

District 207 passes 4.65 percent tax levy

Maine Township residents can look forward to a property tax increase next year.

The Maine High School Board passed a 4.65 percent tax levy that will mean about a $10 increase in the tax bills of residents whose houses have a market value of $150,000.

If equalized assessed valuation (EAV) grows by the anticipated 1.5 percent, the levy will amount to about $64 million, a $2.8 million increase over the 1995 tax extension, according to Merilee

McCracken, District 207 assistant superintendent for business.

District 207 operates under a tax cap, restricting any tax increases to exceed five percent or the increase in the Consumer Price Index.

The actual tax rate will equal the levy divided by the estimated EAV. It is projected to be $2.2434 for every $100 of the 1996 EAV. In 1976, the tax rate was a much higher $2.51, McCracken noted.

Niles Historical Museum celebrates 25 years

From small beginnings with an eye to preserving history, the Niles Historical Society recently celebrated 25 years of service and growth in Niles. From a few "old things" stored in private homes and the basement of the Village Hall, displays now range from small collectibles to complete rooms. The three floors of the Museum are filled with items such as clothing, toys, books, machinery, tools, war memorabilia, greeting cards, stage bills, furniture, a car, a wagon, and several other collections. Displays are changed three to four times each year. Permanent displays include a replica of a 1920 home, an 1886 covered wagon, and a 1900's kitchen.

The growing number of donations and artifacts needed to be exhibited encouraged the Society to approach the Niles Days Committee in 1976 to request large glass exhibit cases. The cases were installed at the Trident Center, and moved to the Society's

Brick-hurling vandal arrested

Zoran Grujich, 26, of Chicago was arrested by Niles police around 1:30 a.m. Jan. 1, barely 48 hours after the vandalism spree that left several Niles residents with damaged autos and property Dec. 29.

While on routine patrol, Niles officers monitored a Cook County Sheriff's radio report of a subject being stopped at Ballard and Dee roads by Sheriff's police. Recalling that the suspect was wanted for questioning in the vandalism incidents, police responded to the location.

A search of Grujich's vehicle revealed several red brick chips on the rear floor board. The chips appeared to be from the bricks used to damage several of the vehicles.

A brick was used to damage the front driver's side windshield of a 1988 Buick LeSabre parked in the 7300 block of Lee Street between 7 p.m. and 10:40 p.m. Dec. 29. The front and rear windshields of a 1996 Chevrolet Ca-

Niles Zoning Board cites past problems, concerns of community in refusing permits

Automotive shop denied license to sell used cars

by Kathleen Quirsfeld

A couple who own and operate a general automotive repair business asked the Niles Plan Commission and Zoning Board for a variance to sell a few used cars in their parking lot.

However they didn't plan on having to defend some of their business practices in public at the Board's meeting on Monday, Jan. 6.

Rade and Slovojka Radio, owner of the business, North Shore Auto Works, 7420 N. Milwaukee, Niles, came under fire from Commissioner Angelo Troiani who vocalized his displeasure with these petitioners.

Troiani remembered when this couple asked the board in 1992 for permission to open their business. He said at that time, the couple pledged to "be good neighbors" and operate the business in keeping with the residential community where it was located.

In 1992, Troiani said that the board urged the couple to comply with Village rules and keep doors closed during operating hours because the noise level would be a nuisance to neighbors.

However, Troiani noted that several complaints have been voiced from neighbors in recent years about the fact that the doors are not closed in the summer during the daytime hours.

Judge orders Morton Grove man to be tried for murder

Morton Grove resident James Pappas, who is accused of murdering his mother, will be tried on first-degree murder charges, following a Monday court ruling.

Over the protest of Pappas' defense attorney, Associate Judge Gerald T. Rohrer of the Skokie branch of the Cook County Circuit Court ruled there is sufficient evidence to allow the state to try Pappas.

According to police, Pappas, 38, has confessed to the January 2 murder. Pappas is alleged to have stabbed his mother to death at the home they shared in the 7700 block of Lake St. in Morton Grove.

Cook County officials revealed in court on Monday that Pappas has been hospitalized at least 19 times for mental illness. Also, as of Monday, a court ordered psychiatric evaluation had not been performed.

During an earlier bond hearing, Pappas had shouted and interrupted a judge. However, at Monday's hearing there were no interruptions and Pappas repeatedly told the judge he understood where he was and what charges he faced.

First "Firefighter Paramedic" retires

Pictured above are Trustee Bart Murphy, Timothy Crossin, and Mayor Nicholas B. Blase. Mr. Crossin was presented with a retirement plaque for his 19 years of dedicated service with the Niles Fire Department at the November Village Board Meeting. He holds the distinction of being the first person hired to the new position of "Firefighter Paramedic" in 1974.

Cold alert policy

The Village of Niles Cold Alert Plan will take effect when the combination of wind and temperature reaches 35 degrees below zero or when there are three consecutive days where the temperature is below 10 degrees. This plan is for emergency weather situations, during non-working hours such as evenings and weekends. Cold related problems during business hours should be directed to the Code Enforcement Department at (847) 967-6100.

Rental Units: The Village Code states that the overnight temperature must be kept at 60 degrees. If the heat is not working, the tenant must call the property manager/owner as soon as possible to make repairs or obtain a heating repair service. If the property manager/owner is not available within a reasonable time and you need assistance after business hours, call the Niles Police Department at (847) 588-6500. In an emergency, dial 911.

After business hours, the Police Department will contact Code Enforcement to assess the situation. If the manager/owner cannot be contacted, or if repairs cannot be made in a reasonable time, the Village will assist in notification to the family or transportation to a shelter at a local motel. Residents will be responsible for the cost of temporary housing. As special situations arise, Niles Human Services Department will be notified to respond.

The Village of Niles will maintain a list of local licensed heating contractors and cold weather related tips which will be available for residents at the Village Hall, Trident Center, and the Police Department.

Men's divorce help at Borders Books

Chicago based attorney and father's rights activist Jeffery M. Leving will join a panel of five other experts for a comprehensive discussion on divorce at Borders bookstore in Deerfield on Wednesday January 22, at 7:30 p.m.

Leving heads one of the few law firms in the nation that concentrate on representing men in divorce and child custody suits. Co-author of the 1986 Illinois Joint Custody Law, Leving has earned a national reputation in defending men in family courts.

Joining Leving on the panel will be other local experts in the area of divorce. Included in the discussion will be viewpoints from the legal, psychological and financial communities, in how to survive and even thrive during a divorce. The public is encouraged to attend and bring their questions.

The discussion is being co-sponsored by Borders and Divorce magazine. It takes place Wednesday, January 22nd at 7:30 p.m. at Border Deerfield, at 49 S. Waukegan Road, Deerfield.

Elliott's resignation surprises Maine Board

by Rosemary Tirio

The Maine Township Board of Trustees was caught off guard by the surprise resignation of Trustee Earl Elliott.

Four months before the end of his first term, Elliott cited personal reasons for the unexpected announcement, according to Township supervisor Mark Thompson.

Elliott's short but embattled tenure included an epic struggle over the construction of a proposed $1.4 million town hall addition, which was vocally opposed by many resident activists and was eventually built for $394,600.

Another turbulent chapter in the board's recent history was the 1995 takeover of the Spring Town Meeting by 160 residents who packed the Township Hall and voted down many board decisions, including expansion plans, funds appropriated for legal and public relations fees and pay raises for township officials and employees.

The Board's reversal of the citizens' decisions is still being argued in the Illinois Appellate Court.

Elliott, 49, a Park Ridge resident, brought a background of 27 years of management and teaching in public schools to the trustee post.

For the past several months Maine Township Republicans have been screening candidates for next April's election, so filling Elliott's unfinished term should not be a problem. Thompson said, predicting that the board would likely announce Elliott's replacement at the January board meeting.

The Top Picks for 1997

UP FRONT • CANDID • SPECIFIC

If you qualify, you're invited to the most valuable investment workshop you'll ever attend. NO-LOAD FUNDS: THE TOP PICKS FOR 1997 goes beyond the general information you've heard before at other seminars, because at the TOP PICKS WORKSHOP you'll actually get specific advice on which funds to buy now to create a winning all-star portfolio.

WE NAME SPECIFIC FUNDS!

We'll actually review the "top picks" in no-load funds today and how you can use them to achieve maximum results for your individual objectives. We'll construct, step by step, fund by fund, complete specifics on how to build three different growth portfolios:

- Conservative growth or income with minimum risk
- Moderate growth for better returns and a bit more risk
- Maximum growth for aggressive investors willing to assume higher risk in pursuit of much higher gains.

We'll also illustrate a special high-income strategy to help you achieve healthy retirement cash flow and inflation protection.

The TOP PICKS WORKSHOP will be led by seasoned investment professional Jeff Joseph, President of Natomas Capital Management, a Registered Investment Advisory. You can be confident in the advice you'll hear because your speaker is one of only 800 mutual fund experts recognized by the Institute of Certified Fund Specialists, as well as a participant in the nationally recognized Professional Fund Advisor, a no-load mutual fund consulting service retained by institutional portfolio managers and investment advisors across the country.

LIMITED SEATING!
The TOP PICKS WORKSHOP is designed for persons who have a minimum investment portfolio of $100,000 (not including real estate and employer-sponsored retirement plans). If you are a qualified investor and do not work for an investment firm, there is no cost to attend. (Attendance fee for brokers, financial planners, RIAs and firm employees is $450.)

Winter weather warning, take care of your heart

Winter is on its way, but that doesn't mean Chicago area residents have to get snowed in - or under - by Old Man Winter. It's OK to shovel snow, says the American Heart Association of Metropolitan Chicago, but if you have coronary heart disease or are middle-aged or older and have not been physically active, you need to follow some simple rules.

If snow must be shoveled, it should be done by someone who is physically fit and dressed warmly. Wear several layers of clothing; this allows air to be trapped between layers, forming a sort of protective insulation. Also, wear a hat or scarf because most heat is lost through the top of the head. Protect your ears and hands, too, because they are most susceptible to frostbite. And don't assume that women are immune to heart attack; and therefore, it is safer for them to shovel than for men. After menopause risks for women are comparable to those for men.

