tube packs of saltines.

Repair sale furniture

Sometimes that bargain you got at a garage sale doesn't look quite so good when you get it home. You have a place to use it, but repairing it really isn't worth a lot of your time. Say there is a crack or a hole that goes right through the top of a table and you don't want to reconstruct the top. Cover the bottom of the crack or hole with masking tape. Then fill the gap with Elmer's Wood Filler, leaving just enough extra filler to allow for sanding flush when dry. Wait 24 hours, remove the masking tape and sand the top.

Clean your gutters

First order of spring is to clean the gutters of leaves and branches which have collected over the winter. Check the joints of the gutter with the house and fill gaps with a water-resistant, paintable caulk such as Elmer's Butyl Caulk. Hint: look at spot to be repaired and cut an opening in the nozzle of the caulk cartridge to the size of the gap. To keep unused caulk from drying, screw on a solderless connection (the little plastic cap used by electricians to join wires).

Become more energy conscious

To find out how conscious you are of how you use or lose the energy that heats your home, experts have developed some questions to help you discover if you are an energy-saver.

Do you have your heating equipment seen by a reputable heating specialist before the start of each heating season? It could reduce your heating bill as much as 10 percent and save the discomfort and expense of a winter breakdown.

Do you inspect heating ducts annually for leaks? Repairing them with a quality duct tape will help put heat where you want it.

If your home has zone heating, are your thermostats set for the activity of the area? Use higher temperatures in bedrooms, study and living areas, lower temperatures in the kitchen, sleeping and less active areas.

Do you reset your thermostat higher than needed? Don't. Your furnace will not produce heat any faster.

Lawn, Garden & Patio section at Home Improvement Fair and much more. This special section adjoins the full size, completely furnished and landscaped model house. Also included is a full size swimming pool and deck - again, completely landscaped.

Discount admission coupons to the Energy & Home Improvement Fair are available from Sears home improvement departments, Dominick's Finer Foods, True Value and Saxon stores, many banks and savings & loans.

House for sale? If your real estate broker suggests a lock box on your house for keys so that other brokers may show it, be aware that a prominently displayed lock box is an advertisement that the house is probably empty. Keep box out of sight. And keep valuables in a safe deposit box while strangers are being shown through.

Don't leave a house key, vehicle title, or any other identification in your car when you park. That makes it too easy for a thief to rob your home.

As soon as you pay off the loan on your car, let your insurer know. (Your lender will probably supply a form.) Then the insurance company can remove the loss payee name and avoid potential claim payment problems in the future.

Aluminum storm windows can reduce energy loss

HEATING AND COOLING accounts for half the energy used in the average home. Aluminum storm windows retain expensive heat inside your home as well as complement your home exterior.

Heating and cooling accounts for half the energy used in the average home. If your windows have only a single layer of glass, expensive heat may be seeping out of your home. One way to retain your expensive heat is to install aluminum storm windows.

Energy gets through a window in one of two ways: infiltration (leaking through cracks) and conduction (heat or cold travels through solid objects such as a pane of glass or a window frame). A storm window provides a second barrier, raising the resistance to conduction and reducing infiltration. The two panes of glass also trap a layer of air between them which acts as a good insulator.

Complement Home

Aluminum storm windows come in a variety of styles and are custom made to fit all types of windows. The most popular type of storm windows are multiple track units. They are installed on the outside of your prime windows and the frame includes a separate track for each of the sashes and a self-storing screen.

When combined with aluminum siding, soffits, fas-cias or gutters, aluminum storm windows can provide a smart and economical finishing touch to your home.

To further increase your savings, storm windows are eligible for a 15 percent federal income tax credit up to the first $300 because storm windows are considered an energy-saving home improvement.

Capture that solar energy

Want expanded living space and better energy conservation without bankrupting construction costs? A do-it-yourself sunspace — an updated version of the florist's old greenhouse — can provide multi-purpose living space, capture dollar-saving solar energy, and not send you to the poorhouse.

