Redistricting means one Congressman for all of Niles

The redistricting that resulted from the 2000 census will bring changes to Niles, when the village is no longer split between two districts but falls entirely within the new 9th Congressional District of Rep. Jan Schakowsky.

But Democrat Schakowsky, now serving her second term, will lose much of her Chicago territory, although she will keep some areas near the lakefront. She also retains parts of the Northwest Side between the Northwest Highway, Harlem, Taleott and Nagle.

She picks up all of Park Ridge and the part of Niles which previously fell within Henry Hyde's district, along with Rosemont, western Wilmette and all of residential Maine Township.

The new districts are configured to meet an ideal population size of about 653,000. To meet this number, the 9th District had

District 64 considers increasing bus fees

School board members recommended a 31 percent increase in bus usage fees at their May 29 meeting. The board is expected to vote on the matter at the June 11 meeting.

The proposed increase would apply only to those students whose pick up points do not entitle them to free transportation. State guidelines allow students who live more than one-and-one-half miles from school free bus service. Another qualifier includes those students who would pass through "hazardous situations" while walking to school. "Hazardous" could be defined as a difficult-to-cross highway, for instance, said Patricia McGuire, district comptroller.

$20 million loan for Niles High improvements

At their recent board meeting, trustees of Niles High School District 219 took steps to get additional funding for construction and remodeling projects.

The board approved a $5 million refinancing bond and a $17 million loan, making more than $20 million immediately available for Niles North and Niles West.

The $17 million, however, will not buy project improvements, cautioned Board President Robert Silverman. Instead,

According to the police report, the boy is about 17-18 years of age, white, 5'6", 130 lbs. with a slim build and a medium complexion. The report does not indicate how the two crossed paths or if there was any motivation for

Dayna Berman becomes Director of MaineStay

Dayna Berman is the new Director of MaineStay Youth and Family Services. Located at 838 Busse Highway in Park Ridge, MaineStay is a department of Maine Township.

"As a true professional, Dayna was promoted from Assistant Director to Director in recognition of her superb contributions to Maine Township and our residents," says Supervisor Bob Dudyec in making the announcement. "She is respected throughout Illinois for her knowledge and accomplishments. She and the staff are real assets to our Township community and I am sure well up to the challenges that lay before them."

Having joined MaineStay in 1995, she recently celebrated her sixth anniversary. As a longtime resident of Des Plaines, she was a 1986 graduate of Maine East High School. She received her Master of Social Work degree in social work in 1992 from the Jane Addams College of Social Work at the University of Illinois at Chicago. She now lives in Buffalo Grove with husband, Stuart, and daughter, Shelby, age 3 1/2. In her free time, she enjoys painting and gardening.

Berman has been a licensed clinical social worker since 1995. As a Director, she will supervise all activities of MaineStay that services an average of 4,500 residents per year. There is a staff of 8, which includes three master's level therapists. Some of the programs MaineStay is known for include the Drop-in Center for youth after-school and summer activities, E.A.R.N., which matches youth job seekers with part-time opportunities from residents especially seniors, and KLOWN which teaches third graders about the dangers of drug and alcohol.

"I am very excited about the opportunities and the challenges of my new position," Berman says. "I look forward to the new responsibilities and being able to bring new programs online and upgrade our popular services which help so many local families and young people. This is a very rewarding position."

In other professional capacities, Berman was recently elected as President of the Association of Illinois Township Committees on Youth (AITCOY), a statewide non-profit organization of township-affiliated youth and family service agencies and programs.

Plan now to avoid vacation breakdowns

and corrected.

• Look for repair facilities that employ ASE-certified automotive technicians to do those jobs you cannot or do not want to perform.

• The cooling system should be flushed and refilled according to the manual's recommendations. The level, condition and concentration of the coolant should be checked periodically. (Tip: Never remove the radiator cap until the engine has thoroughly cooled.)

• The tightness and condition of belts, clamps and hoses should be checked by a qualified auto technician.

• For your comfort, have a marginally operating air conditioning system serviced.

• Change oil and oil filter as specified in owner's manual; replace other filters (air, fuel, PCV, etc.) as recommended.

• Check the condition of tires, including the spare (Tip: Let tires "cool down" before checking air pressure.)

• Inspect all lights and replace any burned out bulbs.

• Replace worn wiper blades. (Tip: Keep plenty of washer fluid on hand to fight dust and insects.)

The National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence was founded in 1972 as a nonprofit, independent organization dedicated to improving the quality of automotive service and repair through the voluntary testing and certification of automotive technicians.

ASE-certified technicians wear blue and white ASE shoulder insignia and carry credentials listing their exact area(s) of certification. Their employers often display the blue and white ASE sign.

Don't let insects put the bite on your family

(NAPS)-As your family heads outside to enjoy the warm weather, remember to guard against those pesky creatures that bite and sting. According to the American College of Emergency Physicians (ACEP), your first line of defense is to be prepared.

"While most people have mild reactions to insect bites, some people have severe allergic reactions that require emergency treatment," said David Wilcox, MD, of ACEP. "In addition, some insects carry disease, such as Lyme, Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever, and encephalitis, although this is rare."

While it's impossible to prevent all insect bites and stings, there are steps you can take to minimize the risks. For example:

- Use insect repellent. Repellents with DEET are effective in preventing bites by mosquitoes, ticks, fleas, chiggers, and biting flies. Repellents for children should contain no more than 10 percent DEET. Do not use DEET on babies.

- Don't use scented soaps, perfumes, hair sprays, or sunscreens, which can attract bugs.

- Avoid going out during peak hours when insects are out - dusk and dawn.

- Avoid areas where insects nest or gather, such as stagnant pools of water, garbage cans, and orchards and gardens where flowers are in bloom.

- Don't leave food, drinks, or garbage out and uncovered.

- When outdoors in grassy or flowery areas, or in areas infested with ticks or mosquitoes, wear long-sleeved shirts and pants and protective shoes. Avoid dressing in bright colors or flowery prints, which seem to attract insects. Don't wear baggy clothing, which can trap bugs.

- Check yourself and your children for ticks after leaving infested areas. If you find one, and you know how to remove it, do so. Otherwise, call your physician immediately.

- Children and adults who are highly allergic should wear identification bracelets, and adrenaline auto-injectors should be available at all times.

If a bite wound remains or worsens over several days, seek medical treatment for possible infection. Get immediate medical attention if you have been bitten or stung and you know you get dangerously ill from a bite. Symptoms of an allergic reaction include:

- Hives, itching or rash away from the bite area.
- Swollen lips or eyelids.
- Swelling of the throat.
- Difficult or noisy breathing (wheezing).
- Decreased consciousness.

"If your child is stung by a bee, it's important to remove the stinger," said Dr. Wilcox. "Scrape or flick it out with something stiff like a credit card to avoid squeezing more venom into the wound. Also, wash the wound with soap and water, and use cold compresses or ice to help reduce swelling and relieve pain."

Women's News

NAWIC adopts new core purpose

A core purpose was recently adopted at the National Association of Women in Construction's Mid-Year Board of Directors Meeting in Indianapolis, Ind. The core purpose replaces the Association's mission statement and says that NAWIC exists "to enhance the success of women in the construction industry."

The adoption of a core purpose came from a recommendation by NAWIC's Strategic Plan Committee that had met earlier in the year. A core purpose is a concise statement that explains the organization's reason for being. Unlike a mission statement, the core purpose does not change over time.

In addition to adopting a core purpose, NAWIC adopted three core values. They are: Inclusiveness, Interaction and Innovation.

Founded in Fort Worth, Texas in 1955, NAWIC is an international association serving more than 6,000 members in nearly 200 chapters across the United States and Canada. NAWIC is also affiliated with NAWIC-Australia, NAWIC-New Zealand and South African Women in Construction (SAWIC). The association's membership is comprised of business owners, engineers, architects, tradeswomen and a variety of other construction-related careers. ### Recipes that Capture the Spirit of Australia

(NAPS)—Looking for a quick and delicious meal that's suitable for serving friends and family? According to Suzi McKay, chef for McPherson Wines of Australia, your best bet and a ravishing recipe for entertaining is Grilled Snapper with Pink Grapefruit Salsa and Capers.

This dish is a lot like the Australian people and their wines — accessible, friendly and stylish. When it comes to finding a good glass of wine, the Australian saying "no worries" sums it up.

When Americans and the world are discovering Australia, the land down under, invite your "mates" over for some Aussie food and a taste of "liquid sunshine." For recipes and ideas on what to serve, visit www.mcphersonwines.com.