Don't try to lift a heavy shovel full of snow if you're not used to strenuous physical exertion. The combination of sudden physical exertion and the cold increases the heart's workload. Even walking through heavy wet snow or snow drifts can add strain to the work of the heart. Some researchers have found that the stress of cold temperatures can cause constriction of the arteries in the heart. Cold temperatures can also increase blood pressure and blood viscosity (resistance to flow) and alter blood clotting. These factors can be involved in angina (chest pain), heart attack and stroke. People who have coronary heart disease or are at high risk of heart disease should have a recommendation from their physician as to how much physical exertion they can safely undertake.

The elderly are at special risk. As people age, their ability to maintain a normal internal body temperature often decreases. Because elderly people seem to be relatively insensitive to moderately cold conditions, they can start to suffer hypothermia without knowing they are in danger.

Hypothermia, a potentially fatal condition, is a drop in body temperature to a subnormal level. It occurs when a person's body cannot produce enough energy to keep the internal body temperature warm enough. Signs of hypothermia include lack of coordination, mental confusion, slowed reactions, shivering and sleepiness. Heart failure is the cause of death in most cases of hypothermia.

Don't drink alcoholic beverages before going outside or while in the cold. Alcohol gives an initial feeling of warmth, but this is caused by expanding blood vessels in the skin. This draws heat away from the body's vital organs.

If you must shovel snow or be out in the cold, remember the warning signs of heart attack: • Uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of the chest lasting more than a few minutes.

• Pain spreading to the shoulders, neck or arms. • Chest discomfort with lightheadedness, fainting, sweating, nausea or shortness of breath.

People with high blood pressure have an increased risk of stroke. Brain attack warning signs are:

• Sudden weakness or numbness of the face, arm or leg on one side of the body. • Sudden dimness or loss of vision, particularly in one eye.

• Loss of speech, or trouble talking or understanding speech. • Sudden severe headaches with no known or apparent cause.

• Unexplained dizziness, unsteadiness or sudden falls, especially along with any of the previous symptoms.

For more information on how to protect your heart this winter, call the American Heart Association at 1-800-AHA-USA1.

Immunizations required for 1997-98 school year

New Illinois immunization regulations require all students entering the 5th grade after July 1, 1997, to have received three doses of hepatitis B vaccine. In addition, children 2 years of age or older enrolling after July 1 in pre-kindergarten programs operated by a school will need to show proof of hepatitis B immunization.

The first two doses of the vaccine are to be given four weeks apart, and the third shot must be received at least two months after the second.

"Since it takes a minimum of three months to complete the three-dose series of shots, parents of children who will be affected by the new requirements should begin planning the immunizations now," Dr. Lumpkin said. "The vaccine will provide protection against a very serious disease, which has no cure."

Hepatitis B is caused by a virus that attacks the liver and is spread by direct contact with the blood or body fluids of an infected person. A baby can get hepatitis B from an infected mother during childbirth.

A person can be a carrier of the disease, but not know it and have no symptoms, and unwittingly spread it to others. State law requires that all pregnant women be tested for hepatitis B early in their pregnancies or at the time of delivery. Babies who get hepatitis B at birth may have the virus the rest of their lives, can spread the disease and may develop cirrhosis of the liver or liver cancer.

The Illinois School Code was amended this year to include the hepatitis B immunization requirement. This new requirement applies to 5th grade in all schools and to children 2 years of age or older in all school or school-district operated programs such as nursery school, early childhood, pre-school or pre-kindergarten. Children enrolled in the federally funded Head Start program previously had been required by federal law to show proof of hepatitis B immunization.

Fifth graders were targeted because they already are required to have a physical examination before beginning 5th grade and the vaccine will provide them protection before the onset of risk-taking behaviors, such as sexual activity and drug use, that are most likely to begin during their teenage years.

For those who exhibit signs of hepatitis B, the symptoms include yellowing of the skin and eyes, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, fever, stomach or joint pain, and extreme tiredness. Ill-nois has averaged 350 cases of hepatitis B per year over the past five years.

The three-dose immunization requirement brings Illinois in compliance with current recommendations from the American Academy of Pediatrics and the Immunization Practices Advisory Committee of the U.S. Center for Disease Control and Prevention.

Hepatitis B vaccine has been available since 1982 and has been included in the recommended Illinois childhood immunization schedule since 1991.

Local Credit Union open to the community

The 7400 Waukegan building in Niles is home to a financial treasure which many area residents have yet to discover. After 58 years of membership limited to certain church and employee groups, the services of Northwest Community Credit Union are now available to those who live or work in Niles Township and Maine Township. Because of its non-profit status, this federally insured financial cooperative is able to offer higher than average dividends on savings accounts and lower interest on consumer loans.

The Chicago Bar Association Revue tickets on sale

Tickets are on sale for the Chicago Bar Association's Christmas Spirits Revue, an evening of music and comedy presented by the Oakton Educational Foundation, Saturday, Jan. 25 at 8:30 pm on the Mainstage of the Performing Arts Center at Oakton's Des Plaines campus, 1600 E. Golf. The Bar Association's 73rd annual revue entitled 101 Dull Motions is anything but dull as lawyers poke fun at local and national celebrities and events in the news. The satirical revue targets such well known celebrities as Liddy and Bob, Dole, Dick Durbin, Paul Simon, Chelsea Clinton and Richard Daley in musical numbers such as "Sunday in the Park with Rich" and "On the Dole." Tickets are $45 and include a reception following the show during which entertainers and guests can socialize and enjoy refreshments. Past performances have sold out quickly, so call the Oakton Box Office now at (847) 635-1900 for tickets.

Meigs to reopen for five years, then become park

Mayor Richard M. Daley announced that the City of Chicago has reached a compromise agreement with Governor Edgar and the State of Illinois that will lead to a 5 year reopening of Meigs Field, followed by its permanent conversion into a park.

Under terms of the agreement reached, the City will reopen Meigs Field in the near future and operate the airport for the next 5 years. After that time, the city will close the airport and create a park on Northerly Island.

Governor Edgar and Mayor Daley agreed to seek a repeal of the Meigs Field Act early in the legislative session.

The City also agreed to use its best efforts to promote use of the airport. In addition, the City will seek permission from the Federal Aviation Administration to close the airport at midnight instead of at 10 p.m.

In order to uncover the advantages of the Premium Rate Savings Account, Park National Bank is offering a 1% bonus above our already competitive rate for six months on new deposits.

1. Liquidity... deposits and withdrawals permitted
2. Safety... FDIC insured
3. High Rates... discounted from the prime rate

The Bonus rate is available on the amount of deposits brought from other financial institutions and kept on deposit at Park National for six months. Limited time offer. The minimum deposit required to receive the bonus is $25,000.00. The minimum balance required to open a Premium Rate Savings Account is $5,000.00. The bonus interest will be paid into the account six months after the new deposit is received. The amount of interest paid will be based on the average daily balance of the new deposit amount during the six month period. The Annual Percentage Yield of the Bonus rate is 1.00% which is in addition to interest earned at the regular Premium Rate Savings rates for the six month period. Fees could reduce earnings on the account. The 6.37% APY is computed using $100,000.00 as a new deposit amount.

The Premium Rate Savings Account pays higher rates than most money market accounts. Unlimited deposits and up to three withdrawals per month are permitted. Deposits up to $100,000.00 are FDIC insured. This account is a tiered variable interest rate investment which is indexed to the prime lending rate at Park National Bank (currently 8.25%). The interest rate may change after the account is opened. Interest excluding the Bonus rate deposits is paid to the account on a monthly basis at the regular Premium Rate Savings Account rate. $20.00 monthly fee (if account falls below $500).

These concerts pay tribute to the great leader of the civil rights movement and memorialize the lives of James Chaney, Andrew Goodman, and Michael Schwerner, three civil rights workers, who were murdered in Mississippi in the summer of 1964.

The performances take place Sunday, January 19, 2:30 pm, at Rosary College, 7900 West Division in River Forest and Monday, January 20, 7:30 pm, at Orchestra Hall, 220 South Michigan Avenue. Ticket prices at Orchestra Hall range from $12 to $32, $17 to $25 at Rosary College. Group discounts are available to 10 or more. Call (312) 857-1062 for tickets.

The Ruth Page Dance Series 1997 season at NEIU

Northeastern Illinois University's (NEIU) Department of Music and the Dance Program presents the 1997 Ruth Page Dance Series beginning its sixth year on January 17 and 18.

Weekend I kicks off on Friday and Saturday, January 17 and 18 with performances by artists from the Joffrey Ballet of Chicago in "Three Tangos." The XSIGHT! Performance Group, last year's recipient of the Ruth Page Awards for Choreography and Performance, makes its Ruth Page Dance Series debut. The weekend lineup also includes the Especially Tap Company and the James Kelly Choreography Project. Both Kelly and XSIGHT! will perform world premiere works.

Weekend II on Friday and Saturday, February 28 and March 1 will feature a world premiere work by Series Artistic Director Venetia Stifler and her company, Concert Dance, Inc., accompanied by live performances of Baroque art songs. Ensemble Español Spanish Dance Theater, in residence at NEIU, Dame Libby Komaiko, director, will present a world premier work choreographed by Dame Komaiko. Also featured will be the River North Dance Company and the comedic tap routines of the Swift Brothers.

Weekend III on Friday and Saturday, March 28 and 29 features the series debut of the acclaimed Ballet Theater of Chicago and Sundance Production, a highly energetic African/Caribbean dance company. The Cerqua/Rivera Art Experience will present a world premiere work featuring original choreography, live music and murals by world famous painter Matt Lamb. Series favorites Melissa Thodos & Dancers will also premiere a new work by Thodos.

