Local soccer group asks for volunteers

A Morton Grove chapter of tributing uniforms. the American Youth Soccer Organization is hoping to net itself some badly-needed volunteers.

The board of directors has scheduled a meeting at the Prairie View Community Center to address the problem. They are looking for volunteers to coach and to organize.

Dick Klemundt. regional AYSO commissioner, said that f not enough volunteers come forward he may be forced to cancel spring season.

Klemundt has 57 volunteers tapped at present, but needs more. "I'd like to see 100," he Coaching requires a long-term commitment, but other positions do not. For instance, a volunteer

One parent volunteered to maintain the group's web site after noticing it was not being up-

"It was a learning experience." she said, "but I am surprised how much I enjoy it."

AYSO provides training for coaching volunteers. Volunteers are not required to know anything about soccer.

Klemundt's region covers Morton Grove, Skokie and Glenview. Up to 450 children from kindergarten through sixth grade normally participate. The AYSO program is not mainly a competitive effort, but rather one in which everybody plays.

Anyone wanting to know more about the program is invitmay spend only two to three ed to visit to group's Web site at hours a season sorting and dis-www.eteamz.com/MGAYSO.

Niles West principal comes from Niles North

Ms. Dale Vogler, Assistant Principal at Niles North, has ward to her new role.

Niles West Superintendent Neil Codell said that while Vogler's contract is not yet finalyzed, he would expect her salary to run about $135,000.

Vogler said her first goal after arriving at Niles West will be to get to know students, parents and staff and understand how the school operates.

Red Ribbon Week Celebrated at SJB

"United We Stand for a Drug-Free Land" is what the students at St. John Brebeuf School promised during Red Ribbon Week 2002. The goal of this week was to promote healthy and fun living without the use of tobacco, alcohol, illegal drugs, guns and violence.

Red ribbons showing support for this cause were tied around trees bordering the SJB property and students were a red ribbon each day to school. Candy treats with drug-free messages were shared throughout the week. The students were able to accessorize their school uniforms during that week with red, white and blue items. Each classroom made a poster saying things the children could do instead of drugs been named to serve as principal at Niles West High School

Vogler said she is looking for-Vogler has worked for District 219 for 10 years, all at Niles North where she began as science teacher. She advanced o Director of Math and Science. then to Administration Director. which evolved into her current position, Assistant Principal.

from an ad - down from a sign"

Newspaper ads can make a home look very inviting, arousing interest and stimulating phone calls for more information.

An ad can also create unrealistic expectations for prospective buyers. Thus, after seeing the inside of the home, prospects may realize the special features they want are only available in higher priced homes. Thus, they tend to "buy up" from an advertisement.

The reverse may be true after driving by a "For Sale" sign, at which point prospects do not know the price. Again, their imagination runs wild. They see themselves owning such a beautiful home and become convinced that the price is somewhat lower than reality would suggest. When they hear the price, often higher than expected, they realize they must "buy down." settle for another home with fewer amenities.

In either case, buyers often purchase a home other than the one that originally caught their eye. Because most buyers look at a variety of homes, and because the "by owner" has only one house to sell, the prospects look clsewhere, often contacting a real estate agent who can locate a home which meets their specifi-

Skokie proposes smoking ban

Skokie's health board will meet Jan. 16 to discuss a proposal which would ban smoking in village restaurants and bars.

Business owners will have an opportunity at the meeting to air concerns.

The proposed Clean Air Act would only become law if adopted by the village board.

According to Lowell Huckleberry, village health director. 110 restaurants and bars in the village were surveyed for their opinions about a smoking ban.

Results show that about 44 percent of those responding approved of a complete ban.

Thirty-six out of 110 establishments responded. Huckleberry said.

Skokie resident Sue Ferdinand who heads a local advocacy group says she has more than 600 signatures from residents of Skokie. Evanston, Northbrook and Park Ridge who favor the proposal.

The Board of Health may also explore extending the ban to cover all workplaces, whereas the current ordinance prohibits smoking in workplaces with nine or more employees.

