Niles Park tax levy below 5 percent

by Sandra Zarembski

The Niles Park Board in its Tuesday night heard its proposed tax levy, which will be reviewed and approved by the board in September, will not exceed the 5% which would require a public hearing. The amount of the expected small tax increase is to be determined by the board in its September meeting. In her report, Board vice president Mary Marusek also stated the equalized assessed valuation of $375,891,061 was very close to what had been an-

in category with satellite dishes

Special use category for solar panels

The Niles Village Board voted to put solar panel installations in a special use category at their Tuesday night village board meeting. Trustee Angelo Marcheschi cast the only dissenting vote telling his fellow board members he felt "there was no correlation between satellite dishes and solar panels." Marcheschi added, "Energy costs are getting out of hand in this country and an individual should not have to go through a hearing because he wants to cut his energy costs."

Mayor Nick Blase told Marcheschi, "We are telling the

The sale of the Lerner newspapers makes The Bugle the oldest family-owned newspaper in Niles Township. The Pioneer newspapers were sold this past year to Marshall Field. It's the second time they've been sold in the past six years. The News, which had served this area for more than 40 years, closed shop last year.

We'd like to be a bit humble and write we've been lucky through the years. Since our debut in 1967 no other community newspaper in the north and northwest suburbs has been created and then survived these years.

The "humble lucky" bit is a bunch of baloney. We've survived because of a bit of butt busting. Last month we filled in for an absent employee by working from seven at night until three in the morning. That was after working the regular day shift. For the next two weeks we'll be driving the truck filling in for a vacationing driver.

The key for the little guy to make it against the big boys is to do something they don't do. We have a much larger circulation in the Niles-Morton Grove-East Maine area and our local coverage is far superior to the other out-of-the-area papers which drop off token circulation in our area.

Two alarm fire at Republic Molding in Niles

An early morning fire at a Niles manufacturing company caused thousands of dollars in inventory damage and the Niles Fire Department had to call for a second alarm upon their arrival on the scene. The blaze at Republic Molding, 6330 Touhy ave. was called in to the Niles Fire Department at 8:07 a.m. Tuesday morning, according to Duty Chief Gordon Michalson. The company does injection molding of plastic products.

Michalson said the fire started in a storage area of warehouse products and materials in the south end of the building. Materials were packaged in cartons which were stacked in a room with a 30 foot ceiling making it very difficult to reach the source of the blaze. The actual flames from the fire were extinguished by the company's sprinkler system, according to Michalson, but the smoldering continued and the only way to be sure the fire was struck was to

Speaking of the library...

by Duncan J. McKenzie
Niles Library Administrator

Since you and I can read this newspaper, we can consider ourselves lucky. There are thousands of people who have difficulty reading small print. You probably know one of them, perhaps a parent, grandparent or even a child. For those individuals with vision problems, the library can still be a resource for informational, recreational and inspirational reading.

Today's libraries have special services for the visually handicapped. At the Niles Library, they range from special print materials to a combination of machines and print or machines and tapes. All of which are available to anyone with vision problems.

For some, reading the printed page is difficult. It can result in headaches caused by the strain of reading too small of print. When this is the case, we recommend "large print books." These books are complete and unabridged copies of the same books read by others. The advantage is that the print is greatly enlarged for easy reading. The large print book collection, located on the library's second floor, includes fiction and nonfiction: mysteries, inspirational reading, popular works, cookbooks and biographies. To keep this collection current, we maintain standing orders with three publishers for everything they print, and we have just started receiving the Harlequin Romances in large print.

Our Visual/Tek machine, donated by the Niles Lionsess Club, is another aid for those who cannot read small print. This piece of equipment is much like a video camera and a television screen. The user places a book, newspaper or magazine under the camera, and the image is greatly enlarged on the television screen. This machine can also be used by the visually-impaired to read and write letters or sign checks. Anyone is welcome to use the Visual/Tek, and our staff is available to assist with first time use of the machine.

For those who are unable to read any printed materials, we offer the Library of Congress Talking Books Program. Persons who are legally blind or who cannot read because of physical disabilities can receive special cassette and record players designed to play recorded books and magazines. After registering for the program, patrons receive a monthly catalog of new materials from which to order. Equipment and materials are mailed directly to the patron's home, postage free, and the patron returns them by mail, again free of charge, when finished. Cassette and record players are on permanent loan to participants of the program, and are also repaired for free.

For joint use by both sighted and blind patrons, we offer a truly special set of materials from our Children's Library. These books, designed to be used by a child and a friend, are printed stories with full color illustrations and clear plastic braille overlays. They allow a child and a friend to share a story together. These books were presented to the library by the Woman's Club of Niles and have become so popular that the Library has continued the subscription to this special series of books.

Reading can still be a source of enjoyment and inspiration for those with vision problems. The generous gifts of the Lionsess Club and the Woman's Club of Niles have helped us to provide special services to the visually-impaired. You can help, too. If you know of anyone needing these services, please let them know that the library stands ready to assist them.

Seek 66% increase in main tax rate

Niles residents to vote on library tax hike

Dist. 207 offers community meeting space

Seeking to find creative ways to serve citizens who no longer have children in school, Maine Township High School District 207 will make meeting space available to community organizations beginning with the fall semester.

"Although some community organizations have long depended on schools in District 207 as a place to hold meetings, we hope our new program will encourage people to think of the Maine high schools first when they need a place to meet," said James Elliott, Superintendent. The first organization to take advantage of the new program is the Kiwanis Club of Park Ridge which will begin holding its board meetings in the Ralph J. Frost Administration Center September 2.

"As enrollment in District 207 diminishes, so does the number of adults with children in school. Until 20 years ago, when a majority of Maine Township residents had children in school, today the situation is reversed. Since the best relationships are built by serving people as customers, I believe that we must position the school district as a service organization for the whole community," said Elliott. "Providing meeting space is one way we can do that."

For information about scheduling meetings in any of the three Maine Township High Schools, call Karen Larsen, director of information and publications at 696-3600.

Niles residents living in the Niles Library District will decide this November whether to raise the library's main tax rate by 66 percent.

The Library Board voted to add to the November ballot, at their August 13 board meeting, a referendum seeking the tax rate increase.

If the referendum passes in November, Niles residents in the library district will get a raise of approximately $32 to $54 if they own a $75,000 home.

One dissenting voter on the Niles Library Board, Margaret Rajski voiced her objection to the hike. She told the board she felt the passage of the referendum would do nothing to alter the spending policies of the board. Rajski's dissenting vote drew criticism from her fellow board members. Board member Myles Dimand gave Rajski a chance to change her mind by calling for a second vote from the board, but Rajski refused to change her position. Board member Charlene Wagner chided Rajski for her opposition by stating, "How can you vote against something we need so desperately?"

Board member Myles Dimand initiated the board's action by presenting them with a petition containing 137 signatures to put the referendum on the November ballot. The referendum would raise the tax rate from 15 cents to 22.9 cents per $100 assessed valuation. The Board then voted to change the rate from 22.9 cents to 25 cents fearing the lower rate would only confuse the voters. Dimand told the board this vote by Niles residents would give the library guidance as to the residents' feelings. Dimand said, "We want a first class operation in our library and the people will let us know what they want by their vote." Without the added revenue, alternatives would be to close the branch library and cut many of the library's services. The passage of the referendum would allow these projects to remain and in addition, the library employees would be able to receive a salary hike and the book collection would be updated and increased.

