Niles Library Board ok's salary hikes

by Eileen Hirschfeld

An increase in pay for personnel at the Niles Public Library District was agreed to by board members at an October 12 meeting.

The former 82-step salary schedule was broken down into 10 steps with a $10,000 difference between the first and tenth levels. Library Administrator D.J. McKenzie said the most significant changes would occur at entry level positions but persons

Wading through causes of Niles and Morton Grove's flooding

Officials say Monday floods 'unavoidable'

by Nancy Keramias

In the wake of 1988's worst rain storm, officials in Morton Grove and Niles explained the Monday, October 17 flooding was largely unavoidable. Despite extensive area-wide sewer projects, many local residents experienced no relief from flooding.

Causes for Monday's problems are complex. Locks at the North Shore Channel, near Wilmette, remained closed during the storm. Elaborate calculations performed by Metropolitan Sanitary District equipment which predict flood conditions, indicated that overflow from the channel was not imminent, despite a downpour which ex-

Monday's deluge causes flooding, power outages

by Sylvia Dalrymple

The rain that Niles residents and village officials had been hoping for during the long summer drought came down with a vengeance last Monday when nearly 3 1/2 inches of rain caused heavy flooding on neighborhood streets, basements and scattered power outages. Keith Peck, Niles director of public services, said he had predicted that when the rains came, it would be a deluge. "However, I didn't expect so much, so fast. The heavy thunderstorms turned the streets

Park and Village discuss Ballard security

Niles officials and park commissioners plan to meet soon to discuss security measures for former Ballard School, to prevent vandalism and the frequent triggering of the burglar alarm that occur all hours of the night.

At Tuesday's meeting of the Niles park board, Commissioner Walter Bousse said that doors to enter the facility located at Ballard and Cumberland have been found open when they should be closed allowing entry by outsiders posing vandalism problems. Bousse said seven thermostats were recently knocked off the walls and had to be replaced by the village at the cost of $1,400. "We have found wedges of paper and other material stuck in the front and side doors to keep them open, presumably for convenient access by members of various organizations using the building," he said.

"Ringling Readers"

Program in Lincolnwood

A nationally-acclaimed motivational reading program, developed by Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus in cooperation with RIF (Reading is Fundamental), will bring its 1988 campaign to Chicago in mid-October. Eighteen Chicago area schools will be visited during the two-week "Ringling Readers" tour including one school in Lincolnwood: Rutledge Hall, 6850 East Prairie, at 10 a.m. on October 24.

Created in 1986 in response to growing national concern over the problem of illiteracy, "Ringling Readers" has helped encourage more than half a million children across the country to read. With Kevin the Circus Clown as its host, the program shows children how to make reading a happy and healthy part of their lives, stressing that reading is fun.

"Reading Lets You Imagine" is the theme of this year's all-new 25 minute live presentation. The entertaining program takes children on a magical tour through time. A specially designed imagination time machine allows children to discover through books how life was in days gone by, and how it might look in days to come.

Each child will receive a copy of the Ringling Reporter, an eight-page newspaper full of circus stories written and edited especially for children by RIF. RIF is a national non-profit organization founded to promote reading.

Independent voters are key to victory in Niles-Maine Twps.

by Sylvia Dalrymple

Although this year's election campaign is chalking up some kind of record for name-calling and mudslinging by candidates from both sides of the political fence, local Republicans and Democrats are in agreement that the independent voter is crucial to victory at the polls.

Party leaders across in the local political spectrum have learned from past experience that more and more voters remain uncommitted as election day nears. "They are more likely to vote for the candidate rather than the party," said Niles Mayor Nicholas Blase, also Democratic committeeman of Maine.

Who will pay is big question

Voters to decide fate of 911 emergency system

Halloween Party at Notre Dame

The annual Village of Niles Halloween Party will be held at the Notre Dame High School Gymnasium, October 31, between 4 p.m. and 8 p.m.

The Niles Police Department will host this event and have planned another great party for all the children in the community. As in the past, there will be no charge for attending, just wear your costume and enjoy the games, goodies, and fun.

Because of the concern for child safety, this party will give everyone an alternative to "Trick or Treating."

See you all on Halloween, Monday, October 31.

The choice for Niles and Glenview residents voting on their respective November 8th referendums is whether they or their Village will pay for the installation and maintenance costs of a 911 system. Once installed, the municipalities will pay for the personnel and other operational costs of the system. Supporters of 911 point to the time and money savings of the installed system, but the reality is even without 911, local citizens see themselves as beneficiaries of efficient police and fire dispatch systems and may feel there is no need to change the status quo if it means additional expense. Under the present system, however, emergency personnel cannot readily respond if the caller becomes unconscious or if there is a language barrier. Central to the time saving argument is the premise the citizen does not have the correct emergency phone number in a readily accessible location and will have to look it up in the phone book. Under these circumstances

by Nancy Keramias

Awash in a flood of complaints about water problems, Morton Grove Public Works crews were out late Monday night clearing leaves and other debris from backed up sewers. In addition, Morton Grove police waded through a maze of water and cars to erect barricades enabling Vice President George Bush's motorcade to travel west on Dempster enroute to a campaign stop in DuPage County. Earlier the candidate had delivered a speech in Skokie to a rain-soaked crowd. The motorcade passed through a tidal pool collecting along Dempster between Harlem and Shermer, an area plagued by flooding. Morton Grove Village Administrator Larry Artt said that the intensity of the rain, coupled

The Illinois Secretary of State's office, in conjunction with the Village of Morton Grove is offering a Photo Identification program for all citizens in the Morton Grove area. Photo I.D. cards will be issued between 9:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 27 in the Prairie View Community Center. Photo I.D.s are available to drivers and non-drivers and provide a form of personal identification that may be especially useful to senior citizens (65+) and persons with disabilities. There is a $4 fee for others. People applying for a Photo I.D. card must submit a Social Security card and at least two other acceptable forms of identification that provide their name, date-of-birth, residency and a signature comparison. For an appointment, call the Morton Grove Senior Hot Line at 470-5223.

DENTISTRY FOR THE HOMEBOUND

The Niles/Morton Grove Rotary Club, as a community service project in cooperation with the Illinois Foundation of Dentistry for the handicapped will provide any homebound or nursing home resident of Niles or Morton Grove with a dental treatment fund. Residents who are homebound or reside in a nursing home in these villages who do not have dental insurance, are not on public aid, and are in need, are eligible. For details please contact the Foundation dental coordinator at 674-7755. Please mention the Niles/Morton Grove Rotary Club when calling.

FIGURING MEDICARE

Medicare's Catastrophic Coverage Act will bring numerous changes in benefits to Medicare patients. Morton Grove's Medicare/Medicaid Assistant Program will help local seniors in filing their health insurance claims while clarifying billing procedures. Counseling sessions begin at 10 a.m. on Monday, Oct. 24 in the Prairie View Community Center. Call 470-5223 for an appointment.

MEALS-ON-WHEELS VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT

For people with a little time on their hands and who wish to help out neighbors with needs, Morton Grove's Meals-On-Wheels service needs your help. Homebound and recent hospital patients receive hot home delivered meals and are greeted daily by friendly and devoted volunteers who visit about eight people once a week. A volunteer is asked to donate one hour a week traveling from the source of the lunches, Bethany Methodist Terrace in Morton Grove, to various homes within the village. For more information on volunteering, call the Morton Grove Department of Health & Human Services at 470-5246.

AUTO INSURANCE LAW

Legislation mandating all Illinois motorists to carry liability insurance was recently signed by Governor Thompson. The Secretary of State's office will enforce the law by random computer checks and reviews of accident reports. Motorists identified as uninsured will be subject to a two-month suspension of the vehicle registration and a $50 reinstatement fee. In addition, proof of liability insurance will be required prior to the lifting of any suspension. Also, the law will be enforced by traffic tickets issued by police officers. The minimum fine for driving without insurance is $500.

POLICE ACADEMY TOUR

The Prairie View Senior Travel Club announces another entertaining tour plus a special lunch. The November 1 trip includes an in-depth tour of the Chicago Police Academy, then an elaborate lunch in Greek Town. Fresh Fish at My Place For? Restaurant

Cooler weather has signaled the new season for many varieties of fresh fish that will be plentiful in Chicago and available to fish lovers at reasonable prices, says Steve Dorizas, co-owner of the popular North Side restaurant My Place For? at 7545 N. Clark, Chicago.

The veteran restaurateur and former merchant marine sailor says that firmer, fresh and very tasty varieties have already appeared in the market and are featured at My Place For?

"In addition to the old stand-bys — such as Whitefish and Red Snapper — there will be many exceptionally tasty and nutritious varieties that will surprise the public," Dorizas says.

Steve and his brother, Danis, have owned and operated several successful fish restaurants during the past 20 years after they left their native island

Just in time for Halloween, the Des Plaines Theatre Guild is holding a clothing and costume sale on Saturday, October 22 from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the Guild Playhouse, 620 Lee St., Des Plaines.

According to Marilyn Collignon, Guild president and costume chairman, "We've collected so many articles of clothing and props over the 25 years we've been in this building that we're running out of storage space." For sale will be men's suits and shirts, ladies' long dresses and hats and period costumes. Proceeds from the sale will be used to purchase a sewing machine for the Guild.

Cephalonia, off the West Coast of Greece. There, their family owned a small fish tavern "The Bakaliarakia," which is the Greek work for young Cod fish.

My Place For? is decorated in a nautical theme and offers a full menu with many Grecian-style and Mesquite broiled fish dishes. In addition to the regular fish offerings, the restaurant features several daily specials picked from the best fresh fish available in the market, Cajun specialties, and meat and fowl entrees.

Adjacent to the restaurant is the Playbill Cafe, the exciting jazz spot which features celebrated jazz ensembles from 8 p.m. to midnight Fridays and Saturdays. A wide-screen TV highlights sports events. There is no cover or minimum.

My Place For? opens daily at 3:30 p.m. Free valet parking is available. All major credit cards are accepted. For reservations, call 262-5767.

Phoenix Conference celebration

With the theme "Out of Confusion: Understanding," the 10th Annual Phoenix Conference, Oct. 28 and 29, 1988 at the Westin Hotel, O'Hare, will emphasize people who are experiencing changing lifestyles due to divorce, stress or death, as well as those who have dedicated their lives to aiding others.

Keynote speaker will be Paula Ripple whose diverse background includes 5 years as the first Executive Director of the North American Conference of Separated and Divorced Catholics. Author of "The Pain and the Possibility," she has been published and/or interviewed in Sign, US Catholic, The Ligurian, The Catholic Evangelist, The Way and Studies in Formative Spirituality.

Participants in the conference, conducted by the Archdiocese of Chicago's Phoenix Ministry for Separated and Divorced Catholics, will choose 4 sessions from 24 workshop selections addressing Divorce and Single Parenting; Death and Dying;

Remarriage/Blending Families/Staying Single; Life Stresses; Faith and Spirituality; and Life Issues. The positive direction of the format reaches out to people of all faiths who need strength in their changing lives. Beginning with the Keynote address Friday evening and progressing through the full day of workshop sessions Saturday, the conference concludes Saturday with a banquet and one woman show following the closing Mass at 4 p.m. Always a revitalizing experience, this year's main celebrant is Rev. Jeremiah Rodell, Director of the Dept. of Parish/Pastoral Services for the Archdiocese of Chicago. Mass will also be co-celebrated by priests involved in the Phoenix Ministry.

For additional information and registration brochures, call 751-8353 or write The Phoenix Office, P.O. Box 1979, Chicago, IL 60690 right away as space is available on a first-come-first-serve basis.

Campaign '88 Rally

Temple Judea Mizpah presents "Campaign '88 Rally" on Sunday, October 23, at 10 a.m. in the community hall of the temple at 8610 Niles Central Road in Skokie.

The "Rally" is divided into two sessions: "Constitutional Convention 1990" shall we vote YES or NO on November 8-an open discussion.

"State House Representative Battle" with Sheldon Marcus, the Republican challenger and Calvin Sukter, the Democratic incumbent will be moderated by Dr. Michael Mezey of Skokie. This meeting, preceded by breakfast, is open to the public, sponsored by the Religious and Social Action Commission under the leadership of Vice President Mark Moses and Chariman Sidney Blustein, both of Skokie.