Grilled Snapper with Pink Grapefruit Salsa & Fried Capers:

(serves 6) This simple summer seafood dish relies on a quick grilling of fresh snapper or cod, accentuated by the tart, bitter tang of grapefruit salsa that is softened with avocado, and a salty high note of fried capers. This combination of tart, salty, and rich ingredients provides a lovely textural accompaniment to McPherson Semillon-Chardonnay.

2 pink grapefruit; 1/2 small red onion, thinly sliced; 1 avocado, peeled and diced; 2 tablespoons extra virgin olive oil, juice one of them; 2 tablespoons cornmeal; 2 tablespoons all-purpose flour; 1/3 cup capers, drained; 1 cup olive or vegetable oil; 6 red snapper or rock cod fillets (1 1/2 to 2 pounds); 1/4 teaspoon salt; 1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper.

Using a sharp knife, cut away peel and white pith from each grapefruit. Cut grapefruit between membranes to remove segments. In a small, nonreactive mixing bowl, gently mix grapefruit segments, onion, avocado, extra virgin oil, and lemon juice; refrigerate and reserve.

In a small mixing bowl, mix cornmeal and flour. Toss capers in mixture.

In small sauté pan or skillet: heat oil until hot. Carefully add capers. Fry capers until golden.

As the centerpiece of traditional Easter, Mother's Day and Memorial Day meals, a spiral sliced ham can serve as a chef's signature dish, made unique by the addition of a special glaze or sauce. While many hams come pre-glazed, home chefs can choose an unglazed ham such as Cook's spiral sliced ham to make the ham their own, either by applying the optional glaze packet, creating a homemade recipe, or leaving the ham unglazed. With side dishes such as roasted spring vegetables and new potatoes, fresh fruit and Mom's chocolate mousse pie for dessert, the springtime celebration will be delicious, elegant

Early detection key to fighting women's cancers

(NAPS) -- Imagine a life-threatening stalker that strikes one woman every seven minutes. The stalker proceeds unnoticed and yet can be disarmed successfully with early detection and treatment. The threat: gynecologic cancers, which are newly diagnosed in more than 80,000 women each year. Myths and misconceptions about these diseases and sometimes difficult-to-diagnose symptoms contribute to their danger.

Myth #1: Pap tests ensure a clean bill of health. Pap tests are successful in identifying cervical cancer, one of six types of gynecologic cancer, and should be part of every woman's regular wellness routine. These tests, however, cannot detect all reproductive cancers. Gynecologic oncologists, physicians who specialize in treating cancer of the female reproductive tract, advise women with the following symptoms to seek medical attention as soon as possible:

- Frequent urination
- A change in bowel or bladder habits
- A sore that does not heal
- Unusual vaginal bleeding or discharge
- A thickening or lump that either causes pain or can be seen or felt

- Persistent indigestion or abdominal bloating
- Pain in the pelvic area

Myth #2: Only your mother's side of the family affects your gynecologic cancer risk. The genetic risk for certain gynecologic cancers, such as ovarian cancer, can be carried on either side, making both histories equally important. Knowing family history can increase the chance of early diagnosis and should motivate you to take preventative action. This and other contributing factors for cervical, ovarian, uterine and breast cancer are part of a personal on-line cancer risk assessment on the Women's Cancer Network, www.wcn.org. The assessment, which takes about 15 minutes, is completely confidential and free. The site contains valuable resources and information for women who are at risk for or have been diagnosed with a gynecologic cancer.

Myth #3: Gynecologic cancers only affect elderly women. Gynecologic cancers do not discriminate -- women of all ages are at risk. For free information, call the Gynecologic Cancer Foundation at 1(800)444-4441.

Be Sure to Smile Big in Your Wedding Photos

(NU)-Glowers, cake, dress. tuxedo, invitations - planning a wedding requires great attention to detail. It takes many months to get all of the arrangements made to make the wedding day a beautiful success. But in all the wedding hubbub, brides and grooms should remember that because it's their day, all eyes will be on them. That's why they need to put on their smiles and look their best.

The makers of The Wand, a revolutionary new product that takes the pain out of visiting the dentist, offer brides and grooms these tips on looking great on their wedding day.

• Be yourself, only better. Of course, you want to look fantastic on your big day, but don't stray too far from who you are. If you rarely wear makeup on an everyday basis, stick to colors that are natural but that enhance your looks. Don't overdo it. A little blush, mascara and lipstick may be all you need.

• Choose your outfits wisely. Choose a wedding gown or tuxedo that you feel comfortable wearing. Comfort is the key as you're going to be on your feet for a long time. Be sure to wear your wedding day shoes around the house for a few days before to break them in. Brides should also test out their dresses to see if they are able to sit, dance and walk around comfortably.

• Look polished. Aside from what you wear, you want the rest of you to look fabulous as well. Proper grooming goes a long way. Men look best with a fresh haircut and well-trimmed nails. Men should also shave a few hours before the ceremony to have a fresh, clean look.

• Wear your smile. Don't put off that trip to the dentist, because it'll be your smile that people notice first when you walk down that aisle. With all the advances in dentistry, such as teeth bleaching, invisible braces or The Wand, there's no excuse not to have a beautiful smile.

• Consider the weather. A bride who chooses a shoulder-baring dress should plan on having a backup shawl or wrap if the weather is cold. Don't cover up your beautiful gown with your new husband's jacket. Hot weather can also be daunting. You don't want visible sweat stains. Men should rely on both an antiperspirant and deodorant. Talcum powder can also be used to absorb sweat. Brides should keep non-powdered face-blotting papers handy and rely on water-based foundation with sunscreen and a lightweight powder to keep the shine at bay.

Taking calcium to help reduce the risk of osteoporosis

(NAPS) -- An estimated 10 million Americans already have osteoporosis, and many more have low bone mass, putting them at risk for osteoporosis.

Osteoporosis, often called the "silent disease," due to its progression without symptoms or pain, is a disease in which the bones become fragile and more likely to break. One out of two women will suffer an osteoporosis-related fracture in her lifetime. Some risk factors in the development of osteoporosis may include use of certain medications and/or an inadequate dietary intake of calcium. When the body doesn't get enough calcium, it takes the calcium from the bones, thereby weakening them. This is compounded even further during the menopausal years when estrogen levels drop which may accelerate bone loss.

Although calcium is necessary for a variety of functions, including muscle contraction, blood clotting and nerve function, research shows that most women aren't getting enough calcium in their diets. In fact, about 93 percent of American women over the age of 40 are not getting adequate amounts of calcium in their diets, according to the United States Department of Agriculture's Continuing Survey of Food Intakes by individuals.

Calcium supplements can retard the progression of bone loss in postmenopausal women. One such supplement is Caltrate® 600 Plus, a patented formula containing calcium, vitamin D and five additional fortifying nutrients important for healthy bone formation. In a recent clinical study, it was shown to reduce bone loss in postmenopausal women aged 66-80.

"Women shouldn't wait to start taking preventive measures, including making sure they are getting enough calcium and other minerals in their diets to maintain good bone health," said Robert P. Heaney, M.D., Professor of Medicine at Creighton University.

Skokie Public Library

Local residents interested in finding out more about Skokie Public Library's upcoming expansion project can attend a special presentation on Wednesday, June 27 at 7 p.m. Patrons will have the opportunity to see the architectural renderings of the expanded building, hear about construction plans, and learn about the service enhancements that will be made when the project will make possible.

Project architect Robert Hunter, Principal of the firm

O'Donnell, Wicklund, Pigozzi and Peterson, will be on hand to review the plans for the project and answer questions about the design of the building. William Kinder, Vice President of Fred Berglund and Sons Construction Management, will outline the different phases of construction and let patrons know what to expect while work is underway. Library Director Carolyn Anthony will discuss the service enhancements that will be made when the project is complete, and listen to patron suggestions.

All Library patrons are welcome to attend this informative presentation. Patrons are asked to register to ensure that seats will be available by calling 847-324-3127. Information about the project will also be available in the Library lobby during the summer.

The Library expansion project's current timeline calls for work to begin in July with the construction of a covered walkway around the perimeter of the building, ensuring that the Library will remain accessible as the new third floor is built. The first phase, which focuses on the construction of the new third floor, west side expansion, and Bookmobile garage, is projected to be completed in winter 2002. The highlights of the site is a "plaque finder" interactive game. The game features a large hippopotamus that eats too much candy and then chews plaque-finding disclosure tablets to locate the plaque. The hippopotamus teaches children how to use plaque-finding disclosure tabs and then allows them to identify plaque and attack it before tooth decay begins. The game can be played on three different levels so children of all ages are able to participate. After completing the game, children can request disclosure tablets via e-mail from the CDS. Disclosure tablets were donated to CDS by Crest and provide children with real opportunity to attack the plaque.

