

From the Left Hand

by Bud Besser

We've all witnessed the slow but steady demise of small independent retail stores which closed their doors when the bigger stores moved into town. Here at home, independent Pankau Drugs once had three stores operating concurrently in Niles. Large independent Sav Mor Drugs was at Harlem and Dempster. And Menard Drugs in Morton Grove was the major independent in that town.

When our communities grew larger the big boys came in. Walgreens and Osco were just add-ons to their sister grocery stores. And then the big discounter, Phar Mor, moved onto Milwaukee Avenue, forcing the closing down of the smaller independents.

A new phenomenon is now taking place across America. After the Mom and Pop stores were pushed aside the bigger boys dominated the market. The regional retailers claimed their major market share. But now phase three has entered our free market society. The larger regional retailers are experiencing the same troubles as their smaller counterparts which they forced out of business.

Polk Brothers, which dominated the Chicagoland market, went out of business in 1992. Highland Appliances closed their doors in 1993. Fretters and Sile Electronics merged and then folded in 1995. Rose Records was ac-

Beating death of former teacher shocks Skokie

In a case that has sent shock waves throughout the quiet tree-lined streets of Skokie, Hilary Morris, 33, has been taken into custody by Skokie police and charged with the beating death of her 65-year-old mother, Ilene Vihon.

Neighbors in the 10000 block of LaCrosse Avenue where the two women lived together in a brick home described the murder as the "shocker of shockers."

An emergency police team found Vihon lying at the bottom of a flight of stairs in the basement of the home after a family member requested an ambulance Thursday evening, according to Skokie Police Sgt. Michael Ruth. The Cook County medical ex-

New zoning ordinance aimed at stopping sales to minors

Niles to monitor cigarette sales

by Kathleen Quirsfeld

Todd Bavaro, Director of Code and Enforcement for the Village of Niles, presented a petition to the Zoning Board requesting that businesses that sell only tobacco and tobacco products be put in a special use category.

Bavaro said that his request was targeting only those businesses that primarily sell cigarettes and cigarette products. He stated that the ordinance would not affect grocery or drug stores that sell cigarettes as part of its retail sales.

His purpose for requesting the ordinance was "to control cigarette sales to minors," a serious issue that has been the focus of many government measures in Niles and other places.

Designated as a Special Use facility, cigarette stores would be required to adhere to specific zoning restrictions, such as hours of operation and employee hiring

Village of Niles slogan 'Where People Count' 'Rings' true for resident

Mr. Sigismund Rahn, center, a 17 year Niles resident, recently had the misfortune of having his wedding ring fall into the storm sewer in front of his house. Having celebrated 40 years of marriage to his wife, Maria, second from left, on May 4, the ring was of extra special value. But never fear, the Niles Public Services Department responded to the call for help. Using the "Vactor", a piece of sewer cleaning equipment pictured in the background, Public Services' employees Frank Rebellato, left, Chuck Nickerson, second from right and Larry Schrambeck, far right, found the ring and returned it to Mr. Rahn. The Vactor has the ability to vacuum debris from catch basins at a depth of up to 30 feet as well as numerous other functions. The catch basin where Mr. Rahn's ring fell was vacuumed out by the Public Services employees. They then combed through the debris and located the ring and returned it to Mr. Rahn, demonstrating again, Niles is a place Where People Count!

Niles man reunited with brothers after 60 years

Niles retiree Henry Szymanski recently was reunited with four brothers after a separation of almost 60 years.

Szymanski, 75, was reunited with brothers Konrad, 72, and Zygmund, 69, in a Berlin Airport. They then traveled to Poland where two other brothers, Nikodem, 80, and Mieczyslaw, 77, live.

Szymanski said the experience was like a miracle. Before World War II, the Szymanski family lived in Gdansk, Poland. During the war, Szymanski worked on a farm in Germany, and in 1949 came to the United States.

He tried in vain to trace the whereabouts of his family during the 1950s. It was very difficult to obtain any information from the East, Szymanski said.

After retiring from his job as transportation manager for a paper company, Szymanski sought help from the Red Cross Holocaust and World War II Tracing Program. About five years later, the Red Cross contacted Szymanski with Nikodem's phone number.

Szymanski's wife Camille said her husband was too excited to dial the number on the phone and she had to do it for him. When they were connected, it took both men about two minutes before they could speak, Camille Szymanski said.

The brothers spent their first hours together going over old memories in a mix of Polish, German and English.

Szymanski said the brothers had gotten older. When he left for Germany he was just 17 and two of his brothers were only 10 and 13. Now they are old people, Szymanski said.

District 63 board member quits over fiscal policy

by Rosemary Tirio

Donald Conn, citing a return to fiscal irresponsibility, said he did not think he could continue to be an effective board member and resigned from the District 63 School Board just days before the completion of his first term.

Conn, a Morton Grove resident, said he could have served out his term easily but he was frustrated by current fiscal practices by the board.

Conn said that the board had stopped saving money and that the district is now broke and operating on borrowed money. He described board activities as running around putting out fires instead of proper planning. He blamed the board's incompetence rather than the pay structure for a recent increase in administrative departures.

District 63 Superintendent

Robert Varga expressed surprise at Conn's resignation and said he thought Conn would complete his term. The board must fill the vacancy in 45 days.

Meet and Greet successful

On September 23rd, a Meet and Greet for Village of Niles youth services providers was held at the new Niles Administration Building. Sponsored by Niles Family Services, the Meet and Greet was an opportunity for the various professionals who serve Niles youth to get to know one another. Among the fifty professionals who attended were Niles park district staff, Niles police officers, Niles fire department personnel, Leaning Tower YMCA staff, Golf Mill Mall management, counseling agencies, township administration and school personnel from public and parochial, grammar, middle and high schools. Following welcoming remarks by village manager, Abe Selman, Mary Kay Morrissey, Director of Niles Human Services Department presented service to youth as a goal for Niles youth service providers.

Part of Family Service's commitment to youth was identified in the recent hiring of Susie Wexler in the newly created position of youth outreach and family educator. The morning provided an opportunity for expanded professional interactions, which will be formalized in the creation of a directory of Niles youth service providers, one of the tasks identified for immediate action by the attendees. A second directory listing the services for youth will be made available to all Niles families.

Participants met in subgroups to discuss the primary issue facing Niles youth in the next six months. From the reports of these subgroups, task forces composed of volunteers amonth the implemented. Task force meetings will begin in the middle of October on "Empowering youth and parents in Niles", "Understanding cross-cultural family issues, and counteracting the culture of excess", and "Constructive use of free time".

Participants spoke of willingness to get involved, both in discussions about and efforts to improve services to Niles youth. Persons interested in additional information on future Niles Service Provider meetings, or willing to assist on a task force should contact Susie Wexler at Niles Family Service (847) 692-3396.

In response President Clinton said, "Thank you so much for your kind gift. I appreciate your thoughtfulness and generosity. You have my best wishes." The President affectionately signed the letter as "Bill Clinton."

Leving, who co-wrote the 1986 Illinois Joint Custody Law, also was named the Convention Chair for the 1998 National Congress for Fathers and Children Convention in Chicago.

Reader wants to know who

Dear Mr. Besser:

Always enjoy your editorials. They always make such sense.

Please tell us, who designed the WATER FOUNTAIN at Touhy and Milwaukee?

When I go by, I think I am at the DELLS - WISC. and can almost hear the Indians chant and dancing.

