District 63 tax levy up 22 percent

by Eileen Hirschfeld

In a guesstimate based on the budget and operating costs, board members of East Maine Elementary School District 63 tentatively approved a 2.6436 tax levy or 22.36 percent increase over last year. Although estimates ranged from 18 percent to 34 percent, board members are proceeding on the assumption that there will be a 34 percent increase in the equalized assessed valuation (EAV) following the quadrennial

Board remembers Pesole with moment of silent prayer

Harbison named Niles village clerk

by Nancy Keraminas

The Niles Board of Trustees nominated and approved the village's first appointed clerk, an action resulting from a Nov. 7 voter referendum on the issue.

Kathy Harbison, village administrative aide, will assume the clerk duties previously handled by an elected official. Her salary will be $1,000 per year.

Attorney Richard Troy read the balloting tallies showing voters favored eliminating the elected position by a vote of 1,038 to 775.

Mrs. Harbison's appointment is from Dec. 1, 1989 through April 30, 1990. At that time the position of village clerk, like the positions of other village department heads, will be subject to an annual appointment by the board. Frank Wagner, who retired last spring, was the last elected village clerk.

The regular Nov. 28 meeting began on a note of sadness with Board President Nick Blase asking for a moment of silent prayer

by Linda A. Burns

A Morton Grove couple who raise roses in their backyard were presented with a first place residential appearance award at the Morton Grove village board meeting Monday.

Frank Selvaggi, of 7707 West Lake St., said he likes to work tending the 36 rows of roses he and his wife, Lucia, have in their backyard. As soon as March comes, he said he will be out in his yard working his usual five to six hours a day. He describes his property as looking more like it belongs in California than in Chicago.

Although Selvaggi said he does most of the work in the yard, he admits his wife does help him pick the roses.

Selvaggi, a retired cement worker, is originally from Bari, Italy and moved to Chicago in 1956. The couple moved to Morton Grove in 1979.

This presentation ceremony marks the second year the village has given appearance awards for excellence in design and maintenance of property in each of three categories: residential, commercial and industrial. The village

Park board pledges support to Lippert

The new director of the Niles Park District faces a backlog of challenges when he comes on board Jan. 9, filling a post that will have been vacant for more than seven months.

Thomas Lippert, who was last employed by the district as a maintenance superintendent in 1981, and who is currently a recreation superintendent for the Deerfield Park District, was named Niles director Nov. 21.

by Bud Besser

He said he was a "hell raiser" and a "party boy". He said he wasn't any saint and if you're looking for saints, you might find one in his wife, Dolores.

Deacon Rich Ward gave the eulogy at Niles trustee Pete Pesole's funeral Tuesday, drawing a picture of a fun-loving guy, forever optimistic, who was talking with Rich about buying land in Wisconsin, while his debilitating illness was increasingly wearing Pete down.

We knew Pete as an ebullient guy. He was a business agent for the IBEW union and was on the fringe of the political scene, especially during national elections.

Pete was a man who thought with his heart. He was forever championing the little guy. He was the Niles trustee who was concerned with the village employees in town, concerned about their receiving adequate insurance benefits, and generally watching over their well-being. You might think these interests were due to his work in the union movement, but it was his compassion which ruled his head.

Long before it was a popular issue, we remember Pete talking about passing a local ordinance to control guns in Niles. He was obviously overruled, but it was Pete who was appalled by the mortality rate in

Village mourns Trustee Pesole

Niles Village Trustee Peter Pesole succumbed to a long illness Nov. 24 and died in his home surrounded by his wife Dolores and other family members.

Friends, associates and family members crowded at Skaja Terrace Funeral Home during the Nov. 27 wake, necessitating traffic control assistance by Niles Police.

The 60-year-old village official was a prominent AFL-CIO official, most recently serving as a national regional director for COPE, the union's political education committee.

Pesole began his affiliation with the labor organization in 1969, the same year he was appointed trustee in the village where he had resided since 1961. "His life was his job as a trustee," said his daughter Karen Marabotti, who recalled her father as a "kiddier and a joker" who was as devoted to his family as they were to him.

Modern blacksmith customizes horseshoes at MG stable

by Sheilya Hackett

Country Club Stables sprawls on five acres of dusty forest land near 9501 Austin Ave., Morton Grove, and in a corral near the door, riders practice jumping hurdles. Inside the door, an acrid smell hits the nose and in a lounge, a black cat, curled and dozing on a couch, briefly opens an eye.

The stable blacksmith, Lee Reiter, strides from a hall near the lounge and gives a visitor a strong handshake—it's a strong shake, but not a bone-crusher. This modern smith's hands aren't especially calloused and his fingernails are white; one finger bears a horseshoe-shaped ring.

"...the smith, a mighty man is he..."

Reiter is just not the smithy Longfellow described when he wrote "The smith, a mighty man is he, with large and sinewy hands..." Reiter is neat, slim, clean shaven; his greying hair is combed back and his voice is soft.

As he leads a visitor down halls to his work area, he passes stalls that house over 150 horses, some privately owned, some "school" horses, or those rented for trail rides. Privately owned animals live in box stalls where they can easily lie down; school horses put up with a narrow "slip" or "tie" stall, but still manage to lie down.

He passes stable hands at work, shoveling out piles of manure mixed with wood chips, then hosing down the cement walkway as they clean stalls. Overhead, cobwebs cling to rafters and a small spider dangles at eye level.

In the smith's corner of the stable, double doors open onto a field, providing air, and in summer, lots of flies. Hanging on a pipe in a niche are dozens of horseshoes in all sizes: small for ponies; large for the draft horses that pull hay rides and sleighs; another size for trail horses. There are aluminum shoes for jumpers.

Reiter shoes all the stable horses, and keeps track of when they need re-shoeing, usually every six to eight weeks. Summer is the peak shoeing season, since horses are ridden more often and generally, the hooves grow faster. Like human fingernails, hooves grow and need trimming regularly, even though the shoes are not worn, Reiter explained.

Reiter's anvil is traditional, but instead of feeding coke into a blazing forge, he turns on a jet for a propane-powered flame.

Like humans, horses sometimes need corrective shoes to adjust their gait, and Reiter carefully customizes such shoes, bringing the iron shoe on his anvil to a red hot shade before he hammers them wider or thinner where needed. On winter shoes, he adds drops of borium to the shoe to give the horse better traction on ice and concrete.

As he starts work on a sand-colored horse called "Tartusk", Reiter backs into the animal and braces one rear horse leg against his own aproned leg. Country-western music blares from a radio and the horse's tail flicks over his head as a tiger cat pads past.

Working fast, Reiter pries off the shoe and manures the hoof, then cleans trail debris from the hoof cavity. If "Tartusk" were a jumper, Reiter would insert a shock-absorbing pad between the hoof and the shoe.

Holding extra nails in his mouth, he deftly pounds nails into the thin hoof wall, then nips them off where they protrude. He files the hoof for a smooth finish, constantly eyeing the basic level of the shoe. The procedure is repeated several times a day.

Reiter's measure of affection for horses is the tender care he takes.

The smith, a retired Skokie policeman, owned his own horse and rode and jumped for pleasure in the late seventies. He worked with the then-stable blacksmith, picking up the skill of shoeing and soon developed a new career he loved. Softly patting the shoulder of "Tartusk", he admits, "getting along with horses is half the battle" of his job.

But it wasn't always that way. He recalls when a frisky gelding literally kicked him out the stable door and when an irritated filly raked her teeth across his skull.

Horse stories tumble from him as he talks. He tells about "Roofer", a small quarter horse who set an Illinois jumping record in '76—an unusual feat for a small horse—and about "John Henry" who triumphed two or three times in the Arlington Million race but couldn't be bred because he was a gelding.

"...getting along with horses is half the battle..."

He shows a visitor the tattooed under-hip of a former racehorse, explaining the numbers there give the age and entire history of any horse that's raced in competition. He stops to pat a blanketed "Toby" who's feeling under the weather, he strokes the heavy neck of a stallion and describes the high-stepping footwork of the saddle-bred - "King's Regal Lady."

Reiter is happy working with the horses and when he relaxes at night, he can glance up at the chrome shoe from a Budweiser Clydesdale over his fireplace and smile. It's brought him the good luck to work with the animals he loves.

A.B. Dick plans blood drive

A.B. Dick Company of Niles will sponsor an employee blood drive Friday, Dec. 1. The drive is a community service sponsored by A.B. Dick in support of LifeSource, Illinois' largest blood bank.

ChicagoLand suffers from a chronic blood shortage. The approaching cold and flu season and the upcoming holidays can cause collections to drop off quickly, turning the chronic shortage into a critical shortage.

LifeSource depends on corporate sponsors like A.B. Dick to provide 37 percent of the blood supplied to area hospitals. Because of the involvement of these types of organizations, a safe and adequate blood supply is available to ChicagoLand.

Oakton holds real estate review

Niles and Pisa, Italy become sister cities

The mayor of Pisa, Italy, Giacomo "Jack" Granchi has sent a letter to Niles Mayor Nick Blase expressing that city's desire to become a sister city to Niles.

The village board is expected to draft a sister city resolution at the Nov. 28 village meeting, which will set the wheels in motion for the two municipalities to become "cultural soulmates."

Proponents of the sister city arrangement, including the late trustee Angelo Marcheschi, have noted that Niles and Pisa share an architectural affinity in the form of a leaning tower, with Pisa's famous edifice towering over its 96-foot-tall Niles counterpart by an additional 81 feet.

The Niles half-scale replica of the famous landmark has stood at 6300 W. Touhy Ave. since 1933, and is a reinforced steel and concrete water storage tower erected by Chicago industrialist and inventor Robert A. Ilg.

The Pisa tower was completed nearly 600 years earlier, and is a marble bell tower built on wood pilings.

A sister city arrangement might increase Niles' recognition, although, according to the Leaning Tower YMCA which maintains the replica, the smaller version already attracts visitors from every corner of the world.

Montgomery Ward opens in Niles

Cutting ties with its Old Orchard operations and cutting ribbons at its new location in the Village Crossing Center, 5601 Touhy Avenue, Niles, Montgomery Ward officially opened its new store Nov. 10. The store presents individualized shops concentrating on Ward's four basic merchandising targets and adds a new brand name repair center called Doctronics to its customer service.

At opening ceremonies, led by Niles Mayor Nicholas Blase and Ward Chief Executive Officer Bernard F. Brennan, Brennan said the new store reflects the current specialty concepts of the company. It is the largest of these stores Ward has built and encompasses 113,500 square feet.

In accord with the specializing concept, a two-story atrium acts as a central walkway for connecting shops in the Niles store. Both Electric Avenue and the Kids Store have separate entrances and adjoin the atrium mall.

This specializing concept evolved from the Ward policy conceived in 1985 when the merchandiser discontinued its catalog operations and decided to add competitive brand name products to its retail services.

Burglars strike local businesses

A rash of burglaries hit a Waukegan Road strip of Morton Grove businesses between Nov. 25 and 27.

The thieves' method of operating was similar in each case. They gained entry to stores by using a channel lock type plier which exhibits damage to the lock only with close examination. After a slight adjustment, the lock will continue to function properly.

At 9235 Waukegan, a flower shop, thieves ransacked cash drawers but found no money. Down the street at 9243, a pet supply house, $35 was removed from the premises. At 9247, a skin care center, an undetermined amount of cash, a mink coat and two cases of moisturizing cream

SHIP available to Niles residents

The Senior Health Insurance Program (SHIP) sponsored by the Illinois Department of Insurance is now available in several new communities in Cook County. Senior citizens who have problems or questions about Medicare and other health insurance can arrange for assistance from a SHIP volunteer by calling Niles Senior Center, Niles, (708) 967-6100, Ext. 376.

SHIP was established in 1988 as part of the Insurance Department's long-standing effort to assist senior citizens who find insurance contracts and procedures confusing. The program is now available in more than 40 counties throughout the state.

Seniors attend luncheon

West students visit nursing home residents

The Maine West High School Key Club, sponsored by the Kiwanis Organization has been visiting the residents of Oakton Pavilion since October 1987.

Key Club members come each month, lifting the spirits of the seniors with their enthusiasm and warm greetings. They are accompanied by Sandy Stubbings, their teacher and friend.

The Key Club people and Ms. Stubbings visit with the residents who have had birthdays within the last month. Each resident is visited on an individual basis and receives a special birthday card, an african violet plant, and a "Happy Birthday Serenade" sung by all.

Teacher Sandy Stubbings grows the african violets herself. Most of them are registered and have their own names. Between 15 and 20 of these plants are given away each month. Sandy always makes sure that each plant given to the residents is already in bloom for their new owners.

It's hard to tell who benefits more from this program, the residents or the young people. Between the greetings and birthday song, there are lots of tears and smiles - hugs and kisses.

A remarkable thing takes place during many of the visits. Some residents who seldom speak or show any emotion, suddenly start to talk clearly and smile again.

The lonely ones who have no family have new friends. The "loners" and withdrawn reach out to shake young hands. And hearts, both young and old are touched for a brief moment that will long be remembered.

These young students and their teacher are working hard in the community and setting an example for their peers by getting involved in the worthwhile project. They deserve recognition for an idea, which has bridged the "Generation Gap" between Oakton Pavilion and Maine West High School.

Township offers services to seniors

A wide variety of services and programs are available to senior citizens through the Maine Township government.

Maine Township has one of the largest senior citizen populations in Cook County, numbering nearly 20,000.

One of the key programs provided by the township is an information and referral clearinghouse to help seniors obtain information on housing, medical services, social and mental health services, nutrition, home-delivered meals, employment, energy assistance, social activities and other services.

Senior citizens and their families can take advantage of the information and referral service by calling the Social Services Department at the Maine Township Town Hall, 297-2510.

This program is partially supported through grants awarded to Maine Township by the Suburban Cook County Area Agency on Aging. To date, the township has received eight awards from the Suburban Cook County Area Agency on Aging to continue providing information and referral services.

Senior citizens can also find fun and companionship through the many activities offered by the Maine Township Seniors, a social group sponsored by the township. The group offers frequent day trips, theater outings, bingo and monthly luncheons at a nominal cost to members. It also sponsors popular mini-vacations and longer trips.