The Ruth Page Dance Series will also sponsor special events including student matinees, master classes and lectures. All performances are in NEIU's auditorium, 5500 North St. Louis Avenue, Chicago, at 8 p.m. Free parking is available in Lot "D" at Central Park and Bryn Mawr. Tickets are $15, general admission; $10, students and senior citizens. Subscriptions and group rates are available.

For ticket information, call Rachel Burton at (773) 794-6138 or to charge by phone, (773) 588-2770.

Register now for a variety of winter courses offered through Oakton Community College's Emeritus Program. The 16-week classes begin the week of Jan. 21 and are offered at Oakton's Ray Hartstein Campus, 7701 N. Lincoln Ave., Skokie.

Music of the USA (MUS 145 001, Touch-tone code 0050) covers two distinct traditions in American music. Popular music includes jazz, blues and rock. Classical music includes Gershwin, Copeland and Bernstein. The class meets on Wednesdays from 9-11:30am and is taught by Patrick Casali, Oakton professor of humanities and international studies.

Diversity in American Society (SOC 232 001, Touch-Tone code 7706) examines the nature of diversity in the U.S., looking at the issue both historically and in the contemporary period. Study the pressures to accommodate greater social diversity as well as the resistance to the multiculturalism today that takes such forms as "English Only" movements and the anti-immigrant backlash. The class meets on Fridays from 9-11:30 am and is taught by Gwen Nyden.

Women's studies (HUM 140 002, Touch-tone code 0652) explores how women's roles are defined in various arenas: political, philosophical, psychological, sex role stereotypes, labor force distribution and rights, healthcare and educational participation. Examine how gender-laden philosophies have affected understanding of ourselves. The class meets on Wednesdays from 1-3:30pm.

Students can register for these and other Emeritus winter credit offerings in Room A-100 at the Skokie campus and in Room 1140 at the Des Plaines campus. Those who have registered for Oakton or Alliance for Lifelong Learning (ALL) classes within the last three years and have a correct Social Security number on file, may register using the Touch-Tone system by dialing (847) 635-1616. Registrations can also be taken via FAX (847) 635-1448 in which case payment must be made by a major credit card (Visa, Mastercard or Discover).

Tuition is $35 per credit hour for persons under 60 who live in district. A $15 registration fee is required for persons under 60 or for those who live out-of-district. For a brochure listing all of the programs, seminars and tours available, including registration information, call the Emeritus office at (847) 635-1414.

MORTON GROVE FLU VACCINE

SAFE FROM RECALL
In response to public concern over recent reports of recalled flu serum, the Visiting Nurse Association (VNA) North, which administered flu shots at the Morton Grove Senior Center, is advising the public that vaccinations are safe from recall. "Chicago area VNAs gave over 100,000 flu shots this season and we want to reassure our clients that they are not affected by this recall," states Katharine Francis, Director of the VNA North Flu Prevention Program. According to published reports from the FDA, the vaccine in question is produced by Parke-Davis, a division of the Warner Lambert Company. Eleven lots of the vaccine known as Fluogen were recalled because of decreased potency in one viral strain. Doses from the recalled vaccine were given to only a small portion (around 5 to 7%) of all people and none at the Morton Grove clinics. High risk individuals who received flu shots from sources other than the VNA should contact their health care provider to determine if there is a need for reimmunization.

GRIEF SUPPORT GROUPS
The Visiting Nurse Association (VNA) Hospice program will conduct two "Transitions From Grief" support groups. These eight-session groups offer support and information, giving participants the opportunity to understand, acknowledge and express the feelings of grieving. Pre-registration is required. Classes will be held on Wednesday mornings starting Jan. 22 and Thursday evenings starting Jan. 23 at the VNA Hospice, 5215 Old Orchard Rd. in Skokie. In addition, there is a drop-in program from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. on the first Tuesday of each month. For more information, contact Maxine Topper at (847) 581-1717.

For more information about these senior services and recreation programs, call the Morton Grove Senior Hot Line at 470-5223, or the Prairie View Community Center at 965-1200. Seniors offered low-cost will preparation Eligible senior citizens are offered low-cost will preparation services through the Senior Citizens Will Program on Friday, January 17, at the Niles Senior Center. Advance appointments are required and will be scheduled between 9:30 a.m. and noon.

Attorneys from The Chicago Bar Association's Lawyer Referral Service will provide free consultations about wills to seniors who register for the service. At a client's request, an attorney will also prepare a simple will for a reduced fee. The cost for drawing up a will is not more than $50 for an individual ($75 for a couple).

Durable Power of Attorney and Living Will forms are available free of charge. A Durable Power of Attorney allows a senior to designate another person to make property or health care decisions in the event the senior becomes physically or mentally unable to do so. A Living Will allows an individual with a terminal health condition to express his or her desire to have death-delaying procedures withheld or withdrawn.

Seniors may complete the Durable Power of Attorney and Living Will forms themselves, or they may hire the attorney to help fill them out and to explain the various options available on the forms. The fee for the attorney to provide legal advice about a Durable Power of Attorney is $75 maximum for an individual ($125 for a couple). The charge for a Living Will is no more than $50 for an individual ($75 for a couple).

To be eligible for the Senior Citizens Will Program, a client must be age 60 or over, annual income must not exceed $15,000 ($20,000 for a couple), and assets, excluding a home and personal car, should be worth no more than $30,000.

The Senior Citizens Will Program is sponsored by The Chicago Bar Association Lawyer Referral Service, the Suburban Area Agency on Aging and the Cook County Legal Assistance Foundation.

Appointments for the Senior Citizens Will Program must be scheduled in advance. To register and be screened for eligibility, call the Niles Senior Center at (847) 967-6100, Ext. 376 (voice) or (847) 823-4543 (TDD).

North Shore Place and Friend Center underway

Anticipating a large demand for the limited number of apartments at North Shore Place and the Friend Center—the assisted living facility and early Alzheimer's care residence now under construction in Deerfield, the council for Jewish Elderly (CJE) is taking early reservations for priority waiting list.

Due to open in July 1997, the two facilities are part of the $24 million Harry and Jeanette Weinberg Community for Senior Living being developed on 10 acres at Lake Cook Rd near Wilmet.

The six story North Shore Place will consist of 125 spacious apartments for older people who wish to live independently, but may require health and social support. The Berman and Hannah Friend Center for Early Alzheimer's Care is an adjoining single-story residence with 35 rooms for people in the early stage of Alzheimer's or related dementia.

North Shore Place will offer Kosher meals in a restaurant style dining room, housekeeping, a staff on call around the clock, some personal assistance, and a variety of interesting educational, social and cultural activities.

There will be 103 one-bedroom and 22 two-bedroom apartments in North Shore Place. Amenities will include a cafe, convenience store, beauty/barber shop, library, fitness and wellness centers, a synagogue, meeting rooms, and landscaped gardens.

The Berman and Hannah Friend Center for Early Alzheimer's Care will provide three Kosher meals per day and includes a lounge with generous recreational space, a hands-on activity kitchen, and a large protected outdoor strolling garden. In addition, the Friend Center will offer scheduled activities 24 hours and will be available to residents as their sleep cycles dictate.

The physical and programmatic design for the Friend Center is based on current research revealing that people with Alzheimer's enjoy a better quality of life in a home-like environment where individual needs are top of mind.

Manion said "The Alzheimer's residence will be ideal for people suffering from the disease because they can participate in creative programs and receive attention on their schedule. We have created a setting for just 35 residents, and each one can participate in activity-based programs mirroring his or her individual sleep pattern. The child or spouse caregiver can be assured that their loved one is in a wonderful physical environment that optimizes safety, comfort and independence."

The Harry and Jeanette Weinberg Community is a project of Council for Jewish Elderly, an affiliate of the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago. Since 1972, CJE has been meeting the growing needs of older people and their families across metropolitan Chicago. For more information, or to place a name on the priority waiting list, call (847) 374-0500.

Register now for credit classes offered through Oakton Community College's Emeritus Program. The 16-week classes begin the week of Jan. 21 and are offered at Oakton's Ray Hartstein Campus, 7701 N. Lincoln Ave., Skokie.

Introduction to Microcomputers (CIS 103 005, Touch-Tone code 0242) focuses on the fundamental concepts of data processing hardware and software as they apply to microcomputers in a business environment.

The course emphasizes use of typical software packages and provides an introduction to basic programming. The class meets on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 10-11:15 a.m.; lab from 11:30 a.m.-12:20 p.m. Another section (CIS 103 0W2, Touch-Tone 0235), meets on Saturdays from 9-11:15 a.m.; Lab from 12-1:50 p.m.

Introduction to Film (HUM 160 002, Touch-Tone 0577) examines the history, theory and art of film through basic film components such as camera movement, lighting, sound, editing and other related topics. Improve your understanding of the cinematic medium and increase your enjoyment of this art form. The class meets on Mondays from 9 a.m.-12:20 p.m.

Students can register for these and other Emeritus winter credit offerings in Room A-100 at the Skokie campus and in Room 1140 at the Des Plaines campus.

Those who have registered for Oakton or Alliance for Lifelong Learning (ALL) classes within the last three years and have a correct Social Security number on file may register using the Touch-Tone system by dialing (847) 635-1616. Registrations can also be taken via FAX at (847) 635-1448 in which cash payment must be made by a major credit card (Visa, Mastercard or Discover).

Tuition is $35 per credit hour for persons under 60 and $17.50 per credit hour for persons over 60 who live in-district. The tuition is $110.50 per credit hour for persons who do not live in-district. A $15 registration fee is required for persons under 60 or for those who live out-of-district.

For a brochure listing all of the programs, seminars and tours available, including registration information, call the Emeritus office at (847) 635-1414.

Safety Tips You Can Bank On

Should you notify the police when you are going to be out of town? How do you handle obscene phone calls? What are the latest cons and scams being pulled against older adults? How can you identify elder abuse?

The answers to these and many other questions are available in Safety Tips You Can Bank On, a new crime prevention guide for older adults. The guide is published by Council for Jewish Elderly's (CJE) Crime Victim/Witness Program.

