Exercise tips for people with diabetes ercise is important for everyone. But did you know it's even more essential for people who have or are genetically prone to diabetes? Few people who have diabetes use exercise as a way to control their symptoms and lower their risk of developing serious complications, according to the American College of Sports Medicine. So the ACSM is urging diabetics to get on physical fitness plans in addition to their special diets.

According to the premier health information Web site. WellnessAmerica.com, diabetes is a disorder caused by decreased production of insulin or by decreased ability to use insulin. Insulin is a hormone produced by the pancreas that is necessary for cells to be able to use blood sugar.

Diabetes results when the pancreas produces insufficient amounts of insulin to meet the body's needs or when the pancreas produces insulin but the cells are unable to efficiently use it.

A diet emphasizing foods that are high in complex carbohydrates and fiber, such as whole grains, legumes and vegetables, will reduce people with diabetes' need for insulin by controlling the release of glucose into the blood-sugar, like processed foods or paked goods, because they raise sugar levels too rapidly. Exercise also helps the circulatory system. This is important because people with diabetes are more vulnerable to heart attacks, strokes and foot problems due to Incorporating exercise into your daily routine isn't that hard.

People with diabetes should exercise three to five times a week and burn a total of about 1,000 calo-When choosing exercise, peo-

So, too, can continuing to worry about how we feel rather than doing something about it. But fighting holiday depression need not be a difficult task. First, it is important to recogsion you might be feeling. One starting point is to take a more realistic view of the season as it is "sold" in our society. It certainly can be depressing to compare most of our lives to the rosy "ideal" holiday situations we see in ads, magazine layouts, and TV shows. But it's important to remember these depictions of the season are very much a business issue. Many retailers take in 50% or more of their annual income during the holiday season. Of course they want to see it as a happy, perfect time. That's good for business, but not representative of how people really live. We aren't "inadequate" just because

That doesn't mean you can't enjoy the wonderful foods and celebrations of the season. Rather, just keep things in moderation. When the candy dish comes your way, pass it by with the mental note that you are making some progress on this project of yours.

Similarly, if you don't usually exercise on a regular basis, what better time to begin than when you need it most? Even just a simple walk each day can make a difference, helping you feel more active and fit. And remember, your goal here is to make progress in overcoming the depression of the season, so even a small effort can be an important step in the right direction.

Holiday social activity provides another excellent opportunity to work on your project. Even if you're reluctant to go, Four out of five Americans will make the effort to attend at least

An officer pulled over a driver for failing to signal on Greenwood and Mason. The driver gave consent to a vehicle search. As the driver stood at the side of the road, another officer noticed he was holding onto something in his left front coat pocket. The officer reported that he could smell the burnt odor of cannabis on the driver, told the driver this and asked him what was in his pocket. The driver told the officer it was a pipe. A subsequent search revealed three grams of marijuana in the driver's inner left coat pocket. Senior lifestyles due for a change

A study released last week predicts that retiring seniors will not be heading south in the numbers we've grown accustomed

The study, done by the Metro Chicago Information Center and Institute for Metropolitan Affairs, concludes that the elderly will prefer to stay in their neighborhoods, though perhaps not in their homes. This will call for a different kind and level of service as they move to condominiums, assisted living, and ultimately into nursing facilities. And this will put pressure on developers to provide the kind of housing and amenities seniors want. "It's a wake-up call for the region," said D. Garth Taylor, Executive Director of Metro Chicago. Only 9 percent of suburban Cook County residents expect to leave the area in retirement. The number of people requiring some form of senior housing is expected to increase by about 92,000 in the next two decades, according to the study. This senior group is expected to be the most financially secure in history, but some 15% will lack financial resources for basic needs of housing, food, clothing and medicine, the survey shows:

Taylor expects that this future community of retireds will provide increased volunteer service to the community, possibly by a 40 percent increase, Taylor

St. John Brebeuf P/SA general meeting

Mrs. LaConte (right) and Mrs. Hagman (left) displaying a mosaic made by nine children.