In other actions at the meeting, Library Administrator Duncan McKenzie presented figures to the board for a new security system. He added it would be to the library's advantage to purchase the security system since $19,200 worth of books have been stolen during the past 2 years. The system would involve Dimand giving Rajski a chance to change her mind by calling for a second vote from the board, but Rajski refused to change her position. Board member Charlene Wagner chided Rajski for her opposition by stating, "How can you vote against something we need so desperately?"

The board also gave its final approval to the $1.45 million budget for 1986-87. This budget represents a decrease of 16 percent from last year's budget. The savings were the result of the library finishing its payments on the main library expansion.

The two teams battled back and forth for seven innings, with the kids coming up a winner 22-21. ## Danny Thomas honored at ALSAC Convention

"Welcome Home, Danny" — a tribute to Danny Thomas — will be the theme of the 29th ALSAC/St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Convention, October 9-12 at the Hyatt Regency Chicago. ALSAC is the fund-raising arm of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis, Tennessee, which Thomas founded in 1962.

The highlight of the convention will be a black tie banquet after which Thomas will perform his original 5100 Club routine. During the late 1930's and early 1940's, Thomas played nightly to standing-room-only crowds at the night club, named after its address on North Broadway in Chicago. Bolstered by the enthusiasm of his Chicago fans, Thomas went on to become a national celebrity.

In "welcome home Danny," ALSAC will honor Thomas' humanitarian efforts on behalf of the hospital. To recreate the mood of the era, a 24 piece orchestra will play the Big Band sounds.

In addition to the Saturday night dinner, other convention highlights will include an October 10 luncheon fashion show sponsored by Saks Fifth Avenue, Jewels by St. Clair and Revillon Pears, and hosted by Chicago celebrity Oprah Winfrey. Workshops and other social events are also planned.

because the amount is substantially below the appraised property value. The property will be placed on the market again. Anyone interested in the property should contact Arft at the Village Hall.

The Board approved Arft's recommendation to accept a bid of $100,000 from Tony Garippo for 6310 Lincoln Ave. Arft said, "it is a good bid for this property considering its present condition, need for maintenance and the limited off street parking." Arft added although the bid is lower than the appraised value, rejection of the bid would cause the village to spend at least $20,000 to maintain the property in order to secure a higher bid at a later date. It was in the board's best interest to accept this bid.

The funds to obtain affordable liability insurance coverage is virtually non-existent. Provisions need to be made by the village to provide some form of self-insurance program. The village is currently a member of the Illinois Municipal League Risk Management Association. The village has looked into the Inter-governmental Risk Management Association (IRMA) as an alternative pool and found that money can be saved without reducing coverage. A meeting to discuss IRMA and other options will be held at 4:30 today (Thursday) at the Village Hall. The public is welcome.

Oriole pool...

Resident Leslie Palace stated if the guarantee is given to keep the pool open and make the necessary repairs, she would vote for the referendum. Many of the other attendees at the meeting stated the same.

The board, therefore, made a motion to keep Oriole Pool open and make all repairs if the referendum is passed. The board passed the motion.

The priorities the board will follow if the referendum passes are:

- 1) Pools/Community Center repairs and utility costs. Some fees may be reduced.
- 2) Replace equipment and make repairs at the district's 13 parks.
- 3) Replace district vehicles.
- 4) Increase staff salaries and/or hire new necessary staff.
- 5) General repairs and improvements.

The board emphasized the importance of passing the referendum in order to make these and other necessary improvements to the park district.

Other concerns that were expressed dealt with neglect to the west side of Morton Grove and unnecessary spending by the park district.

I Bet You Didn't Know

By Jim Jennings

Here's an amazing college football fact. . . In the last 97 YEARS Notre Dame has had only 6 losing seasons. . . The only seasons when Notre Dame lost more games than they won, from 1883 through 1985, were in 1833, 1956, 1960, 1963, 1981 and 1985.

Did you know that 2 of the biggest upsets in college football history, based on predicted points, happened last year. Oregon State, a 38-point underdog, beat Washington 21-20 on Oct. 19, and Texas-El Paso, a 36-point underdog, beat Brigham Young 23-16 on Oct. 26.

Here's an unusual oddity that happened once in big league baseball. . . The SAME pitcher led the National League in wins AND in losses the SAME year! . . . In 1979, pitcher Phil Niekro won 21 games, which were the most by any pitcher in the league—but he also lost 20 games that year to lead the league in most losses. . . That was the first time that ever happened in major league baseball.

Baseball fantasy comes true

A baseball nut since the age of 5, Gerry Meyers, 51, of Skokie, realized his life-long fantasy of being a major league player over the weekend. He won the chance to attend Randy Hundley's Baseball Camp and play ball with Cub hero Fergie Jenkins and Ron Santo through the Jays Sports Fantasy Sweepstakes, August 14-16 at Wrigley Field.

Niles Nuggets semi-pro baseball team

The Nuggets, sponsored by the International House of Pancakes by Golf Mill, have finished their season with a 24 win - 13 loss record and earned second place in the Greater Illinois League. We will remember this year's team long after the umpires have stopped shouting, "play ball". The Nuggets had 2 games televised on cable (next year we hope to have 3 games televised), we had a wonderful time at the first annual old timers game (first year Nuggets against current team), and the Nuggets were excellent ball players that gave us an exciting season. Niles can be proud of the way this team represented the community.

The last three games were league tournament play-off games which included the top teams in both the south and north divisions of the Greater Illinois League. The Nuggets lost in the championship game against the Northbrook Hornets 2 to 1, but earned their second place title.

In the first tournament game, the Nuggets beat the Westchester Knights 9 to 4. Lee Newlan pitched very well and had excellent control of the game at all times. Lee is our original Nugget player and has been the backbone of the team since it was started in 1981. This has truly been the finest year on the mound for Lee. He has been and will always be the person we count on. Mitch Rubin was swinging a hot bat going three for three with a single, a triple and a home run, collecting 2 RBI's and scoring 3 times. Mort Schufreider and Mike Starshak had 2 singles each. Our other 3 singles came from Mike Fraunhofer, Severo Pedrosa and Jim Berg. The Nuggets came ready to play and win!

The Nuggets played the first of two games on Sunday, Aug. 3 at Notre Dame against the Clippers. We had played against the Clippers many times during the season, but this game would determine who would go into the championship game. The Nuggets chalked up a decisive 19 to 12 victory. Lee Lenderman, a very nice addition to this year's team, did what he had to do to insure the Nugget's victory against the Clippers! Both teams were hitting the ball hard, but the Nuggets crossed home plate more often. Tom Kessler, we call him Wheels, had himself a super day hitting 2 singles, a double, and a home run and collected 6 RBI's! Lee Newlan, Len Asquini and Severo Pedrosa were swinging hot bats, each of them hit 3 singles. Mike Fraunhofer spread his hot hits out with a single, a triple and a home run. Jim Berg had a screaming single and a smash in the gap between left and center for a home run. Mitch Rubin and Mort Schufreider each had 2 hard hit singles and Mike Starshak rounded it off with a single. Every team member hit, ran and scored. The Nuggets were hot, they won and they went into the championship game for the first time in 5 years!