Safety Tips You Can Bank On offers suggestions on home safety; telephone safety; telephone/telemarketing calls; street and public transportation safety; parking safety; cons, scams, schemes and frauds; safe shopping; cyber cash/Internet security; and elder abuse and neglect.

"Older adults are often victims of preventable crimes," said Inez Macko, coordinator of CJE's Crime Victim/Witness Assistance Program. "The advice offered in Safety Tips You Can Bank On is based on situations that we have encountered and questions we have been asked over the years," she said.

CJE has a deep and abiding commitment to the dignity of the older person. The Crime Victim/

Witness Assistance Program provides practical and court assistance to victims/witnesses 60 and older. Staff members present community education programs and workshops on crime prevention for older adults. They also work in conjunction with the police to reduce crime against older adults.

Funding for Safety Tips You Can Bank On was provided by First Commercial Bank, Chicago. To receive a free copy of this publication, or for further information on the Crime Victim/Witness Assistance program, please call (773) 508-1000.

Seniors offered low cost wills

Last year, The Chicago Bar Association Lawyer Referral Service provided over 500 Chicago senior citizens with access to low-cost wills and other important legal services through the Senior Citizens Will Program. The program operates at five senior centers in Chicago and ten senior centers in the surrounding suburbs.

The program offers eligible senior citizens one free, will-related consultation with an attorney from The Chicago Bar Association Lawyer Referral Service, and if a client wishes, the low-cost preparation of a simple will. The cost for drawing up a will is not more than $50 for an individual ($75 for a couple).

"Anyone who cares how his or her property is distributed after death needs a will," stated Jean Pavela, Director of the CBA Lawyer Referral Service. "A will allows a person to control how and among whom his or her estate will be divided and to designate the people it should be given to. If a person does not have a will, state laws will determine the distribution of the assets," Ms. Pavela added. "The state laws may not comply with a person's wishes, so even people with modest holdings need to know how important it is to have a will."

Durable Power of Attorney and Living Will forms are available through the program free of charge. A durable Power of Attorney allows a person to designate someone to make property or health care decisions in the event he or she becomes physically or mentally unable to do so. A Living Will allows an individual with a terminal health condition to express his or her desire to have death-delaying procedures withheld or withdrawn.

Seniors may complete the Durable Power of Attorney and Living Will forms themselves, or they may hire the attorney to help fill them out and explain the various options available on the forms. The fee for the attorney to provide legal advice about each Durable Power of Attorney is $75 maximum for an individual ($125 for a couple). The charge for a Living Will is no more than $50 for an individual ($75 for a couple).

To be eligible for the Senior Citizens Will Program, a client must be age 60 or over. Annual income must not exceed $15,000 (20,000 for a couple), and assets, excluding a home and personal car, should be worth no more than $30,000.

The Senior Citizens Will Program is sponsored by The Chicago Bar Association, the Suburban Area Agency on Aging, the Chicago Department on Aging, and the Cook County Legal Assistance Foundation.

Register now for art classes taught by Theresa Kramer through Oakton Community College's Emeritus Program. The 16-week classes begin the week of Jan. 21 and are offered at Oakton's Ray Hartstein Campus, 7701 N. Lincoln Ave., Skokie.

Art History: Twentieth Century (ART 113 001, Touch-Tone code 7098) is a comparative study of modern art as an expression of human experience. Emphasis is on the development of a capacity for perspective, stylistic analysis and ability to understand a work of art in relation to its cultural context. The class meets on Tuesdays from 9-11:50 am.

History of Non-Western Art (ART 114 001, Touch-Tone code 7022) is a comprehensive study of art comparing works from China, Japan, India, Africa and the ancient Americas. Emphasis will be on the ability to identify styles and to understand a work of art in relationship to the people and time period from which it comes, as well as to ourselves. The class meets on Thursdays from 9-11:50 am.

Passages lecturer discusses the Great Concertos

Jim Kendros, composer, music researcher and Oakton faculty member, discusses The Great Concertos at 1 pm, Jan. 21 as part of Passages, the weekly series sponsored by Oakton Community College's Emeritus Program. Lectures are held in Room A151 at the Ray Hartstein Campus, 7701 N. Lincoln Avenue, Skokie.

Explore the significant concertos of well-known composers from Bach to Schumann. CD recordings will be used to illustrate how composers express their respective unique styles.

The admission fee is $1. For more information on this and other programs sponsored by the Emeritus Program for older adults, call (847) 635-1414.

Retirement Plans may change in 1997

There are a couple of key words you don't see included in the names of the "Small Business Job Protection Act" and the "Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act"—taxes and retirement plans. In fact, both measures, passed by Congress in 1996, actually contain several key provisions, some of which could affect your retirement plan as well as your health plan.

The Small Business Job Protection Act is best known for increasing the minimum wage. However, it will also affect many aspects of business retirement plans and IRAs.

The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act guarantees health insurance to people who change jobs and protects employees with pre-existing conditions from losing their health insurance when switching employers.

Among the changes resulting from these acts that will be effective as of Jan. 1, 1997:

Increased contributions to spousal IRAs. Starting next year, couples can contribute up to $4,000 each year ($2,000 per spouse) to an IRA, even if one spouse does not work. Previously when one spouse did not earn income, combined contributions were limited to $2,250 annually, with no more than $2,000 contributed to one IRA. Individuals are still limited to $2,000 for annual contributions to an individual IRA.

Also, those who withdraw money from their IRAs for medical expenses will no longer be subject to a 10 percent IRS penalty, provided those expenses exceed 7.5 percent of their adjusted gross income. The penalty also is waived on withdrawals from IRAs to buy health insurance if the IRA owner has received unemployment compensation for at least 12 weeks.

SAR-SEPs repealed. As a result of the new legislation, no new salary reduction simplified employee pension plans (SAR-SEPs) can be established after Dec. 31, 1996. Employees in smaller companies may be more familiar with SAR-SEPs, which allow employees to contribute pretax salary dollars to their retirement plan and receive matching contributions from their employer. Bosche mentioned that current SAR-SEPs will not be affected.

"SIMPLE" plan created. The new legislation creates a "SIMPLE" retirement plan available to employers with fewer than 100 employees. The Savings Incentive Match Plan for Employees (SIMPLE) will allow employees to save up to $6,000 annually by contributing pretax salary dollars to an IRA or 401(k) trust. This plan requires employers to contribute either by matching employees' tax-deferred contributions equal to 2 percent of compensation for each eligible employee, not to exceed the $6,000 maximum contribution.

Changes in mandatory retirement plan distributions. Qualified retirement plan participants who continue to work beyond age 70 1/2 will no longer be required to take and minimum distributions from their employer's qualified retirement plan until they retire. Qualified retirement plans include 401(k) plans, profit sharing, money purchase, defined-benefit pension plans.

If you own an IRA and/or own at least 5 percent of your employer's business, the minimum mandatory distribution requirement age 70 1/2 still applies.

401(k) plans available to non-profit organizations. For the first time, certain tax-exempt organizations will be able to establish either a 401(k) plan or a similar retirement plan. Specifically, newly eligible organizations include credit unions, chambers of commerce, fraternal orders and American Indian tribes.

Five-year averaging repealed after Dec. 31, 1999. Five-year averaging is a technique that allows recipients of retirement plan distributions to calculate the amount of tax due on the distribution as if it is received over five years. This tax-planning technique generally produces a lower overall tax bill; however, it will no longer be allowed for most individuals after Dec. 31, 1999.

Repeal of excise tax. For the 1997, 1998 and 1999 tax years, the 15 percent excise tax on retirement plan distributions will not be enforced. Previously, you were subject to the excise tax if you received more than $155,000 in distributions from your retirement plan in one calendar year. The excise tax will still apply on distributions at death during this three-year period, and the tax will be wholly reinstated in the year 2000.

In addition, the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act enables individuals with long-term care insurance to be eligible for some tax breaks. Long-term care policyholders may begin deducting premiums on such policies once they exceed 7.5 percent of their adjusted gross income. Employers also will be able to deduct the amounts they pay for such policies on behalf of their employees.

Take Time for Thursdays

The January and February "Take Time For Thursday" lecture programs will help people fulfill their New Year's resolutions. On January 30 at 1 p.m., there will be a do-it yourself workshop on "Pressure Point Therapy." This technique teaches people how to help themselves relieve health problems such as headaches, neck pain, digestive problems, sinus problems and many others. Participants are given all the tools so that when they leave the workshop, they can use this safe, natural treatment to help themselves feel better. Reserve a space for this informative program with the Morton Grove Park District senior adult supervisor, Catherine Dean by calling 965-1200.

On Feb. 27 at 1 p.m., Debra Stern, a Licensed Clinical Social Worker, will speak on "Invest in Yourself... Your Most Valuable Resource." In this presentation, participants will be encouraged to make the most of their talents and release the powerful resources within. Call Catherine at 965-1200 to reserve a space at this presentation.

Experts share tips on navigating Medicare maze

As Congress muddles ways to cut the $178 billion Medicare spends each year, seniors who depend on the federal program struggle with their own puzzle: how to be certain they receive appropriate benefits, and at the same time, avoid overpayments caused by paperwork glitches.

To help traverse the Medicare and insurance maze Adele Ballis and Judy Pearl, principals in Senior Service Systems, a Chicago-based company that helps seniors and their adult children file medical insurance claims, pay bills, and reconcile bank statements, offer these valuable tips:

1. Ask your doctor if he or she accepts Medicare assignment. "This is probably the most important advice," Ballis says, "and often neglected." If a physician accepts assignment, he must assume the amount approved by Medicare for that service. If he doesn't accept Medicare assignment, he can charge as much as 14% above Medicare's approved amount.

2. Understand the benefits you are entitled to from Medicare and any supplemental insurance policy. "Frequently, a doctor's receptionist will ask the patient about their policy's benefits, and the patient won't have a clue," says Pearl.