Just for Kids section also features word searches, coloring sheets, and crossword puzzles that can be downloaded and printed for children and parents to use at home. Each game and puzzle helps children learn terms associated with dentistry and to value the importance of good oral hygiene at all ages.

Want to help overcome any anxiety a child may have about a trip to the dentist? The public information section on Just for Kids identifies the members of the dental team and enables children to read about what to expect from a visit to the dentist's office.

FATHER'S DAY DINING GUIDE

La Pasta Ria

by Jeanine Kromer

If the view is a priority when choosing a restaurant La Pasta Ria on the Links is the place to go. La Pasta Ria recently relocated from Glenview to a spacious and inviting site in Niles next to Tam Golf Course. The windowed dining room at La Pasta Ria overlooks the golf course that is breathtaking. The dining room itself has a high domed ceiling and bright white walls that are decorated with painted topiaries. The handsome bar at La Pasta Ria showcases a beautiful mural covering the back wall.

La Pasta Ria serves traditional Italian cuisine that is delicious and reasonably priced. La Pasta Ria allows customers to pair the type of pasta (noodle) they would like with the type of sauce. There are nine types of pasta to choose from including tortellini, gnocchi and ravioli. The sauces at La Pasta Ria range from pomodoro (meat flavored tomato sauce) to carbonara (creamy white sauce with prochetta and peas). La Pasta Ria menu includes sandwiches, pizzas, burgers, filled pastas and salads. A couple of the house specialties are garlic shrimp (my husband's favorite) and veal parmigiana. La Pasta Ria has all you can eat specials during the week.

La Pasta Ria on the Links has express catering options available. Selections for a main dish include pasta with choice of sauce, chicken parmigiana, manicotti, lasagna and stuffed shells by the tray. The express menu also offers salads, assorted fresh baked breads and sweets. Disposable serving utensils are included. Disposable place settings and paper napkins are additional. The catering menu is also reasonably priced.

There are two banquet rooms overlooking the golf course available for special occasions. The rooms are tastefully decorated in navy and mauve and have a seating capacity up to 150. La Pasta Ria catering division in Morton Grove will be happy to cater a party at the banquet facilities on the Links or at the location of your choice.

La Pasta Ria on the Links is located at 6676 Howard just west of Caldwell in Niles. The phone number is 581-3129.

Reunion Coming Up? Follow These Tips

(NU) - Whether you were the prom queen or president of the audio visual club in high school, you're bound to be nervous about seeing your old class chums again.

High school reunions have a way of dredging up all the old insecurities that you had when you were a teenager. Are my clothes geeky? Is my face too oily? Am I too heavy? Are my teeth too crooked?

Forget who you were in high school and focus on who you are now. Follow these tips on looking and feeling your best for your high school reunion:

- Be yourself. This No. 1 rule will prevent you from doing something foolish, such as wearing an outfit that's more suited for a 19-year-old fashion model. Whether it's your clothes, your hair or your makeup, stick with what you know and with what you are comfortable. If you never wear makeup, you'll likely feel and look uncomfortable with your face all made up.

- Choose your outfit wisely. Of course you want to look your best, but you don't want to overdo it or underdo it. Sure you may be most comfortable in jeans and a T-shirt, but if the event is more formal, you'll be sure to stand out (and not in a good way). Similarly, as great as you may look in an evening gown, if the event is an outdoor barbecue, you're better off in a sun dress. Whatever you choose to wear, make sure your outfit is clean and pressed and free of any stains, rips or scuffs.

- Wear your smile. Don't put off that trip to the dentist, because it'll be your smile that people notice first when you show up at the reunion. With all the advances in dentistry, such as teeth bleaching, invisible braces and The Wand, there's no excuse not to have a beautiful smile.

- Look polished. Aside from what you wear, you want the rest of you to look fabulous as well. Proper grooming goes a long way. Men look best with a fresh haircut and well-trimmed nails. Avoid heavy perspiration by using an antiperspirant and wearing light-colored, natural-fiber clothing. Talcum powder can also help absorb sweat. Women are warned against going to a salon on the day of the event for anything other than a manicure or pedicure. It's best to put two weeks between your salon visit and the event to allow for any bad hair, wax of facial experience to correct itself.

- Minimize how you accessorize. Hollywood stylists always suggest that as you go out the door to your big event, take off one accessory. This is good advice. Too much jewelry may look like you're showing off. To learn more about The Wand, the computer-controlled local anesthetic delivery system, simply log on to www.thewand.com.

DesPlaines Public Library

Poetry Workshops for Teens. The DesPlaines Public Library will present three poetry workshops especially for teens this summer in conjunction with the Summer Reading Clubs. Workshops are scheduled at 10 a.m. on Tuesdays, June 19, July 10, and July 24 in the high school room at the library. Advance registration is suggested, but drop-ins will also be welcome.

Participants will first look at poets and various formats of poetry. Next they will explore their own creative voices and write their own poetry.

Library Assistants Corky Lee and Amber Greger will lead the workshops. Lee and Greger recently led a 22-week book discussion/poetry writing group for girls 13 to 17 years old at Maryville Academy. That project was funded by an LSTA grant from the Illinois State Library administered through the North Suburban Library Foundation.

Lee predicts the teens that come to the summer workshops at the library will have a similar experience. They will also have the opportunity to read some of their work before an audience. Poetry readings by teens will be part of the Ice Cream Social celebration that concludes the Summer Reading Clubs on Sunday, August 5.

For more information on the teen poetry workshops, please call phone the Registration Desk at 847/376-2787 or the Readers' Services Department at 847/376-2840.

"Book a Trip" with Travel Programs. Armchair travelers need go no further than the DesPlaines Public Library to visit "Blenheim Palace and Three Gardens of Southern England" at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, June 27. The program is free and open to the public, but advance registration is necessary. It is the first of three special travel programs offered this summer. Subsequent programs feature "Walking in Switzerland" at 7:30 on July 11 and "The Oregon Coast and the Pacific Northwest" at 7 p.m. on August 1.

Host Claire Copping Cross leads the visual journey to Blenheim Palace, with its terraced water gardens, Churchill memorabilia, grand halls, staterooms, and tapestries. Also featured is a side trip to historical Eton College on the occasion of its 550th anniversary celebration.

Gardeners will enjoy viewing the Sissinghurst Castle gardens, created by Vita Sackville-West and her husband. The famous white and silver garden is spotlighted. Also included is Penhurst Place, which has hedged gardens dating back to the fourteenth century. Interior views show the monumental great hall and rare antique furniture.

Medieval Great Dixter has a sunken garden, which was the model for the one at the Chicago Botanical Gardens. Other highlights include Dixter's figurative topiary and rhododendrons at the height of season.

For more information, please phone the Register Desk at 847/376-2787.

Celebrate Family Heritage Days. Learn to research and preserve your family heritage, and celebrate the rich cultural history of DesPlaines during Family Heritage Days at the DesPlaines Public Library, June 23 and 24. Family Heritage in the Digital Age is the theme on Saturday, June 23 from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. On Sunday, June 24, Heritage Fest is scheduled from 1-5 p.m. Activities at the library are part of a statewide celebration and are cosponsored with the DesPlaines Historical Society. All activities are free and open to the public.

Guest speakers on Saturday include Karol Verson, who will discuss how to create video histories, and Beverly Levine Smallwood, who will explore using Internet resources for genealogy. The North West Suburban Council of Genealogists will offer information on the basics of genealogy. The Computer Assisted Genealogy Group of Northern Illinois will demonstrate genealogy computer programs.

Also on Saturday, information stations will feature scrapbooking tips and supplies, preservation of family heirlooms and documents, catalogs for archival

Health News

Strategies to cope with colds and flu

(NAPS) -- This year Americans will experience up to one billion colds. That's two to four colds for the average adult and between five and 10 colds a year for most children. Moreover, nearly a quarter of the U.S. population falls victim to the flu every year.

Since there is no cure for the common cold or flu, most of us will experience the seemingly inevitable period of sneezing, stuffy nose, sore throat and coughing. However, following these strategies should help you cope with the symptoms of a cold and flu:

Drink plenty of fluids. Increase fluids to help loosen and thin mucus in the nose and chest. This will help ease breathing and prevent dehydration that often accompanies a fever from the flu. It's generally recommended that you drink lots of fluids, including water, fruit and vegetable juices, and soup.

Enjoy a bowl of chicken soup. Findings of an early scientific report from researchers at the University of Nebraska Medical Center, led by Dr. Stephen Renard, may explain why chicken soup could relieve common cold symptoms. Chicken soup was found to contain ingredients that could ease the symptoms of a cold. "Soups made with chicken stock are a wonderful comfort food," explains Dr. Carole Dichter, Campbell Soup Company's General Manager -- Global Nutrition and Health. "These soups are nutritious and wholesome, so when people want to be warmed up or just feel better, they often turn to favorites like Campbell's Chicken Noodle."

