referendum by 2 to 1;
village of Niles set to take-over parks

Niles Park District dissolved

Niles to move quickly to take over parks

With the threat of continued legal wrangling by the Niles Park District, the Village of Niles will move today, Wednesday, to complete a canvass of the vote and present the certified results at the final Park Board meeting on Wednesday night.

Commenting on Park District threats to contest the referendum results in court, Niles Mayor Nicholas Blase said Tuesday, "I think the Park District Commissioners should reconsider whether to contest this overwhelming mandate."

Niles officials have indicated they will, if necessary, ask for a court order to gain control of the park district.

Niles voters overwhelmingly approved the historic referendum to dissolve the Niles Park District on Tuesday.

Unofficial results on Wednesday morning showed 6,738 votes in favor of the referendum and 3,688 opposed.

Both sides on the referendum question scurried during the final days of the campaign to reach voters throughout Niles with campaign literature.

The issue pitted two factions of the community. One group, Citizens For A Better Niles, headed by resident Rick Sheridan, worked with 45 volunteers to have the Park District dissolved. Their arguments revolved around the current park district not being financially secure and being unresponsive to residents.

Working to defeat the referendum was Friends of the Niles Parks, headed up by Niles Park District treasurer Mike Cieleski.

Explaining the magnitude of Tuesday night's vote, Sheridan said, "All of them (voters) were as mad as I was. Everybody was just fed up with the way the parks were being run."

Concurring with Sheridan, Niles Park Commissioner Bud Skaja said Tuesday, "I think the people spoke. They wanted change."

Niles Mayor Nicholas Blase, whose Maine Township Democrats worked to pass the referendum, noted Tuesday night, "There has been a strong indication that people have been very displeased with the Park District. The Niles Park District should now step aside."

Perot gets 13.7%

Clinton wins Niles, Loses Maine Townships

Though Democrats won the White House and several local battles, some incumbent Republican legislators held fast in what has been a traditionally Republican constituency. Winning Republicans include U.S. Congressman Henry Hyde (U.S.-6th), State Senator Marty Butler (IL-28th) and State Senator Walter M. Dudyecz (IL-7th), according to latest tallies at press time.

U.S. CONGRESS, 6th DISTRICT

Seasoned 19-year legislator, Congressman Henry J. Hyde of Bensenville, an attorney, beat back a challenge by Democratic Park Ridge computer software entrepreneur Barry Watkins with a vote of 150,253 to 79,737. Hyde, a conservative spokesman and strongly anti-abortion, survived an anticipated pro-choice

"women's vote." Last session, Hyde resisted White House pressure and voted for the family leave bill.

ILLINOIS STATE SENATE-28th DISTRICT

Park Ridge Republican Marty Butler, a familiar face in Maine Township politics for years, held onto the 28th District State Senate seat he was appointed to when former Representative Robert Kusira (R-28th) was elected Lieutenant Governor of Illinois.

Butler, a long-time opponent of more runways at O'Hare airport but a supporter of a property tax cap and cuts in State spending, swamped his opponent, Democrat William M. Blaine, Jr. of Mount Prospect with 50,495

Election Results: Local GOP incumbents win re-election

President-elect Bill Clinton defeated President George Bush by 99 votes in Maine and Niles Townships in Tuesday's election. Unofficial returns from 96% of the total precincts in Maine and Niles Townships gave Clinton 50,203 votes to Bush's 50,104. Ross Perot received 15,914 or 13.7% of the total vote in the two townships.

A breakdown of the townships shows Bush winning Maine Township with 25,730 votes to Clinton's 23,144 and Perot's 10,504. In Niles Township, Clinton had 27,059 to Bush's 14,374 and Perot's 5,410.

UNITED STATES SENATE

In the race in Illinois for the United States Senate, Republican Rich Williamson outdistanced Democrat Carol Braun by 31,525 to 24,588 votes in Maine Township. Braun reversed these totals in Niles Township winning by a 25,304 to 19,114 votes.

COOK COUNTY STATES ATTORNEY

In Cook County races, States Attorney Jack O'Malley walked developed Democrat challenger Pat O'Connor, in both townships. O'Malley had a 45,748 to 12,456 margin in Maine Township and a 31,787 to 13,818 lead in Niles Township with 96% of the precincts accounted for.

COOK COUNTY RECORDER OF DEEDS

In the County race for Recorder of Deeds, Democrat Jesse White won the election besting Republican Susan Catania by a 1,012,514 to 771,413 vote. White won the Chicago vote, 632,304 to 12,456 while losing in Cook County suburbs by 538,376 to 380,210.

COOK COUNTY CLERK

In the race for Clerk of the Cook County Circuit Court, incumbent Democrat Aurelia Pucinski won by 2 1/2 to 1 margin over Republican Herbert Schuman. Unofficial returns showed Pucinski winning by a 1,012,514 vote to Schuman's 464,706 total and Dolores Jones' 120,304 vote. Pucinski won the suburbs by a 572,731 to 339,546 vote for Schuman while Jones received 34,166 votes.

METROPOLITAN WATER RECLAMATION DISTRICT

In the Metropolitan Water Reclamation District Democrats Nancy Sheehan, Gloria Majewski and Patricia Young defeated Republicans John Holowski,

Susan Kelsey and Shirley Street. While they won in Cook County by about 2 to 1 margin, the suburban votes were close. Top vote-getter Sheehan had 467,410 votes in the suburbs. The other incumbent, Majewski, had 427,718 votes and the third winner, Dem-

BUGLE EDITORIAL

The Niles Park Referendum: the winners and the losers

Winner: The taxpayers

It is hoped the village of Niles taking over the parks will mean greater financial security to the Niles park system. Currently there are million-dollar-plus debts taken out as bonds by the Niles Park District, including $2.8 million recently added to try to quickly improve the park district's image prior to their demise at the polls. The village, with its considerable sales-tax revenues, should put an end to this shameful borrowing in the name of the taxpayers.

Winner: Citizens For A Better Niles

It is always fascinating to see residents with no previous political experience be brought into the political system. Endless organizational meetings, writing brochures, recruiting "troops" to get their message out, learning some of the finesse needed to win, such as what to say—and not to say. One participant recently said she had no intention of getting involved in this battle, but now that she did she felt gratified. This is what our political system has always been about: citizens getting involved. It is out of such campaigns that the next generation of local elected officials arise.

Loser: The former Park Board majority

In our 35 years covering local politics we have rarely seen such a self-destructive group as the majority making up the final Niles Park Board. The movement to oust them was created simply because too many citizens' groups within the district felt they were not being listened to. The arrogance of the board in dismissing petitioners to the board, of trying to suppress open debate and of threatening park employees who did not agree with their positions was the primary reason this park district has been dissolved. The irony is this entire process could have been prevented had cooler heads prevailed. A coming together of all sides, very early on, could have headed off this referendum. However, the anger, the inability of the majority to compromise, and, finally, their incredible egos resulted in their downfall.

Loser: The League of Women Voters

The most interesting development of this election is exposing the League of Women Voters as the Daughters of the American Revolution of the political left. Like the D.A.R., the League showed itself to be closed-minded, snobbish and enormously self-righteous. More damaging, however, was the closer look we had at the League. The approximately twenty-five members they have in Niles showed themselves to have less political influence than any local church bowling league. We suspect they have so few members for good reason. As mentioned here before, it was enormously dismaying for us to watch the least democratic and accessible elected board in our memory have two of its three-member majority made up of League members, including a former League president. Additionally, their candidates and issues forums were primarily attended by their own members, showing them of virtually no value to the community. Candidates in future elections would find their time better spent anywhere else but at self-serving League of Women Voters forums.