MG American Legion Auxiliary Luncheon

It's beginning to look like Christmas, and the Morton Grove American Legion Auxiliary Unit #134 is inviting the community to their annual Christmas Cheer luncheon. To be held at 11 a.m. on Sat., Dec. 7, the social is scheduled for the Morton Grove (Legion) Memorial Civic Center. 6140 Dempster.

Due to the arrangement with the village and the renovations. no such event was scheduled last year.

The catered Hawaiian style meal will have an admission price of $10. Reservations are necessary in advance, and community attendees may phone chairman Pat Jordan at (847) 967-5812.

The date as one will readily ascertain is Pearl Harbor Day: and what better time to hold this function? In addition it is appropriate that the entertainment has to do with Legion-associated programs and veterans.

The combined choral group of the Lakeside/West Side VA Hospitals will perform as they did two years ago. Composed of veterans who are in patients at the two institutions, they mix words and songs into a delightful program.

They have also appeared at other organizations such as senior citizen groups; and at the conventions and related meetings of the American Legion Auxiliary.

The luncheon fare will include shrimp, pork, beef and chicken.

A cash raffle will be held and the popular Rose Bowl game played. Similar to Sorry, there will be many prizes available. The male population usually joins the ladies for this festive holiday social.

OLR Cub Scouts See Civil War Days Reenactment

On October 19, 2002, Cub Scout Pack 107 from Our Lady of Ransom School went to Civil Ware Days at The Dollinger Farm in Minooka, IL. The boys witnessed first hand how life was during the Civil War Days with people wearing authentic clothing, military drills and artillery demonstrations, President Lincoln's speech and finally the Battle. This was a family event with a good time had by all.

Local Baha'is studying life of Baha'u'llah

The Baha'is of Unincorporated Maine Township are studying God Passes By about the history of the Baha'i Faith and the life of its Prophet-Founder Baha'u'llah (1817-1892). Baha'u'llah taught that all the major religions are like chapters of one book from God and that the time has come for humanity to unite and live in peace. He emphasized that "The earth is but one country and mankind its citizens." For this Baha'u'llah spent 40 years in exile from his native Iran, and spent the last years of his life as a prisoner of the Ottoman Empire in Palestine (present-day Israel). Tips for Preventing Holiday Blues, Staying Sober Des Plaines Des Plaines highs and lows. Loneliness, anxiety, happiness and sadness are common feelings, sometimes experienced in startling succession. The bad news is the holiday blues can trigger relapse for people recovering from alcoholism and other drug addiction. The good news is the blues can be remedied by planning ahead.

Why do the blues hit during this otherwise festive season? Doing too much or too little and being separated from loved ones at this special time can lead to sadness during the holiday season. Many recovering people associate the holidays with memories of overindulgence, perhaps of big benders that resulted in relationship problems or great personal losses.

People experience feelings of melancholy, sadness and grief tied to holiday recollections. Unlike clinical depression, which is more severe and can last for months or years, those feelings are temporary, says Sue Hoisington, a licensed psychologist and executive director of Hazelden's Mental Health Centers. Anyone experiencing major symptoms of depression, such as persistent lessness; changes in sleep pat- don't wait until the last minute to

> Good self-care is vital. Remember to slow down. Take some quiet time each day and work on an attitude of gratitude. Plan relaxation and meditation into your day, even for a few minutes, no matter how busy you are. Relax your standards and reduce overwhelming demands and responsibilities.

Don't overindulge. Go casy on the holiday sweets and follow a balanced diet. Monitor your intake of caffeine, nicotine and sugar. Enhance your support system. Holidays are a good time to reach out more frequently to your therapist. sponsor, spiritual advisor, or support group. If you're in recovery, spend time with fellow recovering people. Let others help you realize your personal limits. Learn to say "no" in a way that is comfortable for you.