Get plenty of sleep. Rest is particularly important if you have a fever, which may make you feel more tired than usual. Try to get to bed at a reasonable hour, perhaps a bit earlier than usual to ensure a good night's sleep. During periods of heavy nasal congestion, try sleeping with your head elevated to reduce pressure on the sinuses and cut down on nighttime coughing.

Humidify your home. Use a vaporizer or humidifier to keep your nose and throat tissues moist. This is especially important during the colder winter months when central heating dries the air.

Choose tissues wisely. Try tissues that are formulated to prevent red noses. Many tissues are now made with lotion and even menthol, which "softens the blow" and is kinder to a stuffy nose.

Always call your doctor if you experience worsening cold or flu symptoms and/or symptoms linger.

Lifestyle changes can help you control digestive problems

The last thing you want after a much anticipated spring finally arrives is to have digestive problems keep you from getting out and enjoying the warmth. Making lifestyle changes can help you prevent some digestive problems that might have kept you from enjoying your spring activities.

Digestive problems are among the most common reasons people see their doctors. Digestive complaints include heartburn, indigestion, abdominal pain, nausea, diarrhea, constipation and gas. You can't control or prevent all digestive problems with simple lifestyle changes, however, good lifestyle habits can go a long way toward keeping your digestive system healthy. Mayo Clinic on Digestive Health offers these tips for dealing with digestive problems:

Eat plenty of fiber. Unfortunately, too many people don't get enough fiber in their diets. Americans typically consume 10 to 15 grams of fiber daily. Dietary guidelines recommend twice that amount. Make a conscious effort to eat more plant-based foods such as fruits, vegetables and whole grains. By emphasizing these foods, you also limit fat. Excess fat slows digestion and can lead to heartburn, bloating and constipation.

Drink plenty of liquids. Liquids can help relieve constipation and replace body fluids absorbed by fiber. Each day drink at least 8 glasses of fluids. Water is best. Limit or avoid beverages containing caffeine or alcohol, which can worsen diarrhea and cause dehydration, as they are mild diuretics. Avoid carbonated beverages because they contain gas.

Avoid problem foods. If you know that certain foods aggravate your symptoms, don't eat them. Common culprits are spices, fatty foods, beans and other gas-producing foods, alcohol and caffeine.

Eat at regular times. Don't skip meals. Try to eat at about the same time each day and the same size meals. Scheduled meals help regulate bowel function and lessen symptoms of constipation and diarrhea.

Include exercise in your day. Exercise helps decrease feelings of stress. It also stimulates the rhythmic contractions of your intestines, helping them to function normally. Exercise can relieve constipation and may alleviate symptoms of diarrhea.

Traveling to a foreign country? Don't forget your shots!

You've planned the itinerary, paid for the airline tickets, and purchased your traveler's checks, but did you remember to get your shots? If you are traveling abroad, prepare your immune system to fight diseases found in foreign countries. The Traveler's Health and Immunization Center, located in Niles, provides vaccinations based on an individual's travel plans, past immunization, age and medical history.

The risk of travel illness depends on your destination and what you will be doing there. "If you are staying in a five-star hotel in London, there is a very low risk of travel illness," said Robert Citronberg, MD, infectious diseases specialist at Advocate Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge and co-director of the Center. "However, if you are adventurous and plan to visit rural villages in Kenya, go trekking in the mountains of Nepal, or buy food from street vendors in Thailand, you are at a much higher risk for travel illness." According to Dr. Citronberg, the majority of travel illnesses are tied to poor sanitation and substandard healthcare.

The Hepatitis A vaccine is recommended for travel to much of the world. It is a food borne illness that is prevalent in areas with poor sanitation. "The Hepatitis B vaccine is becoming more common," said Dr. Citronberg. "Especially for travelers who plan to stay in one location for a long time, make frequent trips to endemic areas or are on a medical mission." Typhoid vaccination may also be recommended for destinations with unsanitary food handling procedures and contaminated water.

Some vaccinations are mandatory before travelers are allowed into a country. For example, Yellow Fever vaccination is required prior to entry to some areas of South America and Africa. The Traveler's Health and Immunization Center will provide the International Certificate of Vaccination, also known as the Yellow Card, for travelers headed to destinations that required proof of immunization. The Center has been designated as an official Yellow Fever vaccination provider by the Illinois Department of Public Health.

Before traveling, you should also be aware of travel illness hot-spots. It's a good idea to get a Meningococcus vaccine if you are planning to visit an area of Africa known as the "meningitis belt" because of frequent epidemics of the disease in the sub-Saharan region. Polio has not been eradicated worldwide. Recent outbreaks of Polio have occurred in the Dominican Republic and Haiti. Dr. Citronberg suggests a Polio booster shot for travelers to those areas. The Traveler's Immunization Center utilizes state-of-the-art software that can quickly provide a list of recommended vaccines for nearly every travel destination.

In addition to vaccinations, the Traveler's Health and Immunization Center will help you prepare for your trip by prescribing medications and providing prevention tips. "A lot of people are unaware of the risks of traveling," said Dr. Citronberg. Prevention tips include information on altitude sickness, excessive sun exposure, jet lag, malaria and insect bites, motion sickness and traveler's diarrhea. The Center will also provide the names, addresses and phone numbers of physicians and health clinics in the traveler's country of destination. "We want people to have a great time, not be sick, while they travel...and return safe," said Citronberg.

It is recommended that vaccinations be administered at least two weeks prior to departure. The Traveler's Immunization Center prefers appointments be scheduled about 1 to 2 months before your departure. Most of the shots require just one visit, with the exception of Hepatitis A and B. For more information or to schedule an appointment at the Traveler's Health and Immunization Center, please call (847) 663-9500. The Center is located at 7900 North Milwaukee Avenue, Suite 18 in Niles.

Keep your skin safe from sun damage

(NAPS) -- Basking in the sun may seem like a good way to look and feel great, but the experts warn that a summer glow can come at a very high cost -- damaged skin and possible skin cancer. Avoiding sun damage is the single best thing women can do for their skin.

"Women have to take action to protect their skin from incidental sun exposure -- not only the skin on their face, but the rest of their body too," said Elyse S. Rafal, MD, dermatologist for Keri Lotion.

The following tips are designed to help women minimize sun damage, while putting their best foot (and their arms, elbows and knees) forward.

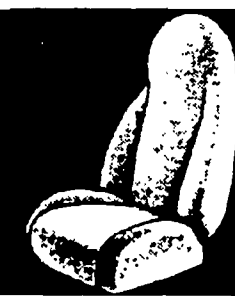

• Adopt a zero tolerance policy toward the sun. Even limited exposure to sun and exposure on a cloudy day can damage your skin. Assume your skin needs protection every day.

• When you do expose your skin to the sun, do it in a way that makes you look your best and protects your skin.

The key to fresher, younger-looking skin is to use an exfoliating body lotion with an Alpha Hydroxy Complex. But the FDA warns that using an Alpha Hydroxy Complex product increases your skin's sensitivity to sun damage. It is essential to use an SPF 15 sunscreen to help avoid cell damage. Keri Skin Renewal is the first leading body lotion with both an Alpha Hydroxy Complex and an SPF 15 sunscreen together, giving you one product that exfoliates and protects.

Senior citizens can surf the Web at Skokie Library

Skokie Public Library has recently purchased new software that makes it easy for senior citizens to surf the World Wide Web, send email, and chat with others around the world. Designed for those seniors with little or no computer experience, Generations on Line includes an easy email service, lists of relevant Web sites, a search engine, and a chat room where kids and seniors can interact.

The Library has noticed a growing interest among senior citizens in learning about new technology, with many signing up for monthly classes on using the Internet. The benefit of Generations on Line, however, is its simplicity - you don't need to know anything about computers or the Internet to be able to log on and learn. Large graphics and typeface make the screen easy to read, and each function includes step-by-step instructions.

Recent studies by organizations like SeniorNet and Microsoft have shown that fewer than 20% of adults ages 65-80 are online, mainly due to lack of access and skills, as well as feeling intimidated by the technology. Older Americans, however, can benefit greatly from the increased opportunity for communication, intellectual stimulation, entertainment, and learning that the Internet provides. Generations on Line, in partnership with libraries, aims to break down the barriers that are keeping seniors from enjoying the Internet.

Generations on Line is available at all Skokie Public Library reference computers. A special terminal will be set up in the library lobby from June 25 through June 29, with volunteers available from 9 a.m. to noon each day to help interested seniors get started.