More than 2,800 Maine Township Seniors belong to the group. Activities in most cases are limited to members. Applicants must be 65 or older and provide proof of residency.

The township also offers OPTION 55, a social program for pre-retirement adults, aged 55 through 65. Trips, theater programs and special events are scheduled evenings and weekends for the convenience of members. This group also offers members opportunities to take vacation trips.

Membership in both groups is free. For information and membership applications call Sue Neuschel, 297-2510.

Maine Township also provides RTA special passes and handicapped parking cards through the clerk's office; and participates in the Paratransit Resource Center to provide transportation at special rates to seniors who are unable to use public transportation.

For information on any of these programs, call 297-2510.

Group to discuss doctors

A discussion, "How to Talk to your Doctor," will be presented to the Monday Group of the Smith Activities Center, Lincoln and Galitz, Skokie, Dec. 18 at 1:30 p.m.

HOLIDAY CANDY WORKSHOP

The Morton Grove Park District offers the Holiday Candy Workshop in two sessions, with special prices for seniors. The workshop will be conducted Dec. 1 and 8 by instructor Carol Gail. Participants will learn to melt and mold chocolate into wonderful edible gift items. Dipped pretzels and chips and chocolate roses will be a few of the items to learn about and take home. Also demonstrated will be the weaving of a basket of chocolate. All supplies will be provided and are included in the cost of the workshop which is just $5. For more information or to register, stop by Prairie View or call 965-7447.

HOLIDAY BAZAAR

The North Shore Hotel at 1611 Chicago Ave., Evanston will host a Holiday Bazaar from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 2. Included at the bazaar will be paintings, portraits, needlework, toys, household items, plants, cosmetics, bakery goods, jewelry, uppersware, holiday decorations, chocolates, entertainment, refreshments and more. Holiday gifts are priced from 25 cents to $25. For more information call the North Shore Hotel at 864-6400.

DIABETES SCREENING

Morton Grove residents can take advantage of free and simple Accu-Check blood sugar screenings from 9 to 10 a.m. Tuesday, Dec. 5 in the Flickinger Senior Center. People coming in for the screening should not be known diabetics and should fast from the evening meal of the night before.

WHO SAYS I CAN'T CHANGE

Oakton Community College presents another program in the Passages lecture series entitled, "Who Says I Can't Change." Linda Sugar, clinical social worker, will discuss how we can't change others but can change ourselves and how this awareness can positively improve relationships. The program begins at 1 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 5, at the Oakton East campus, 7701 Lincoln Ave., Skokie.

HIGH SCHOOL EVENTS

Maine East, Niles North, and Niles West High Schools invite township residents age 60+ to join the holiday celebrations taking place at their schools in December.

At Maine East: Holiday Concert, 2 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 17.
At Niles North: Holiday Music Festival, 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Dec. 12.
At Niles West: Holiday Music Festival, 7 p.m., Wednesday, Dec. 20.

For more information about other activities throughout the year at the schools call Maine Township at 825-4484, ext. 4439 or Niles Township at 673-6822, ext. 5422.

ENERGY COST ASSISTANCE

The Residential Energy Assistance Partnership Program (formerly IHEAP) is now available for eligible Maine and Niles Township residents. The program offers assistance in paying heating costs. A person may qualify for assistance either to pay heating bills or if the heat is included in the rent. Interested people in Maine Township should call 297-2510, and in Niles Township call 328-5166.

AIDS AND OLDER ADULTS

With increased age there tends to be a decline in immune system functions, making older people more susceptible to a variety of illnesses such as infections and cancers. Because of these changes in immune function, AIDS may affect older people differently than it does the young. Data from the Centers for Disease Control suggest that most older persons infected with the AIDS virus have developed disease symptoms more quickly than younger patients.

The older population also receives the highest rate of blood transfusions during routine medical care. As a result, the second most common cause of AIDS in people over age 50 (after homosexual and bisexual activity) has been exposure to contaminated blood transfusions received before 1985 when the public blood supply was not being screened for the virus. A further complication is that older AIDS patients who have early symptoms of AIDS (such as fatigue, loss of appetite, and swollen glands) are similar to other more common illnesses, many people, including health professionals may dismiss these as symptoms of a minor ailment.

For more information about this or another health condition, seniors can contact the Morton Grove Department of Health and Human Services' geriatric nurse, Laurel Letwat, at 965-4100, ext. 343.

TALKING BOOKS

Talking books are books and magazines that have been recorded on discs and cassette tapes. They are to be used with specially designed record and tape players. Anyone with vision problems or physical disabilities who cannot read regular print for a reasonable amount of time is eligible for talking books. The service is also available for temporary use, such as after surgery or during an illness. The service is free, and reading materials and equipment are sent out and returned postage-free through the mail. Over 45,000 books are available and every month 100 new books are released. Braille materials can also be delivered. People interested in these services, or know of someone who would benefit can call the State Librarian at 1 (800) 331-2351 or the Morton Grove Public Library at 965-4220.

Res presents low-cal holiday cooking program

Low Calorie Cooking for The Holidays is the topic of a special communitywide health education program Thursday, Dec. 7, at Resurrection Medical Center, 7435 W. Talcott Ave., Chicago.

The class will be offered at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. in Marian Hall, located on the hospital's lower level. There is a $5 fee which includes a cookbook and is payable at the program. Advance registration is required by calling the Health Promotion and Wellness office at (312) 792-5022.

Chris Barr and Gayle Pichlik, registered dietitians presenting the program, note that their presentation will focus on various aspects of holiday meal service with an emphasis on appetizers, salads, a main course and a dessert. In addition, suggestions will be made for ways to incorporate less sodium, fat, cholesterol and calories overall in holiday cooking.

Mall schedules lecture on stress

The effects of stress in daily life will be explained by Dr. Thomas Locke, a specialist in neuromusculo-skeletal complaints and a nutrition therapist, from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 6, in the upper level community room of the Des Plaines Mall, 700 Pearson St., Des Plaines.

The relationship between physical, emotional and chemical stress and their effects on chronic health problems will also be addressed in this free lecture. For information, call 635-1812.

Folk singer entertains children

Larry Mesirov, folk singer/guitarist/songwriter, will present a 45-minute program for children at the annual Beth Emeth Free Synagogue Chanukah Boutique and Fair, Sunday, Dec. 3 at 12:45 p.m. The Synagogue is located at 1224 Dempster St., Evanston.

Mesirov, Chicago-born in 1946, will feature the Ladino and Sephardic songs of the Spanish Jews. He has performed for many groups and synagogues in the Chicago area, as well as at the Jewish Folk Arts Festivals in Evanston in 1983, 1986 and 1988.

In addition to being a gifted folk singer with a specialty in Yiddish and Hebrew, he is skilled in American folk music, including ballads, blues and country. French popular music from the forties and music from Latin America and other foreign countries.

Mesirov performed at the Hispanic Festival of the Arts at the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago in 1983, 1985 and 1986. His performances on television include a presentation of songs of the Refuseniks at the Chicago Public Library Cultural Center and broadcast by Group W Cable in 1986. In 1983 he was interviewed by Station WJUF and performed original songs in Spanish about the plight of the Soviet Jews.

Tickets ordered in advance from the Synagogue, 869-4230, will be $2; tickets at the door will be $2.50.

Synagogue celebrates anniversary

In commemoration of its 40th anniversary a series of events are being planned at Beth Emeth Free Synagogue in Evanston, according to Sophie and Sidney Black, chairpersons of the 40th Anniversary Committee.

During the week-end of Dec. 8 to 10, the synagogue's founding rabbi, David Polish, and his wife Aviva, will be honored in celebration of his 80th birthday and as the recipients of the Tree of Life Award from the Jewish National Fund.

The festivities will begin Friday, Dec. 8, with a special service dedicated to Rabbi Polish's 80th birthday. He will deliver the D'var Torah and relate the history of the synagogue and the programs promoted under his leadership. In addition, Joseph Clonick, a founding member of Beth Emeth, has composed a special prayer for the occasion. It will be sung by Ruth Seidner, who was confirmed at Beth Emeth and is currently a member. A dinner for founding members will precede the service.

At a brunch Sunday, Dec. 10, Rabbi David Polish and his wife, Aviva, will receive the Tree of Life award from the Jewish National Fund in recognition of their life-long efforts and devotion to the State of Israel.

The history of Beth Emeth Free Synagogue began in January, 1950 when Rabbi David Polish left Temple Mizpah in Chicago. Several congregants came with him, and with a few Evanston families they established the synagogue. From the initial core of 40, Beth Emeth now has a membership of more than 700 families. Upon Rabbi Polish's retirement in 1979, Rabbi Peter Knobel was selected as its rabbi.

Besides founding Beth Emeth Free Synagogue, Rabbi David Polish has served as president of the Central Conference of American Rabbis. In 1970 he planned its first conference in Jerusalem, and during his administration the Central Conference joined the World Jewish Congress. He is the founder of ARZA, the Reform Zionist organization, and wrote its Statement of Principles. On the local level he founded the Chicago Board of Rabbis and was its first president.

Rabbi Polish is married to Aviva Friedland Polish. They are the parents of Rabbi Daniels Polish and Judith Shrenker, and they have five grandchildren.

Church choirs performing concert

The Choirs of Edison Park Lutheran Church will present a Christmas Concert at the church, 6626 N. Oliphant Sunday, Dec. 10 at 7:30 p.m.

The Senior Choir will perform Antonio Vivaldi's "Gloria." June Kadow, Marilyn Baalson, Lynn Tryggstad, and Gina Moss will be soloists. Accompanist will be Heidi Mayer; Conductor, Jim Parham.

OLR honors Lady of Guadalupe

The Hispanic Community of Our Lady of Ransom Catholic Church, 8300 N. Greenwood, Niles, will celebrate the Feast of Our Lady of Guadalupe with a bilingual Mass in Spanish and English Saturday, Dec. 9 at 5 p.m.

Following the Mass, there will be a fiesta of music, dancing and Mexican cuisine in Paluch Hall at the Church.

Tickets are $10 per person and can be purchased by calling Fr. Desmond at the OLR Ministry Center, 1-708-823-2550.

Rabbi discusses Jews, Poles

Rabbi Yehiel Pouppou, director of Judaica for the Jewish Community Centers of Chicago, will discuss "Jews, Poles and Auschwitz, Patterns and Tragedy" Thursday, Nov. 30 at 7 p.m. at Northeastern Illinois University's Commuter Center, 5500 N. St. Louis Ave., Chicago.

The lecture is part of the third annual Jewish studies lecture series, sponsored by Northeastern's Students for Israeli Hillel. For more information, call 794-2775.

Youth orchestra sets winter concert

The Skokie Valley Youth Symphony Orchestra will present their Winter Concert on Sunday, Dec. 10, at The Unitarian Church of Evanston, 1330 Ridge Ave. (between Dempster and Greenwood) at 7 p.m. The concert is free. A reception will follow.

This regional orchestra, conducted by Thomas Cifani, is composed of 50 students from 31 schools and 10 communities. They are advanced musicians, ranging in ages 9 to 15 years, from grades fifth through ninth. Mid-year auditions will be held in January.

Orchestral selections will include: "March from Scipio" and

"Variations on a Theme", by G.F. Handel; "A Salute to English Suite No. 2, and III. Finale from The Coffee Cantata No. 211", by J.S. Bach; "Slavonic Dance No. 1", by Antonin Dvorak; "Fancy Fiddlin'", by Chuck Fila; and "The Sleigh Ride", by W. A. Mozart.

The SVYSO is partially funded by the Illinois Arts Council, the Evanston Arts Council and the Skokie Fine Arts Commission.

For additional information contact President, Arlene Camp, 359-9637; Publicity, Claudia Hoxsey, 864-5303 or Publicity, Carole Yoder, 491-0424.

Church program enriches adults

Our Lady of Ransom Catholic Church is hosting an adult enrichment program, "Journeying with God through the 90's", on Thursday, Dec. 7, at 7:45 p.m. in Paluch Hall at the church, 8300 N. Greenwood, Niles.

Dick Westley, PhD., will lecture on "The Church in the 90's" how the changing Catholic Church will affect its members.

Dr. Westley, a professor of philosophy at Loyola University and a faculty member of the Institute of Pastoral Studies, has authored several books including "I Believe-You Believe" and "Life, Death and Science."

For more information call the OLR Ministry Center at 1 (708) 823-2550.

Academy names principal

The Reverend Robin Childs recently moved to Glenview to become the new principal of the Midwestern Academy of the New Church.

Until last summer, Rev. Childs, his wife, Amy and infant son Jonathan lived in New Zealand, where he served as pastor to the New Church community there, and visited scattered New Church families across Australia. Rev. Childs first became interested in the ministry while visiting Ghana, Africa. Completing his theological degree in 1984, he was a religion teacher in Kempton, Pa. before moving to New Zealand.

The Midwestern Academy is one of two New Church high schools in the United States.

Synagogue offers holiday celebration class for children

Beth Emeth Free Synagogue, Evanston, is offering a Jewish Holiday Celebration Class, formerly Little People's Chug, for children 3 to 4 years of age.

The six month class, starting in January, is offered Thursday from 1 to 2:30 p.m. Through a combination of songs, storytelling, art and other hands-on activities the child will become familiar with the Synagogue, Shabbat and the variety and beauty of holiday celebrations.

Enrollment is limited. Applications are being accepted now! For more information, contact Rhonda or Marsha at 869-4230.

Loyola yearbook wins award

The judges of the National Scholastic Press Association gave LA's YEAR '89, "A Little Bit of Everything...except girls!" All American status, awarding it 4,780 out of a possible 4,800 points. The judges cited the book for its excellent coverage, breadth of coverage, mature handling of controversial issues, and strong design.

They awarded the YEAR'89 four marks of distinction in copy, display, coverage and concept and entered the book in the Pacemaker contest for top books in the nation.

Present co-editors-in-chief of the YEAR '90, John Fiore and Tom Gallagher, served as sports and personalities editors for the award-winning YEAR '89. Returning editors include Dan Gibbons and Geoff Strotman of Park Ridge, Mike Henson, Bennett Dixon and Norm Smith. They are hard at work producing the YEAR '90, "What Is It About This Place?" and have already met their first deadline.

