Buglebits.....

We don't like to report a story one week in The Bugle and not follow-up with a second story which wraps-up the entire report.

Niles Park Board president Myrna Breitman told us Monday night the overcharge in this year's park assessment will be set aside in an interest-bearing account and will be applied to next year's tax bill, reducing it by the amount set aside. She said the budget includes separate levies for the operating budget which is 18 cents per $100 valuation and the bond levies which are 53 cents per the valuation. The error was in the bond levies which read 63 cents. Next year the 53 cent bond levy will be about 43 cents. It is our understanding there were three bonds which should have been abated but only two were reduced.

Myrna made no excuse for the error. She admitted the park people goofed. She said it wouldn't happen again - the district will have a bond company check the figures before they're sent to the County tax offices.

"The error could have been caught," said the President. But she noted Cook County is so far behind in its tax work that they have no means for allowing districts to check their figures once they're submitted to the County offices. She added if a taxing district inadvertently did not fill-in

No bond set in Dempster St. fatality

Tadeusz Kitlas, 40, of 9714 Bianco Terrace, Des Plaines, has had his stay at Cook County Jail extended after his Sept. 4 bond hearing was continued to Sept. 19 following his arrest in a hit-and-run accident at Harlem Avenue and Dempster Street that killed a Morton Grove woman.

Kitlas was arrested and charged with reckless homicide, aggravated driving under the influence of alcohol, leaving the scene of a personal injury accident, driving with a suspended license, improper lane usage, battery to an officer and resisting a police officer after the car he was

Trustees seek replacement for Royster

by Rosemary Tirio

Assistant Park District Director Ron Mrowiec will assume temporary leadership of the Niles Park District while commissioners seek a replacement for Tim Royster, 49, who announced his resignation Aug. 23 and vacated his office Sept. 3 after more than four years as executive director.

Although Royster said he was leaving the post for personal reasons, his resignation came just before his annual performance evaluation and just after the discovery of a clerical error that caused a 10 percent increase in the Park District's tax levy that left Niles residents in a quandary.

Enrollment up in District 63 schools

East Maine School District Supt. Robert Varga said the district is closely monitoring overcrowding at two schools where enrollment is growing.

Two large classes at Nelson Elementary School, 8901 N. Ozanam Ave., and some classes at Apollo School, 10100 Dee Road, are under surveillance, Varga said. The district may be forced to hire additional teachers if enrollment continues to grow at the schools, Varga said.

Enrollment in the district has been growing since Aug. 22, the first day of enrollment, and does not yet show signs of slowing, Varga said. He attributed the enrollment shifts to the increased mobility of district residents.

Eight-year mayor to retire to Florida; Village Board will name new mayor October 14

MG Mayor Hohs resigns suddenly

by Rosemary Tirio

Morton Grove Mayor Richard P. Hohs announced his retirement at the Sept. 9 Village Board Meeting. His retirement will become effective Oct. 14.

The trustees will go into executive session Sept. 24 at 5 p.m. in the Richard T. The acting president must be chosen from among the present village trustees, Arft said.

Hohs was a village trustee from 1971 to 1975, and again from 1979 to 1988, when, upon the death of former Mayor Richard Flickinger, he was selected by his peers on the Village Board to be acting village president until 1990. He has been reelected to the post every term since then.

"It's been grand to work for

Suspect in fatal crash held on $2 million bond

by Rosemary Tirio

Bond for John A. Maglio, 42, of Chicago, was set at $2 million at a hearing in Skokie District Court Sept. 3 after he was charged with the deaths of two people in a Niles car crash Aug. 11.

Maglio is being held in a special unit of Cook County Jail on two counts of first-degree murder in the crash that took the lives of 27-year-old Malas Moutaz of Rosemont and his passenger, Nancy E. Minnich, 33, of Addison.

Maglio told police he crashed his car into the rear of Moutaz's car while it was stopped for a red light in the northbound lane of Milwaukee Avenue near the Golf Mill Center.

Maglio's car was travelling around 50 mph at the time of the crash, police said. Maglio said he did it intentionally to test whether his life would be saved by his God, according to police.

Work out wisely

No one in Chicago can forget the severe heat wave of 1995. With summer creeping into full swing, individuals who love to stay fit must respect the heat, especially when exercising outside, said a dietitian from Loyola.

Exercise is safe to do during the summer, but some rules apply, said Frances Oppenheimer, clinical dietitian:

•Exercise in the early morning or evening. The warmest hours of the day are between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. and should be avoided.

•Replenish the body with liquid, preferably water.

•Wear proper clothing when exercising. Cotton clothing is best because the natural fibers absorb moisture and help the body cool itself down.

If light-headedness or shivering occurs, go indoors immediately. These are the beginning signs of heat stroke. Begin hydrating and relaxing the body. If the symptoms persist longer than 60 minutes, seek medical attention, said Oppenheimer.

For more information or to arrange an interview with a Loyola health care professional, call Nivinger at (708) 216-3200.

The Fall / Winter / Spring calendar for Morton Grove Historical Society will commence on Tuesday, Sept. 17 at 7 p.m. The general public is invited to join members at that time in the Baxter Room of the Public Library.

The usual brief business meeting will be followed by Jim Hart, telling us about Delaine Farm. He is a 3rd generation member of the family owners. He has colorful tales to tell, while he graces the history of the property from the original farm to the present housing development.

The land has an interesting background that Jim will bring to life. He is a veteran horseman with many stories to relate about Morton Grove stables and trails. Previously all supplies have been purchased by the crafters, but this year they are asking the people in the Morton Grove area to help by donating yarn or fabric. ### Niles Pastor meets Pope John Paul II at Vatican ceremony

Rev. John R. Hall pastor of Our Lady of Ransom parish in Niles, was among 150 leading friends and supporters of the Pope John Paul II Cultural Center to participate in a Vatican ceremony May 30 at which Pope John Paul II endorsed the project and blessed the Center's cornerstone.

Father Hall's parish contributed more than $30,000 to the effort to build the Center in Washington, D.C. When completed in the year 2000, the Cultural Center will include a library and study center as well as a museum that will tell the story of the papacy with special emphasis on the life and ministry of Pope John Paul II. More than $19.3 million has been raised for the Center in a nationwide campaign including nearly $700,000 in the Archdiocese of Chicago.

The cornerstone includes a small stone taken from the Tomb of St. Peter which Pope John Paul II said "will serve to symbolize the Center's union of purpose with the evangelizing efforts of the Successors of Peter." It has been brought to the United States under the care of Adam Cardinal Malda, Archbishop of Detroit, who heads the Cultural Center effort. The ancient stone, which bears an inscription of authentication from the Vatican, will become a permanent exhibit of the Center.

For more information, contact the Pope John Paul II Cultural Center Campaign at (312) 883-8518.

Congregation meets society's problems head-on

The Social Action Committee of Congregation B'nai Jehoshua Beth Elolium, Glenview, is hard at work organizing the third annual Mitzvah Day, Sunday, September 29.