The public may call 847-673-7774 for further information about Library services and events. Skokie Public Library, located at 5215 Oakton Street, is open to the public Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Saturday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Sunday from noon to 6 p.m. Access many of our resources 24 hours a day at www.skokieli.org.

Seniors Indulge In Healthy Competition

(NAPS)-Each year, a health-conscious competition lets silver-haired Americans go for the gold.

The Huntsman World Senior Games - which are open to all athletes age 50 and above - are held annually in St. George, Utah.

Since 1987 the Games have served as a meeting point for senior athletes from across the country and around the world.

According to Kathie Thayne, Executive Director of the Games, the competition has grown in popularity over the years (increasing from 500 participants in 1987 to more than 5,700 in 2000) because of a "more health conscious" baby boomer generation.

"Four million people in the United States will be turning fifty each year through 2024," Thayne says. "Today's 50 plus generation is active and health conscious. Competing in these games gives many baby boomers and older Americans a terrific incentive to stay healthy and keep in shape."

Generally, the Games consist of basketball, bowling, tennis, cycling and mountain biking, racquet ball, road racing, softball, swimming, triathlon, volleyball, lawn bowls, square dance, table tennis and track and field. Athletes also compete in games of horseshoes, bridge tournaments and golf matches.

The Games help foster good health through free medical seminars and health screenings. The services include mammograms, PSL, blood sugar, bone density, hearing, blood pressure, cholesterol and glaucoma tests and body composition and breast cancer risk assessment screening - all meant to emphasize the importance of seniors taking a proactive role in their health.

Health experts say the activities can be a source of important information about the changing medical needs of older people - and equally important, a great way for seniors to compete and have fun.

Input sought on NPSN senior community needs

Recently, more than 5,000 households in the Norwood Park community received copies of the Senior Community Needs Assessment Survey prepared by the Norwood Park Seniors Network (NPSN), 6016 N. Nina Ave., Chicago. The surveys were delivered in promotional doorhangers along with other local advertising pieces and information that announced the Norwood Park Memorial Parade, sponsored by the Norwood Park Memorial Association.

The NPSN, a community outreach program for the elderly living on Chicago's far northwest side and nearby suburbs, offers home delivered meals, transportation services, light handyman services, social outings, emergency response system, and transitions downsizing/relocation services.

"The Senior Community Needs Assessment Survey poses what we hope are key questions for identifying what services work for you, what services you think need to be available in the community and hopefully helps you think about future services that you might like to see offered," said Helen Murphy, NPSN program director. "Once all the questions are answered, we ask that the survey be returned by mail to us for tabulating and evaluation."

The survey includes 10 questions that focus on social, health, emotional/mental, and spiritual vices to the community. If you live in a part of the community that did not receive the survey, you may request one by calling the Norwood Park Seniors Network at (773) 631-5673."

The NPSN, that was started about four years ago, is averaging 800 home-delivered meals monthly to more than 60 seniors in an area that extends to Cicero Avenue on the east, Park Ridge on the west, Irving Park Road on the south, and Niles on the north. The program is helping to fill a growing need among the elderly who want to continue living independently among their friends and neighbors.

"We can't stress strongly enough how important this survey is to each resident," added Murphy.

"This information is needed to support our position when asking for help from funding sources in offering new ser-

Niles Senior Center Effective Communication Group

We have begun a group at Niles Senior Center for people who have hearing loss. We meet the last Thursday of each month at 10 a.m. The group will address the challenges that hearing loss creates in daily living as we go about communicating with our family members.

How do you know this group is for you? Do you feel frustrated because your spouse talks to you from another room and you can't understand and then you argue about the exchange? Do you find that you let your spouse or other family members do more of the interacting with the outside world because you don't want to make any mistakes? Is someone in your family always yelling at you that the TV is too loud? Do you feel in low spirits because you miss a lot of what goes on at parties or loud restaurants?

If you answered yes to any of the questions above, you might consider joining the group. If you are interested or have further questions, please contact me, Trudi Davis at 588-8441.

Local houses of worship meet society's problems

Congregation B'nai Jehoshua Beth Elohim, (BJBE), and Glenview Community Church, Glenview, just completed their second successful Keshet Interfaith Mitzvah Day, Sunday, May 6.

Mitzvah/Mission Day was an extraordinary opportunity for the community to participate in projects that make a difference in people's lives.

The day started with a brunch for participants at B'nai Jehoshua Beth Elohim, co-sponsored by Glenview Community Church and the Sisterhood of B'nai Jehoshua Beth Elohim.

The special projects undertaken included food preparation, canned goods collection, car washing, clean-up projects, pet therapy, a penny drive, sorting music, visiting the elderly, and art projects.

The organizations that benefited from these projects are: The Abington, Franciscan Outreach Association, Glenview Terrace, Mary Haven Nursing Home, Good News Soup Kitchen, Youth Services of Glenview/Northbrook, Magen David Adom (Israeli Red Cross), Ronald McDonald House, The Night

Ministry, West Park in Glenview, Wesley Child Care Center, Family Resource Center, Northfield Food Pantry, Adopt a Highway Project, ALS Music Mart, and Wings (Women in Need Growing Stronger).

BJBE's 1995 Mitzvah Day resulted in recognition and $2,000 from the Paul Newman Foundation to help fund the congregation's Feed the Homeless Program. This funding was received in connection with the USA Today's "Let's Make A difference Day."

Which Comes First: The Chicken or the Egg

The First and Fifth Graders at St. John Brebeuf School in conjunction with the 4-H Club sponsored by the University of Illinois Extension Program are participating in the Incubation and Embryology Project of incubating and hatching fertile chicken eggs. Mrs. Murdach, trained by the 4-H Club extension, monitors the program within the school while teaching grade appropriate activities in the science program. All ages learn about embryonic development as the students care for developing chicken eggs. During the three week incubation period, students learn not only the scientific facts of embryology, but also about life with its struggles and joys. At the end of the incubation program, a presentation by a 4-H representative discusses with students the program and individual 4-H projects created by the students.

Niles Library Trustees elect new officers

AT their most recent meeting, the trustees of the Niles Public Library District elected Jack Sugar as their president. Sugar, a retired Sears employee, has actively served on the Library's Board of Trustees for the past two years. Trustee John C. Hanna was also elected to serve as vice president. Hanna, an architect with his own business, was reelected to a second term on the Library's Board last April. Trustee Irene Costello will continue her role as secretary and trustee Richard Barnat will continue to serve as treasurer.

The Niles Public Library District is governed by a seven-member Board of Trustees. The community elects these seven volunteers for a six-year term. The Board determines the library's operating budget and governing policies, and oversees the long range planning for the library.

Safety tips from electricians

(NU) -- If you're a homeowner, you've no doubt learned there's always something to do around a house to keep it in top condition.

Whether it's repairing the plumbing system, maintaining the heating and cooling system or coping with an electrical emergency, it's important to know what to do.

Electrical systems are especially challenging to new homeowners. One reason they appear complex is that they're mostly hidden behind walls. There's also the fear of getting a shock.

While major electrical work is best handled by a licensed electrician, even a novice can safely replace cords and plugs, change fuses and repair light fixtures.

Here are some safety tips from professional electricians:

• Working with electricity can be dangerous unless you stick to certain rules. The first rule: Never work on any live circuit, fixture, receptacle or switch. Shut off power to the electrical system at the main circuit breaker.

• Tape over the main switch, empty fuse socket or circuit breaker when you're working; leave a note so no one will accidentally turn on the electricity.

• You probably have the basic tools you'll need to work on your electrical system -- pliers, screw drivers and Allen wrenches. But look into the cost of buying specialized tools.

Professional electricians recommend purchase of a staple gun, such as the Arrow company's innovative T59 staple gun. It can be used on both inside and outside jobs since the insulated staples are made of either galvanized or stainless steel and have UV resistant insulators. The gun features a jam-proof mechanism, protective chrome plating and the only insulated staples shot from a staple gun that meet the Underwriters Laboratories' safety standards.

The gun is made of stainless steel so it's durable year after year, and it provides unique speed and accuracy. Plus, because of its curved nose, it will not damage cable and wire. You'll also reduce your risk of impeding electrical flow because its unique design won't fray your wires.

• Always unplug any appliance before attempting to repair it.

One Answer to High Heating/Cooling Costs

Washington, DC — Near-record-high natural gas and heating oil prices have blanketed the country this winter, California's energy crisis threatens to spread northward and eastward, and both President Bush and Secretary of Energy Abraham have cautioned that, as a country, we are not generating enough electricity to meet demands.

In this heightened state of energy consciousness, many, in both government and the private sector, are exploring ways to reduce energy consumption. One advanced technology with real promise for helping to alleviate commercial and residential energy concerns is geoechange, which can cut energy consumption by as much as one half.

