MG to sell tokens for commuter parking

by Joyce Hoyt

An ordinance allowing for the distribution and use of tokens in the coin boxes in the commuter parking lots owned or leased by the Village of Morton Grove was unanimously approved at the August 22 Morton Grove Village Board meeting. The tokens will be available at the village hall and the police department at a cost of $22 for 25 tokens. It is hoped the use of the tokens will save time in unfolding and counting the dollar bills now used by

New ordinance would require letter of credit; raise bed fees

Niles reviews nursing homes licensing

In a unique move to tighten control on village nursing homes, Niles is considering a "cash up front" requirement according to village attorney Richard Troy.

At Tuesday night's Niles Village Board meeting, Troy told board members under this proposed plan, the village would require Niles nursing homes to furnish a letter of credit in the amount of $100 per bed with a minimum of $10,000. The monies would then be available to immediately correct violations discovered by village health inspectors. The health and sanitation department will be responsible for monitoring the homes.

by Bud Besser

Every now and then when you're watching The Late, Late Show you'll see a movie character depicting a newspaperman. He's usually a bit disheveled, with a fedora perched on the back of his head. If he's in flight, he'll be totting a white double breasted London Fog raincoat. A cigarette is usually dangling from his lips and a few wisecrack comments will be shouted as he heads for the big story.

Here in Bugleland, 1988, the unfettered members of the fourth estate have a different demeanor.

Tuesday morning I was heading out of the office, aiming toward the post office, when a very intense group of the Bugle family was standing together outside the office, staring north past Dempster Street on Sherman Road. The huddled mass was watching the Morton Grove police surround an unlicensed old brown Chevy. The policemen drew their sidearms and handcuffed the occupants of the car and shipped them off to the police station.

It looked to me like a pretty good news story and I casually asked the ten Buglers who was covering the event in action and how about a couple of pictures? They looked at me as if from the Education fund. Revenues for the fund are expected to be short by $2 million.

Oakton Board names new trustee

Amilda (Aml) B. Mader, a Morton Grove resident, was appointed to the Oakton Community College Board of Trustees at the board meeting on Tuesday Aug. 23. Mader will replace Diana Loveland, who resigned from the board on June 28 to move to Florida. She will serve out Loveland's term which ends in November 1989.

Originally from Nebraska, Mader moved to the Chicago area when she married her husband Frank, whom she met while both were attending Omaha University. They have four children and five grandchildren.

In 1975 Mader decided to return to college, so she enrolled at the relatively new community college which had located in Morton Grove - Oakton. In 1978 she was

Good Samaritan's feathered friends

This kindly gentleman arrives late every afternoon with his mother to feed the hundreds of geese, birds and ducks at Maryhill Cemetery in Niles.

As soon as the birds hear him driving up to the pond area, they instinctively know it's their friend who has not forgotten them during this hot weather.

Our unsung hero did not wish to disclose his name, however, we applaud his kindness and generosity as he empties many bags of bread to the grateful hungry flock each day.

District 63 students test above norm

by Eileen Hirschfeld

Students in East Maine Elementary School District taking part in a standardized testing program last spring seemed to score, in general, higher than national norms although more attention should be focused on a few weaknesses, according to a report by Bernice Goldberg, the district director of curriculum and instruction.

Presented at an Aug. 23 board meeting, the report analyzed results of the California Achievement Test taken by all district students the first time last school year. The state requires standardized testing as part of an educational reform package.

Goldberg said students, in general, scored higher in all parts of math, spelling, social studies, language expression and study skills.

Two trends appear which may or may not be patterns, she said. In grades three through eight students did not reach anticipated scores in reading vocabulary while science scores in grades four through seven are also lower than expected.

She suggested that no changes be made in the curriculum but more attention be focused on these areas such as combining reading and science vocabularies.

In other action, board members approved a one-year contract with Northridge Preparatory School to lease 14,041 square feet of space at Apollo Junior High School at a cost of $71,384.

Board members also approved the salaries of 25 teacher aides ranging from $11,020 to $13,467 a year. The district union for the teacher aides recently reached agreement on terms of contract.

Also, board members consented to apply for an $8,691 grant from the Drug and Free Schools and Communities Act.

District 63 serves students in Niles, Morton Grove and Des Plaines.

9-1-1 vote on ballot for Nilesites

Niles voters will have an additional decision to make when they go to the polls in November that could possibly be a life-saving decision for them.

While the Niles Village Board last April approved the ordinance to put the 9-1-1 vote on the ballot, a second decision was put before the board Tuesday night on the correct wording of the proposition on the ballot. Village Attorney Richard Troy read the language proposed by Illinois Bell to be used on the ballot and found it to be extremely complicated. The board members agreed with Troy and passed the ordinance to put the 9-1-1 proposal on the ballot with the right to modify the language making it simpler and easier for voters to understand.

Oakton College's Board of Trustees demonstrated they were true to their promise of being "good neighbors". A significant amount of Tuesday night's meeting was reserved to provide detailed answers to allegations raised by citizens' groups claiming the college was endangering the flood plain with the Northwest Municipal Conference Building and other projects.

Oakton College has retained the services of the engineering firm of Barton-Aschman & Associates for many years. Barton-Aschman representative David G. Gannett, engineer and hydrology specialist, presented exhaustive explanations countering the objections.

Also present was Charles Tilley, Co-Chairman of the Hawthorn Land Homeowners Association, who asserted at the last meeting that Oakton's landfill on the south end of the campus was illegal and in violation of Illinois Department of Transportation rules.

According to David Gannett, "From the time the campus was built, Oakton has coordinated with all necessary agencies regarding land use and has never been in violation of the law."

Gannett clarified the legal definitions of flood plain and flood fringe. Oakton's campus is built on the flood fringe and is not legally bound to the stringent laws restricting flood plain usage. He pointed to features in the design of the Oakton campus which contradicted allegations that campus structure is responsible for flooding. Citing the retaining pond, Gannett stated, "The pond itself retains 25 percent more water than the legal minimum." He called the design

Res Retirement Community celebrates 10th anniversary

More than 300 residents of the Resurrection Retirement Community and their invited guests celebrated the 10th anniversary of the opening of their community on August 1. On overflow crowd filled the resident chapel where the Most Rev. Timothy J. Lyne, Auxiliary Bishop of the Chicago Archdiocese, celebrated mass as the festive occasion began.

Following the mass there was a reception in the dining room with a beautiful buffet table of fresh fruit, sandwiches, wine and an anniversary cake. Special music was provided by the Mark Anthony Orchestra.

It was on May 1, 1977 that Mayor of Chicago Michael Bilandic headed a guest list of civic officials and clergy in groundbreaking for the retirement complex on Chicago's Northwest side.

The first residents moved in on Aug. 1, 1978.

Sister Mary Paul, C.R., executive director of the community since its inception, spoke of the success experienced during the past ten years. "We have offered independence and enrichment in our spacious and park-like setting. I think that is why our Resurrection Retirement Community is frequently referred to as the next best thing to home."

Today, 340 men and women reside in the efficient, one- and two-bedroom apartments for which there has always been a waiting list. Currently under construction is another apartment building with 125 efficiency, one- and two-bedroom apartments.

Thirty-seven additional units in this new building will be reserved for residents requiring assisted living accommodations. Special amenities, such as three prepared meals daily, maid and laundry services, will be made available to these residents. In addition, they will have access to the community's exercise and recreational programs and to chapel services.

Completion of the new additions are slated for next spring. Applications are now being taken. Those persons interested in further information may write Sister Mary Paul, C.R., at 7262 W. Peterson St., Chicago, IL 60631, or call 792-0466.

HEAT STRESS

High temperatures are a killer and most of its victims are elderly. Heat stress is the burden that hot weather places on the body, especially the heart. If the burden is too great, heat can make a person very sick and even become fatal. Temperatures above 90°F can be very dangerous, especially when the humidity is also high. A sudden increase in temperature is particularly dangerous because the body is unprepared for the strain. Mild signs of heat stress are lack of energy or slight loss of appetite. Unless these last a long time, there is no need for alarm. Serious signs include: dizziness, chest pain, rapid heartbeat, great weakness, diarrhea, mental changes, nausea, breathing problems, throbbing headache, vomiting, dry skin (no sweating) and cramps. Call a doctor for medical help if any of these signs persist.

FOX RIVER VALLEY TOUR

A day-trip to the Fox River Valley from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Fri., Sept. 23 is sponsored by the Prairie View Senior Travel Club. The Morton Grove Crime Prevention Bureau would like to remind seniors to be careful of bank cons and home repair frauds during this time of the year. Reporting suspicious operators and fraudulent bank officers, greatly assists the police department in apprehending and preventing crimes against seniors. Whenever a questionable "money opportunity" is presented it is recommended to check it through by calling the Morton Grove Crime Prevention Bureau, 470-5200; the Morton Grove Building Department, 965-4100; or the Morton Grove Senior Hot Line, 470-5223.

HELPING OTHERS AT HOME

Individuals with an interest in providing help with chores, housekeeping, shopping, transportation, and companionship for frail senior citizen and disabled Morton Grove residents can contact the Senior Hot Line at 470-5223. The Flickinger Senior Center frequently receives requests for these services which are not provided by standard home health agencies. The Hot Line acts as a referral system to link needy residents with those able to serve and servers are then paid directly by the resident. Interested persons promise to receive worthwhile and valued experiences from their services.

For more information about these seniors services and recreation programs, call the Senior Hot Line at 470-5223, or the Prairie View Community Center, 965-7447. Sons of Joshua Congregation singers

The 6th generation of the well known Cantorial Lind Family will be represented by 8 year old Joanna Lind and her 4 year old sister Allison when they solo together at the Jewish High Holiday services of the Sons of Joshua Congregation.

Starting on the eve of September 11, the Congregation will begin their services at the Fireside Inn of Morton Grove and will be celebrating their 15 year as the Sons of Joshua Congregation.

Allison and Joanna are the daughters of Sandra and Cary Lind of Wheeling, Cary, an attorney, conducts the 21 voice choir, made up of mostly professional artists that sing at the services. The choir includes members of the Chicago Symphony Chorus as well as operatic soloists. The sisters' grandfather, Cantor Dale Lind of Northbrook, conducts the services while eight other Lind family members will sing in the choir.

