Niles Animal Hospital's founder, Ted Lafeber, passed away January 14. He was a pioncer in the treatment of ailing cockatoos and parakeets which dates back to the 1950s and was one of the first persons to become involved in avian medicine.

Dr. Peter Sakas, present director of the Niles Animal Hospital and Bird Medical Center, said Lafeber gained his long-standing reputation from his study of birds. The bird center in the 7200 block on Milwaukee Avenue was among the first in the United

Lowe's decides against site at Dempster Plaza

The owners of Dempster Plaza have learne, that the Lowe's home improvement chain has decided against taking up the anchor store spot vacated when K-Mart relocated nine months ago.

Jim Devine of Newcastle Properties, the mall owners, recalled when Leow's had announced last year that it would make a "market entry" to the Chicago area by opening a number of stores, with one in the former K-Mart site at Dempster and Greenwood. Devine said that on Newcastle's end the deal was "fairly well along," and added that he didn't know why Lowe's had pulled out.

It's estimated that the sales tax revenue is lessened by $9,000 per month from the vacancy.

Devine knows of no other plan at present, but he expects that the opening of the Bredemann Auto Center across Dempster Street will be good for Dempster Plaza as well.

Bethany Terrace to help families affected by Alzheimer's

Families responsible for the care of a loved one affected by Alzheimer's disease or dementia can now find a helping hand at Bethany Terrace Nursing Centre in northwest suburban Morton Grove. A.D.A.P.T., which stands for Alzheimer's and Dementia Assistance Program of the Terrace, is designed to assist families in exploring available home care options for aging relatives -- at no cost or obligation. "Bethany Terrace has been among the Chicago area's leading providers of specialist care for residents with Alzheimer's and dementia since 1984," said Ken Kolieh, administrator of the not-for-profit health care organization founded in 1965. "We are now offering this expertise to members of the community exploring at-home care options.'

A.D.A.P.T. provides many resources for at-home care givers, before they make a final decision about long-term care for a relative or loved one. The program identifies and recommends i variety of metropolitan professionals and "lifeline" providers compiled in a resource hand-

Cars burglarized at Golf Mill Ford

Police are investigating the burglaries of eleven cars parked overnight at Golf Mill Ford in

The crimes occurred between 9 p.m. Jan. 17 and 4 p.m. Jan. 18 in the southeast parking lot. Six of the vehicles had been brought in for service, and at least three others were unsold ears owned by the dealership.

While dashboard stereos were the focus of the thefts, other items were reported stolen including a garage door opener, car phone charger, and filled tool box from a 1999 Ford Taurus.

Two vehicles reportedly sustained exterior damage when the fog lights were removed from a 1998 Ford Eddie Bauer Expedition, and the front grill emblem was pried off of a 1995 Ford Mustang. The Mustang's trunk and hood were also found open.

The interior of a Ford Winstar Van was ransacked, but the owner did not report anything miss-

Radios were taken out of the dashboards of the 1985 Ford Mustang, 1994 Ford Taurus, and 1983 Mercedes SEL owned by the dealership.

The offender(s) apparently did not use force to gain entry to the cars, which may have all been left unlocked.

No suspects have been named as of press time.

Rep. Thompson dumped; Rifkind loses slate spot

Maine Township's Republican Superintendent Mark Thompson didn't know he was a marked man when he showed up at Maine East High School for slate elections.

But as events took shape, Thompson, a Maine Township board member for 20 years, was stunned to realize he had been voted off the slate. This, despite assurances from Maine Township committeeman, Republican Bob Darr, within days preceeding the meeting, that Thompson would head a Republican slate that would include all incumbents.

Elected to Thompson's place is Bob Dudycz, 52, older brother of the state senator, Walter Dudyez. Thompson called the vote result---far from close with a count of 251-50---"dirty politics." "They stacked that place with people I've never seen before," he said of the caucus, adding that many who attended the meeting were from Rosemont, and that on arrival, "the Rosemont people" were directed to "sit over there."

Darr defended Rosemont's right to participate. Maine Fownship has six precincts in Rosemont, said Darr, and "we always reach out to bring people to the caucus.'

However, a Republican who asked to not be identified described the action as welloreliestrated, adding that "this has been going on for six There seems to be agreement that personality was

But Dem's slate comes off peaceably

Lacking the fireworks of the Republican caucus, the Democrats chose Mike Yesner of Maine Township for its supervisor spot on the April 3 slate.

Andrew Przybylo described the Maine Township Democratic caucus proceedings as "peaceful; everything was status quo."