Police News

Retail thefts

A mustached Chicago man placed two bottles of Amaretto liquor inside his coat and left the grocery store in the 6900 block of Dempster Street, Morton Grove without paying, the morning of Nov. 22. He was apprehended and charged with retail theft for taking the liquor, valued at over $34. His court date is Jan. 30, 1990. The offender, a heroin addict, complained of illness and was transported to Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge, where he was treated and released to the custody of Morton Grove Police.

That night in the same grocery store, workers witnessed a man and a woman taking medications from a shelf and concealing them. The woman placed cold medicines, Anacin and Preparation H into her purse while the man put similar cold medications in his shirt. Both left without paying. When stopped, the woman, 26, of Chicago and the man, 28, of Franklin Park were found to be hiding merchandise totaling over $300. Police found the man had three outstanding warrants against him. Both were charged with misdemeanor retail theft and their bonds were set at $1,000. Their court date is Dec. 22.

Two Chicago women, carrying concealed merchandise in their large shoulder purses, were stopped when they left a clothing store in the 7200 block of Dempster Street, Morton Grove, the afternoon of Nov. 24. They did not pay for the merchandise, men's jeans and a woman's leather skirt, which were valued at a total amount of $99.98. The women, aged 27 and 32, are sisters and were charged with misdemeanor retail theft. Their bond was set at $1,000 and their court date set for Dec. 22.

Burglaries

The afternoon of Nov. 22, a thief entered a house in the 8900 block of Oswego Avenue, Morton Grove, through a patio door and took jewelry valued at $2,000 from a bathroom. Damage to the patio door was estimated to cost $250.

The night of Nov. 21, persons unknown entered the second floor, north building in a commercial property in the 6900 block of Golf Road, Morton Grove. Although an alarm sounded that night, guards checked downstairs and found nothing. In the morning, computers, keyboards and monitors valued at $6,000 were found to be missing.

Also on the night of Nov. 21, someone climbed a fence surrounding a body shop in the 6400 block of Main Street, Morton Grove, and entered the store through a missing window glass. The thief turned on the lights and searched through the office and work areas, removing cash amounting to $500 to $600; a tool box worth $400, and tools worth $3,000. A shop crew bar was used to pry open a file cabinet and that damage was estimated at $200. A hand truck was used to carry the loaded tool box to an exit.

That same night, a hammer tool was used to smash two front windows in a retail store in the 5700 block of Dempster Street, Morton Grove. A burglar alarm sounded at 2:36 a.m. when the windows were broken and leather display items removed. The worth of the stolen items was not immediately known, but the window damage was estimated to cost $1,000. Two sets of footprints led from the front of the store to a waiting vehicle in the alley.

Two Morton Grove residents reported their blue recycling bins were taken. One, loaded with recycled items, was taken from the parkway in the 8900 block of National Avenue the evening of Nov. 14. Stop Crime!

Criminal Damage to Property

One of the owners of a retail store in the 6000 block of Dempster Street, Morton Grove, discovered BB-type holes in his two store front windows the afternoon of Nov. 24. He estimated the window repair would cost $1000.

The owner of a residence in the 7600 block of Enfield Avenue, Morton Grove, heard nothing when a BB-type projectile hit his storm door window the night of Nov. 25. He valued the 2' x 3' window at $50.

Thrown eggs hit the aluminum siding on a house in the 9200 block of Major Avenue, Morton Grove the night of Nov. 24. The stain on the siding didn't respond to a cleaning agent and the homeowner estimated the loss at $100.

Theft

A resident of the 6400 block of Elm Street, Morton Grove, went to her dresser for her watch and discovered it and other items of jewelry missing. The woman had been out of town and her husband had been working long hours in her absence. Neither missed the jewelry valued at $3,322 and assume it was taken between Nov. 6 and 18. Included in the missing jewelry was a man's five carat diamond ring and a woman's diamond pendant necklace.

A 21 year old flight instructor complained to police his wallet was missing after his sister was visited by three male friends the morning of Nov. 13. He valued the wallet at $30. It held his pilot's and driver's license, cash card and a credit card, to which over $500 had been charged since his loss. The man lives in the 7800 block of Church Street, Morton Grove.

Injuries

A worker in a wood shop in the 8100 block of Austin Avenue, Morton Grove, turned off his wood molding machine the afternoon of Nov. 22 and tried to brush some sawdust from around the still-moving saw blade. The blade's momentum drew in his fingers, injuring three of them. Morton Grove paramedics transported the man, 43, of Gurnee, to Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge.

A Lincolnwood woman, 18, riding her horse close to another trail horse the evening of Nov. 24, sustained a bruised right foot when the preceding horse kicked out its rear legs. Paramedics transported the woman from the stables in the 9500 block of Austin Ave., Morton Grove, to Rush North Shore medical center, Skokie.

Oakton basketball team drops first three games

Coach Tony Reibel was able to remain upbeat last weekend, despite the fact that his Oakton Community College team dropped its three games in the College of Lake County Tip-off tournament.

"I'm not happy that we lost the three games," the second-year coach said, "but I saw some good things out there. These guys just love to play basketball, and they never quit fighting. There were parts of games when we played well, but we need to get more consistent. We need to get everyone playing well together at the same time, but that's something that will come with time, as everyone gets used to playing with each other."

The Raiders started their season Nov. 14 with a 111-106 win over an alumni team of former Oakton players. Oakton guard Darrell Gaulding led all players with 37 points.

Gaulding led the Raiders with 24 points Friday, Nov. 17, but it wasn't enough to prevent the University of Wisconsin-Waukesha from scoring a 110-92 win. Oakton battled the Cougars to a 50-50 halftime tie, before losing ground in the second period.

Oakton dropped a pair of games Nov. 18, falling to Highland Community College, 92-76, and losing to Lake County, 92-85. Gaulding's 17 points led five Raiders in double figures against Lake county. Steve Vrbancic added 16, while Tyrone Vial Doros, Omar Flores and Frank Perkins each had 15. Perkins' 22 was a team-best against Highland.

Host hockey tournament

The Niles Park District's Sports Complex Ice Rink (8435 Ballard) will host the 1989 Silver Stick Hockey Tournament, the weekends of Dec. 1, 2 and 3 and Dec. 8, 9 and 10.

There will be no public skating sessions those weekends. Niles Park District skating tokens will be honored at the Oakton Ice Arena, 2800 Oakton, Park Ridge. Public skating hours are Friday, 7:50 to 10 p.m., Saturday 2:20 to 3:40 p.m. and 7:50 to 10:30 p.m., 10 to 10:30 p.m. - adults only and Sunday 2 to 3:40 p.m.

For Silver Stick Tournament game times, call the rink, 297-8010.

Rangers open hockey season

The Niles Park District Rangers opened their season with the third annual "Hockey Night in Niles."

"At the Squirt level the Ranger White team squeaked by the Ranger Blue team 2 to 1. Ranger Blue took the lead midway through the first period on an unassisted goal by Kevin Carroll. Ranger White tied the score at 5:54 of the second period with an unassisted goal by Peter Sikaras. Sikaras then finished the scoring with a goal at 4:42 of the third period with an assist going to Shaun Rowe.

In the Pee Wee level contest Ranger White skated to a 4 to 0 victory as goalie Adam Lovekamp protected the shutout. The game was actually much closer than the score would indicate because the last two goals came in the final 37 seconds. Mike Barrett scored the game winner at 7:24 of the first period. Barrett also added an assist on a third period tally by John Flores. Matt Strong and Matt Papish also scored third period goals. Ranger Blue played well.

The Bantam Rangers grabbed an early 1-0 lead over the Franklin Park Flames. Jim Murray scored at 8:32 of the first period with assists going to Steve Bosco and Chad Wiener. The Flames tied the score at 6:37 and the second period ended tied at one. Franklin Park scored the loan goal of the third period as the Flames edged the Rangers 2 to 1.

In the final game of the night a proved too much for a team of old time Niles Rangers as the Shark's Bob Hess registered the game winning goal.

Sportscaster speaks at buffet

Resurrection High School recently hosted its Annual Breakfast Buffet at the school.

Guest speaker Johnny Morris, sportscaster for Channel 2 News, shared with the group his personal stories about his career as a Chicago Bear and as a media personality. He also opened the floor to questions from the audience.

The buffet was held to acquaint various businesses and community leaders with the programs and accomplishments of the high school. A tour of the facility for those interested was also offered.

Regina volleyball awards

Regina Dominican High School's volleyball team concluded its 23-8 record season by bowing to the Mighty Macs of Mother McAuley at Supersectionals November 4. Coach Rich Majcin saluted the varsity team members at a banquet at Hackney's Thursday, Nov. 16. Local students include: Michelle Dorgan of Morton Grove and Kim Ryan of Skokie.

Michelle Dorgan, Morton Grove, was cited as Most Improved Player. Junior Varsity members receiving awards include: Kristen Boyd, Glenview, Most Improved Player; Annie Purcell, Glenview, Most Valuable Player. Freshman Jenny Valdez of Skokie was also cited.

Gemini names cheerleaders

Donald G. Huebner, principal of Gemini Junior High School, 6955 N. Greenwood, Niles, East Maine District 63, congratulated the students who have been named to the cheerleading squad for the 1989-90 school year.

Parkside hosts Soviets Summit on Alcoholism

Parkside Medical Services, Park Ridge, the owner of more than 100 alcoholism treatment centers nationwide, will play host to a delegation of four Soviets for a week long visit, Tuesday, Nov. 28, through Monday, Dec. 4. The group will visit three Chicago area Parkside facilities as part of the Soviet/American Conference on Alcoholism. Organized by the Center for City Diplomacy, the conference is the second part of the Soviet/American Citizens visit.

Alcoholism is a serious problem in the Soviet Union. Over the past few years, its social impact has gained national attention. It is the third most prevalent disease in the country according to the Soviet press. It has been reported that alcohol abuse has played a part in 75 percent of murders and rapes, 80 percent of robberies and more than 90 percent of misdemeanors in the Soviet Union. In addition, the Soviet media has blamed alcoholism for the country's economic problems.

Until recently, options for alcoholism treatment have been very limited in the Soviet Union. As the cultural doors have opened between the United States and Soviet Union, the Soviets are anxious to learn about other ways of treating the disease.

The visit is planned to offer Soviets an overview of alcoholism and drug addiction treatment in the United States.

Holy Family honors two

St. Francis opens diabetes center

A specially designed treatment center for diabetes opened recently at St. Francis Hospital of Evanston, offering services to the 450,000 diabetics living in northern Illinois.

The Diabetes Treatment Center, a 17-bed inpatient facility, uses a multi-disciplinary team approach to healing. Professionals in education and counseling work directly with medical specialists, according to Dr. Jay Gold, the center's medical director.

"Thousands of people in the Chicago area alone have diabetes," said Dr. Gold. "Tragically, only half of them are aware of their condition." Diabetes is this country's third leading cause of death.

Diabetes is the leading cause of adult blindness, Dr. Gold added. More than 40,000 foot and leg amputations result annually from the disease, diabetes leads to increased risk of heart attacks and strokes, it is the leading cause of kidney failure, a major cause of impotence in men, and creates pregnancy complications in women.

The philosophy of the Diabetes Treatment Center is to maintain close control over a patient's blood sugar while providing services which allow them to live an otherwise normal, healthy life.

"On staff we have a diabetes nurse specialist/educator, a diet-

Mended Hearts set meeting

The next meeting of the Lutheran General Park Ridge Chapter of The Mended Hearts will be held Thursday, Dec. 7 at 7:30 p.m. Meetings are held in the Johnson Auditorium, Parkside Center, Lutheran General Hospital, 1775 Dempster St., Park Ridge.

Dr. Manfred Borges, pathology resident, Lutheran General Hospital, will discuss the pathology of heart disease.

Mended Hearts offers support to persons who have heart disease and family members. For more information, call Cardio-Rehab Ltd., 825-7040.

Cooking guide offers healthy alternatives

People who have high cholesterol no longer have to say "no" to holiday meals. Instead, they can learn low-fat, low-cholesterol cooking techniques Dec. 5 at Loyola University's Mulcahy Outpatient Center to reduce holiday eating's threat to the heart and waistline.

Loyola health care professionals will teach participants how to plan a traditional holiday menu that is low in fat and cholesterol, modify recipes for healthier eating and maintain a low-fat, low-cholesterol diet during the holiday party season.

Cholesterol is a waxy, fat-like substance that the body uses to build cell walls and produce hormones, vitamin D and other vital natural materials. Despite the benefits, too much cholesterol in the bloodstream places a person at an increased risk of heart problems.

Participants will see how easy it is to modify their cooking habits to reduce fat and cholesterol with a cooking demonstration tasting, said Karen Palmero, a patient education instructor at Mulcahy Outpatient Center.

"Being able to taste the food and know it still tastes good is an important part of the class," Palmero said.

In addition, participants will receive a low-fat, low-cholesterol menu and recipes for holiday cooking.

The one-time course, to be held from 6 to 8 p.m., costs $10 per person or $15 per couple. For more information or to register, call the Mulcahy Patient Education Center at 708-531-2068. Seating is limited and preregistration is necessary.

The Mulcahy Outpatient Center is located at 2160 S. First Ave., Maywood.

Local nursing center earns highest rating

Ballard Nursing Center, 9300 Ballard Rd., Des Plaines, is recognized for its exemplary and superior achievement in the State of Illinois Quality of Care Program. Ballard received a six star rating, the highest rating given by the State of Illinois in conjunction with the Illinois Council on Long Term Care.

Based on evaluation of quality criteria above and beyond the standard requirements, the Ballard Nursing Center is recognized for outstanding resident care.

Stop smoking clinics at St. Francis Hospital

For those who want to put an end to their smoking habit, St. Francis Hospital of Evanston is offering a series of hypnotherapy sessions in December.

Two 45-minute sessions, conducted by Clinical Psychologist Paul A. Peterson, Ph.D., will offer the help needed to become an ex-smoker.

Two group sessions are scheduled. The first group will meet Monday and Wednesday, Dec. 11 and 13 at 6:30 p.m., and the second group will meet Tuesday and Thursday, Dec. 26 and 28 at 6:30 p.m. Both will be at St. Francis Hospital, 355 Ridge Ave., Evanston.