The Nuggets travelled to Maine East to meet Northbrook for the game and what a game it was! Rob Babikian pitched his best game of the season, striking out 2 and allowing the hard hitting Northbrook team only 5 hits. Rob rose to the occasion! The Nuggets scored first in the third inning when Len Asquini singled to right center, Lee Lenderman bunted him over to second and then Lee Newlan hit a smashing single to drive Len home. Tom Kessler followed with a single, but Northbrook proceeded to shut us down with a double play. The Nuggets held on to the lead until the bottom of the sixth inning when Northbrook hit 3 singles in a row, scoring one run. We held them until the bottom of the eighth when they squeaked one unearned run across the plate. What a well played game it was! This game was an excellent example of what a championship game should be. We are very proud of the Nuggets sportsmanship, integrity, loyalty, talent and dedication. These young men have done their best for themselves, their families, their teammates, the community, and we thank them. We never lose it, but maybe it's time for you to catch some of that Nugget Fever too!

THE BUSINESS PICTURE

Real estate jargon needs translation

Every trade or profession has its own jargon—words and phrases that insiders understand but are a foreign language to most others. It's hard enough to learn the meaning of words used by one profession, but those buying, renting, insuring, remodeling or building a home will have to translate lawyer-speak, builderspeak, bankspeak and real-estatespeak, into something they can understand.

They will encounter modern-day Tower of Babel. What is most frustrating is that the real estate person, lender, builder and architect are all speaking English but they give familiar words meanings that have no relation to what we would expect.

For instance, if a "kicker" conjures up a vision of a soccer player or a goal post with a football sailing through, that is not what it means when the person using the term is a landlord or lender. To these people it means an extra charge in addition to the rent or principal and interest.

For instance if a store is rented for $1,000 a month, the landlord may ask for a "kicker" of three percent extra for all the business you do over $30,000 for the month. A lender for an income property might add a "kicker" that gives him a portion of all rents over a certain dollar amount.

Boiler plate does not refer to the wall of your furnace when you are dealing with those involved in law or real estate. Boiler plate is the pre-printed form that contains most standard clauses for the type of contract, lease or mortgage that you will be asked to sign. Before you sign the boiler plate contract, the names of those involved and other specific details will be added.

When the landlord wants an escalator, he isn't asking for a moving stairway to take him to the second floor. He means that he has inserted an escalator in the lease that will raise the rent at intervals during your tenancy.

Bridge financing is for people who will never own a roadway over a river. It is an interim loan until a longer term loan is provided. For instance, a person selling one house and buying another may need to borrow money for a down payment and closing on his new home, if his former dwelling has not yet been sold and paid for. Or a builder may need construction money until he sells a house.

Lintels are not used for soup. Lintels are beams over open spaces in your walls such as doors, windows or fire places. They spread the weight from above over a longer span and decrease the pressure on the door frame.

Neither Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac are college friends of your husband. Fannie Mae is the nickname of Federal National Mortgage Association and Freddie Mac is Federal Home Loan Mortgage Association. Both buy mortgages from lenders so that they have money to lend to other people wanting mortgages.

Points are not the tips of arrows and spears, although they too can hurt. To a lender or a borrower, points are a percentage of the amount to be borrowed that is paid to the lender to increase his profit. Each point is one percent. For instance four points on a $50,000 mortgage would be four percent of $50,000 which is $2,000. This is in addition to whatever interest is being charged.

Although you might suspect that a party wall is a place to lean during conversation at a cocktail party, to a builder it is the common wall between two buildings. Ante to a lawyer is not money put in a pot during a poker game. Ante is simply Latin for "before". This is one of many cases in which lawyers use unfamiliar Latin words and phrases in place of familiar English words. Cynics have suspected that it is to force you to go to a lawyer to decipher contracts prepared by another lawyer.

To help people translate this, sometimes incomprehensible, jargon the Consumer Education Research Center has just compiled a dictionary of over 3,000 words and phrases you need to know to buy, rent, lease, insure, mortgage property.

Homeowners and Renters Guide to the Language of Real Estate, Banking, Law and Building is $4 from CERC, 439 Clark St., South Orange, N.J. 07079.

There are literally hundreds of common English words which don't mean the same things to these professionals as they do to you and me. For instance, a balloon to a lender is not for celebrating. And when it comes due, a balloon usually does not make a borrower joyful. A balloon is a final payment on a loan that is much larger than regular payments. In order to keep their commitment to a short period, a bank may arrange a five year loan calling for 59 payments of $800 and a last payment of $60,000. The borrower is expected to renegotiate another mortgage for $60,000 with the banker or another lender. Many times this is due when mortgage money is tight or the borrower's credit rating has been tarnished and the balloon cannot be refinanced. Result? Another home for the sheriff to sell at the auction.

If you find a bird dog at your door, don't call the ASPCA. She is a canvasser trying to get "Leads," which could result in real estate listings or home improvement sales.

A shoe to an architect or builder is a moulding used at the bottom of the baseboard and a heel is part of a vertical framing member which rests closest to the floor. If you need strings, those are the side pieces that support the steps. Tendons are the materials used to reinforce concrete, such as cable or wire. Oh yes, a sole owner of property might have bought it on a shoe string (little money down).

A kite winder won't help you keep that high flier in the air. To a builder or architect, a kite winder is those few steps that take you around the curve in a stairway.

You may think that Mother Hubbard is a woman, a dress or a cupboard. Not in the mortgage business. To them, Mother Hubbard is a clause in a loan agreement that allows the lender, in the case of default, to foreclose not only on the mortgage but on any other collateralized loan they own.

A builder keeps a light in the window, sometimes six lights. A light is one section of glass in the window sash. A weep hole isn't where you cry when the mortgage payment comes due, it's a hole in the siding that permits moisture to leave the home. Prescription in lawyer language is acquiring a property through adverse possession. A parcel is a piece of property.

Don't be upset if your daughter has a few studs in her room. You do too. Those are the studs that go from the floor to the ceiling inside the walls. Don't call the navy about the sub base outside your home. Sub base is the gravel or stone under your driveway or patio.

Robert L. Berko, executive director of CERC says that if there is to be a "meeting of the minds" (definition in the book) between you and any or all of the above professions, you must know what they are saying. This book will translate their insider's jargon into English.

Interesting Facts From John Jennings

Irving Berlin wrote the song "God Bless America" in 1918—but it was never sung in public till 1938; thus one of our most famous songs sat in a drawer—unsung by anyone—for 20 years.

Why is the Vatican called "Vatican"? It was built in a section of Rome known for years before as Vatican Hill.

Only one U.S. President ever earned a doctorate degree—Woodrow Wilson.

The highest land in Florida is only 345 feet above sea level—while the LOWEST point in Colorado is 3,350 feet above sea level.

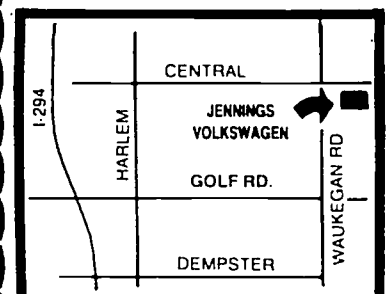

Although William & Mary College sounds like a co-ed school, it took from 1693 to 1918 before women were admitted there.

And, here's another interesting fact...