Additionally, Laura Morask, a state's attorney from Park Ridge, Corky Morales, a Des Plaines printer, Canny Fortuna, an executive assistant from unincorporated Glenview, and Dennis O'Donovan, a Niles municipal executive, were chosen for trustee spots

The caucus also chose John Colletti for highway commissioner, Ben Veliyathumalil from unincorporated Maine Township for clerk, and Sherwin Weinberg for collector, Przybylo said, adding that he is very enthusiastic

Dist. 63 Supt. Williams sums up first year

As Kathleen Williams, superintendent of East Maine School District 63, looks back on her first year here, she recognizes many issues she dealt with at her former post in Lawrence.

In a recent interview, Williams drew the comparison. Construction projects, policy issues, and goal setting all ring a familiar bell, as she deals with construction at Gemini Jr. High and urges the school board to rewrite policies and to develop long-term goals.

But some issues are new. "I've developed a number of areas that, in my mind, need a great deal of attention, and as I uncover those areas, I always try to look for the positive potential that exists," said Williams.

There is potential for improving relationships, Williams said. She cited long-standing "nasty relations" between the teachers association, the administration and the board of education, as well as strained relations between the board and the commu-

Making a visit to the dentist easy for children and adults

If a parent is nervous or anxious about their child's trip to the dentist, you can almost be certain that the young patient will be scared and the visit will be long remembered - and not positively.

A trip to the dentist requires a team effort involving the parent, child and dentist. To avoid conflict at the dentist's office, parents should do some advance planning, according to Alice Boghosian, DDS, general dentist who practices in north suburban Niles.

"Parents can turn the visit into a positive experience by contacting the dentist ahead of time to discuss any concerns or anxieties, rather than waiting until the visit. As a result, the dentist can explain what is going to happen during the visit and the parent may be more relaxed on the day of the appointment." Dr. Boghosian add-

"I've had parents tell their children to 'be brave' or say, 'I'm glad it's you and not me' during a visit to my office. What they are doing is transferring their fears to the children - who pick up on things like this," said Dr. Boghosian. "I tell my patients upfront that this is going to be fun to help set the tone for the visit."

What can parents do to avoid conflict at the dentist's office? "Develop a relationship with your dentist that is built upon trust," said Dr. Boghosian. "It's imperative that parents trust their dentist's diagnosis and recommendations for treatment. Ask the dentist questions and peek in on the dentist or sit with the child during the appointment."

The Chicago Dental Society and Dr. Boghosian provide some simple advice to parents so that a trip to the dentist is painless for the child and the parents:

· Arrive on time for the appointment and don't be rushed or in a hurry. Kids need time to relax and be given the opportunity to learn - while not being rushed through the experience.

• Don't bring other children to the appointment. Make this a special day for you and your child. Plan a fun activity following the appointment. Build a positive experience around the dental

• If you feel your child has a problem, bring in the child for an appointment. It is difficult for a dentist to make a diagnosis over the phone. The child must be seen so that the dentist can make a correct diagnosis.

 Don't show anxiety or fear in front of your child. Many kids are calm about the dental visits but pick up fear from the way their parents are acting - such as expressions on their faces, body anguage or comments.

Let the dentist take control during the appointment. "Children need to have rules set by the dentist in a firm, yet positive way," said Dr. Boghosian. "Most dentists are very patient and know how to manage an overactive or unruly, child." Sometimes the parent's presence can interfere with care, and the parent may need to leave the room. The dental appointment is a great time for children to learn to be on their

• If you have a dental emerency, call the office immediately to discuss with the dentist. The goal is to make sure the child gets appropriate treatment and is not suffering from pain or experiencing an infection. If possible, call the dentist's office as soon as there is a problem so it doesn't turn into an emergency.

"Parents need to realize how important it is that a child have a good visit at the dentist," said Dr. Boghosian. "All it takes is one negative experience to leave a lasting impression on the child. If parents work with the child and dentist in advance, everyone will be happy and the dentist can deliver the best care possible."

Stretching Dos and Don'ts

Touch your toes or reach for the sky. Stretching for just 20 minutes a day reduces muscle tension, improves circulation and builds muscle tone. Just remember a few simple rules:

Do warm up for 3-5 minutes before stretching. Run in place, for instance. Why: Warm muscles are less likely to tear than cold ones.

Don't bounce. Doing so may cause ligament or tendon sprain. Guidelines: Gradually stretch to the point where you feel mild tension, then hold for 10-30 seconds. Repeat 3-4 times.

Do breathe slowly and deeply during each stretch. It helps your muscles relax and promotes safer, more effective stretching.

Don't overdo. Stretching should never go beyond the point of feeling a mild tension in your muscles. If you start to feel uncomfortable, ease up slightly.