It doesn't compliment the other (2) fountains (which I thought was the idea) - only larger.

More landscaping would have been more attractive - and likely less expensive.

more than $2,000 for two very important local charities: Keshet and Orchard Village.

Keshet's goal is to enable all Jewish children with disabilities to become active participants in the mainstream of Jewish life in their community. Orchard Village is a vocational and residential training community committed to enhancing the lives of men, women and children with developmental disabilities.

Local merchants were also generous: Goldberg's New York Bagels donated bagels and Da'Nali's Brick Oven Pizza Cafe donated pizza. 1st Equity Bank provided hot dogs and lemonade to wash down the goodies.

Events such as these are a terrific opportunity to meet our new neighbors in a casual, personal way. Thank you to all who stopped by.

Resident praises school board candidate

Dear Editor:

For years, high schools have measured their success by the percentage of their graduates who went on to college. Jeffrey Bergen of DesPlaines understands that a high school can best serve its students by preparing them to make a choice between college and a host of skilled, rewarding occupations that do not require a traditional four-year college program.

As a caucus-endorsed candidate for the Maine Township High School District 207 Board, Jeff hopes to draw on his experience as a math professor to promote a rigorous curriculum that serves both the college-bound student and those who plan to go straight into the workforce. I welcome his refreshing approach, and I urge residents of Maine Township to vote for Jeffrey Bergen on Nov. 4.

Sincerely,
Joseph S. Harrington

State recognizes Township's Youth Center

Illinois Sen. Marty Butler (left) presents a state proclamation recognizing Maine Township's Youth Drop-In Center to township Supervisor Mark Thompson during the center's recent grand opening. The center is open to township 8th-through 12th-graders from 6:45 to 9:45 p.m. Mondays, and to 5th-through 8th-graders from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays. KUDOS to School Board Park Ridge-Niles Dist. 64

Dear Editor:

Over the past four years, these hard-working people have engaged in real communication and dialogue with the community. They have done so in many ways. They have worked to make School Board meetings "citizen-friendly". Seating arrangements have been changed to make it easier for those attending to see and be seen, to hear and be heard. The agenda has been rearranged so that unscheduled items of concern to visitors could be heard and discussed first rather than at the conclusion of the meeting. The Board members have requested that some of their meetings be held at District schools to encourage even more people to attend. As one who has been at many School Board meetings over the years, I found these simple changes have had a profound effect in creating an atmosphere of openness and cooperation.

But this was just the beginning. The School Board has worked diligently to expand the concept of teamwork with the community. They established citizen-based advisory committees. They re-instated the District 64 Connections Newsletter and authorized its publication on a regular basis. They held town meetings and sent out surveys to give people in the community additional opportunities to share their thoughts and concerns.

This Board's willingness to discuss educational issues has gone well beyond the Board meeting room. Each of them has been willing to listen, to answer questions, and to share ideas with folks at the grocery store, on the soccer or baseball field, in line at the library, or in front of the Pickwick. All of the Board members have made their home phone numbers and voice-mail numbers readily available to the public. They have promptly and politely responded to countless phone calls and letters.

School Board elections will be held on November 4. Three current Board members - John Pierce, Jane Curry, and Marty Joyce, along with newcomer Dean Krone, will be seeking 4 year terms. I urge you to vote for these Caucus-endorsed candidates. These people are intelligent, well-educated, honest, experienced, and caring individuals who deserve your vote. They are the very best that Park Ridge-Niles has to offer for these positions. They ARE the Top 4 for 64.

Sincerely,

Mary Kelly,

Catholic Charities joins statewide effort for children and senior care

Rev. Michael Boland, Administrator of Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Chicago called upon the Illinois General Assembly and Governor Edgar to make good on its commitment to care for children and seniors in the upcoming fall veto session. Father Boland echoed the call made in all six Catholic Dioceses throughout the state for the legislature to provide a 3 percent cost of doing business increase for private social service agencies.

"Caseworkers are being stretched to the limit, and if the legislature fails to act, there will be a gradual erosion in the quantity and quality of services available to those served by Catholic Charities in Cook and Lake Counties," Father Boland stated. He further urged the state to act before this erosion "results in serious harm or even death to those children and seniors Catholic Charities is contracted to protect."

Rev. John Smyth, Administrator of Maryville in Des Plaines, an affiliated agency of Catholic Charities, stressed the unity of Catholic social service providers in the Archdiocese on this issue. "I expect the General Assembly to continue to fulfill its obligation to the 18,000 kids we serve at Maryville and to those children and adults served in other programs and residential facilities."

Catholic Charities Executive Director Donald Kent joined Fathers Boland and Smyth in calling on the General Assembly to act. Kent said: "Illinois law requires that the state pay the full cost of providing care to children, who are wards of the state. We should expect no less."

Catholic Charities is looking to the legislature to approve a $63 million increase from which it would receive over $1.7 million to continue to fund needed services.

The President of Catholic Charities Executive Board, Richard W. Burke, called on the legislature to act to prevent the continued diversion of privately raised dollars to cover shortfalls in state contracts. Burke stated that "every Catholic Charities dollar, that goes to subsidize state contracts is money taken away from the hungry, the homeless, pregnant teens and families in crisis." He further stated "the Catholic Charities Board of Advisors is in favor of this increase and we urge our legislators to do right by their obligations."

Rainbow Hospice Dinner Dance benefit a great success

The Eighth Annual Rainbow Hospice Dinner Dance Benefit, held Friday, Sept. 26 at The Chicago O'Hare Marriott, celebrated the organization's tenth anniversary as a hospice organization, Park. Dr. Crean was noted for his promotion of collaborative relationships between doctors and nurses and was a strong advocate of nursing as a career.

Special guest celebrity Tim Weigel, of Channel 2/WBBM/CBS amused the crowd with his quick wit as he announced winners of the raffle and door prizes. The evening's festivities, enjoyed by 325 guests, also included a silent auction, featuring sports tickets and memorabilia, entertainment and dining certificates, collectibles and other fabulous items.

Local merchants and friends of Rainbow Hospice contributed to the raffle with a $1,000 gift certificate from Wahl Jewelers in Des Plaines, a 19-inch remote control television from Malec & Sons Funeral Home and $1,000 grand prize. Kent Weisman & His Quintet provided the musical entertainment for the evening.

In her welcoming remarks, Pat Ahern, Rainbow Hospice President/Executive Director, said "Without a doubt, we could not serve our patients and their families without the special efforts of our volunteers, donors and special friends. The hours, dollars, gifts, and services are invaluable and affirming." The proceeds from the benefit will help fund the many non-reimbursed services that Rainbow Hospice provides, including community bereavement services, counseling, support groups, family camps, and community and professional education.

Anyone interested in learning more about Rainbow Hospice can call the organization at (847) 699-2000.

Ulcers: A Dietary Problem?

by Karen Collins, MS, RD, CDN
American Institute for Cancer Research

Ulcers have historically been blamed on diet and stress, but researchers now say that a type of bacteria called Helicobacter pylori may be the real culprit. For ulcer sufferers and those at risk, this is particularly good news, since the bacteria can be successfully treated in a few weeks with certain antibiotic combinations. But while this discovery represents a major advance in ulcer treatment, experts say that significant attention should continue to be paid to lifestyles.