Loser: Those "foreign" newspapers

Memo from the Bugle to those other newspaper publishers: Come on, guys and gals, you're taking yourselves too seriously. You are simply advertising-shoppers looking to expand your markets so you come into Niles to peddle a few more newspapers. But thinking you are, in any way, part of our community is silly. Writing editorials from your offices in Wilmette or Des Plaines does not make you experts about Niles. (We suspect the combined age of the writers of those editorials would not add up to the 35 years we have been based in Niles.) And hiring a few Bugle has-been reporters to cover our town does not make you Niles newspapers. We know it says Niles on the front page of those foreign newspapers you distribute in our town, but you should know better than to believe everything you read in the newspaper; particularly yours.

Maine Township surplus food distribution

Maine Township will distribute surplus government food from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 12, in the Maine Township Town Hall, 1700 Ballard Road, Park Ridge.

Recipients must bring their surplus food identification cards issued by Maine Township. Those who do not have identification cards and would like to participate in the government surplus food program should bring verification of residency and proof of income to the township.

Township needs food for emergency pantry

The cupboards at Maine Township's emergency food pantry are bare and food donations are needed to restock the shelves to help serve residents in crisis situations during the coming winter.

The township is particularly short of canned luncheon meats and meals-in-one, such as ravioli.

Water matters take priority at Village Board

by Sheila Hackett

Newcomers to Niles will pay more to have their water turned on as a result of Village Board action Oct. 27. At the monthly meeting, Trustee Jeffrey Arnold said the law will not affect current customers but will update the 29 year old deposit fee of $20 to $50.

The boost becomes effective Dec. 1 and applies to residences, business houses, industrial plants or golf clubs.

Water of a different sort was considered when the Board passed a flood plain ordinance introduced by Trustee Andrew Przybylo. He explained the ordinance places the Village in compliance with the Federal Emergency Management Agency and certifies eligibility in a federal flood insurance program.

Village Attorney Richard Troy noted the purpose of the ordinance was to get uniformity in flood plain regulation so one agency deals with identical ordinances in all communities.

Turning to zoning matters, discussion arose over whether Sportmart Plaza should be allowed a two year extension on a billboard adjoining its property at 7253 Dempster Street. The Village Sign Commission said the

BLOOD PRESSURE

Moderate exercise and activity can be important assets in a person reaching their blood pressure goal and staying fit. Everyone has individual differences and conditions that need to be considered when planning a healthful program of exercise. People whose health does not allow exercise can often take part in other enjoyable physical or mental activities such as hobbies, social activities, volunteer work or attending classes. A free blood pressure screening clinic is offered for Morton Grove senior citizens from 9 to 10 a.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 10 in the Flickinger Senior Center.

COMMISSION ON AGING

The Morton Grove Advisory Commission on Aging will hold its next monthly meeting at 1 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 10 in the Flickinger Municipal Center. The commission provides an arena for discussion and planning of services and programs to benefit Morton Grove's senior citizen population. All interested residents are welcome to attend.

SENIORS INVITED

Maine East, Niles North and Niles West High Schools invite township seniors (Maine Township residents age 62+, Niles Township residents age 60+) to join in on free school productions to be performed this fall. ### SENIOR TRAVEL CLUB

The Prairie View Senior Travel Club has planned its outings for the fall and winter seasons. "A Day in Chicago" will take in the NBC Studios, the Harold Washington Library and lunch at Binyons on Nov. 12. An overnight holiday outing to the Mobil five-star Kohler Resort in Kohler, Wisconsin is planned for Dec. 6 and 7. On Jan. 12, a tour of Sunshine Crafts in Wheeling along with a pizza lunch is on the travel agenda to spell cabin fever. Then, a trip to Marriott's Lincolnshire Theater for lunch and the production of "Sweeney Todd The Demon Barber of Fleet Street" is scheduled for Feb. 10. In May, they plan a spectacular trip to the British Midlands where their home for eight nights will be a newly restored and ultra-deluxe English Manor House. ### LUNCH BUNCH

Lunch Bunch is back! Morton Grove seniors get together for a light lunch and feature length film on Friday afternoons in the Flickinger Senior Center. Please note that registration for these get-togethers is being altered this year in order to allow more seniors to enjoy this activity. Register at the Prairie View Community Center on the first Tuesday following the Friday of the previous Lunch Bunch; and of course every day after, as capacity allows. Call today (965-7447) to inquire about reservations for the first Lunch Bunch. Lunches will begin at 12:30 p.m. followed by the film. There is a cost of $1.50 per lunch/show. Don't spend Thanksgiving Dinner alone! Join in on a traditional Thanksgiving Dinner with all the trimmings at the Prairie View Community Center on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 26. Dinner and entertainment is being provided through the extraordinary generosity of the Niles/Morton Grove Rotary Club. All participants will be guests, free of charge, as it would be at any "family" celebration. For information and reservations call Prairie View at 965-7447.

TAX-AID VOLUNTEERS

Each year hundreds of Morton Grove seniors take advantage of free and expert assistance in filing income tax forms through the Volunteer Income Tax Aid program sponsored by the IRS. AARP, the Village of Morton Grove and the Morton Grove Park District. A few more volunteers will be needed as counselors for this year. People who have tax knowledge and are willing to be trained in a five-day IRS tax course held at the Flickinger Senior Center, may qualify as tax counselors. For more information call the Morton Grove Senior Hot Line at 470-5223.

REMINISCENCE INTERVIEWS

The handing down of family history from one generation to another has always taken place. But with the more mobile and busier family of today, we need to make special efforts to provide seniors with opportunities to reminisce. Taking time to listen to another person reminisce gives the powerful unspoken message that "Who you are, what you have done, and the things you care about are very important to me. I believe in you. I accept you, I want to know your story. And even more, I receive what you have to offer as a gift." The Morton Grove Commission on Aging is conducting "Reminiscence Interviews" for interested individuals and their families. Those interested in an interview can call the Morton Grove Senior Hot Line at 470-5223.

BECOME A MEMBER

For more information about these senior services and recreation programs, call the Morton Grove Senior Hot Line at 470-5223, or the Prairie View Community Center at 965-7447. ### Loyola participates in Red Ribbon Week

Loyola's CARE program (Chemical Abuse Referral and Education) is part of the Academy's student assistance program.

In an effort to involve the whole Loyola community in a united effort against substance abuse, a CARE Task Force of faculty/staff coordinated activities at the Academy during National Red Ribbon Week, Oct. 26-30, which is sponsored by the National Federation of Parents for a Drug Free Youth. In 1989, the red ribbon became the symbol of a nation's intolerance for an American where alcohol and drugs erode the potential of its youth. Participation in Red Ribbon Week activities demonstrates a commitment to a healthy, drug-free lifestyle and the prevention of drug and alcohol abuse.

Loyola activities included: Monday - Decoration Day - sports team members decorated the school with red ribbons as a visual introduction to the week; Tuesday - Reach Out Day - a clothing drive for the St. Vincent DePaul Society symbolized positive rather than destructive actions in our lives; Wednesday - Wear Red Day; Thursday - Pledge Day - students signed pledges not to use illegal drugs or to use legal drugs illegally; and Friday was Red Ribbon Recognition Day.