The late Cantor Joshua Lind for whom the congregation was named was the father of Murray, Phil and Dale, the famed Lind Brothers Trio. A composer and teacher of Cantorial music, Joshua Lind numbered among his students such renowned Metropolitan Opera stars as Jan Peerce and Richard Tucker.

The services began 15 years ago for the specific purpose of providing religious inspiration to unaffiliated Jews of the greater Chicago area. "Although conservative in practice, the services have a universal appeal through the deeply moving music which is both traditional and modern in concept", according to Dale Lind. The services include contemporary music and new choral interpretations combined with the age-old traditional chants and liturgies.

Phil Lind will also participate in the services with liturgical interpretations and comments on Jewish history and insights on the meaning of High Holiday traditional prayers.

For additional information and reservations, call the Congregation office at 272-0252.

Selichot Services at Temple Beth Temple Beth Israel, 3939 W. Howard St., Skokie, will have Selichot Services on Saturday, Sept. 3. The Selichot Service, held at midnight on the Saturday before Rosh Hashanah, officially ushers in the High Holy Day Season. Special prayers of forgiveness, called selichot prayers, are recited. These prayers help us to prepare for Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur. Their words help us to reflect on the meaning of life and to ask forgiveness for any wrongdoing. We focus at this time on what we can do to become better people. We feel the insignificance of man and renew our trust in God.

This year, Temple Beth Israel is proud to present a special prelude to our regular Selichot Service. If Not Higher, A Story of Selichot, text by Cantor Samuel Rosenbaum, music by Shalom Secunda, presented by The Temple Beth Israel Choir, Judith H. Karzen, Director. It features Judith Kemp, narrator, Jamie Rigler, tenor, Michael Skarry, baritone with Eileen Berman, soprano and David Lawrence, tenor.

If Not Higher will begin promptly at 10:30 p.m. and our regular Selichot Service with traditional music conducted by Rabbi Michael A. Weinberg will follow immediately at 11 p.m. Coffee will be served at 9:30 p.m.

Lubavitch Chabad emissaries conference

Chicago, Illinois has been selected as the host city for a regional conference for Lubavitch Chabad emissaries from the across the Midwest August 26-28, Rabbi Daniel Moscovitz, Regional Director of Lubavitch Chabad of Illinois announced. Chabad House directors, school principals, regional directors and rabbis will be attending from Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin, Missouri and Illinois. Six additional regional conferences will be held in Hartford, CT, Minneapolis, MN, Richmond, VA, Los Angeles, CA, Miami, FL, and Montreal, Canada, attracting over 500 representatives.

The conference will deal with crucial issues facing the Jewish community today. The primary theme will be the implementation of the call from the Lubavitcher Rebbe, shilite, Rabbi Menachem M. Schneerson, declaring this year the "Year of the Jewish Boy and Girl." In his appeal the Rebbe called for an intensive campaign to ensure that every Jewish child receives a proper Jewish education. Special sessions will be devoted to formulate innovative programs and advance the success of furthering Jewish education on all levels.

According to Rabbi Yosef Posner, Director of Lubavitch Chabad of Skokie, a painfully large percentage of the Jewish children in this country do not receive even the most minimal amount of Jewish education. "Our efforts to strengthen Jewish education for all ages and backgrounds must be intensified to ensure the survival of the Jewish people. This is one of the goals of our conference," Rabbi Posner said.

The Lubavitch Chabad emissaries will also evaluate the programs observing the year of Hakheil. Hakheil is the seventh year of the Sukkot holiday following the Sabbatical year when the entire nation, men, women and children would gather in the Holy Temple to hear the Torah read by the King of Israel. To implement the lesson of Hakheil, gatherings large and small were held nationwide stressing Jewish unity and increased Torah observance.

Breast cancer panel discussion set

According to the American Cancer Society, an estimated 135,000 new cases of breast cancer will be discovered in the United States in 1988. On an average, one in 10 women can expect to develop some form of breast cancer during her lifetime, with those over 50, childless or with a family history of breast cancer at highest risk.

Jan Marshall, Ravenswood Hospital Medical Center Tumor Registry, reports that nearly 50 new cases of diagnosed breast cancer are seen each year at Ravenswood Hospital. It is Marshall's job to log all tumors detected at the Hospital and report them back to the appropriate organizations that track incident rates for the country. Records are also kept to inform physicians about trends in treatments. The State of Illinois also requires all cancers to be reported to the state.

Marshall has helped to spearhead a panel discussion on breast cancer at the hospital on Tuesday, Sept. 13 at 7 p.m. in Adler Hall. The seminar will be presented by the Ravenswood Hospital Cancer Committee and will also be the Value Care 65 lecture for September. Admission is free by reserving a seat by phone (call 878-4300 ext. 1354 during regular business hours).

"The treatment of breast cancer is very controversial, and new recommendations are coming out all the time," according to Marshall. "There is a lot of room for discussion on this topic," she adds. The panel discussion is part of an extended awareness campaign targeted toward both public and physician education on breast cancer detection.

The panel will be composed of a surgeon, Raymond Cunningham, M.D.; a medical oncologist, David Rosi, M.D.; a radiation oncologist, Vera Petras, M.D.; and a radiologist who will discuss mammograms and their use in early detection of breast cancer. Each member of the panel will give a brief presentation on their area of medical expertise followed by an extended session of audience questions and concerns. Literature on breast cancer and self-examination techniques will be available.

Ravenswood Hospital Medical Center, 4550 N. Winchester, is located at the corner of Wilson and Damen aves. in Chicago. A parking garage is available on the hospital campus.

Much of the fear and anxiety surrounding the onset of menopause has led many women to come to see menopause as the beginning of old age or as an illness.

But women today do not have to fear menopause. Through the use of estrogen and other drugs, medical advancements and

Auto/Accident reports

Three vehicles parked on the east side of the 7900 block of Nordica were damaged by pellet gun fire on August 13. An unknown northbound shooter took aim at cars parked on the entire side of the block. The rear window of one of the autos was entirely blown in.

Other automobile related incidents reported on August 13: An '84 Rabbit parked at Golf Mill was broken into and an AM/FM cassette deck of undetermined value was removed. The thief used a hard object to break a rear window on the driver's side. Damage to the roof of the vehicle was also reported. That afternoon, in the same parking lot, a Glenview resident and a Des Plaines resident collided with each other, causing over $250 in damage to both vehicles. Neither driver was cited. A 1st mechanic from Glenview Naval Air Station reported his 1988 Hyundai missing from 550 Golf Mill. Because the last two car payments had not been made, he was uncertain if the car had been repossessed or stolen. A 35 foot weeping willow limb fell on two cars in the 6700 block of Grace. The branch, which was 17 inches in diameter, landed on a 1972 Electra and a 1978 Chevy, causing unspecified damage to the two cars.

An August 23 court date was set for a Chicago driver who was arrested for DUI, improper lane usage, driving off the roadway, driving with suspended license and failure to use a seat belt. He was pulled over by a Niles patrolman who observed him weaving in and out of his lane. Several drivers swerved to avoid colliding with the 29 year old man. Tests revealed a blood alcohol level of .30.

A Niles woman reported that her 1987 Olds Ciera was scratched. Police surmised that the vandal used a key or similar object to damage the car.

Three cars, eastbound on Touhy where it intersects with Austin, were damaged when the driver of a Mercury cougar rear ended another vehicle stopped for a traffic signal at the intersection. The Mercury driver, who reported minor injuries from the accident and was taken to Lutheran General Hospital, was cited for failure to reduce speed. Her court date is September 15. Damage to the other two vehicles was over $250 per car.

A 37 year old Deerfield man returned a rental car and reported he left a calculator, leather portfolio, printer and leather pouch in the vehicle. When he returned for his property, he was told that the possessions were not in the car. He estimates the worth of the missing items at $515.

No force was used to remove a $290 radio from a 1983 Trans Am parked in the 8700 block of Milwaukee.

On August 14, a Jewel employee reported criminal damage to his automobile which was being serviced at a transmission company. Person(s) unknown broke the driver's window to steal the radio and front end cover of the '85 Chevy Camaro.

On the same day, someone used a blunt object to break the right rear window of a 1980 Corolla sedan parked in the 8800 block of Washington, causing $100 damage.

Niles police files reveal the following automobile-related incidents on August 15: A Mitsubishi parked in McDade's former lot sustained dash and window damage when person(s) unknown attempted to remove the car's stereo. A 1986 Ford van was also damaged when a thief removed its stereo cassette player, valued at $150. A Des Plaines man was cited for driving with a suspended license, following to close, improper lane usage and failure to give aid and information in connection with a 3 car accident in the 7100 block of Milwaukee. Bond for the 47 year old self-employed construction worker was set at $1000. His 1980 Cadillac reportedly rear ended another vehicle. The man attempted to persuade the other drivers to not call police. Failing that, he walked from the accident scene and did not return. Police located him by tracing his car. A September 23 court date was set.

Cassette/stereo thieves were busy on August 23. A $500 unit was removed from an '87 Quantum sedan parked in the 6100 block of Mulford. A hard object was used to smash the driver's window, causing an additional $150 damage. The owner of a 1986 Scirocco reported that her vehicle, parked in front of her residence in the 8200 block of Lyons, was broken into and damage inflicted to the window and dashboard. She estimated her loss at $350.

A Chicago student, visiting her grandmother in the 8000 block of Foster Lane, reported that a disgruntled resident of the block has broken the antenna of her 1981 Ford escort on two occasions. Notes left on the car indicated that someone felt she had no right to park in that area because she was a non resident.

A 24 year old Northwestern University Hospital nuclear technician was apprehended by Penney's security agents when he attempted to exit the store without paying for two women's dresses valued at $42 and $36. He was charged with retail theft.

One man and three women, all residents of the same Chicago address, were arrested at Penney's after they left the store without paying for some merchandise on August 14. Security people have been suspicious of the group for several weeks. It was reported the quartet also price switched other items and attempted to take articles on previous occasions but dropped the items before exiting the premises. Wallets, rings and underwear were among the items stolen by the four, with not one removing more than $35 worth of merchandise. Bond for each was set at $1,000 and their court date is September 16.

An unknown burglar broke into Culver School on August 14 by using a rock to break a lower window. The offender was injured by the glass and wire mesh of the window, as evidenced by a bloody palm print and other blood left on the premises. Three sport trophies were removed from a display case. The evidence, including fingerprints on some glass shards, will be examined. Police found a guitar pick at the scene, but it was unknown if the discovery of the article was related to the incident.