Do stretch after you exercise as well as before. It's essential to avoiding cramping, tightness and reduced range of motion.

Don't forget, research shows that you're never too old to get flexible. Example: In one study, both young and old men were able to reverse joint stiffness with equal case.

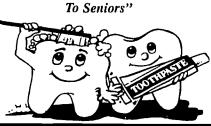

Do try to stretch 3-5 times a week. Done correctly and regularly, it just plain feels good.

Pickwick series features the Organic Theater Company's "Romeo & Juliet"

Pickwick Live, the new performing arts series at Park Ridge's Pickwick Theatre, presents the Organic Theater Company in a co-production of Shakespeare's Romeo & Juliet. Running from January 31 through February 9, the romantic classic will be performed in a somewhat abridged version on both weekdays, for school groups, and on the weekend before Valentine's Day.

Organic Artistic Director Ina Marlowe, who recently directed The Merchant of Venice for the Tony Award-winning Utah Shakespearean Festival, will direct the Organic-Pickwick production of Romeo at the Art Deco theatre, which opened in 1928 as both a cinema and vaudeville house, and which has presented a wide variety of live performances ever since. The Pickwick has been on the National Register of Historic Places since 1975, and the Pickwick Theatre Council, which was founded in 1999 to preserve the theatre, is mounting live shows at the Pickwick this year as part

Excess weight increases the strain on your heart, raises blood pressure and elevates blood cholesterol. Overweight and obesity represent a rapidly growing health threat to populations around the world. Yet obesity and overweight can be treated through lifestyle changes, such as cutting back on the number of calories consumed and increasing physical activity.

Here are some helpful tips from the American Heart Association to control your weight during the holidays and all throughout the year.

• In the grocery store, look for the American Heart Association's heart-check mark on food products to help you identify foods that are part of a heart-healthy diet. Food products that bear the heart-check mark meet the nutritional criteria of the association's Food Certification Program. The heart-check mark is a great grocery shopping tool that helps shoppers quickly and easily identify foods low in saturated fat and cholesterol that can be part of a heart-healthy diet for healthy people over age two.

· Cook using low-fat, lowcholesterol recipes such as those found in the American Heart Association's cookbooks such as Meals in Minutes and Low-Fat & Fat Luscious Desserts. They make great gifts as well.

· For quick access to tasty holiday recipes that are heart healthy, also check out the American Heart Assoction'swww.delicious decisions.org.

Brookfield Zoo celebrates Groundhog Day

Will there be six more weeks of winter, or is spring just around the corner? Find out at Brookfield Zoo's annual Groundhog Day celebration on Friday, February 2, as Cloudy, one of Children's Zoo resident meteorologists, takes center stage. At 10:30 a.m., zookeepers will attempt to coax the furry forecaster from her winter digs with a nutritious homemade carrot-shaped cake prepared especially for her.

According to legend, if a groundhog sees its shadow on February 2, there will be six more weeks of winter; if it doesn't see its shadow, spring is just around the corner.

How did Groundhog Day begin? One theory originated with European farmers in the eightcenth century. In Europe, where milder winters occur than in the Midwest, farmers would watch hedgehogs come out of hibernation in early February. Their appearance was a sign that it was time to begin spring planting. Since there are no hedgehogs indigenous to the United States, the tradition was transferred to groundhogs.

Groundhogs hibernate when the air temperature drops to 50° F for an extended period. During hibernation a groundhog's body temperature drops from 90°F to 38°F. It takes a breath about once every minute and its heart slows to only four to six beats a minute.

The Talmud says: "Love your wife as much as yourself, but honor her more than yourself.'

When spring arrives, it may take several hours for a hibernating groundhog to rouse from its Open every day of the year, Brookfield Zoo's winter hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Zoo admission is $7 for adults and $3.50 for children ages 3-11 and seniors 65 and over. Children 2 and under are free. From October through March on Tuesdays and Thursdays, admission is free. Parking is $6.75 for ears and $10.75 for buses (a Cook County parking tax is included). The Snowball Express, the zoo's free heated shuttle bus, transports guests between exhibit buildings.

Open every day of the year, Brookfield Zoo is located at First Avenue and 31st Street in Brookfield. IL., just 14 miles west of downtown Chicago. Tables of various articles are set up reflecting a store's image; and the Auxiliary ladies guide the vets from spot to spot to select an appropriate item. Displayed are books, toys, games, purses, jewelry, towels, household articles and cosmetics.

The Auxiliary wraps and tags each item for the vets to give. There is no charge for this ser-

For those veterans whose family resides out of the local area or out of state and do not get to visit frequently, the Auxiliary also prepares them for mailing.