Mitzvah Day is an extraordinary opportunity for over 1,000 families from numerous suburban communities to participate in Mitzvah (good deed) projects that make a difference in people's lives. Last year's Mitzvah Day resulted in recognition and $2,000 from the Paul Newman Foundation to help fund their Feed the Homeless Program.

The 26 special projects to be undertaken on Mitzvah Day include building and painting, food preparation, visiting elderly and developmentally challenged individuals, and a book drive. Some of the beneficiaries of this endeavor are Wings, Jocelyn Center, Ezra Multiservice Center, newly resettled Jews, and The Center for Enriched living.

On Mitzvah Day, as on every 4th of Sunday of the month, The Feed the Homeless Committee, chaired by Des Plaines resident Ben Goldstein, will prepare over 800 bagged lunches for distribution to the homeless.

The community is encouraged to participate in any of these projects and may contact (847) 729-7575 for more information.

To report the death of a Social Security beneficiary or Supplemental Security Income (SSI) recipient or to apply for Survivor benefits; call 1-800-SSA 772-1213, business days, 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

At the 6 p.m. service the "God's Kids" puppet team from Calvary Baptist Church in Elgin will be featured. They will be here to present their musical puppet show as we continue to celebrate Jesus ministry to children.

J. W. V. PRIDE

In the year 1896, a very important year to the Jewish War Veterans of the United States, little thought was given to how future veterans would benefit from the actions of a few Jewish Men who founded and chartered the Jewish War Veterans. (J.W.V.) The organization would guarantee that future American Jewish Veterans could be proud of the commitment of their fellow veterans. The Honors and Citations awarded to Jewish War Veterans is admirable.

This year, 1996, the one hundred year anniversary, is a proud time for the Jewish People of America. We have served in war and peace. As the oldest active war veteran organization, we are proud of our record and will continue to serve our community and our country.

Physical Therapists are hip to Macarena Dance

The "Macarena," a Latino-beat song and line dance with simple arm and hip movements, may be just the step to better health, according to the American Physical Therapy Association (APTA). As the Macarena bumps the Electric Slide as the world's hottest dance craze, people are getting on their feet and gyrating themselves into shape.

"The thing about this dance is it's easily learned, anybody can do it, it's group participation, and it's fun. You get the benefits of a basic workout using arms, legs, back-really the whole body-but it's not strenuous," said

Sean Gallagher, PT, director of Performing Arts Physical Therapy in New York City.

The Macarena has found a partner with physical therapists who are part of a national campaign to promote fitness in response to the Surgeon General's Report on Physical Activity and Health. The report concluded that even moderate physical activity for 30 minutes a day, such as walking a dog or gardening, can help prevent such serious health problems as heart disease, high blood pressure, diabetes, colon cancer, and obesity.

"It can't be stressed enough how important it is for physical activity to be fun so you'll do it.

Many people don't want to go to gym every day, and with something like dancing you get health benefits and have a good time. It's the best of both worlds," said Gallagher.

One word of caution-the Macarena song lasts only few minutes, so you must either repeat the dance over and over or groove to another beat for a half hour to get health benefits. No matter what the dance is, the point is to get up and moving, according to Gallagher. "Dancing improves your range of motion, endurance, aerobic capacity, flexibility, and strength. It's great exercise, and it's enjoyable," he said.

Res names VP of Ambulatory and Diversified Services

Kathi Baginski

Kathi Baginski of Mt. Prospect, was promoted to Vice President of Ambulatory and Diversified Services for Resurrection Health Care. In this new position, she has responsibility for the operations of various off-site, non-acute care facilities and services.

After joining Resurrection Health Care in 1992 as Director of the Resurrection Immediate and Ambulatory Care Centers, Baginski has assumed a growing list of responsibilities. In addition to the four ambulatory care centers, she oversees the Resurrection Health Care Surgery Center, the Medi-Ride patient transport service and the RES-INFO physician referral and information telephone line. Baginski also directs Resurrection's occupational health program and is leading a community health needs initiative that is designed to identify unmet health and social needs within the communities served by Resurrection Health Care.

Prior to joining Resurrection Health Care, Baginski was Administrator for the Eye Care Centers of Lake County. She also worked at MacNeal Hospital, where she was responsible for developing and directing their Family Health Care Centers.

Baginski has a bachelor's degree from Southern Illinois University in Carbondale. She also has a master's degree in business administration with an emphasis in health services administration from Webster University in Deerfield.

Resurrection Health Care is a comprehensive health care system that includes Resurrection Medical Center, Our Lady of the Resurrection Medical Center, Resurrection Nursing and Rehabilitation Center, Resurrection Retirement Community, one of the state's largest home health companies, two nursing homes in New York and dozens of outpatient facilities and services.

Resurrection Rehabilitation receives accreditation

The Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF) has awarded a three-year accreditation to the Rehabilitation Unit at Resurrection Medical Center, 7435 W. Talcott Ave.

"CARF's three-year term of accreditation is its longest and is awarded to organizations that demonstrate substantial fulfillment of its standards," said Sister Donna Marie, C.R., Executive Vice President and Chief Executive Officer of Resurrection Medical Center. "The length of the term indicates their confidence that the Rehab Unit's current operations will be maintained or improved in the foreseeable future."

Based in Tucson, Arizona, CARF is the nation's leading accreditation body in the rehabilitation field. The not-for-profit organization is committed to enhancing rehabilitation services utilizing a peer review process.

Resurrection's Rehab Unit was given the accreditation based on the findings of an intensive two-day survey in June. CARF surveyors evaluated areas such as the unit's mission and philosophy, management structure, staff, facilities, patient care services and clinical outcomes.

The accreditation comes on the heels of the 44-bed unit's fifth anniversary and the completion of a major renovation project. The project included the addition of a new therapy gym and a remodeling of the existing gym to make rehabilitation more easily accessible for all patients. The unit features a home-like setting that includes a washer and dryer, a bedroom suite with a bathroom and a fully equipped kitchen with dishwasher, all of which allow patients to practice the daily living skills they will need to return to an independent lifestyle. The renovated unit also includes bathrooms and showers that are more wheelchair accessible, as well as redecorated patient rooms, hallways and therapy areas.

A Day Rehab Program, scheduled to open in October, will expand the unit's continuum of services. Patients will be able to receive therapy and other rehab services during the day on an outpatient basis, letting them return to their homes in the evening.

First retail store dedicated to female cancer patients

When 32-year-old Lisa Kaplan-Melnick was diagnosed with Hodgkin's disease seven years ago, she in turn diagnosed an ailment in the retail industry - the lack of retail services available to female cancer patients and survivors. Her prescription was to open Magic & Vanity 447 North Wells Street, the first specialty boutique in Chicago (and perhaps the nation) that meets the cosmetic enhancement needs of female cancer patients and survivors. Melnick was a physician's assistant working with chronically-ill kidney transplant patients and urology patients, many of whom had cancer, for four years before being diagnosed with cancer herself.

"As a cancer survivor and medical professional, I learned that the lack of a retail outlet where salespeople welcomed cancer patients, understood their emotions and didn't view them as different interfered with their sense of well-being," says Melnick. "I wanted to open a store to support female cancer patients and survivors who must deal with difficult realities. I wanted to help my customers feel beautiful, inside and out."