In separate incidents, two young men were arrested at Venturo for attempting to steal audio cassette tapes. A 21 year old Phone threats...

Two elderly residents, in the 8700 block of North Terrace and the 8300 block of Washington, reported hang-up calls occurring over several months. Police advised the residents to also file a report with the phone company.

A 24 year old woman living in the 8500 block of Osceola told police that her ex-boyfriend, a Des Plaines resident, has been phoning her to threaten retaliation if she does not repay $1,000 worth of dating expenses.

In another incident, a 22 year old woman reported her ex-roommate, who lived with her in the 7700 block of Nordica, has called her and threatened to use a shotgun to blow out the door of her parent's home. She has requested that police put a special watch on the residence.

Bares sole after seeking job

Last Monday, a young job applicant helped himself to a pair of athletic shoes after looking for employment at Sportmart. Security personnel at the store observed the twenty year old job-seeker, who had filled out an application with a friend the same age, leaving the store wearing the new footwear. His own gym shoes were found in a box alongside other store merchandise. Niles police will use good old fashioned footwork to follow the trail of the suspect. The shoes were valued at $47.97.

Thefts...

Glenview resident posted $1,000 bond and was given an August 28 court date. The theft of three tapes, which totaled $23.37, occurred August 12. The next day, a 20 year old tried to take two tapes, valued at $14.78. He was cited for petty theft since he had no previous offenses.

A makeup technician, a resident of the 9800 block of Huber, reported that two lawn chairs, valued at $300, were stolen from her property within the past 30 days.

Security personnel at a Golf Mill Department Store apprehended a 68 year old Park Ridge man, who was cited for petty theft involving a leather key holder and wallet with a combined value of $34.

A female security agent at the same store caught a 66 year old retiree with two pair of women's gym shoes, which had not been purchased, in a shopping bag. Value of the articles was $64.99. The Chicagoan was given a September 9 court date, after $2,000 bond was posted.

Several reports of stolen or missing wallets and/or credit cards were received in the past week. On August 12, an Evergreen Park student reported that her wallet was removed from her automobile, which was parked in the 9200 block of Maryland.

A Rosemont woman told police that her missing Discover Card was used to purchase $989.61 worth of items at Service Merchandise on Aug. 15.

$25 cash, keys, and credit cards were contained in the $25 wallet reported stolen by the owner, a nurse, on Aug. 15.

A scam that went flat

Coin fanciers have alerted Niles police to a vandalism/theft scheme which involves coin show attendees.

Occupants of a 1982 AMC station wagon, first attempt to damage the tire of a targeted vehicle so that it will flatten after the car has gone a short distance. Thieves remove coins and other valuables when the drivers open their trunks to get their spare tires.

In the most recent incident, a 41 year old Wheeling man who was leaving a coin show in the 6300 block of Touhy, noticed another man near the rear wheel of his car. Later, when his tire went flat, he noticed the same 68 year old man driving the AMC, accompanied by some 20 year old men. Nothing was stolen from him, because he contacted police and did not attempt to change his tire while the suspicious men were in the vicinity.

Woman charged with using false I.D.

A restaurant employee summoned police to arrest a 20 year old Des Plaines bank teller who attempted to use someone else's identification to purchase alcoholic beverages. The driver's license had expired. Bond for the woman was set for $50 and she was given a Sept. 8 court date.

Computer Catalog Classes at Niles Library

During September the Niles Public Library will be offering its monthly computer catalog classes on Friday September 2 and Saturday September 3 at 10:30 a.m. and Tuesday September 6 at 7 p.m.

The classes introduce library users to the computer catalog and demonstrate how it works. A reference librarian will show you how to search the catalog for materials you are interested in finding. Searching can be done by selecting title, author or subject headings. Class participants will also be able to practice what they have learned under the guidance of the class instructor.

Remember, the Library collection has been computerized for over two years. The Library still houses the "card catalog", but none of the new materials have been filed into it for almost three years. The Library continues to purchase new materials such as bestsellers, mysteries, current topics, travel guides, etc. These materials can ONLY be found in the computer catalog.

Olga the walrus dedication

A life-sized sculpture of Olga the walrus will be unveiled during a dedication ceremony at 10 a.m. Saturday, September 3, at Chicago's Brookfield Zoo.

Olga, Brookfield Zoo's renowned walrus, died on August 14 after 26 years at the zoo.

The ceremony will be held near the entrance to Olga's home at the new Seascope exhibit.

According to Brookfield Zoo Director Dr. George Rabb, the sculpture being dedicated was commissioned by the zoo last year as part of the new Seascope. Rabb said that the life-like form was selected so that generations of visitors may experience the magnitude of the animal. Olga died just before the sculpture was scheduled for completion.

The sculptor, William Allen, said the cor-ten statue is more than a naturalistic representation of a walrus. Allen said he has expressed the life and personality of Olga in his work as well.

In response to numerous public inquiries, the zoo is accepting contributions in memory of Olga. They may be sent to the zoo in care of Olga Fund, Brookfield Zoo, Brookfield, Illinois 60513.

OUR EMPLOYEES WEAR THE SAME THING TO WORK EVERY DAY.

If you think about it, the photos in this ad could have been a little different.

It'd be quite natural to assume that our bankers wear the same grey pinstripes, white button-downs and yellow ties to work each day.

But while that may or may not be the case, the most important thing you'll notice about us has little to do with apparel.

And more to do with our attitude.

That's why we've introduced the Satisfied Customer Guarantee.

True, it's not a new idea. We've been treating people right for years.

Except now we're backing it up. Putting it in writing, as they say.

Which means, if you have a problem with us, we'll solve it.

Or if you have a question about any facet of our service, we'll gladly answer it.

And if for any reason you're not satisfied, we'll do everything we can to reach a solution.

The basic point being, we want you to be happy with us. No matter what.

I Bet You Didn't Know

By Jim Jennings

Amazingly, in the last 10 years, 10 DIFFERENT TEAMS have won the World Series. In 1987 it was Minnesota. In 1986, the New York Mets. In 1985, Kansas City. In 1984, Detroit. In 1983, Baltimore. In 1982, St. Louis. In 1981, Los Angeles. In 1980, Philadelphia. In 1979, Pittsburgh. And in 1978, The New York Yankees.

Ever wonder why bleachers in a ballpark are called bleachers? It started in the old days when stadiums and ballparks were built with wooden stands. The wooden seats in those days were usually sunbleached boards which became bleached in the sun—and that's how the word bleachers came to be.

Of all the coaches in the history of the National Football League, which one lost the most games in a career? The answer, surprisingly, is a great coach, Tom Landry. Through the 1987 season, Landry had lost 165 games in 28 years. But even though he's lost more games than any other coach in NFL history, Landry ranks third in most career victories, with 267, trailing only George Halas and Don Shula.

Niles Nuggets win championship

Nuggets Win! The Niles Nuggets, sponsored by the International House of Pancakes located at 9201 Milwaukee, have won the championship of the Greater Illinois League. In order to become the champions of the North Division of the Greater Illinois League, the Nuggets beat the Chicago Americans 4 to 1 on Saturday, August 13 and destroyed the Cap's Tigers 13 to 7 on Sunday, August 14. The Nuggets were scheduled to play the winner of the South Division, the Melrose Park Eagles, on Saturday, August 20, but Melrose Park could not play the game, so the Nuggets were declared champions!

NUGGETS 4-AMERICANS 1

The playoffs were held at Ridgewood High School in Norridge. The Nuggets were home team because of their first place finish in the regular season. The Americans managed to score one run in the second inning, but that's all they would be allowed. Two of our three double plays were executed by shortstop, Mort Schufreider, second baseman, Lee Breitman, and first baseman, Bob Gattuso. Our third double play ended the game and was executed by Mort Schufreider, second baseman, John Pollard, and Bob Gattuso while Lee Breitman was pitching in relief in the ninth inning. Catcher, Dave Denton threw out a runner stealing third. The combination of heads up fielding, timely gitting and excellent pitching insured this victory. Dave Gieve pitched an outstanding game, striking out 7, allowing them 7 scattered hits and 1 run. Dave earned the win for this one! Lee Breitman came in relief in the ninth with bases loaded and no outs (talk about pressure). Lee struck out the first batter he faced and the next batter grounded out into a double play. Four of the Nuggets collected our 8 hits and the same four players had one of our four RBI's each. Mort Schufreider had three singles, Tom Gladden and Mike Starshak each had a single and a triple, and Dave Denton had a single. The Nuggets did what they had to do to win and would get a chance to play in the championship game the next day.

NUGGETS 13-CAP'S TIGERS 7 This was a sweet victory indeed, not only did it mean that we were the North Division Champions, but we knocked the Cap's Tigers' pitcher that held us down on July 31 to break our 10 game winning streak, out of the box after the fourth inning, scoring 8 of our runs and collecting 8 hits. The Nuggets executed 2 double plays and were swinging hot bats with 17 hits. Mike Divane pitched 6 1/3 innings and received the well deserved win. Mike got a little tired in the seventh (it was very hot). The Americans had scored four runs and there were 2 men on with one out, when coach went to Lee Breitman as the stopper for the second day in a row. The first batter Lee faced got a base hit scoring one of the men on base and then the Nuggets executed a double play and we were out of the inning. That would be the last time Cap's Tigers even smelled home plate! Lee did an excellent job of shutting them down in the last 2 innings, striking out 2 and allowing only 1 hit. Dave Norman had a burning bat, hitting 3 doubles and a homerun with 3 RBI's. Mort Schufreider once again demonstrated his fine hitting techniques with 3 singles and continued his errorless play as shortstop. Bob Gattuso and John Pollard each had 2 singles and 2 RBI's. Just a little note about Bob Gattuso, he is the finest first baseman anyone could have. Tom Gladden had a single and a double with a RBI. Dave Gieve had one single with 3 RBI's. Mike Starshak had a single and a RBI. Dave Denton was an awesome figure at bat this season having a total of 8 home runs to his credit, no pass balls and our pitcher have been heard saying that he is the best catcher they ever had. Dave Norman has thrown out 4 runners on a fly from deep right field and had 6 home runs. Bob Gattuso has made more scoops at first base than you can count. Dave Goldberg is the fastest, smartest centerfielder you'll ever see. Mort Schufreider and Lee Breitman have executed more double plays than the Cubs. John Pollard, Mike Starshak, Tim Hanson have done whatever has been asked of them as utility and last but not least Tom Gladden has done an excellent job at third base. Is it any wonder with the marvelous pitching we have had from Dave Gieve, Mike Divane, Jim Keane, Lee Breitman, and Bob Gattuso that we would end up champions of the Greater Illinois League!