Until now, medical therapy for ulcers has focused on the use of drugs to suppress acid production in the stomach. Yet when medication was stopped, ulcers almost always came back. Even with continued low-dose therapy, about 20 percent of patients reported suffering a relapse. In contrast, when H. pylori is wiped out with antibiotics, ulcers reportedly return in only about five percent of cases.

Infection by H. pylori can be diagnosed by a simple blood or breath test. But many people who are infected with H. pylori do not actually have ulcers. Some research suggests that those infected with the germ are at increased risk of developing ulcer disease and even stomach cancer. In fact, some scientists say that more than half the world's stomach cancer could be related to the bacterium.

Where does this new information leave lifestyle in the ulcer equation? Smoking should still be discouraged, because it can slow the healing of ulcers and dramatically raise the risk of many cancers. Doctors also continue to advise those at risk for ulcers to drink alcohol in moderation, if at all. Spicy foods and coffee were once viewed as forbidden foods for ulcer patients because of their tendency to produce excess stomach acid. Now, unless they cause pain, doctors say that it is not necessary to eliminate them from the diet.

A recent study of more than 47,000 men found that participants who ate the most fruits and vegetables had about a third fewer ulcers develop over the next six years than those who ate less than three servings per day. When analyzed for specific factors, dietary fiber and vitamin A seemed most strongly linked to lower ulcer risk, but the researchers noted that other nutrients or substances in fruits and vegetables could be the true protectors.

Eating plenty of fruits and vegetables is also linked to lower risk of stomach cancer. Vitamin C is most closely associated with lower risk of this cancer, but guidelines from health experts, like the American Institute for Cancer Research, focus on the goal of boosting total fruit and vegetable consumption to provide a whole host of nutrients and natural phytochemicals in addition to vitamin C.

For a free brochure with ways to feast on fruits and vegetables for lower cancer risk, write to the American Institute for Cancer Research, Dept. FF, P.O. Box 97167, Washington, DC 20090-7167.

Loyola surgeons use new technology

A 25-year-old mother of three children left Loyola University Medical Center in Maywood, Ill., just two days after major heart surgery, thanks to physicians who used new technology that enabled them to replace her heart valve through only a three-inch incision.

Loyola cardiovascular surgeons, Dr. Mamdouh Bakhos and Dr. Michael Tuckey, used the Port-Access minimally invasive cardiac surgery system on July 16 to stop the woman's heart for approximately two hours and replace her defective mitral valve without ever having to open her chest.

The mitral valve allows blood to flow one way from the heart's left atrium to the left ventricle. In the woman's case, the valve had become "floppy," permitting blood to regurgitate backwards through the valve and into the lungs, surgeons said.

The woman, Danielle Carey, of Round Lake Beach, Ill., 45, one of the youngest patients in the country to undergo this new surgical technique.

Through a small cut in the patient's groin, the surgeons first positioned a balloon that blocked off blood flow in the patient's aorta and then established venous and arterial lines that placed Carey on a heart-lung machine while her heart was stopped.

The surgeons next inserted specially-designed instruments through a three-inch cut in the right side of the patient's chest. With these instruments, the surgeons were able to see the heart, manipulate it and insert a mechanical valve to replace the patient's defective one.

"Without the Port-Access technology, we would have had to perform traditional surgery, requiring us to cut the chest muscle and tissue, saw through the breastbone and spread open the ribcage," Dr. Tuckey said.

New monitoring system at St. Francis

VitalCom Inc. has completed the installation of an 80 channel Networked Monitoring system at St. Francis Hospital in Evanston, Ill., enabling the facility to achieve its goal of turning virtually every bed into a monitored bed. St. Francis is a 367 bed teaching hospital, specializing in cardiac care, that serves the Chicago metropolitan area.

"VitalCom's Networked Monitoring system is helping us achieve a universal bed concept, by allowing us to convert any bed into a monitored bed," said Anne Mostofi, R.N., vice president of patient services. "Our plans for the future include expanding the system to monitor patients in other settings as well, including doctors' offices, rehabilitation centers and outpatient facilities."

VitalCom's Networked Monitoring system collects vital signs data through wireless connections from its own ambulatory ECG transmitters and selected legacy bedside monitors. VitalCom collects patient data from anywhere in a healthcare facility and distributes it everywhere. VitalCom's Networked Monitoring system operates on a standard PC platform, collecting multiple parameters including ECG, blood pressure, pulse oximetry, end-tidal CO₂, respiration and temperature. Networked Monitoring allows any bed to be a monitored bed, eliminating bottlenecks in the Emergency and Operating Rooms, and Intensive Care Units.

The Heart Center at St. Francis is a world-class facility, performing more procedures annually than any other community hospital in Chicago.

With Networked Monitoring, St. Francis can now monitor 80 patients (with room for expansion) from anywhere on four different floors. All patient data is collected and interpreted in a centralized monitoring station and distributed to remote viewing stations located at every nurses station. When there is a change in patient status, system operators send an alphanumeric page to the caretaker within seconds, alerting them to the patient's condition.

Everything you always wanted to know about Halloween

"All Hallow's Eve, or Halloween as it is known today, evolved from an ancient festival in Scotland and Ireland on October 31, in which the Celtic people believed the dead returned to earth as evil spirits.

"Legend has it that the Celts carved small jack-o'-lanterns from turnips, beets and potatoes to ward off the ghosts who roamed the land on All Hallow's Eve. As the Scots and Irish settled in North America, they discovered that the native pumpkin was better suited for the job.

"Ghosts weren't the only ones to roam on this day - witches and warlocks wandered too. It was believed they all gathered together in the darkness of this night to practice their magic on poor unsuspecting souls.

"Long considered a witch's best friend, bats were often used in superstitious rituals hundreds of years ago. Halloween is well represented by the black bat, but bats come in other colors, such as brown, gray, yellow and red.

"The Pennsylvania Dutch painted hex signs on their houses and barns to ward off witches and bad luck.

"Ghost stories originated centuries ago when townspeople gathered around bonfires to relate their experiences with eerie noises, strange flutterings, trembling shadows and mystic practices.

Edward Jones: Old Securities Certificates may have Value

Could there be a fortune hidden in your attic?

Probably not. You might dream about discovering an old stock certificate worth thousands of dollars, but like winning the lottery, it doesn't happen to most of us.

It's hard to estimate how many old securities certificates—for stocks, bonds, or other corporate debt—are hidden away, outstanding and unredeemed. Some 2,500 companies change names, merge or are bought out by other companies each year. Often, the original shares are never submitted for transfer. Old certificates may now represent ownership in another corporation. Even if the company is out of business, bankruptcies often leave assets.

Micheline Masse, founder and president of Stock Search International, says billions of dollars are available for unredeemed stocks and bonds. Her company specializes in researching old stock and bond certificates.

Before you ransack old desk drawers and file cabinets, be aware that the odds of finding a treasure are very low. Masse says that out of about 3,000 certificates she examines each year, only 1,200 have any value. Half of those typically are worth only a few dollars to collectors. Another 300 have possible value. Only the remaining 300—about 10 percent of the total—have any significant value. But even with those odds, Masse has recovered more than $5 million for her clients over the years.

The real value of old certificates may be in scrippophily—the hobby of collecting old stock and bond certificates. This growing hobby emerged in Europe in the late 1970s.