Mrs. Jordan says her members are delighted to make others' holiday season a bit brighter and she hopes the Unit and other Auxiliaries will keep this program uppermost in their activities in future years as the heartfelt thanks from the veterans is more than enough reward for the ladies who perform this service,

Mrs. Jordan also adds that a special card is enclosed listing the Legion Auxiliary's name as a sponsor; and that in many cases, thank letters are sent by the recipients. She is happy to receive these notes of appreciation.

Niles West and Fannie May spread holiday cheer

Members of Niles West High School's choir spent their Saturday singing and passing out gold Fannie May chocolate coins at the Fannie May Candy House on N. Skokle Blvd. as part of Fannie May's "Givea-Coin-Get-a-Coin" program to raise money for the Salvation Army.

Fannie May Candies, the company with a rich tradition for taking time to care for and create the freshest chocolates in the industry, and the Salvation Army, a fellow organization whose name and presence are synonymous with the holidays, have joined forces to help spread cheer while raising funds for the less-

The "Give-a-Coin-Get-a-Coin Charity Challenge" featured local choirs at various suburban Fannie May locations spreading oldfashioned cheer, while ringing the bell for the Salvation Army. As a sign of good will and to spark the giving spirit, bellringing carolers handed out Fannie May's famous gold chocolate coins to all those who made dona-

"We at Fannie May Candies are proud to partner with the Salvation Army to raise funds for such a worthy cause," stated Gwen Stansu, marketing communications manager of Archibald Candy Corporation. "The 'Give-

For more than 80 years, Fannie May has prided itself on delivering candies that look and taste homemade, while keeping up with consumers' ever-changing tastes and demands. Founded by H. Teller Archibald in 1920, Chicago-based Fannie May and Fanny Farmer Candies has since become one of the nation's largest retail confectioners. Boasting 725 retail outlets and more than 12,000 points of availability through grocery, drug and department stores, mass merchandising, fundraising, mail order, and the card and gift business, Archibald Candy Corporation has become a true leader in the confectionery industry. Fannie May chocolates are sold through select retailers nationwide and are available via the Internet at www.fanniemaycandies.com.

Girl Scouts kick off annual cookie sale

For the first time in nearly a decade, Girl Scout Cookie boxes are sporting a whole new look. Girl Scouts from Chicago will be taking orders for cookies in the newly designed boxes until Jan. 26, with deliveries scheduled to begin after Feb. 26.

According to Brooke Wiseman, executive director/CEO of Girl Scouts of Chicago, the new packaging more accurately reflects the contemporary activities and programs that shape the lives of today's girls, including those who live in Chicago.

Girls who participate in the Girl Scout Cookie sale have the opportunity to learn decisionmaking, money-management and goal-setting skills. This year they also are learning that the redesigned cookie boxes can be effective marketing tools. .

To emphasize that consumers make an investment in a girl's future when they purchase Girl Scout Cookies, each box now features the statement, "You'd be surprised what a Girl Scout Cookie can Build: Strong Values, Strong Minds, Strong Bodies, Strong Spirit, Strong Friendships, Strong Skills, Strong Leadership, Strong Community."

consumers will also find a brand new cookie featured on one of the new packages offered by Little Brownie Bakers. "Aloha Chips with Macadamia Nuts" is a distinctive, exotic-tasing cookie containing creamy white fudge chips and crunchy Macadamia

Soon after Juliette Gordon Low founded the Girl Scouts in 1912, Girl Scout leaders and girls sold cookies in order to be selfreliant and to fund their own troop activities. In those early days, girls baked the original shortbread cookies at home and held neighborhood bake sales to raisemoney for troop activities. By 1934, several Girl Scout councils were using commercial bakers to assist in their endeavors. During the 1940s, Girl Scouts sold fewer cookies due to limited supplies of flour, sugar and butter during World War II.

By 1947, a total of 29 bakers throughout the nation were licensed to create Girl Scout Cookies, but by 1980, the number was streamlined to four bakers (now

New Economic Development Department

Looking for space as your home-based business grows by leaps and bounds? Wondering what businesses are going to turn up on Waukegan Road? Waiting for a coffee shop or convenience store to open up near the train station? If you're searching for an answer to those questions or others about business in our town, allow us to introduce the newly reorganized Community and Economic Development Department and its new director, Tim Angell. Tim's department is now responsible for many tasks related to improving the Village's economy and assisting our business community

In his time with the Village so far, Tim hasn't been surprised in the number of companies, large and small, that call Morton Grove home. "A lot of companies, ranging from one to a thousand employees, have located in Morton Grove for many reasons," he says. "Access to transportation corridors for local, national, and international markets, available public transit for workers from the city and suburbs, and a diverse and skilled labor force are just some factors that companies look for in Chicagoland. Morton Grove has them.'

