Smith commissioned second lieutenant at WIU

Western Illinois University Reserve Officers' Training Corp (ROTC) Cadet Kenneth C. Smith, a graduating senior in law enforcement and justice administration from Niles, was commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army during a May 5 ceremony. He received an active duty commission and will attend Field Artillery Officer Basic Course at Fort Sill, OK in June. He is pictured with his parents, Linda Smith of Niles and Kenneth Smith of Chicago, who pinned on his bars.

Niles police officer given Commendation

Credited with quick thinking and exceptional police work which led to the arrest of an armed perpetrator, Officer Lisa Nallen was given a Commendation by the Niles Police Department at last month's board meeting.

The incident occurred on March 7, when Niles police responded to a 911 call from the New China Buffet on Golf Road, where a temporary employee shot at a bushy. The gunman's arm was hit downward by another employee. Continued on Page 34

Skokie woman gets 45 years for mother's murder

A Skokie woman charged with the first degree murder of her mother in 1997 was sentenced to 45 years in prison Tuesday.

Prosecutors said that Hillary Morris, 35, beat her mother to death because she believed that her mother would cut her off financially.

In October 1998, Morris was charged with the murder after she called police to report that her 65-year-old mother, Irene Vilson, had fallen down the basement stairs of their Skokie home.

Before sentencing, Morris told Circuit Judge Garret Howard that she was innocent of the crime.

Attack occurs in unincorporated Glenview; $10,000 reward offered to speed apprehension of suspect

After a sixth woman was attacked in her home by a man posing as a public official, an anonymous citizen from Cook County's Asian community is offering a $10,000 reward for information leading to the suspect's arrest.

The attacks have occurred in Chicago, Morton Grove, Mt. Prospect, Niles, and Skokie. With the exception of the woman from Morton Grove, who is Hispanic, all of the other women have been Asian.

The latest attack occurred in unincorporated Glenview, putting the case under the jurisdiction of the Cook County Sheriff's Office.

Having joined north suburban authorities and the FBI on the case, the Sheriff's Police have formed it's own 15-member departmental task force to investigate the attacks.

"As we pool information and work to apprehend this offender, the most important thing we can do is to keep the public informed." Continued on Page 34

Sixth suburban woman assaulted in home

Area police departments are seeking the above suspect believed responsible for six recent home break-ins. He is described as a black male, possibly six feet tall, weighing up to 180 pounds. The suspect has repeatedly gained entry to homes after displaying a badge similar to the one pictured. Police believe he is driving a green Pontiac Grand Am with gold trim.

Heavenly Massage - an out of this world experience

by Dorie Finnegan
The time has come. After what seems like a very long winter, we are finally outside again. We are walking, (some running), and biking. We are gardening and mowing our lawns. We are finishing up our Spring cleaning - or at least starting it. And all the while we are still spinning the plates of family, friends, and job and all the other aspects of our complicated lives. All this could add up to a lot of stress, not to mention aches and pains. The time couldn't be better to visit one of Morton Grove's newer and better secrets: Heavenly Massage.

Owner Jim Bakopoulos opened his business 2 1/2 years ago. In that time his staff has grown from 4 to 20. What started out as a massage spa has evolved and now includes European facials, aromatherapy, and waxing, in addition to massage therapy and steam. He got into the industry because he was seeing in himself and those around him the unhealthy toll that increasing everyday stress puts upon us.

Bakopoulos grew up in Niles and is now a resident of Park Ridge. So he situated his first and only spa at this time (he is looking to expand into possibly Skokie in the future) in a location in Morton Grove, only minutes from Niles, Skokie and Glenview with the rest of the North Shore at its fingertips.

Heavenly Massage offers Swedish Massages which are known as stress busters, and Deep Tissue Massage for deep muscle work. Each massage is customized to the client, to address the client's specific ache or pain. Because of the size of the spa: 13 private therapy rooms plus steam shower rooms, customers can call and make an appointment when they need it.

By customizing services Bakopoulos and his staff have found other ways to make customers feel comfortable and confident. With aromatherapy clients describe where they are and where they want to be, and from there special oils are chosen for the perfect calming or revitalizing effect. Facials are specific to the skin which is evaluated on the spot. Men and women are treated the same, as individuals, and specific services are provided from there. Even waxings are customized for regular or sensitive skin.

Customers are greeted by the manager, Celia Gutierrez, who with a warm smile addresses customers by name. She along with one of the licensed and certified therapists can help customers decide what they need. Then clients are escorted through the door into another world. The hallway and therapy rooms are very dimly lit with light relaxing music in the background and no other distractions. No outside noise can be heard. Like the foyer, the therapy rooms are immaculate. After massages clients can opt for a shower and steam. If that's what they would like, a robe and slippers are brought in and clients are directed to one of the spacious private shower rooms.