On October 11 the St. John Brebeuf Parish/School Association held its General Meeting and Wine and Cheese Reception. The highlight of the evening was the Focus on Fine Arts with presentations by Mrs. Beverly Tabern, SJB school music teacher, and Mrs. Anne LeConte, Art on Parade Coordinator.

Fr. Adam Galek opened the meeting with a prayer and blessed both the parents and the children as they proceed through the 2000-2001 school year. Phyllis Paliser, P/SA President welcomed the members and introduced the 2000-2001 P/SA Board to the audience. Mrs. Margaret Whitman, principal of SJB, expressed her appreciation to the parents for everything they do in support of the school and the education of our children.

teacher, gave a toe-tapping overview of the new music curriculum for grades K-8 at SJB. The music curriculum includes a new set of compact discs purchased by the P/SA and instruments such as maracas, sticks, xylophones, and percussion instruments. The emphasis of the music curriculum is to teach the musical concepts of steady beats, tone colors and voices, forms and styles of music, harmony, melody, and loud and soft dynamics. These concepts will soon be put to use as the chil-cember 15 Christmas Concert and the April 4 Spring Concert. In a lively finale, Mrs. Tabern outfitted the parents with sticks and maracas and led them in an impromptu performance accompanied by music from the new CDs.

Mrs. Anne LaConte, Art on Parade Coordinator, presented this P/SA sponsored program to the parents. The Art on Parade Program is designed to present the children with a variety of artists and art styles in the development of an appreciation of the arts. In this pursuit, each school year focuses on four artists or art styles with this school year's focus on Norman Rockwell, Egyptian Art, Georgia O'Keeffe, and Frederic Remington. THE BUGLE, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 7, 2000

LEGAL NOTICE COOK COUNTY REAL PROPERTY ASSESSMENTS FOR 2000

This publication constitutes official notice of the changes in assessment to all owners of real property in Niles Township. The 2000 assessment changes as published herein are those determined by the Assessor of Cook County.

It is the duty of the Assessor to appraise all taxable real property in Cook County at its fair cash value as of January 1, 2000. Fair cash value is described as what the property would bring at a voluntary sale in the normal course of business or trade. The Assessor is required by law to assess said property in a fair and

> The Assessor does not determine property taxes. Property taxes are determined by the spending needs and requests of municipalities, school boards, park districts and other local government agencies which provide public services to property owners. The Assessor's sole responsibility is to estimate the value of real estate property.

In Cook County, real property is classified according to its use. The classification system is used to determine the percentage of the fair cash value at which the real property is assessed for purposes of taxation. Accordingly, real property is assessed at only a fraction of its fair cash value, depending on its use and classification.

Changes in assessment for land and improvements are listed separately. The dimensions of the land are also listed:

- `A Acres B - Back Lot
- N Irregular Lot S – Square Feet

Cook County uses a Permanent Index Number (P.I.N.) system as a means to identify individual real estate parcels. The PIN consists of a 14-digit number. The first two digits identify the area or survey township; the second two digits identify the sub-area or section; the next three digits identify blocks.

Blocks are defined as follows:

Blocks 100 to 199 are located in the N.W. Quarter Blocks 200 to 299 are located in the N.E. Quarter

Blocks 300 to 399 are located in the S.W. Quarter Blocks 400 to 499 are located in the S.E. Quarter The next three digits in the series identify the specific parcel or lot. The last four digits, (where applicable), identify individual condominium units, non-operating Whenever possible, the assessment list will be listed by the street name and the street or house number of the parcel. However, the Cook County Assessor's Office official records rely on permanent Property Index Numbers (P.I.N.) only. No assessment of real property shall be considered invalid due to an incorrect listing.

railroad parcels or leasehold's of exempt parcels.

If you have any questions regarding the assessment of real property you should visit the Office of the Assessor of Cook County, 118 N. Clark Street, Room 301, Chicago, Illinois 60602, or call (312) 443-7550.