Kalish named manager of Willoughby/Elrod Realty

The appointment of Sharon D. Kalish as manager of the Niles office of Willoughby/Elrod Realty, Inc. has been announced by Florence R. Bubes, executive vice president of the firm.

The Niles office is located at 8660 Milwaukee ave.

Kalish, a resident of Morton Grove, has established outstanding sales records since she joined Willoughby in 1983. In her first year, she sold more than $1.5 million in real estate and $2 million her second year. Thus far in 1986, her volume exceeds $2 million.

A native of Chicago, Sharon Kalish attended Von Steuben high school, where she sang in the choir, served as class secretary and was a member of numerous clubs. She then attended the University of Illinois.

Kula reaches $25 million mark

Sheila Kula, who has been "Salesperson of the Year" for four of the past six years for Willoughby, attributes her success to her creed of being people-oriented.

Kula, a resident of Skokie for 10 years, works out of the Willoughby/Elrod office at 4027 W. Dempster, Skokie.

Sheila Kula became interested in the real estate field when she worked as an executive secretary with another firm. She noted that women could do very well in real estate, and was determined to become a licensed salesperson. Her husband, Robert, encouraged her and has been an inspiration and driving force in her success.

Kula obtained her real estate license before joining the then-Willoughby Realty, Inc. in 1979. In her first year, she attained the award of "Salesperson of the Year." She has since repeated that feat in 1983, 1984, and 1985. Thus far this year she has attained a volume of $2,000,000.

Kula has sold everything from single-family residence to large apartment buildings, often in six figures, to individuals and investment groups.

Million Dollar salesman

Basil (Bill) Paoulos led ERA Callero & Catino Realty to another record month for home sales in July by personally being involved in over One Million Dollars worth of property sales during the single month. The real estate boards normally give awards to salespeople who do this amount of business in an entire year.

Basil (Bill) Paoulos

ERA Callero & Catino has been consistently setting new sales records through both 1985 and so far in 1986, in both residential and commercial transactions.

Century 21 sales maintain record pace

Home sales totals for the month of July were slightly ahead of last year's record figures, according to figures released by Roger Peake, regional director for Century 21 Real Estate Corporation of Northern Illinois.

Total sales dollars for July 1986 were $270,093,144, a 7.63 percent increase over the $250,951,300 recorded in July 1985. The July 1986 sales dollars total was recorded on the sale of 3,384 homes, a .56 percent increase over the 3,365 homes that were sold in July of 1985.

The number of closings completed in July rose dramatically. A total of 3,768 closings were recorded for July 1986, an increase of 26.4 percent over the 2,981 closings recorded in July of last year. "We are seeing a loosening of the large backlog of paperwork that had built up during the first half of this year," Peake noted.

Both total sales dollars and the number of homes sold by Century 21 of Northern Illinois in the first seven months of 1986 established new records. A total of 29,425 homes have been sold through the first seven months of this year.

Bethany Methodist Terrace residents vital to community

What does Ed. Debevik's Restaurant, the Oprah Winfrey Show, Luau, Cubs Games, Brookfield Zoo, Italian Fest, Cantigny, Western Picnic, and the Golf Mill Shopping Mall all have in common? They are all scheduled activities for the residents of Bethany Methodist Terrace, 8425 N. Waukegan Rd., Morton Grove.

The staff at the Terrace believe that each resident of the long term care facility is a vital member of the community. Residents are encouraged and supported to become involved in activities both inside and out of the facility.

One example of this is the Morton Grove Advisory Commission on Aging. The Commission recently received a $600.00 donation from the Bethany Methodist Terrace Resident Council. The Council, comprised of residents of the Terrace, donated the money to help offset the cost of the Remote Control Flashing Light System, an emergency light that signals help needed by disabled people in their homes.

"Terrace residents are an important part of this community. They are delighted to help seniors and disabled younger citizens with this donation," says Julie Davidson, Director of In-Service Education at the Terrace and also Chairperson of the Morton Grove Advisory Commission on Aging.

Many Terrace residents take advantage of the Maine Niles Special Recreation Association Day Camp. They participate in programs and classes one a week for six weeks in an outdoor camp.

"Getting out and meeting new people has made it easier to accept living in a nursing home," says Jeanne Heller, resident of the Terrace. "I don't feel alone or like I'm the only person with a handicap." Ms. Heller has been attending the Maine Niles Special Recreation Day Camp for the past seven years.

Last March, the Glenview Methodist Church invited Terrace residents to participate in Palm Sunday Activities. "Our residents led the procession down the aisle to the altar," says Rhoda Kliphardt, Director of Volunteer Services. "The residents were an integral part of the festivities."

This summer a bus load of Terrace residents made their debut in the Morton Grove Fourth of July parade. The Terrace bus-called the Voyager - was transformed into a red, white, and blue float called the Bethany Beacon. After the parade, Marge Eggleston, a Terrace resident, said, "We're going to do this again next year because we had such a darn good time!"

Bethany Methodist Terrace was established in 1965. The 275-bed skilled and intermediate long term health care facility is certified for Medicare and Blue Cross and is licensed for residents as young as 18.

Bethany Methodist Terrace is a division of the Bethany Methodist Health Care System which includes Bethany Methodist Hospital, a 220-bed general medical and surgical hospital located at 5025 N. Pauline St., Chicago; and Bethany Methodist Home, a 289-resident retirement complex located at 4950 N. Ashland Ave., Chicago.

Health care for the elderly

Health care for the elderly will be the focus of Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan's Second Illinois Senior Citizens Leadership Conference to be held at Sangamon State University in Springfield next Monday through Wednesday (Aug. 18-20).

The last conference, held at Sangamon State in 1984, resulted in legislative and other advances for the state's senior citizens, including a new law prohibiting discrimination against Medicaid recipients by nursing home owners.

The 1986 conference will address health concerns that include the Medicare system, HMO's, rights of nursing home residents, long-term care insurance and the cost of health care.

Hartigan will open the first session at 2 p.m. on Monday, Aug. 18 in Brookens Auditorium on the SSU campus.

Following one day of workshop sessions, a general (plenary) session of delegates will be held from 9 a.m. to noon on Wednesday Aug. 20 to adopt a set of resolutions. A Senior Citizen Leadership Council also will be selected to ensure that the resolutions are addressed by the appropriate governmental bodies.

"Health care in the United States is going through major changes," Hartigan said. "Seniors are having a tough time keeping abreast of all the developments. I am pleased that discuss with seniors the health issues they themselves find most crucial."

Seniors interested in the conference can call the Attorney General's Citizen Advocacy Division, toll-free, at 1-800-243-5377 in Chicago or 1-800-259-2518 in Springfield for more information.

In recent weeks, a series of pre-conference caucuses were held throughout Illinois. Delegates present at those caucuses will be in attendance at the Springfield Conference.

Among participants will be representatives of the American Associations of Retired Persons. The National Council of Senior Citizens, the Gray Panthers and community leaders from across the state who deal with senior citizen issues.

Eye care project targets elderly

The Illinois Eye Care Project, a statewide program for the disadvantaged elderly, is bringing medical eye care at no out-of-pocket cost to hundreds of older Americans who otherwise might have had to go without it.

Program officials announced today that 31 percent of patients seen so far had never had an eye exam until they called the toll-free Helpline for a referral to one of the program's volunteer eye physicians.