Asia Cesnuleviciute is a licensed esthetician who handles skin analysis and facials. She can look at a person's face and know what they need, be it more vitamin A to make their eyes brighter, or more vitamin E or C to maintain good skin. She says people who are "more stressed or very sensitive are likely to have dry skin." She stresses the importance of a good diet and fresh air for beautiful skin. Also she assures "skin care can't reverse but CAN slow down the aging or skin." "Skin needs to be exfoliated so new cells come out brighter, and hydrated to be healthy. Even men need moisturizers."

Heavenly Massage is definitely worth trying. 1 hour massages for men are $55, for women $45. Custom European facials start at $40. Waxings go from a $15 brow, $15 bikini, up to the $20-$25 range for legs. First time visits are 1/2 off the price.

Heavenly Massage is located at 9330 Waukegan Rd. on the west side of the street just north of 7 Brothers Restaurant and just south of Golf Rd.

Hours are 10-10 weekdays, 10-6 Saturdays and 11-5 Sundays. Customers can request specific therapists at the time they make their appointment. Call 847-663-0616.

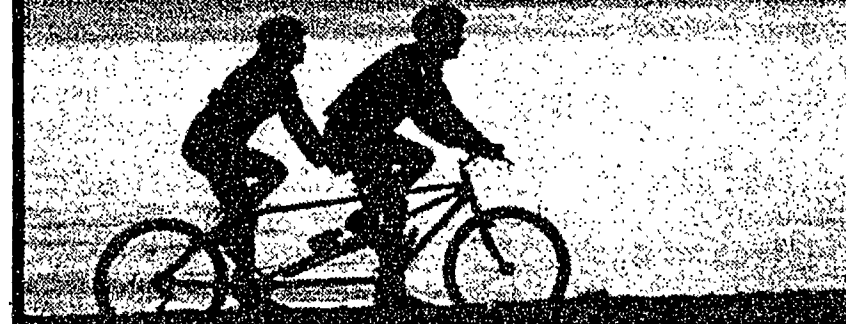

Methods of payment: cash, MasterCard or Visa.

SWANCC awards Mark Twain School with a park bench

Other schools receiving a park bench award from SWANCC are Greenbrier School, Arlington Heights; Kilmer School, Buffalo Grove; and Virginia Lake School, Palatine. In the five years that SWANCC has sponsored this contest, a total of 21,082 pounds of six-pack rings, that's approximately 2,635 250 rings, have been collected for recycling!

Don't let automotive air conditioning problems make you hot under the collar!

You're driving along and it's one of the hottest days of the year. So you reach for the air conditioning button on your dashboard and BINGO!!!...there's only warm air pouring out the air conditioning vents. WHAT'S THE PROBLEM? Well, air conditioning systems are pretty rugged these days, but they aren't infallible. Rubber gaskets and O-rings can become brittle, crumble and allow the refrigerant (Freon) to dissipate over time or to escape entirely, causing the system to fail. Or the compressor may go bad, which could mean a major expense for replacement. What do you do? Take your vehicle to an IMA-CA (International Mobile Air Conditioning Association) or ASE certified technician who can test the system with state-of-the-art air conditioning diagnostic equipment. Usually he can save you time and money by providing a "leak test" and a low-cost diagnostic report while you wait, many times without an appointment. If the system has a slow leak and the refrigerant is just low, he can refill the system back to normal operating levels, and you'll quickly be on your way. If it's something more serious, he'll be able to tell you the difference and give you a detailed written estimate. So when your air conditioning gives out, save yourself time and money by having your system checked and repaired by a qualified technician like those at my shop. At Merlin, we care about you. And your car.

Julia Selzer to address Legion Auxiliary

The Morton Grove American Legion Auxiliary Unit #134 will hear a report on the 1999 Girls State activities by their representative, Julia Anne Selzer, at their 7:30 p.m. meeting Tuesday, June 13th in the Legion Memorial Home, 6140 Dempster.

Miss Selzer was the Unit's candidate for the week's session which was held on the campus for the Eastern Illinois University in Charleston. Girls State attendees are chosen for their scholarship abilities and scholastic achievements, extra curricular and high school activities and interest in current affairs and government procedures.

While there, the approximately 500 young ladies throughout the state are grouped into political parties, learn the basics of running for office with petitions, election and campaigning and also treated to a visit to Springfield to meet the governor, see the legislators in action and also visit with the secretary of state.

Miss Selzer resides in Normal, IL, but was a former Morton Grove resident since her birth. She and her parents, David and Barbara Selzer moved from the vicinity approximately 4 1/2 years ago.

Julia attends Central Catholic School in Normal and has been majoring in English and Spanish. She is planning her college education at either Eureka College in Eureka or Illinois Wesleyan University in Bloomington.