"Like plants that grow into light, people grow into the light, airy sunspaces — soon making them the home's favorite spot," explains Lee Stanley, director of design at Solar Additions, Inc., Cambridge, New York.

Attach to Homes

Solar Additions' customized pre-assembled and do-it-yourself sunspaces attach directly to homes on their own foundations. The outside wall of the home becomes the back wall of the new room. Facing south, slanted glass on the sunspace brings in solar heat that a variable-speed thermostat-controlled fan can spread throughout the home on cold days. A roof overhang or external sunshades can block out the summer sun. Insulation seals in winter heat and blocks out summer warmth.

Room lengths range from 13 to 28 feet with a popular depth of about 12 feet.

For free information write Solar Additions, Dept. P, 15 Main Street, Cambridge, NY 12817.

Lock security into your home

No matter where you live or what type of dwelling you have, security is a major concern for today's homeowner. A visit to a local hardware or specialty store will provide an idea of the wide variety of locks and other safety devices available. In general, cylinder locks provide the least security, while a rim lock is sufficient against most tampering. In most cases, however, the deadbolt lock provides the most protection.

According to the new Ortho book, "How to Replace & Install Doors & Windows," installing a deadbolt lock is as easy as following the manufacturer's instructions. A deadbolt assembly consists of a shaft of hardened steel that, when turned by a key or knob, enters a hole drilled through the door jamb and into the trimmer stud behind it. The manufacturer's specifications will determine the size and depth of the hole into the trimmer stud.

Place the deadbolt above the doorknob so it is centered along the door edge. If the deadbolt does not fit into the hole completely, check that it is not hitting the strike plate and that the hole is deep enough.

One final thought about deadbolt locks. If you use one which requires a key, fire officials recommend that you keep the key hung near the door. In case of a fire, this will make it easier to locate the key.

Trees and shrubs in your landscape

To receive the most pleasure and comfort from any house beautification project you need to plan in advance. The same applies to trees. To appreciate the real and aesthetic value of the largest and oldest living thing in nature, you need a plan.

Trees and shrubs are one of the most important elements in your landscape plan, says John Schwarz, President of the Illinois Landscape Contractors Association. Knowing how to select trees and where to plant them can make the difference between a beautiful home setting and chaos.

Decide initially what function you want a tree or shrub to perform. Trees can provide shade, protection, borders and background around the home. For example, if you need shade against searing summer sun, place large trees relatively close to the house on your plan. However, if you want to provide depth to your property, use a variety of large, medium, and small trees judiciously placed at the sides and rear.

Keep in mind the size and shape of a tree when it becomes mature. A tree may be small when it is planted, but within a few years it will grow to a larger size. Beauty with groups of trees can be achieved when you plan for the tree's ultimate size at planting.

With your landscape plan in hand, the next step is to select varieties that enhance the setting of your home. Basically, there are two types of trees, deciduous and conifer. Wise use of each will bring color to your property in every season of the year.

Deciduous trees lose their leaves in the fall. They dominate the Chicago area because the climate is ideal for their growth. In many communities you will find gigantic specimens of Oak, Maple, Ash, Sycamore and others which have lived for centuries. Selecting these kinds of trees for your property continues a Midwestern heritage.

The Morton Arboretum at Lisle says deciduous trees can be classified by annual growth, shape and size. The chart shows examples of various trees as they appear 10 years after planting. All trees shown here grow well in Northern Illinois. Use this guide in determining which tree should be planted and the location of the tree in relation to other aspects of your overall exterior decoration.

Conifers, or what are commonly called Pines, are trees that remain green year-round. The leaves on these trees are the needles. Since conifers are not native to the Chicago area, landscape contractors advise good site selection to achieve the best visual results. Over use of conifers destroys the natural look. Judicious planting can give depth, beauty and color to your property.