The Illinois Helpline, at 1-800-222 EYES (3937), has been operating since April 14. Complete nationwide service begins today, when New York City joins the computer network.

Through the toll-free number, operating weekdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in all time zones, U.S. citizens and legal residents age 65 and over can obtain medical eye care and information. Callers who have medical eye problems, but who don't have an ophthalmologist or haven't seen one in the past three years, are eligible for eye care at no out-of-pocket cost to them.

"We know we're reaching our target population when nearly a third of these patients have never had an eye examination," said Bernard B. Gawne, Jr., M.D., president of the Illinois Association of Ophthalmology, which is sponsoring the program locally.

The program is designed to reach older Americans who are vulnerable to blinding eye disease due to lack of finances, medical insurance, or information about eye disease, Dr. Gawne, Jr. said. From three to five percent of older Americans are not covered by Medicare, and many cannot afford deductibles and copayments they might incur, he added.

Patients without Medicare or other insurance will receive care at no charge. For those who have coverage, participating ophthalmologists will accept insurance as payment in full for their services, without billing copayments or deductibles.

Since the Helpline opened, 4,445 older Illinois residents have called for eye care or information. Of the callers, 3,054 - 67 of whom have no insurance - have been referred to local volunteer ophthalmologists for examination and treatment. Of these, 52.3% are being treated for cataracts, 11.7% for macular degeneration, 4.4% for glaucoma, and 2% for diabetic retinopathy.

"This is not just a one-time service," Dr. Gawne, Jr. said. "These ophthalmologists have agreed to see patients who need sustained medical care for as long as necessary to treat the conditions diagnosed in the initial exam."

When a person calls 1-800-222-EYES, computers match the caller with a physician as close to the patient's home as possible. The patient is mailed the name of the volunteer physician, and then schedules an appointment.

If hospital care is required, ophthalmologists work with local hospitals to make care available. (Hospital charges, eye glasses and prescription drugs are not paid through the program.)

Patients who are eligible for Medicare but not enrolled will be mailed information on how to get coverage. Those who call the Helpline but are ineligible for treatment will be mailed a brochure describing eye diseases of the elderly and their warning signs.

The National Eye Care Project is cosponsored by the Foundation of the American Academy of Ophthalmology and ophthalmology societies in all 50 states. It is supported by voluntary donations from ophthalmologists, contributions from ophthalmic companies, and a grant from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation.

The program is the recipient of the President's Citation Award for public service programs. President Reagan himself has described the program as an example of "volunteerism at its finest—one group of Americans offering care to another."

The National Eye Care Project has been endorsed by many organizations, including the American Association of Retired Persons, Kiwanis International, the National Association of Area Agencies on Aging, the American Hospital Association, the National Council on Aging, and the Opticians Association of America.

Residents of Friendship Village celebrate the "Good Life"

The residents of Friendship Village of Schaumburg are pleased to announce the celebration of their 10 Year Anniversary beginning in January 1987.

They will be paying tribute to the unique lifestyle that has made Friendship Village a Model Retirement Community. They are particularly proud because they, as residents, have played an integral part in the growth. They have been actively involved in enhancing every facet of life in the community - with special care to protect the active, independent lifestyle which is so important to them.

Residents of Friendship Village live on 45 beautifully wooded acres. Within the "Village", they have access to a convenient store, a bank, a gift shop, beauty and barber shop, a well-equipped woodworking shop, and a fabulous dining room with flexible meal time hours. Housekeeping, linen service, UPS, and prescription delivery service are also provided. The residents even have their own polling place right in the Village.

The residents are happy to report that the comfort, convenience, and services offered provide them with ample time to travel and engage in stimulating and creative accomplishments. Many Village residents still work full or part time or pursue volunteer work in the community. Still others keep busy with the many club groups and social organizations within the Village. There are classes, seminars, activities of all kinds. The residents also enjoy frequent entertainment and taking interesting trips across town and across the country. There is always time to entertain friends and relatives as well.

The residents of Friendship

Village have expressed their appreciation for the employees through the establishment of an Employment Christmas Fund and a Scholarship Fund for the staff and their children. They have formed a welcoming committee for new residents and take charge of book reviews, travels, and art classes. Every year the Women's Organization of Friendship Village holds a Christmas Bazaar. Last year they made over $13,000! The majority of the funds go to local service organizations and special Village extras such as the baby grand piano they recently donated.

As the residents will tell you, they have come to Friendship Village not to retire... but to enjoy life to the fullest.

After ten years the residents of Friendship Village still celebrate the beginning of the "Good Life".

Using Medicines Safely: A Message For Older Americans

The same medicines that we take to cure our illnesses, speed up our recoveries and make us feel better can cause serious health problems if not taken carefully. Medicines work only when people use them as directed and coordinate them properly with what they eat and drink and with other medications they are taking.

Due to the quantity of medicines they take, the difficulty of taking them as prescribed, or the effects of the drugs, older Americans have a greater problem complying with their medicine schedules than the overall population. Because older Americans generally take more medication than other age groups, they also run a particularly high risk of problems resulting from interactions among drugs. Forty percent of the people who encounter adverse reactions from taking multiple drugs are over 60.

There are many easy steps older people can take to learn more about their medicines and how their medication schedules should be followed. The most important thing we can do is talk to our doctors and pharmacists and listen to their answers. When your doctor prescribes a new drug, be sure to tell him or her what medicines you already are taking, including over-the-counter remedies such as aspirin, laxatives, antacids and so forth. This will help ensure that your new prescription does not react adversely with other drugs you are taking.

Find out the name of the new medicine (both the brand name and the generic name) and ask what it is supposed to do. Ask what foods or beverages you should take it with and what foods, drinks or activities you should avoid while you are on it. Find out if there are likely to be any side effects and, if so, what they may be and what you should do if you get them. Tell your doctor about any adverse reactions or allergies you have had to medicines in the past.

To have their intended effect, medicines must be taken at certain intervals in certain strengths. Follow your doctor's recommendations and schedule for taking your medicine. If you have trouble taking your medicines as directed, whether because of an inconvenient schedule, hard-to-follow instructions or just an expensive prescription, let your doctor know. He may be able to make your treatment easier to follow or prescribe less expensive drugs. Don't hesitate to ask if generic drugs are available for your particular needs.

Never stop taking your medicine without talking with your doctor first. Besides not giving you the medical treatment you need, it could also cause problems down the line. For example, if your doctor believes that you're taking your medication properly, when he examines you he may see problems he thought the drug would alleviate. As a result, he may prescribe a stronger medicine than you need. Be honest about your compliance.

The other person who can help you with your medication is your pharmacist. Talk to your pharmacist about prescriptions you are getting, and ask if there are any special instructions for taking it or any special requirements for storage, such as keeping it in the refrigerator. If you are taking more than one medicine, ask your pharmacist about aids to help you organize your medication schedules.

If you find labels hard to read, ask for larger type. Make sure you understand the exact directions for taking your medicines. You should discuss such statements as "four times a day" or "as needed" to understand exactly when to take them. You can also ask your pharmacist to fill your prescription in easy-to-open containers instead of those with childproof caps.