The Magic & Vanity concept grew out of Melnick's experiences while battling cancer and trying to maintain a "normal" lifestyle -- she had been ignored by hair from chemotherapy treatment, been relegated to secluded sections of stores for "privacy" and been unable to find a single store that carried all of the beauty essentials under one roof.

Melnick is celebrating her sixth anniversary of being cancer-free with the unveiling of Magic & Vanity, which is named after her two dogs -- Magic, a handsome golden retriever whom she "magically" saved from being put to sleep, and Vanity, a plain-looking mixed breed that liked looking at herself in mirrors -- as a symbol that hope and beauty can be found in everything. Upon completing treatment, Melnick rewarded herself with the dogs -- each one a reflection of her own positive attitude.

The boutique specializes in understanding customers' special needs and in offering breast prostheses and bras; wigs and wig styling; scarves, turbans and hats; bathing suits; accessories; makeup and makeovers and more. Magic & Vanity offers female cancer patients and survivors a comforting, intimate setting in which to rediscover their beauty. The staff is knowledgeable and understands the effects of chemotherapy and radiation treatment, as well as a cancer patient's unique cosmetic needs.

Melnick's long-range plans include opening multiple locations throughout the country and creating a Magic & Vanity Foundation for cancer research.

Magic & Vanity is open 10:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m. Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays; 10:00 a.m. - 8:00 p.m. Thursdays; 10:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. Saturdays; and 11:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. Sundays. For more information, contact Lisa Melnick at 312/595-9660.

The Bedtime Blues

It's 10 p.m. Do you know where your children are?

If they're like many kids they're probably calling downstairs for one more cookie, glass of juice, or toddler gadgetry to which they've suddenly developed a nighttime attachment. Anything to keep them from going to sleep.

Your nerves are shot, you had a bad day, and all you want to do is unwind before going to bed. For some reason, "sleep tight, don't let the bed bugs bite" is not what they want to hear.

Many times, parents, as a result of their exhaustion, take the path of least resistance and let their children determine their own bedtime or they get angry and take it out on the kids. Hence, the exhaustion. Believe it or not, however, there are some bedtime rituals, that when consistently implemented, will result in fewer battles. And that translates into more quiet time and sleep for parents.

Studies show that children between the ages of two and three need approximately 12-13 hours of sleep, including naps; children four to five need 11-12 hours daily. However, every child is different so please develop a ritual that fits your child.

Try these tips when tucking in the little tikes at night:

- Pick a bedtime and then try to stick to it. If bedtime is at 9 p.m. one night, and 7:30 p.m. the next, your child will feel as if there is room to negotiate a bedtime. This can result in even longer bedtime disputes.

- Try putting your child to bed rather than to sleep. By establishing a set of rituals each night your child can begin to relax and accept the drowsiness that precedes sleep rather than fighting it -- and fighting you. If bedtime is 8 p.m., begin your routine at 7:30 p.m. This could be taking a bath, brushing their teeth, reading one story, and saying a prayer. By keeping the routine consistent, your child can become more comfortable at night, knowing what to expect.

- Give children a chance to wind down at the end of the day. Feeding them chocolate ice cream and candy bars an hour before bedtime will only add more fuel to the fire. Turn off the TV's or loud music. As bedtime approaches, try to eliminate the stimulants.

- Be positive about bedtime. Rather than yelling at older children, "You better get in bed before I come up there and put you in it myself" try "I'll read your favorite story to you if you're in bed by the time I get to your room." Don't chastise them with comments such as "You're so slow. Can't you move more quickly?" Try, "Let's see if you can be ready for bed by the time I put a load of wash in."

- Just remember that each child in a family is different. However, no matter what rituals you establish, keep in mind that bedtime can be a special time for bonding and sharing special moments with your children.

Now, let's hear from some of our readers about what's keeping them up at night:

My one year-old cannot fall asleep at night without his bottle. I know this is not a good habit to get into, however, I'm afraid if we stop it, we'll never get him to sleep. What should we do?

You're right. Giving a child a bottle at bedtime is not a good habit to get into. It can result in the child choking on the liquid as he falls asleep. Prolonged use of a bottle at night can also result in tooth decay and the increased likelihood of ear infections. If he needs this nighttime bottle, give it to him before putting him to bed. Once in bed, give him a favorite blanket or stuffed animal. Be consistent with this and within a few days, your child should have no problem falling asleep.

I feel as if we've met every monster lived. Our four-year-old refuses to go to bed each night; she keeps yelling for us to check in every nook and cranny in her room for these creatures. Any ideas?

Night-lights are great monster repellents. Take your daughter to the store with you and let her select a special night-light. There are many colorful lights that can be plugged into wall sockets or left near the bed. Right before bedtime, try reading her a cheery story and then, turn the night-light on before turning off her bedroom lamp.

Children's imaginations are so vivid and their dream creatures so real, that you just need to be patient. Continue to comfort her and let her know you are there. Eventually, bedtime will become more comforting to her and sleep will come more easily.

The BUGLE BRIDAL GUIDE

Gifts for your bridesmaids

Your bridesmaids, you love them all in different ways, which makes it even harder to choose a gift that says how much you appreciate everything they have done for you both at your wedding as well as through the years. We've compiled some creative gift ideas from brides who managed to find presents that their wedding party really appreciated:

Gift certificates from popular catalogues; J. Crew, Eddie Bauer, etc. are practical and thoughtful.

Make "mix" tapes of music that you have enjoyed together over the years.

Take them all to dinner, brunch, or lunch at a really unique or exciting restaurant.

If your group of bridesmaids is athletic or outdoorsy, you can take them on a camping trip or a canoe expedition.

Buy each bridesmaid a bottle of her favorite perfume.

Buy each bridesmaid a pair of tickets to a show or a concert that you know she will enjoy, or buy a group of tickets and take everyone in your bridal party at once.

Spend the day having old-fashioned fun at a local amusement park.

Present each bridesmaid with a bottle of very good champagne.

Give each bridesmaid a year of flowers, fruit, candy. Many companies specialize in sending a special gift each month.

Toast tips

Almost everyone has attended at least one wedding where the best man's toast was a flop. Perhaps he rambled on for ten minutes as the audience's attention waned, unsure of how to wind things up gracefully. Or maybe he tried to tell a joke that simply wasn't funny, or he was not speaking into the microphone and no one heard a word he said.

According to various surveys, the average American's most common phobia is public speaking, and making toasts is certainly not any less threatening. Fortunately for Chicagoland's honor attendants, parents of brides and grooms, and bridal couples struggling to prepare their wedding toast, Chicago is home for Words For You, Speeches And Creative Writing. This unique company will help you find the perfect way to express yourself with confidence and poise. They offer the following pointers:

• If you are going to share a story about the bride and/or groom with the crowd, be sure it is about something that the majority of the crowd can relate to. Long stories about fraternity parties are going to be boring to all but just a few people in your audience.