Shrubs are like small trees... both deciduous and conifer. Generally, shrubs are maintained so they don't exceed 10 feet in height. They also should be an integral part of your landscape plan. A word of caution, however. Select shrubs that accentuate the lines of your home. For foundation planting, avoid pyramidal and columnar shrubs between windows or round, pin-cushion shrubs in rows across the front.

Where do you find trees to fit your landscape plan? The Illinois Landscape Contractors Association suggests contacting nurseries, garden centers or a professional landscape contractor. Each has a wide selection of plantings. Their knowledge of tree varieties, selection, and planting can be a sound investment for your home. If you would like a listing of members of the Illinois Contractors Association call or write their association: Illinois Landscape Contractors Association, 2200 S. Main Street-Suite 301, Lombard, Illinois 60148, (312) 932-8443.

Your landscape plan for trees and shrubs is important. Use it in selection and deciding on the planting location. Remember, the determination of a tree variety hinges on the effects desired and the factors of natural elevation and exposure that the tree requires.

Use degree-days to judge efficiency of heating system

How efficient is your home or apartment heating system? According to the Chicago-area Piping Industry Fund, the best way to tell is to compare your fuel use with the degree-day pattern for the Chicago area.

Degree-days indicate how much more—or how much less—fuel your home or apartment building should use when compared to a normal winter day for this area.

The colder it is outside, the more fuel an inefficient boiler or poorly insulated building will use to maintain comfortable temperatures. The Fund warns that you can't simply look at your fuel bill, since fuel prices vary from year to year; instead, you must look at the amount of oil or gas or electricity you used.

Just what is a degree-day? It is a practical measure of the outside temperature range as it compares to standard 65 degrees. This standard is based on the fact that most homes, with normal insulation, don't require additional heat until the temperature drops below 65 degrees.

The U.S. weather bureau establishes the degree-day figure by taking the average high and low outside temperatures for the day, and subtracting this figure from 65 degrees. For example, if the outside high was 50 degrees and the outside low was 30 degrees, the average would be 40 degrees—and this would be a "25 degree-day."

You can use monthly degree-day totals to judge changes in the efficiency of your heating system and home or apartment insulation. This is done by comparing energy use per degree days for a current month with the per degree-day use during a previous month. For example, in relatively mild November, 1983, there were 630 degree days in Chicago compared to 729 for a normal November. In December, the coldest December ever here and throughout the country, the weather bureau recorded 1,487 degree-days compared to a normal 1,119. In January, there were 1,374 degree days compared to a normal 1,311 for that month.

Your monthly fuel use should show the same pattern as the degree-days reported. Also, if it was proportionately higher in energy fuel use per degree day in December relative to use per degree-day the other two months, this is a sign of trouble. Chances are your heating system has become inefficient, or there is too much heat loss around doors and windows and through walls—or both.

If this is the case, you should have your system and your building evaluated by an experienced mechanical contractor.

The Piping Industry Fund is an information agency maintained by more than 400 Chicago-area mechanical contractors. For a list of experienced mechanical contractors in your area and a copy of a free brochure, "How to Select a Mechanical Contractor," contact the Piping Industry Fund, 1530 Merchandise Mart, Chicago, IL 60654 (312) 670-6756.

Aluminum siding minimizes maintenance

Just as the coming of spring is predictable, so is the frequent repainting of your home. Aluminum siding can reduce the time-consuming task of repainting as well as save money for years to come.

The main advantages of aluminum are durability, versatility and quality. Unlike wood siding, which requires repainting every two to four years, the baked-on or laminated finish of high-quality aluminum siding is warranted to last decades. Aluminum siding will provide clean, strong lines and vibrant colors for many years.

Aluminum, though one of the lightest structural metals, is also very strong. Because of this, aluminum siding withstands harsh weather conditions, including extreme temperatures and high winds, without cracking, chipping or peeling.

Once you have re-sided your home with aluminum you have minimized expensive future maintenance. Aluminum doesn't require scraping, priming or painting. The only maintenance your siding may require is occasional spraying with a hose to remove accumulated dirt.