"Football & Auto Injuries can be very much alike"

Football is one of the roughest, toughest sports and it attracts thousands of youngsters each fall. Unfortunately, the thrills it generates for spectators are often accompanied by injuries to the participants.

While most Doctors of Chiropractic are as great football fans as the next fellow, their interest in the game goes far beyond the competition when there is an injury, or the possibility that one has occurred.

An injury on the football field is very often the same type as that received in an auto crash. The body is struck or badly jarred, and the bones in the neck or back can be displaced, or sometimes fractured.

When this occurs in an arm or leg, the fractured bone is set and nature heals the break with time.

But not so easily detected and far more threatening is a displaced or damaged vertebra in the spinal column.

If one or more of these bones is even slightly out of line, it can mean pressure on the nerves inside the spine and actual partial or complete paralysis of a vital organ such as the heart, the ears or any of the body's muscles.

It can mean permanent spinal curvature later, which shows up with startling clarity in X-rays of many patients.

While football is a fine builder of character and body, no football injury should be forgotten until after competent examination and consultation.

Too often symptoms such as headaches or digestive disturbances come later and without apparent cause as a result of an unapparent neck or back injury. If the nerves are pinched and the pressure is not relieved, trouble is sure to come.

Football is part of an American tradition in education, and it is certainly here to stay. But there is always a price for good things, and the price of football is occasional injury to the players.

Every athlete should be taken to a Chiropractic office for examination before an injury is forgotten and he is allowed to return to the game.

Swim-a-Thon participants

Fourteen park districts in the northwest suburbs participated in a Swim-a-Thon to raise funds for Area 24 Special Olympics this summer.

The Swim-a-Thon was held in June and July at swimming pools in Arlington Hts., Buffalo Grove, Elk Grove, Hanover Park, Hoffman Estates, Mt. Prospect, Palatine, Prospect Hts., River Trails, Rolling Meadows, Salt Creek, Schaumburg, Streamwood, and Wheeling. Swimmers obtained pledges from family and friends, then swam as many laps as possible in a one hour time period.

The swimmers then collected the money pledged and were awarded prizes based on the amount of money turned in.

Swim for Special Olympics supports Area 24 Special Olympics, which offers athletic training and competition for mentally retarded children, teens, and adults. This is the third year for this fund raising event and over $17,000 was raised due to the efforts of the swimmers.

Two grand prize winners won VCR's, donated by B.J.'s Warehouse Club in Rolling Meadows. The grand prize winners were Sarah Kendall of Palatine, and Scott Pedro of Arlington Heights.

A big round of applause should be given to the hard-working and dedicated Aquatics Staff of the 14 park districts who promoted the Swim for Special Olympics.

What you like most about shopping.

Golf Mill 'ing Around The Mall

by Linda Zachow

Greetings from GOLF MILL. As we near the end of what will apparently be a record-breaking broiling summer, the sound of school bells will soon be heard. They beckon to parents to begin the annual ritual of buying supplies and appropriate clothing for what would be, under normal conditions, approaching cooler weather.

The opening of the 1988-89 school year may present us with shopping dilemmas if things don't cool down. School board officials in many areas are discussing alternative hours and heat days instead of snow days. Do we buy warmer clothing now or put it off? Do we replace children's well-worn summer apparel with what little is left on the racks in case we're in for a torrid September and October? And why hasn't some smart entrepreneur come up with a T-shirt logo, "I Survived the Summer of '88", or a variation adding 1985 for older people?

Although the racks of children's winter clothes are full, salespeople at one of the major department stores told us off the record, people are stocking up on winter clothing. We visited STRIDE RITE SHOES, managed by Gil Felsenfeld, a store that sells the creme de la creme of children's shoes to find out if the weather is disrupting usual buying patterns of that ever-important necessity—new shoes for the new school year.

The store was packed with moms and kids from pre-school through elementary. We took note of their choices and interviewed the customers themselves.

Rachel Whalen, a first grader from Park Ridge, had just spent a half hour arguing over several pairs of gym shoes with mom. STRIDE RITE salesman Sam Gatto referred. Much to our surprise, mother Lynn Whalen was purchasing a pair of pink winter boots. Her reasoning on this 100° day, "If we don't buy boots now, they're not here when we want them." Other far-sighted customers were also buying boots and echoing Lynn's philosophy: "We're buying shoes and boots early so they don't run out of the styles we want."

Michael Zider and mother were also at odds. Michael, a first grader at Stevenson School in Des Plaines had his heart set on a tough pair of black high-top Reeboks to go with the team shirts and jeans he had previously chosen. Mom reminded Mike those high-tops would be great for cooler weather but, just in case, a light-weight pair of shoes should also be bought. Younger brother Aaron, about to start pre-school seemed happy with just about anything.

The 100° temperatures didn't affect the selections of two Glenview sisters, Brianna (5 1/4 years old) and Brittany (3 years old). They both chose leather dress and school shoes. No matter what the weather calls for, STRIDE RITE offers a wide selection of the best brands and styles anywhere.

The first school supplies were slate chalk boards. As time evolved it was the generic blue notebook and standard yellow pencils. Today school supplies have taken on designer looks to fit any taste or interest. Notebooks and folders are literal works of art awash with color and bold geometric shapes. They also come with pencils, pens, and erasers that coordinate. Who would have thought mix 'n match school supplies would present such a challenge to one's creativity a few years back? ARCADIA, specialists in the most unique and exciting inventory of these articles was packed this week. Children looking for just the right supplies that might give them an edge in status pondered and examined the diverse options until their parents could barely stand up straight.

We asked customer, Rachel Carlson, a second grader from Glenview, if the kaleidoscope of colors had any impact on her enthusiasm toward returning to the classroom? Rachel told us, "It does make me more excited about going back to school. I love the neat folders and designs." Brother Eric, a fourth grader, agreed when he said, "I like the colors. I also love school, and this will make me want to learn more." Psychologists and teachers take note! Scholastic underachievement and poor motivations could be attributed to dull school supplies.

We also visited CANARY & THE ELEPHANT, another great place for unusual school supplies. They don't believe in selling plain notebook paper. Their collection, called Pretty Paper, is the same size with the same lines as regular notebook paper. The difference is the muted designs in hints of pinks and purples. The designs won't interfere with your writing, and they're guaranteed to make even the dullest essay look beautiful.

Perfumed pens and pencils in a multitude of shapes can add that special feeling as you create that masterpiece. No student has the right to claim he's bored with zebra striped and giraffe blotched pens...With school supplies that pack power like these, we expect all A's with no excuses.

Until next time see you at the mall.

School's Open Safety Week

by Secretary of State Jim Edgar

This is "School's Open Safety Week" in Illinois. Slow down and drive carefully through school zones because the 20 miles per hour speed limit is now in effect. The 20 mph limit applies on school days between 7 a.m. and 4 p.m. when children are present and signs are posted.

During the early part of the school year, excited children may not be paying attention to traffic safety. Therefore, you should watch for children not only near schools but in residential areas and where school buses pick them up and drop them off.

School safety patrols, adult crossing guards, police officers and auxiliary police assist students at many crossings. You should also be alert at other crossings where pedestrian safety depends solely on drivers slowing down and stopping.

There are two types of school signs. Both are yellow and shaped like an old schoolhouse. School area signs are posted when school grounds are next to the road or a school crossing is ahead. School crossing signs are posted at the crosswalk and at the school crossing signals.

It is a good safe driving practice to slow down any time you see a school sign. Classes may be held at different hours and many activities are held at night or on the weekend.

Prepare your child for kindergarten

by Eugene H. Zalewski
District 71 Superintendent

What can parents do to insure a good start for their new kindergartner? This is a question heard every year by schools from parents who want their children to do well in the school year.

If you fall into the category of having a five year old who will enter school this fall, you will want to know what the school expects children to be able to do when they walk in the school doors in August. A call to the school or visit to the library may give you some helpful ideas. At Niles Elementary we would like to share our expectations with you for Fall. Consider the following:

Over 30% of beginning kindergartners have attended preschool. These children have had the experience of separating from their parents and have worked in small groups with children their own age. In many cases, addresses are memorized. Preschoolers will often have had the chance to work with scissors, done a lot of coloring, learned to sit and listen to directions, and often know how to count to 20.

Children coming to school from preschool have also had a chance to deal with the feeling of security, knowing that at the end of the day they will go home to the same secure place to which they are familiar.

If your child has not attended preschool, what should you do?

Talk about what school will be like. Let him/her know that nothing will change while away from you during the day. This is an important issue to talk to your child about. An ounce of prevention here can save you and your child from unnecessary emotional fear next month. I suggest that you let your child know how proud you are that they can take this major step in growing up. Let them know that you trust them and that they will do just fine at school. You can be assured that teachers will be spending time to reinforce this same notion with their classes.

If your child will walk to school, go with him/her on a dry run. See the route your child will walk and while you're at it you can see the school together. This also adds to a sense of security for a child.

Around the house or in the car, spend your time getting your child to talk openly to you. This can be done with games but remember, the important goal of the game is to get your child to talk! Children are smart. They learn very quickly that if they don't answer they cannot give the wrong response. If your child is trying but makes an occasional mistake, it should be met with a serious attempt to try again, not with a belittling "Wrong!"

Some very helpful games include the "I'm thinking of something..." (in the car or wherever you are) that is... Here you can tailor the game to meet your own objectives. For example, I need to work on identifying colors with my child. I'm always thinking of something that is the color... (red). When my child answers correctly, then he gets to think of the next object and I have to do the guessing. This game can be used to get children to talk about all kinds of things like hard or shiny, or comparisons (big, bigger, biggest or close and far). Rules are easily understood and the games are good ways to pass tedious driving times.

Other games may help with powers of observation. "Look for a..." (you name it) is a good way to keep the crew paying attention to what is going on outside of the car. For a few meaningless points, your whole care can be more concerned about what is outside of the car than what one brother is doing to needle the other.