Scrippophiles typically focus their collections within specific industries such as automobiles, railroads, banking, mining or entertainment. Newly discovered issues are continually turning up. Unlike coins, bank notes and stamps, the production of stock certificates is not monitored by governments. Collectors have found unknown, limited bond issues and certificates with important signatures. One investor found a bond issued by czarist Russia before it fell to communism. He couldn't collect any back interest, but it was a real collector's find.

If you come across old securities certificates, don't throw them away. Your financial professional can help you start the research process—and if you're one of the lucky few, those certificates might have more than just sentimental value.

Jeffrey Cardella can be reached at Edward Jones, 8141 N. Milwaukee, Niles, 470-8953.

Gaining physical independence at Glenview Terrace

During the last 10 years, physical therapy has been one of the fastest growing fields within health care.

It is no wonder. With advances in modern technology and physician practices, we are living longer. Our bodies, however, are breaking down through either normal wear and tear or traumatic injury or illness.

Physical therapy's goal is to gain independence and functional mobility for either a chronic illness or after traumatic injury or illness. At Glenview Terrace's Transitional Care Unit (TCU), physical therapy treatments include hydrotherapy, hot or cold packs, massage (soft tissue mobilization), TENS (transcutaneous electrical nerve stimulation) and exercise. All of these modalities, together with range of motion, circulation, flexibility and wound care, help residents at Glenview Terrace increase and maintain their mobility and physical and emotional independence.

"Physical therapy within a long and short term setting revolves around the post stroke needs of residents and after fractures or joint replacements," says Susan Barbour, Rehabilitation Program Supervisor at Glenview Terrace. "Our goal is to regain motor skills such as walking and transfer training which deals with obstacles the residents may now have to work with."

In addition, physical therapy might be needed for:

• postoperative conditions such as joint replacement, abdominal or back surgery

• neuromuscular involvement such as loss through stroke, spinal cord injury or Cerebral Palsy

• orthopedic conditions such as fractures, spinal deformity and dislocations

• degenerative conditions such as Parkinson's Disease, Multiple Sclerosis, Alzheimer's Disease and Arthritis

• wound care healing

• sports injury

• pain management

According to Ms. Barbour, each new admission to Glenview Terrace or the TCU receives a physical therapy assessment; the physician is then contacted. All physical therapy must be ordered by the physician. "It is not unusual for a resident to need physical, occupational and speech therapy," says Ms. Barbour. "We all work very closely together for the benefit of the resident."

October is Physical Therapy Month. For more information regarding physical therapy and the Rehabilitation Services Department at Glenview Terrace, call (847) 729-9090.

Have a good relationship with your doctor

Many older adults experience frustration when their doctor dismisses medical symptoms as signs of aging. How can they get their physician to take them seriously?

To get the best medical treatment, it is important to have a good relationship with doctor who understands your needs, said Mel Bromberg, University of Illinois Extension health specialist. This relationship becomes more important as we age, she said.

Older adults are nearly twice as likely to encounter health problems that require medical care than their youthful counterparts. Chronic health problems, multiple medications, and biological changes of aging make older adults more vulnerable to disease and injury.

"It is easier for physicians to first point out age-related emotional and behavioral changes rather than to investigate further for serious underlying physiological causes," Bromberg said. "Physicians may advise patients that complaints such as incontinence, loss of taste, confusion, tremors, and various aches and pains are merely signs of aging, and should not be taken seriously."

Don't wait until you are sick to find a good doctor, advised Bromberg. The best time is when you are healthy. A practitioner can then determine your optimum state of health, obtain baseline readings on various organ systems and learn what health problems you have or may need to watch out for in the future.

One of the most common ways to find a doctor is to ask a friend or relative for a referral. However, be cautious. Their opinion may be based on their impression of the doctor's bedside manner rather than his or her technical expertise.

Other sources of information on doctors include the local medical society, medical schools, other health professionals and public interest research consumer groups.

Once you select a doctor, you must be aware of appropriate questions to ask regarding medical tests needed and what the health risks may be.

Write down the names of recommended medications and procedures. Also, find out how to obtain copies of your medical records.

When a medication is prescribed, make sure you know the number of times you need to take the medication and the proper dosage. Ask the doctor if there are any possible side effects or problems when taking more than one medication. Patient package inserts are often included in prescription medications so you can better understand how the drug will work and why it was prescribed for your particular condition.

In. Out.

Now a person can be in and out of Bethany Terrace Nursing Centre in no time, because short-term stays have never been more convenient. For example, someone who needs temporary nursing care after extended hospitalization can recuperate at Bethany before returning home.

Bethany Terrace has expanded our specialized programming for those with early stage dementia. The activity-based program is designed to enhance a person's quality of life, and the staff have special training to meet the needs of those with dementia.

An exciting new program has been developed at Bethany Terrace in ventilator and respiratory management. In addition, in order to facilitate respiratory protection, an isolation room was designed and equipped for the special ventilation needs that may be required for the control and treatment of more complex respiratory infections.

Care givers in need of respite day services should check out our new Forest View Day Care Center. The non-profit program was designed to provide participants socialization, supervision and assistance from health care professionals. Our Monday through Friday program is for older adults.

No matter what level of care is needed, or for how long, every Bethany Terrace resident receives the best professional services and personal attention, in a warm and inviting environment.

Insist on the best, check out Bethany Terrace.

Teens rake leaves for seniors

The Morton Grove Village Hall Senior Center matches youth workers with senior citizen homeowners who need a little assistance with seasonal related chores around the house. Senior citizens can call the Richard T. Flickinger Senior Center at 847/470-5223 to receive the name of a teen worker who is interested in raking leaves, shoveling snow, or cutting grass. The senior citizen is required to call the teen worker to discuss the requirements of the job and supply the necessary tools for the work to be completed.

Teens interested in this sort of work may also call the Senior Center if they want to participate in the program. This program provides a gratifying intergenerational experience for both the senior citizen and teen worker.

OSTEOPOROSIS SCREENING IN MORTON GROVE

Each year, several hundred thousand older people are seriously disabled by broken bones caused by osteoporosis, the gradual thinning and weakening of bones with time. The incidence of hip and arm fractures goes up with age, particularly in women, and it is estimated that 10 to 20% of seniors who suffer broken hips die within six months of the injury. One reason for this increase is that since bones are not as strong as they once were, even a minor impact may result in a fracture.

Because osteoporosis can be so difficult to detect, a bone density screening is recommended for both men and women. It is the most practical way to accurately measure the density of bones and is safe, fast, painless, non-invasive and inexpensive. Screenings are offered to women age 35 and over; and men age 45 and over at the Morton Grove Village Hall on either Friday, Oct. 17 from 2 to 8 p.m., or Saturday, Oct. 18 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The cost of the screening is $25. For more information or for an appointment, call the Morton Grove Health Department at 470-5246.

VISUALLY IMPAIRED MOTIVATORS

Morton Grove's support group for people with visual impairments will hold their next meeting at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 21 in the Morton Grove Village Hall. Helpful information and supportive interaction assists participants adjust to their impairments. For more information, or for transportation, call the Morton Grove Senior Hot Line at 470-5223.

SHOPPING IN YOUR CLOSET

Every outfit can be enhanced and every wardrobe can be enlarged by the creative use of accessories. No need to spend money for a new outfit - shop in your own closet and create a new look. This workshop is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 23 at 1 p.m. at the Prairie View Community Center. There will be a demonstration of a variety of ways to wear scarves also. Bring jewelry and scarves to practice with and any questions about accessorizing. The presenter is Suzette Hryza of Colorburst Images. Call Catherine for reservations at 965-1200.