Variety of Colors

Aluminum siding also offers the versatility of finishes. It comes in a variety of colors to suit any type of architecture or personal preference. The colors of aluminum siding vary from pastels and deep reds, to blues, greens, browns, and earth tones or white.

In addition to numerous color choices, aluminum

ALUMINUM SIDING provides an attractive and durable finish to your home exterior. It will withstand harsh weather conditions, including extreme temperatures and high winds, without cracking, chipping or peeling.

siding has a wide range of styles (vertical and horizontal siding, shakes, etc.) and can be obtained in many different panel widths and embossed textures, from smooth to a grained texture that resembles rough-sawn wood. To complete the exterior decoration of your home, aluminum offers a complete line of accessories such as soffit and fascia, gutters and downspouts, shutters, coil for custom window trim, awnings, railings, and even columns.

For more information on aluminum siding, write for a free booklet, "A Homeowner's Guide to Choosing Siding," from the Aluminum Association, Department SM, 818 Connecticut Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20004.

Remember safety when reroofing

Safety first is a good rule whether you simply putter around the house on weekends or are a skilled craftsman with lots of experience.

When it comes to replacing the roof over your head, safety is vital. Since it can be a difficult and hazardous job, reroofing generally is not regarded as a do-it-yourself project. But, more and more homeowners are considering reroofing themselves as a way to save money.

If you are one of them, advises the Asphalt Roofing Manufacturers Association, don't go ahead with reroofing until you can honestly say that you can do the job as well as a professional, are willing to devote the time and effort to getting the job done right, and feel comfortable working at heights.

Both organic-based and the newer fiberglass-based asphalt shingles are suitable for installation by competent do-it-yourselfers. They offer beauty, durability, low maintenance, fire safety and ease of application. Shingles with a fiberglass base offer Class A fire protection.

High roofs or those with steep slopes, lots of angles, gables or dormers should be left in the hands of a professional roofer. Roofs with slopes of four or five inches per horizontal foot are safest and easiest for do-it-yourself application. When the roof slope is less than four inches per foot, special application procedures are recommended. For flat roofs, use built-up roofing installed by a professional contractor. The pitch of a roof is determined by measuring how many inches it rises for each foot it runs.

Should you decide to handle reroofing yourself, be sure to heed the following safety precautions:

- Wear construction-type shoes with rubber soles for secure footing.
- Secure ladders top and bottom and do not let them come in contact with power lines.
- Place shingles and tools where they won't slide off the roof. Keep the roof surface clean of debris and keep people away from the work area.
- Lift only light loads.
- Apply shingles on clear days when it is warm, but not hot.
- Do not reroof in wet weather or when the temperature is below 40 degrees.
- Reroof only when the roof deck and the shingles are dry. Moisture makes roofs slippery and dangerous.

For more information, send 50 cents for a copy of "A Homeowner's Guide to Quality Roofing" to ARMA, Box 3248, Grand Central Station, N.Y. 10017.

Experts provide remodeling tips for today's families

When it comes time to remodel, keep in mind that the kitchens in most of today's homes were designed for the traditional family consisting of a stay-at-home mom, working dad and at least two children.

But the fact is such traditional families now are in the minority. What is more common is the family where both parents work and there are fewer children in the home.

This is a good thought to keep in mind when planning to remodel the kitchen. Maytag, which recently entered the cooking appliance field, has published a booklet on how to get more efficiency out of existing kitchens and how to plan new kitchens that work better.

Called "Kitchens for Today's Living," the booklet focuses on ways to save both human and mechanical energy. For example, it suggests that an automatic dishwasher is one of the most labor and time-saving appliances available. But if the dishwasher is located in the wrong place, or if it is an older model that doesn't do the job, then the appliance becomes an inconvenience rather than a convenience.

A common mistake in dishwasher installation is locating the unit adjacent to an angled corner sink, making it impossible to stand in front of the sink and load the dishwasher.