"Don't be embarrassed to ask for clarification from your insurer if you have difficulty understanding."

3. If you're being wooed by an HMO, prepare a list of questions before making a final decision. "HMOs are an alternative," Ballis says. "Scrutiny is essential before enrolling. Check with state agencies and consumer groups to learn if the HMO has any complaints on record. Find out if you can choose your own doctor."

4. Keep insurance policy numbers on hand at all times. "Give physicians, hospitals, pharmacists, and any other medical providers your Medicare and supplemental insurance policy numbers," Pearl advises. "If they don't have all the information, they can't file your claim."

5. Make a list of all medical bills, then prepare a form to track payments made to your physician or hospital by Medicare or your supplemental insurance. "When you receive a bill from your health care provider, check the list to see if it's already been paid," says Ballis. "Insurance companies may take their time to pay a bill, and the doctor or hospital may continue to send your statements. Don't automatically pull out your checkbook before researching the bill further."

"Before paying a bill, call first to learn if they've received any payment from your insurer. If they haven't, ask them to confirm that they have indeed sent in a claim."

6. If Medicare denies a claim, don't give up. "A claim may be refused because the healthcare provider did not properly code the service," Pearl explained. "Contact the provider, who should make the necessary corrections, and resubmit the claim."

If a claim is denied, you can appeal. In 1994, 40 to 76 percent of appeals were reversed in favor of the beneficiary. The success rate depended upon individual circumstances."

7. Reduce your out-of-pocket prescription expenses. Perhaps your supplemental policy covers prescriptions, or your policy provides for discounts at certain pharmacies.

8. Get on a first-name basis with your doctor's receptionist, Ballis suggests. "She can straighten out a miscoded bill, or help you get a credit when you've paid a bill already settled by insurance."

"It's ironic that one of the most confusing procedures we encounter is one reserved for our older years," says Pearl. "Medicare and insurance forms are particularly perplexing because seniors may be sick or disabled, grieving for a lost spouse, or understandably confused about the whole procedure. Additionally, adult children may be too busy to step in, equally in the dark on Medicare, or hesitant to handle the conflict that often erupts when discussing financial matters with a parent."

Property Tax Deferral

January and February are important months for those who seek relief from paying property taxes when they come due in 1997. Households with a total income of no more than $25,000 are eligible for the Illinois Property Tax Deferral Program. Applicants must be 65 years of age on or before June 1, 1997, must own the property and must have lived in it for at least three years as the principal residence. There can be no unpaid taxes or penalties from prior years. A homeowner may defer all, or some portion, of property taxes due in 1997 (the 1996 taxes). The State of Illinois will pay the taxes. At the time of the homeowner's sale of the home, or death, the State must be reimbursed for the full amount it had paid on the homeowner's behalf, plus a simple 6% interest. For more information, contact the Cook County Treasurer's Office in Skokie at 470-7237.

New Alzheimer drug shows progress in research

Approval of a new drug for Alzheimer's disease by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) shows that science is making real progress in developing therapies for symptomatic relief of the incurable brain disorder, according to the Greater Chicagoland Chapter, Alzheimer's Association.

The FDA's approved donepezil hydrochloride as a treatment for symptomatic relief for Alzheimer's disease. The only other Alzheimer drug, tacrine, was approved by the FDA in 1993. Neither of the two drugs will cure the disease.

The drug does not slow Alzheimer's progression, but eases mild to moderate symptoms by inhibiting the breakdown of acetylcholine, a brain chemical vital for nerve cells to communicate with each other. The longer acetylcholine stays in the brain, the longer those cells can call up patient's memories.

Affected individuals and their families should discuss the potential benefits, risks and costs of donepezil hydrochloride with their physicians before deciding whether to try it. The Alzheimer's Association, Greater Chicagoland Chapter, does not endorse products.

In 1995, the Alzheimer's Association created its Ronald and Nancy Reagan Research Institute to speed discovery of effective treatments and even preventions for Alzheimer's disease.

United Healthcare of Illinois to be part of AARP Health Care Program

United HealthCare of Illinois has been selected to begin contract negotiations with the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) to provide a managed care coverage option to AARP members in the Chicago market. If the contract is approved by AARP's Insurance Trust and Board of Directors, United HealthCare of Illinois is expected to be able to offer its managed health plan services to AARP members in 1997.

AARP's decision to offer managed health care products is part of the association's plan to offer its members a wider range of health care options.

AARP is the nation's leading organization for people 50 and older with a membership of more than 30 million individuals. AARP serves their needs and interests through research, informative programs, and community services and advocacy provided by a network of local chapters and experienced volunteers throughout the country. The organization also offers a wide range of special benefits, including Modern Maturity and the monthly Bulletin.

United HealthCare Corp., one of the nation's largest health care management service companies, shares its nationwide expertise with its health plans so they can deliver quality care locally. United HealthCare serves more than 40 million Americans and 45 of the nation's Fortune 100 companies through its range of health care products and services. Fortune magazine has ranked United HealthCare "the most admired health care company in America" for 1995 and 1996.

Small joint replacement is big surgery

When used appropriately, small joint replacement can be very successful, but only for those whose symptoms have not improved with other treatments, and only when done by a properly trained surgeon, reports the Arthritis Foundation.

The Current issue of Arthritis Today, the foundation's national consumer magazine, outlines treatment options other than surgery, and the benefits and risks of surgery to help people with arthritis make informed decisions.

"Standard treatments that physicians typically recommend first include exercise, weight control, splints, and hot and cold treatments, plus over-the-counter and prescription medications to relieve pain, reduce inflammation and slow down the disease process," says Dr. Michael Ellman, University of Chicago rheumatologist. "When these measures fail, physicians may then refer patients to an orthopaedic surgeon to discuss surgical options," Ellman continued.

The key to making an educated decision is arming yourself with facts about all your treatment options, and discussing them with your physician. Before prescribing small joint replacement surgery, physicians must consider your physical and medical eligibility, as well as reasons for wanting the surgery. If your expectations are unreasonable, surgeons may hesitate to perform the procedure.

During small joint replacement surgery, the diseased portion of the joint is removed and replaced with an artificial joint made of a flexible material. The two ends of bone then are untied with the implant between them. After surgery, the finger or toe regains function as tissue begins to grow around the implant. Surgery can offer benefits, such as improved movement and use of a joint, relief of pain, and improvement in the alignment of deformed joints.

There is no clear consensus among physicians on when replacement of small joints is most appropriate and risk-free. The decision simply varies from patient to patient.

"Some of the risks may include infection following surgery, continued pain in the joint, or break-down of an implant after years of use," Ellman continued. "In some cases, the rough ends of the bone create stress points in the implant material, causing it to break down or deform."

Sometimes joint replacements need to be revised, or redone, and even removed altogether. Virtually any implant eventually will fail mechanically as a result of wear and tear. Researchers continue to study ways to improve the materials currently used in artificial joints, and the outlook for advances in this field is promising. Once patients understand all treatment options, and the possible risks involved in small joint surgery, they and their physicians can make the decision that is right for them.

Driving hints for seniors

Senior citizens age 65 and older comprise about 13 percent of all Illinois drivers. While few requirements exist for seniors to maintain driving privileges, they need to be aware of natural physical changes, such as changing vision and slower reflexes, that may limit their driving ability.

Q. Is there an age at which older citizens should stop driving?

A. No, as long as they are physically and mentally capable of driving safely. Many elderly people voluntarily stop driving and surrender their licenses when they feel they should not be driving.

Q. What are the requirements for seniors when renewing a driver's license?

A. Seniors age 69-80 must renew their licenses every four years for a $5 fee. Persons 81-86 must renew every two years for a $2 fee, and those 87 and older must renew yearly at no fee.

Emeritus art class at Oakton

Respite Care at Norwood Park Home

Norwood Park Home, 6016 N. Nina Avenue, continues to offer Respite Care as part of its extended list of services provided to the seniors and residents of the community.

Respite Care is a short term stay anywhere from one to four weeks. It is an opportunity to recover from recent surgery or a hospital stay, for example. For those families who take care of an older adult, this is an excellent opportunity to place your loved one in a secure safe environment when you need a break or when you're traveling on vacation. Respite stay residents receive the same quality care that permanent NPH residents have received for over a century. Norwood Park Home offers a variety of services including independent living, intermediate nursing care and skilled nursing care. In addition, a variety of additional rehabilitation services and activities are available to allow Respite residents a comprehensive health-care environment. After a Respite stay, residents have the opportunity to apply for permanent residence if desired. For more information, to receive a free information package or to make an appointment for a personal tour, please contact Admissions Director Kay Selfridge at (312) 631-4856 ext. 2623.

Prostate treatment uses microwaves

After four years of testing, Food and Drug Administration approval was granted in May for a device called Prostatron that uses microwaves to shrink benign enlarged prostates.

Rush was one of only five sites in the country testing Prostatron since 1992 and is currently one of the few centers in the United States where treatment is available to patients.

Eighty percent of men will contract the condition, known as benign prostate hyperplasia or BPH, by age 80. Prior to FDA approval, surgery and drug therapy were the only treatments, both expensive and have side effects. Prostatron uses a catheter, threaded through the urethra to the prostate. Microwaves pulse through the device, heating the prostate and killing tissue to allow resumed urinary function.

Dr. Charles F. McKiel Jr., chairman of the department of urology at Rush, and Dr. Dennis A. Pessis, associate chairman, conducted the evaluation of the Prostatron treatment. "This is a viable option for those patients who cannot tolerate or do not want to have surgery, or do not respond to medication," Pessis said. "The efficacy and safety of the procedure is excellent."

Register for Emeritus Winter Credit Class offerings

Register now for literature classes offered through Oakton Community College's Emeritus Program. The 16-week credit classes begin the week of Jan. 21 and are offered at Oakton's Ray Hartstein Campus, 7701 N. Lincoln Ave., Skokie.