Her grandparents are Frank and Terry Selzer of Morton Grove, both serving the American Legion Post #134 and its Auxiliary as former commander and Unit president. Legion affiliation was not a pre-requisite.

Julia has two sisters, Elizabeth, 15, and Katherine, 10; and a brother, Robert, 11. Her family ties date back from long ago with her grandparents and parents also being active in community affairs such as the Park District, school board, Morton Grove Historical Society, St. Martin's Church, etc.

Dancers sought for Auroris Dance Company

Dancers are encouraged to audition for Auroris Dance Company, a student dance troupe at Niles North High School. Auditions will be held in the afternoon of Thursday, September 7 in the West Gym Balcony at 9800 North Lawler, Skokie. All prospective dancers must attend mandatory clinics to be held September 5 and 6 after school. Dancers with prior training are sought, as well as those with little formal training, but who have rhythm, coordination, and pick up steps quickly.

Auroris Dance Company is a performing group working in the following disciplines: ballet, jazz, modern and tap. Rehearsals are approximately three days a week. The annual show is held the first weekend in February, with "performances" scheduled later in the year.

For more information, please contact Mrs. Falk at (847) 568-3335.

Bear Necessities and kids with cancer benefit

Enjoying Bear Necessities Golf Outing at the Cary Country Club is (L) Joe and Carol Dvorak of South Barrington and guests. For more information please call Bear Necessities at 847-952-9164.

One of Chicago's most popular and fun packed golf outings is scheduled for Monday, July 10 at the beautifully manicured Cary Country Club in Cary. Golfers from all over are already signing up for the 7th Annual "Golf for Bear's Friends" golf outing, hosted by Bear Necessities Pediatric Cancer Foundation. Last year's sold out event offered all kinds of prizes, awards, snacks, golf carts, lock facilities, cocktails, dinner, live auction, raffle, and "hole in one" for a new car, and the same and more is awaiting this year as well. The golf committee is already contacting hole sponsors and prize donors. Greg Kosinski, Co-Chairperson reports that many, many wonderful, expensive prizes have already been secured for the live auction and raffle. Kosinski continued "Last year Bear Necessities Pediatric Cancer Foundation raised $60,000 for the courageous children struggling with cancer."

For a little more excitement, Bear Necessities has added a car raffle. A brand new 2000 Toyota Solara SE will be awarded to a single winner the evening of the golf outing. Raffle sales for this car are limited to only 499 tickets, making the odds of you being the winner excellent! Raffle tickets are available for $100 each, at Bear Necessities Pediatric Cancer Foundation. This beautiful 2000 Toyota Solara SE raffle has been made possible by Lombard Toyota. To sign up for a wonderful day of golf or purchase tickets for the car raffle or to sponsor a hole, please call Bear Necessities at (847) 952-9164.

Home Style

Efficiency tops size when judging condominiums

A ticklish question that confronts many, if not most, home shoppers -- from first-time buyers to move-down empty nesters -- is not the size of the home, but the efficiency of the space. This is especially true for those considering condominium homes. Some people who live in a single-family home think a condominium will cram their style, because they believe that condominiums "naturally are smaller."

Not so, exclaims Weiss. A condominium home can be as large as a comparably priced single-family residence, and it may even offer more usable space if properly arranged.

Weiss suggests the following guidelines in using the space and its efficiency when you consider a condominium home:

Are the rooms large enough for the furnishings you have or intend to buy? For example, floating sofa arrangements, in which sofa sections are set up to form a U or even a complete square, need large living rooms. King size beds require good wall space in bedrooms. Check the builder's floor plans and use a tape measure, if necessary, to be sure," said Weiss. At Village Green, well-dimensioned living rooms are as large as approximately 16 by 24 feet while master bedrooms go up to about 16 by 18 feet.

Check the room arrangements, particularly the amount of wall space and location of windows and doors. In the living room, is there enough space for that entertainment center? And in the bedrooms, will you have enough wall space for a triple dresser and chest of drawers? Do the doors swing the right way, or will they conceal something you want to display if the doors are left open?

Look at closet and cabinet storage, especially if you are moving from a single-family home with plenty to store. Many families have treasured objects they don't want to discard, so storage space is essential. "There seems to be an unwritten law that says the number of things you have to store is directly proportional to the amount of available space, meaning that if you have the space, you will find something to fill it," said the Village Green project manager. Each bedroom, of course, needs a closet of its own and the master bedroom should have extra closet space in the form of a walk-in closet that can be laid out to fit your needs. Any extra closet space in a bedroom is a bonus. The home should also have a guest closet in the foyer and a linen closet. Village Green has two linen closets in all residences. If the home has more closets than these, thank your stars, suggests Weiss. (Village Green also provides substantial storage sheds on each residential floor.) Weiss advises that you check storage in the kitchen by measuring cabinet and under-counter space. Ideally you will discover a kitchen with a pantry. All Village Green kitchens have cabinet-style pantries with rollout shelves. There should also be adequate cabinet space to store china, glassware, utensils and food.