It is important to follow manufacturers' recommendations with respect to the operation of the appliance. Dishwashers need to be loaded to take full advantage of their capacity. For example, one model can take full-size plates in both the upper and lower racks. If a dishwasher is not loaded properly, it can result in poor washing action, requiring a re-wash of the entire load, and time and energy wasted.

An automatic dishwasher uses an average of 11-16 gallons of hot water for each complete cycle. Stud-

Who's There?

Next time the doorbell rings, don't be surprised if it's Rover wanting to come in or Tabby wanting out.

Consisting of a pair of scratch-plates mounted on either side of the door, the pet doorbell is activated when the plate is pushed or scratched.

FINDING THE BEST LOCATION for a dishwasher can increase the convenience of this human and mechanical energy-saving appliance, according to The Maytag Company. A common mistake in dishwasher installation is locating the unit adjacent to an angled corner sink, making it impossible to stand in front of the sink and load the dishwasher. The location of the above dishwasher illustrates one solution to this problem.

ies show that this is less hot water than would be required if dishes were washed by hand.

Some dishwashers offer the option of a low-energy wash cycle for handling loads that are normally soiled. This cycle includes a main wash and two rinses and thus minimizes the amount of water required to do the job.

Another energy-saving tip is to allow the dishes to air-dry in the dishwasher, rather than power-drying the load.

For more ideas on saving energy and designing kitchens in keeping with today's lifestyles, send $1 to: The Maytag Company, Consumer Information Center, Dept. 209YG-SC, Newton, Iowa 50208.

Need insulation? Hire a contractor

If you would like to add insulation to your home, but have neither the time nor the inclination to do it yourself, you can hire an insulation contractor to do it for you.

There are several ways to find one. Ask your local utility. Look in the Yellow Pages under "Insulation Contractors — Cold & Heat." Or, ask friends and neighbors.

Get estimates from each contractor based on experience, the quality of the material to be installed and the price of the job, advises the Mineral Insulation Manufacturers Association. Be sure the contract specifies the R-value of the insulation to be installed. Insulation is rated by R-values. The higher the R-value, the greater the insulating power.

The Sky's the Limit

Skylights offer a wide range of products which fit most houses in any architectural design. The correct model for different roof styles, color selections, illumination requirements and other features are explained in an 8-page booklet from APC Corp., a leading manufacturer of skylights. For a "Selector Guide to Skylights," send 50 cents to Skylights, P.O. Box 8356, Haledon, N.Y. 07508.

Durability and Style Should Be Siding Considerations

When shopping for a siding material for your home, don't let cost alone be the determining factor, says the Vinyl Siding Institute. Durability and attractive styling should also be considered.

Solid vinyl siding, for example, not only adds to the value and beauty of the home, but it should pay for itself by providing years of durable, low-maintenance service.

TAKE-ANYWHERE FIRE FIGHTER FOR CONSUMERS. The world's first aerosol portable fire extinguisher is now helping homemakers, travelers and motorists fight the two and one-half million U.S. blazes that claim 8,000 lives, injure 30,000 people, and cause $6.4 billion in property damage every year. Flam-X, a six-by-three inch unit weighing less than a pound, sprays out solid fuel, electrical, chemical fires via double jets of Halon 1211—a liquefied gas that cools, smothers, and extinguishes. You pull off a yellow child-proof safety ring and press a yellow discharge button to spray Halon. After putting out the flames, the Halon evaporates quickly and completely with no messy residue on furnishings or surroundings. Flam-X has a 10-year storage life and requires only an annual check to make sure it still weighs almost a pound. You dispose of empty Flam-X containers like any aerosol can. "Widespread use of portable fire extinguishers can make enormous inroads in the nation's alarming fires statistics," says Jack Chase, president of Flam-X USA, Hampton, VA. For free fire-prevention advice literature, write Flam-X USA, 1734 West Pembroke Street, Hampton, VA.

Understand energy jargon

R-value: R-values measure the resistance to heat flow. With insulation, the higher the R-value, the greater the insulating power. Generally, R-19 is the suggested R-value for side walls in the average home, and R-30 is advised for the attic floor.