Some of the good habits needed around the house will transfer to the classroom. Children are expected to pick up after themselves. Listening to a lot of directions, staying on a job until it is complete, not bothering others are all just as necessary in school as they are at home. Let your child have some responsibility now. It can save your kindergartner from a very big shock later.

Self care skills are important to cover with your son or daughter. These include putting on shoes, tying laces, knowing when to ask to help and knowing how to wait your turn before asking. (If you can't master tying shoelaces, consider Velcro fasteners.)

Finally, take some time to visit the school when open house or parent/child days occur. Your child wants to please you. This means the values you show are the ones that your child will try to match to earn your pride. Be careful in your comments and criticisms. When made in front of a child, these can affect the good attitude most children bring to school. Ultimately, a good attitude will be a great strength for your child in working through school and in developing friendships.

We hope you and your child are excited about coming to school.

At Niles Elementary our classes begin August 29. Our address is 6935 W. Touhy, Niles, 60648.

Superintendent

22 get new school scholarships

New scholarship funds established by the Maine Township High School District 207 Board of Education in January have benefitted 22 students who were able to take non-athletic summer enrichment programs between their junior and senior years in high school or continue their education after high school.

Interest from student activities accounts at the three high schools fund the new scholarships. Each school has between $35,000 and $45,000 in the student activities account. Students at the three schools received a total of $8,700 in scholarship money.

Students from Maine East are Joseph Chang, Jeremy Muench, Hilary Sostrin, Anna Lopez, Jon Richman, Steve Sox, Ken Sorensen, and Cara Lazerwith.

Maine East schedules added pre-school class

Applications will be accepted until August 29 for a pre-school class which will be held during the first semester of the 1988-89 school year at Maine East High School. The class, conducted by junior and senior students under the direction of a certified child development teacher, is part of the "on-the-job" training program of the child care occupations course offered by the home economics department.

Although preschool classes have traditionally been offered in the morning, because of increased enrollment in the course at

St. John Brebeuf school opening date

Teachers have been preparing their classrooms the past several weeks, anticipating the arrival of their students on Wednesday, Aug. 31. Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, August 31, September 1 and 2 will be half days with dismissal at noon. Kindergarten a.m. students will come from 8:30 to 10 and the p.m. group will come from 10:30 to noon.

Parents of three year old preschoolers will meet in the library on August 29 at 7 p.m. and parents of four year olds will meet in Flanagan Hall on Tuesday, Aug. 30 at 7 p.m.

All parents who were not available for the Aug. 20 down payment date are asked to make their down payment on Saturday, Aug. 27 from 10 to 11 a.m. in the front school lobby. Students will also be given their room assignments at that time.

Because of the extremely hot weather, uniforms need not be worn those first three days, but no shorts, sundresses, T-shirts or muscle shirts will be allowed. "Appropriate dress" is the key. Gym shoes may be worn.

Maine East, an afternoon session has been scheduled.

Ten to 18 children of preschool age will be enrolled in the session. To be eligible for acceptance, children must be between 3½ and 4½ on September 1. The class will enable child care occupations students to observe the growth and development of young children and to gain experience in supervising their activities.

Application forms are available in the main office at Maine East.

Felician College renamed to honor founder

Felician College is now Montay College at 3750 West Peterson Ave., Chicago, Illinois 60659. The new name honors the founder of the college, Sister Mary Innocenta Montay, C.S.S.F., who served as college President from 1953 to 1963. The name change, which took effect August 1, marks a rededication of the college to provide quality two-year liberal arts and human development education to men and women of all backgrounds.

Originally chartered as a college to educate members of the Felician Community exclusively, Felician College began admitting women in 1967, and became coeducational in 1974. Since its founding, the college has broadened its curriculum, expanded physical facilities, developed new programs and offered a wide range of services for the community.

In 1987 the Board of Trustees and the college's administration, at the initiative of Sister Charlene Endeavrage, President, determined that a name change in honor of the founder would better reflect the contemporary nature of the college.

Montay College now offers undergraduate Associate Degree programs in: Art, Business, Computer Science, Gerontology, Human Services, Instrumental Music, Pre-Health, Pre-Law, Substance Abuse Counseling, Teacher Education, and Voice. Most of these programs may be pursued in either the Day or the Evening offerings at the college.

Additionally, Montay College offers instruction through a Continuing Education program, and through the Montay College Fine Arts Center. Continuing Education offers area residents courses in various areas including: personal finance, travel, opera, personal health, and skill development, as well as certification programs in Addition Counseling and Gerontology. The Montay College Fine Arts Center provides age-centered instruction to adults and children in the areas of: instrumental music—Suzuki and Traditional methods (flute, violin, cello, percussion instruments, classical guitar, and piano), adult and children's chorus, handbell choir, ballet, art, and related fine arts subjects.

Junior Cancer League

The next meeting of the Junior Cancer League will be held on Sunday, August 28, at the Devonshire Field House, Skokie. Starting time is 8 p.m.

The Junior Cancer League, which has been in existence for over 35 years, has been raising funds for research, treatment and a cure of cancer since its inception where dedication and inspiration are the significant factors of its members.

The purpose of JCL is to secure funds to be donated to non-profit institutions toward the cure and elimination of one of the world's most dreaded diseases. But, as we have conquered, or made medical advances from diseases such as polio, diphtheria, hepatitis, and other fatal maladies of the past, so shall we some day conquer cancer.

Members of JCL devote their time, energy and money to help in this fight against cancer—a disease that afflicts old and young, rich and poor and all races of humanity. It is the hope and wish of JCL to help all mankind enjoy a life free of cancer.

JCL contributes funds to the University of Chicago, the Portes Cancer Prevention Center and the Weitzmann Institute of Science in this endeavor...and each day does bring new advances, new understanding and new hope.

Each and every one of us know of a relative or good friend who has succumbed to this disease. The recipient establishments that we support are among the leading scientific research centers in the world, renowned for their high standard of excellence and research.

"Doctor links new dance crazes with whiplash problem"

A Des Plaines Doctor of Chiropractic says the new dance crazes are causing thousands of young persons across the nation to suffer from acute forms of whiplash.

"Young people are rotating and shaking their heads while doing the punk rock, disco, 'New Wave' and other forms of dancing," according to Dr. Bernard A. Shindler. "The constant motion is causing severe damage to their spines and thus causing an upsurge in headaches."

Whether from dancing or long hair, he said, these persons are suffering from the snapped neck syndrome and pinched nerves.

New duties include coordinating professional nursing care for north shore patients who prefer convalescing at home. Study documents hospital charity care

George B. Caldwell, president, Lutheran General Health Care System, has announced the release of a major study on charity care and the role of the voluntary hospital in caring for the poor. The study was conducted by the Washington research firm of Lewin and Associates for Volunteer Trustees of Not-For-Profit Hospitals, Washington, D.C.

"This study is important because there are 37 million Americans without health insurance and the demand on hospitals to provide free care is an ever-growing problem," explains Mr. Caldwell. "The study dispels the perception that not-for-profit hospitals are not caring for their patients in significant numbers. The study, which was the subject of a 'Special Report' in the May 5 issue of the 'New England Journal of Medicine,' compared for-profit and not-for-profit hospital performance and found that not-for-profit hospitals carry significantly larger burdens of free care than their profit-taking counterparts dispelling the myth that all hospitals are providing the same amount of care in response to competition pressures." In four of the five states surveyed, not-for-profit hospitals took care of 50-100 percent more charity cases. The states used in the study were California, Florida, North Carolina, Virginia and Tennessee.

The Volunteer Trustees of Not-For-Profit Hospitals is an organization of hospitals governing boards concerned with national health care issues. Lutheran General Hospital-Park Ridge, an affiliate of Lutheran General Health Care System, is a member.

Mr. Caldwell stated further that he hoped the study, entitled "Setting the Record Straight", put to rest concern that hospitals are not taking care of the poor. The real question, he said, is "how we, as a society, will pay for the care of those unable to afford it."

Lutheran General Hospital-Park Ridge, established in 1959, provided approximately $4.7 million in free care last fiscal year, as well as many free services such as health promotion activities, health screenings, and educational services.

Trekking bike to raise funds for lung disease research

If the sight of fall leaves changing colors, apple orchards and picturesque towns sounds inviting, then a bicycle trek through southwestern Michigan is a dream come true. Chicago Lung Association is sponsoring a three day, 125 mile cycling adventure through southwestern Michigan's scenic wine country.

The Michigan Lakeshore Bicycle Trek, September 16-18, begins with a bus ride from Chicago to Saugatuck, Michigan, where riders begin the first leg of the trek. Day two takes riders along with shores of Lake Michigan, through St. Joseph and finishing at Warren Dunes State Park for a night of bonfires and sing-alongs. The weekend concludes with a leisurely ride to Michigan City, Indiana, where cyclists will celebrate their accomplishments with picnic in the park.

"We feel this is a unique bike experience for everyone to enjoy. You don't need to be an expert cyclist to participate. We have purposely made the route a comfortable 40 miles a day with plenty of time to explore the small towns and colorful scenery along the lakeshore," says Mark Hopkins, director of special events for Chicago Lung Association.

To be eligible for the trek, cyclists must raise a minimum of $150 in pledges and pay a $50 registration fee which will reserve a place for them among the 125 adults. All proceeds for the trek benefit Chicago Lung Association's research into the causes of and cures for lung disease. Cyclists are provided with round trip transportation, two nights of camping with breakfast and dinner each day, complete support services of a medical van, sag wagon, a mobile bike shop for on-the-road repairs and gear transportation.

The top fund raiser receives a trip for two to California's Napa Valley, courtesy of IVI Travel and American Airlines. A Canon rain suit or telephone answering machine, a Triathlon sports watch and a vivitar 35 mm "Point and Shoot" camera kit are a few of the prizes also available to fund raisers. All participants receive a Michigan Lakeshore Bicycle Trek T-shirt and water bottle. Trekkers who raise $300 or more join a select group in the Winner's Circle and are honored at a special reception. These special members also receive a Winner's Circle shirt, a commemorative pin and their name inscribed on a plaque permanently displayed at Chicago Lung Association.

Chicago Lung Association's Michigan Lakeshore Bicycle Trek is sponsored by WFYR 103.5 FM, Inside Chicago Magazine, IVI Travel and American Airlines.