Loyola teachers were encouraged to promote these activities as well as classroom discussion of issues relating to drug and alcohol abuse.

A Minor Miracle Like Edna's

This is a story about a great lady. I'll identify her only as Edna. Her story is well worth telling because it offers hope to so many people. Because others can do what Edna did with grit, determination, and a little help from her friends.

Edna, a bright, intelligent, likeable 99-year-old woman lived with friends and was fully able to care for herself until she fell and broke her hip.

After a hospital stay, Edna found she was unable to walk without parallel bars. It took two people to help her sit and stand. She also needed help with bathing and dressing.

Things looked bleak for Edna - until what I call the magic equation began to work. That equation was the patient's courage and will to get well plus a specially designed rehabilitation program devised by the skilled staff at Ballard Nursing Center.

During her month-long stay at Ballard, Edna "worked out" with three to four therapy sessions a day. Dr. Norton Flanagan, a Physiatrist and Medical Director of the Rehabilitation Services Department, monitored the program and fine-tuned Edna's exercise.

Between Edna's courage and will to recover and the skill of our staff, Edna began walking, sitting and standing without help. She's now home, able to bathe and dress herself. In fact, she just celebrated her 100th Birthday.

A nursing center with skilled staff and an excellent rehabilitation program, like Ballard's, can work one of these minor miracles like Edna's.

If you would like more information about how to get yourself or a relative back into the swing of things, call Ballard Nursing Center, 708-294-2300.

Ten people were rescued from a fire that swept the Lincolnwood Bank Building at 4433 W. Touhy Avenue Monday evening, according to fire officials.

Seven engines, five trucks and 50 firefighters helped fight the extra-alarm blaze. Lincolnwood was assisted by firefighters from Skokie, Niles, Morton Grove, Evanston, Glenview, Rosemont, Des Plaines, Northfield, Park Ridge, Winnetka and Wilmette.

"We had quite a rescue effort," said Cmdr. Drew Smith of the Lincolnwood Fire Department. "It took some time to fight the fire. We couldn't put water on it because we were rescuing people."

"One man was hanging from the third floor window and we had to rescue him by ladder," Smith said. Seven other people were rescued by ladder from windows of the five-story building.

Smith said he didn't know how many people were working in the building at the time the fire broke out around 5:15 p.m. The fire was said to have started on the third floor in the south central portion of the brick and glass building, the cause of the fire was still under investigation, Smith said.

The building houses several offices on the second through fifth floors. The bank, located on the first floor was not damaged.

Smith said it was not known what caused the fire to spread so rapidly causing people to get trapped. He said the building had no sprinklers and no smoke detectors.

The lack of sprinklers or an alarm was not a violation "because of the age of the building," which was built before the current code, Smith said. Newer buildings and newly remodeled buildings must have smoke detectors, he said.

Ryan answers 'turn on red' question

Illinois' right turn on red law is a popular time-saver for motorists. However, turning right on red has become so automatic that motorists sometimes abuse the law and put other drivers, pedestrians and cyclists at peril.

Q. What is permitted under the right turn on red law?

A. You may turn right at a red light after stopping, but enter the intersection cautiously. Yield the right of way to any vehicle in the intersection or approaching on another road close enough to create an immediate hazard. Also yield the right of way to pedestrians in the intersection or an adjacent crosswalk.

You may turn left at a red light from a one-way street into a one-way street after stopping. Before turning, yield the right of way to other drivers, pedestrians and cyclists.

State or local authorities can prohibit a right or left turn on red. Therefore, look for and obey all "No Turn On Red" signs.

Q. What can pedestrians and cyclists do to protect themselves from motorists who abuse the law?

A. Watch for drivers who are turning right or left at a red light. Even if you have the walk light, look for cars that are preparing to turn before you step off the curb.

Centel service to curb harassing phone calls

Central Telephone Company (Centel) has introduced the new Call Trace service that allows its residential customers to have information about a harassing phone call "captured" at the phone company.

"Customers in our serving area now have the power to start a trace as soon as an obscene or abusive call is received," said Jean Anderson, Centel marketing product manager. "The service is automatically available to all of our residential customers in our northwest suburban serving area. There is no need to call our office to order the Call Trace service."

According to Anderson, customers only pay for the service when it is used. A $4 charge will appear on the customer's phone bill for each completed trace. She explained that a computer at Centel's Nuisance Center will print a summary about the trace including the caller's phone number, the time and date of the phone call.

"By law, we have to keep all trace information strictly confidential," Anderson said. "Any information we have on a trace will only be released to law enforcement officials under court order. We cannot give customers a copy of a trace report."

Anderson further explained that once a trace has been completed, customers must call their local police department and file a report about the call. The police may require more than one trace before charges can be filed against the caller. "Customers should only activate a trace if the call is of a serious nature that they will follow-up with police."

According to Anderson, because Call Trace traces the last call that was received, it's important to begin the service immediately after receiving an abusive call for the trace to work.

She outlined the following steps to activate the Call Trace service after receiving an obscene, threatening, or abusive call:

- Hang up the phone.
- Lift the receiver and listen for dial tone.
- Press the *57 buttons on your phone. (With a rotary phone, dial 1157).
- You will hear a recorded message informing you that the trace is about to be completed. You will be told to dial 1 to complete the trace. If you hang up at this point, the trace will be canceled and you will not be charged.
- If you press 1, you will hear a recorded message telling you the trace has been completed.

Anderson noted that some calls can't be traced by this service. If the trace can't be completed, contact Centel's Nuisance Center at (708) 768-6483 to explore other options of dealing with abusive calls.

LGH offers reduced price mammography

New statistics predict that one in nine women will have breast cancer in her lifetime. Early detection, however, can decrease the suffering and often prevent death.

To help with this effort, Lutheran General Hospital (LGH), 1775 Dempster Street, is joining in the American Cancer Society's Discount Screening Program by offering lower-priced mammograms during the month of October. The $60 fee includes both the mammogram and the radiologist's reading fee.

Using low dose X-ray equipment dedicated to breast examinations, mammograms frequently detect lumps in the breast often before they can be felt thereby significantly improving survival. If breast cancer is caught early enough, the patient may be treated with breast conservation surgery, making a mastectomy unnecessary. This painless procedure takes less than an hour. The American Cancer Society suggests women obtain a baseline mammogram between the ages of 35 and 39. Then they should have a mammogram every two years between the ages of 40 and 49 and once a year after that.

With a total of three mammography units, LGH staff perform some 12,000 mammography exams annually.

Mammograms will be offered at two sites, the LGH Radiology Department and the LGH Diagnostic Center in the Golf Ambulatory Surgical Pavilion, 8901 Golf Road, Des Plaines. To schedule a mammogram at the hospital, call (708) 696-7177. To make an appointment at Golf Ambulatory Surgical Pavilion, call (708) 803-2940.

Mammograms should be routine

At the age of 40, a woman should start making mammography part of her routine health care. A mammogram is an X-ray of the breast used to detect breast cancer.

Doctors use mammograms to detect cancer early, even before a breast lump can be felt. Early diagnosis of breast cancer is important for prompt treatment of the disease. When breast cancer is treated before it has spread, the chances of complete recovery are good.

Scientists estimate that deaths from breast cancer would decrease by at least 30 percent if all women got mammograms as recommended. Despite this encouraging fact, only 40 percent of American women follow the guidelines established by the National Cancer Institute. The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists (ACOG), and 11 other medical organizations.

These groups recommend that all women ages 40 to 49 have mammograms every one to two years and women over age 50 have mammograms every year.