Rabbi Marc E. Berkson is the spiritual leader of the congregation and Dr. Gilbert Gavlin of Lincolnwood is President. Everyone is invited to attend. For additional information, call the temple office at 676-1566.

"Journey in Faith"

On Friday, Oct. 28, all the teachers from St. Isaac's School will be attending the Archdiocese of Chicago Special Inservice Day entitled "Journey in Faith." The focus of this year's conference is on Scripture and Christology. The influence the teachers exert in the information of young hearts and minds is one of the most precious and significant roles in the church.

SIJ Fall Blood Drive

Community residents are invited to join members of St. Isaac Jogues Church for a blood drive on Sunday, Oct. 23 from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. The drive will be held in the church basement, 8149 West Golf Road, Niles. Dottie Langlois, blood drive chairperson, welcomes walk-in donors.

Prevention and Treatment of Sports Injuries Program

Dr. Daniel Sullivan

The "Prevention and Treatment of Sports Injuries" is the topic of a free health education program to be presented to the community Wednesday, October 26 at Resurrection Medical Center, 7435 W. Talcott Ave., Chicago.

The program begins at 7 p.m. in Marian Hall located in the lower level of the medical center. Dr. Daniel Sullivan, orthopedic specialist on staff at Resurrection, will speak about the necessary care and prevention of sports-related injuries. In addition, the physical dangers resulting from the failure to stretch properly and to recognize personal limitations in exercise will be addressed.

For more information about this informative program, contact the Health Promotion and Wellness department at 792-5022.

OLR 'In Touch' program participants

Our Lady of Ransom School, 8300 N. Greenwood, Niles, IL is participating in the Niles/Park Ridge School District 64 In Touch Drug Free program. The school's In Touch team members recently participated in a seminar directed by the Dept. of Alcohol and Substance Abuse with the state of Illinois' In Touch coordinators for the purpose of developing a three year community action plan with In Touch funds and federal grant money under the Drug Free School Act.

National Red Ribbon Sunday, October 23, was the kickoff day for the Drug Free awareness campaign. OLR students and teachers are wearing "The Choice for Me, Drug Free" red ribbons and are learning about substance abuse prevention through films, speakers and activities throughout the school year.

Elizabeth Houghton, president of Informed Network and a national spokesperson for Parent Role in Drug Prevention and Intervention will be the speaker at a parents' meeting at Roosevelt Elementary School, Park Ridge, on Monday, November 7 from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. This motivational awareness program will focus on the avoidance of drugs and alcohol. Mrs. Houghton warns that the three most dangerous words a parent can say are "Not My Kid". Active parent involvement is vital to reverse the momentum of abuse. For more information on the In Touch Drug Free program, call the Ministry Center at 823-2550.

Gift Wrap Booth seeks help

The American Cancer Society Gift Wrap Booth is scheduled to open at the Harlem Irving Plaza on Sat., Dec. 3. Volunteers are needed to help man the booth which is located at Harlem Ave., Irving Park Rd. and Forest Preserve Drive. Gift wrapping services will be available during mall hours everyday through Christmas Eve and all proceeds will benefit The American Cancer Society.

"In the past, we have had overwhelming support from volunteers. Without their dedication and support, we could not have had six successful seasons," commented Phyllis Dammeier of the Harwood Heights/Norridge Cancer Commission. "Not only are they helping the Cancer Society, they seem to enjoy assisting the shoppers with gift wrapping needs," concluded Dammeier.

Individuals wishing to volunteer their time can contact The Norwood Park Township Hall at 453-0861 or Phyllis Dammeier at 457-0238.

The Niles Police Blotter

Niles eatery becomes battleground scene

On October 8 Doc Weeds Restaurant, 8832 Dempster, Niles, was the scene of two incidents of violent behavior. An engaged couple, both deaf mutes, got into an argument without words. The victim, a Chicago woman, was dining with her fiancé, a male from Westmont, and another companion. According to police, the offender grabbed the victim by the hair. As she struggled to her feet, she bit her fiancé on the bicep. He became enraged and began to overturn tables and chairs.

A Doc Weeds manager was struck in the face and thrown to the ground attempting to subdue the offender. Police were called, and no complaints were filed.

That same day two cousins were arrested at Doc Weeds and charged with battery. Both offenders began punching a male restaurant patron when he objected to them harassing his date. The female victim was known to the offenders as a nurse, and they were seeking syringes to inject steroids, Niles Police were told. Both offenders were released on $1,000 bond each and scheduled to appear in court October 28.

Battery/Violence...

A 31-year old Chicago woman was driving east on Ballard Road October 10 when the driver of the car behind her began to harass her. The male driver followed the woman's car as she turned north on Milwaukee Ave. When the offender passed her car, he threw an object through her open window striking the victim in the head. Injuries were not of a serious nature.

Auto Vandalism/Theft...

A resident of the 7000 block of Madison reported criminal damage to his car the night of October 3. The victim was awakened by a loud noise outside his home and recognized the offender who he knew personally. The next morning the victim found his car tires punctured with nails and flattened. A complaint will be filed against the offender.

A Niles business reported a trailer stolen from the vicinity of 6600 River Wood Drive October 4.

Someone damaged a car on the 7800 block of Nordica October 4. The car, a 1987 Cutlass, sustained damage to the hood and door on the driver's side. There were no witnesses.

A car was reported ransacked in the 8800 block of Olcott October 4. A small amount of cash, between $5-$10 was stolen.

An auto was stolen from Golf Mill Ford, 9401 Milwaukee Ave., Niles sometime between September 15 and October 7. A report filed with Niles Police described the auto as a 1987 Ford Van.

Attacked on bus

A 73-year old Niles woman boarded a bus at the Jefferson Park Terminal to return home September 30. Shortly into the ride two youths boarded the bus and sat on either side of her.

The woman became uneasy when the youths continued to motion to each other. Nearing her stop the woman stood up and was tripped by one of the youths. She fell to the floor of the bus and felt what she described as a "kick or punch to her back". Other riders offered the woman assistance, and she got off at her stop. She said she felt her purse being opened during the attack. Upon returning home, the woman realized her wallet, credit cards, and personal papers were missing. The youths responsible for the attack are unknown to Niles Police at this time.

Burglary/Theft...

Sullivan's Tavern, 9055 Milwaukee Ave., Niles was burglarized October 3. Person(s) unknown shattered the front window and gained entry. A cash register and $50 in cash were removed. Property was also damaged when shelving holding bottles of liquor was knocked down.

An Israeli tourist visiting Golf Mill was the victim of a purse snatching October 3. As the woman stood outside a mail entrance, two offenders on a motorcycle grabbed the woman's purse as they rode by. The purse and contents are valued by $200.

A "sporting goods enthusiast" was arrested by Niles Police at Herman's Sporting Goods, Golf Mill. The offender was first noticed at Herman's in Skokie the same morning. A security officer became suspicious when the man tried to return merchandise without a receipt. The offender then went to Herman's in Golf Mill where he tried the same ploy and was detained by security guards who summoned Niles Police. Police searched the suspect's car and found other stolen items from Herman's inside.

October 9 a theft was reported at the Tam Athletic Club. A woman locked her purse and jewelry in the locker provided by the club. Upon returning the woman noticed her purse on top of the locker. In addition to the purse being disturbed, jewelry valued at $2,005 was reported missing.

Business Institute Seminars

The Institute for Business and Professional Development at Oakton Community College will hold the following programs from October 24 to 29. One-day seminars will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. All programs will meet in the Business Conference Center at the College, 1600 E. Golf Rd., Des Plaines.

"Legal Aspects of Purchasing" (175) on Tuesday, October 25, will introduce students to purchasing laws and the laws governing contracts and purchase orders. "Master Planning and Scheduling with a Microcomputer" (175) which also is held on Tuesday, will present approaches for incorporating microcomputer applications into production planning and scheduling tasks.

Time management, decision making, procrastination, task accomplishment and productive work relationships are the topics discussed in the seminar, "Improving Job Performance: How to Control Your Work Day" (155), on Wednesday, October 26. "Negotiation Skills for Quality Professionals" (235) is a two-day seminar on Wednesday and Thursday, October 26 and 27. Through case studies and negotiation exercises, students will understand negotiation planning techniques and learn how to achieve desired results.

"Advanced Purchasing Techniques" ($245) is a six-week course which will meet from 6 to 9:30 p.m. on Thursdays beginning October 27. Experienced purchasing agents and buyers can increase their understanding of the importance of developing a solid buyer/seller relationship and the legal aspects which dictate conduct.

"Inventory Management—An Asset or a Liability?" ($235), a two-day seminar on Thursday and Friday, October 27 and 28, will discuss how to manage inventory to fit the changing manufacturing and distribution environments.

"Lotus 1-2-3/Advanced" (195) on Friday, October 28, will cover such topics as data base functions, data extraction, edit, sort and file, criteria tests, and macro and menu preparation.

For information and registration, call Kim Gordon at 635-1932.

Retail/Petite Theft...

The woman was arrested and released on $1000 bond. She is scheduled to appear in court October 21.

A string of retail arrests that began last summer in Evanston and ended in Niles October 8 changed Bridget Johnson's legal status to accused felon. Johnson, of 2020 Fargo, Chicago, was arrested and charged with a retail theft twice the previous summer.

October 8 Johnson was arrested by Niles Police at Sears, Golf Mill when she tried to exchange two dresses that she had just stolen. After Niles Police investigated her background, a felony review was recommended and charges approved. Bond was set at $10,000 and a court date is scheduled for October 30.

October 9 an employee of Penneys, Golf Mill, was caught by security guards trying to steal various items of clothing from the store. The value of the clothing was placed at $239.99.

On October 10, a 56 year old Niles woman, was in enough hot water when a Niles Police Officer found her "swaying and staggering" next to her auto with what was described as "a strong odor of alcohol on her breath". She refused to answer questions and failed the Road Sobriety Test.

The Niles resident was placed under arrest and charged with Driving Under the Influence, improper lane usage, and failure to wear a seat belt.

As the police officer wrote up the report at the Niles Police Department, the woman allegedly became abusive. She kicked the officer several times and was also charged with battery. Bail was set at $1,000 and a court date is scheduled for November 17.

Driver injured in auto accident

Two vehicles collided when one failed to yield in Niles October 4. Erma M. Koberling attempted to make a left turn from Dempster to Cumberland going north. She failed to yield to a vehicle driven by Thomas V. Mackey, 33, of Chicago.

Mackey was injured and transported to Lutheran General Hospital. Erma Koberling who was uninjured was arrested and is scheduled to appear in court November 17.

George J. Buerman

Navy Seaman Recruit George J. Buerman, son of George J. and Patricia Ann Buerman of 2031 Habberton Ave., Park Ridge, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, San Diego.

A 1988 graduate of Maine East High School, he joined the Navy in July, 1988.

The Morton Grove Police Blotter

Thefts/Burglaries

On Saturday October 8, the left rear opera window of a 1983 Honda was damaged with a blunt object in an apparent attempt to steal the in-dash stereo. The car was in an auto storage facility in the 6100 block of Dempster. An unknown thief covered the window with duct tape to muffle the sound of breaking glass but was unsuccessful in removing the stereo. $500 damage was caused to the car.

The hood ornament and one of the hub cap emblems of a 1965 Cadillac were stolen in the early afternoon October 11. The owner estimated the value of the missing items at $105 total. The incident occurred in the 5200 block of Merrill.

A Morton Grove man who resides in the 8900 block of Mason reported the theft of his $250 Schwinn bicycle October 12. The bike was in a backyard in the 8400 block of Austin and had been locked with a cable.

Two unknown men and their

Retailers' Guardian Angels Thwart 5 Shoplifting Incidents

In five unrelated incidents last week, female security agents at Marshall's and T.J. Maxx, nabbed six shoplifters. One security agent was responsible for catching three of the shoplifters.

Wednesday, October 12, a 40 year old Arlington Heights woman was nabbed in the parking lot after she attempted to steal a shirt and a red necktie with a combined value of $29.68. After posting 10 of a $1,000 bond, she was given an October 31 court date.