Through African Eyes (EGL 290 002, Touch-Tone code 0112) contemporary African fiction asks you to experience people whose traditional ways for life were wrenched off course by European colonization. You will read four novels as well as stories from a variety of African cultures to see how writers today are working to reconstruct their histories, traditions and values as they confront the problems of a global, industrial economy stretched by overpopulation and colonial exploitation. Writers include: Chinua Achebe, Ngugi Wa' Thiong'o, Bessie Head and Tsitsi Dangarembga. The class meets on Thursdays from 12:30-3:20 p.m. and is taught by Rinda West, Oakton professor of English.

World Views in Literature

(EGL 290 001, Touch-Tone code 0111) explores how personal identity, belief systems and ethnic heritage shape literature. You will use a variety of literature, mostly contemporary fiction, in addition to film, poetry and experiential dialog. Works include: The Professor's House by Willa Cather; Saving Grace by Lee Smith; The Romance Reader by Pearl Abraham; and The Hundred Secret Senses by Amy Tan. The class meets on Wednesdays from 9:30 a.m. - 12:20 p.m.

Students can register for these and other Emeritus winter credit offerings in Room A-100 at the Skokie campus and in Room 1140 at the Des Plaines campus. New Whealan Pool plans underway

The anticipated design plan for a new Whealan Pool, Devon and Nagle Avenues, Chicago, has been released. The pool will replace the current closed facility, originally built in the 1930's, closed in June, 1995, due to severe structural problems. County Commissioner Peter Silvestri (9th district) has diligently worked for a new pool and is pleased with the design. "The pool will be an attractive neighbor in the area. The design is modern in that it provides a slide and other contemporary attributes and will certainly meet the needs of a multitude of northwest side and nearby suburban users for many decades to come," said Silvestri. The pool is scheduled to be completed in time for the summer of 1997.

Wedding Dance

Are you recently engaged and already looking towards your wedding reception with dismay and you don't know how to dance. Fear no more. The Morton Grove Park District offers a special class for the bride and groom, and the wedding party beginning Tuesday, January 21 at the Oketo Park Fieldhouse. Class participants will learn the Waltz, Fox Trot, Cha Cha, and Swing which is all you need to know to have a great time on the dance floor. This class will be held from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. For more details call 965-1200.

Creativity with Ceramics

Come and explore your creative side by making your own beautiful ceramics. The Niles Park District is offering a ceramics class for all adults interested in creating their own hand-crafted works of art. All students will choose their own projects and work at their own pace, under the assistance of instructor Kathy Zyrkowski. No prior experience is necessary. Our beautiful new ceramics room at the Howard Leisure Center is equipped with a variety of greenware, paints, brushes, and all firing will be done in our new kiln room.

A supply list will be available the first day of class. Classes are held on Monday evenings at the Howard Leisure Center, located at 6676 Howard St., from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Three sessions of this class are offered; session I runs from January 20 through February 24, session II from March 3 through April 7, and session III from April 14 through May 19. The fee for each session is $47, or $42 with resident discount. For more information, please call (847) 967-6633.

Baubles and Bangles

Is your 6-9 year old child fascinated with jewelry and like to participate in arts and crafts? The Niles Park District has the perfect solution to get her out of your jewelry box and into her own! Baubles & Bangles is a class in which your child can learn to make jewelry out of a variety of materials including watercolor paper, beads and telephone wire. This is an excellent way for your child to explore her creative side.

The class will be held at the Recreation Center at 7877 N. Milwaukee Avenue on Monday evenings from 7 - 8 p.m. Three sessions of this class are available; session I runs from January 6th through February 10th, session II from February 17th through March 24th and session III from March 31st through May 5th. The fee for each session is $32, or $29 with resident discount. For further information, please call (847) 967-6633.

Computers for Kids

The Niles Park District is offering classes to help your child discover the magical world of computers. ComputerTots is designed to introduce children to the hands-on world of language, math, science and technology. An added feature of this class is a maximum ratio of 4 children to one computer. They are sure to get that hands-on experience they need. Classes are held at the Howard Leisure Center, located at 6676 Howard St. The first session begins on January 15 and runs through February 5. Session II runs from February 19 through March 12, session III from April 2 through April 23, and session IV from May 7 through May 28. Register for one or all sessions. Class for children ages 3-4 years runs from 2:35-3:05 p.m. Class for children ages 4-5 years runs from 3:10-3:40 p.m. The fee for each session is $37.

Are your children a little older? Then try Computer Explorers. This class will challenge even the computer-wise mind. Children ages 6-8 years will solve super puzzles and mysteries with a maximum ratio of 3 children to one computer. All-new software will be used each session on Wednesdays at the Howard Leisure Center. Class runs from 3:45-4:25 p.m. Class dates are the same as those listed above. Class fee for each session is $41. For further information on either class, please call the Howard Leisure Center at (847) 967-6633.

Tips for driving in fog

Although Illinois has experienced a mild winter, recent heavy fogs have reduced visibility dramatically, making it difficult for motorists to see each other. Illinois' headlight law is especially important when driving in fog.

Q. What should I do if I must drive in fog?

A. Reduce your speed and turn on your low beam headlights. Many motorists turn on their high beams, which reduces visibility. Do not overdrive your headlights and be alert for vehicles that may be moving slowly in front of you.

Q. Can I use my parking lights instead of my headlights?

A. No. It is against the law to drive with only parking lights on during inclement weather. Parking lights do not provide enough lights to increase your visibility or for your vehicle to be seen by others.

Q. What does the headlight law say?

A. All drivers must turn on their headlights when snow, fog or rain make it necessary to turn on the windshield wipers. Tail-lights must be visible from a distance of at least 500 feet. Many motorists are unaware of this law and continue to drive without their headlights on during bad weather, endangering themselves and others.

Notice of review sent to children on SSI

If you receive Supplemental Security Income (SSI) payments for a child with a disability, the Social Security Administration will notify you about an upcoming review of the child's case. The notice will explain the recent law which established a new definition of disability for children. Under the new definition, children must have more serious physical and mental limitations to qualify for SSI. The law also requires that Social Security review the cases of certain children who are now eligible for SSI to see if they are disabled under the new definition. You can contact Social Security at 1-800-772-1213 from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Q. What is the penalty for driving without my headlights on while operating my windshield wipers?

A. A $75 fine.

Cold weather warnings for pets

Coats and hats help make winter temperatures more bearable for many Chicagoans, but The Anti-Cruelty Society reminds people that cold weather discomfort and danger can also affect their pets.

The Society strongly recommends that cats always remain inside away from the dangers of the streets regardless of the weather. During frigid temperatures, dogs should be brought outside for shorter times than usual in order to eliminate.

Even though companion animals have a fur coat, most dogs and cats cannot endure the cold of winter for more than a few minutes. An animal left outdoors can get frostbite or freeze to death. Signs of frostbite include pale skin that is cool to the touch, and has decreased sensation. If frostbite is suspected, the area should be gently thawed with warm (not hot) water and then the animal should be taken to a veterinarian. During dog walks, Chicagoans should watch for jagged ice patches and sidewalk salt. Both can be hazards to a dog's foot pads. Paws should be checked and any salt or ice should be wiped off with damp towel immediately after coming in from a walk.

To report abuse or neglect of animals, including animals left outside without proper shelter, food, or fresh and unfrozen water, call The Anti-Cruelty Society at (312) 644-8338.

Judge Howard assigned to Skokie

Chief Judge Donald O'Connell announced that Judge Garritt E. Howard is assigned to the 2nd Municipal District, Skokie. Because of his extensive background in the area of criminal law as an assistant state attorney at the Criminal Court of Cook County for twelve years, Judge Howard will be assigned initially to hear felony and other criminal cases in the Skokie court house. Judge Howard is a graduate of Chicago-Kent College of Law and St. Mary's College, Winona, Minnesota. He lives on the northwest side of Chicago with his wife and four children. He has been on the bench since 1994.

Fire Department Winter Tips

Cold weather puts a strain on your heart, even without exercise. Be careful when shoveling snow, pushing a car, or performing other tasks. Regardless of your age or physical condition, avoid over-exertion in the winter.

Frostbite is a severe reaction to cold exposure of the skin. If the individual has a pale appearance and experiences a loss of feeling, seek medical help.

Hypothermia is a condition brought on when the body temperature drops to less than 95°F. Symptoms include slow or slurred speech, disorientation, drowsiness, and apparent exhaustion. Seek medical attention immediately. If medical help is not immediately available, slowly re-warm the affected areas. Do not give the person alcohol, drugs, coffee, or any hot beverage or food.

Fire safety tips

•Install and maintain smoke detectors. Smoke detectors will warn you of a fire in time for you to escape. Install them on every level of your home and outside of each sleeping area. Test them at least once a month and replace batteries once a year or whenever a detector begins to chirp, which signals the battery is low.

•Sleep with bedroom doors closed. Closed doors provide protection against heat and smoke. Even a lightweight hollow-core door delays a fire and toxic smoke. Slowing the spread of fire to sleeping areas gives everyone more time to escape.

•Plan and practice two ways out. Fire escape routes must not include elevators, which might take you right to the fire. Choose a meeting place outside where everyone will gather. Once you're out, stay out! At least twice a year, have the whole family practice the escape plans.

•Test doors before you open them. While kneeling or crouching at the door, reach up as high as you can and touch the door, the knob, and the space between the door and its frame with the back of your hand. If the door is hot, use another escape route. If the door is cool, open it with caution.

•Crawl low under smoke. Smoke is dangerous! If you encounter smoke, use an alternate escape route. If you must exit through smoke, the cleanest air will be several inches off the floor. Crawl on your hands and knees to the nearest safe exit.

•If you are trapped, close the doors between you and the fire. Stuff the cracks around the doors to keep smoke out. Wait at a window and signal for help with light-colored cloth or a flashlight. If there's a phone in the room, call the fire department and tell them exactly where you are.

•Once you're out, stay out! If a fire starts, don't wait for anything. Just get outside. Go to your family's meeting place. Then someone can all the fire department from a neighbor's phone or an alarm box. Do not go back into your home for any reason, until a grownup says it's safe.