The program fee is $90 and class size is limited. To register or for more information, call 492-6385.

Samuel Borushek, M.D., was recognized for his 25 years of continuous service at Resurrection Medical Center with a special anniversary memento by President Sister Bonaventure, C.R.

Nursing school sets open house

The School of Nursing at St. Francis Hospital of Evanston is hosting an Open House for prospective students Monday, Dec. 4, from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m.

One of only two hospital-based nursing schools in the Chicago area, the school will be accepting applications for the fall, 1990 program.

Current students, instructors and administrators will be present to discuss the two-year program, answer questions and explain financial aid options.

The school is located in the hospital, 355 Ridge Ave., Evanston.

For more information, call 492-6233.

Program teaches diabetics to live well

"Living Well with Diabetes," a free program for persons with diabetes and their families, will be given Wednesday evening, Dec. 6 thru 27, from 6 to 8 p.m. at Swedish Covenant Hospital in the Anderson Pavilion, 2751 W. Winona.

The program will cover subjects of interest to persons with diabetes, such as, what to do in an emergency, nutrition and meal planning, glucose self-monitoring and exercise and diabetes control.

Mary Ann Lopez, RN, nurse manager, is the program coordinator and Debbie Davis, RN, is the nurse educator. A therapeutic dietician and a pharmacist from the hospital staff also will participate. For more information or to register call Ms. Davis at 878-8200, ext. 5256 or 989-3823.

Local doctor joins drug abuse forum

Thomas Todd, Ph.D., chief psychologist at Forest Hospital in Des Plaines, joined an international forum on drug abuse treatment and prevention held in New York recently.

Dr. Todd took part in a panel discussing Treatment of Crack and Cocaine Abusers. The conference, "What Works: An International Perspective on Drug Abuse Treatment and Prevention Research," provided a forum for drug abuse service providers and policy makers from around the world to join with researchers in setting a research agenda for the 1990s.

Dr. Todd also is primary consultant to Countdown to Recovery, Forest Hospital's intensive outpatient substance abuse program.

Cornelio M. Varilla

Army National Guard Private 1st Class Cornelio M. Varilla has completed training at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

During the course, students received training which qualified them as light-weapon infantrymen and as indirect-firing crewmen in a rifle or mortar squad.

Instruction included weapons qualifications, tactics, patrolling, land mine warfare, field communications and combat operations.

He is the son of Gloria M. Varilla of 8203 N. Ozark Ave., Niles, Ill.

OCC honors donors, winners of scholarships

The recipients of the 1989 Oaktown Community College scholarships and the donors were honored at a recognition dinner. President Thomas TenHoeve welcomed 215 guests and thanked the donors for their continuous support of Oaktown which celebrates its 20th anniversary this year.

Marilyn Appleson, director of College Development, said that Oaktown's scholarship program demonstrates the college's commitment to its philosophy of identifying and responding to the needs of students.

This is a process for encouraging and increasing student success," she said. "The dinner is a college-wide effort to honor all the winners of the scholarships and express our appreciation to the contributors for their support of the scholarship program."

Appleson reported that in the 1989-90 academic year, 250 students applied for the Oaktown scholarship program and 89 students were selected to receive awards. Five students were eligible to continue receiving the Oaktown Excellence Scholarships which were awarded during the 1988-89 academic year. The total value of these 94 scholarships is $52,500. The average grade point average of the scholarship recipients is 3.40 (out of 4.0).

Scholarships are made available to Oaktown students through the generosity of community businesses, associations and individuals. Donations from benefactors are restricted for a specific scholarship, a scholarship fund or an endowment fund in memory or in recognition of an individual.

Area students who received the 1989-90 Oaktown scholarships are Julie Rohrer, Donna Kratcha, Vera De Almeida, Ketan Doshi, Roma Shah, Carol Johnson, Kimberly Truett, Roberta Rocons, Colleen Hughes, Roberta Roelofson, Michael Humphries, Roberta Rocons, Linda Chase, Amy Black, Susan Anderson, Bonnie Lowth, Deborah Barnhart, Irina Leyfman, Theresa Burns, Carol Rivera, John Schumacher, Chris Perez, Steve Kreiling and Steve Barra all of Des Plaines.

Scholarship winners from Glenview are R. J. Beaty, Frank Perkins, Terrie Quillen, Tanya Schenema, Lola Melton, George Weber, Chris Vergara and Judith Rieker.

From Morton Grove, Constance Bazzare, Duffy Christiansen, Jamie Tarpey and Caroline Samson.

Niles residents earning scholarships are Antoinette Stolz, Constantine Veremis, Mark Kochis, Nancy Panek, Arieh Waintraub, Jeanne Kuna, Susanna Vargas, Pareshkumar Patel, Huma Rana, George Lungu and Robert Stephens.

From Park Ridge, Mike Nash, Debbie Dean, Kathryn Metzinger, Joanne Kremer, Joyce Jamer, Kathleen McHugh, Cynthia Kendzerski, Marcin Miszczak, Mary Mulligan, Wendy Rue and Maura Cunningham.

Scholarships were awarded to Skokie residents Barry Burdeen, Lisa Toscano, Valerie Weiskirch, Jose Jamer, David Paul, Stephanie Clark, Colleen Villamil, John Bailey, Lisa Toscano, Ritu Shah and Deanna Dachman.

The donors recognized at the banquet are: Allstate Foundation of Northbrook; Olsen Temporal Services of Park Ridge; family and friends of Bill Redhead, late professor of English at Oaktown; family and friends of Dennis Lamping, late professor of Social Sciences; UOP, Inc. of Des Plaines; Northwest Suburban Illinois Branch of the American Association of University Women of Schaumburg; Illinois Health Improvement; ZF of North America of Lincolnshire; Bethany Methodist Terrace of Morton Grove; friends, colleagues and family of Niece Freeman of Chicago, a former Oaktown public safety officer who died in a car accident; Park Ridge Community Women's Organization; North Shore Visiting Nurse Foundation of Northfield; family and friends of Marina Dinzey of Glenview, late professor of Nursing at Oaktown; family and friends of Gene Stern of Highland Park, late professor of Music; family and friends of Michael Gilson of Skokie, late son of former Oaktown Trustee Paul Gilson; Wheels, Inc. of Des Plaines.

Also, County Health Improvement Association; Genevieve and Greg Seidler of Glenview; family and friends of late Charlotte Rome, a former Oaktown student who died of cancer; Sister Cities International of Des Plaines; Mabel and Larry Westberg of Northbrook; William A. Koehnline of Skokie; Jay Hartstein/Brunswick Charitable Foundation of Skokie; Northwest Suburban Chicago Chapter of the National Association of Accountants of Schaumburg; Nettie and Jessie Gorov; James R. Williams of Des Plaines; Oaktown Trustee Jody Whedwa of Wheeling; Skokie Rotary Club; Park Ridge Chapter of the Philanthropic Educational Organization; Sarah S. SIJ sells books, candy

SIJ recently held a Book Fair at the school. The students were able to pick from a wide selection of books from fiction to textbooks and posters. Proceeds from this fundraiser are for the school's use.

Top Seller for the recently held World's Finest Chocolate sale was Heather Puzozzo. A $500 U.S. Savings Bond was presented to her by Principal George Kokaska.

Kathryn Kucienski

Kathryn Kucienski, daughter of James and Nancy Kucienski of Lincolnwood, is a member of the 1989-90 "Saints" staff. The "Saints" is the annual yearbook published by the College of Des Benedict and Saint John's University.

ND sets program on drinking, driving

On December 12 at 7:45 a.m., the program "Driving Under the Wrong Influence" will teach students at Notre Dame High School how they can avoid becoming an accident victim. The program will be presented by John Scott, District Coordinator of Community Education for the Country Companies, an insurance and investment group.

Driving inexperience and alcohol are a deadly mixture and one that results in thousands of teenage fatalities each year in the U.S. The program is designed to give teenagers the facts about alcohol and how it affects decision-making abilities and driving skills.

Students will also receive a booklet on drinking and driving. "Our goal is to help students make responsible decisions regarding drinking and driving. The Country Companies want them to realize drunk drivers are 25 times more likely than sober drivers to have accidents. And, the costs for driving drunk are higher: premium rates, higher auto repair costs, injury and, too often, the ultimate price - their lives," reminds Scott.

"Driving Under the Wrong Influence" was arranged by the Country Companies Community Education Area in cooperation with the local Country Companies Rolling Meadows Agency.

Art students design T-shirts

College sponsors information seminar

Information seminars about Elmhurst College's Elmhurst Management Program (EMP) are held periodically throughout the Chicago metropolitan area. Seminars are free of charge and open to anyone interested in learning more about EMP without obligation.

The seminars allow interested individuals the opportunity to view the curriculum, admission prerequisites and procedures, graduation requirements and other material pertinent to the Elmhurst Management Program. Local seminars will be held in January in Niles.

MONNACEP sets December seminars

How to write life scripts, handle difficult people and prepare festive holiday baskets will be taught in three one-day seminars offered by Oakton Community College MONNACEP in December.

"Special Holiday Baskets" will be made from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 2 at Oakton East, 7701 N. Lincoln Ave., Skokie. Participants will learn to make holiday baskets and get tips on holiday decorations. The cost is $21.

"Dealing with Difficult People" will be explored from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 3, at Oak-ton, 1600 E. Golf Rd., Des Plaines. Strategies to communicate effectively with difficult people, whether it be a family member or a boss, will be discussed. The cost is $29.

"Life Scripts" will be discussed from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 10, at Des Plaines. The session describes methods of writing life scripts, helps each person determine which script they are living with and decide what to keep and how to change the script. The cost is $25.

For information and registration, call 982-9888.

Passages lecture focuses on change

If changing others is hard to do, how about changing oneself? This positive awareness can improve relationships, explains Linda Sugar, a clinical social worker, in a Passages Through Life lecture Tuesday, Dec. 5, "Who Says

I Can't Change" will be examined from 1 to 2:30 p.m. in room 112 at Oakton Community College East, 7701 N. Lincoln Ave., Skokie.

For information, call 635-1414.

Holiday Gift Guide

Santa to call youngsters

Santa Claus will call Park Ridge children, ages 3 to 10 this Christmas to check their Christmas lists. To make arrangements with Santa, parents are requested to come to Maine Park Leisure Center to complete an information form by Monday, Dec. 11. Santa's phone calls will take place between 6:30 and 8 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 12 and Wednesday, Dec. 13.

Santa to phone Niles children

Santa has made special arrangement with the Niles Park District to call boys and girls at their homes. To receive phone calls, register at the Niles Park District, 7877 N. Milwaukee Ave. or the Ballard Leisure Center, 8320 Ballard Rd. by Friday, Dec. 15.

Phone calls will be made Thursday, Dec. 21 between 6 and 8 p.m. Parents must fill out a short questionnaire to assist Santa with his calls. For more information, call the park district, 824-8860.

Write to Santa

Santa Claus will pick up his mail at the Niles Park District Recreation Center, 7877 N. Milwaukee Ave. Friday, Dec. 15. When writing to Santa at the Recreation Center, be sure to include a return address so Santa can write back. For more information, call the park district at 824-8860.

Res students buy crafts

With Christmas just around the corner, Resurrection High School will welcome the Cross Cultural Crafts sale at the school Thursday, Nov. 30 and Friday, Dec. 1. The handmade items that will be on sale include a large selection of baskets, sweaters from Peru, Bolivia and Uruguay, jewelry from Mexico and the Philippines, Haitian Bear Wood doll furniture and much more, including great gift ideas for under $5. Selfhelp Cross Cultural Crafts is a job creation program of the Mennonite Central Committee which provides over 30,000 families in 30 developing countries the ability to make a fair income and gives marketing assistance to disadvantaged craftsmen. The sale will provide an opportunity for students, faculty, administration, and staff to pick up some Christmas gifts while simultaneously helping disadvantaged people around the world.

Santa to visit

Santa Claus will make a special stop in Niles Saturday, Dec. 16 at the Recreation Center, 7877 N. Milwaukee Ave., to have donuts and juice with Niles boys and girls up to fourth grade. Pre-registration is necessary. Registration will be taken through Dec. 8 at the Administrative Office, 7877 N. Milwaukee Ave. or the Ballard Leisure Center, 8320 Ballard Rd. There is a charge of $1 per child. For more information, call the park district, 824-8860.

Zoo hosts Santa at breakfast

A youngster shares his holiday wishes at Brookfield Zoo's Breakfast with Santa, held at 8:30 a.m. and 10:30 Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 2, 3, 9, 10, 16, and 17.

Brookfield Zoo is determined to help Old Saint Nick fill out his red suit during the annual Breakfast with Santa, Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 2, 3, 9, 10, and 17. Brookfield Zoo's Safari Stop Restaurant is the site for all-you-can-eat buffet of bacon and eggs, pancakes, sausage, and muffins. Santa will make time to hear everyone's holiday wish, pose for pictures. Mon or Dad provides the camera, and present a special surprise to each child before dashing back to the North Pole. Breakfast times are 8:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. Tickets are $8.95, plus tax, for adults and $5.95, plus tax, for children 3 to 11. Due to limited seating, tickets are only available by calling (707) 485-0263, ext. 355. Visa, MasterCard, and Discover are accepted. Parking fees apply.

Park hosts Santa at breakfast

Children and parents are invited to The Park Ridge Recreation and Park District's 2nd annual Breakfast with Santa, Saturday, Dec. 16 at 9:30 a.m. at South Park. Breakfast, a bag of goodies and a picture with Santa is included. Registration deadline is Friday, Dec. 1. Cost is $5 for residents and $10 for non-residents. At least one parent must register with their child and pay the program fee.

Center of Concern hosts Dec. 6 party

The Center of Concern will host a holiday party at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 6, at the South Park recreation building. The Maine South Choral Ensemble Choir will provide the entertainment. Persons may call Dee for reservations or Dianne for transportation, both at 823-0453. The Center of Concern is at 1580 N. Northwest Highway, Park Ridge.