One of Village's goals is to keep Morton Grove businessfriendly. Whether someone is looking for space to locate a new store or shop, or needs help writing a business plan, or wants to know what assistance is available from the State of Illinois, the Community asnd Economic Development Department is available to help. Another important goal is to partner with the Morton Grove Chamber of Commerce and Industry to aid in business growth. Tim agrees with the Village Board that a healthy Chamber is a sign of a healthy local economy. "I want the Village

American Legion Memorial Civic Center

Morton Grove's Board of Trustees and Advisory Commission on Aging have been searching for solutions to enhance the delivery of services to senior citizens for some years now. The Village was fortunate enough to qualify for a Cook County Community Develonment Block Grant in 1999, which was earmarked for the search for a solution to this issue. In February 2000 the Village purchased the American Legion Post 134 which will allow for facility expansion for the Village as well as the preservation of the Legion and its Memorial Hall.

This Block Grant provided funding for the Village to contract with a consultant to explore the renovation of the hall into a first class senior and civic center. We hope to relocate existing social and recreational services into an inviting, accessible, flexible, and convenient multi-purpose senior center. Multiple-use of the site will allow for the Legionnaires to continue to utilize a portion of the Hall as well as develop a beautiful banquet and conference facility for community func-

Village President, Dan Scanlon remarked, "This is a fabulous use of this building which I know has a great deal of sentimental value to many veterans and other long-time residents. I think our seniors and our youngsters will really enjoy the new Civic Center for many years to come." Without a doubt, Mayor Scanlon's words will soon be fulfilled. Look for construction to begin in mid-2001. It is projected that the American Legion Memorial Civic Center will be open to the public in early 2002.

government and the Chambner to continue its good relationship. Any way we can work together to meet economic challenges is crucial for both the town and the members of the Chamber," Tim

One of the first things the new department has completed is an updated Sites Available Inventory of commercial and industrial space for sale or lease. Whether you're looking for a few hundred square feet for an office, or need several acres of land, check with Tim to see what's available in the Village that could suit your particular needs. Staff updates a database of sites regularly, so keep the department in mind as your business looks for room to grow.

If you have any questions or concerns about business, eceonomic development, or long range planning in the Village, give the Community and Economic Development Department a call at (847) 470-5231 or e-mail

Village Snow Removal

Snow plowing begins on streets after one to two inches of snow has accumulated. The Department has several snow reoval priorities:

1.Maintain accessibility for emergency vehicles for all streets in the Village,

2. Maintain major street and snow route accessibility for the general public, 3. Maintain minor street accessibility for Village residents, 4.Provide accessibility for commuter parking facilities, municipal parking lots, and public buildings, and

5. Maintain alley accessibility for residents, providing cars are not blocking the right-of-way for plows to get through.

Snow Removal Tips The snow removal crews in the Department of Public Works pride themselves with providing residents with the cleanest and safest streets in the area. While the Village receives many complimentary notes each winter thanking the crews for their efforts, it does receive a few complaints about snow being pushed up into driveways by the snowplows. Because there is no other place for the snow to go, the amount pushed back into a driveway can be reduced by the following suggestions:

• When you shovel your driveway, place the snow on the adjacent parkways and not in the street. Shoveling the snow back onto the roadway is not only unsafe, it is illegal; violators will be ticketed.

• If you are unable to clean your driveways or approach, you should make arrangements with a private contractor for cleaning. The Village staff cannot clean private driveways for you due to the amount of time involved.

· Additionally, when a snowfall of two or more inches is anticipated, you should park your cars in a driveway to make plowing more effective. If cars must be left on the street, please move them the morning following the storm to allow the Public Works crews to clean the street.

For more information on the Village's preparations for snow removal, call the Department of Public Works at 847/470-5235.

Snow Route Parking Restrictions

The Police and Public Works Departments remind residents to obey designated snow route parking restrictions whenever snowfall accumulation exceeds one (1) inch. Vehicles illegally parked along designated snow routes (look for blue and white signs) will be ticketed.

Severe Storm Damage Clean-Ups

The Village, as a service to Village residents after a severe storm, will pick up branches removed from trees due to a storm These branches must be cut (4) length maximum) and placed in the parkway immediately after the storm. Collection of this type of storm debris will continue through five business days following the storm. Any storm debris not placed at the parkway (with a call to the Public Works Department at 847/470-5235 by the following Monday) will become the responsibility of the property owner for disposal

Village Board Welcomes New Trustee

On September 25, 2000, Larry Gomberg was sworn in as Village Trustee. Larry has been a Morton Grove resident for 15 years. He has assumed his responsibility as Village Trustee with dedication to the betterment of the Village.