Mammograms are available through hospitals, clinics, doctors offices and special mammography centers. If a doctor does not have a mammography unit in the office, he or she will be able to order the test at a nearby location. Before having a mammogram, check that the equipment is special equipment only used for mammography and that it is certified by the American College of Radiology.

Resurrection offers screening mammograms at reduced price

Special pricing for screening mammograms has been instituted at Resurrection Medical Center, 7435 W. Talcott Ave., Chicago. The price of $75 includes the examination and the radiologist's fee.

Screening mammography is an effort to detect unsuspected breast cancer in asymptomatic women," said Gregory Moss, M.D., Medical Director of Diagnostic Radiology at Resurrection. The screening examination, which includes two views of each breast, is limited to women with no symptoms of breast cancer. Should the screening mammogram indicate a need for further diagnostic views, the diagnostic mammogram price of $113 will be charged instead of the $75 fee.

"We have introduced this lower priced screening mammogram to encourage women to seek early detection of breast cancer, which affects one of nine women today," Dr. Moss said. The American Cancer Society recommends a baseline exam between the ages of 35 and 39, a mammogram every other year between ages 40 and 50 and an annual mammogram after 50.

Screening mammograms are available in the new Mammography Center in the Professional Building at Resurrection. The center is accredited by the American College of Radiology and approved by the American Cancer Society. It features state-of-the-art X-ray equipment with low doses of radiation, an all-female staff and a comfortable, private atmosphere.

The Mammography Center is open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday. For an appointment, call (312) 792-5127.

sign should be removed, said Trustee Bart Murphy, and he questioned the equity of allowing a sign there and not elsewhere in the Village.

Code Enforcement Director Joe Salerno explained no billboards are allowed unless they have been there, although the unincorporated areas outside the Village are now allowing them. He cited examples at Washington Street and Golf Road and on Milwaukee Avenue, north of Golf Road.

President Nicholas Blase said the sign is "grandfathered...it was already there." He said Federal courts are trying to restrict the number of billboards, but in the county, there is almost no law. He added "We're right in the middle of all that." Trustee Tom Bondi gained majority approval for extending Sportmart's use of the billboard for two years even though Trustees Murphy and James Mahoney dissented.

The Village gains use of half of the billboard for six months of the year and also 25 percent of the rental revenue. Sportmart will attempt to attract rental customers who do not compete with established Niles businesses.

In other zoning action, the Board approved changing Niles parking requirements at mini mart gas stations. It will now require one space for each 250 sq. ft. of floor area and two parking spaces for employees. In addition, if auto service bays are present, three spaces must be provided for each bay.

bankrupt. Pontarelli replied "Yes sir, we have financing lined up, ready to go." In reference to running out of money, he said "...you've got my word for it, it'll never happen."

Developers' plans call for 44 units in a five story, "L" shaped building with the first floor devoted to indoor parking. All of the units have two bedrooms and the majority have two baths. Prices range from $115,000 to $175,000.

In a Planned Unit Development (PUD) such as The Greens, builders can expect to be given allowances in zoning requirements in return for the amenities they include in their project, according to Joe Salerno, Niles Code Enforcement Director.

Niles Code calls for about 17 units per acre under R-4, Multiple family zoning. In this case there will be about 30 units per acre, less dense than the 32 units allowed at Bunker Hill.

Compensating amenities described by builder Pontarelli include a brick paved patio area facing the river and including a barbeque area, gazebo and decorated walkway. The building will be set back 105 feet from Milwaukee Avenue and include a meeting room, card room, library and on the fifth floor, an exercise room with a skylight. A paved brick area near the street will feature lamp posts and benches.

According to landscaping consultant Ralph Campbell, the landscaping budget calls for a dense combination of deciduous and evergreen plantings with trees five inches in diameter planned for the front of the building. About 75 percent of the site is devoted to green areas, walkways and the driveway.

Some Board members balked at the project's 1.5 parking spaces per unit, but attorney Jeffrey Lerner, representing the developers, said the neighbor to the north has agreed to grant an easement for additional parking spaces.

Commissioner Angelo Troiani said "The density is high, but to get amenities, I'd rather see a condo unit than some strip (of stores)." At Troiani's motion, the Board approved the request to allow the proposed development with the stipulation an easement for 22 parking spaces be made available on the business property to the north for overflow parking.

Food and gift certificates may be brought to the Maine Township Town Hall, 1700 Ballard Rd., Park Ridge (between Potter and Greenwood) during regular office hours from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to noon Saturday.

Park Board OKs $1.5 million Sports Complex rehab

by Sheila Hackett

The Niles Park District's Oasis Water Park will absorb Sports Complex swimmers in summer, '93. The short term diversion of swimmers from the Complex's 8345 Ballard Road facility assures ice skaters will have access to the Complex rink during the facility's phased renovation.

James Maland, a consultant with rink specialists Bonestroo, Rosene and Anderlik Associates outlined the phased construction plan to the Niles Park Board Oct. 29 and won their approval to proceed. Bonestroo will be paid $14,401 or over nine percent of the project's total cost of $1,562,000. Their fee covers the architect's design, bidding, construction services and general overseeing of the project. Actual construction could start in April.

This project and the renovation of the ice rink at a cost of $975,000 will be paid for with funds from September issue of $2.7 million in Park District bonds. Board President Carol Pank noted the need to stay within budget and under the amount of the bond issue.

Ice rink rehabilitation is currently underway and is due to be done by Dec. 15. Skating programs can begin then and continue until August, '93, when an annual maintenance shut down is planned. The ice rink would reopen in September.

At Commissioner Marlene Baczek's request, Maland explained much of the cost for renovating the 23 year old Complex lap pool is from tearing up the concrete deck to reach pipes that began leaking last season. A new stainless steel gutter system will be easier to repair, consolidate the piping and have more longevity, he said. The sand filter is being replaced, which is costly.

The Complex's wading pool is being totally re-worked and will have a zero depth area and new play features. A used water filter will be installed in this pool but "renovation is always expensive," Maland said.

Commissioner Elaine Heinen questioned whether a bubble enclosure could transform the lap pool into a year-round facility. Bubbles have been unsuccessful in the past, Maland said. Humidity is a problem and pool decking and layout are different when one is used.

The Board meeting was continued to Nov. 4 at 7:30 p.m.

Clinton wins...

votes to Blaine's 31,927.

ILLINOIS STATE SENATE-7th DISTRICT

With 97 percent of the votes counted, indications are State Senator Walter M. Dudyecz will go back for his third term in the Springfield Senate as a result of his substantial victory over challenger Democrat James McGing, a Chicago lawyer. Dudyecz edged his opponent with 46,807 votes to McGing's 43,771 votes.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE-13th DISTRICT

Twenty two year incumbent Illinois State Representative Ralph Capparelli (D-13th) beat out repeat challenger Josef Matuschka of Niles. He garnered 24,937 votes to Matuschka's 19,751. The legislative re-map which moved the 13th representative district farther north in the suburbs seemed not to harm Chicagoan Capparelli, who recently won praise from the Suburban Mayors' Action Council for his voting record in support of suburban issues.

ILLINOIS HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES-55TH DISTRICT

In the 55th Illinois Representative district, Republican Rosemary Mulligan of Des Plaines, a municipal law paralegal, epitomized "the year of the woman" by gaining the legislative seat she narrowly lost to Representative Penny Pullen (R-55th) in 1990 by a six vote margin.