Last Saturday, October 15, security agent collared the first of 3 shoplifting suspects that weekend. A 41 year old Chicago woman attempted to leave the store with a $35.99 scarf and jewelry retailing at $52.95 in her purse. The woman was given a November 14 court date. On Sunday, October 16, the agent caught 2 women in separate incidents that afternoon. A 46 year old Chicago woman was apprehended with merchandise totalling $104.97 in an oversize handbag. The woman was charged with retail theft and give a November 16 court date. Two hours later, Vandalism...

Three cars in the 8500 block of Waukegan were similarly vandalized in separate incidents within a short period of time Wednesday night, October 12. Police reports stated that 2 had punctured tires. The third vehicle's tire may have been slashed. Person(s) unknown punctured two tires of a 1988 Chevy Suburban belonging to a Northfield resident. The car, parked in a bowling alley lot, was vandalized between 7 p.m. and 11 p.m. Between 7:06 p.m. and 9:28 p.m., the left rear tire of a 1982 Cressida belonging to a Niles resident was slashed. The owner of a 1977 Impala parked in an apartment complex parking lot in the same lot reported that the left rear tire of the vehicle was punctured sometime between 8 p.m. and 10:15 p.m. A special watch has been requested.

CUB slates 4th annual meeting

The Citizens Utility Board (CUB) will host its fourth annual meeting Sunday, October 23, at St. Gall's Church, 55th and Kedzie, Chicago, for consumers who are interested in finding out what CUB is doing to lower their utility bills.

The 1988 event will begin at 1:30 p.m. and is open to the public. At the meeting, CUB will honor two state elected officials, several consumer activist groups, and two law firms for their support of Illinois utility consumers.

State Comptroller Roland Burris, who will be in attendance, and Secretary of State Jim Edgar will receive awards for their cooperation in CUB's membership development efforts. Under a new state law, those agencies have distributed CUB literature in their mailings.

"Today, thanks to the cooperation of Secretary of State Edgar and State Comptroller Burris, more consumers than ever before have the opportunity to join CUB fighting for lower utility bills," CUB President Josh Hoyt said. Refreshments will be served and parking is available. For more information, call CUB's toll-free hotline: 1-800-222-2822.

State Road Program includes more than $6 million for 7th District

More than $6 million is included in the state's Fiscal Year 1989 highway program for improving roads in the 7th District, according to State Sen. Walter Dudyca (R-7th, Chicago).

I Bet You Didn't Know

By Jim Jennings

One of the most unusual World Series ever played was the one in 1966. In that World Series, one team scored more runs in the first inning of the first game than the other team scored all together in the entire Series! The Orioles opened the '66 World Series by scoring 3 runs in the first inning of Game 1. But the Dodgers, incredibly, scored only 2 runs in the whole Series! They lost by scores of 5-2, 6-0, 1-0 and 1-0.

Did you know a team named the "Pilgrims" once played in the World Series? In the first World Series, in 1903, the competing teams were Pittsburgh and Boston, and Boston's nickname that season was Pilgrims. They changed it to Red Sox several years later.

Here's a tough World Series question. Of all the pitchers in baseball history, which one holds the record for winning the most World Series games? Answer is Whitey Ford who won 10 World Series games between 1950 and 1964. Nobody else has ever equaled that total.

Our Popularity Increased By Degrees This Summer.

The hotter it got, the more you called on us for the electricity you needed to keep cool. In fact, on August 17th, you asked us for more power than ever before. A whopping 17,459,000 kilowatts.

It was just one of seven all-time records you set this summer. We're pleased we were able to meet every one of them. And, rest assured, we plan to keep meeting them in the years ahead.

After all, we don't ever take our popularity for granted.

Raider of the Week award

Oakton Community college golfer Mike Tully has been named recipient of this week's Raider of the Week award, which is presented weekly for an outstanding achievement in inter-collegiate athletic competition. Tully earned second-team honors on the All-Skyway Conference team by finishing as the seventh best (82.8 average) golfer for six conference meets.

He also tied teammate Tom Joseph for top team honors at last weekend's Region IV (northern Illinois) tournament, carding 84-78-162.

Enjoy a better life through better vision

Are you missing out on reading, watching TV, driving or other every-day activities? If you are experiencing blurred vision, halos around objects or other problems with your vision, you may have cataracts. The doctors at Northshore Eye Center located at 3034 W. Peterson in Chicago are Board-certified ophthalmologists and have years of experience diagnosing and treating vision disorders and eye diseases, especially cataracts.

In their Medicare-approved Surgicenter, cataract surgery and laser treatments for various disorders are performed safely in an outpatient setting. In fact, 95 percent of patients who had cataract surgery report improved vision as a result of the surgery.

"The benefits of cataract surgery are very personal," said Robert M. Stein, M.D., an ophthalmologist and partner at Northshore Eye Center. "Patients who have had cataract operations are able to enjoy many of the activities, such as reading, sewing or watching television, which they had to eliminate because of impaired vision."

Another benefit of outpatient cataract surgery is increased independence. "Many cataract patients are able to renew their driver's license and drive at night, allowing them a measure of independence," said Melvyn A. Gerstein, M.D., an ophthalmologist and partner at Northshore Eye Center.

Because of new technology, cataract surgery can be performed in an outpatient setting and most of the costs are covered by Medicare. In Northshore Eye Center's state-of-the-art outpatient Surgicenter, a highly skilled team of ophthalmologists, registered nurses and an anesthesiologist perform outpatient cataract surgery with intraocular lens implants and other outpatient eye surgeries.

In addition to the operating suite, the Surgicenter has a postoperative recovery room and a family waiting room. It also is equipped with a YAG laser which is used in conjunction with cataract surgery and in the treatment of some forms of glaucoma. The facility is Medicare-approved thus enabling Northshore Eye Center to accept assignment for payment for approved fees.

If being able to drive at night, read your favorite books or watch TV are important to you, make an appointment today for an eye examination. Call Northshore Eye Center today at 973-3223. We accept Medicare assignment. Northshore Eye Center is located at 3034 W. Peterson in Chicago. Enjoy a better life through better vision.

Emergency Response Systems available

Being independent is important, especially to older persons. But living alone can present risks. An emergency response communication system allows the homebound, elderly or disabled to access help 24 hours a day. An emergency response system is a communication device that is linked to an emergency center staffed by trained professionals. These professionals assess each situation and respond immediately to the emergency according to a prearranged plan.

The in-home system consists of a communications unit and a pendant worn by the person. By pressing a button on the pendant, a call will be automatically placed on the emergency center. The call will be answered in less than a minute and help will be on the way.

Older Adult Services provides two different systems. A non-voice emergency response system brings rapid response to the simple push of a button in the event of a personal or medical emergency. A voice-to-voice emergency response system allows participants to speak directly with the professional at the emergency center who assesses the situation and arranges for necessary help.

For more information, please call Older Adult Services at 696-7770.

Older Adult Services is a division of Parkside Senior Services, a member of Lutheran General Health Care System.

Social Security offers toll-free telephone service

In today's busy world, many people in the NW suburbs of Chicago have told us they enjoy the convenience of being able to conduct their business by telephone. This trend is expected to continue and increase in the years ahead.

To serve you better now and in the future, the Social Security Administration has expanded its telephone system significantly to provide toll-free service, additional operators, and the latest telephone equipment to provide better and more convenient service for everyone.

By dialing 800-234-SSA (800-234-5772), you can now call us toll-free any time, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. Call between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m., and you will speak to a live operator. We will take care of your question or request on the spot, or if this is not possible, we will call you back at a mutually agreeable time. If you call after 7 p.m. or before 7 a.m., you can leave your name and telephone number, and we will call you back the next working day at a time convenient to you.

You will find SSA teleservice especially convenient if you need to change your mailing address, obtain your earnings record, make an appointment to file a claim for benefits, or ask a question.

We want to be ready to serve you at all times without it costing you a cent. Please make a note of the SSA toll-free number and use it when you need to call us.

Remember, Social Security is a package of protection—retirement, survivors, and disability insurance. It protects you and your family while you work and after you retire. Social Security is a base you can build on, now and for the future, with other insurance and investments. Social Security never stops working.

Caregiver Support Groups

The Niles Township District of Jewish Family and Community Service (an affiliate of the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago) will offer a 6-week series of support groups for care givers of the elderly and chronically ill. The group will meet on Wednesdays, October 26-November 30, 1-3:30 p.m. at JFCS, 5050 Church St., Skokie. Topics will include how to access resources in the community and how to deal with loneliness and isolation.

The fee is $30 and can be adjusted to an individual's ability to pay.

Pre-registration is required. For information and registration telephone Sheri Fox at 675-0390 or Ellen Cervantes, 570-7065.

Nostalgia day program at Breakers

Turning back the clock to the year 1926 - when the Edgewater Beach Hotel was the place in Chicago to vacation elegantly, to get married, attend your senior prom, romance your best girl, dance away your troubles - a special day filled with reminiscents of this bygone era will be held on Sunday, October 30, from 3 to 5:30 p.m. at The Breakers at Edgewater Beach, a community for active seniors.

A story contest seeking the most humorous, the most romantic and the most unusual tales which occurred at the Edgewater Beach Hotel as well as a vintage costume contest from the 1920's era will be part of this First Annual Nostalgia Day program.

To enter the story contest, all humorous, romantic or unusual tales should be described in 500 words or less, and forwarded by Friday, Oct. 21 to Dee Hunt at The Breakers, 5333 N. Sheridan Rd., Chicago, IL 60640.

Reservations are limited, so interested seniors should call (312) 878-5333 as soon as possible.

Chapman speaks to Edison Park seniors

Eugenia S. Chapman, Coordinator of Community Education on the Staff of Illinois Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan, will be the guest speaker at 1 p.m. on Thurs., Oct. 27, for the Edison Park Senior Citizens.

Ruth Franklin, program chairman, has announced the meeting will be held at the First Edison Park United Church of Christ, 6675 N. Oak, Chicago. Ms. Chapman will speak on "The Current Legislation Pertaining to Seniors."

Eugenia Chapman served 4 years as Chief of the Senior Citizen Advocacy Division in the Illinois Attorney General's Office prior to her present position. She was a member of the Illinois House of Representatives for 18 years, serving as Chairman of the Human Resources and Appropriations Committee.

Niles Senior Center seeks volunteers

The Village of Niles Senior Citizens Services Department, a multipurpose drop in senior center located at 8060 Oakton in Niles has several volunteer opportunities available. Qualifications vary with the volunteer position.

The home delivered meals program delivers luncheons and dinners at the noon hour to homebound in Niles. There are currently open slots on Mondays and Fridays as well as during the rest of the week on a substitute and emergency basis. Interested parties may contact Meals on Wheels Coordinator Cindy Gow: 967-6100 ext. 375.

Through our medicare assistance program approximately twenty to twenty-five persons receive assistance with their medicare and supplemental health insurance forms each month. Anyone interested may contact Karen Hansen at 967-6100 ext. 376.

The tax counseling for the elderly program will start the first week in February. Through this program personal state and federal returns are prepared during tax season at no charge for Niles residents age 60 and over. There are openings for volunteer receptionists as well. For further information, contact Karen Hansen at 967-6100 ext. 376.

Frequently the senior center receives calls requesting assistance with simple forms such as homestead exemption or circuit breaker. On the job training will be provided. Anyone willing to provide this type of volunteered assistance may contact Karen Hansen at 967-6100 ext. 376.

The office area of the senior center is frequently in need of volunteer receptionists. Men or women who enjoy working with people and have good telephone skills may contact Karen Hansen at 967-6100 ext. 376.

One of the newest programs is the friendly visiting program, a joint venture of the Niles Family Services and the Senior Citizens Departments. The friendly visiting program is a regularly (usually weekly) scheduled visit between volunteer and a homebound person who needs this type of friendship.

There are currently thirteen visitors involved in the program. Anyone interested in becoming involved in this program is encouraged to contact Karen Hansen at the Niles Senior Center: 967-6100 ext. 376.

Community Gardening Club Resurrection Retirement

As cool fall temperatures descend on the Chicago area, residents, including those at Resurrection Retirement Community (7282 W. Talcott Ave.), are busy preparing their gardens for frost.

And in addition to their outdoor patio gardens, many retirement community residents are members of a special gardening club and take advantage of year-round gardening opportunities at the Northwest Side retirement complex.

"You need to keep moving here, and the gardening club provides members with that exact opportunity," Wanda Chromicz, a long-time resident, noted.