Of all of the alternative energy technologies, including wind, solar, biomass, and fuel cells, geoechange is the only one in current widespread use. According to the U.S. Department of Energy, geoechange represents a practical, proven technology — one that is gathering a reputation for saving school districts, commercial building owners, and homeowners a substantial amount of energy costs each year.

Geoechange systems, which use the renewable energy available from the earth to provide heat in the winter and air conditioning in the summer, use 25% to 50% less energy than conventional heating and cooling systems do, and they consume no fossil fuels. Instead, they transfer heat to and from the ground, which, a few feet below the surface, remains at a relatively constant, moderate temperature year-round.

In winter, geoechange systems absorb heat from the ground, and transfer it to a home's or commercial building's interior. In the summer, the systems reverse the process, collecting excess heat from the interior air and transferring it to the ground.

While natural gas and heating oil prices have risen sharply over the last eighteen months, and experts hold little hope for relief this summer, the high efficiency and low operating costs of geoechange systems are making the technology a common sense choice for consumers.

Moreover, in California and other areas experiencing electrical supply shortages, widespread adoption of super-efficient geoechange systems could help cut peak electrical demand and reduce the need for rolling blackouts.

Building owners who install geoechange systems also make a contribution to the environment. Since geoechange systems burn no fossil fuels, they generate virtually no carbon dioxide emissions. In fact, they slash emissions of this greenhouse gas — compared to natural gas, propane or oil furnaces — by about one pound of CO<sub>2</sub> for every hour of operation, in a typical residential system.

This high overall performance has led the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to name geoechange as one of the most energy-efficient, environmentally responsible heating and cooling technologies currently available. More information is available from the Geothermal Heat Pump Consortium, Inc., a non-profit organization, by calling 1-888-255-4436 or visiting their web site at www.geoechange.org.

Power rollers help homeowners create the rooms of their dreams

(NAPS) -- What color would you paint the room of your dreams? This question has some people thinking of trendy colors like robin's egg blue or wasabi green, while those with more conservative tastes would be dreaming of the perfect shade of cream.

Although choosing what color to decorate your room with is a key part of the redecorating process, many homeowners are primarily concerned with the time and energy it takes to complete the painting job.

Power rollers can help you apply your selected paint color twice as fast as manual rollers. They provide a continuous, even flow of paint and extend the user's reach to minimize bending and stretching. They also reduce or eliminate trips to the paint can and eliminate the need for messy paint trays.

Powered rollers come in a variety of styles with prices ranging from $25 to $120. The basic models look much like a traditional manual roller, but have an extended handle that holds the paint as it's "fed" to the roller. The user controls the paint flow by pumping the handle or pushing a trigger. Battery-powered models feature a self-feeding roller and a portable paint container with a pump that feeds the paint through a flexible hose to the roller. The top-of-the-line electric models pump paint directly from the paint can. In addition, there is a wide variety of accessories to choose from, including a trim pad.

PaintMate™ and Stain Mate™, two basic models from Wagner Spray Tech, cost as little as $25. They feature Wagner's innovative Power Trigger™ System, which can apply oil and latex paints to an 8-foot by 8-foot section in one fill, saving users up to seven trips to the paint tray. The built-in extension allows users to reach an 8-foot-high ceiling without a ladder.

Wagner also offers two battery-operated Power Rollers® with prices ranging from $50 to $80. Both models have a 9-inch self-feeding roller. The 929 model has a 1-gallon paint container, a 6-foot extension hose, and can paint 20 rooms on one set of batteries. The 949 model has a 1.2-gallon paint container, an 8-foot extension hose, and can paint up to 30 rooms on one set of batteries.

Tips on improving garage door security

(NAPS) -- Your home is secure. You have solid entry doors on the front and back, and deadbolt locks on every door. You've even secured your sliding glass door. But wait, there's one big piece missing in your home security plan - the garage.

The garage door is the largest door on your home, and can be an easy point of entry for would-be burglars if not properly secured. Here are some security tips from the garage door experts at Clopay, North America's leading manufacturer of residential garage doors:

- Install a steel garage door. Premium garage doors, like the Premium Series from Clopay, wrap heavy-gauge steel around an insulated core. This three-layer construction is energy efficient, dent- and scratch-resistant, and makes entry into your garage more difficult for intruders. Unlike with wood doors, burglars can't chip away at or kick the panels in on a properly constructed and installed steel door.

- Light the way. It's an old rule that can't be denied - light scares away burglars. Consider installing a dawn-to-dusk light over your garage door, or use a motion-detector light that automatically comes on when a car or unwanted visitor approaches.

- Keep the door closed. It sounds simple and it is. When entering and exiting the garage, watch until the door is fully closed. Safety features on your garage door will automatically reverse and raise the door if any resistance is encountered, and thieves know this. Burglars have also been known to take advantage of doors that close slowly or are left open by the homeowner.

- Garage doors have locks, too. Don't rely on the weight of your garage door or the garage door opener alone to secure your door, especially if you're going to be away for an extended period of time. Most garage doors have several locking options to choose from, many can be retrofitted to your existing door. Major manufacturers, like Clopay, offer a number of locking options such as lock bars, snap latches, vacuum switches for garage door openers and slide bolts. Be sure that locks are not engaged when a garage door opener is being used.

- Don't forget the windows. Garage door windows are a great way to add beauty and light to your home, but don't sacrifice security for style. Choose a sturdy window, securely installed. Clopay offers a variety of window options in ultra-tough acrylic. The best window choices allow light to pass through while protecting your privacy from "prying eyes."

- Guard your garage door opener frequency. Basic garage door openers come from the factory with pre-set codes. Any remote control device set to the same frequency can open the door. Check your instruction manual or call the manufacturer for instructions on how to change the code. Many new garage door openers feature anti-burglary devices that protect your code from interception or even change the code every time you use the door. That way, burglars are kept out automatically.

- Energy efficiency. The features that work to keep out burglars also keep out the elements and lower your energy bills. An insulated steel door with a weather-sealed bottom can have an R-Value of 9 or higher. And durable acrylic windows, like those from Clopay's Designer Series, can help block UV rays and mitigate heating/cooling loss.

For more information about secure and efficient garage door options, contact Clopay at 1-800-2CLOPAY (225-6729) or visit the website at www.clopaydoor.com.

Finding the right home for you

(NAPS) -- Finding the right home can be easier by following a few hints from professionals.

When looking for a home, contact a real estate licensee who's an Accredited Buyer Representative (ABR). You will relieve yourself of numerous and often confusing details of the transaction.

For example, an Accredited Buyer Representative will:

1. Help you shop for the neighborhood before you shop for the house and advise you about examining schools, shopping, recreational opportunities and other amenities.
2. Determine whether you pre-qualify for a mortgage and in what amount. Such a move can speed up the mortgage process considerably.
3. Discuss with you if you are about to become a homeowner for the first time, whether it is advisable to start small in a good area. Often a less expensive home in a good neighborhood can be a better buy than an expensive house in a dubious neighborhood.

Maintenance tips can help keep a dream home alive

(NAPS) -- For many Americans, their homes represent the investment of a lifetime. Every year, however, disasters pose a serious threat to that investment. But by conducting annual preventative maintenance, homeowners can protect the value of their home and the safety of their families.

Incorporating preventative maintenance as a part of an annual routine can help consumers protect their investment against damage from a variety of sources, including potential hurricanes, flooding, wildfires, tornadoes and earthquakes. The Federal Emergency Management Agency's (FEMA) Project Impact: Building Disaster Resistant Communities encourages homeowners to take preventative actions as part of their spring-cleaning.

"There is no time like the present for taking preventative measures. There are easy projects that people can do today to prevent damage from disasters that may strike in months or years to come," said Cynthia Ramsay, national public affairs manager for FEMA's Project Impact.

Fannie Mae, the nation's largest provider of funds for home mortgages and a national Project Impact corporate partner, suggests conducting regular maintenance checks on the following:

- Mechanical systems (heating, air conditioning, plumbing)
- Major structural elements (roofing, gutters, downspouts)
- Exterior siding
- Cement (sidewalks, steps)
- Wood or other materials
- The flashing around doors, windows, chimney and roof
- Doors and windows to ensure they are properly caulked
- Doors and stairs to ensure they are secure

Project Impact, a nationwide initiative aimed at getting Americans to think about damage prevention before disasters strike, suggests using yearly maintenance checks as a way to evaluate your home's disaster resistance. Based on the disaster risk you face, home improvement projects that can prevent disaster damage should be conducted.