Larry is no stranger to Morton Grove. He served as a Niles Township School Trustee since 1999. From 1988 to 1990 he served as a Member of the Morton Grove Community Relations Commission and the Morton Grove Chamber of Commerce.

Larry's public service record extends beyond the Village limits. He served as a Commissioner on the Golf-Maine Park Board of Commissioners; he was a Campaign Manager for the North-Maine Fire District Board of Commissioners; a Member of the Unincorporated Maine Township Resident's Association and a Member of the Unincorporated Maine-Northfield Association.

Larry is a Deputy Chief Probation Officer with the Cook County Adult Probation Department, having served there for the past 26 years. He is also on the Board of Trustees of the Ezra-Habonim, The Niles Township Jewish Congregation and is a licensed Real Estate Broker with a real estate firm located in the Vil-

"My dedication to the people of Morton Grove, who make up our great Village, provides me with a guiding light I use in carrying out my duties as Trustee. I am honored to be able to serve our Village and I look forward to making positive contributions to the quality of life in Morton

Mayor Scanlon and the Board of Trustees also believe that Larry's addition to the Board will greatly benefit the Village.

Senior citizens safe at home

Whether we're seven or 70, "home" holds a warm place in our hearts. As people age, however, some aspects of home safety need special attention to prevent accidents and injuries. Over 700,000 people over age 65 are treated in the emergency room each year for injuries associated with products they live with and use every day. To help reduce accidents the CPSC recommends:

1.Check all electric and telephone cords to be sure that no one can trip over them.

2.Remove rugs and runners that tend to slide. Check all rugs, runners and mats to be sure they have slip-resistant backing that is in good condition.

3.Inspect space heaters to be sure they cannot be knocked over and are kept away from furnishings and flammable materials, such as curtains, rugs, or newspa-

4.Scan the kitchen for towels, curtains or other things close to the stove that might catch fire.

5.Be sure to avoid wearing clothing with long loose-fitting sleeves while you are cooking because they can catch fire or get caught on pot handles.

6.Do you have a step stool that is stable and in good repair so you can avoid standing on chairs, boxes or other unstable items? If you need a new stool, consider buying one with a handrail.

7.If you have a fireplace have the chimney cleaned every year. 8. Are there non-slip surfaces and grab bars in the tub and show-

Can your car cope in the cold?

Quick trips in cold weather may be hazardous to your vehicle's health. They keep engines from warming up properly and operating efficiently, which can be damaging as temperatures drop. Car care expert Gary "The Gearhead" Galick from Valvoline Instant Oil Change offers auto maintenance tips for such severe driving conditions.

•Examine tires for proper inflation and damage. Rotate the best tires to drive wheels for better traction in ice and snow.

•Cheek battery condition and remaining charge. A weak battery will not start in cold weath-

•Regularly check the level and condition of engine of and other fluids, including transmission, power steering, antifreeze/ coolant, windshield washer and transfer case.

Teen smokers risk getting hooked early on

The conventional wisdom has been that teens usually become addicted to nicotine slowly, only after months or even years of daily smoking. But researchers at the University of Massachusetts Medical School in Worcester found that teens can experience the first symptoms of nicotine dependence within just a few weeks of occasional use,

Dr. Joseph R. DiFranza and colleagues studied nicotine use among 681 Massachusetts seventh-graders ages 12 to 13, interviewing these students three times during a year. Among the students in this study, 95 said they smoked at least one eigarette in each of the last two months. Twenty percent of these monthly smokers developed symptoms of nicotine dependence within four weeks of starting to smoke. Some showed the symptoms within two weeks, including strong urges to smoke and feeling anxious when unable to smoke. September 2000 issue of Tobaeco Control, sends an urgent message to teenagers: Experimenting with nicotine is even more dangerous than we thought. Some young people can become addicted almost immediately.

Add this to what we already know about teens and smoking:

However, there's good news" If teens can stay nicotine-free during high school, they will probably never smoke. This shifts the discussion to preven-

One of the most effective ways to deter use is by imposing an exeise tax on eigarettes. People think of it as a sin tax, said Knapp, but studies have shown that for each 10 percent increase in retail price, there is about a five percent decrease in demand for eigarettes. And because young people generally have less disposable income, the decreased consumption may double for them. Parents can have a powerful influence on prevention. Kay Provine, a community education specialist for Hazelden, emphasizes three actions,

The Christmas Story

A Christmas tradition at St. John Brebeuf School is to have the first grade students dramatize the story of the Nativity. This event took place at the 8:45 a.m. Eucharistic Liturgy on December 20th and again at the Family Liturgy on Christmas Eve, Sunday, December 24th at 5 p.m.