SJB Holy Name hosts New Year's party

Celebrate New Years close to home. St. John Brebeuf Holy Name Society extends an invitation to an evening of fun Sunday, Dec. 31, starting at 9 p.m. at Flanagan Hall, 8301 N. Harlem, Niles. Dance to the music of the 30's through 90's provided by Arthur J. and Friends. Enjoy party favors, unlimited beer, wine and setups. For further information and reservations, call 973-0808. As a special offer, children under the age of 12 who bring a stuffed animal for the manager receive $1 off the price of admission.

Loyola exhibits Christmas trees

The holiday season brings family gatherings, good cheer and the annual Christmas tree display and exhibit at the Martin D'Arcy Gallery, located on the Lake Shore Campus of Loyola University Chicago, 6525 N. Sheridan Rd.

The D'Arcy Gallery in the Cudahy Library will feature an eight-foot revolving Christmas tree, festooned with more than 1,000 tiny electric lights. The tree is also decorated with more than 800 hand-crafted ornaments, created by former Rogers Park resident, Mrs. G. A. Stromberg.

An aunt of the gallery's director, Donald Rowe, S.J., Stromberg creates the intricate ornaments using silk, ribbon, beads and a variety of other materials. The gallery's Christmas display also features poinsettias, paintings, sculptures and decorative pieces of art related to the holiday season and the nativity scene. More than 150 objects from the gallery's permanent collection, including medieval and Renaissance pieces, will be on display with the Christmas tree.

Traditional Christmas music, from the Renaissance to modern times, is played continually. The Christmas tree exhibit runs through the holidays. The D'Arcy Gallery is open Monday through Friday from noon to 4 p.m. and during selected weekends before Christmas.

For a complete schedule, tours or further information, contact Patricia Sides at the Martin D'Arcy Gallery of Art, (312) 508-2679.

Symphony, chorale present concerts

Lewis University will present an evening of music as part of the Lewis Arts and Ideas series.

The Lewis Chorale will perform a variety of seasonal music Monday Dec. 4 at 7:30 p.m. The concert will be held in the university's Santa Alberta Chapel.

Open to the public, admission is free.

The Lewis Chorale, under the direction of Dr. Lawrence Sisk, associate professor and chair of the Lewis Music Department, will perform renditions of various holiday favorites. The Chorale consists of various Lewis faculty and student musicians.

For more information, contact the Lewis University Relations Department at (815) 838-0500 or (312) 242-0015, ext. 291.

The Michigan Christmas Tree Festival

Celebrate the holiday season with a visit to the Michigan Christmas Tree Festival, Nov. 24 through Dec. 16, 1989. The festival is a tribute to the Christmas tree growers of the County where Michigan's plantation Christmas Tree industry originated in the late 1920s.

Start your getaway visit with a stop at one of the "U-Cut Tree Farms" or Retail Lots, where you can cut-your-own or choose a fresh scotch, austrian or white pine; white or blue spruce; douglas or balsam fir for your special holiday tree, plus enjoy a demonstration of wreath making or have your tree "flocked" to create a snowy effect. Area farms and lots offer all your greenery needs - roping, boughs, and wreaths.

Communities throughout the County have joined in this festive salute to one of the best loved symbols of the Christmas season. Grand Haven's Classic Christmas Celebration takes you back to an elegant time with a classic homes tour - frosted windowpanes, flickering candlelight, and magical memories of days-gone-by.

Holland offers a musical pageant saluting its Dutch heritage with "Hans Brinker or The Silver Skates". Enjoy the sights and sounds of frozen canals, windmills, Dutch costumes, songs and dance presented by area school children. Zeeland offers a unique full-size Christmas Card Lane echoing that timeless message of "peace on earth, good will toward men."

Shopping opportunities abound throughout the County, original historic downtown shopping districts, unique shoppes and galleries offering that one-of-a-kind gift selection, the enclosed Westshore Mall and the 50 store factory-direct Manufacturer's Marketplace of Dutch Village.

Area hotels, motels, inns and Bed & Breakfasts join in the festivities by offering special holiday packages which include a special holiday treat for guests. Plus the wide variety of restaurants are sure to please the palate.

For more information contact the Michigan Christmas Tree Festival, PO Box 955, Grand Haven, MI 49417 or call: 616/846-8250.

Choral society presents concert

The Northwest Choral Society announces their "Ceremony of Carols" concert to be performed Sunday, Dec. 10 at 4 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church, 418 Touhy Ave., Park Ridge.

Featured in the program will be Benjamin Britten's "A Ceremony of Carols" the medieval "Sir Christmas" by Thomas Yeakle, Gustav Holst's "Christmas Day," and John Rutter's recently published "Magnificat," plus many other carols of the season including handbell pieces.

Harpist will be Mary Jo Green, and pianist will be Lori Lyn Mackie.

The Northwest Choral Society is a community organization of men and women which has been performing both classical and popular music for the northwest suburbs for over 20 years. It is directed by John Melcher. Openings for prospective new singers will begin in January.

Tickets for the December concert are $7 for adults and $5 for students and senior citizens. They may be obtained at the door or at Scharringhausen Pharmacy in Park Ridge. Season tickets for the three concert season may also be obtained if requested before the concert date.

For more information, call Judy Richardson, (708) 823-7320.

MG Lions to sell candy

The Morton Grove Lions Club will sell "Nestle-Beich" holiday candy packaged in boxes and cans Friday and Saturday, Dec. 22 and 23.

These chocolate candies, cremes, mints and nuts may be purchased at the following locations: The First National Bank of Morton Grove, 6201 Dempster St., and The Affiliated Bank of Morton Grove, 8700 Waukegan Rd. Prices are $3 for the box candies and $4 for the candies packaged in cans.

The purchase of the "Holiday Candy Sale" is to raise funds for charitable donations to worthwhile causes. For example, recently the club contributed $500 to the Salvation Army Disaster Fund for distribution, equally, to the victims of the Hugo Hurricane and the San Francisco Earthquake.

Gift Certificates available for Maine Seniors

The Maine Township Seniors are offering gift certificates in $5 and $10 denominations that can be used toward the group's luncheons, trips, and other activities.

Families and friends of seniors who would like to purchase gift certificates can contact the Maine Township Seniors office at 297-2510.

Sue Neuschel, director of senior services, said, "This is an ideal way for friends and families of seniors to provide a gift to a loved one for the holidays. The certificates also make excellent gifts for members of the Maine Township Seniors to give to their friends in the group."

More than 2,800 residents belong to the Maine Township Seniors. Activities include monthly luncheons, bingo, workshops, day trips, and vacations. Membership is free. Applicants must be 65 or older and provide proof of residency.

Old Orchard merchants offer chestnuts

Chestnuts roasting on an open fire add excitement to the holiday spirit at Old Orchard Center, Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 9 and 10, and Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 16 and 17 between 1 and 4 p.m.

True to tradition, the chestnuts are hand roasted from an old fashioned rolling cart. The hot nutty morsels will be available on the North and South Malls of Old Orchard Center, compliments of the merchants.

Old Orchard Center is located at Skokie Boulevard and Old Orchard Road, just east of Edens Expressway in Skokie.

Corporate sponsor helps Santa

As the holiday season gets under way, Santa Claus again will receive a little help from the corporate world.

Mid-Continent Agencies, Inc. (MCA), a leading credit and collection consulting firm based in Glenview, will host a charity party on Wednesday, Dec. 13, at the Center on Deafness at 10100 Dea Rd., Des Plaines.

The center, which provides educational and social services and living environments for hearing impaired and/or emotionally disturbed individuals, is MCA's selected charity for the fourth consecutive year.

An unusual facet of the party is MCA's "Wish List" program. Residents fill out their wish lists in advance of the party and corporate shoppers try their best to meet these wishes.

Last year's party produced smiles and happy tears from residents as presents were unwrapped and wishes fulfilled. Gifts ranged from Walkman radios to transforming a child into a hockey player with jersey, hockey stick and puck.

A special evening is planned as the center's residents will perform a variety of Christmas carols in sign language. A Santa Claus who is able to "sign" will be on hand to distribute gifts. Refreshments and baked holiday goods will be served.

To promote communication between MCA employees and the center's residents, MCA offers a simple sign language class before the party to teach employees some basic communication skills.

In lieu of purchasing Christmas gifts for its clients, MCA has sponsored charity parties since 1983. Letters are sent to clients informing them of this annual activity.

NWREB collects for needy

The Northwest Real Estate Board is sponsoring its "Holiday Care and Share Drive," a program designed to provide money, food, clothes, and toys to the less-fortunate this holiday season.

In addition to securing donations from their own real estate brokers and agents, participating local NWREB member-offices—those displaying the red-white-and-blue "Care and Share" window posters—will serve as local area drop-off points to accept the donations.

After the items have been collected and assembled at NWREB HQs, they will be distributed to needy families and local charitable organizations.

A spokesman for the Northwest Real Estate Board encouraged the general public to join in this charitable effort by visiting a participating local NWREB member-office and donating any of the following: cash, canned goods or other non-perishable foods, clean winter outerwear in good condition, or clean and safe toys in proper working order.

Area residents interested in donating these items should visit their participating NWREB member-office displaying a window poster, or call NWREB HQs weekdays, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., at (312) 637-8200.

Points to consider in choosing a pet

If the purchase of a new pet made it onto a Holiday list, here are some alternatives to consider first, according to the Chicago Veterinary Medical Association. The environment should rank high in considerations, according to Dr. Steven Cairo, president of CVMA. "Consider any restrictions within the household. If grandma and baby are part of the homelife, a St. Bernard puppy may be too large for the family to live with happily."

Allergy considerations, if they trouble a family member, are also an important matter. Ascertaining the tolerance levels of the members with allergies is prudent before selecting any particular breed of dog or cat, said Dr. Cairo.

"If you live in an apartment with limited yard space, you may want to consider a smaller pet or one able to be papertrained," said Cairo.

Researching different breeds can play an important part in the success of the proposed pet-owner relationship. Talking to local veterinarians can answer questions of personality and health characteristics of various breeds. Deciding on whether to choose a male or female should be part of the "breed" decision, as well.

Finding out where to purchase the pet can pose problems, asking for recommendations from the American Kennel Club and local veterinarian all are good sources for finding a purebred animal.

Locations to find mixed breeds include the pound and animal shelters, but "you need to know that allergies are not concerns of your particular family environment," says Dr. Cairo. "With a mixed breed you may not know the breeds involved and the adult size to anticipate until too late."

Dr. Cairo advises one more step, decide beforehand that the animal will be trained to behave perfectly at home. "If you set the standard at perfection, that's what you'll get. If the standard is anything less, you'll live with an animal whose behavior is less than what you desire."

Cablevision collects to help homeless

Cablevision of Chicago is coordinating a holiday collection campaign to benefit the homeless beginning Nov. 27. Shelters within or nearby the cable company's franchise cities will receive all donated items (Dupage Pads, Beds, Center for the Public Ministry, Franciscan Pilgrimage Shelter, and Tabatha House).

Employees and customers alike are being asked to bring in things that are of particular need to the selected shelters. These items include hats, gloves, scarves, socks, underwear, toiletries, cleaning supplies, paper products, plastic utensils, canned food, and transportation tokens. Cash donations will also be accepted.

All donations can be brought to any of Cablevision's six offices: 820 Madison St., Oak Park, 5120 Belmont Rd., Downers Grove, 1285 Hartree Ave., Evanston, 650 Ridge Rd., Homewood, 7601 N. Milwaukee Ave., Niles, 8306 Cork Ave., Justice.

Donors will receive a gift certificate for a picture with Santa Claus who will visit Cablevision's Oak Park lobby Dec. 11-15 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Dec. 16 from noon to 4 p.m.

Party planned for handicapped

Plenty of pizza and entertainment will be featured at a free "Holiday Happening" for physically disabled adults and their friends at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 7, at the Maine Township Town Hall, 1700 Ballard Rd., Park Ridge.

The party is co-sponsored by A-SCIP, a support group for the disabled, and Special People Inc., a service organization. Members and guests are asked to bring a "white elephant" grab bag item.

Special People and A-SCIP present social activities and informative programs throughout the year. Future programs will feature discussions of transportation, employment and other topics of interest to the disabled.

Meetings are held the first Thursday of every month at the Maine Township Town Hall, which is accessible to the handicapped. Residents of Chicago and the north and northwest suburban areas are invited to attend the free meetings.

For more information on programs for the disabled, contact Maine Township Disabled Services Coordinator Donna Anderson at 297-2510 or Special People Chairman Ron Brekke at 318-0597.

Pace adds holiday service

Pace, the suburban bus division of the RTA, will provide extra service on four bus routes in the northwest suburbs that serve major shopping centers starting Nov. 25. The extra service is in coordination with extended mall hours during the holiday season.

Service on Route 209 Golf Road-Woodfield Shopping Center will be extended weekdays from Dec. 4 through the 22, Saturday Nov. 25 through Dec. 23 and Sunday Nov. 26 through Dec. 24.

Route 270 Milwaukee Ave., which serves Golf Mill Shopping Center, will have extended service Dec. 21 and 22, Saturday Nov. 25 through Dec. 23 and Sunday, Dec. 24.

Another route that serves Golf Mill Shopping Center, Route 208 Church Street-Golf Road, will operate one additional weekday evening trip Dec. 11 through the 22. Sunday service starting Nov. 26 will be revised to run 20 minutes later.

Service on Route 215 Old Orchard Shopping Center-Howard via Crawford will be extended weekdays between Nov. 24 and Dec. 22, Saturday Nov. 25 through Dec. 23 and Sunday Nov. 26 through Dec. 24. An additional trip from Old Orchard also will operate on New Year's Day.

For more information on the extra service, call the Pace Consumer Service Office at 364-7223, ext. 500, or the RTA Travel Information Center at 1 (800) 972-7000.

Designing Christmas card is therapy for contest winner

On the Christmas card Connie Peterson made, a cut-and-paste holly wreath surrounds a photo of Connie snuggling a kitten. "Happiness is a warm furry friend," her Christmas message reads.

Happiness is also remission for the Geneva, Ill., five-year-old whose holiday greeting won the Christmas card contest sponsored by Concerned Care, Inc., a Skokie-based home nursing service. Concerned Care nurses have cared for Connie in her home since April, 1986, six months after surgery for a brain tumor, which recurred two years later.

Connie's winning Christmas card was part of the therapy that's helping her overcome a developmental lag caused by a two-month coma after her first operation. Cutting and pasting help improve her fine motor skills. A team of therapists also works with Connie to regain her speech skills and large muscle development.