Mulligan succeeded over her challenger, retired teacher Robert

J. Cassidy, a Des Plaines Democrat, with a comfortable tally of 25,680 votes to Cassidy's 14,297.

ILLINOIS STATE SENATE-8th DISTRICT

Incumbent Democratic Senator Howard Carroll easily retained his Senate seat in the face of a challenge by Republican Thomas Joseph. Both men are Chicagoans. Carroll chalked up 40,865 votes to Joseph's 20,600 votes.

Carroll, a senator 19 years, is Chairman of the Senate Appropriations committee, and serves on Finance and Credit Regulation; Judiciary; State Government Reorganization and Administration; and Legislative Information System committees. The District includes Lincolnwood and parts of Skokie and the far north side of Chicago.

U.S. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES-9th DISTRICT

Veteran Democratic Congressman Sidney R. Yates crushed five time opponent Dr. Herb Sohn by earning 136,853 votes to Sohn's 56,875. Figures were not available for Sheila A. Jones, Economic Recovery party candidate.

The victory enables Yates, 83, to begin his 22nd term representing the Ninth Congressional district. He advocates public works projects to lower unemployment and will push for affordable national health care. Yates, a lawyer, is a member of the House Appropriations Committee and Chairman of the House Committee on the Interior.

Niles Mortgage Credit program

The Village of Niles's Mortgage Credit Certification (MCC) program, which allows first-time homebuyers a federal tax credit of up to $2,000, combined with record low home mortgage rates provides an outstanding opportunity for first-time homebuyers in Niles.

The program is administered locally through First National Bank of Niles and is available to homebuyers in the Village of Niles because of legislative actions by the village government. Through an MCC a first-time homebuyer can take up to $2,000 or 50% of the mortgage interest per year, whichever is less, as a direct federal tax credit. The remaining interest is deducted in the usual manner. With a 30-year mortgage of $80,000 at 8.5 percent, a homeowner would save over $52,000 during the life of the loan. For the first year alone, the savings would be over $1,700.

There are purchase price and income limits associated with this program that are set by the federal government. In Niles, the income limits are $48,400 for a family of two or fewer, and $55,660 for a family of three or more. Purchase price limits are $165,510 for a new home, and $106,290 for an existing home.

There will be a Realtor and Mortgage Lender Seminar open to the public at 10 a.m. on Thursday, Nov. 5, 1992 held at Niles Village Hall Council Chambers 7601 N. Milwaukee Ave.

For more information call the program administrator, George K. Baum & Company at (312) 645-9497 or First National Bank of Niles at (708) 967-5300.

Human relations council takes stand on community diversity

The North Suburban Regional Human Relations Council set Tuesday, Oct. 13 in Winnetka to formally adopt its mission to increase community awareness of human relations issues in the northern suburbs.

The council's objectives include increasing the number of active human relations commissions on the north shore. It will establish an ongoing framework for human relations commissions to work together on regional issues and foster acceptance and recognition of the benefits of community diversity. Council membership is composed of public officials and human relations representatives from Chicago's northern suburbs including Highland Park, Deerfield, Northbrook, Glenview, Glenview, Wilmette, Evanston, Morton Grove and Skokie. Despite local and federal Fair Housing laws, the Chicago metropolitan area remains the most racially segregated in the nation, a status characterized by HUD as hyper-segregation. Newly established, the Council has already received support from the Evanston and Skokie Human Relations Commissions, the Glencoe Human Relations Committee, the Illinois Department of Human Rights and the North Shore Community Housing Resource Board.

Initiated by the Interfaith Housing Center and funded through a grant from the Chicago Community Trust, the Regional Council hopes to expand its membership to include the entire north suburban area from Lincolnwood north to Highwood, and west to the tollway.

Local news cable program to be launched

ChicagoLand Television News (CLTV), the Chicago area's first 24-hour local news cable programming service, will be launched in January and will have its headquarters in suburban Oak Brook. It was announced today by Bob Gremillion, vice president/general manager, Tribune Regional Programming.

CLTV will be carried on the Continental Cablevision and TeleCommunications, Inc., systems the Chicago area's two largest cable companies. Their combined subscriber base will insure that more than 500,000 Chicago and suburban homes will have CLTV available starting January 1, 1993. Additional cable systems are expected to offer CLTV to their subscribers throughout 1993.

According to Gremillion, CLTV is working with the Sony Business and Professional Group to design, develop and construct a turnkey television system. This system includes cameras, editing suites, master control room, production studio, production control room equipment and an automated commercial playback system.

Through the news gathering resources of the Chicago Tribune, ChicagoLand will provide blanket news coverage of both the City of Chicago and the growing communities in the eight surrounding counties, including those in Northwest Indiana. CLTV will also have news crews based at Chicago Tribune Suburban news bureaus.

In addition to its own in-depth local news coverage, CLTV will provide selected simulcast and repeat telecasts of WGN-TV's news programs and selected live and repeat Chicago Cubs baseball games. Individual cable operators will also have the opportunity to include system specific news inserts in specially provided positions and CLTV's local nature permits cable operators to supply advertising and special features on an individual community basis.

Political Poster Cleanup

Mel Thillens of Thillens Checkers is trying to organize grade school students into a "political poster cleanup campaign." One of the most frequent citizen complaints during each election is the large number of posters still hanging around on public property many days after the voters have cast their ballots. Trees, telephone poles, street signs, etc., are full of them.

The Thillens proposal to help speed the cleanup of these posters is to give grade school students 10¢ for each poster or sticker they bring to the collection site, the Thillens General Office, 4242 N. Elston Avenue in Chicago.

There are a few rules for the students to note before they receive payment. Collection will only take place on Friday, Nov. 6 from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Thillens office. Only posters or stickers that have visible signs that they were hanging up outside will be considered, and a maximum of fifty of the exact same poster will be allowed. Thillens wants to make sure they're cleaning up public streets, not just a loser's campaign headquarters. Finally, only children in 8th grade or younger are being enlisted for this project.

"Political posters are a viable medium to get votes," says project sponsor Mel Thillens. "The politicians have been doing a good job lately in removing their posters after campaigns, but we want to help speed up the process. By getting the help from grade school students, it not only teaches them a lesson in ecology, but also helps them earn a little extra Christmas money at the same time."

Circus showcases animal acts

Among the upper echelons of Circus animal acts, Americans are a rare breed. But the all-new 122nd Edition of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, through November 15, at the Rosemont Horizon, then moving to the Chicago Stadium November 17 through 29, showcases the talents of two young American animal trainers.

Wade Burck presents 13 magnificent Bengal tigers in a regal display which highlights the huge cats' natural abilities. Bernice Collins, the first black female animal presenter in circus history, works with four Belgian draft horses and four miniature horses in a classic "big and little act."

Wade Burck began studying creatures in the wild near Hillsboro, North Dakota, as a youngster. At age 17, he enrolled in college to earn a veterinary degree. Later, he apprenticed himself to an animal trainer in Florida and gained valuable experience working with tigers, elephants, camels, horses and llamas.

Bernice Collins' entree into The Greatest Show On Earth was by way of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Clown College. She made history as the first black female clown before applying her talents to dancing and then working with animals.

The marvelous menagerie of the all-new 122nd Edition of The Greatest Show On Earth includes Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus' herd of hugely talented performing pachyderms; that mightiest of mammals, King Tusk; the canine capers of Lloyd's Old English Sheepdogs and Adams Dog Act, as well as the mesmerizing corbines from Kazakhstan on their quicksilver stunts.