After weeks of practice and the help of first grade teachers, Sheila Harrington and Cathy Maltese, the students told the story of the First Christmas Night while others dramatized the birth of Jesus. Taren Vonder Heide and Robert Murdach portrayed the characters of Mary and Joseph.

of Diabetes?

There are 15.7 million people in the United States who have diabetes. There are two main types of diabetes. Type 1, which usually occurs during childhood or adolescence, and type 2, the most common form of the disease, usually occuring after age

What is Type 1 Diabetes?

Type I diabetes is a disease which results from the body's failure to produce insulin -- the hormone that "unlocks" the cells of the body, allowing glucose to enter and fuel them. There are two forms of type 1. Immunemediated diabetes mellitus results from an autoimmune process in which the body's immune system attacks and destroys the insulin producing cells of the pancreas. Since glucose cannot enter the cells, it builds up in the blood and the body's cells literally starve to death. The second, Idiopathic type 1, refers to rare forms of the disease that have no known cause. People with type I diabetes must take daily insulin injections to stay alive.

• There are an estimated 500,000 to 1 million people with type I diabetes in the United States today.

• The risk of developing type I diabetes is higher than virtually all other severe chronic diseases of childhood.

· Peak incidence occurs during puberty, around 10 to 12 years of age in girls and 12 to 14 years of age in boys.

• The symptoms for type I diabetes can mimic the flu in children.

• Type I diabetes tends to run in families. Brothers and sisters of children with type I diabetes have about a 10% chance of developing the disease by age

The identical twin of a person with type I diabetes has a 25 to 50 percent chance of developing type 1 diabetes,

• There is a higher incidence of type I diabetes in whites than in other racial groups. What is Type 2 Diabetes?

Type 2 diabetes results from insulin resistance (a condition in which the body fails to make St. John's and Cloudy Vision enough or to properly use insulin), combined with relative insulin deficiency. Often type 2 diabetes can be controlled through losing weight, improved nutrition and exercise alone, but many people may need oral should consider wearing UVmedications and/or insulin to protective sunglasses between 10 control their diabetes. are strongest.

Waukegan Road construction update

Improvements to the Waukegan Road corridor are continuing on schedule. The water main and services are complete and work progresses on the street lighting, sidewalk, and driveways on the west side of Waukegan Road.

The construction on this project will again commence in March of 2001. At that time, several improvements will be made to the east side of Waukegan. Those improvements will include new curb and gutter, sidewalk, driveways and decorative lighting. Pavement improvements will be done in 2001 and will include grinding, resurfacing and new striping. Both sides of Waukegan Road will also receive new pavers at the intersections, decorative landscaping and other streetscaping details.

Morton Grove to hold Blood Drive

Make a New Years resolution to be proud of -become a blood donor! If you are healthy, over the age of 17 (no upper age limit as long as you're healthy), and weigh at least 110 lbs., you may be able to give the gift of life.

Every 10 seconds, someone in the United States receives a blood transfusion. The average amount of blood per transfusion is 2,8 pints (3 donors!). The typical amount of blood required for a car accident with serious injuries is 50 pints (50 donors!) Are you beginning to see the picture - the demand unfortunately far exceeds the supply. Our current blood donors are aging and younger donors have not stepped up to take their places. Only 5% of those who are eligible actually donate. Please help us to change those numbers!

Blood Drive Thursday, February 1, 2001 from 2-7 p.m. at the American Legion Memorial Building, 6140 Dempster, Morton Grove, Call 470-5246 for an appointment. Please eat a good meal and drink plenty of fluids the day you're donating. Walk ins are welcome!

Avian medicine's history began recently. Treatment for birds in past years consisted of home remedies such as dissolving aspirin or whiskey into a bird's dish.

After a colleague's lament about the meager treatment of birds. Lafeber created a variety of surgical procedures and feeding regimes to correct and improve avian health.

In 1960 Lafeber became chairman of the American Animal Hospital Association on Avian Medicine and Surgery. He was honored in 1970 by the AAHA for his contributions for the treating of birds.