For the past three years the gardening club has been one of several popular activity groups for enthusiastic residents with "green thumbs." In addition to planting, the club gives residents the opportunity to socialize and discuss a common interest. The group consists of members from the retirement community who meet once a week to share thoughts and learn new techniques on gardening, including repotting and cultivating new plants.

The club also provides each new resident of the complex with a plant as a symbol of growth in their new home.

Resurrection Retirement Community Gardening Club member, Blanche Meyer, carefully examines her reported "purple passion" plant. The gardening club is just one of many activity groups available to residents at the retirement complex.

Loyola develops programs in elderly care

The rapid growth of the elderly population during the next two decades will bring significant change to medical school curricula and hospital practices. So says a report issued last spring by the National Institute on Aging.

Signs of this change, however, are already appearing, according to a Loyola University Medical Center physician.

Dr. Lawrence LaPalio, chief, geriatric services and an assistant professor of medicine, is currently developing a geriatric medicine program at Loyola's Stritch School of Medicine, as well as implementing a geriatric assessment center for the hospital's outpatient services.

"Although the Veterans Administration can first be attributed with a medical response to the growth of the senior population, it is only in the last few years that other agencies—hospitals included—have formalized training or care programs in geriatrics," says Dr. LaPalio.

The same can be said for medical school programs, he adds. Only a handful of medical schools around the country have geriatric medicine programs and, with one exception, these programs are offered as electives.

"The role of the geriatrician differs from that of a primary care physician practicing geriatric medicine," says Dr. LaPalio, who is one of only about 200 geriatricians in the country.

"While primary care physicians can be trained to deal with the health care needs of people as they get older, the geriatrician coordinates a medical, environmental and psychological milieu to care for the frail elderly. Their intent is to keep these people as functional as they can be at home for as long as possible. The frail elderly with multiple problems need a specialist."

Across the United States, the need for specialists in this area is just being realized. In fact, last spring, the first exam for certification in geriatric medicine was offered by the American Board of Internal Medicine and the American Board of Family Practice. Currently, physicians with four or more years of experience in geriatric medicine may take the exam, but after 1990 a formal two-year fellowship will be required.

"Geriatrics is becoming a recognized subspecialty," adds Dr. LaPalio. "Fellowship training and training programs tailored to more experienced physicians are now available. Before these formal programs were developed, those interested in this subspecialty had to pursue it individually. That's why there are so few geriatricians. Geriatrics is the single most underserved area by trained physicians."

Geriatric assessment centers, like the one Dr. LaPalio is developing at Loyola, are designed to diagnose and care for the elderly. By concentrating resources and utilizing a staff trained in geriatrics, the geriatric center can help the elderly to learn to function in as normal a fashion as their disability will allow.

"In 1982, of the five million people over age 65, 20 percent needed the assistance of someone to perform one or more daily activities. Fifty percent of people over 85 needed help," says Dr. LaPalio. "There's no doubt the need is out there, and that it's increasing. In geriatrics, we are learning a new way to help the elderly cope."

Heart-Healthy Cookie baker

Dolores Tarenski (r), of Des Plaines, winner of the American Heart Association of Metropolitan Chicago's Heart-Healthy Cookie Recipe Contest, is congratulated by Lori Yellon, R.D., Chairman of the Heart Association's Food Festival Committee. Tarenski baked a low-cholesterol cookie that captured the palates of 10 celebrity judges. The judging was held at Marshall Field's State Street store. Tarenski won two round-trip tickets via American Airlines to Phoenix and four-night stay at a Pointe Resort. The contest was part of the American Heart Association's Food Festival—a nationwide program to educate people of the relationship between diets high in saturated fats and cholesterol and coronary heart disease.

Older Adult services workshop

If you complain about forgetting things or you find yourself saying "it's on the tip of my tongue", then come to Parkside's Memory Workshop and learn exciting ways to improve your memory.

There are changes that occur in memory as people grow older, but for almost everyone, memory can be improved with training and practice. The workshop will dispel the myths of memory loss and will teach how memory works, how memory changes and how memory can be improved.

The three week workshop will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 26, Nov. 2, and Nov. 9 from 1:30-3:30 p.m. at Nathanson School, 9375 Church Street in Des Plaines (at the corner of Church and Potter Road). The fee for the three sessions is $50. Pre-registration is necessary, since space is limited. The workshop will be conducted by Mary Freeman, M.S.W., clinical geriatric social worker. It is not designed for persons already diagnosed by their physicians as having severe memory loss.

For more information about the memory workshop, please call: Older Adult Services at 686-7770.

Susan E. Anderson to moderate health seminar

Former television anchorwoman, lecturer, educator and producer of special interest films, Susan E. Anderson, will moderate a health seminar at Mount Sinai Hospital North on October 26. The seminar, titled "Medical Breakthroughs: Keeping Up To Date," is the third in a four-part forum called "Midyears". The forum is designed to help people in their mid-years and beyond manage the process of the own health.

Ms. Anderson will be joined by an expert panel who will bring attendees up to date on what is happening in the medical world today, and relate special concerns to the issues at hand. Panelists include: Linda Hughey Holt, M.D., Member of IOS Associates; Noel David List, M.D., Chief of the Division of Geriatric Medicine at Mount Sinai Hospital Medical Center; Bruce B. Dan, M.D., WLS Medical Editor for Channel 7's Eyewitness News; and Dennis L. Citrin, M.D., Ph.D., Medical Director of Mount Sinai Hospital North.

The seminar will be preceded by a kosher continental breakfast at 9:30 a.m. Reservations are required. Call Adeline Shagam, Mount Sinai Hospital Medical Center, 650-6432, to reserve space.

Gallstone lithotripter at Rush North Shore

A new device that destroys gallstones without surgery on an out-patient basis, without hospitalization and requiring no anesthesia, has been delivered to a group of practitioners based at Rush North Shore Medical Center in Skokie, Illinois.

Investigators from Rush Medical College in Chicago will conduct research and assay results of the experimental equipment as part of a study now awaiting approval by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA).

Called the EDAP LT-01, the machine is a new-generation lithotripter manufactured in France that already has been used successfully on kidney stones and gallstones in Europe and Asia. It is located in the professional building adjoining Rush North Shore Medical Center. The office will be designated as the North Shore Biliary and Renal Lithotripsy Center.

Leonard Berlin, M.D., chairman of the department of radiology at Rush North Shore Medical Center and a member of the group that purchased the equipment, reported that the new machine already is functioning and that in vitro demonstrations have been completed in which gallstones suspended in fluid have been disintegrated by shock waves from the EDAP machine. Procedures on actual patients can begin with FDA approval, expected in several weeks.

Research on the procedure will be conducted by a team headed by Seymour Sabesin, M.D., the Josephine Dyrenforth Professor of Gastroenterology at Rush Medical College and director of the Section of Digestive Diseases at Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center.

Dr. Berlin noted that there are an estimated 475,000 gallstone operations in America each year, approximately one-fifth of which could be replaced by gallstone lithotripsy. The EDAP LT-01 procedure, which can be done in less than an hour, does not require bodily immersion, as do first-generation lithotripters.

For further information, call 677-9600, extension 3665, or 942-6190.

Forest Hospital offers computerized body analysis

As our society grows increasingly health and fitness conscious, technology has kept pace, developing new tools to help us acquire or maintain the habits and knowledge that lead to good health. One of the most exciting recent developments is computerized Body Composition Analysis.

In a brief, painless procedure, this analysis accurately determines a person's lean body mass and fat components. Because excess body fat has been linked with such serious health problems as diabetes, gall bladder disease, cardiovascular disease, varicose veins, high blood pressure and joint disease, information gained from body composition analysis is extremely valuable.

Forest Hospital, 555 Wilson Lane, Des Plaines, has recently acquired a Body Composition Analyzer System. The hospital will be pleased to work with schools, park districts and other community groups to make this helpful information available to the widest possible audience at nominal cost.

Administered by a member of Forest Hospital's Food Services and Nutritional staff, a comprehensive body composition analysis will include the following elements:

- Fat weight
- Percent fat
- Lean body mass
- Total body water (in liters)
- Basal Metabolism (calories consumed at rest each day)
- Personal weight recommendations
- Personal exercise recommendations
- Training heart rate
- Health Fitness Profile

For further information about Body Composition Analysis, please contact Devra Shiba at Forest Hospital, 635-4100, Ext. 258.

Hypertension study seeks participants

Participants are being sought for a hypertension research study being conducted by Lutheran General Hospital at the Neset Health Center, 1775 Ballard, Park Ridge. Potential candidates should be over 65 years of age with diagnosed mild to moderate hypertension and have the approval of their primary care physician.

Individuals interested in participating in Dr. Miller's hypertension study can call 696-7654 for more information.

Diabetes seminar at St. Francis

Although diabetes is a relatively common disease, surprisingly few people, including the diabetics themselves, are fully educated of the disease's characteristics, treatments and methods of monitoring.

Jay J. Gold, M.D., Section Chief of Endocrinology at St. Francis Hospital of Evanston, is hosting an informative free seminar entitled, "Diabetes: Detection and Controls" at the Lincolnwood Public Library, 4000 W. Pratt Avenue, on Nov. 9 at 7 p.m.

Although no cure exists, Dr. Gold will discuss to diabetics, their families and friends, how early detection, proper diet, and home-glucose monitoring can help diabetics lead longer, healthier lives.

Talk on coping with elderly parents

Having trouble caring for elderly relatives? The Bernard Horwich/Mayer Kaplan Jewish Community Center (JCC) will present a program, "Coping With Your Aging Parents" at 8 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 23 at the Kaplan site, 5050 W. Church Street, Skokie. Ellen Cervantes will address the talk to the JCC Couples Club II, a JCC social group for couples in their 30s and 40s who are sponsoring the talk. The group encourages newcomers to attend.

Ellen Cervantes is an educator for the Council for the Jewish Elderly's "Living at Home Program". Cervantes will discuss the program which enables families with elderly relatives to keep those relatives in their homes, rather than institutionalize them. The program's service includes providing in-house care, meals and housekeeping services. They also coordinate medical services. Refreshments will follow the lecture which is free. For more information, call Ann Marakis, 675-2200, Ext. 130.

Dudycz named friend of seniors

State Senator Walter Dudycz has been designated a "Friend of Senior Citizens" by the Illinois State Council of Senior Citizens' Organization.

Dudycz supported the senior citizen group's position on seven out of 10 key votes. His score was the second highest among all Republicans in the Illinois General Assembly and earned him the same "friend" designation awarded Senate President Phil Rock. Representative Ralph Capparelli also earned a 70% from the Council.

The organization cited Dudycz for his votes in support of the Senior Citizen Circuit Breaker Program, personal care assistants for the disabled and utility reform.

"While I appreciate this note of confidence, the most important judges of my record are the people I represent. If the interests of senior citizens in my district coincide with the interests of this and other organizations, that is fine. But, when they conflict—as they sometimes do—I vote with the people in my district," Dudycz said.

sity of Chicago and a rheumatologist at Michael Reese Hospital and Medical Center in Chicago.

An estimated 36 million Americans suffer from one of the more than 100 different types of arthritis, a potentially crippling illness that generally involves an inflammation of the joints.

The talk is free. It is another in an eight-part program at the center called "Back to Basics: A Personal Series on Health Care." It is offered in conjunction with the Premier Years program at Michael Reese Hospital.

For further information call Debbie Hermalyn at 567-7450.

St. Francis designated Level I

St. Francis Hospital of Evanston's Glenn Aldinger, M.D. (c) proudly displays a plaque commemorating the hospital's Level I designation for Region 10 by the Illinois Department of Public Health (IDPH). The hospital formally received this honor in a September 29 presentation from Leslee Stein-Spencer (r), IDPH's Chief of Emergency Medical Services and Highway Safety. Also present was Sr. M. Alfreda, CEO and President of St. Francis. St. Francis joins 8 other Illinois hospitals in this prestigious classification. In order to attain Level I designation, extensive requirements for treating trauma patients around the clock must be met.

Hartigan warns elderly consumers against insurance scam

Illinois Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan today warned senior citizens to beware of an insurance scam in which telephone solicitors falsely claim to be representatives of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

"The solicitors offer to come to your home to look over your insurance policies and answer questions about Medicare," Hartigan said. "When they arrive, they turn out to be insurance salesmen who try to sell you policies."