Co-sponsored by ANAD (National Association of Anorexia and Associated Disorders), H.E.L.P. The focus will not be on research or theory, but on practical, cohesive approaches to treatment." Dr. Levitt is clinical director of the Healthy Eating Lifestyles Program and a member of the professional staff of Forest Hospital.

For registration or other information, contact ANAD at 831-3438, or Forest Hospital, 635-1100, Ext. 362 or 363.

Prostate screenings

Who gets prostate cancer? Most men who get prostate cancer are 55 years of age or older, and the risk increases with age. Rates are higher among blacks than whites, and more married men than single develop it.

What are the symptoms? Cancer of the prostate usually involves enlargement of the prostate gland. Any prostate enlargement can lead to a variety of urinary problems.

How is prostate cancer found? Your doctor can detect almost all prostate cancer during a digital rectal exam. This exam should be part of your regular health check up every year after the age of 50. Currently up to 70 percent of patients are surviving five years after treatment of localized prostate cancer. Because it is important that this form of cancer is discovered early, we encourage you to take advantage of this free prostate screening. This free screening is available on September 6 from 5 to 8:30 p.m. or during regular office hours. Mount Sinai Hospital North is located at 2451 W. Howard St. For information and an appointment call 761-6000, Ext. 5119, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Decreasing the risk of heart disease

- Reduce saturated fat, cholesterol and salt in your diet.
- Begin a program of moderate, regular exercise.
- Have your blood pressure checked periodically by your physician.
- Have your blood cholesterol level measured and typed.
- If you are a male, or a post-menstrual woman, consult your family physician about whether you should be taking an aspirin every other day.
- If you smoke, quit! Smoking clearly increases your risk of heart attack, and that risk is directly related to how many cigarettes you smoke in any given day.

"The grade point averages of today's dental students are better than in the fifties. These students are committed to the profession. They want to be dentists in spite of attempts by some to discourage them," said Dr. James Koelbl, assistant dean for admissions and student affairs at Loyola University School of Dentistry.

It is much harder being a dental student in the eighties. There is a lot more material to learn and adjustments must be made to cope with a profession preparing for the 21st century.

The future practitioner will be caring for a growing elderly population who require more dental care," Dr. Koelbl said. "Also medical advances such as bypass surgery and organ transplantation have prolonged life for many people and they require dental care."

A good portion of dental practice will be devoted to dental implants, caring for periodontal cases and geriatric dentistry, a growing specialty. Cosmetic dentistry and other new developments will also help increase the demand for dental services.

Although there were many factors responsible for declining enrollments, there were several principal factors that had a major impact.

"Attraction to a profession often hinges on the professionals we encounter," Dr. Koelbl said. "They serve as role models. But if they discourage instead of encourage, you're going to have a hard time convincing prospective students to consider dentistry."

Another key factor is debt. It costs a lot of money to go through four years of dental school; it is not uncommon for a graduate to leave school owing between $40,000 and $50,000.

"While finances are an important consideration, it should be remembered that dentistry is still a lucrative profession. In a study done in 1984, dentistry ranked sixth on a list of 87 highest paying careers for the eighties," Dr. Koelbl said.

He praised the university administration and the dental alumni for being very supportive of the school.

"We get a lot of referrals from our alumni. All things being equal in the admissions process, we give every consideration to the sons and daughters of our alumni."

Women have also had a substantial effect on dentistry because it is a field that is attractive to them. In the last five years, there has been a steady increase in the number of women in the Loyola dental classes. They now make up one-third of the entering class.

"We promote dentistry as an attractive career for women," Dr. Koelbl said. "It is a profession where they can combine a profession, marriage and raise a family. The hours are flexible. You can work part-time and still have a successful practice. They're good students. We're happy to have them as part of the Loyola family."

Ophthalmologists support public awareness program

An estimated 50,000 Americans will go blind this year, yet 90% of all blindness could be prevented!

In an effort to inform people about the prevention of blindness, a board of leading ophthalmologists from around the nation have embarked on a major program to educate the public on the symptoms and treatment of sight-robbing eye diseases.

Under the banner of Vision, each of these doctors has agreed to donate a minimum of 100 hours of his time each year to public awareness programs.

The sadness shared by these doctors comes when they have to tell a patient and his family that it is too late for help. Trained to save sight, they are burdened by the number of people who fail to recognize or heed the early symptoms of eye disease or take the proper precautions necessary to prevent eye injuries.

The National Eye Institute in Bethesda, Maryland has recognized and designated Vision as the official source for public information on eye diseases and

Marriott's Lincolnshire presents "West Side Story"

Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre presents West Side Story, the dynamic Arthur Laurents, Leonard Bernstein and Stephen Sondheim musical of teenage love and violence in the mean streets of Manhattan's Upper West Side. The production previews Aug. 31, opens Sept. 7 and plays through Nov. 6, 1988.

This electrifying story of young love emerges against a backdrop of hostility and bitter tension between warring street gangs. Riff (Paul Dobie), the leader of the Jets, a self-styled "American" gang, swears to drive the Puerto Rican Sharks, led by Bernardo (Rob Rahn), from the streets. Riff prevails upon his friend and co-founder of the Jets, Tony (Marcus Lovett) to help him. Bernardo's sister, Maria (Susan Moniz), newly arrived from Puerto Rico, attends a dance with her new friend Anita (Shannon Cochran). It is here that Maria meets rival gang member Tony, and despite mutual hostilities, they fall in love. And so begins this much lauded modern-day version of Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet. The atmosphere of the production is stark and dramatic, but the book by Arthur Laurents adds humor and pathos to this captivating romance. The powerful musical score, written by Leonard Bernstein and lyrics by Stephen Sondheim, features the rhapsodic "Maria," the haunting melody "Somewhere" and the soaring urgency of "Tonight."

Produced for Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre by Kary M. Walker, West Side Story is directed by Dominic Missini and choreographed by Mark Hoebe. Performances are Wednesday at 2 and 8:30; Thursday 8:30 (includes free steak dinner); Friday 8:30; Saturday 5:30 and 9; and Sunday 2:30 and 7. Prestige Art Gallery exhibition

Prestige Art Gallery will be presenting a showing of original oil paintings by Homero Aguilar from Saturday, October 8 through Monday, October 24. These works represent a rare opportunity to view and appreciate the subtle complexity and attention to detail which characterizes the work of this emerging photo-realist. This is Aguilar's first individual show in the United States and represents the first time these paintings have ever been publicly shown.

The showing consists of twenty original oil paintings, each of which explores in its own unique way the delicate and tenuous connections between the realities of our everyday existence and the alternate environments mirrored in reflections. In each original and distinctive work, Aguilar juxtaposes hard reflective surfaces with the soft textures and subtle contours of old-world, wooden interiors. Many of these paintings look in upon themselves, reflecting back almost to infinity, stopping only to reveal a new and previously unexplored alternative environment. In other works, Aguilar uses the mirrored realities he creates to reflect out beyond the canvas to the private world of the artist that is normally inaccessible to the viewer. Homero Aguilar began his career reproducing the works of master's such as de Vinci and Manet on the mouldings of museum-apartments in his native Columbia. This heritage is reflected in his current work through his carefully and meticulously painted interiors. The golden warmth of each of these environments is then subtly combined with the light and shadow of an external world, creating works that are warm and inviting while at the same time elusive and intriguing.

We invite you to join us in exploring and experiencing Homero Aguilar's unique and contemplative realities as we premiere the works of this exciting new artist.

Prestige Art Gallery is located at 3909 W. Howard St. in Skokie, Illinois and is open from Monday through Wednesday and Saturday and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. or by appointment. For further information, please contact ther information, please contact Louis Schutz at (312) 679-2555.

Eucalyptus airlift organized for Lincoln Park Zoo koalas

Lincoln Park Zoo's new koalas will be well-fed, thanks to the ingenuity of Zoo officials, a commitment from the The Lincoln Park Zoological Society and the generosity of Midway Airlines.

Late in September, Lincoln Park Zoo will introduce two female koalas to Chicago — the first of their species to make their home in the Midwest. They will be joined by a male at a later date, and the Zoo hopes to begin a koala dynasty here.

Twice a week, Midway Airlines will airlift 40 lbs. of fresh eucalyptus leaves (the only food koalas eat) from central Florida to Chicago for the animals. Midway is donating this service to Lincoln Park Zoo for one year.

"The 'Eucalyptus Airlift' is an exciting project for all 1,700 Chicago-based Midway employees. We consider it an opportunity for our employees to set an example of good corporate citizenship," said Paul Auger, Vice President of Marketing for Midway Airlines.

The "Eucalyptus Airlift" is necessary because koalas are among the fussiest eaters in the animal kingdom. Their diet consists exclusively of leaves from the eucalyptus tree, a plant which only grows in warm climates. In order to establish a koala breeding center at Lincoln Park Zoo, a reliable source of fresh eucalyptus had to be secured.

"We decided to do something that we have never done before," explained Dr. Lester Fisher, Director of Lincoln Park Zoo. "We created our own eucalyptus plantation. This is an extraordinary commitment to one species of animals."

Dr. Dennis Meritt, Assistant Director of Lincoln Park Zoo, worked with a grower in Boynton Beach, Florida, to establish a five-acre eucalyptus grove exclusively for the Zoo. Funding for this project is being provided by the Lincoln Park Zoological Society, The Florida State Forest Department and the horticultural staff of the San Diego Zoo (the zoo which is sending koalas to Lincoln Park Zoo) helped research and provide seedlings for the "mini-plantation." Eventually, twelve varieties of eucalyptus will be grown.

To satisfy the finicky appetites of Lincoln Park Zoo's newest residents, Midway Airlines will fly in 40 lbs of fresh leaves twice each week. The koalas won't actually eat all 40 lbs., but they require this amount in order to pick and choose the tastiest morsels. They are extremely picky and if they are not provided with just the right amount and variety of fresh eucalyptus, they will not survive.

The eucalyptus forest of Australia are the koalas' native home. Generally nocturnal animals, they spend their lives in the tree tops, eating and dozing. They receive all the nourishment they need, including moisture, from the eucalyptus tree. Koalas eat so much eucalyptus, they smell like cough drops.