It's a good idea to make a list of the medicines you take and carry it with you. Then you can show it to your doctor and pharmacist when you are getting a new prescription drug or need a recommendation on over-the-counter remedies you may be purchasing. Besides understanding what you are now using, you should take inventory in your medicine cabinet and get rid of old medicines. Throw out all over-the-counter drugs whose expiration dates have passed.

Your pharmacist can tell you how to keep prescription drugs. Take any medicines that are hard to identify to your pharmacist, who can tell you what it is and if it is still effective.

It is important to store drugs in a cool, dark location to preserve their potency. Humidity and heat often can weaken drugs, so avoid storing them in bathroom cabinets or near kitchen stoves.

Be sure to throw away any medicines that friends or family members may have given you. Some people like to share their medication with friends whom they believe have the same problem. While they mean well, sharing medicine is dangerous because people react differently to medicines, even if they have the same condition.

Healthy older people use medicines safely. Make sure your medicines do for you what they are supposed to do: Help you lead a longer, healthier and more active life.

Stress Management lecture at St. Francis

The stress of fighting everyday rush-hour traffic can take its toll on an individual. Stress is a normal part of life, but too much stress can be unhealthy. Stress is the reaction to change. "The more significant the change in a person's life, or the more changes occurring at once, the greater the likelihood of developing a stress related illness," says Dr. Jeffrey Grabenstein, family practice specialist on staff at St. Francis Hospital.

Doctors are becoming aware that stress contributes to the development of hypertension, stroke, diabetes and some forms of cancer. Stress is also considered a primary factor in certain types of digestive disorders, headaches and rashes. When an individual experiences stress the body releases hormones that stimulate the adrenal glands. These glands release other hormones that raise blood pressure, increase heart beat, rush more oxygen to the muscles and release sugar into the bloodstream for quick energy. This is commonly called, "getting the adrenaline pumping" or the "fight or flight" stress response.

"When you are under stress, the body prepares itself for action," says Dr. Grabenstein. "Exercise helps burn off the immediate stress chemicals that are released when a person is under stress. Exercise, however, will not reduce the long-term effects of stress. Muscle cramps, headaches, high blood pressure, fatigue, depression, listlessness and overeating are common symptoms of excessive stress." Dr. Grabenstein recommends identifying the cause of stress. "When the cause of stress is known, the method of dealing with the problem should be evaluated. The golden rules of dealing with stress are: don't worry about small problems; everything is a small problem, and be flexible and adaptable." Dr. Grabenstein concluded.

A free community education lecture titled "Stress Management" will be held September 9, at 7:30 p.m. in St. Francis Hospital's One South Auditorium. Dr. Grabenstein will speak on how to cope with stress and how to identify the symptoms of stress. For more information, call 492-6170.

The Blood Center seeks donors

The Blood Center of Northern Illinois must have about 3,000 units of blood available in its system every day to meet the transfusion needs of patients in 28 neighboring hospitals. We never know when a family member or friend, or even ourselves, may need to receive blood. When it's needed, blood must be available at a moment's notice; then it's too late to recruit blood donors. An adequate supply of blood - every type - must be on hospital shelves every hour of every day.

The Blood Center of Northern Illinois operates donor centers and hosts daily blood drives throughout the Chicago metropolitan area. To schedule an appointment to donate near your home or office, call The Blood Center at 298-9660.

Virtually everyone who is healthy, between 17 and 65 and weighs at least 110 pounds can be a volunteer blood donor.

DRIVE SAFELY- SCHOOLS OPEN!

Kids Do Like School

Moans, groans, and grumblings to the contrary, most children look forward to going back to school in September, says a child psychiatrist at Michael Reese Hospital and Medical Center, Chicago. They relish the change and the new challenges, he contends.

Kids gripe and complain because it isn't "cool" to let their friends think they're excited about going back, says Dr. Sherman Feinstein, drawing on 36 years' experience in research and practice.

"In reality," he says, "at least 85 percent of them are healthy kids with a good capacity for learning. They're curious and enjoy the challenge of mastering new materials and tasks. The average kid has a fairly positive feeling about school."

These kids do look forward to the end of school each June, Dr. Feinstein explains. But as the summer drags on they're ready for a change, and they think about their friends, school experiences, and teachers.

Most children starting school for the first time take the initial separation from their parents in stride, the psychiatrist observes.

"Children naturally must separate from their parents, learn to make friends and operate in groups as individuals. School gives them peers they can relate to and a feeling of belonging to a group."

The 15 percent of schoolchildren who don't like school are those who have problems making transitions, Dr. Feinstein says. They have trouble adjusting to the beginnings of everything, including school.

"It starts when they're very young and continues throughout their lives. These are youngsters who can't tolerate separating from their parents to stay with a sitter, go to birthday parties, visit relatives or friends, or confront any new situation. Often they become irritable, or hyperactive, or throw tantrums."

Dr. Feinstein adds that it's not unusual for the parent of such a child to stay in the pre- or nursery school classroom for weeks or even months until the child is comfortable enough to stay on separation problems serious enough to warrant treatment by a behavioral specialist.

One notion Dr. Feinstein doesn't dispute is that most parents are as happy to see their youngsters return to school after a long summer as the kids are "unhappy" to be returning.

Michael F. Niles

Marine Capt. Michael F. Niles, son of Raymond S. and Antonetta M. Niles of 7646 W. Cleveland St., Niles, recently participated in TRIDENT 1986.

During the exercise, Niles participated with his Italian counterparts of the San Marco Tactical Group in a one day tactical amphibious training exercise and a three day cross training period at the Capo Teulada Training Area on the southern tip of the island of Sardinia.

Niles is currently stationed with 24th Marine Amphibious Unit, Camp Lejeune, NC.

A 1976 graduate of Niles West High School, Skokie, and a 1980 graduate of Elmhurst College, Elmhurst, Ill., with a Bachelor of Science degree, he joined the Marine Corps in June 1980.

Northwestern offers degree program

Northwestern Business College, 4629 N. Lippe Ave., is introducing a new Associate in Business Degree program with a major in Finance and Investment Management. This program is designed to prepare individuals to enter the field of financial management.

Some of the required courses are Investments, Credit and Collections, and Money and Banking. Mr. Thomas Hofmeister, Investments instructor, says, "Those who come in and take the investments course will learn how to increase their personal earnings from investments." General business and management courses round out the 97 credit hour program. An individual may complete the program in 18 to 24 months.

Northwestern Business College offers many Associate Degree programs in various fields of business. The college has financial aid in the form of federal grants and loans for those who are eligible. For information regarding any of the programs call the admissions department at 777-4222.

Computer software aids OCC ESL students

English as a Second Language (ESL) students who desire additional help may take advantage of special computer software available at Oakton Community College.

Four software programs aiding vocabulary improvement are available, as is the "Grammar Mastery" program that can be used for grammar and sentence improvement. Students have been successful in learning and reviewing verb tenses, articles and prepositions using the grammar software. The computer software is available in the Learning Labs at Oakton, 1600 E. Golf rd., Des Plaines and Oakton East, 7701 N. Lincoln ave., Skokie.

Students who desire guidance in selecting software or using the computer may call Mary Ann McKeever, assistant professor of Communications, 835-1920. McKeever also can help students select fall ESL classes in reading, composition and speech.