The scam was brought to the attention of Hartigan's Kankakee Regional Office by Wilmington Police Chief Frank Lyons after two elderly consumers complained to Lyons. Hartigan's office is conducting an investigation to determine the extent of the scam and any legal action that may be necessary.

"Based on my office's experience in investigating other scams, there is a strong possibility that this insurance scam is operating in other communities throughout the state," Hartigan said.

Consumers who receive phone calls from this operation should contact their local police department and Hartigan's office.

On his first day as Attorney General in January 1983, Hartigan created a special division within his office to represent the interests of the elderly. When two earlier insurance scams took advantage of older consumers, Hartigan filed lawsuits and obtained more than $4 million in refunds, including interest, for these senior citizens.

Park Ridge Healthcare's intergenerational exchange

In today's mobile society, many children are growing up without the ability to have close contact or established ties with the elder members of their family, (grandparents, aunts, uncles, etc.).

It has been proven that the exchange of ideas, interests, moral values, etc., between generations is not only educational but stimulating and endearing for both young and old.

At Park Ridge Healthcare Center, 665 Busse Hwy., Park Ridge, we are engaged in encouraging more activities that promote this type of exchange. Some of these activities include a sensory-deprivation program with second graders, a poster contest on "What is a Nursing Home" with a fourth grade group and our annual Halloween Safewalk for children of all ages and their families.

Our residents really enjoy having the youngsters around. There isn't anything that can replace the smile on one of our residents' faces when they hear the giggles of a young child.

Please allow us to invite you to see some of this interchange in action at our Halloween Safewalk: Monday, October 31, from 4 p.m. - 6 p.m.

Family members and community children are welcome for homemade treats and hot cider.

Operation ABLE's job hotline

When you're looking for a job in the Chicago area, there's a telephone number available to you that can help you set up a job interview with an employer. At no cost to you.

The number is Operation ABLE's Job Hotline, 782-7700.

That's the advice from Shirley Brussell, executive director of Operation ABLE, a not-for-profit public service organization that has helped 55,000 men and women in this metropolitan area get jobs in the last 11 years.

"If you are a job hunter, please call our free Job Hotline number of 782-7700," she said. "That number is used by hundreds of employers who have job openings and who are anxious to fill them with qualified applicants."

Brussell said the job hunter from Chicago or the suburbs will be interviewed by Operation ABLE Job Hotline staff personnel over the telephone and their skills are relayed to appropriate agencies for job placement or training.

Weiss Hospital headache specialist publishes book

Seymour Diamond, M.D., a staff physician at Louis A. Weiss Memorial Hospital, and a nationally known headache specialist, has published a new book for headache sufferers. The book, "Hope for Your Headache Problem—More Than Two Aspirin," was published by International Universities Press, Inc. and is a revised edition of his earlier book on headache published in the mid-1970's. Dr. Diamond, who wrote the new book in collaboration with Amy Diamond Vye, is Director of the Inpatient Headache Unit at Weiss Hospital, Director of the Diamond Headache Clinic in Chicago, and Executive Director of the National Headache Foundation.

According to Dr. Diamond, "Headaches regularly plague about 45 million Americans, including 16-18 million who suffer from migraines."

His new book comprises 29 case histories discussing vascular, muscle contraction, and inflammatory headache symptoms, diagnosis and treatment methods. Dr. Diamond is the author of several books on headache for the general public, as well as a widely published author of scientific articles. He is a frequent lecturer before both professional and lay groups.

Louis A. Weiss Hospital 4646 N. Marine Drive, is an Affiliate of The University of Chicago Hospitals. Weiss Hospital marks its 35th anniversary in 1988, as a major Metropolitan Chicago community teaching hospital.

Mount Sinai North names New Medical Director

The newly rededicated Mount Sinai Hospital North announces the appointment of Dennis L. Citrin, M.D., Ph.D., as the hospital's new medical director. Dr. Citrin, a respected internist and medical oncologist, will begin his duties immediately.

Dr. Citrin is certified by the American Board of Internal Medicine for medicine and medical oncology. He received his medical degree and Ph.D. from the University of Glasgow, Scotland, where he also completed his residency in internal medicine. Dr. Citrin was awarded the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons Alexander Fletcher Memorial Prize in 1976.

Following this, he completed a fellowship in medical oncology at the University of Wisconsin-Madison in 1977.

As medical director, Dr. Citrin will be responsible for development of programs to improve and maintain the quality medical care at Mount Sinai North and supervision of medical education. His private practice is located in The Forum Building at 4200 W. Peterson in Chicago.

Dr. Citrin commented, "I am very pleased to be associated with Mount Sinai, which is noted for its fine reputation in Chicago. I look forward to the challenge of serving the needs of the residents of Rogers Park, Evanston and surrounding communities, and helping to provide quality health care in the Mount Sinai tradition."

Mount Sinai Hospital North is a 120-bed hospital operated in partnership between Mount Sinai Hospital Medical Center and Universal Health Services, Inc. The hospital, located at 2451 W. Howard Street on Chicago's far north side, draws on the strengths of each partner, combining the personalized care of a community hospital with the broad range of specialized resources available from a teaching institution.

Exercise can offset signs of aging

It's never too late...to begin an exercise program, that is.

"There's a myth that still pervades—old people shouldn't exercise because it isn't good for them," said William Evans, Ph.D., an expert on aging from Tufts University in Boston.

Evans spoke this spring to food and health writers at the Seventh Annual Writers Conference in San Jose, Calif., which was sponsored by the Dairy Nutrition Council.

Evans and his colleagues at the U.S. Department of Agriculture Human Nutrition Research Center on Aging try to dispel the myth that seniors shouldn't exercise.

Older people tend to think of themselves as being limited in what they can do, so they pace their activities accordingly, Evans said. But limited physical activity can lead to decreased bone density and decrease in muscle mass, which can cause weakness.

Evans believes that self-imposed limit on activity, not chronological age, causes weakness.

"Any activity older people do above what they normally do is beneficial to their health," he said.

Besides maintaining muscle mass, physical activity will decrease risk of diabetes, increase the number of capillaries (small blood vessels) which improves peripheral circulation, and increase functional capacity.

Functional capacity is a measurement of how efficiently the heart and lungs use oxygen to energize the body's muscles. Evans believes the study of functional capacity provides further evidence that exercise can offset many signs of aging.

He said it is generally accepted that functional capacity decreases naturally with age. The decrease of functional capacity makes physical activity more difficult. This begins a cycle which is hard to break. Because activity is more difficult, older people don't do as much. Because of inactivity, functional capacity decreases even more.

But Evans believes self-imposed limits on activities, not aging, spur the onset of decreased functional capacity. Studies show that 21 days of bed rest equals 50 to 60 years of aging in functional capacity, Evans said. He also said that old people respond very well to aerobic training and can recover lost functional capacity.

Evans believes that older people should be encouraged to keep moving.

"Don't drive your mother to the corner market if she can walk," he said. In fact, walking is the exercise Evans recommends for most older people.

He cites the "Fitness After Fifty—Keep Moving" program in Massachusetts as an example of a way to keep seniors active. The clubs are billed as social clubs and boast 5,000 members. The program was designed at Tufts and implemented by councils on aging throughout Massachusetts via the governor's office.

Exercise programs for the elderly are vital because they can offset many conditions associated with aging, Evans said.

"I'm convinced that no segment of our society could benefit more from exercise than those over 60."

Highland Park Hospital joins PATH Network

Highland Park Hospital, 718 Glenview Ave., Highland Park, is the newest addition to the PATH Network, Parkside Health Management Corporation's Chicago-area preferred provider organization (PPO).

"We are in business to provide our members access to quality health care," said Jennifer Cline, Parkside's director of professional services. "The addition of Highland Park Hospital fills a need we had for a provider in Southern Lake County. We are extremely pleased that they have joined our fine group."

The PATH Network has now contracted with 22 hospitals, 5 ambulatory care centers and more than 1600 physicians throughout the Chicago area to provide medical services to its members' 18,000-plus employees and family members. PATH is an acronym for Parkside Access to Healthcare.

Cross-generational program on immigrant experience

Teens and senior citizens will share a cross-cultural, cross-generational interest in their common immigrant backgrounds as Evanston's Chute School and the North Shore Retirement

Hotel present "An International Festival - Our Roots", at the North Shore, 1611 Chicago Ave., Evanston, on Monday, Oct. 24 at 3 p.m.

The program of music, costume, song, dance, art and poetry, the culmination of several weeks work by the two groups, is free and open to the public.

Under the direction of veteran teacher, Kitty Okana, 28 students from Korea, the Philippines, Haiti, Jamaica, Belize, Mexico and Panama, (all part of a multinational class for newcomers at Chute), will start sharing experiences with the North Shore Hotel seniors three weeks before the program is scheduled.

Some of the seniors came to the United States as youngsters, also, while many others are aging sons and daughters of immigrant parents.

Stories will be swapped about first arriving in the United States, settling in and learning new customs.

On the day of the International Festival, the Chute students will present the material they have culled from the seniors in song, story and dance, presenting an immigrant experience which covers four or five generations and more than 100 years in time.

The North Shore Hotel seniors will display pictures of their families along with treasures and art work from their countries of origin.

For reservations, please call 864-6400.

Highland Park POPS perform

The Highland Park "POPs", a 17 piece big band, will provide an evening of music from the 1930's, 40's and 50's for the senior citizen residents of the North Shore Retirement Hotel, 1611 Chicago Ave., Evanston, on Wednesday, October 26 at 7:30 p.m.

The public is invited to attend the program at no charge.

For reservations, please call 864-6400

Laryngectomees topic

General Medical Concerns of the Laryngectomee or "What Do I Do When I Get a Cold?" will be the topic addressed by Dr. Alan Freint, an otolaryngologist, at the Swedish Covenant Hospital New Voice Club meeting at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 25.

The meeting which will be held in the Anderson Pavilion, 2751 W. Winona, is free and open to all laryngectomees and their families.

Coffee, cake and conversation will follow the program. The New Voice Club support group meets once each month. For further information contact Sheila Derman, speech therapist and club moderator, at 878-8200, X5305.

Mount Sinai North opens First Premier Years program

Mount Sinai Hospital North announces the opening of the first Premier Years program on Chicago's northside. Mount Sinai Premier Years, located at 2301 West Howard in Chicago, is now holding enrollment to the free membership program.

Specifically designed for persons aged 55 and over, Premier Years members benefit from special health screenings, a Premier Years newsletter, access to the Mount Sinai Resource Center, educational programming, breakfast and exercise programs, billing counseling, Med-Phone - Mount Sinai's physician referral service, LifeLine personal emergency response system, and V.I.P. admitting, should the need arise.

According to Nancy Kanoon, Premier Years Coordinator, "We're very excited about the program and feel that whether the member has been retired for many years, or is just beginning to think about their senior years, they can benefit from the services offered. As membership grows, we plan to offer additional services, such as discounts on medical equipment and prescriptions."

Mount Sinai Premier Years is a service of Mount Sinai Hospital North. The Hospital is operated by a partnership between Mount Sinai Hospital Medical Center and Universal Health Services, Inc. and draws on the strengths of both partners, combining the personalized care of a community hospital with the vast resources available from a teaching institution.

For more information on Premier Years, or to enroll in the program, contact Nancy Kanoon, Premier Years Coordinator, Mount Sinai Premier Years, 2301 West Howard, Chicago, 60645, or call 764-0597.

St. Matthew Lutheran Home Fall Festival

The St. Matthew Lutheran Home Service League will sponsor its annual fall festival on Friday, Oct. 28, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The festival will be held at the Home, 1601 N. Western Avenue, in Park Ridge.

This year's event will feature handcrafted items, home-baked goods, home-canned goods, farmer's market items, Christmas materials, and a "white elephant" sale. Lunch will also be served at the fall festival. St. Matthew Lutheran Home, a program of Lutheran Social Services of Illinois, provides sheltered, intermediate and skilled nursing care for more than 160 older adults.

New home for graduate psychology school

Forest Institute of Professional Psychology has a new home in Wheeling.

A graduate school of clinical psychology formerly located in Des Plaines, Forest Institute outgrew its quarters and in July moved into the former Hawthorne School at 200 Glen-dale Street.