U-value: This is the opposite of R-value. It measures the ability of a material to conduct rather than resist heat flow. Hence, the lower the U-value, the higher the resistance. U-values are used to measure the energy efficiency of windows, for example.

BTU: BTU means British Thermal Unit and is a measure of heat. A BTU is the amount of heat required to raise the temperature of one pound of water one degree F. One BTU is the equivalent of the heat generated by burning a single wooden kitchen match.

KWH: This stands for kilowatt hour and is a measure of electric energy equal to 1000 watts of electricity used steadily for one hour.

Automatic lighting saves energy

The fact that automatic lighting helps increase homeowner security and convenience is nothing new.

From the first mechanical timer versions, several years ago to the latest advanced, electronic push-button models, homeowners and apartment dwellers have turned to these economical lighting devices for two primary reasons: 1) to maintain a "lived in" look while away from home to discourage would-be burglars, and 2) for trouble-free assurance that lights — indoors and outside — are on or off as desired.

Today, though, a few light controllers offer a third important benefit — significant energy cost savings — according to the experts at Pittway Corporation, maker of First Alert's new Automatic Light Control.

Automatic lighting has

Asphalt Shingles Provide All-Weather Protection

Asphalt has long been known for its waterproofing qualities. As such, its use in roofing shingles provides excellent weather resistance.

always provided time-regulated control — one way to save money since lights are never left on unnecessarily. However, a few of today's newer models are equipped with light-dimming capabilities, like First Alert's Automatic Light Control with touch dimmer. This feature adds a new dimension to home energy costs savings for two key reasons: 1) light dimming can save up to 50 percent of the electricity cost of a fully illuminated bulb, and 2) dimming a bulb increases its life expectancy at least 100 times, significantly reducing the number of bulbs one must purchase over time.

Home economists often refer to seasonal energy cost-saving tips — how to stay warm for less during the winter and cool for less during the summer. Automatic light controls with dimmers combat the rising price of home energy year-round.

Besides the protection afforded by the asphalt, today's asphalt shingles are also coated with mineral granules to protect them from the sun's drying rays and to give the shingles color.

FNBOS Cancer benefit bake sale

Each year the employees and staff of the First National Bank of Skokie bring in their home-made baked goodies and offer them for sale to other bank employees, bank customers, passersby, and other sweet-toothed parties who come to the bank.

The employees' table of goodies that brings in the largest return gets to select which local charity will receive the entire proceeds of the sale.

In 1984 FNBOS employee Kay La Croix, who worked in the check files brought in a scrumptious

Black Forest cake and a tray of goodies called Yankee Doodle Dandies. The combination brought in the largest return so it was Kay's choice as to where the bank's bake sale monies were donated. She chose the American Cancer Society and is shown above presenting the check to John Schellinger, Treasurer of the North Shore Unit of the American Cancer Society and incidentally a commercial banking officer of the First Illinois Bank of Evanston.

Bank installs Cash Station teller

John C. Gloyd, assistant vice president of the First National Bank of Morton Grove, makes an automatic transaction at the bank's new Cash Station 24-hour teller.

The new service results from the bank's joining the Cash Station network. Customers taking advantage of the new service can do a majority of their banking at these and 170 other Cash Station automatic teller locations in the banks, shopping malls, train stations, office buildings and other convenient sites.

All First National Bank of Morton Grove customers with savings, checking or NOW accounts need only complete a simple application to apply for the new service. Customers using the service can make cash withdrawals, transfer funds between savings, checking and NOW accounts, deposit cash or checks and request balance inquiries 24-hours-a-day at any automatic teller with the Cash Station name. The First National Bank of Morton Grove is located at 6201 Dempster st.

Cragin offers 9.75% adjustable mortgage

Cragin Federal has lowered its basic adjustable mortgage loan (AML) rate to 9.75%, guaranteed for the first year. Although it may change annually up to 2%, the rate is tied to the traditionally stable Cost of Funds Index and will never exceed 15.50% during the loan's 30-year term.