FLU & PNEUMONIA IMMUNIZATIONS

The Morton Grove Village Hall Senior Center will provide influenza and pneumonia immunizations for residents over age 60. The cost of the shots are free for those whose primary insurance is Medicare Part B. Patients who are enrolled in an HMO or who do not subscribe to Medicare Part B must pay $10 for the flu shot and $15 for the pneumonia shot.

Influenza immunizations provide immunity to the most commonly predicted flu strains for this winter. Seniors should get a flu shot each year. Pneumonia immunizations provide lifelong immunity to the most common forms of pneumonia. People who have already received this immunization do not need another one. You should not be immunized if you are:

- 1) allergic to chicken, chicken feathers or eggs,
- 2) on a prescription blood thinner (coumadin, warfarin, panwarfarin, etc.),
- 3) allergic to thimerosal (mercurial antiseptic) or aminoglycosides (gentamicin, kanamycin or neomycin),
- 4) someone who has ever suffered from the illness known as Guillian-Barre Syndrome, or
- 5) someone who has cold symptoms the day of their shot.

Shots will be administered in a "needle-free" system by Evanston Northwestern Healthcare. Those interested in a shot on the dates below must make a reservation by calling the Senior Hot Line at 470-5223.

- Thursday, Oct. 23; 2 to 5 p.m.
- Tuesday, Oct. 28; 2 to 5 p.m.
- Saturday, Nov. 1; 9 a.m. to noon
- Thursday, Nov. 13; 2 to 5 p.m.

Tax-Aide Program needs volunteers to help seniors

Just like the U.S. Marines, The American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) and the Niles Senior Center is looking for a few good men and women to do income tax returns for senior citizens.

The Niles Senior Center is now accepting applications from adult volunteers of all ages who wish to help senior citizens with their income tax returns, AARP membership is not required. The Tax-Aide program is co-sponsored by the Internal Revenue Service.

Starting in January, there will be a five day training course for the Tax-Aide counselors, under IRS supervision. Volunteers are required to pass an exam before they become counselors.

Certified volunteers spend four hours (or more) each week from February through April assisting senior taxpayers at the Niles Senior Center, located at 8060 Oakton in Niles. Last year more than 400 people locally, and more than 1.5 million people nationally, were assisted by more than 31,141 volunteers.

Anyone wishing to volunteer for the Tax-Aide program may do so by telephoning Mary Olek-sy at 588-8420.

Lincolnwood Elite Girls All Stars

Sparked by its most thrilling victory of the season, the Lincolnwood Elite 14 and Under Girls Softball Fastpitch All Stars captured third place July 25-27 in the always tough Lady Redwings Invitational Tournament in Rockford, IL. Twenty-eight teams were in the 14 and Under division.

A stirring come-from-behind 6-5 extra inning victory against the then undefeated Woodridge Wildcats in the first round of single elimination play keyed the successful weekend.

Down 4-0 early, the Lincolnwood nine combined two walks, an error and a two run single by Leah Federman to draw within one in the second inning, then knotted the game in the third after a triple by Heather Salmen and RBI hit from Katie Hebble.

After falling behind again 5-4, a seventh inning rally that included a walk to Karen Hols, a stolen base and a double by Salmen tied the score. In the bottom of the inning, Woodridge had the winning run at second with no outs, but winning pitcher Anne O'Day pounced off the mound to field a bunt to nail the lead runner at third for the first out, and Lincolnwood was able to retire the side with no damage.

The game then moved to the inter-nation tie-breaker rule. Lincolnwood pushed a run across in the eighth after loading the bases as Shanon Lersch scored on Kelly Kraft's hard groundball on a bang-bang play at home. Woodridge failed to score its lead runner from second in the bottom half.

In the quarter final match-up against the Downers Grove Impulse, O'Day was masterful on the mound, allowing just two hits in a 6-1 win. Leading the Lincolnwood attack were Jackie Johnson (two hits, two runs) and Hebble (two RBIs).

Despite a third straight fine pitching performance from O'Day, Lincolnwood dropped its semi-final game to the Hoffman Estates Heat 7-4. Lincolnwood struck first with two runs in the second by stringing together hits from Lersch, Johnson and O'Day, but the Heat scored one in the fourth, four in the fifth and two in the sixth to take command.

Lincolnwood reached the championship bracket with a 2-2 record in pool play, dropping its first game to the Hoffman Heat 10-6 and coming up short 9-7 against the Trevian (Wilmette) Silver after falling behind 9-1.

Wins against Wonder Lake 11-9 and Mundelein 16-3 set the stage for Sunday's heroics. Batting stars in those contests included Joni Stegman, Megan Shields, Carrie Poulson and Hols. Key bench support was provided by Tracey Villegas.

The Elite's successful season also was highlighted when it grabbed a first place trophy back in June by winning the Trevian Girls Softball Association tournament, reeling off six consecutive wins to take the title.

The Elite are coached by Leroy Kaplan, Gary Goodfriend, Ray Zellermeyer and Bob Johnson. Paula Hebble is the team manager. Team sponsor is the Fraternal Order of Police of Lincolnwood.

Are sports drinks bad for teeth?

People who regularly guzzle sports drinks designed to replenish energy and minerals may risk damaging their teeth, suggests a recent study in the British Journal of Sports Medicine.

A British dentist analyzed the acidity of eight sports drinks after seeing a 23-year old runner with severely eroded front teeth who quenched his thirst with sports drinks.

All eight drinks were below the normal "safe" pH of 5.5; in other words, the drinks are too acidic. Any level below the pH of 5.5 can promote tooth erosion.

Upon hearing of the study, researchers at Baptist Hospital Dental Center in Miami decided to test the three most popular sports drinks in this country – Gatorade, Powerade and All Sport. Laboratory technicians at the dental center measured the pH levels of each drink using the standard litmus paper test. Each drink had pH levels of three, indicating a high level of acidity.

The researchers caution that because sports drinks have low pH levels, it does not mean these drinks should be avoided. In fact, sports drinks have low pH levels because they are loaded with minerals that replenish the body's supply lost during exercise.

NFL Youth Flag Football Leagues forming

Approximately 25,000 boys and girls will participate this fall in youth flag football leagues developed by the National Football League, and sponsored by Nike. NFL Flag, presented by Nike will provide boys and girls ages 6-14, with non-contact flag football leagues which run from September through November.

NFL Flag offers two modified versions of traditional flag football that children of any age will find easy and fun to play. The games include NFL Ultimate Football, which promotes continuous action and teamwork, and is ideal for younger fans because there are no set positions and everyone touches the ball; and NFL Flag Football, a five-on-five version of traditional flag football (a flag hanging from a waist belt, which must be snatched by an opponent).

"Because our leagues are flag-based, they require minimal equipment and cost, and promote both female and male participation," Lancaster said. Children interested in playing in a local NFL Flag league can call 1-800-NFL-SNAP, or visit their local Foot Locker store for registration information.

Ryan, florists team up to fight teen drinking and driving

With the high school homecoming season in full swing, Secretary of State George H. Ryan and the Illinois State Florists' Association are once again reminding teens that it's dangerous—and illegal—to drink and drive.

Teens buying flowers for their school homecoming dates will find stickers on the corsage boxes that tell them: "Live to Smell the Flowers—Celebrate Sober."