"We're absolutely delighted with our new home," said Dr. Robert V. Moriarty, a registered psychologist and president of the Forest Institute system. "The District 21 board, superintendent and staff couldn't have been more hospitable and supportive."

The school, founded in 1979 as an independent not-for-profit graduate school, is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. It is also affiliated with a network of mental health centers where students have opportunities for clinical training, internships and employment.

Forest Institute has grown from a charter class of 17 to 250 students at its Illinois campus and has added campuses in Springfield, Missouri with 70 students and Honolulu, Hawaii with 35 students. Forest Institute is now one of the largest preparers of professional psychologists in the United States, according to Dr. Moriarty.

The graduate school offers a doctoral and master's degree in psychology and holds classes three times a year: fall, spring and summer.

The four-year doctoral program produces professional psychologists with a Psy. D. degree and strong clinical skills who are ready to practice.

Dr. Moriarty noted that the school's new Wheeling home required some re-building for its academic needs but this is almost finished, and the school will be ready for its fall term, which opens in September.

Those interested in more information about this new neighbor should call Forest Institute at 215-7870.

Golf Mill'ing Around The Mall

by Linda Zachow

Halloween greetings from GOLF MILL. The original concept of trick or treat began centuries ago in the British Isles, areas steeped in superstition. In those days paranoia meant believing the "little people", leprechauns, fairies, and dwarfs played tricks on people at whim. On All Saints Day, or Halloween, people would put out food and treats for the "little people". The food was a bribe for a little peace in their lives, even if it was only one day.

We decided to trick or treat at GOLF MILL this season. Unannounced, we "hit" GOLF MILL merchants and wanted to know what tricks or treats they could produce on the spot. By the time we left we couldn't tell which was the trick and which was the treat. Or were they both the same? We're about to share some magic we never knew existed at the mall. You may notice a few silly incantations in this article. We do not advocate you try these at home.

Our first stop was MR. BULKYS, a new store owned by David and Lisa Moss. They carry over 700 food items, most of which are candy-gourmet, old-fashioned, chocolates, licorice, etc. We didn't know what we were getting into when we accepted David's invitation to look around. As we began to walk through the aisles, we became light-headed and stargazed looking at row upon row of the most delectable, colorful, irresistible candies we had ever laid eyes on. Somewhere after the shimmering coated rainbow of Jelly Bellies, we felt transported to another world—maybe Candy Land. To escape (as if we really wanted to) from this palatable paradise, we tapped our heels together and repeated over and over: "There's no place like Mr. Bulkys". Once we reached reality, David assured us our reaction was normal. What a trick! What a treat! Don't miss the out of this world experience of Mr. Bulkys.

After an experience like that we couldn't help but feel a little bolder. We marched into THIS LITTLE PIGGY, a store that sells socks so unique they're suitable for framing. We challenged employees Shelley Gross and Carol Imurga to prove their recently advertised glow-in-the-dark socks really glow. In bright light they were adorable. With non-skid bottoms, the socks were decorated in all sorts of cute Halloween scenes. Exuding an air of confidence, Shelley marched us into the back room with a sample of each glow in the dark style. She closed a big heavy wooden door behind us and turned off the lights making escape impossible. Faster than she could say, "Abracadabra", the white material we saw in the light turned into fluorescent green glow in the dark. There were ghosts and goblins glowing all over. Let this be a lesson—there's more to the sock than the eye can see...This Little Piggy also carries some great fishnet hose and wild black nylons with gold and silver trim for enhancing that special costume. Sorry, but they do not carry green lights for the folks who are planning to be dinosaurs or turtles this year. For Halloween or any time of year visit This Little Piggy. Other mall tricks that are treats: ORIGINAL COOKIE I & II's personalized nine and eleven inch cookies that read "B-o-o-o-o" and "I'm Batty About You". Before you can intone "A la peanut butter sandwiches", Original Cookie can fill a bag with scrumptious peanut butter cookie tarts filled with chocolate frosting topped with a pumpkin candy.

Get over to WALDENBOOKS and ask manager Kristi Michael to let you peek at the children's book, The Ghost of Creepy Castle. With paper engineering by Keith Mosely there are delightfully intricate surprises: pop-ups, pull-outs, pull-downs, and pull every which way pictures for children of all ages. They also have a large collection of thrillers to get you in a fearful mood for Halloween.

We hate to keep you in suspense. There's not room to tell it all. Let's more tricks and treats were found milling round the mall. We don't mean to make you wait; we don't mean to stall. But you'll have to wait—Until next week when we see you at the mall.

ENTERTAINMENT

Variety Club installation brunch

Variety Club of Illinois will install their new officers for the coming year at their annual Installation Brunch on Oct. 23.

Entertainment will be provided by world-renowned jazz violinist Johnny Frigo. Frigo is back in Chicago after making a recent appearance on "The Tonight Show." He will be joined by Chicago's favorite pianist Joe Vito and song stylist Bobbi Jordan.

Non-members are encouraged to attend the event to enjoy the entertainment and learn more about Variety Club Children's Charities.

At this event only, anyone who joins Variety Club, Women's Variety Club or Young Variety Club will receive two free tickets to an event sponsored by that group in 1989.

Cocktails will begin at noon at the Hyatt Lincolnwood, 4500 W. Touhy in Lincolnwood. Brunch will begin at 12:30 p.m. with the program beginning soon after that.

The price of the brunch is $20. Reservations can be made by calling the Variety Club office at 855-0885.

Save-a-Pet Halloween Party

A Halloween Party for adults and children will be offered by Save-a-Pet, the no-kill animal shelter at 2019 Rand Rd. in Palatine, on Friday evening, October 28, at 6:30 p.m. The party will be held at the Annets Post 66, on McHenry Rd. (Rt. 83) in Wheeling.

There will be games for all ages, prizes, fortune telling and refreshments. The best costumes will receive prizes, with a penalty assessed for those not in costume. Admission is $3 for adults and $2 for children. All proceeds go to support the dogs and cats at Save-a-Pet.

"Spooktacular!"

Grab your costume and your courage and come to the "Spooktacular!" - a gleeful event at the Lincolnwood Library Saturday, Oct. 28, 2-3 p.m. Planned for preschoolers on up, the Halloween fun will include spooky stories, a surprise movie, and a chance to show off your costume. Admission is free but tickets are required because space is limited. Tickets will be available a week before at the children's desk at the Library which is located at 4000 W. Pratt ave.

"Aladdin," shown at Oakton

The Oakton Community College Performing Arts Department, in cooperation with the College of Lake County Children's Theatre, will present a free children's matinee, "Aladdin," at 2 p.m. Saturday, October 22 in Studio 1500 at the College, 1600 E. Golf Rd., Des Plaines.

The play tells the classic Arabian story, using simple props and audience participation. The show is recommended for children from five to eight years of age, but the comedy and suspense will appeal to all ages. Seating is complimentary, so early arrival is advised. For information, call 635-1900.

Morton Grove Spookhouse

Visit the Morton Grove Park District Spookhouse, where witches, vampires, and an assortment of goblins are just waiting to scare you out of your wits! The Spookhouse location is at the Oriole Park Pool House (located west of Harlem on Church Street or Oriole Street). Dates: Friday, Oct. 28 and Saturday, Oct. 29, from 7-10 p.m., both nights. Fee is: $1 per person. Volunteers to be spooks (17 years and older) can contact Gordon Jacobson at 965-7447.

Niles Historical Society feature "Movie Palaces"

Niles Historical Society invites the public to a slide program featuring "Movie Palaces" at its October meeting, to be held Oct. 24, at 8 p.m. at Museum Headquarters, 8970 Milwaukee Ave., Niles. Admission is free, and refreshments will be served.

The program will be presented by Catherine H. Koenig, a Niles resident, who was elected to the Board of the American Theatre Organ Society (ATOS), a non-profit organization whose purpose is the preserving and restoration of all the theatre pipe organs that are still in existence. With the work done by volunteers, to date nine organs in the Chicago area have been restored and are being used, including the one at the Pickwick Theatre.

Ms. Koenig has been appointed by the President at ATOS to be its Chairman of Education, and her program consists of slides of theatres and organs collected from all over the country. Future Society programs will explore "Historical Sites in the U.S.," an "African Safari," "Lepidary and Scrimshaw," "Home, Sweet Home from the Sears Catalog," and "Antique Picture Frames."

Come and learn something about ATOS, and visit an ever-growing local institution dedicated to preserving some of our past heritage.

Field School Fun Fair

Field School children and friends anticipate good times at the Fun Fair on October 29 at Field School, Cuttriss and Wisner, Park Ridge, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. This year's theme is Big Top Pee-wee. Shown (l-r) are Maureen Mulvihill, Robyn Greenslade, Katherine Greenslade and Emily Knoblauch, all of Park Ridge, looking forward to the fun. For information, contact Tom Greenslade, 698-2239.

Poetry reading

DePaul University's Department of English will sponsor a poetry reading by Alice Fulton at 4 p.m. Wednesday, October 26, in Room 246 of McGraw Hall, 802 W. Belden, Chicago. This is part of DePaul's Writers' Series for Autumn 1988. Fulton is the author of two award-winning books of poetry, Palladium, which was a National Poetry Series selection in 1986, and Dance Script with Electric Ballerina, which won the 1982 Associated Writing Programs Award. Admission is open and free to the public. For more information call 341-8330.

Boo! at Brookfield Zoo

Brookfield Zoo will hold its 15th annual "Boo! at the Zoo" Halloween celebration on both Saturday and Sunday, October 29 and 30. Visitors will find trick-and-treat stations throughout the park, a spooky Spookhouse in the Children's Zoo and a costume parade and showcase that no self-respecting goblin will want to miss.

Chicago's two favorite clowns will be special guests during "Boo! at the Zoo." Ronald McDonald will lead the parade with Affie the elephant on Saturday, and Bozo of WGN will be parade marshal on Sunday. So even the smallest of children will find plenty to do.

No registration is necessary. All costumed visitors will receive a free Brookfield Zoo trick-and-treat bag. It's a "zoooper spooko" celebration for goblins of all ages.

Brookfield Zoo is located at First Avenue and 31st Street in Brookfield, Illinois. Admission is $2.50 for adults and $1 for children and senior citizens. Children under 3 are free.

Pheasant Run art, craft & homespun market

From Southwestern Art to Photography, Contemporary Fine Art to Traditional Country Folk Art, Personalized and Custom Work to Fantastic Christmas Decorations, nearly 225 artists and craftspeople from 13 states will sell work in over 51 different media at the 2nd Annual Pheasant Run Art, Craft & Homespun Market at Pheasant Run Resort Megacentre, North Avenue 1/2 mile West of Route 59 in St. Charles November 4-6. Hours: Friday, Noon-9 p.m.; Saturday 10 a.m.-9 p.m.; Sunday 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Admission $3.

SV Opera profile

The Skokie Valley Chapter of the Lyric Opera of Chicago will have a profile of the Opera Don Giovanni on Sunday, October 23 at 2 p.m. The orientation will be at the Morton Grove Public Library, 6140 Lincoln Ave., Morton Grove.

What many consider "the perfect opera" returns to the repertoire with the kind of cast a record company might assemble for the definitive version of Don Giovanni.

In the title role, American bass Samuel Ramey offers the requisite combination of vocal and acting talents that places the part beyond the reach of all but a handful of would-be interpreters.

The opera has many amorous blandishments, sword fights and requisite treachery a Mozart drama has to keep everyone in suspense.

Come learn about this opera, its story, music, composer and history from Dr. Ellen Harris, Professor of Music at the University of Chicago.

Refreshments will be served. The public is cordially invited.

"Around The World In 80 Days"

"Around The World In 80 Days" is the production to be performed by the Park Ridge Park District's Children's Theatre cast. This exciting show will take place at Washington School Auditorium on Friday, October 21 at 7 p.m.; Saturday, October 22 at 2 p.m. and Sunday, October 23 at 2 p.m. Admission is $2.50 for adults and $2 for children and senior citizens. Tickets are available now at Maine Park Leisure Center, 2701 Sibley, Park Ridge. Don't miss the beautiful performance by talented Park Ridge youth! For more information, call the Park Ridge Park District at 692-5127.