"We observe Connie's therapy and apply it to play situations," says Concerned Care nurse Barb Rittmueller of St. Charles, who was one of the three nurses that helped Connie make her winning card. Rittmueller and two other Concerned Care nurses, Cora Remus of St. Charles and Jane Swanson of Batavia, in fact, go far beyond the physical in caring for Connie. They spend a total of 50 hours a week with the youngster while her parents work. They ride with her on the school bus, help her maneuver in her walker around the school playground so she can play with the other children, take her on wagon rides to neighborhood parks, and pool their resources to buy her special holiday gifts.

Happiness for her nurses is caring for Connie - and "Happiness Is..." was the theme of Concerned Care's Christmas card contest. Entries, from throughout the Greater Chicago area, came from patients between the ages of 5 and 81.

Care's Christmas card contest. Entries, from throughout the Greater Chicago area, came from patients between the ages of 5 and 81.

Honorable mention went to 81-year-old Francis Luthmers of Highland Park, who designed a two-column list under the heading, "Happiness is what you make it; a cheerful heart." Heading Luthmers' list were kindness, love, loving and being loved. His bottom lines read: "Doing your best and looking God straight in the eye." Luthmers' card will grace Concern Care's 1990 calendar.

Honorable mentions also went to Concerned Care patients Ryan Zapata, 5, of Elk Grove Village; Shaun Mannix, 7, of Crestwood; and Gloria Nichols of Chicago.

Tips on tree selection

"Picking out our Christmas tree is a real family event each year," says Larry Domine, a printing sales manager and father of two children.

"We always get a real tree," he said. "We start early -- usually the first week in December and we always get a great tree!"

Many American families opt for real Christmas trees to bring home the spirit, beauty and fragrance of the holiday season as a continuation or reestablishment of a long-standing family tradition. Here are a few tips in selecting a real Christmas tree.

Determine the height and shape tree desired before leaving home. After finding the tree, check it for freshness: hold a branch about six inches from the end. Pull the hand forward letting the branch slip through the fingers. Few needles should come off in the hand. Another freshness check: Lift the tree a couple inches off the ground and then bring it down firmly on the stump end. Dry, green needles should not fall off in large amounts. Some loss of brown needles is normal. The tree should have a nice fragrance and good green color.

Holiday romance workshops offered

If your life is not as romantic as you would like, put some electricity in your relationships.

That's the message that romance consultant Linda Frost will share during her holiday romance workshops, "Romance Your Love This Holiday Season...and Throughout the Year."

North Shore workshops for women will be 2 - 4 p.m. Dec. 2, and 1 - 3 p.m. Dec. 9. For men, the North Shore workshops will be 2 - 4 p.m. Dec. 3, and 9 - 11 a.m. Dec. 9. Cost of the workshop is $75. Advance registration is required. For details and locations, call Linda Frost at (708) 328-6139.

Participants will learn how to plan and enjoy romantic experiences and events, create a romantic atmosphere, express their romantic attitude, select and give gifts, and de-stress the holidays.

"Almost everyone would like more romance in their lives," Frost said, "but they're waiting for someone to be more romantic toward them. My workshop encourages people to take the initiative and begin to express more of their own romantic attitude."

'Born Yesterday' previews tonight

Director Carole Kleinberg (r), professor of English at Oakton Community College, uses a model set to explain scenes to Tracey Kupperman of Glenview, Cheryl Koronowski and Tom Moran of Niles, Oakton students and members of the cast of "Born Yesterday," an American classic, which will be previewed at 8 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 30, followed by 8 p.m. performances Friday and Saturday, Dec. 1 and 2 and 8 and 9 and 3 p.m. performances Sunday, Dec. 3 and 10 in the Performing Arts Center, 1600 E. Golf Rd., Des Plaines.

Tickets are $2 preview, $5 general admission, $4 students, faculty, staff and seniors. A dinner/theater evening will be presented Saturday, Dec. 9. Dinner will be served at 6 p.m. The cost is $12.

Reserve tickets or purchase at the door. For reservations, call the Oakton Box Office, 635-1900.

Children will act in Niles West's 'Cinderella'

A prince and princess are being chosen from each grade level of the elementary schools in Niles Township to perform in Niles West High School's upcoming production of "Cinderella."

The youngsters will appear in the ballroom scene of the play, which will have a public performance at 1 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 16, and a performance for area elementary schools on Thursday and Friday, Dec. 14 and 15. Tickets for the public are $1 for children, $4 for adults, and can be reserved by calling 966-8280.

Cinderella will be played by Heather Kempisty, and her sisters Plumpetta and Thimora will be portrayed by Michelle Kameneer and Tatjana Stojnic. The mean stepmother is Michelle Strykowski. Other cast members include Arie Zoller as Herald, Jennifer Collins as the fairy godmother, Tino Olivares as the prince, Bill Holmblad as the king, Amanda Harris as Raggedy Ann, and Adam Telengater as Raggedy Andy.

Members of the ballroom court are Karen Guthrie, Amy Tanis, Kathryn Solis, Karen Solis, Kristin Carlsen, Kaye Seeber, Toulia Virvilos, Nicole Benjamin, Grace Diaz, Rob Schaefer, Steve Venn, Fred Jasser, David Cher-tow, Marc Jacobs, Adam Telengater, Adam Turry, Danny Putrus and Chris Matthies.

Niles North stages 'Crimes of the Heart'

The Niles North High School theatre department will present Beth Henley's "Crimes of the Heart" at 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Dec. 14, 15 and 16, at 8 p.m. in Theatre 100. Reserved seats are $4 and can be reserved by calling 673-6900.

"Crimes of the Heart," winner of the Pulitzer Prize and the New York Drama Critics Award, is a warm-hearted, irreverent, and zany play that teems with humanity and humor. The story presents the plight of three Mississippi sisters betrayed by their passions.

The cast members are senior Stacy Lipkin as Lenny, senior Dana Levit as Meg, senior Sara Goodman as Baba, senior Aaron Kurasch as Doc, freshman Kirk Jackson as Barnette, and senior Carolyn Adelman as Chick.

The play is directed by Timothy Ortmann, a graduate of Niles North and the University of Illinois. Ortmann will be assisted by junior Michelle Leon as assistant director and teacher Frank Mayfield as technical director.

Visit Brazil via travel film

Brazil is a land of unimaginable contrasts with primitive jungles in the northwest, glamorous beaches and modern cities to the southwest. The colorful and exotic sites of the fifth largest nation in the world will be explored in a travel film, "Pageant of Brazil," at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 13, at the Maine East High School Auditorium, Dempster and Potter Rds., Park Ridge.

Sponsored by the Oakton Community College MONNA-CEP program, the film will offer viewers a breathtaking panorama of Rio de Janeiro; the ancient city of Bahia; Brasilia, a city of the 21st century; the Amazon jungles with its exotic plants, rare birds and animals; and the mighty Iguassu Falls which is equal to five thundering Niagaras.

The film is presented by Lilly and Lee Cavanagh, one of the nation's leading travel film teams. Tickets are $4.75. In-district residents age 60 and over pay $2.50. For information, call 982-9888.

Cable viewer wins trip

Kathy Blake is one of the ten subscribers to cable television in Chicagoland taking off for Tinseltown. The lucky cable viewers won the trip to California in the Chicago Cable Marketing Council's "Cable Me to Hollywood" campaign.

The council ran TV and radio commercials as well as print ads announcing that, by dialing 1-800-CABLE-ME, new cable subscribers could win one of the ten trips to Hollywood.

Blake receives cable television from Cablevision of Chicago. Each winner and a guest will fly Midway Airlines to Los Angeles where they will receive two nights and three days of complimentary accommodations at the Westwood Marquis Hotel and Gardens. The winners can take advantage of the prize through April of 1990.

For more information about cable television in the Chicagoland area, dial toll free 1-800-CABLE-ME.

Leonard, Duran match on cable

Almost nine years since their last encounter, which ended with Roberto Duran's infamous cry of "No Mas, No Mas," Sugar Ray Leonard and Duran will meet for the third time—"Uno Mas" Dec. 7 at The Mirage in Las Vegas.

Cablevision of Chicago, will carry the 12-round rubber match live on Pay Per View at 8 p.m. for $29.95. (1-800-885-FITE).

In addition, Cablevision will sponsor an Uno Mas contest. Fight fans are asked to guess who will win the bout of the decade, in what round, and in what time. Registration forms are available at any Cablevision office or in selected suburban papers.

First prize is a trip for two to Las Vegas, second prize is a $50 gift certificate at Sportmart and third prize is a free Pay Per View event. Winners will be announced live after the fight on Cablevision Channel 24. A list of winners will be available beginning Dec. 8.

Maine high school activities air on cable

School activities involving Niles students at Maine Township High Schools, will air for the first time on Niles Cablevision starting Thursday, Dec. 7.

Programming will be shown from 5:30 to 6 p.m. each Thursday on Channel 29.

Before this, programs were shown only in those areas served by TCI/Cablenet, which includes the Park Ridge schools. According to James Wunderlich, the school's Director of Television, almost a third of the high school's student body are Nilesites, as are members of his student TV staff.

The first program, on Dec. 7, will be "The Best of 'V'," a 30-minute highlight of the annual variety show presented by Maine East students.

Maine East Magazine #1, a

Duran, (85-7, 61 KO's) will make his first appearance since winning the WBC middleweight crown Feb. 24 with a split decision win over Iran Barkley. Leonard, (35-1-1, 25 KO's) fresh off his 12-round draw with Thomas "Hit Man" Hearns at Caesars Palace June 12, will put his WBC super middleweight championship on the line against the Panamanian great.

The two champions first hooked up in June, 1980, in "The Brawl in Montreal," with Duran dethroning Leonard as WBC Welterweight champion. That set the stage for the rematch five months later in New Orleans. Duran quit that bout in the eighth round, complaining of stomach cramps and uttering the infamous "No Mas, No Mas" plea.

Pay Per View allows customers to pick and choose from a monthly array of movies, concerts, and special events.

potpourri of activities at the school, will air Dec. 14.

"In Touch" an audience participation show, featuring Roz Varon, WLS-TV traffic reporter, will be shown Dec. 21. Varon is a graduate of Maine East.

Dec. 28, Maine East Magazine #2, again featuring segments of activities at the schools, will air. Brad Palmer, WLS-TV sports reporter, will be the guest on the Jan. 4, "In Touch" program.

Cablevision and TCI/Cablenet, are awaiting an FCC license to establish a micro-wave interconnect between the two systems, which will enable simultaneous viewing of programs at the school.

For further information contact Carl Fox, Niles Cable TV Coordinator, at 967-6100.

Violinist, pianist perform in concert

Maranda Barnes, violin, and Jonathan Yates, piano, both 13 years old, will perform in the Skokie Public Library Young Steinway Concert Series presented in association with Savings of America on Sunday, Dec. 3, at 3 p.m.

Both young musicians are already accomplished performers. Maranda Barnes received an Honorable Mention in the Chicago Symphony Orchestra Young Performers Competition. Jonathan Yates was a finalist in the Sudler Finals of the 1989 Illinois Young Performers Competition. He has also given a recital performance in Grant Park, Chicago.

In addition to their instrumental studies, Maranda is studying music composition at the University of Chicago and Jonathan studies music theory and counterpoint at the DePaul Music School.

This is the eighth season of the popular Young Steinway Concert Series. Free tickets are distributed one-half hour before the concert on a first-come, first-served basis.

Sound amplification equipment is available for the hearing impaired at the concert with 24 hour advance notice.

The Library is located at 5215 Oakton St., Skokie. For more information call the Library at 673-7744.

Oakton chem prof earns award

Milica Djuricic Nedelson, Ph.D., professor of Chemistry and a resident of Prospect Heights, has been awarded the 1989 Hartstein Award for Academic Excellence at Oakton Community College. A monetary award of $1,000 was presented to her at a recent orientation breakfast at the college.

The award, sponsored by the Oakton Educational Foundation, is established in the name of Oakton board trustee Raymond E. Hartstein. The scholarship is given annually to a faculty member who demonstrates outstanding teaching performance, has excellent interaction with students in and outside the classroom and good rapport with peers.

Nominations are submitted by students, deans and faculty to the Board of Student Affairs who screens the candidates and selects 10 finalists. The Foundation Grants Committee, after further review and evaluation, makes the final selection.

Nedelson expressed her gratitude to three groups of people who accepted her, helped her and appreciated her at Oakton.

Born in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Nedelson settled in the United States in 1981 after serving as chairperson and full professor of chemistry in the Faculty of Agriculture at the University of Belgrade. She worked as a research associate at the University of Illinois, Chicago, where she conducted experiments on the chemistry of sleep and published her findings in eight research papers.

She was hired as a part-time chemistry instructor at Oakton and Harper College in 1983 and was subsequently promoted to a full-time professor at Oakton. She also serves as a consultant to Oil-Dri Corporation of America, Chicago, on several chemical projects.

Nedelson has shared her knowledge, talent and teaching expertise with students for over 30 years.

While teaching is her first love, scientific research is Nedelson's biggest challenge. Her hard work on research projects at Belgrade, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and University of Illinois resulted in a doctoral thesis and the publication of over 100 reports and papers in organic chemistry, food science, tobacco science, brain chemistry and sleep studies. These were published or presented in Europe, South America and the United States.

Nedelson's excellence in teaching skills was rewarded with high honors and numerous awards. For three consecutive years from 1974 to 76, she received an excellence award from the University of Belgrade for lecturing, assistance and rapport with students. In 1980, she also received the highest university award for her special achievements in education and preparing budding scientists, and her contribution to the agricultural, social, scientific fields and the cultural achievements of the university.

Nedelson's biggest reward comes from her students. Her excellent rapport with her students at Oakton is reflected consistently high in their evaluations.

OCC professor publishes book

Rinda West, professor of English at Oakton Community College and a Chicago resident, has published her first book, "Myself Among Others: A Sequenced Approach to Writing." The text provides a practical guide to writing an essay from various points of view.