Find new ways to celebrate. Create some new symbols and rituals that will help redefine a joyful holiday season. You might host a holiday gathering for special recovering friends and/or attend celebrations of your Twelve Step group. Avoid isolation and spend time with people you like who are not substance users. Don't expose yourself to unnecessary temptations, such as gatherings where alcohol is the center of entertainment. If there are people who have a negative influence on you, avoid them.

Focus on your recovery program. Holidays are also an important time to focus on your recovery program. For example, ask, "What am I working on in my program now?" Discuss this with your sponsor.

Local Baha'is studying life of Baha'u'llah

The Baha'is of Unincorporated Maine Township are studying God Passes By about the history of the Baha'i Faith and the life of its Prophet-Founder Baha'u'llah (1817-1892). Baha'u'llah taught that all the major religions are like chapters of one book from God and that the time has come for humanity to unite and live in peace. He emphasized that "The earth is but one country and mankind its citizens." For this Baha'u'llah spent 40 years in exile from his native Iran, and spent the last years of his life as a prisoner of the Ottoman Empire in Palestine (present-day Israel). Tips for Preventing Holiday Blues, Staying Sober days can be a period of emotional highs and lows. Loneliness, anx- a trusted mental health profesiety, happiness and sadness are common feelings, sometimes experienced in startling succession. The bad news is the holiday blues can trigger relapse for people recovering from alcoholism and other drug addiction. The good news is the blues can be remedied by planning ahead.

Why do the blues hit during this otherwise festive season? Doing too much or too little and being separated from loved ones at this special time can lead to sadness during the holiday season. Many recovering people associate the holidays with memories of overindulgence, perhaps of big benders that resulted in relationship problems or great personal losses.

People experience feelings of melancholy, sadness and grief tied to holiday recollections. Unlike clinical depression, which is more severe and can last for months or years, those feelings are temporary, says Sue Hoisington, a licensed psychologist and executive director of Hazelden's Mental Health Centers. Anyone experiencing major symptoms of depression, such as persistent sadness. anxiety. guilt or help-

Whether you're in recovery or not. Hoisington suggests developing a holiday plan to help prevent the blues, one that will confront unpleasant memories before they threaten your holiday experience. Your plan should include improved self-care, enhanced support from others, and healthy ways to celebrate. Hoisington offers a few suggestions to achieve a happy, sober holiday

Good self-care is vital. Remember to slow down. Take some quiet time each day and work on an attitude of gratitude. Plan relaxation and meditation into your day, even for a few minutes, no matter how busy you are. Relax your standards and reduce overwhelming demands and responsibilities.

Don't overindulge. Go easy on the holiday sweets and follow a balanced diet. Monitor your intake of caffeine, nicotine and sugar. Exercise regularly to help maintain your energy level amid a busier schedule. Don't try to do too much. Get plenty of sleep. Fatigue is a stressor. Enhance your support system. Holidays are a good time to reach out more frequently to your therapist, sponsor, spiritual advisor, or support group. If you're in recovery, spend time with fellow recovering people. Let others help you realize your personal limits Learn to say "no" in a way that is comfortable for you.

Find new ways to celebrate. Create some new symbols and rituals that will help redefine a joyful holiday season. You might host a holiday gathering for special recovering friends and/or attend celebrations of your Twelve Step group. Avoid isolation and spend time with people you like who are not substance users. Don't expose yourself to unnecessary temptations, such as gatherings where alcohol is the center of entertainment. If there are people who have a negative influence on you, avoid them.

Focus on your recovery program. Holidays are also an important time to focus on your recovery program. For example. ask. "What am I working on in my program now?" Discuss this with your sponsor.

Release your resentments. Resentment has been described as allowing a person you dislike to the Greater Illinois MS chapter board of trustees. At 11 a.m.. Cheryl Perez. information and referral counselor at Abilitylinks. will present a motivational talk: "Things work out best for the people who make the best out of the way things work out."

The program directed to pcople with multiple sclerosis and their families is free of charge and will begin at 9 a.m. with registration and a continental breakfast. For advance registration and additional details, call 1-800-922-0484, ext. 116.