Marillac's Chorale concert

Marillac High School's five choral groups: Chorale, Chamber Group, Madrigal Singers, Guys and Dolls, and Women's Select Group will present their first concert of the 1988-89 school year on Thursday, October 27 beginning at 8 p.m. in the Marillac Theatre, 315 Waukegan Rd., Northfield.

Marillac's Chorale received a silver medal at the U.S. International Music Festival last year, and performed this past spring throughout the British Isles.

"Picnic", Oakton's main stage production opens

"Picnic", a powerful American classic by William Inge, will open at Oakton Community College at 8 p.m. Friday, Oct. 28 in the performing Arts Center, 1600 E. Golf Road, Des Plaines. Presented by the Performing Arts Department, the play will be staged at 8 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays, Oct. 28, 29, Nov. 4 and 5 and at 2 p.m. on Sundays, Oct. 30 and Nov. 6. A special preview will be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 27.

First a Broadway smash in 1953 and later a popular film, "Picnic" tells the story of two widowed neighbors and how their lives changed when a young stranger visits town looking for odd jobs.

The play is directed by Carole Kleinberg, professor of Communications. Set design and lighting are by Chuck Doolittle, technical director. Tickets are $5, general admission; and $4 staff, faculty, students and senior citizens. All seats are reserved. Tickets to the Thursday night preview are $2.

For phone reservations, call the 24-hour ticket hotline, 635-1900. Tickets may be purchased in person in the Student Activities Office (Room 1501). Tickets will also be sold at the door.

Skokie Spook House

It's time for the Park District's frightening annual Spook House and Little Spooks Room! Come, if you dare, October 29 and 30, 1-5 p.m. at Oakton Center, 4701 Oakton Street. Our haunted Spook House features big scares for kids 6-13 and the Little Spooks Room is full of fun for kids 3-7.

Admission is $7.50 for Spook House and $1 for Little Spooks Room. Please call 674-1500 for details.

Jazz Band welcomes Film Festival

The Niles North High School Jazz Band will help usher in two weeks of stars and feature films at the opening of the Chicago Film Festival on Monday, October 24 at the Chicago Theatre on State Street between Lake Ave. and Randolph.

Performing in black tie attire, the band will play Hollywood jazz from 6:30 to 7 p.m. to add festivity to the arrival of such dignitaries as Gov. James Thompson and actress Faye Dunaway.

Film Festival officials expect the stars and directors of the premiere movie, "Burning Secret" starring Dunaway and Klaus Maria Brandauer, to attend the Chicago opening. The film festival will continue for two weeks.

The film is open to the public, with ticket prices starting at $10. Call 644-FILM for ticket and show information for the entire two weeks.

Niles Library...

who have been with the library for many years would not have made a change in salary. For example, an entry level librarian will now earn $21,900 instead of $15,000.

He added if employees come to work on time and only do what is expected in their duties, they will receive cost-of-living raises but no merit increases. No employee will receive more than two increases a year, said McKenzie.

Board members have long considered raising employees salaries so that they would be competitive with those of surrounding libraries.

At the present time, the library has about seven full time and four part time positions open. "We generally have about 10 percent of our positions open at any time. We hope the increased salary schedule will attract more people," said McKenzie.

In other action, board members approved an October 26 Amnesty Day for return of overdue library materials without penalties.

The board also approved purchase of 200 coupons from a collection agency to collect overdue library materials at a cost of $6.25 per coupon, or patron. Costs will be charged back to delinquent patrons.

McKenzie also reported to board members that a survey drawing of the former service station property at Oakton Street and Waukegan Road will be ready for analysis October 12. Options discussed for a parking lot expansion were a lot with separate parking area and entrance off of Waukegan Road or connection of the new lot directly to an existing parking area in back of the library. In the latter case, there would be no entrance from either Waukegan Road or Oakton Street.

A first issue of a library newsletter encountered mailing difficulties at both the Niles and Des Plaines post offices which will be investigated by the board attorney. In Des Plaines, all newsletters were dumped into the junk mail hopper and many were not delivered in Niles. A Niles resident attending the meeting said he received three newsletters the same day. About 26,000 newsletters were mailed at a cost of $1,300, or 5.3 cents each. A bill for printing has not been received to date. However, the library estimates it will spend $14,000 to $15,000 to mail out four newsletters during the year.

In other business, board members resolved to present a memorial plaque for a former board president, Martin Hodes, to his wife Estelle. Trustee Margaret Rajski said, under Hodes, the Niles Library moved from a storefront to a building of its own.

In another resolution, board members voted to present a gift certificate to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Biga, Sr. for their volunteer work in labeling library materials with "tattle-tale tape," a substance which makes possible theft detection.

Trustees also voted to make available certain videotapes, films and a projector to senior citizens homes within the district, especially in consideration of winter weather when the elderly are unable to do much traveling.

Trustee Irene Costello reported that the "Niles Friends of the Library" will sponsor a lip sync contest November 18 for youngsters in first through eighth grades. For more information, phone the library at 967-8554.

The library district serves parts of Maine, Niles and Northfield townships.

Ballard security...

He noted all the groups are required to enter through the park district doors in the center of the building facing Cumberland.

"Alarms usually go off after the doors are locked and occur late in the evening and early morning hours. We would like to know how people are getting into the building and why the alarm system is going off so often," he said.

According to park director Bill Hughes, organizations using the facility include Med-Check, Niles Chamber of Commerce and about three groups who use the Bocci court.

He said outsiders gaining entry through an open door could hide in the building after the doors are locked for the day, adding that he could be the cause for the frequent alarms.

"We are concerned about the security of the building. Police have found windows open after responding to an alarm. Better supervision is needed to see that all doors are locked," he said.

He added the village has increased police patrols around the Ballard area. In further action, Village Trustee Angelo Marchesi is expected to call a meeting concerning the park and representatives of organizations using the building.

In other business, board president Elaine Heinen said the recently formed Advisory Board for the park district's July 4th parade held a meeting, in which suggestions were made on enlarging the parade via more band units, floats and participants.

According to Heinen, the village's $12,000 contribution will be geared to parade activities only. Post-parade events will be at the cost of the park district.

The board is composed of the park commissioners, village officials Jim Mahoney and Ralph Bast, and Curt Hockett, director of the Niles Chamber of Commerce.

Heinen also announced that petitions for the April 4, 1989 park board elections can be picked up at the end of October at the park administration building by interested persons seeking to fill three vacancies on the board. Terms are for four years.

Up for election are the board seats of Commissioners Mary Marusek, Jim Pierski and Val Engelman. The latter was appointed to fill the seat of Dan Kosiba who resigned from the board last year.

In other reports, Heine said that she and other board members objected to a 17 percent increase in the proposed M-NASR budget for the 1989 fiscal year. "We wanted a 5 percent increase," she said.

The main objection was that the biggest increase in the budget was due to a staff addition and a Latchkey Program that only involves nine children. M-NASR officials will hold a meeting in November to discuss the budget with participating park districts involved with the organization.

Commissioner Jim Pierski reported the roof of the new maintenance building has been completed. The cost was $50,825. Jozwiak Park batting cages and mini-golf are in the process of being shut down.

Ballard ice rink will host a Tot Open House on October 20 from 7:30 to 11 a.m.

Mary Marusek reported the Halloween Party and parade will be held October 28. The parade leaves Oak School at 1 p.m. followed by a party at the Grennan Heights Recreation Center.

At a later time Chiropoulos told The Bugle, "It was a losing battle to start with. They can come up with all the figures and calculations they want, but when it rains, it floods." A saddened Joan Hall later said, "I cannot see how on a Board of Trustees everyone except for myself can ignore opposition stated so clearly and emotionally. As a Trustee, I am embarrassed."

Oakton Board approved one of the most difficult projects it has ever dealt with—the Northwest Municipal Conference Building—in the midst of an angry group of Des Plaines citizens who packed the board room.

As one of the last items of business, the Board authorized a contract for the construction of the NWMC Building with Vassan Enterprises. Vassan was the lowest bidder charging $738,584. The Board also approved a lengthy and detailed agreement between the NWMC and Oakton outlining rights for usage of the building and facilities.

Most dignitaries visiting the meeting left before this agenda item was brought to the floor and were not present when Des Plaines Alderman Nick Chiropoulos went to the podium to reiterate original objections against any new construction of the Des Plaines River flood plain.

Chiropoulos accused the Board of ignoring opponents of the project. He pointed to the Board and said, "Despite the objections presented to you, 300 signatures on a petition opposing the project, and a unanimous vote by every alderman on the Des Plaines City Council last night, you will probably go ahead. I appeal to you (the Board) to reconsider."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tilley, co-chairpersons of a homeowners' flood prevention committee, and another Des Plaines resident addressed the Board in the last plea for reconsideration of the project.

An editorial in a local paper that ran last August suggesting no further building should be done on the flood plain until future research is done was cited by Chiropoulos and Trustee Joan Hall. Hall, who has opposed the project from the start, stated, "I feel if we are going to exacerbate the flooding in any way, this building should not be built."

Trustee Jody Wadhwa and David Hilquist reminded the group of disgruntled citizens of extra water storage capacity Oakton will have in the near future. Their comments were met with objections by angry residents who felt that no new building should be allowed in the Des Plaines River flood plain by any person, company, or institution.

At a later time Chiropoulos told The Bugle, "It was a losing battle to start with. They can come up with all the figures and calculations they want, but when it rains, it floods." A saddened Joan Hall later said, "I cannot see how on a Board of Trustees everyone except for myself can ignore opposition stated so clearly and emotionally. As a Trustee, I am embarrassed."

The Board approved another project, a storm water retention plan. Barton Aschman Associates was approved for a fee not to exceed $11,000. Oakton's Vice President for Business and Finance, David E. Hilquist, acknowledged making a mistake because of statements he made at the previous meeting concerning the land on the northwest part of the campus involved in the plan. Part of the plan includes removing cubic yards of what Hilquist originally referred to as "illegally dumped material". At a Board committee meeting held October 11, Hilquist admitted after checking his records that Oakton did the dumping. When questioned about this after Tuesday's meeting Hilquist stated, "The dumping was not illegal. I authorized on 2,000 yards for material to be dumped in that area. An Oakton employee who is no longer with the school dumped 10,000 square feet."

Despite plans to remove the fill, regrade the surface, plant grass, extend the storm sewer, and enlarge the retaining lake, Trustee Joan Hall and other opponents of the NWMC building remained unconvinced these measures would stop the flooding.

Earlier in the meeting Assistant Secretary of Education, Dr. Bonnie Guiton, rushed in from the airport to present a prestigious award to the college and honor instructors Phyllis Deutch and Pat Hecker for their food service program funded by the Ford Foundation. Congressman Henry Hyde, Lincolnwood Mayor Chulay, and high ranking state officials and representatives from industry-sponsored adult education programs were on hand to witness the event.

Dr. Guiton relayed greetings from President Reagan and praised the Oakton program as one of only ten programs in the entire nation to receive consideration.

ceeded three inches in some localities.

According to MSD spokesman, Ayoub Tahami, forecasts and actual rainfall measurements are constantly monitored at the District to project the need to open the floodgates. Area sewers were backing up due to causes not related to North Shore Channel or Deep Tunnel, said Tahami.

Village officials in both Niles and Morton Grove agree that too much rain fell too quickly in too short a period for existing sewers to handle the influx of water. Morton Grove's Assistant Superintendent of Public Works, Peter Cepulis, said the heavy rain combined with the leaves in the manholes kept 20 Public Works employees in the streets until 8 p.m. Monday.

Autumn leaves may have been a factor in preventing other flooding, however.

According to Keith Peck, Niles Superintendent of Public Works, street sewers were filled to capacity after the first rainfall which began late Monday morning and continued until around 2 p.m. Rain subsided somewhat and a second deluge overloaded the storm drains. Ironically, said Peck, the leaves which contributed to the saturated sewers, helped minimize basement flooding. Citing the extreme cost factors of a sewer system designed for the "ten year rain", Peck said if the water could not overflow onto the streets it would be forced into people's homes, with the existing system because of the overload produced by an intense, heavy rainfall like Monday's. Some homeowners go so far as to deliberately "clog" the street sewers by covering them with blankets so the water will not back up into their basements, according to Superintendent Peck.