Potential prevention measures that include:

- Installing storm shutters on windows
- Installing anchors, clips and straps to secure your home and roof
- Anchoring heavy equipment, such as water heaters and bookcases
- Elevating the main breaker or fuse box
- Elevating heating, ventilating and cooling equipment
- Storing combustible or flammable materials appropriately

"People make a big financial and emotional investment when buying a home, and they should take the necessary steps to prevent damage to their investment," said Ramsay. "Taking preventative measures while doing regular maintenance can help ensure that your home and family are safe season after season."

For more information about Project Impact or preventing damage, call (202) 646-4117, e-mail: project.impact@fema.gov or visit www.fema.gov/impact.

Finding

Finding the right real estate person to work with, one who has undergone comprehensive training on serving buyers, is the first step. An ABR has been trained by the Real Estate Buyer's Agent Council, an affiliate of the National Association of Realtors, to evaluate the specific needs and wants of buyers and locate properties that fit.

Research has shown that when an ABR was used, prospective buyers found their homes one week faster and examined three more properties than those consumers who did not use a buyer's representative. ABRs have been trained to create a database of opportunities for future clients.

An ABR will visit an open house, inquire about expired listings or listings that were withdrawn from the market, ask about homes for sale by owners, follow up on auctions and estate sales, talk to divorce attorneys and human resource directors, stay in touch with moving companies, check the Internet and establish ongoing relationships with probate attorneys.

In any given week, an ABR may send information about dozens of new buyer-client profiles, (including information about the type of property these clients are seeking) to a large group of various people in the know about real estate.

To locate an Accredited Buyer Representative and receive a complimentary copy of The Home Buyer's Kit, filled with essential information for today's buyer, contact the Real Estate Buyer's Agent Council at (800) 648-6224 or via e-mail at: rebac@realtors.org or visit the Web site at: <http://www.rebac.net>.

Police News

Niles

BURGLARY TO AUTO

Unknown offender(s) smashed the driver's window of a 1994 white Volvo sedan parked on the 7000 block of Nordica sometime between June 7 and June 8. The owner told police that a set of Malibu outdoor lights ($89), a stuffed dog ($30), and $30 in cash left in the glove compartment were missing.

FORGERY/STOLEN CHECKS

Three young men are wanted in connection with a forgery scheme where checks for $50 were cashed at a food store on the 8900 block of Dempster. On four separate occasions on May 29 and June 1, one of the men used the checks for purchases under $2, and then received the remaining change. A fifth attempt was made on June 1, but when a cashier asked for identification, the men fled the store leaving the check behind.

The men are described as white, between the ages of 18-22. The first is 6'7", 155 lbs., with black hair. The second is 5'6", 160 lbs., with a medium build and a fair complexion. The third is also described as weighing 160 lbs with a medium build and fair complexion, and has multiple piercings: five earrings in one ear, two in the other, and either a nose or lip piercing.

CRIMINAL DAMAGE TO AUTO

Offender(s) used empty beer kegs to smash the rear window and rear passenger window of a red 1989 Toyota Corolla parked in the lot of a bar and grill on the 9000 block of Milwaukee June 5. The car was parked in the rear lot where empty kegs are stored. There are two possible suspects. One is a patron who failed to sign a credit card receipt before leaving the bar. The second is a teenager who was denied entry after attempting to use an older sibling's driver's license.

Unknown offender(s) used a sharp object to puncture tires of vehicles parked in a nursing home parking lot sometime between June 1 and June 2. Both right side and the rear left tire of a blue 1993 Nissan Altima belonging to an assistant nurse were punctured, as well as the left rear tire of a resident's 1998 white Buick Century, and another resident's 1990 white Toyota Corolla sustained puncture damage to its right front tire.

Three 17-year-old boys were arrested by Wilmette police and confessed their roles for damaging cars in Niles between 5 p.m. June 4 and 5:50 a.m. June 5. Two of the boys are reported to breaking windshields and windows of cars with a baseball bat and sledgehammer. The third told police that he met the others at a location where he knew they were damaging vehicles. The boys were all charged with Felony Criminal Damage to property and will appear in court for a preliminary hearing on June 16.

DECEPTIVE PRACTICE

Police are looking for a man who used either stolen or counterfeit credit cards for purchases from retail store at the 7200 block of Dempster on three separate occasions. Video surveillance tapes show the man making the purchases. On May 7, the man charged $237 to a credit card. Police were unable to contact the card's owner and it is not known if permission to use the card was given. On May 21, the man attempted to make a purchase for $200 but the card was declined and he fled the scene. On May 22, the owner of a different credit card was contacted by the bank regarding a suspicious transaction for $245 made at the same retail store. The card owner told the bank that she was in possession of the only card issued to her, leading the bank to believe that the card used by the man was counterfeit.

The man is described as black, in his twenties, 165 lbs, 5'7", with a medium build, black hair, and a dark complexion.

The owner of a bar and grill at the 9000 block of Milwaukee, reported that a patron had presented and received cash for numerous checks between Nov. 15 and June 1 totaling $1,500. The checks were returned for non-sufficient funds.

A jewelry store in a mall reported last week that a check for $260.40 presented on April 26 was returned for non-sufficient funds.

RETAIL THEFT

A man ran behind the pharmacy counter at a food store on the 5700 block of Touhy June 3 and grabbed three bottles of generic Tylenol with codeine off the top shelf of the last drug case. He then fled the store. A patron saw him head westbound on Touhy in a red van or minivan. The man is described as white, in his thirties, 6', 180 lbs, with brown hair, a thin build, and a light complexion wearing sunglasses.

SUSPICIOUS ACTIVITY

A woman visiting a cemetery at the 6800 block of Milwaukee on June 7, contacted police after she noticed a man in a 1996 black Chevy Lumina drive slowly past her car and then park about 100 ft. away. He exited the vehicle with a piece of paper in his hand, and walked to various sites before walking toward her locked vehicle. She told police that the man slowly passed her car, got into his own and began driving around the cemetery.

The woman first contacted a friend whose car was robbed at the cemetery a month before and described the man and his vehicle. The friend confirmed that he matched the description of the man suspected in the previous incident.

Two thefts were reported last week from an auto repair garage on the 9400 block of Greenwood. On June 2, a 1989 silver Pontiac Bonneville in for repairs was stolen sometime between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. On June 4, two boxed wheels were taken. The suspect entered the east-side garage and is then believed to have entered the adjacent supply room and removed the boxes before driving away in a mid-1980's two-toned brown Grand Marquis. The wheels are valued at $350 each.

UNLAWFUL USE OF CREDIT CARD

A Skokie man reported that someone used his stolen credit card to make almost $800 in purchases on April 28 and 29.

District 219 News

Health Records Required.
Niles North and Niles West High School are urging all parents and students to complete or update student health and immunization records so that they can attend classes when school begins on Tuesday, August 28.

Renewal of Spirit Service planned

Congregation B'nai Jehoshua Beth Elohim, Glenview, has planned a Renewal of Spirit, Sunday morning service for Sunday, June 17, from 10:45 to 11:45, in the sanctuary at 901 Milwaukee, for those who wish to feel good in the presence of God and let go of their cares and burdens.

The service will be co-lead by clergy and Sandy Krebs, Wilmette, a lay leader.

For information, contact Shari Bauer (847) 729-7575 or online at: <http://www.bjbe.org> new to District 219, including freshmen and transfer students, have a complete physical done by a doctor licensed in Illinois. The law also requires evidence of immunization against measles (two doses of live vaccine), mumps, rubella, polio, Hepatitis B (three doses), diphtheria, and tetanus. If your doctor does not have a supply of dt vaccine (there is a nationwide shortage at this time), you will be required to submit a note, signed by your doctor, stating the dt booster will be deferred until the vaccine is available. A tuberculosis skin test is also highly recommended.

If you do not have a family physician who can administer these inoculations, the Skokie Health Department has free immunizations available (immunizations only, not physical exams). To schedule an appointment with the Skokie Health Department, call (847) 933-8252.

Any students who have not provided this information by the week of orientation August 20-24 will not receive either schedules or books until their records are complete, and will not be allowed to start classes.

Students Make History. District 219 students made an impressive showing at the recent Illinois History Exposition held recently in Springfield, IL. North students Sandra Yoon and Rosalyn Luz were selected to represent the state of Illinois at the national competition in Washington, DC with their project on the legacy of Marshall Fields. This is the third year in a row that Niles North students have gone on to compete at the national level of the competition, a contest that some 90,000 students throughout the state participate at many levels. Niles West students Julie Thomas and Mariann Chelampath were singled out to receive The Project Award from Bloomington Normal African American History.