• Never embarrass the bride or groom with the wedding toast. Roasting should be done at the rehearsal dinner. Any humor invoked at the wedding should be loving.

• Remember to bring your glass of champagne with you to the microphone so that you can drink to the bride and groom.

Creative gifts for the wedding party

Giving a small gift as a token of appreciation to bridesmaids, ushers, honor attendants, flower girls and ring bearers has long been a custom of brides and grooms. Traditionally, brides-

Your Illinois marriage license

Your marriage license should be obtained from the county in which the wedding ceremony is to take place. The license is good for only 60 days, so you should wait until you set your wedding date before you apply for the license. Both of you must be present when obtaining your license, which must be at least 1 day prior to the marriage. The clerk will issue you your license when the application is completed, signed, and fee is paid. No medical documents or blood tests are required by the state.

You must have proper identification showing that both of you are over the age of 18 or will be 18 on the date of marriage. The proper documents relating to a former marriage may be required, depending on the county. Most counties require cash for the license fee; costs range from $15 right on up. Usually, a valid driver's license is sufficient for identification. Call ahead to be on the safe side because some counties require a birth certificate, passport, immigration card, or baptismal certificate.

maids and ushers receive the same gift and honor attendants receive something a bit more special, but today, the trend is to personalize the gift to reflect tastes or interests of each attendant.

Here is a sampling of creative and personalized gifts for everyone in the bridal party.

Bridesmaids and maid of honor: certificate for a massage, facial or makeup lesson; photo album with snapshots of the bride and each attendant; manicure set; silk scarf; freshwater pearl necklace or a decorative journal. Ushers and best man: gum ball machine filled with a favorite candy; shaving case; great-looking vest for the wedding day and beyond; a bottle of vintage port; portable CD player; monogrammed bathrobe or a day of skiing (or fishing, golf, tennis, etc.).

For either: leather business-card case; fountain pen; sports wristwatch; weekend bag; leather address book; engraved stationary or two tickets to a concert or sporting event.

For children: computer game software; heart locket; charm bracelet; classic children's book or autographed baseball.

Wedding attendants are special friends and relatives of the bride and groom who often are called into service to help with the wedding arrangements as well as provide moral support to the couple during an emotionally charged time.

Hidden ways to cut wedding reception costs

The vows have been said, the marriage license signed and now, after months of planning, it's time for the celebration to begin. Whether the wedding reception is a lavish, seated affair for 200 guests or an intimate affair attended by a few close friends, keeping expenses in check and minimizing costly surprises is important to every bride-to-be.

How can couples plan the reception of their dreams on a limited budget? Here are some hidden ways to cut the costs, yet keep the magic.

• Location, location, location. Choose a fully furnished site or have the reception in the same setting as the ceremony. Getting married in midweek or off-season (January through April on the East Coast, for example) will increase savings. If a Saturday night wedding is your desire, investigate business-district restaurants that may open for a Saturday wedding and offer great rates. Or you can marry in a garden that's in full bloom to minimize floral expenses.

• Reception style. Consider having a wedding brunch with omelets, and fresh pastries, or French toast and sausage. At a seated dinner, serve more expensive food (such as filet mignon) as an hors d'oeuvre and modestly priced chicken or pasta as the main course. Offer wine, punch and champagne only for the toasts instead of a full bar, or have a small cake, elaborately decorated for the cake-cutting ceremony, plus a sheet cake that's served from the kitchen.

• Music. Limit the number of musicians (besides costing less, you'll save on meals, beverages and tips), hire a DJ to provide continuous music, or ask musically talented friends to create cassette tapes for an at-home wedding.

• Photography. Use a professional photographer for the ceremony and formal photographs. Leave disposable cameras on reception tables for guests to snap candid shots. Compare hourly fees versus package prices.

• Flowers. Use in-season, locally grown flowers for centerpieces or use only one kind of bloom, like tulips in the spring. Ask to borrow the site's floral or foliage decorations to augment purchased arrangements. Consider sharing ceremony flowers and costs with another couple marrying in the church or synagogue that same day.

Over the threshold

Because ancient man stole his bride, he carried her over the threshold kicking and shouting. Struggling is still a Greek threshold ritual, but no one remembers why. Now for everyone it's another happy custom!

Coomers continues growth

Coomers, Inc., the nation's largest craft mall, is continuing towards a future of growth and success. 1996 has been a busy year for the nation's largest craft mall. By mid-year Coomers has remodeled 4 of its existing stores and opened 3 new stores (Independence, Missouri; Rockwall, Texas; and Las Vegas, Nevada). October 5, Coomers will celebrate the Grand Opening of its 9th Texas location in Houston and now Coomers announces the coming of its 2nd Chicago location.

"We are constantly looking to improve opportunities for crafters to sell their products. Our Chicago crafters told us where they wanted to be and Bloomingdale was the place," says Dave Curran, Coomers President. The new Coomers will be situated in the high traffic Bloomingdale Shopping Center next to Stratford Square Mall. Just west of Chicago the new Coomers joins Marshall's, Builders Square, Service Merchandise, Office Max, Wal-Mart, and Frank's Nursery in the successful strip mall.

The new Chicago Coomers store joins the Coomers in Niles, which has been open for nearly two years now. Crafters can take advantage of discounted booth prices (up to 25%) starting October 1.

General leasing to the public begins on September 14. Leasing agents will be available to assist with reservations and leasing at 1 (888) DO-CRAFTS (362-7238) extensions 130 and 145.

Coomers, Inc., is the nation's largest retailer of American hand-made gifts and decorations for homes and offices. Coomers also provides a unique opportunity for thousands of artisans and crafters to turn their hobby into a profitable business by selling their crafts in a national retail environment.

Unemployment benefits are taxable

Most of the time, surprises are a lot of fun. But if you get surprised by a year-end tax bill, that's no fun at all.

Ordinarily, anyone who draws unemployment benefits this year should make quarterly estimated tax payments to the International Revenue Service. These payments are necessary because unemployment benefits are now fully taxable for everyone, regardless of income, the IRS says. And unlike a paycheck, there is no federal tax taken out of an unemployment check. Unemployment benefits have been fully taxed since 1987. Yet according to the IRS, many people are still not aware of this change.

If you owe more than $500 in tax at the end of the year, you will also owe a penalty in many cases. Unemployment is always a painful experience. By making quarterly tax payments during the year, the IRS says you can avoid the added pain of an unexpected year-end bill.

Each quarterly payment should be sent to the IRS along with Form 1040ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals. Included with the form is a worksheet which can help you figure out how much to send in each quarter. To get a free copy, call the IRS toll-free at 1-800-TAX-FORM (829-3676).

Construction started on the Consolidated Communications Center, located at 9511 W. Harrison Street in Des Plaines, that will provide state-of-the-art enhanced 911 service to thousands of residents in Cook County.

The concept for the Consolidated Communications Center was developed late last year following meetings between Sheriff Michael Sheahan and State Police Director Terrence W. Gainer in consultation with County Board President John H. Stroger, Jr. and the Cook County Emergency Telephone System Board (ETSB).