UNI financial packages available

At Northeastern Illinois University, Pell grants, Illinois monetary awards, the work/study program, and various student loans are financial aid options still available for the fall term. Pell grants are federally-funded awards for undergraduate students which are granted on a needs-based analysis. Illinois monetary awards are administered by the Illinois State Scholarship Commission and are also granted on a needs-basis analysis. Both of these grants are examples of aid that do not require repayment.

Work/study is a federally-funded program that provides money for student employment. The program is administered by the university and is based on financial need and availability of funds. Jobs are arranged through the university's Office of Student Employment. Students can work as much as 20 hours a week, as long as they are enrolled for at least six credit hours per trimester.

Loan programs are an option for students who may not qualify for a grant or work/study, but who still need help financing a college education. These programs offer students an opportunity to borrow money at a low rate of interest from participating banks, credit unions, and savings and loan associations. "Some loans are administered through our financial aid office," said West. "Others are administered through a lending institution, but can be applied for through the university." Student loans currently available include the National Direct Student Loan, and the Guaranteed Student Loan.

West also suggested the possibility of exploring private sources as another option for obtaining funds. Northeastern's financial aid office works with many students to seek this type of additional funding.

Award given to principal

The Independent School Association of Greater Chicago (ISAGC) presented its prestigious Tyskling Award to George Eldredge who recently announced his retirement as Head of the Roycemore Upper School.

The Tyskling Award is given in recognition for Outstanding Service to Independent Education. It was created five years ago in honor of Anna Tyskling who was a leading force in independent schools for over 50 years, with most of her efforts focused on the Harvard St. George School. Each year the Tyskling Award is presented to one outstanding individual who is prominent in the Independent School Association of Greater Chicago.

ISAGC is comprised of over 30 Chicago area schools dedicated to the advancement and promotion of education, learning and culture and to furthering the interests of independent schools in Chicago. Roycemore, an independent, coeducational, college preparatory day school serving students from Pre-Kindergraten through Grade 12, is located in Evanston, adjacent to Northwestern University, and is an active member of ISAGC.

OCC offers microcomputers course

"Database Applications for Microcomputers" (DPR 109), a course offering hands-on instruction in the use of a representative microcomputer database management package, has been added to the roster of fall Data Processing classes at Oakton Community College.

The two-credit-hour course is offered in eight-week modules with two hours of lecture and four lab hours each week. Students may register for the course at Oakton, 1600 E. Golf rd., Des Plaines or at Oakton East, 7701 N. Lincoln ave., Skokie.

Upon completion of the course, you will be able to use a Data Base Management System (DBMS) to create and manage files of data on a microcomputer. You will create the data structures for specific business applications; enter, manipulate and organize the data; issue data queries; use a report generator; restructure files; use the screen for input and output; and establish relationships between multiple files. You will become more aware of the need for back-up procedures as an integral part of data integrity.

Students who register for "Database Applications for Microcomputers" must first successfully complete "Introduction to Microcomputers" (DPR 103), have comparable experience on a microcomputer or consent of the instructor/coordinator.

For further information, call Leona Roen, Data Processing coordinator, 635-1834.

School districts unite on vocational programs

Maine Township High School District 207 has joined with four other township high school districts—Evanston, Glenbrook, New Trier, and Niles and Oakton Community College as a member of NSERVE, the North Suburban Educational Region for Vocational Education, to determine what vocational education programs can be offered jointly in order to best serve both youth and adults in the north suburban area.

Joel W. Morris, director of instruction for District 207, will serve as Maine's representative to NSERVE. Evanston Township High School District 202 will serve as the administering district.

NSERVE grew out of state reform for the delivery of vocational education. During the next two years, the member districts will develop an agreement that will provide for continuity between programs; joint use of facilities, equipment and staff; and cooperation to plan, evaluate and improve programs to serve both youth and adults, as well as meet the area's economic needs.

District 207, as well as other NSERVE districts, offers all vocational programs without regard to race, color, national origin, sex or handicap.

Steppin' Out Caffè Lucci

Excellent Italian Fare
In Northern Suburbs
One of the dilemmas a restaurant reviewer faces is sharing new discoveries.

Our responsibilities include finding and reporting on "sleepers," those dandy places that haven't quite caught on. Yet, we're reluctant to reveal them in fear they might become overcrowded and undermined.

Selfishly, we would like to keep Caffè Lucci all to ourselves. But duty calls and we're obligated to go public with our newfound gem. Sitting quietly at 609 Milwaukee, Glenview, this seductive little spot showed up last November and is on its way toward becoming a premier north suburban stop for upscale Italian dining.

The L-shaped, 85-seat dining room looks more French than Italian. Crisp white tablecloths, fresh flowers, tapestry panels and other neat appointments contribute to the serene, semi-sophisticated setting.

At least partners Joe Greco and Chick Stella didn't succumb to twinkling Christmas lights, murals of Venetian scenes and similar Italian decorative clichés.

Joe, the chef, and Chick, who works the front, envision a class establishment in both food and atmosphere, and their efforts thus far deserve high marks. The part of the operation you don't see is what gives Caffè Lucci most of its character. The kitchen is first-rate, capable of creating the classic cuisine of the Motherland with all its sensuality and spirit.

Though the well-conceived menu offers a concession to standard tastes in the form of prime steaks and seafood specials, the focus is on Italian regional fare. Ingredients are fresh as can be and each dish is prepared to order from scratch. Five veal items are available, headed by a splendid Franchaise version involving tender medallions sautéed in olive oil and simmering in a smooth lemon-butter sauce.

Pasta is homemade and cooked nine ways, including fettuccini in blissful harmony with slightly undercooked broccoli, plump shrimp and a coating of garlic, butter and cheese.

Other winners are: tournedos Rossini, chicken Marsala and shrimp Danielle. The cold fish salad is a great leadoff number, while meals conclude with complimentary fresh fruit and Italian cookies.

Dinners are in the moderate $7.95 to $13.95 range, lunches average around $4.25. Portions are generous, service is considerate and the wine list is adequate. Only AX credit cards are accepted.

Caffè Lucci serves lunch daily except Sunday and dinner every night. There's a cozy bar, private banquet facilities for up to 100 and optional valet parking. Weekend reservations are recommended. Phone: 729-2268.

Lambs radio-controlled model boat races

Model boat enthusiasts from throughout the Midwest will race their radio-controlled boats Aug. 30-31 from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. at The Lambs. The Lambs is located at the junction of I-94 and Route 176, two miles east of Libertyville, IL.

Nearly 100 entrants will compete with a variety of model boats, including outboard tunnels, model hydroplanes, "Outriggers" and "Canards". Each boat is an exact replica of its full-size counterpart.

The Lambs is a not-for-profit community where mentally retarded adults live and work. Proceeds from all purchases in The Lambs Country Shops and eating establishments directly benefit The Lambs program. For more information, call (312)362-6774.

LGH Gala '86 trip

(Left to right), Morton Grove residents, Mrs. Edward (Joy) Forkos, and Mrs. Glenn (Elyse) Cabin, display a poster of San Francisco which will be used to promote a trip which some lucky bidder will win at the Lutheran General Foundation's benefit dinner dance, Gala '86. The trip, donated by United Airlines and the Westin St. Francis is one of the many items in the event's silent auction. Mrs. Forkos is chairman of the benefit's Auction Committee and Mrs. Cabin is a member of the committee. Both women are married to physicians on the hospital's Medical Staff. Gala '86 is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 13 at the Westin Hotel-O'Hare.