Multiple sclerosis is a chronic. often disabling disease of the central nervous system. It is generally diagnosed between the ages of 20 and 50. Symptoms can range -from numbness in the limbs to paralysis or loss of vision. The progress, severity, and specific symptoms of MS in any one person cannot yet be predicted, but advances in research and treatments are giving hope to those affected by the disease.

The National Multiple Selerosis Society provides programs and services that make life better for the third of a million Americans with multiple selerosis and their families and friends designed to inform and empower people to maximize their health and independence. In the Greater Illinois region, there are more than 10.000 people with MS.

The kindergarten students at St. John Brebeuf School have some new "friends" in class this year. The children in Mrs. Ries' and Mrs. Oliva's class have several new pets which they have been caring for since the school year be-

Children are caring for three hermit crabs, four anole lizards, a guinea pig, and two goldfish. They are learning facts about each animal and how to care for them. Some children do not have any pets at home and this gives them an oportunity to see what it's like having a pet, while also teaching them responsibility in caring for other living things.

Other animals that will be visiting this year include butterflies, caterpillars, crickets and worms.

Why Select A Family Owned Funeral Home?

- * Prices are traditionally much lower than those of corporate owned funeral homes.
- * Our funeral directors and staff do not work on commissions. They will never pressure you to buy something that you don't want or need.
- * All of our preparation work is done at our funeral homes by licensed funeral directors. Your loved one will not be transported to a "factory like" embalming facility.
- * You will be treated with the respect and appreciation that only a family owned business can offer.
- * We consistently upgrade our facilities and equipment to offer families only the best.
- * The comfort of knowing the person you're dealing with. You will always see a familiar face at our chapels. Our staff is not rotated among dozens of funeral homes.

Why Select A Family Owned Funeral Home?

- * Prices are traditionally much lower than those of corporate owned funeral homes.
- * Our funeral directors and staff do not work on commissions. They will never pressure you to buy something that you don't want or need.
- * All of our preparation work is done at our funeral homes by licensed funeral directors. Your loved one will not be transported to a "factory like" embalming facility.
- * You will be treated with the respect and appreciation that only a family owned business can offer.
- * We consistently upgrade our facilities and equipment to offer families only the best.
- * The comfort of knowing the person you're dealing with. You will always see a familiar face at our chapels. Our staff is not rotated among dozens of funeral homes.

Oak Park resident Susan Gree- event. ley has generously offered to display nativity scenes she has collected throughout the years. "I bought my first nativity scene in 1980 when I was living in Bogota. Colombia." Greeley shares. Throughout the years, her collection has grown - and even Greeley has lost count of the exact number of nativity scenes she has. Greeley ahs received many nativity sets as gifts, including one from her husband as a gift on their wedding day. Greeley is producer of Lutheran Vespers. the national radio ministry of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA), which features er and pastor.

Walt Wangerin, author, storytell-People tend to think of traditional nativity scenes sold in American stores, but Greeley's collection highlights what others around the world consider "traditional" as well. Greeley points out one from Alaska where Mary and Joseph are dressed in an Inuit and Russian costumes. The Three Wise Men come bearing gifts on dog sleds. "I love this Alaskan interpretation of the nativity because it expresses so beautifully our human understanding of Christ's incarnation." Greeley says. Another unique nativity set Greeley owns is one made of painted dough bread.

"I hope people who come to see the display will find themselves drawn a bit more deeply into the mystery of God who would choose to be born as one of us," Greeley adds.

The tradition of the nativity scene, or creche, dates back to 1223. St. Francis of Assisi is said to have been traveling to the Italian village of Greccio at the time, when the sight of shepherds in moonlit fields evoked images of the first Christmas. Inspired by the midnight scene, he beckoned villagers that Christmas Eve to light the sky with their torches. bring their animals, and re-enact the Nativity. During succeeding centuries. the tradition spread tian families annually display a year. Tickets at the door are $15 créche, often one that has been handed down from generation to generation.