The contents of the book are divided into three parts: Individuality and community, Conflict and Change, and Interpretation. Major features of the book include sample student essays that illustrate problems associated with writing and strategies for solving them, "if you need help" sections that demonstrate methods of pre-writing, drafting and revising, and conversations with people to illustrate problems and processes of writers to guide readers in solving their own writing problems.

West is Oakton's Honors Program coordinator and a veteran teacher of 18 years. Her book will be available in November and is published by Scott Foresman and Co., Glenview.

Scholarship offered for tips on auto safety

State Sen. Walter Dudyecz (R-Chicago) says high school seniors looking for money for college have until Dec. 31 to enter an essay contest that will award 10 scholarships.

"The Illinois Editors' Traffic Safety Seminar Essay Contest will be giving out a total of $7,000 in scholarships to the 10 seniors with the best suggestions for improving teens' traffic safety record," Dudyecz said.

Dudyecz explained that the Traffic Safety Seminar has been sponsoring essay contests for 23 years to promote traffic safety among young people. Essays are to be titled "My program for improving teen's traffic safety record" and could cover such issues as drunk and drugged driving, safety belt use, driver attitudes, traffic laws and other factors that affect teens' safety records.

Dudyecz said essays will be judged for original thinking and for writing skills. Entries must be typed, 500 words or less and postmarked no later than Dec. 31. An official entry form must accompany each entry. Contest rules and entry forms are available at most high schools or from Seminar Headquarters, AAA-Chicago Motor Club, P.O. Box 5027, Des Plaines, IL 60017-5027.

the country which was caused by gun-related incidents.

We were told Pete's obituary didn't appear in the Chicago Tribune. The Tribune's employees have been on strike for several years and it wasn't Pete's style to support a newspaper contesting a union.

Coming out of church Tuesday we were told of the tears flowing down the cheeks of many of the village people. The "party guy" and the "hell raiser" was much loved. He leaves a real void in Niles by his passing.

Niles new park director, Tom Lippert, will move into his new post after the first of the year. The long-delayed appointment was approved by the park board by a 3 to 2 margin.

One of the negative votes came from newly-elected board member Carol Panek. It was reported she was against the former director's reappointment from the first day she came onto the park board. It seems a bit unusual Carol would have such strong views at her first meetings, without having previous experience on the board. It indicated she received information from second-hand sources which led to her strong feelings.

One Niles village official, who thought we reported the wrong picture about Carol's independent efforts on the village board, said she is a very difficult person to work with. If it is true, this may have been the reason the park board took so long in choosing its new director.

Down at the library board we were told the departing library director received a $15,000 cash settlement. The agreement will list his accomplishments here in Niles and will site his term of serving here. But there will be no other references or commendations issued by the library board.

A former board member reported the same low morale problems, which resulted in the high personnel turn-over here, will not be mentioned when inquiries are sought by library districts seeking a new director. The former board member concluded it was an ill-advised action to take, since similar problems are likely to be carried to the next job by Niles former director.

Let's hear an extra hosanna for Notre Dame's Dons football team, which reached the Illinois State 5-A finals last Saturday, before losing to Chicago's Mount Carmel. We believe this was the most successful major sports team effort in the school's 23 year history. We would hope the village of Niles would recognize the Dons' efforts for their fine 1989 football season.

If the levy is approved, the move may bring in $13,017,650 in property taxes although the final figure will not be known until both the EAV and state formula are determined.

A Truth-In-Taxation statement will be published next week and a public hearing held Tuesday, Dec. 19. Board members will vote on the levy following the hearing.

Information on a tax levy rate must be filed with the county clerk by the end of December although the EAV may not be known until several months after the first of the year and 30 days will be allowed for appeals.

"It is difficult to be able to work with good numbers both as a board member and taxpayer when you don't have good figures," said Paul Halverson, district controller.

District Administrator Eldon Gleichman said, "When you're multiplying by two unknowns, it really leaves you with a wild guess."

Halverson said the district is now taxing at the maximum rate in the education fund and has been for 20 years. The education fund, largest of all district funds, has operated in the red for five years.

According to Halverson, property taxes derived from the present levy will not address the deficit and it will remain stable.

In a report to the board, District Director of Curriculum Judy Hennig explained the background of the School Reform Act of 1985 and district goals based on tests of the Illinois Assessment Program and the California Achievement Tests. In reading, students exceeded expected level of performance but performance levels in mathematics were not met in some schools.

To aid students, the district will implement additional classroom experience, assess objectives and implement a remediation plan.

Board members agreed to approve an instructional budget per pupil of $65 in grades kindergarten through six and $82 in grades seven and eight.

In other business, board members approved the final payment toward asbestos work in the life and safety work being done on district schools.

Board members also approved two change orders in life and safety work.

back option pass from Matt Girsch to Eric Hamilton.

Notre Dame was unable to generate a sustained offense and Mt. Carmel scored on its next two possessions.

ND Coach Mike Hennessey said, "They didn't to anything real fancy, but they do it well and quick and fundamentally sound." Loyal fans turned out in Niles Saturday evening to welcome home the dons who finished their 1989 season with 11 wins, 3 losses.

Reaching the final game in the state playoffs marks an achievement for the Dons. The 1989 season was the best ever for Notre Dame in football.

Immediately after the board passed the amending ordinance, Troy was advised National Pride was instituting legal action beginning Nov. 29. According to Troy, "the basic issue of the 1981 court board chose the winners from about 35 different nominated properties.

The first runner-up in the residential division was Mr. and Mrs. Stefan Bors of 8926 Natoma. The second runner-up was Anita Redding of 8548 Lillibet Terrace.

In the commercial division, Shell Oil Company, 6941 Dempster St., placed first. Savings of America, 8745 Waukegan Road, was first runner-up and Thomas A. Schutz and Company, 8710 Ferris Ave., was second runner-up.

In the manufacturing division, Northern Telecom, 6201 Oakton St., was the first place winner.

The village board also recognized Mary Ryan as the senior of the month. Mayor Richard Hohns and Bud Swanson, director of the village's senior services, presented her with a certificate of recognition.

Ryan, a 33-year resident of Morton Grove, has been part of the 9300 Club, a neighborhood support group, for 27 years. Ryan collects clothing and toys for St. Catherine's of Genoa, a convent on Chicago's south side assisting children, unwell mothers and the homeless and she organizes a clothing drive for homeless men who meet at a soup kitchen in Chicago.

Ryan also helps pool family funds to support her brother-in-law, a bishop who works in the Santarem jungle mission in Brazil. These funds built a parish church in one of the villages there.

In other business, the board appointed Ed Hildebrandt as the deputy fire marshal/building commissioner.

This new position merges Hildebrandt's present job as deputy fire marshal with building commissioner Ed McMahon's job. McMahon will officially retire Dec. 1. This move to combine jobs is part of the village's reorganizational plans to cut costs.

case was not hours... they were never an issue in litigation." Troy expressed confidence the village was empowered to restrict hours of operation.

The board also voted to change a fire department promotional rank, abolishing the rank of captain and changing it to district chief. Subsequent to the Aug. 29, 1991 expiration of the current civil service promotional list for the rank of fire captain, district chiefs will be appointed by the fire chief.

The Fire and Police Commission will continue to have personnel responsibilities for firefighter/paramedics and fire lieutenants. According to Niles Fire Chief Harry Kinowski, the change was approved by the commission which was consulted prior to the request for board action.

In other business, the board approved the dedication of a 50 foot wide strip of land from both Ballard Road and Greenwood Avenue. Shopping center developer Gerald Biehl will widen Ballard to build a deceleration lane in front of his shopping center now under construction.

The village also took cooperative action with the Niles Park District, making an exchange between the two bodies for NICO Park area occupied by the park district and owned by the village. Activity by the board assumed a lighter tone when Mayor Blase attempted to read a letter from the Mayor of Pisa, Italy, in its origiearlier this year, Pesole sent his doctor out to remind Marabotti to give Tylenol to her son and daughter, who were suffering from colds. According to Marabotti, he phoned her daily asking about his grandchildren.

He and Dolores also have a son Patrick, who got married the week before his father's death and was honeymooning when he was told of his father's passing. Daughter Karen said her father especially wanted to see his son marry.

Marabotti indicated her father's love for Niles was so great he wanted to be buried at Maryhill Cemetery, in a plot close to Milwaukee Avenue. Her father made sure her children were involved in Niles activities as well, she said.

Pesole, who is the second Niles trustee to pass away this fall, was village beautification chairman. One of his last official acts was to march in the annual July 4 parade, passing out flags to children along the parade route.

He last attended a village meeting June 27 where, after conscientious deliberation, he voted to oppose an ordinance mandating urine testing for drivers suspected of having illegal drugs in their systems. He expressed reservations based on the "demeaning aspects" of testing for police as well as drivers.

He also was the sole opponent to a June ordinance cutting back the power of the police commission to select officers for the rank of lieutenant out of what he described as his concern that "it would destroy police morale." "He could feel the pulse of the village before anyone else," said the saddened Village Manager, Abe Selman. "I'm going to miss his flamboyant style and his outspokenness."

The Niles village manager, who once served on the board with Pesole, also noted Pesole's "great sense of humor."

Pesole, Selman and Angelo Marcheschi, who died in his sleep last September, sat together on the north side of the dais at meetings, and the three occasionally drew half-stern reprimands from Board President Nick Blase for joking during proceedings.

Selman described Pesole and Marcheschi as the trustees most involved in public concerns such as sewers, flooding and parking. "Pete never hesitated," Selman said of his friend, adding, "He always had a smile and could see a sparkle of humor in something. He was for the underdog, the working man and working families."

According to his biography, Pesole was born in Chicago in the year of the 1929 stock market crash and attended St. Mary Adorato grade school and Wells High School. He became trustee May 13, 1969, and served on the board thereafter. He resided on Merrill Street in Niles.

Village flags were lowered to half staff for Pesole. Selman indicated a committee will decide on an appropriate memorial for the deceased trustee, as well as for Marcheschi.

Lusk, administrative assistant. The village has six part-time inspectors who will be working under Hildebrandt.

Hildebrandt, 42, has worked for the village for 18 years. Previous to his deputy fire marshal position, which he has held for three years, Hildebrandt headed the fire prevention bureau for 12 years and was a firefighter for three years.

nal Italian form. He also read the translated version which assumed Blase would travel to Pisa as part of the two communities' efforts to become sister cities.

Police Chief Raymond Giovannelli introduced Park Ridge entrepreneur Anthony Bartolomei, Bartolomei and Chicago attorney Dennis DaPrato have been instrumental in local efforts to effect a cultural alliance between the two municipalities, recently meeting with Mayor Giacomino Granchi of Pisa.

There will be no December Niles village meeting. The board deferred action on zoning amendments proposed by St. Benedict's Home for the Aged until the January village board meeting.

Students win trophies in music competition

Christine Hamilton, 7, and David Hamilton, 5, both won first place in the piano division in the third annual Judson College music competition held recently in Elgin. They are students of Nelson School.

Culver installs student council officers

Niles Mayor Nicholas Blase was the honored speaker at Clarence Culver Middle School, 6921 Oakton, Niles, for the Installation Ceremony of the newly elected 1989-90 Student Council.

Culver Principal Thomas Ray and Council Advisor Nancy Perez presided over the ceremony, and District 71 Superintendent Eugene Zaleski administered the Oath of Office. After bestowing pins and a congratulatory handshake to the Student Council Officers, the Mayor spoke about the qualities of leadership so important today.

Sharing the stage were elected room representatives from grades five through eight. Other guests in the audience of 150 teachers, parents and students included members of the school board and PTA officers.

The Culver Student Council Officers are John Sikaras, president; Joseph Knudsen, vice-president; Tracy Frey, secretary and Fernando Delgado, treasurer.

Student Council notes duties

The Nelson School Student Council under the sponsorship of teachers Miss Sandy Chast, Mrs. Diane Friedman and Mrs. Carolyn Kueffner, began its 1989-90 activities by being host and hostesses at the school's Open House. Student Council representatives helped to welcome and direct parents to classrooms.

Student Council members help to get each school day off to a good start by leading the student body in the Pledge of Allegiance and making announcements about Nelson School, its students and events of interest. They also plan different activities for the student body and discuss concerns and give suggestions to better the school. Many times Principal Robert Jablon meets with them to discuss their suggestions and concerns.

Student Council decorated the school for Halloween and sponsored a Thanksgiving food drive for needy families of Maine Township. Also, the council will be assisting the United States Ma-

Register now for District 207 preschool

Applications are now available at the three District 207 high schools for parents to register children for two-hour preschool classes to be held at Maine East, Maine South, and Maine West during the second semester of the 1989-90 school year. Applications will be accepted until Dec. 15.

The classes, conducted by junior and senior students under the direction of a certified child development teacher, are part of the "on-the-job" training program of the child care occupations course offered by the home economics department.

Ten to 18 children of preschool age will be enrolled in each session. To be eligible for acceptance, children must be between 3-1/2 and 4-1/2 on Feb. 1, 1990. The preschool classes at the three high schools enable child care occupations students to observe the growth and development of young children and to gain experience in supervising their activities.

The programs at all the schools are similar, but vary regarding times and days on which they meet. A letter accompanying the application form will explain the specific program at the individual school. The forms are available in the main office of each of the schools. Parents will be notified in early January of the acceptance of their children.

To defray the cost of supplies and food served to the children, there is a $75 registration fee.

Maine East is located at 2601 Dempster, Park Ridge; Maine South, 1111 S. Des Rd., Park Ridge; and Maine West, 1755 S. Wolf Rd., Des Plaines.

Notre Dame sets open house

Notre Dame High School, 7655 Dempster St., will have its annual School Open House Sunday, Dec. 3, from 1 to 4 p.m.

The Open House is set-up to showcase the school and its programs to sixth, seventh and eighth grade boys and their families and friends.

Tours of the school will be arranged and presentations will be given about Notre Dame's academic programs and classes. Displays of student work and information on admissions, counseling and financial assistance will be stationed in the school cafeteria.

Extracurricular activities and sports program representatives will be on hand in the gym to provide additional information.

For further information, call Notre Dame at 965-2900 and ask for Michael Hennessey, enrollment manager.