The message is a reminder to teens that it is illegal in Illinois for motorists under the age of 21 to be caught driving with even a trace of alcohol in their systems. Under a law passed by Ryan in 1994, teen drivers taking one sip of beer before driving stand to lose their licenses for three months.

So far under the "Use It & Lose It" law, more than 7,500 young drivers across the state have lost their licenses after driving with alcohol in their systems.

"Teens have to make enough tough decisions that affect their futures. Hopefully this program will encourage them on the night of their homecoming dances to make the right choice when it comes to drinking and driving," Ryan said. "Alcohol and Automobiles don't mix. Don't drink and drive."

This fall and winter, about 235,000 "Celebrate Sober" stickers will be mailed out to 1,800 florists in every part of Illinois.

The "Celebrate Sober" program received an overwhelming response when it was introduced during the 1996 high school prom season. In 1997, the program was expanded to include football and basketball homecoming seasons, and the message also was distributed through tuxedo rental shops.

"We are proud to again be a part of this campaign. The reminder to celebrate sensibly is an important message for the youth of our communities," said Eldon Haab, president of the Illinois State Florists' Association.

Introducing Northern Illinois Business Roundtable

The Board of Directors of the Consultants Roundtable has unanimously agreed to change the name of the organization to the Northern Illinois Business Roundtable. "The organization has grown in stature over the years to include a wide variety of businesses - not just consultants," stated Jonathan Shimberg, Chairman. "Our membership growth over the years has reflected this change and this renaming should help to better position our programs and services."

As in the past, the Northern Illinois Business Roundtable will meet on the second Saturday of every month at the Destiny Restaurant in DesPlaines. The session starts with networking followed by a full breakfast and a speaker for the day presenting a topic of general interest. Attendees then break into Roundtable groups of five or six representing various business disciplines. Each person is given 10 minutes, five to introduce themselves and their business and present an issue/problem/opportunity they are having. The remaining five minutes is used by their table partners to respond with suggestions. Table members effectively act as a "Board of Directors" for each other.

Six good reasons to invest in IRAs

Virtually anyone under the age of 70s can open an Individual Retirement Account (IRA). The only stipulation is that you have earned income; that is, income from wages, tips, alimony, sales commissions, and self-employment. If you qualify, the Illinois CPA Society urges you to consider the following reasons to open an IRA.

1) THEY'RE EASY TO OPEN. You can set up an IRA at most banks, brokerage houses, or trust companies. What's more, you generally can roll over funds from other qualified retirement plans into IRAs without any tax ramifications.

2) TAX-DEFERRED COMPOUNDING OF INTEREST CAN MAKE YOUR INVESTMENTS GROW FASTER.

Any amounts set aside in an IRA earn interest tax-deferred until the time of withdrawal. Since you do not have to pay income tax as your earnings grow, your investments may compound faster than if invested in taxable instruments. What's more, you may be subject to a lower tax rate on the earnings if you withdraw the money at retirement, when you are likely to be in a lower tax bracket.

3) YOU MAY QUALIFY FOR A TAX DEDUCTION.

Some taxpayers also may deduct their IRA contributions directly from their income for the year. To claim a deduction on your 1997 tax return, you must establish an IRA and make your contribution by April 15, 1998.

You qualify for the deduction if neither you nor your spouse are active participants in an employer-maintained retirement plan. For the 1997 tax year, you may each contribute up to $2,000 to an IRA - this is true even if your spouse doesn't work - and you can claim a deduction of $4,000, as long as you had at least $4,000 in earned income.

If you or your spouse are covered by a plan, an income test determines how much of your IRA contribution is deductible. Married couples filing jointly can still claim a full deduction of up to $4,000 per year if their adjusted gross income (AGI) is less than $40,000. Single taxpayers can claim a full deduction if their AGI is below $25,000. The new tax law raises those limits by $10,000 for couples and $5,000 for singles in 1998.

Partial deductions are also allowed for singles with AGIs between $25,000 and $34,999, or married couples filing jointly with AGIs between $40,000 and $49,999. For every $5 over the ceilings of $25,000 and $40,000, you lose $1 in deductions. No deduction is allowed for an IRA contribution if you are covered by a retirement plan and your AGI exceeds $50,000 if married or $35,000 if single.

Be aware, too, that beginning in 1998, the deductibility of your IRA contribution will not be affected by whether the individuals spouse in an active participant in an employer's retirement plan, unless the couple has an AGI above $150,000.

4) YOU CAN STRUCTURE IRA WITHDRAWALS TO MEET YOUR FINANCIAL NEEDS.

Generally, you can withdraw funds without incurring penalties once you reach age 59s. At that time, you can opt to take money out in a lump sum or withdraw it as needed. If you've saved substantial amounts in your IRA, you should be aware that the 15-percent excise tax on excess distributions from IRAs and other qualified plans has been suspended through 1999. Under the prior law, you would have faced a 15-percent excise tax on withdrawals of more than $160,000 in 1997.

An option for those who need to tap into their IRA prior to reaching age 59s is to withdraw the money in the form of an annuity that is, periodic distributions made at specific intervals. The amount of the annuity payment is based on your life expectancy or the joint life expectancy of you and your beneficiary.

5) YOU CAN MAKE PENALTY-FREE HARSHIP WITHDRAWALS. Beginning in 1997, you also may tap into your IRA to pay qualified medical expenses that exceed 7.5 percent of your adjusted gross income without incurring the 10-percent penalty. In addition, unemployed workers who have been receiving unemployment benefits under Federal or state law for at least 12 weeks may make penalty-free IRA withdrawals to the extent of qualified medical insurance premiums paid during the year. As a result of the new tax law, beginning in 1998, first-time home buyers also will be able to make penalty-free withdrawals as well as certain taxpayers withdrawing funds for qualified higher education costs.

6) YOU HAVE FLEXIBILITY IN MANAGING YOUR IRA INVESTMENTS.

IRAs are self-directed, which means you choose how to invest the money. You can invest your IRA in just about anything, including stocks, bonds, certificates of deposit, Treasury issues, mutual funds, and U.S. minted gold and silver coins. However, you may not use an IRA to invest in collectibles, such as art, stamps, and antiques.

In addition to these advantages, CPAs urge taxpayers to remember that they must rely on their own retirement savings to fund their golden years, and that an IRA is one of many vehicles to do this. The IRA will become even more valuable in 1998 when you may be allowed to establish an IRA permitting tax-free withdrawals at retirement and in certain other situations.

Home title insurance brochure available

Buying a home is a dream come true for most people, but unfortunately for some, that dream can become a nightmare. Most people assume that once they buy a home, they own it, according to Peter J. Birnbaum, president of Attorneys' Title Guaranty Fund, Inc. (ATG). But there are times when a hidden error in a prior deed, mortgage or other legal instrument can give someone else a valid legal claim against your property and cause you to lose your home, he says.

In most real estate transactions, title insurance is required. Title insurance will reimburse the homeowner for losses incurred if a defect is found in the title. Without title insurance, if a defect exists, not only can the homeowner lose title to the home, but the owner also may not be able to recover the purchase price.

A brochure, "What Everyone Should Know About Title Insurance," explains the factors that should be considered before purchasing title insurance. Made available by ATG, the brochure is available at no charge to consumers.

The issues covered in the brochure include:

- Why is title insurance important?
- What risks are covered?
- What happens at a closing?
- What steps should be taken if a claim is made against your property?