The once endangered species is now carefully protected by the Australian government. Because their export is forbidden, Lincoln Park Zoo's koalas will come from the San Diego Zoo. A comfortable habitat is being created for them atop the Crown-Field Center, near the Zoo's east entrance. The public will be invited to visit them there in late September.

Lincoln Park Zoo is open to the public, free of charge, 365 days a year. For more information, call (312) 938-6700.

Gottlieb meets Bush

George S. Gottlieb, Republican nominee for U.S. Congress (11th District), met with Vice President George Bush recently in Washington, D.C., and joined Bush's call for tougher legislation on drugs, which is currently under consideration in the House.

Gottlieb called on the House to accept some of the amendments being offered by Republicans which would increase penalties on drug sellers and users alike. "There should be a death penalty for drug kingpins convicted of murder. These are people who are killing other people in order to control the drug trade. These crimes call for the strongest penalties possible," Gottlieb said.

Gottlieb also called on Americans to embrace a "no tolerance" attitude toward drug use. "Only when the people of America totally reject the idea that drugs are OK sometimes, that social use is no big deal, can we really solve this problem."

Action Council endorses Valentino

On August 12, Executive Director Robert Creamer of the Illinois Public Action Council notified Richard Valentino, Democratic candidate for State Senator (7th), that he had received the Council's endorsement.

The Council is the state's largest public interest organization. Its interest in lowering public utility rates by lobbying the Illinois General Assembly and the Illinois Commerce Commission has attracted much attention over the last few years. Lately, the Public Action Council has also been active in pushing for regulation of insurance costs and for endorsement of toxic waste laws.

Richard Valentino stated, "With the cost the taxpayers are paying this summer in electric bills, I am sure that they will take notice of a candidate who will be concerned about keeping those bills down."

"The voters in the 7th District, which includes parts of Chicago's 38th and 45th Wards, plus all of Chicago's 41st Ward, Harwood Heights, Norridge, and parts of Niles and Park Ridge, always want to know who is concerned about them and their economic situations."

Dudycz blasts inadequate school reform measure

State Sen. Walter Dudycz (R-7th, Chicago) blasted Senate Democrats Saturday for approving a school reform proposal that abandons Chicago schoolchildren to special interests.

"The Senate passed Senate Bill 1839 after a lengthy debate July 2. The many questions and concerns raised during that debate proved to me that this school reform plan is inadequate," Dudycz said. "The very fact that the Senate President had to repeatedly assure members that the problems would be worked out at a later date was alarming. Why did the Senate pass a bill that needs to be fixed before it is even implemented? Senate Bill 1839 will not help solve the problems that have caused the once-excellent Chicago school system to deteriorate. It just protects the institutions that have caused the problems."

"During the debate, I asked my colleagues to put politics aside and put the children first. I asked them to resist caving in to special interests," Dudycz said. "I asked them to consider the 400,000 children who are preparing for life in the worst schools in the nation, according to Education Secretary William Bennett. Unfortunately, the statistics—the 50 percent dropout rates, the chronic absenteeism by teachers, the performance levels far below national averages—support his claims."

"The Chicago public school system faces some rough times, but it is not doomed. Some of the local schools do work and there are enough concerned and dedicated parents, teachers, administrators and students to turn the system around," Dudycz said. "Unfortunately, this proposal does not provide them with the means to do that. It does not give enough power to the men and women whose tax dollars support the schools."

"I did not vote for Senate Bill 1839, but I did not vote against school reform," Dudycz said. "I voted present because I believe in the children of Chicago. Unfortunately, I do not believe that Senate Bill 1839 has what it takes to give them the chance for a better future."

Pucinski shows Republican strength

Recent polls show Aurelia Pucinski running stronger among Republican voters than her opponent Ed Vrdolyak does among Democratic voters.

A poll by McKee Associates shows Pucinski leading Vrdolyak 2 to 1 countywide and by a 5 to 4 margin in the traditionally Republican suburbs.

"This is a major failure for our opponent's campaign," said Pucinski campaign manager Marty Marks.

He added, "An important premise of the Vrdolyak campaign is that he would attract many Democratic voters. Not only is he failing to do that, but many Republicans are responding very favorably to Aurie's approach of bringing reform to the courts."

The McKee survey showed Pucinski leading Vrdolyak among Democrats by a whopping 75% to 15% margin and Vrdolyak ahead narrowly among Republicans by 50% to 35%. A Chicago Tribune poll placed Pucinski ahead 55% to 27% and the story on the poll described Vrdolyak as "one of the most unpopular political figures in Cook County."

You can see the difference in the campaigns by the way people react to the candidates. Aurie is well-received and getting invitations to go to Republican areas, while Ed can't even walk in parades without getting booed," Marks said.

"Aurie's message is to restore integrity to the court system and that is something that appeals to people throughout Cook County regardless of party label," Marks concluded.

Jabu J. Mathews, a resident of 8305 St. Louis, Skokie, has completed the Basic Electrician's Course.

During the seven-week course at the Marine Corps Base Camp Lejeune, N.C., Mathews received instruction on safety, electrical theory, generator operation, preventive maintenance and field electrical systems installations. A 1986 graduate of Niles North High School, he joined the Marine Corps in January 1988.

Lindquist seeks solution to flooding problems

Bonnie Lindquist, Democratic Candidate for State Representative, has invited Illinois Congressional Representatives and Illinois State Representatives, Mayors, River Conservancy, and U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to join together in a fight against Des Plaines River flooding. Lindquist says, "The first action that should have been taken was to provide relief for people whose property was damaged in the flood of October, 1986. My opponent's negative vote on this flooding relief bill is yet another demonstration that the needs of the people living in the Park Ridge-Des Plaines area are not being attended to."

Lindquist continues, "Now I am inviting Penny Pullen to an opportunity to do something for the residents of the 55th Representative District and join us all in working for flood control along the Des Plaines River. There is no reason that we cannot improve the quality of our life through control and conservation of our environment. We must work together at all levels when we are controlling a river."

Lindquist has sent the proposal for cooperation in control of the Des Plaines River to United States Senators Dixon and Simon, U.S. Representatives Hyde and Crane, State Senator Kustra and State Representatives Sutker and Pullen, Democratic Candidate for State Senator, Marshall Belgrad, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Des Plaines River Conservancy, and the Mayors of Des Plaines, Niles, Park Ridge, Mt. Prospect, and Rosemont. Phil Lindahl, Lindquist Environment Task Force.

General Assembly approves series of bills

Legislation on child abduction, prostitution and pornography, drunken driving, child witnesses and income tax refunds won approval from the General Assembly this week, according to State Senator Walter Dudycz (R-Chicago).

Also during the week, Dudycz said Gov. Thompson met with Senate and House Legislative leaders to discuss the governor's recent tax proposal.

The proposal calls for a one percent hike in the individual income tax rate, which would raise an estimated $1.3 billion in new revenue. The majority of the new funds would go to education, with the remaining money going to other human services programs and being used to pay the state's overdue debts.

During the summit, Senate Republican Leader James

"Pate" Philip reemphasized to the Governor and the other legislative leaders the four concerns Republicans have consistently said must be addressed in any tax package—education reform, property tax relief, business incentives and changes to make school funding more equitable for downstate and suburban districts.

Dudycz said in addition to discussing the tax proposal, the four leaders named a special panel to negotiate the issue of state education reform, particularly that of the Chicago school system. The panel will consist of 12 lawmakers who will begin working immediately in an effort to consolidate into one package the numerous reform proposals now before the legislature.

Reading Club Participants

The Niles Public Library District congratulates all of the readers noted below who completed the Devour A Book Summer Reading Program. The children who registered at the Library and at the Bookmobile listed the books they read on a special chart and received a certificate which recognized their achievement.

On August 11 over 140 Devour A Book participants watched as Roberts Marionettes performed "The Talking Cat" in the Library's Children's Services Department. At the same time over 50 Monsters! Read-with-us Club members and their parents enjoyed an hour of Disney cartoons in the Library's meeting room. After these special events each participant received a certificate.

Those children who were unable to attend these programs may pick up their certificate at the location where they registered.

The Library also wishes to thank these local businesses whose donations of food coupons and other premiums helped to make the reading program successful: Brown's Chicken (7306 Waukegan), Burger King Restaurant (7133 Dempster St., Niles), F&F Management, Inc. (707 Skokie Blvd. Northbrook), McDonald's Restaurant (8460 Dempster St., Niles) and Tasty Pup Restaurant (9001 Milwaukee Ave., Niles).

Third estimated tax installment due

The Internal Revenue Service reminds people who make estimated tax payments that the third quarter installment is due September 15.

The payment should be sent to the IRS along with the third quarter payment voucher from Form 1040ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals. To be sure that the payment is properly credited to your account, the IRS asks that you write your social security number and the words, "1988 Form 1040ES" on the check.

If you expect to owe $500 or more in federal tax at the end of the year, you probably should be making quarterly estimated tax payments. Although retirees and business people are most often affected by this requirement, it can potentially apply to anyone who receives income that is not subject to withholding, such as unemployment benefits, alimony, capitol gains, interest, dividends, and rental income.

Form 1040ES contains a handy worksheet and a 1988 tax rate chart which can help you figure out whether or not you need to make estimated tax payments and, if so, how much more. More information on this subject, including some helpful examples and illustrations, can be found in IRS Publication 505 can be obtained free of charge by calling the IRS toll free 800-424-3676.

Centel supports price cap regulation

Centel Corporation said today that it strongly supports the Federal Communications Commission proposal to implement price cap regulation for the telephone industry.

Centel filed formal comments on the Federal Communications Commission's price cap proposal July 26 in Washington, D.C.

In its filing Centel proposed several revisions to the FCC's original proposal and urged the commission to adopt the changes and implement the price cap plan as scheduled on April 1, 1989.

Among the changes that Centel proposes are:

1. While the company generally supports the FCC's all-or-nothing rule for companies with multiple service areas, exemptions should be granted to companies that do not file their own access rate tariffs, such as average schedule companies or companies that belong to the National Exchange Carrier Association pool.

2. Rates for most new services should not be regulated. If new services are regulated, carriers should be given at least two years, not one, to adjust prices to reflect the realities of marketing new services.

3. Carriers should be allowed to base their price cap filing on the gross national product price index estimate available 45 days after the close of the quarter so the carriers will have sufficient time to prepare their filings.