•Stop, Drop and Roll. Everyone should know this rule: If your clothes catch fire, don't run! Stop where you are, drop to the ground, cover your face with your hands to protect your face and lungs, and roll over and over to smother the flames.

•Space heaters need space. Keep portable and space heaters at least 3 feet (1 meter) from anything that can burn. Never leave heaters on when you leave home or go to bed and keep children and pets well away from them.

•Smokers need watchers. Carelessly discarded cigarettes are the leading cause of fire deaths in the United States. Never smoke in bed or when you are drowsy! Provide large, deep ashtrays for smokers and put water on butts before discarding them. Before going to bed, check under and around the sofa cushions for smoldering cigarettes.

•Be careful cooking. Never leave cooking unattended. Keep cooking areas clear of combustibles and wear short or tight-fitting sleeves when you cook. Keep the handles of your pots turned inward so the pots can't be knocked or pulled over. If grease catches fire, carefully slide a lid over the pan to smother the flames, then turn off the burner. Never put foil or other metals in the microwave oven.

•Matches and lighters are tools, not toys. In the hands of a child, matches and lighters are deadly. Store them up high where kids can't reach them, preferably in a locked cabinet. And teach your children from the start that matches and lighters are tools for adults, not toys for kids. If children find matches or lighters, they should tell a grown-up immediately.

•Use electricity safely. If an appliance smokes or has an unusual smell, unplug it immediately and have it repaired. Replace any electrical cord that is cracked or frayed. Don't overload extension cords or run them under rugs. Don't tamper with the fuse box or use fuses of an improper size.

Winter driving tips

Buckle your seatbelt! When your windshield wipers are on, turn on your lights—it's the law!

Keep your windshield clear of snow and ice.

Drive slower and increase your following distance.

When you approach a snow plow from behind, pass with care and only when you can see the road ahead of the plow. Do not follow a snow plow spreading salt.

Check your wipers, tires, lights, and fluid levels regularly. Make sure the brakes and transmission are working properly.

During a winter storm ask yourself, "Is this trip really necessary?" Always check on weather driving conditions.

Tell someone (friend, relative, co-worker) that you are taking a trip, where you are going, and when you expect to arrive.

Always have your gas tank at least half-full.

Keep the following items in your vehicle in case of an emergency:

First aid kit
Blankets and extra clothing
Jumper cables, shovel, salt, and windshield wiper fluid
Flashlight with extra batteries.

REEC offers education classes

An Illinois law requires Illinois Real Estate Professionals to take Continuing Education Courses in order to renew their Real Estate Licenses. The law safeguards those members of the public participating in real estate transactions by ensuring the competency of those engaged in the real estate profession.

Real Estate Education Company is offering the mandatory coursework to fulfill this requirement. Real Estate salesperson must satisfy the twelve hour credit requirement by their license renewal date of March 31st, 1997. Those holding broker's licenses must satisfy the twelve hour credit requirement by their license renewal date of Jan. 31, 1998. Mandatory coursework must be taken in subject areas, such as, Illinois License Law, Anti-Trust, Fair Housing and Buyer/Seller Agency.

Individuals are exempt from the continuing education requirement on their first renewal or if they were licensed prior to January 1, 1977 and have maintained their license without interruption.

Real Estate Education Company courses are offered in one and two day sessions and are presented at a variety of Chicagoland & downstate locations, including: 6 hour CE part A, Deerfield, 420 Lake Cook Rd., Jan. 16, 1997, 8AM-1:30PM, 6 hour CE part D, Deerfield, 420 Lake Cook Rd., Jan. 17, 1997, 8AM-1:30 PM, 6 hour CE part A, Lincolnwood, 4500 W. Touhy, Jan. 23, 1997, 8AM-1:30PM, 12hour CE parts A&B, Arlington Heights, 1655 S Arlington Hts Rd., Jan. 31, 1997, 8AM-7:15 PM.

Real Estate Education Company is the largest real estate school in Illinois and is approved by the Illinois Office of Banks and Real Estate. In addition to its classroom program, the school is offering continuing education courses through its independent Study Program.

For more information or a free brochure, please contact the school at 312-922-6666 or 800-878-9510.

Senator Dudycz reappointed to senate position

Assistant Senate Majority Leader Walter Dudycz (R-7th Chicago) has been reappointed to his third term as a member of the Senate Majority leadership team.

Senate President James "Pat" Philip (R-Wood Dale) named Dudycz to the position of Assistant Majority Leader during inaugural ceremonies for the 90th biennial session of the General Assembly.

"We worked very hard to enact sweeping changes that have made our state a better place. In my leadership role, I have opportunities to guide policy and procedures. In my capacity as senator, I also make sure that residents of the 7th District have more input into the important work of our government," Dudycz said.

The Honorable James Hoyle, Chief Justice of the Illinois Supreme Court, administered the oath of office to Dudycz and his Senate colleagues during inaugural ceremonies in the Senate Chambers.

A detective for the Chicago Police Department, Dudycz has served as a legislator in the Illinois Senate since 1985. The 7th District Senator's offices are located at 6143 N. Northwest Highway, Chicago, IL 60631 (773) 774-7717, and M114 State Capitol, Springfield, IL 62706 (217) 782-3650.

Small Business Entrepreneurship Courses

Registration for Small Business and Entrepreneurship course offered this weekend through Alliance for Lifelong Learning (ALL), the continuing education program of Oakton Community College, is now in progress. Classes are held at the Des Plaines campus, 1600 E. Golf Rd. and the Ray Hartstein Campus, 7701 N. Lincoln Ave., Skokie and various locations throughout the district.

Small Business Accounting focuses on how to keep simplified records to meet business needs and to satisfy IRS laws. Discover what you must know to deal effectively with an accountant or auditor analyzing your financial status. The class meets for seven Mondays starting Jan. 27 from 7-9:30 pm. Niles North High School, 9800 Lawler, Skokie.

Entrepreneur-Salesperson is designed to show participants how to create oral and written presentations, how to negotiate with clients and vendors and how to adopt a sales mindset. This class can be taken alone or is a perfect complement to Building Your Entrepreneurial Skills (BUS A07 01). The class meets for three Thursdays starting Jan. 23 from 7-9:30 pm at Maine East High School, Potter Road at Dempster Street, Park Ridge.

How to start a Mail Order Business covers how to select a product or service line ideally suited for mail order sales. Topics also include how to design effective and affordable mail order promotional material, how to test your mailings, and where to find other sources of mail order products and services to promote. The class meets for four Thursdays starting Jan. 23 from 7-9 pm at

Questions & Answers with TOM the

"PAINT DOCTOR"

WHEN STAINING NEW WOOD, HOW DO I PREVENT BLOTTING? (UNEVEN DARK AND LIGHT COLORING)

To prevent blotching, the stain has to be kept from penetrating unevenly.

This is done by keeping all the stain very near the surface of the wood.

There are two easy ways to do this:

• Use of a gel stain which does not flow, therefore does not penetrate.

• Fill the pores of the wood with a skin controller so the stain can not penetrate.

Ten free flowering trees from Arbor Day Foundation

Ten free flowering trees will be given to each person who joins the National Arbor Day Foundation during Jan. 1997.

The ten trees are 2 White Flowering Dogwoods, 2 Flowering Crabapples, 2 Golden Rain trees, 2 Washington Hawthorns, and 2 American Redbuds.

"This year is the 125th anniversary of Arbor Day, and the free flowering trees are part of the National Arbor Day Foundation's Trees for America campaign to plant 10 million trees in 1997," John Rosenow, the Foundation's president said.

"These compact trees were selected for planting in large or small spaces," Rosenow said. "They will give your home the beauty of lovely pink, white, and yellow flowers—and also provide winter berries and nesting sites for songbirds."

The trees will be shipped postpaid at the right time for planting between Feb. 1 and May 31 with enclosed planting instructions. The six to twelve inch trees are guaranteed to grow, or they will be replaced free of charge.

Members also receive a subscription to the Foundation's bi-monthly publication, Arbor Day, and The Tree Book with information about tree planting and care.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, send a $10 contribution to TEN FREE FLOWERING TREES, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by Jan. 31, 1997.

NAWBO to hold membership drive Gala

The Chicago Area Chapter of the National Association of Women Business Owners (NAWBO) will hold a membership drive and networking reception entitled, "Winter Festival of Networking," on Wednesday, Jan. 22, at 5:30 p.m. in the Palm Court at the Drake Hotel, 140 E. Walton, Chicago.

Sponsored by Bank One and Keck Mahin & Cate, the gala is an opportunity for women business owners to meet members and learn first-hand about the advantages and benefits of NAWBO membership, according to Sunny Kurman, president of Kurman Financial Group and chair of the membership committee.

She said that NAWBO members are entitled to discounts on products and services, publications, award recognition, company visibility, business referrals, mentoring programs, some 50 annual social and educational events, networking, procurement opportunities, loan programs, and a chance to impact public policy.

At the event, the winner of the New Venture Award will be announced. In addition, the recipients of the 5, 10 and 15 year service awards will be recognized.

Cost is $20. For information or reservations, call NAWBO at (312) 322-0990.

EQUAL HOUSING OPPORTUNITY

District 207 projects need for more classrooms

More classroom space is needed to meet the increasing enrollment in Maine Township High School District 207 that is projected between now and 2005. "We are looking at projections of about a 10 percent increase in enrollment by 2004 and we want to be ready to handle the increase in the number of students we are serving," said Superintendent Steve Snider. "Such predictions within a four year range are closer to the reality of student numbers with most projections somewhat under our enrollment growth curve," said Snider, who added that the district is not expecting the need to pass a referendum.

"Projections beyond four years are less accurate. Since our historical data is related to declining enrollment and not growth, it is difficult for us to use District 207 data without viewing the dynamics of growth found in Maine elementary districts," said Snider. This data suggests that Maine's student enrollment is expected to climb to 6,852 by the year 2004. Enrollment stands at 6,215 for the 96-97 school year. Declining enrollment took the district from an all time high of 11,864 in 1975-76 to 5,362 in 1989-90.