"Taste of Polonia"

Final arrangements for the city's 7th Annual "Taste of Polonia" have been made and according to General Chairman, Frank Gondek, of Niles the 5 day festival promises to be the most accommodating to the public ever staged.

The event, which is the city's largest ethnic festival, will run from Aug. 28 to Sept. 1. Hours are 4-10 p.m. on Thursday, 4-11 p.m. on Friday, and noon-11 p.m. on Saturday, Sunday and Monday. A $2 donation is requested per person, but only $1 for Senior Citizens. Senior Citizens, however, are admitted free all day Thursday and Friday.

Persons requesting information are requested to call 777-8898. The entire event will be held on the grounds of the Copernicus Cultural & Civic Center, 5216 W. Lawrence Ave., Chicago. All proceeds from the festival go to the Copernicus Foundation in furtherance of the continuing project of efforts of remodeling the former Gateway Theater to the Copernicus Center and Theater for the Performing Arts.

Local news about local people is what community newspapering should be about.

This week we received a letter (see Letters To Editor column) from a resident who is asking our help to mollify district 64 neighbors in the 8200 Greendale area who are upset about parents picking up their children from the school.

The writer contends preschool parents use an abandoned tennis court to park their cars for 15 minutes while they pick up their children. During this time they are harassed by neighbors who object to their parking there. We'll contact the school people to find out what can be done to adjust the problem. It's a small local matter. But it concerns a segment of our community. We will seek to help with the problem.

Last month we received a telephone call from a resident reporting a restaurant owner in the area wouldn't return a wedding deposit even though the father of the bride or groom had died during the pre-nuptial period. The owner told us keeping the deposit was justified since cancellations are a common practice. She said all kinds of excuses are given to cancel plans and the restaurant loses the reserved time period costing the restaurant substantial sums of money. When we suggested we were going to air the complaint in the newspaper the restaurant owner said she would refund the money. The local newspaper won this one for the good guys.

For many years we've been involved in most parades in Niles. We cancel a day in the country each year when the Niles Baseball Leagues have their opening day ceremonies. We try to publish as many team pictures as possible from the opening day program because it's an important day for the youngsters and the local newspaper is the only one which concerns itself with covering the event.

Each year Niles Police Department's softball team clobbers its competition in police league play and each year The Bugle tries to cover the team. We're the only newspaper which gives coverage and it's because we're the local newspaper covering the local scene.

We get a lot more personal about political matters. We care about the community and we're interested in the public bodies giving fair and honest representation. When we see something we report it. It costs us advertisers to get so personally involved. But our readers are many-fold greater than ours because they know they'll get the straight story from The Bugle.

Last year we wrote about an Oakton College program which sent a teacher to California to study a minority students program. Since there are few minority students in the school we thought somebody was taking advantage of the taxpayers. This year the same teacher had initiated a program to take her students to England. Since they would include incoming freshmen we thought she was doing this to receive a free ride to London. We wrote about it because it should be about. And you read it here in the local newspaper.

Readers look forward to reading about the local news they won't be able to read in any other publication. And the advertisers receive a better return because of more concentrated circulation. Last year one Bugle advertiser received over 800 coupons from a Bugle ad. He received less than 15% from the other publication he used.

Good local readership plus concentrated circulation has kept The Bugle alive for 26 years. Plus a lot of butt busting.

move all the cartons. A bulldozer from Niles Public Works was brought in to help move some of the stacked cartons which firemen had been moving by hand.

Dense smoke from the smoldering fire hampered firemen in their efforts and they were required to wear self-contained breathing apparatus because of the toxic fumes given off by the burning plastic materials.

Two employees were overcome by smoke and transported to Lutheran General Hospital by Niles firemen. In addition, one fireman was given oxygen on the scene for smoke inhalation.

Even though the roof had to be opened by the firemen, portions of the plant were expected to be in operation on Wednesday.

Fire equipment on the scene of the blaze in addition to Niles were from Glenview, Skokie, Morton Grove, Park Ridge and Des Plaines. Squad 8 from Glenbrook was also there to replenish the air supply for the firemen's breathing equipment. Michael noted, "It was an exhausting 5 hours of firefighting for the men and they did an excellent job."

Solar panels...

proposed for the unincorporated area, the village does have the opportunity to express their feelings on the proposed project. Robert Kenney, attorney for Deltasonic, the builders of the car wash facility, told the board his clients currently have one in Elmhurst and it would be a tunnel type car wash with vehicles entering and leaving the facility from Golf Rd. Trustee Peter Pesole vehemently denied the need for this type of facility noting the traffic on Golf Rd. was already a "horrendous situation" and this would only add to the current problems. The board concurred with Pesole and denied their approval of the proposed car wash.

Trustee Ang Marcheschi noted that Carl Fox who is Niles Cablevision coordinator was doing an excellent job and four classes were currently being trained in the use of the studio facilities. Marcheschi said an open house is being held in November for the public to view the studio. He also added they are currently working with the League of Women Voters and plan to have a live tape of the candidates for the November election for subscribers to view.

The Pop Niles Beautification winners were presented their awards at the Tuesday night meeting. Paul Montalbano of the Public Services Department was presented with a plaque on his retirement after 19 years of service. Nels Nelson of Niles, a crossing guard for 15 years, was also presented with a plaque for his service to the school children of the village.

The Village board heard a petition which was brought before the Cook County zoners for a car wash on Golf Rd., west of Greenwood and east of Western on the north side of the street. Since it is anticipated. She said last year there was a problem with the figures coming in lower than expected, causing the budget to have to be adjusted.

In other business, the Board accepted a bid for installation of new lighting at Golf Mill park. The accepted bid of $12,950 came from Q Electric. The Board's original projection was $13,000.

Recognized 11 part-time park district employees for 5 years of service. The honored employees were: Lynn Esposito, Chuck Bobula, Mary Ellen Smith, Randy Martin, Amy Jo Rader, Chris Lake, Andy Galsee, Tim Kosney, Paul Masuzek, Mike Pierski, and Mark England.

Recognized the achievement of the Niles Park District Swim Team, which came in first in Division D competition this year. The team presented its trophy to the Board.

Received a petition from John Izykowski of 8657 North Niles, requesting that a statue of Revolutionary War hero Casimir Pulaski be erected on public property in Niles. The petition contained the names of 700 Niles residents, as well as those of residents of other cities.

Board president Jim Pierski called it an "extremely unusual request." Marusek pointed out that erecting a statue on public property is in "direct conflict with out policy." The board declined to discuss the matter further, but agreed to bring it up for reconsideration at its meeting in September.

Approved the usage of the house at Tam Golf Course for a fire demonstration to be held by the Niles Fire Department on September 27.

Discussed holding a periodic review of the cost of special events. Pierski revealed the 4th of July parade cost $13,000 and suggested that such expenses be watched more closely in the future.

Heinen, Mary Marusik and Jim Pierski; Bill Hughes, Deb Nelson and Steve Cross of the Park Staff. Chamber players will include Welter, Nick Carter of Nightingale-Conant; Bud Besser of the Bugle; Irv Coats, Wells Lamont, Pat Stallone, Golf Mill State Bank, and Chamber board Chairmann Larry Plusinski.