4. The pricing bands for individual service rates within the price caps should be broadened to 10 percent from 5 percent. The broader band, according to Centel, will protect against major rate changes while providing realistic pricing flexibility.

Centel Corporation, which had 1987 revenues of nearly $1.5 billion, provides local exchange telephone service through more than 1.4 million customer lines in nine states; operates cellular mobile communications in eight states; provides cable television service to more than 343,000 customers in seven states; markets, designs and installs advanced telecommunications and data systems, with more than 18,000 customers across the nation; and supplies electric power to 135,000 customers in two states.

Com Ed president to address DePaul Forum

Thomas is responsible for engineering and the operation of Commonwealth Edison's bulk power system, including its fossil and nuclear generating stations, the operating divisions, industrial relations and marketing. He also is responsible for station construction and corporate security activities.

Business Forum tickets are $25 each, and reservations should be made by Sept. 6. For information call DePaul's Office of Alumni Relations at 341-6584.

The North Shore Chapter of the Illinois CPA Society is a 3,400 member organization with members in the North Shore, Wilmette, Winnetka, Skokie, Park Ridge, etc.

SV Business Women to meet

I'd just come back from National Guard training.

Unlike the disheveled fast-moving reporter from The Late, Late Show, this cast of characters were all neatly dressed, with that early morning shine which comes from recent showers and soaps and sprays of the early dawn.

My number one son, never at a loss for the right bit of journalism, said he wasn't going down the street because he hadn't punched in at the time clock yet.

I told the intrepid crew I was going to grab a camera and take a picture, a picture of this motley group watching passively a news story in action. Don't stop the presses for this one!

Driving down Dempster street Tuesday I noticed the gas stations which charge 4¢ a gallon more for credit card users than cash customers. I've never quite understood why they charge more for credit card use. Most of the oil companies make a concentrated effort for drivers to use their credit cards. Having succeeded in having their pieces of plastic inside drivers' wallets, they then proceed to charge them 4¢ more than the customers using cash.

There's something rather unholly about the gas-oil business in this country. Many of the oil companies are ruthless in their dealings. During the alleged oil shortage in the seventies, the oil companies made the greatest profits they'd ever made. There was an implication the companies themselves were not displeased with the mideastern oil countries holding back oil.

We've seen some of the companies ruthlessly at work. We had a neighbor on Ozanam Avenue who had a Standard gas station on Oakton and Skokie Highways. He held the option on the property. They told him if he didn't give them access to the land, they'd pull their franchise and open another station down the street. He held on to the lease, lost his franchise and Standard opened north of him about a block or two from his station. He got a different gas franchise and was out of business a short time later.

Many years ago a Sinclair station on Harlem Avenue south of Touhy went out of business. The station owner turned over the tanks and wrote angry disparagements about the company on his windows.

More recently a guy with a very successful business at Harlem and Dempster discontinued his business over a row with Marathon. One day he was servicing the usual 25 or 30 cars in his garage and the next day he closed up. It was another row with the company.

Working through the hot days of intense heat, and the cold days of below zero weather for many years, does not earn gas station owners respect from the cold calculators and computers which put oil companies on automatic. Gas station owners are just numbers to the oil companies.

We've often thought oil companies hold American drivers in bondage. When they decided little old ladies should be forced to pour their own gas in their own cars tanks, it was assumed the price of gas would go down. Not only did it not go down but they offered the little ladies the service they used to get if they would pay a premium for it.

During the Fourth of July holiday, the Shell station at U.S. 421 and U.S. 20 in Michigan City increased the price of their premium unleaded gas 15¢ a gallon. The day after the holiday it went back down to its normal price.

Socking customers 4¢ a gallon for using their company's credit card seems to indicate drivers are also just numbers to the oil people. The same kind of numbers they were when they were socked with inflated prices for gas during the alleged oil shortage.

Options 55 to explore hidden treasures

Members of Maine Township's Options 55 group can explore a variety of hidden treasures on a trip Saturday, Sept. 17, to the John Deere historic site in Grand Detour, Illinois.

Before reaching their destination at Grand Detour, the group will take a mini-tour to Rockford to visit its quaint Antique Village and then stop for a gourmet lunch at The Unicorn.

The John Deere historic site includes a visit to the home and workshop of the innovative young blacksmith who is 1837 forged the steel plow that opened the prairies to modern agriculture. Deere's blacksmith shop was unearthed in 1982 by an archaeological team from the University of Illinois and has been recreated for viewers.

Buses will leave the Maine Township Town Hall parking lot at 9 a.m. and return about 6:30 p.m. Cost of the trip including transportation, lunch and admission fees is $19 for members. Guest reservations at $24 will be taken on a space-available basis after August 26.

Options 55 is designed to meet the needs of pre-retirement adults, ages 55 through 65. Programs are planned for evenings and weekends to accommodate working members. Activities include concerts, theater trips, and weekend excursions to unusual places. Membership is limited to Maine Township residents. There is no fee for joining and members benefit from the group rates on activities.

Residents interested in joining Options 55 should contact Sue Neuschel at 297-2510.

most parkers. The tokens will be easier to count and immediately repackaged. Mayor Richard Hohns wondered if it wouldn't be necessary to have a distribution point on the west side of town. Village Administrator Larry Artt wants to wait and see how the response is. If there is a large response he will consider letting grocery stores and banks distribute them.

Trustee Lew Greenberg asked for and received passage for the 1988-89 tax levy for a gross amount of $6,177,467. This amounts to a 3.97% increase over last year; thus no public hearing was necessary because the increase was under 5%.

Chuck Schee, Community Development Director received approval for the installation of 22 street lights for this year.

of the campus "conservative and responsible," declaring, "Oakton has not violated any laws to date, and the Northwest Municipal Project will not violate any laws (when the building is erected)."

Board chairman Raymond Hartstein, who has met with Tilley and promised cooperation at the previous meeting, stated, "Oakton cannot be a savior to the whole world plain. We, as a board, will do everything possible, but municipalities and industry up and down the river affect conditions to a great extent."

Enrollment is up for the 1988-89 school year. As of August 23, enrollment rose by 3.4 percent at both Oakton campuses and late registration is still in progress. College President Thomas TenHoeve expressed surprise at the upward trend based on the number of area high school graduates which is down 10 percent this year. Registered full-time students comprise a large portion of the college's student population this term.

Maine Township Clerk Stephen J. Stolton is reminding residents that they can register to vote at his office in the Maine Township Town Hall, 1700 Ballard Rd., Park Ridge.

The Clerk's Office is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and 9 a.m. to noon Saturdays. Residents may register there through Oct. 3.

Registrants must be 18 on or before the general election Nov. 8

Residents feeling the need for street lights in their neighborhood should contact Schee and the request will be looked into for the next year.

Trustee Dan Scanlon reminded residents the sprinkling van is still in effect with watering hours from 5-8 a.m. and 7-10 p.m. Residents interested in the village's 50/50 tree planting program should contact Scanlon. 51 out of 160 available trees have been purchased. Cost of trees including planting are: Norway Maple-$70.75; Green Spire Linden-$75.75; and Seedless Ash-$64.75.

Mayor Hohns reminds the community there will be no Village Board meeting on September 12. The next meeting will take place Monday, September 22.

Dudycz legislation to protect senior citizens

Senior citizens in Illinois will be better protected from abuse, neglect and exploitation, under two bills sponsored by State Sen. Walter Dudycz (R-7th, Chicago) and signed by Gov. James Thompson.

"The health and financial troubles that sometimes come with age make many older people vulnerable to abuse, neglect and exploitation," Dudycz said. "We must provide a support system for senior citizens who have no one else to help them."

Senate Bill 1714 directs the Department on Aging to design and maintain a statewide program to assess alleged or suspected abuse or neglect of people 60 or older, and provide necessary services.

"An important provision of the bill grants immunity for people who report suspected abuse or neglect of senior citizens. Removing the threat of civil action might make some people more willing to contact the authorities if they suspect senior citizens are being harmed," Dudycz said.

"Because the state budget is tight, the program will be phased in as funding becomes available," he added.

Another Dudycz bill crack down on businesses that mail phony public service brochures to generate mailing lists they can sell to insurance agents.

"The Department of Insurance has received complaints about official-looking mailers that appear to be from federal agencies providing information about programs like Medicare," Dudycz said. "However, the individuals who return these mailers—many of them genuinely concerned about the issues the phony brochures address—find their names have been put on a mailing list used to generate leads for insurance sales."

Senate Bill 2011 will subject these businesses to the fraud provisions of the Insurance Code, which prohibits insurance companies and agents from such practices.

pected to total $11,142,188 with expenses estimated to be $12,187,880. During the previous year, $11,239,149 was budgeted for the same fund at a shortfall of $771,485.

District Finance Director Robert Cripe said the district was "budgeting expenses greater than revenues for five to seven years and is running out of support."

He noted that 1989 is a quadrennial reassessment year which "may boost the tax base."

According to estimated board expenses, other funds expected to run into difficulty are: Operation, Building and Maintenance (OBM); Life Safety; Special Education Building; Transportation; and Illinois Municipal Retirement.

Of these, the biggest gap may occur in the OBM fund with anticipated revenues at $1,670,467 and estimated expenses at $2,579,279, or $938,988 less than last school year.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Eldon Gleichman does not foresee future relief for the district in the form of state aid. However, he said, "If the board chooses, I could recommend cuts this year based on the budget which lists costs for each pro-

...Troy told the board this is a "first" since no one has required nursing homes to provide up front credit. He said much research and discussion had taken place during the past few months on this subject and credited Dr. Jerome Podgers with his "invaluable input". Podgers formerly was involved in the ownership of a Niles nursing home, but according to Troy "has not been for the past four or five years."

In addition to the letter of credit, the village of Niles is considering raising the licensing fees for nursing homes which house the developmentally disabled from $15 per bed yearly to $100 per bed. Troy told the board this would partially help recoup the costs incurred by the village for personnel to inspect these homes.

In other action Niles Police Chief Ray Giovannelli asked for and received approval for an increase from 3 days to 7 days "cooling off period" for the purchase of firearms. Currently, he said, when someone wants to purchase a firearm, he must fill out an application and wait 3 days. Since the incident with Laurie Dann in Winnetka last May, Giovannelli asked an extension of time to 7 days would give police an ample amount of time to check the gun purchaser's background. Dann purchased her firearms