Superior ratings went to the following Niles West students for their projects: Carrie Poulson and Kevin Vanderport; Irene Pisareva and Julia Pravnik; Kathy Crowley and Natalie Bartyl; and Jenny Ahn. Niles north students who participated as the Illinois History Expo included: Anush Laxpati, Virag Shah, Ben Wallenberg, Alex Tsinman, Yenny Estrada, Cristina Gaita, Aarti Goel, Courtney Livingston, Hilren Patel, Rebecca Taxman, Cathy Beederman, Ashley Chartak, Andelina Morais, Sara Rubin, Monique Kamaria, Stephanie Ng, Shin-ing Chen, Alex Rubinstein, and Jeremy Sorokas.

Betsy Holman and Kristy Pommereken-Schneider are the history fair sponsors at Niles North and Carole Goodfriend is the sponsor at Niles West.

Students Receive Scholarships. Niles North seniors Logan Farris of Skokie and Amber Benveniste of Skokie were recently awarded Project Imagine scholarships from Marshall Field's. Participation and leadership in the arts, recommendations from a creative arts teacher, a grade point average of 2.5 or higher, and a list of arts activities, awards and honors were some of the requirements for the $1,000 scholarship.

Both Logan and Amber plan to study music education at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo in the fall.

PTSA/Viking Volunteers Award Scholarships. At a recent Student Awards Assembly held at Niles North High School, six students were awarded Niles North PTSA/Viking Volunteers scholarships. Recipients of the scholarship were required to demonstrate: initiative, promise, and strength of character; service, participation and involvement in extracurricular activities; and grade point average of 2.0 or higher.

The graduating seniors who received the PTSA/Viking Volunteers scholarships are: Logan Farris, Sarah Choi, Aaron Kirkpatrick, Ronak Kapadia, Alex Gordin, and Elliott Weiss.

Preschoolers celebrate last day of school

Students from Niles Park District's Bright Beginnings Preschool had fun riding their bikes at the Howard Leisure Center, 6676 W. Howard Street, on May 17th. Ms. Teresa's 3-year-old Bright Beginnings Preschool class enjoyed their last day of school with an outdoor party. The children celebrated the end of classes with ice cream treats and bike decorating. The parking lot was blocked off so the kids could enjoy the beautiful day outside on their bikes.

Niles Park District offers both 3 and 4 year old preschool programs. There are a variety of class times and locations available. Bright Beginnings Preschool registration for the 2001-02 school year will be accepted at the Howard Leisure Center until classes are filled. Classes begin September 4, 2001. For more information on the Bright Beginnings Preschool Program, please stop in the Howard Leisure Center or call (847) 967-6633. Register today!

Researchers produce new diagnosis standard

Using a mathematical model originally developed overseas to measure achievement test results, three Illinois researchers have put together a "yardstick" they say doctors could use when trying to diagnose Alzheimer's disease.

"Alzheimer's disease affects nearly 4 million people in this country, but it can be diagnosed only by ruling out all other possible causes for the dementia," said A. Kyle Perkins, a linguist at Southern Illinois University Carbondale who specializes in language testing.

"We wanted to produce something that would be valuable to a general practitioner or Alzheimer's specialist in determining more quickly whether a particular patient has Alzheimer's."

To do that, Perkins, along with Larry F. Hughes, a research professor at SIU's School of Medicine in Springfield, and Benjamin D. Wright, founder of the University of Chicago's Measurement Evaluation Statistical Analysis Psychometric Laboratory, turned to a Rasch analysis computer program. Rasch analysis is a measurement tool that makes it possible to show information about both people and things on the same scale.

In building their yardstick, the researchers used data from 600 Illinois patients who had visited the SIU School of Medicine's Center for Alzheimer Disease and Related Disorders. Because these patients have already been diagnosed - a third of them probably have Alzheimer's, a third of them might have it, and a third of them do not - the researchers were able to use those diagnoses to double-check their yardstick's accuracy.

The computer first combined information from the patients' medical histories and mental ability tests with facts about their personal attributes, such as their ages and genders. From there, it produced an Alzheimer's scale - basically, a mathematical depiction of the odds of having Alzheimer's.

"No measure is ever gold-standard certain," said Wright, a key figure in the American school of Rasch analysis. "A measure implies a region of uncertainty."

The Alzheimer's scale consists of a line of interval measures ranging from zero to 100. Zero represents the complete absence of Alzheimer's disease, while 100 stands for its presence full blown.

The computer also produced a chart that showed how each element it analyzed ranked on that Alzheimer's scale. The chart showed that three common tests of mental functioning worked best as indicators of the disease.

The Activities of Daily Living scale, commonly abbreviated as ADL, assesses memory and performance of everyday activities. The Short Blessed Dementia scale assesses concentration and recall. The Mini-Mental State Exam, or MMSE, assesses memory and orientation.

Hughes stressed that the Rasch measurement model he and his colleagues produced by itself does not predict or diagnose the disease.

"It helps us focus the existing information a little more thoroughly," he said. "You have to sort through a lot of data in determining what's Alzheimer's disease and what's not. That requires a judgment on the part of the physician and a fair amount of data evaluation."

"That's where I see this making a contribution, in simplifying data handling procedures and giving us something more easily understood by the physician. It's one more tool in the arsenal for them to use to solve one more piece of the puzzle."

Maine East students earn honors

On Friday, April 27, Maine East students who are in the TV/Broadcasting program participated in the Chicagoland Video Festival, and placed with honorable distinction. Students who earned the distinction of "Finalist" at the Festival include Steve Giannopoulos (Glenview), Chris Jennings (Niles) and Jay Burger (Des Plaines) for their commercial "Election 2000." Scott Finkel (Morton Grove) for his commercial "The Wind Spot," Katy Kanfer (Des Plaines) and Kris Piotrowski (Niles) for their music video "Writer's Block," and Christina Carbonara (Des Plaines) for her music video, "It's a Beautiful Day." Carbonara also earned a Platinum award for this music video, which may be aired on PBS' show "Image Union."

Other students who took the Platinum award include Josh Mallon (Des Plaines), Kris Piotrowski (Niles), and Scott Finkel (Morton Grove) in the Sports category, for their coverage of Maine East basketball.

Congressional redistricting...

to increase its population by about 60,000.

Schakowsky plans to make frequent visits to new areas of her district and study their local issues. Because many new constituents live close to O'Hare, she plans to focus strongly on airport issues. "I know airport issues are of a high concern to these constituents, and I will have to do some studying," she told a Niles-Herald Spectator reporter.

Besides boundaries, party affiliation is another shift. Much of Democrat Schakowsky's new district was formerly the province of Republican, Henry Hyde.

Schakowsky feels she will find common ground with these constituents, that most concerns are universal issues like education, Social Security and heating costs.

The new 9th District still favors the Democratic party, with 64 percent of the redrawn district having voted for Gore in the past election, according to Schakowsky.

Schakowsky maintains a Niles office at 6767 N. Milwaukee Avenue in Niles.

Dist. 64 bus fees...

However, if bus space is available, it's offered to students closer to school who pay a fee--the fee now being considered for the 31 percent increase. This would raise an additional $20,000 revenue in a year's time, an objective consistent with the district's stated goals of cost reduction and revenue enhancements.

At present 250 students purchase bus service.

The fee adjustment was suggested at public discussions a few months ago as one way to get additional revenue.

$20 million loan...

he pointed out, it will pay for realizing energy savings from new lighting, as well as from heating, ventilation and air-conditioning systems. The loan will be repaid from the savings realized when the new systems are operating and repaid to the bank that issues the loan note.

District 219 business Manager Gerry Yeggy projects that the new systems would begin paying their way within two years, with payback complete within seven to 10 years.

The board members voted approval of this process, called "performance contracting," through which Siemens Energy, on contract, provides building energy savings systems. They also approved a second smaller contract with Nicor for energy-saving gas delivery systems.

Referring to this performance fund package, Silverman said he is not totally comfortable presenting such funds as revenue. "I agree we should do this, but I want to remind people that it's not new money," he said.

With a $65 million bond as the major chunk of the $85 million needed for the basic work, the board looked for about $20 million that could be added, then presented this proposal.

The board expects an additional $1 million from a food service supplier. Contract negotiations would provide that the contract supplier install a new kitchen.

But the $5 million refinancing bond got a lot of trustee attention during the meeting. While they agreed to issue the bond, some trustees were shocked at the rate of interest the district would have to pay. According to Yeggy, the district will pay $1.3 million in interest payments on the bond and get an extra $3.7 million for construction. The $5 million will be repaid over 19 years.

Trustee Sharon Demar asked what the interest on the $5 million bond would come to. Advisor Ray Coyne replied that the rate was 5.75 percent, then, to further questioning, he replied the dollar amount is $9 million.

Silverman told Demar, alarmed to hear the amount was almost twice that of the bond, that the debt ratio was similar to what people pay on cars or homes.