Snider suggests a broad approach to the issue which would not only provide the additional classrooms that will be needed next year, but also accommodate typical year to year variability in enrollment, provide the flexibility for the current classroom program, and create classroom space that can be easily adapted in the future to a dynamic and changing educational program.

The alternatives include renovation of existing areas, construction of new space, scheduling changes, boundary changes, or some combination of these options. In discussing these options, Snider pointed out that renovation would displace existing programs and or facilities such as ARC (Alternative Research Center), the Frost Administration Center, or the Rotary Reading Room. Additionally, each alternative taken by itself would not yet yield an adequate number of classrooms.

"While new construction would cost more than renovation, it is typically less disruptive than renovation and would not displace existing programs," he said. Finding schedule changes and boundary changes the least desirable of the alternatives, Snider said that schedule changes should be made for educational reasons without the pressure of space issues. "One such change, placing students on shifts, is only a short term solution and enrollment data demonstrate that the growth pattern will exist for at least 10 years," said Snider.

"As for the redistricting alternatives, while enrollment data suggest a stable population at East, it appears that the dynamics of growth are also operating at that school. Since June we have enrolled 280 new students. While some students have left, the overall increase has resulted in hiring four new teachers," said Snider.

Another point to be made--particularly for East, but also for South and West--is that we have assumed that the present use of space is based on proper class size. "And reduced class sizes mean more rooms will be required," he said.

Enrollment at Maine East is 2,288 compared to 2,170 last year and 2,151 in 1994. East is expected to have an enrollment of 2,243 by 2004. Enrollment at Maine South is 2,004 compared to 1,915 last year and 1,670 in 1994. West is expected to have an enrollment of 2,277 by 2004.

As we examine the options to serve the students who are coming, the Board's desire is to explore all of our alternatives," said Snider. "It's a matter of careful planning."

Students learn about Native Americans

The fifth grade students in Mrs. Henry's class at Washington School have been studying the Native Americans in North and South America. The students were divided into co-operative groups and each group had to research a Native American tribe. The members of each group had to research a specific aspect of that tribe. A research paper was then written.

Once this was done, the group had to present their information in a creative way. Some wrote scripts and presented puppet shows, while others made murals and murals. The tribes that were researched were the Navajo, Iroquois, Inca, Haida, Aztec, Mayan, Inca & Pueblo. Their finished products were then presented to their classmates and parents.

RDHS students visit Criminal Court

Regina students accompanied Marion O'Connor, OP, chair of the Social Studies department, to the Criminal Courts at 26th and California in Chicago. O'Connor's political science class makes the trip to the Criminal Courts every year to observe court in session and to learn the intricacies of the democratic system first-hand.

Attending the courts were Katherine May (Glenview), Ann Carrera and Louise Kuchuris (Lincolnwood), Jeanette Belo (Morton Grove), Marigo Delis, Alicia Hirtzig and Christina Umfleet (Niles), Marissa Moritz (Northbrook), Marion Steinfelds (Park Ridge), Edith Bellosio, Elena Chavez, Gina Knitter and Karri Starkman (Skokie).

Troiani noted that although the Radio's hadn't been "caught" doing this, the Environmental Protection Agency has been notified about these incidents.

In defense, Slovojka Ratic said she kept the doors open only during the extremely warm weather. "When it was 90 degrees in July, it becomes hotter in the garage," she said.

The doors only stay open to make it more comfortable for the mechanics working inside, Radio maintained.

Another violation, Troiani told the Board, concerned what he heard from a citizen who complained that the Radio's had dumped what he believed to be anti-freeze behind the building. Police were called by this party who said he witnessed this action.

Robert J. Thiesen, 1 N. La Salle St. Chicago, attorney for the Radio's, stated on their behalf, that Mrs. Radio told him she had only used a form of detergent on the driveway to clean oil spots.

The detergent when mixed with water, gives off a greenish cast making it appear like a chemical solvent.

Thiesen said that the police did come to investigate, but left satisfied with the explanation.

Addressing the issue before the Board, the sale of used automobiles at the business, Troiani said he didn't feel these kinds of businesses should be able to do this.

"I, for one, do not approve of gas stations, automobile shops or anybody else selling used cars, new cars or any kind of cars. It (the village) is just not zoned for this."

"You have the traffic, people stopping on the street to come back and look at the car," Troiani said.

"We frown on and discourage gas stations, or mechanical shops from selling used cars, it is not their main source of revenue."

In addition, Troiani said, "I have seen nothing (in your record) to make a recommendation to the Village Board that you should have more chance to go any further."

The board voted unanimously to deny the Radio's permission to sell the cars from their automotive business.

Thiesen told The Bugle that the Radio's had a good plan, they had adequate parking and had even heard one of the trustees say that people are permitted to sell cars in this way," Thiesen said. "They were disappointed with the result."

price parked in the 7200 block of Lill Street were smashed by red construction bricks causing an estimated $800 damage sometime between 7 p.m. and 11 p.m. Dec. 29.

A 49-year-old Chicago engineer reported that the front windshield of his 1996 Pontiac Firebird was smashed by bricks sometime between 8 p.m. and 11:39 p.m. Dec. 29 while it was parked in the 7200 block of Lee Street. Repair cost was estimated at $300.

The windshield of a 1996 Dodge Avenger belonging to a Morton Grove man was smashed by a brick while it was parked in the 8300 block of Octavia Avenue between 9:45 p.m. and 11:40 p.m. Dec. 29.

The front living room window and the rear windshield of a 44-year-old general manager's car were smashed around 1:14 a.m. Dec. 29. Damage to the window was estimated at $400 and to the windshield at $300. The incident occurred in the 8300 block of Cumberland Avenue.

In the same block, $500 damage was done when a rock was hurled against the front living room window of the residence of a 39-year-old eater at 1:17 a.m. Dec. 29.

A 19-year-old student reported that the front windshield of her 1996 Pontiac coup was smashed while it was parked in the 8300 block of Octavia between 7:30 p.m. and 11:25 p.m. Dec. 29.

Grujich was transported to the Niles Police Department where bond was set at $5,000 and he was assigned a Jan. 27 court date.

Museum ...

The museum is constantly in need of repair in order to make it livable and acceptable as a home for the many historical times being accumulated. Each year, volunteers donate in excess of 5,000 hours - Every week, day, or hour contributed helps to improve the Niles Historical Society and Museum.

If you are interested in volunteering your time, please contact the museum at 390-0160.

Before the end of another 25 years, the Museum hopes to have additional space for storage, a genealogical department, elevator convenience, improved parking, and a computer system to store inventory and files.

The museum is a not-for-profit organization and is open to the public. Donations (permanent and on-loan) are always welcome. For example, pictures and videos are always needed; copies can be made and the originals returned upon request. Meetings are held the last Sunday afternoon of each month, September through June, except November, and December. Tours are available Wednesday and Friday, between 10:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m., or upon request by calling (847) 390-0160.

Voice of Democracy winners

The Niles Post of The Veterans of Foreign Wars recently announced the names of three Notre Dame students who achieved top honors in its Voice of Democracy Program. Candidates were asked to write and present a paper based on the theme, "Democracy - Above and Beyond." Notre Dame's first-place winner was junior Jeffrey Calimbas (60630); second place winner was junior Stephen Stukel (60631); and, third place winner was sophomore Joshua Boock (60630). Jeffrey Calimbas will go on to the VFW District Four competition.

All three Dons will be presented with U.S. Savings Bonds, VFW medals and engraved certificates at a future awards assembly this spring. The Voice of Democracy program is available nationwide to express patriotism through creative writing and dynamic expository speaking.

Mark Twain School receives grant

Mark Twain students along with Maine Township seniors will explore the community through a series of intergenerational activities. The project, "Our Community," is funded by a K-12 School-Based Learn and Serve grant supported by the Corporation for National and Community Service under Learn and Serve America: School- and Community-Based Programs.

The intergenerational activities highlight services provided by Maine Township such as neighborhood clean-up and tree planting. Students and seniors will visit the Solid Waste Agency of Northern Cook County to continue their study of ecology. Students also plan to set up a simple school-wide recycling program as well as helping seniors recycle.

Students will learn about food distribution through a field trip with seniors to the Green Meadow Pumpkin Farm in Elmhurst. Study of food distribution includes community services such as a food pantry. Students and seniors will work together on a food drive.

Through these projects, students will learn how local government and non-profit organizations can work together to better their communities.

Maine Township Dist. Educational Foundation

An educational credit card may help raise money for Maine Township High School District Educational Foundation. The foundation was established in 1993 to acquire and distribute resources to expand learning opportunities for students in the three District 207 high schools, according to James Blue who chairs the foundation board.

The board recently approved a request for $400 to fund a Senior Wellness Program which is being piloted at Maine South this year, $500 to support the Park Ridge Civic Orchestra student scholarship program, and $250 to help fund a special district performance by The Little Eagles of Siberia in cooperation with the Community Concert Association of Maine Township. The Little Eagles of Siberia is an ensemble of 28 singers and dancers from Siberia ranging in age from nine to 17.

Regarding the credit card funding initiative Blue said, "Let's assume that the 6,215 students who are enrolled in the three Maine high schools come from about 5000 families. If just five percent-or 250-of those families charge $10,000 per year, the foundation will receive a check for $10,000 at the end of the year."

Working in cooperation with the foundation, District 207 will help distribute 10,000 applications to parents who can pass additional copies to other community members. Applications are also available by calling the foundation office at 692-8585. Although it is not a guaranteed credit card, anyone may apply for the no annual fee MasterCard offered by First of America Bank, Illinois, 607 West Devon, Park Ridge. According to Robert Kowall, assistant vice president for First of America, the credit card offers a 25 day grace period with no interest charges. The introductory 9.8 percent interest rate for the first six months rises to 14.9 percent after that date.