Audiences will also witness, for the first time ever in the Western Hemisphere, the talents and showmanship of the amazing Mongolians, as well as the unbelievable stealth and speed of teenage Wushu masters from the People's Republic of China. The world-famous Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus clowns, lovely dancers and Ringmaster Jim Ragona, the Voice of The Greatest Show On Earth, round out this exhilarating offering of international aptitude.

Tickets are available at The Rosemont Horizon and Chicago Stadium box offices or call The Horizon (708) 635-6600 or The Stadium (312) 733-5300. All seats are reserved and cost $7.50, $9.50, $11.50 and $13.50.

Wright College features blues performer

Local acoustic blues guitarist, singer/songwriter, and storyteller Fruteland Jackson will be featured in the Lunchtime Entertainment Series performance, sponsored by the Student Government Association, at Wright College on Wednesday, Nov. 18, in the campus cafeteria at 12:30 p.m. Also, that day he will entertain the evening students at a second free program in Room 106 at 5 p.m.

Fruteland Jackson's songs range from blues ballads to folk and gospel standards. Many of his original works combine contemporary themes played in the spirit of blues in traditional styles. His early exposure to gospel singing and later to country blues music is the inspiration of many of his songs. While a youngster, he self-mastered the mechanics of the guitar and received formal musical training in high school and more recently at Columbia College and Roosevelt University. For the past ten years he has developed a significant repertoire and reputation as an acoustic blues guitarist.

The Chicago Historical Society honored him with an audio exhibit in July 1992 for writing a blues song about the Great Chicago Flood titled "Chicago, the City I Love (She's Gettin' Washed Away)." This blues commentary was used to create the soundtrack for a documentary film for the Historical Society's archives. Earlier this summer in June, Fruteland Jackson played at the Eureka Springs (Arkansas) Blues Festival, billed as the largest acoustic blues festival in the U.S.

Pheasant Run extends 'Music Man'

Due to popular demand, Pheasant Run Dinner Theatre, in St. Charles announced an extension of their current production, Meredith Willson's "The Music Man." With the eight week extension, the show will now close on New Year's Eve, Thursday, Dec. 31, 1992.

In addition to the extension, Pheasant Run Resort's Director of Entertainment, Diana Martine, has announced that Pheasant Run's next production will be Andrew Lloyd Webber's Tony Award winning musical biography, "Evita." Opening on Friday, January 22, 1993, "Evita" will run through the summer of 1993 when "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" will open.

Audiences for each show have been at or near capacity for "The Music Man," which opened in July and was expected to run until October 31. The nostalgic musical portrays the story of a glib-tongued con man who arrives in River City, IA, in the early 1900's, ready to create a fictitious boy's band and to swindle the townspeople out of a small fortune. What he finds is an irascible town librarian and his "foot caught in the door" for the very first time. This Broadway Classic stars Roger Anderson in the role of the Professor Harold Hill, Gwen Eagleton as the librarian, Marion Paroo, and features Anna Chlumsky, as Amariyis.

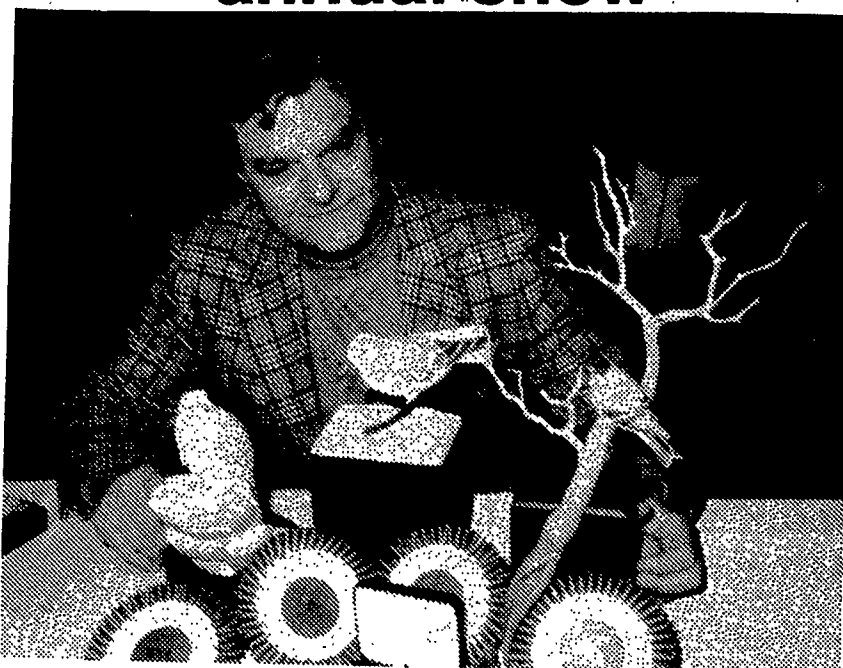

Performances for "The Music Man" are held Thursday and Friday at 7:30 p.m., Saturdays at 5 and 6 p.m., and Sundays at 2 and 6 p.m. All performances include dinner, although "show only" tickets are available for some performances. ### Advice to teens: Plan carefully for successful dance

Planning - Set up a dance committee to be in charge. Have a mix of teens and adults on the committee, but for the most part, let the youth run the dance with the adults serving as advisors. Make sure the day you pick for the dance doesn't conflict with any major school or community activities.

Publicity - Be sure everyone knows the dance is coming up. Build some excitement by making creative posters or fliers. Be clear about the date, time, place and dress code.

Atmosphere - It's not required, but if you'd like to make your dance stand out, build it around a theme. For example: •Hawaiian: Wear loud flowered shirts and sunglasses; serve pineapple.

•50's or 60's: Go preppy or hippie. Play music from those eras and do the swing or the mashed potato.

•Winter: To be different, in the summer put up paper snowflakes and hang Christmas lights. Decorations - If you've got a theme, go for matching decor. Whatever you do, remember the best decorations are cheap but inventive. And make sure the decorations are easy to put up and take down.

Lighting - A dance usually calls for soft lighting, but you should still be able to see across the room. An absolute black-out is unsafe and counter-productive. How can you decide who you want to dance with next, if you can't see who's there?

Refreshments - An easy punch or canned soft drinks and a variety of light snacks you can eat with your fingers are probably best. Again, make them go with the theme if possible (Christmas cookies in August can be a real giggle). Don't forget cups and napkins and plenty of trash cans strategically placed. Make sure the refreshments are easy to prepare and clean up because nobody wants to be stuck in the kitchen during the dance.

Setup - Using chairs, tables or other dividers, make the dance area the right size for the expected gathering. A floor that's too big can make the dance seem desolate, and if it's too cramped you'll feel like a herd of cattle.

Music - The dance committee should get together to select and screen music before the dance.

Have a mixture of fast and slow songs, up-to-the-minute tunes and golden oldies. And make sure you can dance to them. Some music may be popular at the moment and good for listening, but impossible to dance to. The volume should be low enough to allow people standing side-by-side to talk without shouting. If you can't hear your dance partner talk, or yourself think, the music is too loud.

Dance Etiquette - Spread yourself around. Both girls and guys, ask a number of different people to dance and, if you get asked, say yes! Making new friends is part of what the dance is all about. And don't worry if you don't know how to dance very well. Most people are much too concerned about their own performance on the dance floor to spend time critiquing yours. So just relax and have a good time.