The Consolidated Communications Center is the result of an Intergovernmental Agreement between the Cook County Emergency Telephone System Board (ETSB), the Cook County Sheriff's Police Department and the Illinois State Police. The site is the former Maine North High School and currently houses the Illinois State Police's Headquarters for the Chicago and Cook County region.

The construction project involves the renovation of 11,700 square feet at Maine North. The actual dispatch center will be about 7,000 square feet which will provide for approximately 26 radio console positions. A separate Training/Command Center within the complex will provide access to all Cook County and Illinois State radio frequencies so that in the event of a major emergency in our area, all personnel on the State and County levels can be directed and coordinated through this Consolidated Dispatch Center. The training consoles within the Training/Command Center may be utilized without interfering with the daily operation of the Enhanced 911 Communications Center.

The Cook County Board of Commissioners recently approved a measure to provide $950,000 towards the development of the $1.4 million construction project. Additional funding for new radio equipment, furniture and a Computer Aided Dispatch System will be provided by the ETSB and the Cook County Sheriff's Police. The Illinois State Police will provide space, utilities, parking and security rent free under the terms of the Intergovernmental Agreement.

Contracting for home repairs warnings

When a community is hit by a disaster, unscrupulous contractors often come out of the woodwork to prey on those whose homes have been damaged. Illinois flood victims are warned that this disaster may be no exception.

Dave Smith, Deputy State Coordinating Officer for the Illinois Emergency Management Agency, urges homeowners with flood damages to be extremely cautious when contracting for home repairs and to keep in mind that, if the offer seems too good to be true, it probably is.

"Be especially alert for door-to-door solicitors who ask for large cash deposits," cautions Smith. "Experience from past disasters suggests that many times the work is never performed or the down payment is never returned."

Smith urged residents to take the following precautions:

*Select contractors known in the community, recognized for their competence.

*Try to obtain work estimates from more than one source.

*Sign only those contracts and work orders that thoroughly identify work to be performed, estimated cost of work, and include a warranty on the work.

*Be sure all signed agreements include some procedure for changes to original work order.

Fraud-related contractor questions, including a company's complaint history, should be directed to the Attorney General's Office, Consumer Division, 1-800-252-8666, and/or the Better Business Bureau, 312 832-0500.

Car drivers are paying a hidden tax

Drivers are paying as much as $19.5 billion a year - or $112.69 per registered driver - in hidden taxes because 60 percent of the roads they are driving on are in need of repair, explains William M. Wilkins, executive director of The Road Information Program (TRIP), a nonprofit transportation research group based in Washington, D.C.

"It simply costs drivers more to operate their vehicles on roads in need of repair, and the primary reason these repairs are not being made is because money that motorists pay at the pump in federal gasoline taxes is being used to pay for other items in the federal budget - including deficit reduction and other non-highway projects," Wilkins says.

Motorists now pay 18.4 cents per gallon in federal gasoline taxes, but only ten cents per gallon goes for road and bridge repairs. Recent laws have diverted money from the federal gasoline tax to pay for the deficit reduction, mass transit and other non-highway projects.

The original 1956 law required that all of the money collected from the federal gasoline tax be placed in a Federal Highway

A ComEd plea - Don't tack posters on utility poles

With the upcoming presidential and congressional election campaign in full swing, ComEd makes the following appeal to all candidates and their supporters, regardless of party: Please don't tack posters or notices on utility poles.

Anything tacked on utility poles can cause trouble for our line crews. Too often, utility workers suffer cuts and gashes from encounters with nails and tacks used to affix posters. These pointed objects lurk, awaiting a chance encounter with an unsuspecting overhead electrician's hands or legs on a dark, stormy night when he or she is restoring power to homes and businesses that have had service interrupted.

Although utility crew members carefully inspect each pole before climbing, it's easy to miss a nail or tack in the dark. Climbing spikes need the soft wood of a utility pole to be effective, but nails and tacks defeat them, often causing the wearer to slip and suffer injury. This can delay the restoration of service.

So, Mr. and Ms. Campaign Worker: Do your best to get out the vote, but don't tack anything on a utility pole.

LEGAL NOTICE

Change in Niles Zoning Board hearing date to Monday, September 16, 1996.

Trust Fund. To ensure that the money was used only for road and bridge repairs, the money in the Trust Fund was placed "off budget."

This "contract with American motorists" - in the form of placing highway funds off-budget - was broken in the late 1960s when Congress changed the law to incorporate the Federal Highway Trust Fund into the unified federal budget to offset the nation's deficit spending.

"The original idea of the federal gasoline tax was to develop a pay-as-you-go system in which the needed repairs and improvements were paid for by the very same motorists who use the system," Wilkins said. "It was considered the fairest, most equitable way to pay for road and bridge improvements without taking money from the nation's overall budget. Our law-makers have moved us away from that approach in recent years, and, as a result, our road and bridge needs are not being met."

Since that time, the Trust Fund has grown to about $9.5 billion. The money sits in the Federal Highway Trust Fund but is not spent on needed road and bridge repairs because it is being used to mask the size of the nation's budget deficit.

"While these budget battles continue, our nation's road and bridge repair needs are mounting, jeopardizing safety and hampering economic development," Wilkins says.

Ten free shade trees

Ten free shade trees will be given to each person who joins The National Arbor Day Foundation during September 1996.

The free trees are part of the nonprofit Foundation's Trees for America campaign.

The ten shade trees are Sugar Maple, Red Oak, Pine Oak, Green Ash, Thornless Honeylocust, Weeping Willow, River Birch, Tulipree, Silver Maple, and Red Maple.

"Spectacular fall colors are among the many benefits of these beautiful shade trees," John Rosenow, the Foundation's president, said.

The trees will be shipped postpaid at the right time for planting between October 1 and December 10 with enclosed planting instructions. The six to twelve inch trees are guaranteed to grow, or they will be replaced free of charge.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, send a $10 contribution to Ten Free Shade Trees, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Ave., Nebraska City, NE 68410, by September 30.

Skidding and hydroplaning

Spring is here again and with it comes showers, making driving hazardous by increasing the risk of skidding and hydroplaning. Surface oil and grease form a slick film on roads that is not washed away until after a good, hard rain. Therefore, slow down during rainstorms and maintain optimal tire pressure and tread to avoid an accident.

Q. What is hydroplaning?

A. Hydroplaning occurs at about 35 miles per hour on wet pavement when tires begin to lose contact with the road surface. At speeds up to 35 mph, most tires "wipe" the road like a windshield wiper. As speed increases, tires actually float or ride up on a thin layer of water like a set of water skis. This is very dangerous because the driver has virtually no control over the vehicle.

Q. What should I do if I begin to skid?

A. If you start to skid at speeds less than 55 mph, you should be able to regain control by taking your foot off the accelerator and letting the car slow down. Avoid any sharp braking and steer in the direction you want the front of the car to go.

Q. What if I'm traveling more than 55 mph?

A. The faster you drive, the more dangerous and difficult it will be to regain control from a skid. At speeds 55 mph and above, you will be unable to brake, accelerate or corner because the tires lose all contact with the road. As a result, a gust of wind, curve in the road or slight turn can throw your vehicle into an uncontrollable skid. If this occurs, release the accelerator and ride out the skid.