A critical dimension is the efficiency of space. For example, is the entry foyer a true foyer where you can greet guests comfortably? Or is it a tiny area that will squeeze your guests into the living room while they are taking off their shoes?

ing off or putting on their coats? Many condominiums offer dens that can double as bedrooms, assuming that a closet and good access to guest bath also are provided. If so, you may want the dens to have doors that permit the room to be closed off for privacy.

Look for space surprises, suggests Weiss. For example, a laundry room right in the condominium is a major benefit. All Village Green condominiums have in-unit laundries with washer/dryer hookups (and personal washer/dryer, and a utility sink. Most provide additional storage/utility spaces as well.

The elegant and exclusive Village Green Condominiums, opposite Flatlanders near Lincolnshire's emerging downtown district, will provide 108 luxury two- and two-bedroom + den or family room residences in three mid-rise buildings on an 8.33-acre parcel just south of Old Half Day Road.

Reservations are now being accepted for the second mid-rise building, which will include 52 two-bedroom or two-bedroom + den or family room, two-bath units, ranging in size from 1,470 to 2,430 square feet and pre-construction priced from $235,000 to $436,000. (Prices and availability are subject to change without notice.)

Phase II offers nine floor plans, of which four are entirely new and others are slightly larger versions of floor plans in Phase I, which is more than 90 percent sold out.

The appeal of Village Green Condominiums will be enhanced by an extensive and colorful landscaping plan that includes a European-style central courtyard inside the gated entry, as well as sun decks, ponds and trees outside the courtyard.

The frontage area along Old Half Day Road also will be heavily landscaped. Plantings will surround the buildings and ornamental trees and shrubs will be added near the buildings and entrances to enhance their appearance. Together with large green spaces, they will create an interesting, cohesive environment for the community, said Weiss.

The development plan also provides for large open spaces abutting a newly created lake that results in spectacular views for many unit owners and an informal recreational amenity with scenic bicycle and pedestrian links to the community's trail system for all owners.

The Village Green sales/display center is in downtown Lincolnshire in the Spectrum Office Centre, 175 Old Half Day Road, one block north of Route 22 and one block east of Milwaukee Avenue. Hours are from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, closed Friday, or by appointment. For directions or information, call (847) 821-8080.

Edward Jones: Pay attention to Long-Term Care Policy Provisions

Over the past several months, Congress has started paying attention to an issue that's already on the minds of millions of Americans - long-term care insurance. Some legislators have proposed ways in which the government could provide tax breaks for individuals purchasing long-term care policies.

As with any new law, however, those pertaining to long-term care may take years to enact. You may want to act sooner to protect yourself and your family from the potentially devastating costs of an extended nursing home stay. On average, a year in a nursing home costs $40,000, and it can cost twice that much in some major metropolitan areas, according to the Health Insurance Association of America.

Of course, you may never need any long-term care services. But why take a chance on incurring costs that can deplete your financial resources and possibly cause great hardships to your family? An appropriate long-term care policy can give you the protection you need. And the earlier you purchase such a policy, the lower your annual premiums will be.

When you shop around for coverage, look for the following important features:

- Inflation protection - Long-term care costs are expected to rise. To ensure adequate coverage, look for a policy that offers inflation protection. Some policies allow you to increase coverage every few years, while others do so automatically.
- Appropriate benefit period - Few people need lifetime benefits. In fact, less than 2 percent of nursing-home residents stay in a facility more than five years, although some conditions, such as Alzheimer's, obviously warrant longer stays. When choosing a policy, you'll probably want three to six years' worth of coverage.
- Waiver of premiums - This provision allows you to stop paying premiums during the time you receive benefits. Make sure you carefully read the policy for any restrictions, such as a required minimum stay.
- Nonforfeiture benefits - This benefit returns some of your payments if you drop your coverage. You can choose to receive a refund in cash, usually as a percentage of the premiums paid. You also can elect to continue your coverage, but with a reduced daily payment amount. Keep in mind that a nonforfeiture benefit, while valuable, can significantly add to your policy's cost.
- Home health care - Not everyone needs to go into a nursing home to receive long-term care assistance. Look for a policy that pays benefits for home health care as well as for a nursing home.

These are only some of the key provisions to watch for in a long-term care policy. You may want to consult with a financial professional to help you pick the right policy for your specific needs.

One final thought: Consider talking to your parents about long-term care, too. It's not an easy subject to discuss, but it could benefit everyone.

Jeffrey Cardella can be reached at Edward Jones, 8141 N. Milwaukee, Niles, 470-8953.