New Public Works projects are underway in both communities to stem the tide of flooding. Morton Grove Manager, Larry Art, said the 36" diameter relief sewer on Capulina is nearing completion. The Parkview neighborhood engineering study will soon be completed so that a new system can be constructed for those residents.

Niles' plans include the rehabilitation of sewers and catch basins in various areas. The rehab includes rebuilding and regrouping of the designated structures. Courtland Park residents are targeted for new sewers as well. Bids for the project design will go out in the next few weeks. The improvements accompanying the Cumberland Avenue project call for new sewers and residents will also benefit from an enlarged detention pond which is being engineered and built by Maryhill Cemetery personnel.

Whether these new sewers will pacify citizens who feel they have been overdone with flood problems will be determined by the next heavy rainfall.

cumstances, a 1976 Stanford Research Institute Study estimates the average individual will take 90 seconds to reach the Public Safety Answering Point (PSAP). There are two ways to shorten dialing time with the existing system: by using either a phone equipped with program-mable speed dialing or a phone orange-stickered with the correct emergency telephone numbers, the caller will reach the PSAP in less than 12 seconds—comparable to dialing 911. Once connected to the PSAP, dispatch time is similar, no matter how many digits are dialed.

The comparative equivalence between using speed calling or orange-stickered phones and dialing 9-1-1 applies to a resident or someone familiar with a local or emergency number. This ty's emergency number according to number differs according to towns and under the existing systems, a person could cross a street into another town and dial the wrong number in an emergency. A stranger in Niles, Morton Grove, Des Plaines, Park Ridge, Glenview or Lincolnwood, who dials 9-1-1 will reach a Skokie or Wilmette dispatcher, who, according to the Stanford study, will take an average of 60 seconds to relay the information to the appropriate dispatcher.

The Niles and Morton Grove police departments, based on reports, have a response time varying from five to ten minutes for non-emergency calls. Emergency calls will bring a unit to the caller's doorstep in a minute or less, depending on whether there is a squad car in the vicinity of the caller.

Fire Departments do not prioritize their fire and paramedic calls. All help request are treated as an emergency. Seven departments including Glenview, North Maine, Morton Grove and Niles are part of RED (Regional Emergency Dispatch) Center, the prodigy of 911 proponent Harry Kinowski, Niles Fire Chief. Once received, an ambulance in an average of 4.26 minutes, according to 1987 studies. 1988 survey, due in 2 weeks, will show similar response times, according to RED Chief, Morrie Farbanan.

While it appears local fire and paramedic responses are slower than those for police emergencies, the police average cited is based on officer's reports which are recorded by district clocks and patrol officer's watches. RED Center response times are clocked and recorded on a console clock. In addition, fire trucks are located in individual fire stations and do not patrol as do police units.

Chiefs Farbanan and Kinowski acknowledge most citizens do not feel a compelling need for 911 because few citizens experience life-threatening emergencies. The 911 system under consideration is much more than three digit speed calling, however, Called "Enhanced 911", it will be a state of the art system which will take about 18 months to install.

Enhanced 911 is the computerized system with a visual display screen at the PSAP. Other features available with this system vary, depending on the provider. Illinois Bell Telephone, Centel & GTE are among the several vendors, and each offers different options with their packages. Most company packages enable the PSAP to disconnect a call even if the caller does not hang up, to prevent intentional jamming of 911 lines and will hold a call, even if the caller hangs up, allowing calls to be traced. The PSAP can determine whether a caller has hung up or is still on the line and is unable or unwilling to speak. Or, if the caller has hung up and not given sufficient information to the PSAP, the PSAP can phone back. The Chicago 911 system has Automatic Number and Location Identification enabling the caller's phone number and address of the phone being used. A Selective Routing feature sends a call to the preselected PSAP determined by the location of the calling telephone.

Hi tech 911 systems help dispatchers locate an emergency if the caller cannot communicate with the dispatcher because of language or physical problems. A panicly caller may be unable to give the correct information as well. Existing systems, no matter how responsive they are, do not have Enhanced 911's capability. In dire emergencies, this time-saving feature is critical. If the 911 referendum passes, voters will have paid about $18 per household in the ensuing year and a half before the system becomes operational. If the voters do not approve the $1 per month telephone surcharge, it will be up to Niles and Glenview trustees to decide how the citizens will fund an emergency system.

The Niles and Morton Grove police departments, based on reports, have a response time varying from five to ten minutes for non-emergency calls. Emergency calls will bring a unit to the caller's doorstep in a minute or less, depending on whether there is a squad car in the vicinity of the caller.

Lynch, an independent truck driver, arrived at the Bradford Exchange, 9055 Milwaukee Ave., Niles, approximately 10:15 a.m. At that time he complained to two Bradford Exchange employees that he "wasn't feeling well."

At about 1:35 p.m. two other witnesses found Lynch's body and called paramedics. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Lutheran General Hospital. There were no signs of foul play or violence.

with the clogging of storm drains, caused flooding in all areas which normally experience water backup under those conditions. Streets and citizens snarled in Austin Park, in the south east and northeast near Church and Central (Harms Road).

Two storm fronts passed through the area, where tornado watches were in effect until 7 p.m. Jim Dobbs' public works crews used an assortment of implements to remove debris from the over-burdened sewers. By 8 o'clock that night, normalcy had returned outside and crews were sent home.

MG Transit

District meeting

The next meeting of the Board of Trustees of the North Suburban Mass Transit District is scheduled for Wednesday, October 26 in Morton Grove. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the Morton Grove Village Hall, 6101 Capulina.

Mort Wolinsky, Morton Grove's representative to the Board, notes that his community is well served by the District's bus operations, NORTRAN. Routes travelling through Morton Grove include RT. 208 (Golf Mill-Old Orchard-Evanston), RT. 210 (Wheeling-Glenview-Morton Grove-Skokie-North Michigan Avenue), RT. 226 (Des Plaines-Morton Grove-Skokie-Jefferson Park via Oakton), RT. 228 (Glenview-Harlem CTA Station via Harlem Avenue), and RT. 250 (Des Plaines-Evanston via Dempster).

All Board meetings are open to the public.

Halloween Party

The Niles Park District will host the Annual Children's Halloween Party for Niles residents on Saturday, October 29. Children are asked to meet in Costume at Oak School (7640 Main St.), 1 p.m. for the walking parade to the Grennan Heights Facility (8255 Oketo). At Grennan, (8255 Oketo), children will participate in costume judging, games, treats and entertainment. This program is free and no advance registration is necessary, however, it is open to Niles residents only. For additional information, call 824-8880.

Monday's deluge. . .

into rivers and the sewers were not able to hold the water," he said.

He explained if the storm had been over a 24-hour period, there would have been no problems but the intensity of rain over four or five hours caused heavy flooding of streets and basements in specific areas. Most of the flooding occurred in the low-lying streets in the older neighborhoods. "The streets dip in the center and are like miniature waterfalls during heavy rains," he said.

Those streets include Kedzie, Olcott, Oriole, Ottawa and Mulford. Barricades were put up on those streets to prevent cars from going through. Public works crews placed sandbags on Courtland St. because the occupants were concerned water would come into their house. The underpass at Dempster and Milwaukee was also barricaded. The intersection of Dempster and Sherman was transformed into a lake once again. Employees of The Bugle barricaded the front and back doors of the building with newspapers to keep the tidal waves made by passing vehicles from coming into the office.

In addition, many Buglers could not leave the office until 7 p.m. that evening when the water subsided and they could get to their cars. A mini-catastrophe occurred at Ransom-Ridge, west of Greenwood on Normal, which suffered power outage for about four hours, putting the sump pumps out of operation. Work crews were kept busy until 10 p.m. pumping water out of the basements.

According to Peck, lightning hit a pole where the underground cables are located causing the outage. "Some Ransom-Ridge residents had backup generators for the sump pumps, but others did not causing a big problem," he said.

He added about 30 complaint calls were received from residents by his department about flooding in their streets and backup sewage in their basements. "We pumped out water where we could, but could do nothing about the flooding because of the swollen sewers," he said.

According to Fire Chief Harry Kinowski, traffic lights were out of commission at major intersections at one time or another during the height of the storm. Those included stoplights at Oakton and Greenwood, Normal and Dempster, Oakton and Prospect, and Milwaukee and Main.

Kinowski said the fire department had no major problems. "We received about four calls from residents who wanted the electricity cut off in their flooded basements for safety precautions. We also had four false alarms because of wet underground cables," he said.

Kinowski added firemen were called to the YMCA, 6300 Touhy, where lightning struck a tree, "It literally blew the tree up, but caused no damage to the grounds. It was really something to see," he said.

According to Sgt. John Katsoilas of the Niles Police Department, no injuries or automobile accidents were reported as a result of the storm. "Police were kept busy directing traffic where stoplights were out at major intersections," he said. He added some cars got stalled on Milwaukee Ave., because of the heavy flooding and police helped in getting the vehicles off the street.

Residents who were hot under the collar about flooding in their basements including Marie Berrigan of 7646 Kedzie, who complained she had over a foot of water in her basement that could damage her furnace, freezer, washer, and dryer. "This has happened many times before," she said.

The angry Berrigan told The Bugle that sewage had backed up in the basement and Lysol would have to be used to get rid of the smell. She said that water could not pumped out because it would go out on the saturated lawn. "I am getting so tired living with this flooding problem that has been going on for a number of years," she said.

Her husband, Clay, appeared at a recent board meeting to complain about the flooding in his basement, which he said has been occurring for over 30 years. He noted that in the past, he has had to replace the furnace and other appliances in his basement. "I feel that not enough is being done by the village to correct this problem and I'm fed up," he said.

Peck, in reply, said that village engineers are studying the sewer system in the area to analyze the problem and will make a recommendation to the board as soon as possible.

Pat Finkler, 8239 N. Oconto the water from the storm crept up over the lawn and came within inches of her front door. She added that she and her husband had to carry sandbags from the garage and place them near the front door to prevent water from coming in.

Other houses on her block have flooding problems in their basements during heavy storms, but the Finkler home has a crawl space which gets inundated with water. "Our big problem is water coming over the lawn and into the house. We have lived here for 26 years and want the village to do something about the flooding," he said.

She added a village crew inspected the sewer last August and cleaned it to resolve the problem. "They said that was all they could do and advised us to jack up the house to avoid flooding," she said.

Township. Blase explained that based on an average, three out of 10 voters vote a straight ticket. The other seven vote for the candidate they feel is more qualified. "Both parties have to appeal to those seven," he said.

He predicted that a highly qualified slate of candidates and disenchantment with some of the Republican hopefuls will spell victory for the Democrats on November 8.

Blase said that Edward Vrdolyak, who is running for clerk of the Cook County Board of Elections, the number of eligible voters in Niles Township as of October 3 was 65,183. In Maine Township, registration figures show 78,817 eligible voters. Tuesday, October 4 was the last day to register to vote in next month's general election.

By comparison, Niles Township had 66,272 or 1,089 more, registered voters in the 1984 presidential election year. Maine Township had 77,343 registered voters in 1984, or 1,474 fewer registered voters than this year.

Blase stated the two would be a good match because Niles has the only replica of the famed Leaning Tower. The replica located in front of the YMCA, 6300 Touhy, was built by Robert A. Iig and was completed in 1933.

According to a Niles library source, the tower is 96 feet tall and 28 feet in diameter. The size of Pisa's tower is 177 feet tall and 56 feet in diameter.

Ralph Bast, business coordinator for Niles, said Pisa is a "natural" for a sister city, citing opportunities that could come out of the union including exchange of students between the two towns.

Best noted in the cover letter sent to Granchi, Blase pointed out the Leaning Tower YMCA is just 30 minutes travel time to theaters, opera and museums in Chicago. labels," he said. He disputed Blase's claim that Vrdolyak will hurt GOP chances. "He is waging a strong campaign and is going to fool a lot of people. In my opinion, it's going to be a horse race," he said.

Raffe noted the increase in suburban registration, with a decrease in Chicago, will benefit the Republicans. Many of the registrants, he said, are former Chicago residents, who moved to the suburbs to get away from Democratic control.

He concluded by saying the GOP Party will win an overwhelming victory in November. "We have a more qualified and more experienced slate of candidates that will appeal to both party and independent voters," Raffe said.