Center of Concern Offers Rules of the Road Class

If you would like to review the "Rules of the Road" for your own safety's concern of because you are about to renew your driver's license, you are invited to attend the "Rules of the Road" class to be held Friday, Sept. 13th, at 1 p.m. at 1580 N. Northwest Highway, Park Ridge. The class will be held in the conference room on the ground floor of the building, which is accessible by a ramp at the front entrance.

This class is offered in cooperation with the Secretary of State's office. It is open to all and there is no charge.

We ask that you call 847/823-0453 to make a reservation so that we will be sure to have sufficient materials available.

Remember to Buckle Up!

Criminal damage to vehicle

A 21-year-old Chicago student reported that she and two friends were driving near Dempster Street and Milwaukee Avenue when they became involved in a verbal altercation with a man described as around 45 years old around 12:35 p.m. Sept. 7.

At Milwaukee Avenue and Maryland Street, the suspect exited his vehicle and grabbed the half-open passenger window of the victim's vehicle, pulled on it and broke it. He then reentered his vehicle and drove off.

The victim said she will sign a complaint. Repair cost is estimated at $100.

A 70-year-old supervisor residing in the 8300 block of Wisconsin Street discovered that unknown offender(s) had tipped over his 1989 Ford Escort onto the passenger side while it was parked northbound on the street near his home damaging the front axle and causing numerous dents

Q. When does "highway hypnosis" typically set in?

A. It varies from driver to driver but usually between two and four hours.

Q. What can I do to overcome driver fatigue?

A. If possible, change drivers frequently. Otherwise, keep your body and mind active.

Year-round school plan tested in Dist. 62

by Rosemary Tirio

Despite initial opposition to his proposed year-round school-of-choice plan, the superintendent of Elementary School District 62 in Des Plaines is confident the district will be unable to accommodate all the parents who want to enroll their children in the program once they understand the benefits.

According to Superintendent Robert Willis' proposal, the Iroquois Junior High School will be converted to a kindergarten through eighth grade facility that will operate on a 45-day in-school-15-day vacation schedule.

Iroquois students will have a choice of remaining at the year-round school or transferring to Algonquin or Chippewa, the district's other junior high schools, which will remain on the conventional school calendar.

Students in grades one through six will come from other schools, some of which are overcrowded. Willis emphasized that the program is completely voluntary and no one will be made to transfer against their will.

Willis said the schedule will be a "single track. Everyone will be in school and out of school the same number of days as the conventional calendar."

Willis cited improved student performance as a major reason to implement the new calendar, which would replace the time-honored but now outdated agrarian calendar that allowed children to help with farm work during the growing season.

Willis said that during the long summer vacation much of what is learned during the conventional school year is forgotten and has to be retaught.

He said studies show that it takes four to eight weeks to re-teach what has been lost over the summer, but only one to two days to refresh students' memories after the 15-day hiatus.

Pointing to the five-year success of a similar program he implemented in the Rock Island School District where he was superintendent before coming to District 62 three years ago, Willis said that teachers would see their effectiveness improved and welcome the increased energy of the students under the new program.

"Opponents [of the year-round school plan] have become the greatest advocates and proponents," Willis said.

Willis said in a Tribune article that opposition to the plan has been exaggerated. Results of a recent phone survey conducted by the Chicago-based Leo J. Shapiro Co. indicated that 40 percent of the 313 district parents polled indicated at least some degree of positive interest in the plan, while 57 percent were against it and three percent gave no response.

Willis said that he is encouraged by the response because it comes before any attempt has been made to educate the parents and community about the benefits of the proposed plan.

Officials of the survey company told Willis, "You won't be able to satisfy demand of parents wanting to enroll their children in the year-round school."

"When they realize that it might be a better opportunity for their children, people will want to get their name on the list," Willis predicted.

Willis said there would be "a lot of controversy in the planning stages," but quoted Charles Balinger, president of the National Association of Year-Round Education who said that over a million students are enrolled in year-round schools throughout the country.

"We're trying to put the best learning and teaching practices together in one school," Willis said.

The actual selection process the district will use to choose students for the new Iroquois school has not yet been decided, Willis said, but the district will work carefully with attorneys to give everyone a fair chance, he said. The racial make up of the new school will have to be taken into consideration, he said.

The district will also launch a year-long education campaign to inform parents and the community about the proposed program, which will not go into effect until the 1997-98 school year.

"We'll have to utilize a wide range of opportunities to inform the community of what we're doing," he said.

In addition to improved student performance, Willis said the plan would improve building utilization thereby saving money for the district. Academic classrooms are used only 50 percent of the day at present. Under the new plan, they will be utilized 80 percent of the day.

The most persuasive reason for some parents and students might be the one Willis mentioned last: "With the 45-15 school calendar, you can go to Disney World when lines aren't a mile long."

Apollo students participate in photo contest

The clicking of cameras could be heard throughout Des Plaines, because second grade students at Apollo School were participating in the annual national contest, "It's a Snap!". The contest initiated by Eastman Kodak Co., in cooperation with K Mart provides students with the unique opportunity to learn more about nature, recycling and how to use a camera.

After receiving instructions on how to use a camera each child was given a disposable camera. They were asked to take pictures of six things they find beautiful in the world and six things that need improvement.

The cameras were brought to a K Mart store to have pictures developed. At this point the children learned how the disposable cameras are recycled. The students then picked what they felt was their best picture. Some children chose their "most beautiful" picture, while others chose their "needs improvement" pictures.

After writing why they chose this particular picture all pictures were mounted on a large board.

Second grade teachers, Sandi Goldstein and Mary Corrigan asked 6 area people to judge the best photographs from both categories.

Christine Lee won the most beautiful area with a picture of a spectacular sunset. Daniel Lopez's picture won the first prize in the needs improvement category.

The two winning students each received a 35mm camera and will have their photograph entered in a national contest in California where first prize is a $5,000 savings bond.

All of the students were presented with a certificate for participating. Their photographs were on display in school until they were taken to local K Mart store for public display.

Illinois insurance questions

Q. I hit a guard rail and damaged my Ford. I've got insurance to cover my car so my insurance company is covering the claim. However, the shop I want to repair my car charges more than the shops my insurance company works with. Do I have to get my car repaired at one of their preferred shops?

A. No. As the car owner, you have the final choice of which shop you use to repair your car. However, if the shop you choose charges more than the shops your company works with, you may be expected to pay the difference.

Insurance companies establish relationships with preferred shops because it is a good business practice and creates many benefits for their customers. This business practice is also similar to that used by large companies outside the insurance industry. For example, department stores often work with preferred suppliers in order to reduce expenses and therefore, keep prices lower than competitors who don't use such a business practice.