"The Cost of Funds Index is one of the most stable and slowest moving indexes, because it reflects a consolidated average of savings costs from hundreds of associations," said Adam Jahns, chairman and president.

In contrast, the Prime Rate Index fluctuated more than 4% between 1980 to 1984, topping 20% in 1981, while the Cost of Funds Index changed only 1.5% during the same time, and is currently 8.63%.

The 9.75% rate applies to one- to four-unit owner-occupied properties. A 10% down payment is required.

Cragin offers two other AMLs with first year rates of 10.5% and 11%, and a fixed-rate mortgage locked in at 12.75% for a maximum 15 years.

A $200 application fee and 3% closing costs apply to these loan programs.

Cragin Federal operates five Regional Lending Centers: Chicago, 889-1000; Mt. Prospect, 437-7850; Schaumburg, 884-1000; Itasca, 773-0800; and Wheaton, 668-3600.

Franks leads Demon tennis into new season

The tennis begins Monday, April 2, with the Demons traveling to Niles North and then hosting Notre Dame on Wednesday, April 4, and senior Bob Franks will play a key role for the Demon team and Coach Art Belmonte.

Bob's tennis career goes back far before his high school days. When the Morton Grove native was nine-years-old, his father introduced him to the game. Bob then began with group lessons at the Tam Tennis Club. As he progressed, his family saw the need for more personal instruction so Bob started private lessons. By the time he was eleven, Bob had entered his first tournament.

Soon after this tournament, tragedy struck. While skiing in Wisconsin, Bob broke his leg. This set back the progress of the young prodigy. Through rigorous conditioning, the tough young neter fought his way back. In a little over a year, this gutsy kid was at full strength once again. "The doctors told my parents that I probably would never run properly again. I sure showed them a thing or two," reflects the 5' 10" senior.

In order to heighten his tennis abilities, Bob attended Camp Menominee in Engle River, Wisconsin, one summer. There, he played for an average of five hours a day. "Camp certainly helped my game," Bob recalls.

When the '82 tennis season began, Bob once again started to concentrate on his court game. Playing number three singles on the sophomore team as a freshman, Bob recalls one of his best memories. "In a meet against Maine West, I lost the first set and was down 4-0 in the second. I came back to win that set and dusted off the three and one-half hour match in the third set. Then I found out that our team had won the meet and that I had been the deciding match. That was one of the happiest moments of my tennis career."

In the near future Bob is looking forward to the tennis team's meets against New Trier and Glenbrook North. "These are the two best teams that we face. Of course, I'm looking forward to these meets," he stated. Farther in the future, the senior hopes to play tennis for the team at Arizona State. "Professional tennis doesn't interest me, but I'd love to play in college," added the dedicated player.

Whatever the future holds, Bob Franks is certainly dedicated to strive for success.

Notre Dame track and field teams

Notre Dame High School for Boys, Niles, track and field teams traveled to Warren High School March 16 to meet Warren and Lake Zurich High Schools in a triangular meet.

The varsity team was defeated by Lake Zurich and Warren. Final score was Lake Zurich 61, Warren 57, and Notre Dame 31.

Dave Bestler, Park Ridge, won the pole vault competition with a jump of 11 feet 6 inches and freshman Len Sitko, Morton Grove, won the varsity 1600 meter run in a time of 4 minutes 57 seconds to set a new ND freshmen indoor record.

The Frosh/Soph team defeated both Warren and Lake Zurich with a final score of Notre Dame 64, Lake Zurich 57, Warren 32. Freshman Jack Ahern, Mt. Prospect, won the long jump and the triple jump competitions. Freshman Mike Ortiz of Chicago, tied the freshmen indoor high jump record with a jump of 5 feet 4 inches to win the high jump.