Special ed programs host open house

Two Maine Township High School District 207 special education programs which moved to West Elementary School at the beginning of the 1989-90 school year will hold a joint open house Thursday, Dec. 7, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. West Elementary School, 1040 Thacker, Des Plaines, was closed in 1978 and is now owned by the City of Des Plaines. The teachers and principals of ARC (Alternative Resource Center) and the Maine Alternative Program (MAP) will provide tours of the facilities and will give brief presentations about the programs and the students enrolled in them.

Refreshments will be served.

Register now for Open Door

Openings still remain in the winter session of Open Door, an educational and employment program at Oakton Community College for high school graduates with learning disabilities. Classes begin Jan. 16.

The program funded by the Northern Cook County Private Industry Council (PIC), will include classroom instruction in basic academic skills and vocational skills training in microcomputers, cashing and general office skills. Students will attend school in the mornings, Mondays through Fridays, and work part-time in the afternoons. Tuition is free. One-on-one job placement assistance will be provided.

To be eligible, applicants must have a high school diploma or GED, reside in northern suburban Cook County and meet the PIC eligibility guidelines.

For information, call Barbara Youngquist, 635-1944.

Loyola scholars volunteer at party

Thirty Dumbach Scholars of Loyola Academy served as the volunteer corps for the annual Maine-Niles Halloween Party for the handicapped. The seniors sacrificed attending their own Halloween festivities at Loyola. This is the fifth year that the Dumbachs have socialized with the handicapped, staffed a haunted house and served refreshments for Halloween.

Washington School students were treated to a juggling act recently. Mike Von Cruska performed his juggling act for the Halloween party sponsored by the PTA.

Von Cruska started juggling at the age of 11. He is the founder and president of the Illinois Juggling Institute.

Alter announces for county clerk post

Joanne Alter today announced her candidacy for the Clerk of Cook County.

Alter, a Commissioner of the Water Reclamation District of Greater Chicago since 1972, said she has the experience necessary to be an excellent County Clerk.

"I know and understand County Government," she said. "I have worked in county government for 18 years. I know and understand the budgetary and purchasing process."

Alter pledged to cut the County Clerk's budget by 10 percent and to institute programs of ethics and affirmative action. She says special attention should be paid to non-bid contracts.

"I will install an Ombudsman in the County Clerk's Office to answer questions. This means the frustrated, tired and often angry person looking for answers to questions or problems in county government will have a place to go for answers - the Clerk's Ombudsman," she said.

She also promised to work to expand the County's Tax Reconciliation Program to provide low-income housing and put real estate back on the tax rolls.

Alter plans to produce a written record of County Board meetings and further improve the county's election machinery.

Alter, who has run countywide three times, has been a top vote getter in Cook County, consistently bringing in totals in the one million range.

Maine Township Officials Attend Statewide Conference

Maine Township's elected officials were among 2,000 participants at the recent annual educational conference sponsored by the Township Officials of Illinois.

Attending the statewide conference were Supervisor Joan B. Ball, Highway Commissioner Bill Fraser, Clerk Stephen J. Stolton, Assessor Thomas E. Rueckert, Collector Gary K. Warner, and trustees Bonnie B. Lindquist, Carol A. Teschky, Mark Thompson, and Robert C. Williams. The conference was Nov. 13-15 in Springfield.

Hall said, "All of us benefited from the opportunity to exchange ideas and information with other officials from townships throughout the state."

Briefings were held on new and pending legislation affecting townships and new developments in the administration of township General Assistance. Other topics included youth and senior services, recycling, and ethics in government.

The Township Officials of Illinois represents 1,434 townships in 83 Illinois counties.

Democrats slate commissioner candidates

The 30 suburban Democratic Cook County Committeemen have selected seven outstanding candidates for the Cook County commissioner seats up for election in 1990 from among the 12 persons who presented themselves for the positions.

Four years ago the leading Democratic candidate lost by less than 7,000 votes out of 650,000. In 1982, Jeanne Quinn was the first Democrat elected from the suburbs in recent history.

The five men and two women selected by the Democrats have a wide variety of experience in local government and community service.

Sheila H. Schultz, president of the Village of Wheeling, previously served as a trustee for the community. She is the head of the circulation department at the Indian Trails Public Library District and was actively involved with the Northwest Municipal Conference.

Presently, she is chairman of the Solid Waste Agency of Northern Cook County and North Cook County Commissioner of the Northeastern Illinois Planning Committee. She is vice president of the Illinois Municipal League and an appointed member to the Cook County Community Development Block Grant Advisory Committee.

Lawrence G. Zdzarsky is self-employed as an attorney and counselor. He earned his JD degree from ITT/Chicago-Kent College of Law and was graduated cum laude from Loyola University of Chicago. He has served in numerous positions in the Berwyn Council and presently serves as Health District Attorney for the Berwyn Health District.

Ed Reinfrank is a former chairman of Common Cause/ Illinois; former school board member in the Prospect Heights area; Emeritus Professor, Wright College in Chicago, and holds graduate degrees in public administration, political science, and sociology from Syracuse University and the University of Chicago. He is currently president of the Democratic Party of Evanston, an organization he has been involved with for twenty years.

Thomas M. O'Donnell currently serves as Rich Township School treasurer. In 1987-88 he was Iowa field director for Paul Simon's presidential campaign.

He coordinated two successful state representative campaigns and has worked on numerous statewide and presidential campaigns since 1975.

Patricia Kane McLaughlin, an attorney, is a member of the Illinois Bar Association and worked as an associate attorney with a general practice law firm from 1965-1988.

Ervin Kozicki has served as a city alderman and as the mayor of the City of Hickory Hills. Presently he is a manager with the Wm. Wrigley Jr. Company and also serves as president of the Palos Township Democratic Party.

Pat Capuzzi is a long time businessman involved in real estate. In Bremen Township he has been active in political and civic affairs. He served as campaign manager for Joan Murphy, the leading vote getter, in her 1986 bid for Cook County Commissioner.

The recommendations of the suburban committee will be forwarded to the full 80 member Democratic Central committee for their approval next week. The candidates elected in 1990 may be the last Cook County Commissioners to run at large in the suburbs.

The Cook County Board recently approved an ordinance that will permit the voters of Cook County to decide if they would prefer single member districts starting with the 1994 election.

Illinois Bell calls rate reduction excessive

An Illinois Bell official today commended the Illinois commerce commission for adopting a modified regulatory structure, but said the amount of rate reduction that was ordered is "excessive and totally inappropriate."

John Ake, Illinois Bell assistant vice president, also said the company was pleased that the ICC approved the company's plan to expand pay-only-for-what-you-use service throughout most of the state.

"We are pleased that the Commission has continued its progressive policies that have enabled Illinois Bell to have the lowest rates of any major urban telephone company in the nation," Ake said.

"But a rate reduction of the magnitude that the Commission has imposed is clearly excessive. We will study the order to determine whether to seek a rehearing."

The ICC ordered Illinois Bell to reduce rates an additional $45.8 million beyond the $85 million credit that was implemented in July 1988. The Commission also approved a modified regulatory structure, which will provide rate stability for customers, and endorsed the company's plan to expand its pay-only-for-what-you-use service throughout most of the state. Monthly residence access line charges also will be increased.

The order increases to 40 percent from 33 percent the discounts for calls made at night-time, on weekends and on selected holidays; and will discount by 10 percent the calls that are made in the early morning, mid-day and early evening. Volume discounts for businesses will be increased, while business rates for touch-tone and custom calling services will be reduced to the same levels charged to residence customers. Call waiting charges also will be reduced for residences.

The rate changes take effect Jan. 1 in northeastern Illinois. Also, effective Jan. 1, the access line charge will increase $1.03 the 14 percent the company requested and the approximately 15 percent return allowed by the Federal Communications Commission.

Earnings between 12.76 percent and 14 percent will be shared between the company and customers, with the company retaining 60 percent. Earnings between 14 and 15 percent also will be shared, with the company retaining 30 percent and returning 70 percent to customers. All earnings above 15 percent will be returned to customers.

For most residence customers in northeastern Illinois, most customers who live in Chicago and some densely populated suburbs would see the monthly residence access line charge go from $8.01 to $9.04. Monthly residence line charges for the rest of suburban and northeastern Illinois would go from $11.48 to $12.51 Jan. 1.

Even with the increase in residence access line charges, most customers in northeastern Illinois will see lower bills, due to calling rate reductions and increased discounts.

The typical Chicago residence customer in Chicago or a densely populated suburb would see a 91-cent decrease in the monthly bill, which would go to $20.34 from $21.25.

The typical residence customer in other suburbs would see a $1.25 reduction in the monthly bill, which would go to $25.23 from $26.48.

For customers outside of northeastern Illinois, the company will increase the monthly residence access line charge by $1 in each of the next three years, bringing it to $12.51 in 1992.

Under the modified form of regulation, Illinois Bell cannot seek to increase basic rates for residence and small business customers before 1992.

Illinois Bell's rates will initially be set to produce earnings at a 12.76 percent return on equity, far below the 15.85 percent the company currently is allowed to earn and considerably lower than date showed the board was split 3-2 on the choice of Lippert, with the two dissenters wanting someone with more executive experience to head up the district.

The dissenting commissioners have nevertheless promised to support the new director despite their reservations.

Citing staffing considerations, Commissioner Jim Pierski expressed the viewpoint that the board should have selected an individual with a stronger administrative background. In a Nov. 22 phone interview, the commissioner praised Lippert's potential but said, "I hoped the board would be hiring a chief executive to run a business. Our business is recreation and leisure but it's an executive type of business with a $4 million budget and 100 or so employees."

Pierski added that several key administrative posts have been vacant or recently filled by relatively new people, who, though highly capable, need a boss with far more experience than Lippert currently possesses. Pierski noted, "There were three or four superior candidates, three with experience as directors, with professional praise and awards heaped upon them that our board did not consider."

The commissioner also felt that current problems, such as the delayed maintenance garage construction, would not have occurred had former director Bill Hughes been at the park district helm.

Lippert will have to oversee design and construction of a new swimming pool as well as fill several positions that have been vacant, some for as long as eight months. Electrical and heating work at the Tam maintenance facility is past its anticipated construction date and the 27-year-old Rec Center pool is reportedly beyond repair.

"We needed an experienced, tough administrator to come in and pick up the pieces," Pierski maintained.

Pierski used a string of complimentary adjectives to describe Lippert, including "intelligent, personable, sincere and hard-working," saying, "Some day he will make a tremendous director. I will most assuredly support him and give him every chance to succeed."

Commissioner Carol Panek also favored hiring a more seasoned administrator, with expertise on swimming pools and golf courses. Promising to work well with Lippert, Panek referred to

Kustra hails workers' comp program

State Sen. Bob Kustra (R-28) said the new workers' compensation program approved by the General Assembly this week is a step forward to improve the state's business climate.

"This is strong legislation designed to give new credibility to a system that has been bogged down in unresolved worker injury cases," Kustra said. "It can clear up that backlog, streamline case procedures and help reduce employers' costs."

Kustra said SB 86 was worked out through the cooperation of business and labor. "Both factions have been greatly concerned, because there are people out there who have been waiting for as long as two years to have their cases reviewed," he said. "One of the main things the bill does is to create a temporary commission panel made up of three experienced arbitrators who will deal only with backlog cases. They will work 18 months, or as long as it takes, to get these cases resolved."

To prevent the workers' compensation system from bogging down again in the future, new evidence will not be allowed at case reviews, the time for filing an appeal will be lengthened and arbitrators will be encouraged to use pretrial conferences to settle cases, Kustra noted.

"To further speed up the process, workers and their employers will be permitted to submit their cases to voluntary binding arbitration, which should greatly reduce the number of appeals," Kustra said. "Faster settlements will mean greater benefits for the injured workers, because they won't be paying out such high attorney fees."

Kustra said the legislation will allow companies with good claims experience, especially smaller employers, to get out of the assigned risk pool, thereby reducing their costs.

Tips in reducing taxes

To trim taxes, the Illinois CPA Society suggests that everyone review these mid-year tax tips.

If you're eligible for Medicare, your tax load will be heavier this year. For each $150 of the federal income tax liability, you will owe an additional $22.50. Luckily, the surtax has an annual cap. In 1989, the maximum surtax is $800 if single and $1,600 if married and both spouses are eligible for Medicare. To buffer the impact of the surtax, try to offset taxable income by bolstering your itemized deductions. You should also consider transferring savings into tax-free investments such as municipal bonds insured in your state.

In 1989, you can contribute up to $7,627 to a 401 (k) plan. Whatever amount you deposit automatically reduces your gross income. If your employer doesn't offer a 401 (k), find out if you can still deduct your contributions to an Individual Retirement Account (IRA). Interest on both types of accounts grows tax-deferred.

Save taxes and build college funds for your children by transferring assets into their names. Any interest and dividends earned by a child age 14 or older are taxed at the child's rate, currently 15 percent. For children under age 14, the first $500 of unearned income is tax-free and the next $500 is taxed at their lower rate. However, any unearned income in excess of $1000 is taxed at the parent's highest marginal rate.

Support your family and trim your tax bill by hiring your children as employees in a business you own. Any income your children earn will be taxed at their lowest rate. What makes this option so attractive is that you can also deduct the salary you pay them. Just be sure that your children actually perform necessary services and that the salaries they receive are comparable to what you pay other employees. Also, you must pay any applicable employment taxes.

This year, you can deduct only 20 percent of the interest charged on personal loans, credit card accounts, or unpaid tax bills. In 1990, the deduction drops to 10 percent; the following year, it disappears completely.

To eliminate your consumer debt, consider liquidating some of your investment. You can then borrow funds to finance other investments. Keep in mind that interest on investment loans is fully deductible, up to the amount of your net investment income. In 1989, you can also deduct up to 20 percent or $2,000 of the interest in excess of your net investment income. Alternatively, you can use the proceeds of a home equity loan to pay off your personal debt. Remember, you can still deduct interest on home equity loans of up to $100,000.

Your age may be the key to unlocking the profits in your home. If you are at least age 55 and meet certain ownership and use requirements, you can exclude from taxable income up to $125,000 of the profit realized from selling your principal home. Note that this exclusion-of-gain provision is available only once in a lifetime per person or couple. So, if you play to marry and you have not yet claimed the exclusion, find out whether your prospective spouse has. Otherwise, you may end up carelessly forfeiting this valuable tax break.