Here are some of the benefits for you, the customer: Insurers usually inspect these shops to ensure that they have the proper equipment to repair customer's cars. Insurers generally set standards these shops are expected to meet and will take a shop off their preferred list if they learn the shop is not meeting the standards. Many companies expect the shop owners to sign an agreement that they will adhere to the standards, and will check up on a shop each year. Insurers typically expect their preferred shops to provide a warranty on their workmanship. And, this practice allows insurers to keep the cost of claims down which then helps to keep insurance premiums down.

Call the Hotline at 1 (800) 444-3338 for more information.
 Q. Our garage caught on fire and destroyed our car. My neighbor said our homeowners insurance should cover the car because it was part of the contents in the garage. Is that correct?

A. No. Your car is a motorized vehicle which is specifically excluded from coverage on a homeowners policy. However, your auto insurance company will pay for your car if you carried comprehensive coverage on it. This coverage is for non-collision losses to your car which includes damage from such causes as fire, theft, and vandalism.

Letters To The Editor

The 'Administrator's Agenda'

Dear Editor:
 We could not agree with you more on your column from last week's paper. The Administrators of District 207 have their own agenda. That agenda is raising their own salaries, getting more assistant superintendent's, etc. Dr. Snider - who makes $124,800, has three (count them) three Assistant Superintendents. All three of these make great salaries too. When Dr. Benka retired, the public was told that the number of Assistant Superintendents would be decreased to two. The one who was supposed to pick up the extra load threatened to return to the classroom rather than do two jobs and...we now have three again. Maine South was supposed to not replace a retiring dean and Maine West was supposed to go with only one Assistant Principal. After having this published in the papers, West got another assistant principal and South another Dean.
 How can any of this be justified?

DAR thanks mayors

Dear Editor:
 September 17 through 23 is Constitution Week, the two hundred ninth anniversary of the Signing of the Constitution. Our Founding Fathers crafted this great document to secure the blessings of liberty for themselves and their posterity. American colonists sacrificed, fought, and died to establish the freedoms now guaranteed to us by the Constitution of the United States. Our Founding Fathers were careful to give us a Republic in which a written Constitution established laws to protect the rights of all citizens.
 Public Law 915 guarantees the issuing of a proclamation each year by the President of the United States designating September 17 through 23 as Constitution Week. We would like to thank Mayor Blase of Niles, Mayor Sherwood of Des Plaines and Mayor Wietecha of Park Ridge for issuing and signing proclamations designating Sept. 17

Niles Community Crusade thanks volunteers

Dear Niles Residents,
 On behalf of the American Cancer Society, Northwest Suburban Unit, thank you for your support in our 1996 Niles Community Crusade.
 Forty-three Niles volunteers gave of their time to pass out information on cancer prevention and at the same time asked for donations. Thanks to your contributions, an amount of $5,166 was raised by the Niles' volunteers this year. This money will be used to strengthen the American Cancer Society's programs of research, education, advocacy and service. Your cooperation in the crusade is deeply appreciated.
 If the American Cancer Society may be of service to you, a family member, or perhaps a neighbor or colleague, please feel free to contact me, or call our Northwest Suburban Area Office, toll-free, at 1 (800) ACS-2345. Information is just a phone call away.
 Sincerely,
 Lucille Zink, Chairperson
 Niles Community Crusade

Traveling with 'The Left Hand'

Dear Editor:
 Just got finished reading the July 4th issue of The Bugle and that Gem of a Column, I am always so pleased with. I couldn't wait to tell you how much I enjoyed it.
 Bud, if Jimmy and Larry Skaja were still in the travel service, I think they would want you to join them, after reading this Left Hand story of July 4th issue.
 I've taken some of those trips and enjoyed them and the one's I didn't take I dreamed of how nice it would be to take them.
 I'm sure I send this note for many, many of your readers.
 Thank you,
 George Hall

Editor's Note:

George is referring to The Left Hand which suggested you should try doing things differently - try a new restaurant, read a different kind of book, travel a different route, go and do it differently - and now.

Niles Township thanks CROP walkers

Dear Editor:
 Thanks to all the volunteers and walkers who participated in the 1995 North Shore CROP Walk. The Niles Township Food Pantry recently received a check in the amount of $455 from the CROP Walk that will be used to purchase additional food, toiletries and paper products as our supplies run low. We applaud the efforts of all the CROP walkers to help the hungry in their own communities as well as around the world and wish them well in their walk to be held this year in October.

North Shore Hotel's Fine Arts Week

Highlighting a week-long salute to the arts at The North Shore Retirement Hotel in Evanston, the Mid-Illinois Ballet Company will present a one-hour dance performance in the hotel's Grand Ballroom. The show will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 17, from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m., admission is free and open to the public. Reservations are required. The Fine Arts Week will be presented from Sept. 16 through Sept. 20.

The group's artistic director, Ken Bello, also will be dancing for the residents at The North Shore. He said they will do excerpts from Giselle and a tribute to Disney music. The latter will include numbers from Disney's blockbuster movies "Lion King" and "101 Dalmatians." Bello said the Disney piece is always a crowd pleaser and is sure to delight everyone.

The Mid-Illinois Ballet is the only professional ballet company in the state, outside of Chicago. According to Bello, the dance company is no stranger to Chicago-area audiences. The group has performed at the Heritage Fest in Downers Grove, the St. James Summer Concert Series and in Grant Park.

Dancers in the Mid-Illinois Ballet have performed on international stages as well. Bello and his wife, Michelle Holmes-Bello, will be "guesting" in Russia next spring. Another principal dancer with the company previously performed with Ballet Brazil.

A Chicago Architectural Foundation slide presentation, "Rise of the Skyscraper" and a Lyric Opera lecture series with speaker Don Carlos will be a part of the Fine Arts Week.

The North Shore Retirement Hotel, owned and operated by IRMCO, is a "congregate living" residence that meets the community's need for a place where active, independent seniors can stay close to family and friends. The hotel offers a full range of social programs, including adult education; guest speakers; theater and musical productions; arts and crafts; field trips; and sports and exercise classes.

Niles Fire Department newest edition

Niles Fire Department District Chief Ron Derbes proudly displays the latest piece of firefighting equipment that will soon be added to the fleet. The new vehicle is a Pierce Saber pumper that carries 500 gallons of water and pumps 1,250 gallons per minute. It has a built in foam system, hydraulic ladder rack and EMS compartments for paramedic use. The truck will be stationed at Firehouse 3.

District 219 Union requests federal mediator

In their sixth negotiating session, held on the evening of Thursday, September 5, the Niles Township High School District 219 bargaining team met with the Niles Township Federation of Teachers (NFT) Local 1274. While agreement was reached on two issues, the Union representatives ultimately requested the use of a federal mediator.

"I'm quite disappointed at this turn of events, as I thought we were making progress," said Niles Township High School Board of Education President Sam Borek immediately following the negotiation session. "We made two concessions to the Union tonight, and their unilateral declaration of an impasse has consequently stalled the negotiation process."

The two concessions made by the Board of Education were to the Union's request for broadening the nondiscrimination clause in the hiring the recruitment of teachers by the Board of Education, and including one day off during semesters in the school year calendar.