Lafeber grew up in Edison Park and gained his interest in animals when he visited his grandparents' home in rural II-

Pets can tame high blood pressure

Do you feel like you are living or working in a concrete jungle? Canine or feline companionship may have a role in taming your "stress response," according to a study reported today at the American Heart Association Scientific

Researchers looked at 48 male and female stockbrokers who were using medication to control high blood pressure. They found that those with a pet nearby experienced half the increase in blood pressure under stress as those who did not own a pet, says the study's lead author Karen M. Allen, Ph.D., a research scientist in medicine at the State University of New York at Buffalo. "These results are dramatic and significant," says Allen. "For over a decade I've been studying the effects of pets on people's reactivity to stress - measured by sponses to mental and physical stress. We've shown over and over that it's beneficial to be with a pet when you're under stress," says Allen.

Her earlier work focused on healthy people. The current study is the first to look at people with a medical condition, in this case high blood pressure, and how a pet can help reduce stress reactivity, Allen says.

The stockbrokers made more than $200,000 per year and lived

The researchers then tried to cause stress for the subjects. First, they asked the subjects to count backwards by 17 as rapidly as possible, a common psychological test that probably carried more stress than usual because the math-savvy stockbrokers felt extra pressure to excel, says Allen. They also told the subjects to give a 5-minute speech talking their way out of a shoplifting charge.

This does not mean that the library is headed for a financial crisis. Vlach told the board that overall the library has kept spending close to budgeted amounts. resulting in an healthy balance of income and expenditures.

In order to curtail spending for the remaining fiscal year, the library will increase material orders from other libraries, and is discussing ways to keep expenditures on newer materials for nonresidents to a minimum. Vlach said that costs could be further reduced by not ordering first releases of video materials.

In other news, the board ap proved a policy change allowing non-residents to purchase the annual $12 Computer Lab cards on a pro-rated basis for three, six, or Non-residents wishing to use the Computer Lab must be in possession of a library card which can also be purchased for an annual or quarterly fee.

Trustee Richard Barat voted against the measure, contending that if the pro-rated lab cards resulted in increased Computer Lab usage, the library would have to purchase additional software and equinment.

"This would shift the tax burden to residents." he said. "That's

Ouick-start retirement savings tips for baby boomers

Retiring minds want to know: what can baby boomers, who haven't saved enough -- or anything at all -- do to prepare for retirement? If you count yourself among the baby boomers who need to play catch up with their retirement savings, the Illinois CPA Society provides the following advice to get you

Maximize retirement plan contributions

One excellent way to save for retirement and defer taxes is to take maximum advantages of a retirement plan at work. A 401K allows you to invest money directly from your paycheck, before taxes. What's more. compafrequently employees' contributions. Money in qualified retirement accounts grow tax-free until it's withdrawn in retirement. Selfemployed individuals can open a Keogh, SIMPLE, or SEP retirement plan.

Don't invest too conservatively

The biggest challenge is to invest aggressively enough to overcome a late start, without seriously putting your financial future in jeopardy. For all but the baby boomers, who are ten years away from retirement, it's not too late to invest a substantial portion of retirement funds in stocks, as long as your portfolio is diversified. Over the long term, stocks have historically outpaced other investments. As you get closer to retirement age, you should adjust the allocation of your assets.

Don't get side-tracked

Baby boomers are often torn between saving for retirement and putting money away for their children's college education. Experts say that you should make saving for retirement your priority. If you don't have enough to cover tuition bills. your children can apply for financial aid or student loans. You won't have those options when

Fund an IRA There have been so many challenges to Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs) that many people are confused about eligibility and tax implications. To set the record straight, everyone, even if covered by another retirement plan, can contribute to an IRA. Your contribution may or may not be deductible. This depends on your income and whether you or your spouse is covered by another plan. But even if your contribution is not deductible, the money invested in your IRA grows and compounds each year on a taxdeferred basis. This tax break can significantly enhance the growth of your retirement fund.

COLLECTIONS/CUSTOMER SERVICE LINCOLNWOOD Come arow with us!

Major Expansion! Major Career Opportunity! Are you looking to join a company that appreciates its employees, rewards performance and is growing, not down-sizing. Arrow Financial Services, a rapidly growing major player in the asset recovery industry, is looking to fill the following positions: Experienced Collectors. Any experienced collector will find our commission structure is the best in the industry! We have contingency and fresh purchase paper (2nds and 3rds). Commission is based on dollar one collections (not on net fees). We offer a competitive base rate and do not vary our commissions. Therefore, you will be greatly rewarded for your experience and performance.

Trainees. We also have the best training, auditing and mentoring team in the business. If you are assertive, have good communication skills and can manage your time well, we can train you to make an excellent total compensation which is made up of a base salary and the best commission structure available in the industry.

Skip Tracers. We need entry level or experienced skip tracers to support our collection operations. Base salary plus some positions include bonuses based on information you find. Training & Coaching provided. Medical, Dental, Life/AD&D and 401k for Full Time employees.