"Consumers owe it to themselves to make sure they understand all aspects of their real estate transaction, including title insurance," says Birnbaum.

To request a free brochure, call 1-800-252-0402 in Illinois or write to: Attorneys' Title Guaranty Fund, Inc., P.O. Box 9136, Champaign, IL, 61826-9136, or e-mail: atginfo@atgf.com.

MidAmerica Adopt-A-Charity program

To thank the community for its 75 years of support, Northwestern Savings, a division of Mid-America Federal is currently conducting its Adopt-A-Charity program. For every $5,000 addition into a new or existing CD, Northwestern Savings will make a $5 contribution to the saver's charity of choice. For example, a $10,000 deposit would receive a $10 contribution.

According to Regional Manager, Maria Cordon, "this is a great way for Northwestern to return support to the many non-profit organizations that make our neighborhoods great places to live and work. Our customers actually determine how we can best support the community." The Adopt-A-Charity program will come to an end on October 31.

Aurelia Pucinski applauded

Cook County Circuit Court Clerk Aurelia Pucinski is greeted by Peggy and Nick Lianos at a recent fundraiser at the Como Inn in Chicago where she was applauded by many other supporters in the Greek community for improving the court system by increasing work quality, modernizing the office, and implementing flexible work schedules for working parents.

New twists on Chicago's largest fundraiser

On Friday, November 21, the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation (JDF) Greater Chicago Chapter will host its 18th annual Chance of a Lifetime Gala. "Faces of Diabetes: Hope for a Cure," at McCormick Place South. The evening will be chaired by James C. Tyree of Chicago.

The Gala is Chicago's largest fundraising event and attracts thousands of the city's top social, corporate and civic leaders. Ticket sales began this weekend at a Kickoff Party held at the newly renovated lakefront home of Gala Chair Tyree, a longtime supporter of JDF.

This year's Gala will feature some changes to increase the impact of the event. One such change is that the Gala will be held two weeks earlier than the traditional date in order to allow for the use of a new venue: McCormick Place South, the newest addition to the McCormick Place complex. There, one of the most exciting new details is the headlining band, Motown favorite The Temptations.

Another significant change will be the addition of a "guaranteed bid" to the silent auction. On every item, a predetermined price will guarantee a bidder that he has won that item, freeing guests to bid for other items or simply expedite the silent auction process.

The goal of this year's benefit is to raise $1 million for diabetes research. Tickets are $200 each (admission for two) or three for $500 (admission for six). That same ticket is one entry into the Gala's well-known grand prize sweepstakes drawing for a chance to win a 1997 Bentley automobile, courtesy of Continental Classic Motors, or $100,000 in cash. Other featured sweepstakes prizes include a big-screen TV and a golf trip for two to Scotland. In addition, a silent auction of more than 400 items will feature sports tickets, autographed memorabilia, children's toys and more.

To purchase tickets for "Faces of Diabetes: Hope for a Cure," contact the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation Greater Chicago Chapter, 500 North Dearborn, Suite 305, Chicago, IL 60610, (312) 670-0313.

Warning! Flexible Gas Connectors

The Office of the Illinois State Fire Marshal has been made aware of several fires and explosions caused by the deterioration of older-style brass flexible natural gas connectors. The OSFM is therefore warning homeowners and encouraging local fire service personnel to spread the word concerning this hazard.

Gas connectors are corrugated metal tubes used to connect gas appliances (such as dryers, stoves or hot water heaters) to gas supply lines. Currently these connectors are made of stainless steel or plastic coated brass. In the past however, most of these connectors were made of uncoated brass. These older brass connectors have a flaw in how their tubing was joined to their end pieces. Some uncoated brass connectors have end pieces brazed (soldered) to the corrugated brass tubing. Over time, the brazing can fail, creating a serious gas leak. These dangerous uncoated brass connectors have not been made for more than 20 years, but many of them are still in use and may even be available for sale in some stores that may be unaware of this problem.

It is very difficult to determine from a visual inspection whether a flexible connector has been brazed. Therefore, if an uncoated brass connector is found, it should be replaced with either a new stainless steel or plastic coated brass connector. It is good practice to replace any flexible gas connector which is more than 10 years old.

Furthermore, connectors can wear out from too much moving, bending or corrosion. Connectors should always be replaced whenever the appliance is replaced or moved from its location. Any new flexible gas connector should be certified by the American Gas Association (AGA) and conform to the rules of the American National Standards Institute (ANSI) Standard Z21.24.

It is important that homeowners not move an appliance to check the existing flexible connector! Moving the appliance, even slightly, whether to clean behind it or to inspect its gas connector, can cause the complete failure of one of these older weakened connectors, possibly resulting in a deadly fire or explosion. If you cannot check your flexible connector without moving an appliance, it is recommended that you have a service contractor check the connection for you.

If you smell gas or suspect a leak:

- Leave the house immediately
- Don't use your phone, call the fire department and your gas supplier from a neighbor's home
- Don't light a match or lighter
- Don't change the position of any light switches
- Don't switch on any electrical appliances or equipment

Pucinski presents check to Maryville

Cook County Circuit Court Clerk Aurelia Pucinski (front, center) recently presented a check for $773.50 Rev. John Smyth (right), a priest from the Maryville Academy in Des Plaines, at the 13th Annual Campfest Fundraiser in Chicago. Funds were raised by Clerk employees after participating in a Blue Jeans Day, a benefit that has become a regular feature in the office for various charitable organizations. The Campfest fundraiser helps abused, neglected, and disadvantaged children attend camp in Illinois where many of the children receive professional therapy so they could cope better with their lives. (Also pictured with Pucinski and Rev. Smyth from left to right are: Greg Dezulski, Supervisor of Campfest's Child Abuse Section; and Harry Riley, Campfest Coordinator.)

Army provides $$$ for college to Chicagoland soldiers

The United States Army, through its Army College Fund, made $11,467,000 available to Chicago area enlistees from October 1, 1996 through September 30, 1997.

By opting for the Army College Fund at the time of enlistment, 354 Chicagoland youths ensured they would each have up to $40,000 available for higher education once their two, three, or four-year enlistments are complete.

The Army provides these benefits to attract high quality applicants. Qualified individuals who elect for college fund benefits contribute $1,200 during their first year of service toward the total amount. The remainder is paid under the provisions of the Montgomery GI Bill and the Army College Fund. Persons enlisting for two years receive $26,500, those choosing a three-year enlistment earn $30,000 and those serving for four years receive the highest amount, $40,000.

The Army also offers a loan repayment program. Qualified applicants will have up to $65,000 available to repay their loans at a rate of one-third the total per year.

Your local Army recruiter can provide more information on the $26,500, $30,000 and $40,000 the Army College Fund, the $65,000 loan repayment program and other Army opportunities.

DISTRICT 71 NEWS

Bank-At-School

District 71 and Grand National Bank of Niles are again joining together to offer students the Illinois Treasurer's Bank-At-School Program. The program, which has won national recognition as an exemplary school/business partnership model, has helped thousands of young people statewide to build financial skills. The purpose of the program is to teach children the fundamentals of money management and to put this knowledge to work through the operation of an in-school bank.

Children, with permission from their parents, open a minor savings account with the bank. Minimum balances and service charges are waived on these accounts. Children may make deposits to their accounts once a month at school with the help and guidance of an employee from Grand National Bank.