Extra fun - You might try adding a different twist to your dance by having one of these activities somewhere in the middle: •Limbo contest •Lip sync competition •Dance lessons from experts •Mixer dances, like a "snowball" Cleanup - It's the last part of any successful dance. The secret is to have a plan, with lots of people assigned to specific chores. Make sure everyone knows what needs to be done, and where everything goes, especially trash. And finally, end your dance early enough so that everyone can be home by curfew.

Immunizations aren't just for kids

By the Illinois State Medical Society in conjunction with ISMS member Joan E. Cummings, M.D. Dr. Cummings, director of the Edward A. Hines Jr. VA Hospital in Hines, Ill., specializes in internal medicine and gerontology.

Immunizations aren't just for children. They are for adults, too, but many grown-ups are not being immunized and the impact is costly. Between 65,000 and 115,000 Americans die each year from vaccine-preventable diseases. Of those, only between 10 and 15 percent are children.

During "Adult Immunization Week," October 26 through October 31, check to make sure you and other adults in your household are properly immunized. The U.S. Centers for Disease Control recommends that some or all adults be immunized against eight common illnesses -- influenza, pneumococcal pneumonia, hepatitis B, measles, mumps, rubella, tetanus and diphtheria. Which vaccines you need depend on your age, health status, lifestyle, occupation, environmental situation and travel.

If you are over the age of 65 or have immune deficiencies caused by chronic illnesses, such as cancer or diabetes, you should receive a flu shot annually and the pneumonia vaccine at least once. While influenza is easily fought off by young, healthy adults, its effects can be severe for the elderly and the immune deficient.

In addition, you should be protected against hepatitis B if you're exposed to blood or its products -- as a health care worker or a patient receiving transfusions or undergoing dialysis. Hepatitis B, which can cause liver cancer and cirrhosis of the liver, is transmitted through blood, saliva and other bodily fluids. This places people with multiple sex partners and intravenous drug users at high risk also.

Even if you were immunized as a child, you may need a booster shot today. Your immunity to tetanus and diphtheria is maintained only by receiving booster shots every 10 years. This is especially important for the elderly, in whom tetanus is on the rise.

Because the measles vaccine isn't always 100 percent effective in everyone who receives it during infancy, you may need a second dose. Illinois law now requires that students receive a second measles vaccine before attending college, and the CDC recommends it if you work in a health care facility, or are traveling to endemic areas.

All of these vaccines provide protection against disease by promoting your body's immune system to produce antibodies -- internal disease fighters -- to specific viruses and bacteria. If you subsequently come in contact with these viruses or bacteria, your body will automatically call up these disease fighters to prevent you from falling ill.

As such, vaccines have been effective in eradicating many diseases, such as polio and small pox, and have dramatically reduced the occurrence of many other common illnesses. By 1988, the incidence of measles had declined more than 98 percent since the prevaccine era. The influenza vaccine has been found to be 75 percent effective in reducing deaths in high-risk patients and the pneumonia vaccine more than 60 percent effective.

The social and economic costs of these diseases more than justify adult immunization. Influenza causes more than 172,000 people to be hospitalized each year, costing society $600 million. It kills between 20,000 and 70,000 people -- lives no one can put a price tag on.

Yet despite all this, many adults go unprotected against disease for fear of adverse reactions -- a fear that is unfounded. The most common side effect is tenderness or redness of the skin surrounding the area where the vaccine was administered. Serious side effects to vaccines are few and far between and can be avoided if you discuss any allergies and your medical history are communicated to your doctor.

Immunizations are your best weapon against disease. So, check with your doctor to make sure you and your family members are properly immunized. And be sure to keep up-to-date records of your vaccination history. This will help you remember when your next vaccinations are needed.

Mindscape hosts jewelry invitational

Gold and silver, copper and bronze, brass and aluminum. You're invited to a marriage of these metals at Mindscape Gallery's upcoming jewelry invitational, which opens Nov. 7.

The current installment in Mindscape's Adornments series concentrates on earrings, brooches, necklaces, pendants and rings created from a mixture of metals. During Married and Varied Metals jewelry collectors will find a range of artistic techniques and unique metal combinations and gain a greater understanding of both the processes involved and the comparative value of these extraordinary pieces relative to traditional items of gold and silver.

"From the artist's point of view, combining different metals is both a technical challenge and a process that offers exciting design possibilities," says Mindscape Co-director Deborah Farber. "To the collector, a mixed metal jewelry form can be imaginative and fun to wear, as well as a great deal more versatile in style than a piece composed of a single metal."

Some of the more than 30 participating jewelers specialize in creating mixed metal pieces; others have produced works especially to meet the challenge presented by this show, which runs through December 6 at Mindscape, located at 1506 Sherman Ave. in Evanston.

Both up-and-coming talents and established masters will participate in the exhibition, including Elizabeth Agte, Catherine Butler, Maggi DeBaecke, Ann Allen, Linda Steinworth, Nels Nelson, Thomas Mann, Michele Friedman, Eric Russell and Barbara Sucherman.

Gallery hours are Monday, 12-8; Tuesday through Saturday, 10-6; Thursday 10-8; and Sunday, 12-5. For additional information and our extended holiday hours, please call Mindscape Gallery at (708) 864-2660.

How to create a new business development program for your firm

by James T. Berger, President
Market Strategies

If NEW PRODUCTS are the lifeblood of a manufacturing company, NEW BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT is the lifeblood of a professional service organization.

Isn't the most important and highest paid individual in any professional service organization the "business maker?" However, this "rainmaker" is essentially a "closer." Before he can perform his task, the organization must generate new leads, make exploratory sales calls and bring potential customers or clients to the "closing" point.

In today's highly competitive business environment, the professional service firms that will survive and thrive are those who can develop new business relationships while retaining existing ones.

CREATING A NEW BUSINESS CULTURE

The first step -- and it's a big one -- in implementing your New Business Development Program is to establish a "marketing culture" within the firm.

-- Professionals should be made aware that the firm places a premium on new business development.

-- Professionals should be given incentives to commit time for new business development activities.

-- Major rewards and recognition should be given to professionals who develop new business.

-- Promotions should be based on the ability to bring in new accounts.

OVERCOMING RESISTANCE

Turning a lawyer, accountant, architect or engineer into a new business generator is no easy task.

Professionals have little respect for "sales people." That's one reason they become professionals. Second, selling is an ego threatening activity. Nobody wants to be rejected. Many people have difficulty picking up the telephone and calling somebody they don't know.

NEED FOR TRAINING AND PROFESSIONAL GUIDANCE

Don't think you can establish a marketing culture on your own. It's almost impossible. Seek professional assistance in turning your professionals into marketers. It's a major time and money commitment, but it just might spell the difference between success and failure for your firm.

In seeking professional assistance, take nothing for granted. Those professionals who want to convert into new business development experts probably don't know how to use the telephone effectively, how to write a new business opening or follow-up letter or make a "sales presentation."

James T. Berger is a marketing consultant who specializes in new business development and client retention. He is a faculty member at Northwestern University and University of Illinois at Chicago where he teaches a variety of marketing-related courses.

Home Equity loans help finance college educations

Parents of seniors or juniors in high school whose children are thinking of going to college should start evaluating their financial resources right now, suggests Richard Glau, a senior vice president at First National Bank of Des Plaines. He says that families who are homeowners might discover that they can afford to send a child to a better college than they realize.

This time of year, most seniors have some idea about where they want to go to college. Parents do not want to disappoint them, but must be realistic about financing the education.