"We're certainly willing to work with the Union," continued Borek. "We'll now just have to await the assignment of a federal mediator to move the discussions forward from what the Union perceives as an impasse."

The chief negotiator for the Board of Education is Anthony Scariano of Scariano, Kula, Elich and Himes. In addition to Scariano, the Board of Education negotiating team is comprised of Dr. Vickie Markavitch, District 219 Superintendent; Dr. Carolyn Anderson, District 219 Assistant Superintendent; and Board members Sam Borek, Mark Cohen, Robert Silverman, Gail Stone and Joe Weiss.

Further negotiations will be held upon the assignment of a federal mediator.

Blind Nun spreads cheer and hope

Total blindness of Sister Mary Teresa Miotke closed her teaching career in English and Speech Communication of the past 20 years at Montay College. In her new ministry of evangelization by music and inspirational talks Sister now teaches a profitable lesson that suffering is in reality an invitation to turn to God and, if accepted with the proper attitude, it is a path to spiritual greatness.

The audience admires Sister Mary Teresa for her radiant spirit and resignation to her fate. Resignation is the fruit of all virtues. Sister tells the audience that she accepts her blindness to atone for those who abuse the use of their eyes by pornography. Her message reassures the sick and weak. Aged that no one - regardless of his past life - is too small or unimportant to be the concern of God.

At this point in her life, Sister Teresa's suffering has not been wasted. Her role of sharing her talent has been truly great and worthwhile. Sister's 45-minute program has been enjoyed by the Senior residents of the following institutions:

1. Marian Care Center
2. Resurrection Sisters' Infirmary
3. Nazarethville
4. Misericordia Mercy of Christ
5. Ballard Healthcare Residence
6. Skokie Meadows/Nursing Center
7. Regency Nursing Center
8. Glencrest Nursing Home
9. Polish National Alliance Seniors Club
10. Skokie Meadows/Nursing Home

Repeat performance by request of residents.

its levy in submitting its tax papers it would not receive any tax monies to operate for the ensuing year and there would be no way to rectify the error. The implication means the taxing district would go out of business for that year unless it could borrow money to hold it over until the following year's taxes were collected.

On another note the park president assured us the resignation of Park Director Tim Royster had nothing to do with the tax error. She said the error was made in the park district's financial department. While she would not comment on the reasons for his resignation she said his resigning was unfortunate, he will be missed and he was a good man.

While The Bugle's job is to focus on local issues there is a national issue which has long concerned us.

Fifteen or twenty years ago we toured Commonwealth Edison's nuclear facility in Zion, some 45 minutes from our area. Near the end of the tour we viewed a room with a water pool where spent rods with nuclear waste were deposited. Now, after all these years, nuclear plants throughout the country are still retaining its waste in this same fashion.

A country which was the first to create a nuclear reaction, which was the first to go to the moon, seems unable to find a way to dispose of this dangerous waste matter.

There is now a proposal to deposit this matter in Nevada which we assume has vast areas which are away from residential areas. Nevada's U. S. Senators are opposing this plan.

If we lived in Nevada we certainly would oppose the proposal. Why should every state in the country be allowed to dump its waste in this one state? Not too long ago a southern state was designated as an area for dumping the waste. But the powers that be fought the intrusion and the plan was dropped.

We're not smart enough to know the answer. But then again, after all these years the smart guys/gals in our country don't seem to have the answers either.

Little Buglebits.....

We've all seen the bumper sticker which tells readers,

"We're spending our kid's inheritance." Last week we saw an accompanying bumper sticker which read: "If I knew grandchildren could be so much fun I'd have had them first."

.....On Tuesday's Today morning show: "You can eliminate hiccups by placing an ice bag on your neck over your larynx."

.....From our miscellaneous notes: 94% of all diapers are now disposable. It wasn't too long ago we'd drop diapers in a container after soaking them in the toilet before washing them in the washing machine. How come the geniuses who created disposable diapers can't come up with a solution for nuclear waste disposal?

.....From the Nutrition Action Healthletter: Low fat foods are supposed to contain no more than 3 grams of fat per serving. But the powerful milk lobby obtained an exemption which allows a glass of 2% low-fat milk to contain 5 grams of fat. Skim or 1% milk has rare Vitamin D, lots of calcium with little or no fat plus potassium, vitamin B-12 and riboflavin.

.....Collards, kale and spinach may reduce the risk of the cause of blindness in older Americans. They're also rich in folate, vitamin C and beta-carotene.

.....Calcium-fortified orange juice is the most nutritious fruit juice you can drink. It has folate, vitamin C and thiamin. If you're shooting for 1,000 to 1,500 mg of calcium a day and you're not a big milk drinker try a calcium-fortified brand of OJ.

.....Canned salmon and sardines have protein, vitamin D, calcium (from the bones) and fish oil that may reduce the risk of heart attacks. Canned fish is high in sodium so eat low-sodium pasta and vegetable salads with canned fish.

.....Kellogg's "lightly sweetened" Frosted Mini-Wheats has three teaspoons (12 grams) of sugar per serving.

.....The U. S. Department of Agriculture defines "lean" meats as having no more than 10% fat by weight. But ground beef is exempted and it can have as much as 22.5% by weight.

.....Gerber baby foods, "Bananas with Tapioca" is actually chemically modified food starch and together with water and sugar replaces almost half the bananas.

.....Ritz whole wheat crackers are primarily made from white flour; juice drinks are not 100% juice and the FDA allows them as little as 5% juice; there is no definition of "natural" so practically any product can make that claim; the USDA allows "fresh" chickens to be "chilled" to the point where they're as hard as bowling balls; spreadable fruits may claim they're 100% fruit but they're often blends of fruit and cheaper juice concentrates. If all goes according to schedule, all plans will be in place by late fall or early winter and bids will be awarded next spring, according to Village Manager Abe Selman.

The project, which will share the 7.5 acre tract of the Pontarelli condominium development, is expected to be completed by the summer of 1998. Included in the plans are large storage areas for salt and sand, a fueling station, a 100-car garage and a two-story administrative building.

"The Village Board has to select one of their number to serve until April 1997," Arft said. The acting president will be announced at the Oct. 14 Board meeting.

Hohs was unavailable for comment, but Alice Hohs, wife of the mayor, said, "He just felt it was time [to retire]. He's pushing 70 and he feels it's time to get out."

Hohs, 68, has been involved in some form of village government for 48 years, his wife said, beginning as a volunteer fireman, serving as trustee and finally as mayor.

Mrs. Hohs said the mayor made the decision to retire last December. The couple plan to spend more time at their home in Florida. "This way we can come and go and he doesn't have to feel guilty," Mrs. Hohs said.

He once headed the largest municipal recreation area in the world when he lived in Saudi Arabia.

Royster said improvements to Park District facilities at Iceland Ice Rink, the Howard Leisure Center and the Tam Clubhouse are among the highlights of his four-year tenure with the district.

Park District commissioners decided last week to continue operations as if Royster were on vacation, Board President Myrna Breitman said.

Commissioners will continue to seek a replacement for Royster while Mrowiec is in charge of day-to-day operations of the district, Breitman said.