At present, over 140 children from South and Culver Schools are participating in this program that promotes good saving habits.

quired by Tower Records in '95. Kroch and Brentano's was liquidated in '95. Handy Andy closed last year after creditors didn't support their Chapter 11 filing. Skokie's huge computer company, Elek-Tek, filed for Chapter 11 and sold to Creative Computers this year. Sportmart, whose home offices were on Dempster Street in Niles, has a cash crunch amidst lower sales and has a planned acquisition with Galt Sports, and PetCare is expected to sell to Petco Animal Supplies. Phar Mor got into financial trouble and has now closed in Niles.

The little guys went down the drain. Now the mid-sized regionals are falling by the wayside and only the big, big boys, Walgreens and Osco, are around to pick up the pieces.

Are we better off with the big boys being our only suppliers? We don't think so.

In our younger days my wife needed a midnight prescription to relieve problems she had after one of our children was born. Ronnie Pankau, my next door neighbor, got out of bed and filled the needed prescription in the wee hours, to relieve our problem. In subsequent years, his brother, Bob, was often our surrogate doctor who would provide help when we discussed minor health problems. It was a service which was part of the business of the small independent.

The small independent retailers contributed much more. Pankau and Niles Drugs Al Green and Hareczak Sausages' Rich Hareczak and Marty Keller of Alert TV and the Minelli family helped to build our communities. They started the Lions Club and built the Niles Chamber of Commerce. They helped to create Niles first post war bank and served on Niles public boards. In Pankau's home the first meeting of volunteers from Niles Woman's Club and their husbands led to the creation of the Niles library. These independent businessmen-local residents rang doorbells for more and better schools. And they were in the forefront of sponsoring teams and supporting all the local religious groups in the community.

The bigger stores took the money and ran. Many of their workers lived outside of town and when they left their shops they literally left the community they worked in. There was a difference in their commitment to our town.

When Phar Mor came to Milwaukee Avenue many who enjoy the library and schools and churches in town, which were created and supported by the small entrepreneurs, and received that good personal service in the old days, abandoned the little guys in favor of Phar Mor, which saved them a buck or two. They forced the little guys to close and now are left with the big, big guys.

Is bigger better? We don't think so. Perhaps the process is evolutionary. As the towns grow bigger and the dollars become more expendable it attracts the big bucks' companies to enter the market. It may be inevitable. We now have more of, longer hours to shop and more choices to buy. But the days of stopping by your local druggist and getting some valuable advice was worth more than all the cut-rate prices we now seek. Just as bigger is not necessarily better, today's self-service leaves much to be desired. We may be showing our age, but yesterday's personal touch in business was a better way to go.

Support group hosts 'Divorce University'

by Rosemary Tiro

The Lilac Tree and Bank One will present "Divorce University" Saturday, Oct. 18, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Bank One, 800 Davis St. at the corner of Sherman Avenue in Evanston.

The Lilac Tree is a not-for-profit organization dedicated to assisting women who are in the process of divorce or who are newly divorced to adjust successfully to single life.

"Divorce University" will feature five interactive programs designed to assist participants to move forward and adjust to their new life, both emotionally and financially. Leading lawyers, mediators, financial planners, psychotherapists and real estate experts from throughout the Chicago area will address concerns of the participants and guide them through the divorce process so that they will know what to expect and how to plan for the future.

As a special highlight, State Senator Kathy Parker (29th District) will discuss the impact of the divorce legislation recently passed in Springfield. She will also review other matrimonial legislation currently under consideration.

Among the topics discussed in the five programs will be money management, financial planning, family restructuring and child custody concerns, dealing with attorneys and attorneys' fees, selling or keeping the family home, determining the "marital estate" and identifying assets and liabilities.

Lunch is included in the day's activities. For more information, call (847) 328-0313.

policies. In addition, the stores would be subject to strict enforcement procedures by the Village in order to keep their licensing.

Bavaro said that the two cigarette stores currently operating in Niles, Cigarettes For Less and The Cigarette Depot, would not be affected by this ordinance because they opened their operations before this measure was adopted.

Two years ago, the Niles Village Board enacted an ordinance making it a violation for minors to be smoking outside. In that law, the minor or his/her parent (s) would be fined $25 for each time the minor received a citation for a violation.

Bavaro said that the two cigarette stores currently operating in Niles, Cigarettes For Less and The Cigarette Depot, would not be affected by this ordinance.

By unanimous vote, the Board approved the ordinance, which will now be sent to the Village Board for its approval at its next meeting on October 28.

ples of toys that can be donated include: board games educational storybooks, sports equipment, Fisher Price toys or other appropriate items.

"This event is a great opportunity for individuals and groups in the community to come together through the simple act of donating items that will benefit adults and children throughout the Chicagoland region," stated Ghida Martorano, Assistant to the Village Manager.

Individual residents can bring their donations to the Village Administration Building from Monday, Oct. 20 through Thursday, Oct. 23 between the hours of 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Items brought in for donations can be placed in the bins that are clearly marked in the north and south vestibules.

Group donations can be brought to the Administration Building underground parking garage, located at the southeast corner of Oakton and Waukegan Roads on Thursday, Oct. 23 from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. This central drop-off point allows one location that the United Way and Little City Foundation can come to collect the donated items.

While the national "Make a Difference Day" is only scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 25 the Village of Niles expanded the timeline for the event to four days. "By having four days in which people can participate, as opposed to just one, it gives more people the opportunity to be a part of the food and toy drive," said Chris Bethel, Administrative Intern for the Village.

The nationwide "Make a Difference Day" event was spearheaded by the Points of Light Foundation in Washington D.C. and has been endorsed by Illinois Governor Jim Edgar as well as municipalities, businesses, and community organizations from across the United States.

Sunday at the library means music!

The popular Sunday at the Library series opens Oct. 19 at the Lincolnwood Public Library with the Special Consensus Bluegrass Band, a four person acoustic band that's been together since 1975. The band plays contemporary country, a little bit of gospel music with four-part harmonies and naturally, some traditional bluegrass standards from folks like Bill Monroe, Lester Flatt and Earl Scruggs, and as an extra added attraction, they will do a few cover songs from other musical genres, such as Elvis Presley's Viva Las Vegas.

The Special Consensus has appeared on the Nashville Network's Fire on the Mountain show and toured for three seasons as 4/5 of the musical Cotton Patch Gospel, with music and lyrics by Harry Chapin. Founder and bajo player Greg Cahill is joined by Bobby Burns, guitar, Colby Maddox, mandolin and fiddle and Diana Phillips, bass and lead singer.

For a real treat with a beat Nov. 16, The Mirandas, will perform their own brand of Brazilian music. Featuring concert flutist Julie Koidin, the performers palette of instruments also includes guitar, bass; a variety of Latin percussion instruments; the cavaguinho, which is a Brazilian guitar similar to a mandolin, and vocals.

Hey, you don't have to be Jewish to love Klezmer music! On Dec. 14, M'chaiya, which means a real pleasure in Yiddish, returns to the library to play Klezmer dance melodies as well as songs in Ladino, Yiddish, and Hebrew along with one or two in English.

The programs begin at 2 p.m. The library is located at 4000 Pratt Ave. Tickets are required for programs in this series and are available free at the circulation desk three weeks before a program can be obtained at the Niles Administration Building, 1000 Civic Center Dr., or you may call Ghida S. Martorano, Assistant to the Village Manager - Niles - 847-588-8000.