"Borrowing from the equity in your home to help pay for a college education makes sense," says Glau. "If you plan to seek financial aid from a college, the application form will ask for the value of your house. The aid process almost expects you to tap your home equity before you can qualify for financial assistance."

Generally, financial aid is awarded on a first-come, first-served basis each year. Students who want to enter college next year need to apply for financial assistance as soon as possible after January 2, 1993.

"Parents of college-bound children are usually surprised when they see how limited the financial aid is," says Glau. "For example, a Stafford Loan, which is the most common federal program available, offers a maximum of $2,600 each year. Compare this to about $7,000 for the average cost of a public university education in Illinois, and you can see that most families need more money. The cost of out-of-state schools averages about $12,000 a year."

The home equity loan offers many advantages that other loans do not, including low interest rates, tax-deductible interest payments, flexible repayment options, convenience, fewer fees and up to 10 years to repay the principal.

Glau explains that a home equity loan is like a line of credit, which lets you borrow what you need as you need it, such as tuition for one semester at a time. You pay interest only on the amount you have actually borrowed.

"At our bank, for example you may borrow up to 75 percent of your home's equity, which is the appraised value of your home less the outstanding mortgage balance," Glau continues. "While this is a loan on your real estate, you don't pay points or application fees. There is a nominal annual fee assessed after the first year but no closing fees on lines up to $50,000."

Possibly the greatest advantage of a home equity loan is its convenience. Glau says that at First National Bank of Des Plaines, once you are approved, you can borrow, repay and re-borrow without account reviews or new approvals. "This flexibility helps with those unanticipated college expenses such as air fares and extracurricular activities."

"While a principal payment is not required until the balance is due at maturity, you may make payable on your principal any time you want," Glau says. "Or, in ten years, when your children have completed their educations and are gone, you could even consider selling your house to pay off the loan."

Glau says another advantage is that, once a home equity loan is approved, the borrower can use the equity for almost any purpose.

"How you apply the money is your business, but be prudent," warns Glau. "Using the equity you have in your home for education or for home improvements is an investment, but you can also draw upon the equity for medical bills, a new car, new furniture or a vacation. Keep in mind that the interest you pay might not qualify as tax-deductible. Nor do you want to use up money that you intend to apply toward tuition."

Glau suggests you discuss with your banker all of the advantages and possible risks in securing a home equity loan.

Reynolds Recycling adds half-hour

The end of Daylight Savings has just added another hour of morning for Chicago residents. Now Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Company (RARCO) plans to add a half-hour of afternoon, beginning the first week of November.

"We're not as ambitious as Daylight Savings," said Patrick J. Madison, area business manager for Reynolds, a division of Reynolds Metals Company. "We plan to add 30 minutes to Saturday afternoons, only."

The move, an extension of buying hours at Reynolds Recycling centers - nearly 30 in Chicagoland and Northwest Indiana - will not increase employment. It will provide more convenience and hours for area recyclers.

"Most of our centers have been open 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, but only 9 a.m. to 4 on Saturday," Madison said. "Our buyers have used that time to do reports. Now we're asking them to keep the doors open and give consumers a little more flexibility to recycle their aluminum, copper and brass."

The change also streamlines recorded messages and office time explaining house to callers. "Now most of our centers are open, 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Tuesday through Saturday," Madison said. "That's a lot simpler."

For more information call (708) 344-8215 or toll-free, 1 (800) 228-2525.

Local recycling centers are located in Des Plaines - K mart lot, Oakton Avenue and Lee; and Glenview - Talisman Shopping center lot, NE corner Golf and Washington.

Tax penalties ensure that retirement funds be used during retirement years

by Jeffrey Cardella
Edward D. Jones & Co.
8143 N. Milwaukee Ave.
Niles, IL 60714, (708) 470-8953

More and more individuals are retiring earlier today through forced retirement or individual choice. When this occurs, the new retiree who has participated in a qualified retirement plan typically has the option to choose a guaranteed monthly income in the form of an annuity or a lump-sum distribution of the entire retirement account balance. What to do?

Because of the various tax consequences associated with retirement distributions, anyone facing retirement should consult a qualified tax professional before committing to either choice. Once a selection is made, it is generally irreversible.

Annuity distributions appeal to some retirees because of the guaranteed income. Lump-sum distributions, however, are probably the more popular option.

A lump-sum distribution is the payment of the entire balance of your retirement account in a single calendar year. Once you receive the distribution, you may either keep the money and do nothing (in which case taxes are due on the entire amount) or defer taxes by rolling part or all of the proceeds into an Individual Retirement Account (IRA). The rollover must take place within 60 days of the date the distribution is received.

Beginning Jan. 1, 1993, lump-sum distributions will be transferable directly to an IRA rather than the recipient having to take receipt of the distribution. In addition, employees who wish to take receipt of their lump sum as opposed to directly transferring it to another IRA qualified plan, must have at least five years of participation in the plan to do so. Finally, lump-sum distributions received after Jan. 1, 1993, will be assessed a 20 percent withholding tax if the distribution is paid directly to the individual. We will address these distribution changes in more detail after the first of the year.

Because taxes are eventually due on retirement funds as money is withdrawn, some retirees elect to pay the taxes all at once and be done with it. There is possible special tax treatment associated with this choice, but the distribution must satisfy several criteria. Before making any decision to pay all taxes up front, talk to a knowledgeable tax professional and understand the consequences and your options.

Rollovers generally offer the most options. The entire distribution does not have to be rolled over. Any portion received, however, is taxed as ordinary income plus any applicable penalties and is not eligible for any special tax treatment.

Any amount, except employees' after-tax contributions can be rolled over into an approved IRA. Rollovers are not subject to the $2,000 maximum annual deposit imposed on regular IRAs, and an individual of any age may roll lump-sum distributions into an IRA. Once deposited into an IRA, however, the funds become subject to its withdrawal guidelines.

Rollovers of lump-sum distributions into IRAs are simple but must be done carefully by someone who is familiar with IRS rollover regulations. In addition, given the changes that will go into effect in 1993, extra care should be taken. Penalties may be imposed for improper rollover of funds. Retirement funds receive tax-favored treatment as they build. The purpose of penalties is to ensure that these funds are protected to be used during retirement years.

If you are considering retirement within the near future, take time now to explore your qualified retirement plan distribution options. Don't let a hasty decision claim precious retirement dollars.

LEARN ABOUT DENTAL IMPLANTS!

A dental implant is a non-removable replacement for a missing tooth, or multiple missing teeth. Implants are the modern alternative to dentures. They feel solid and secure like your natural teeth.

Would you like to know more about dental implants? Call Doctor Gregory Page & Associates for a consultation or visit our office and attend an educational seminar entitled "The Benefits of Dental Implants." There is a slide presentation and open house every month. Our doctors and staff are available to answer all of your questions about dental implants. For more information, call us at:

Your dental health is important to us at Doctor Gregory Page & Associates. We are beginning our 6th year of service to the Chicago community this November, and we are anxious to make you a part of our success.

Prevention is the key to healthy teeth and good oral hygiene. Doctor Page and the American Dental Association recommend a cleaning and check-up at least every six months. Come and visit us for your next cleaning.

Are you maintaining proper oral hygiene at home? Be sure to brush at least twice a day, and to floss regularly. Flossing removes plaque from the gum line and the teeth that is most likely to lead to decay and periodontal disease. Daily flossing will keep plaque from building up in these hard to reach areas.

Don't gamble when it comes to your teeth!!!