Matt Bestler, Park Ridge, won the pole vault and ND's sprint relay team of Matt Stevens, Niles; Mike Ortiz, Chicago; Al Macin, Evanston; and Amender Alahambra, Evanston, won the 4 lap and 8 lap relays. The 2-mile relay team of Steve Strauch, Chicago; Rich Sloan, Park Ridge; Pat Delaney, Skokie; and John Nussaine, Wilmette won the 28 lap relay.

The Dons open their outdoor season Monday, April 9 vs. Carmel.

The track team is coached by Head Coach Bruce Donash, Asst. Frank Riley, Asst. Rich Ryan and Asst. Mike Burke.

Houlihan to be North Athletic Director

Niles North High School Principal, Dr. Galen Hosler, announced that Frank Houlihan, a Niles North dean of students, will be appointed as the high school's new Director of Athletics and Physical Welfare. Mr. George Baptist, currently Niles North's athletic and physical welfare director, will retire in August.

In addition to his responsibilities as a dean, Mr. Houlihan also serves as assistant basketball coach, assistant football coach and assistant principal of the Niles Township summer school. He has also been head football coach and freshman gymnastics coach as well as director of the Letterman's Club.

A graduate of Loras College, Mr. Houlihan has a master of science degree from Northern Illinois University and has completed additional graduate work at Chicago State University and Northeastern Illinois University. Mr. Houlihan expressed his feelings about the announcement in a statement today. "Having been in athletics all my life," he said, "I look forward to the great opportunities of working with the coaches and students at Niles North. My goal is to maintain our excellent program here."

Mr. Houlihan and his wife, Peggy, live in Palatine with their four children, Sean, Frankie, Erin and Thomas. He is a member of the National Safety Council-Illinois, the High School and College Driver Education Association and the Illinois Football Coaches Association.

Harlem Irving presents Spring Fashion Showings

Harlem Irving Plaza welcomes Spring '84 during its Fashion Showings Saturday, March 31, 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Sharon Sorensen, fashion coordinator for Yves Saint Laurent' and Rive Gauche, is coordinating and commentating the shows which take place in the north court of the center located at Harlem Ave., Irving Park and Forest Preserve Dr.

"The Spring scene is clean and uncluttered", commented Sorensen. "The best looks are simple, modern, and suggest a great sense of freedom. The latest news in the Spring fashion perspective is in the change of proportions, remarked Sorensen. Cropped tops are featured, skimming the waist to highlight the fuller, longer skirts and high-waisted cropped pants. Bigger, bolder jewelry accents and balances to finish this total look."

"Additional highlights this Spring are in fabric, with cotton and linens being important. There are new shapes, weights, textures, and color combinations. Natural is Now! Many shades of neutrals are sparked with vibrant brights to create this exuberant and upbeat season", continued Sorensen. "The bottom line...we invite you to choose from a presentation of many total looks and discover what will really work for you and your lifestyle!"

Northi musicians present Spring concert

Niles North High School symphonic band and orchestra students will combine to present a free concert on Wednesday, April 4, at 8 p.m. According to orchestra director Arnold Sklar, "we will herald spring with some of our most beautiful compositions, and we sincerely hope that many friends and neighbors of Niles North will put this concert on their calendars."

The symphonic band, under the direction of Elton Eisele, will open its presentation with the Overture to "Candide" by Leonard Bernstein. In a lighter vein, the band will play a spoof on a popular band leader entitled "Lawrence Milk Plays Guy Lombardo," and close its program with a "Symphonic Suite" from "The Right Stuff," by Bill Conte, who is also famous for the "Theme from Rocky."

Three favorite symphonic compositions will highlight the concert orchestra's program. They include a Scherzo from Dvorak's "Seventh Symphony," the first movement from Schubert's great "C-Major Symphony," and the last movement of Mozart's "Jupiter Symphony." Selections from the beloved musical "The King and I" will complete the program.

The concert will take place in the Niles North auditorium. The school is located at 9800 N. Lawler, Skokie, just west of Old Orchard Shopping Center.