There will be a Ways and Means fund raising Boutique before and after the meeting. Bev Hudec, chairman, said there would be home made goodies and lots of extravagant Holiday items to purchase for gifts.

"The Marriage of Figaro" was viva. Morgan Douvris as the adapted by Richard Nelson from an infamous play by Beaumarchais that features a clash of the classes. Figaro, a servant, battles his master, the Count Almaviva, over the favors of his betrothed. Suzanne. Meanwhile, the Countess plots with Figaro and Suzanne to punish her husband. Further complicating the situation is Marceline, who attempts to hold Figaro to a marrriage contract. "The Marriage of Figaro" caused controversy when it was written in 1778. The ruler of France, Louis XVI. banned "The Marriage of Figaro" due to its revolutionary ideas, chief among them that privilege should not be accorded on the basis of birth. Beaumarchais, the author of the popular "The Barber of Seville": battled with the king for years in order to stage the play. It was only a few years later that the monarchy and privileged aristocracy were overthrown during the French Revolution. Today's audiences do not need to know the history of the play in order to enjoy . The witty humor and devious rnachinations in "The Marriage of Figaro" will delight audiences much today as it did over two hundred years ago.

speare seems to have an affinity for the City of Chicago. The breathtaking, world class Chicago Shakespeare Theatre on Navy Pier plays to sold-out houses all season long. Now, along comes a small play, a one-man show, written by Chicagoan Dan Decker. which gives a personal glimpse of the man Will Shakespeare.

"An Evening With Will Shakespeare" is set in Stratford upon Avon on April 23, 1616, Shakespeare's 52nd birthday and the night he died. Decker has stumbled upon something in Shakespeare's sonnets. "Will is talking to us in great detail, if we learn to listen," says Decker. "I was so flabbergasted by what I found, I wrote this play to share it with everyone. Make sure your home is winterized is a good investment. It reduces corner, now is the time to give your home a "check-up". Here are six tips from the Comfort Institute on what to look for and take care of so your home is ready for those cold north winds.

1. Have your duct system tested for air leaks. Many think that windows and doors are the major cause of a home's air leaks. But according to recent research by the Department of Energy (DOE), gaps, cracks and disconnections in the typical home's duct system are much more significant. The DOE states that typical duct system loses 25% to 40% of the energy put out by the central furnace, heat or air conditioner. Leaks are usually the biggest problem. 2. Ask your heating contractor to perform an Infiltrometer "blower door" test. The blower door is a computerized instrument originally invented by the Department of Energy. It pinpoints where your home's worst air leaks are, and also measures how leaky the overall house is. While most homes are still far too leaky, some are now quite tight, and need mechanical ventilation to ensure the air inside is

3. Have your heating system cleaned and tuned by a qualified contractor. A pre-season tune up and filter change more dependable, and can pay for qualified contractor. A prefortinstitute.org. 4. Have your system checked for Carbon Monoxide. A good contractor will also offer to test your system for hazardous Carbon Monoxide, which can be produced by a dirty or malfunctioning gas or oil furnace or water

5. Install a low level Carbon Monoxide alarm. Every home should have at least one Carbon Momoxide alarm. However, alarms available from retail stores will not warn of hazardous chronic lower levels. More sensitive low level alarms are available from heating contractors. For more information on Carbon Monoxide, visit: www.comfortinstitute.org.

6. Consider replacing your old furnace or heat pump. Just . like a car, heating equipment doesn't last forever. If your system is over 12 years old, and you are planning to stay in your home more than a few years, many authorities recommend considering replacing it before it fails perma-

Tips for Getting Ready for Severe Winter Weather

Winter Storm Preparedness Week ends Saturday, but State Senator Dave Sullivan (R-Park Ridge) said any time in the next few weeks is a good time to get ready for winter storms.

The annual average number of severe winter storms in Illinois is five. During the winter of 1977-78, there were 18 severe storms. Sullivan said the odds are that Illinois residents will have to contend with severe winter weather and it is a good idea to be pre-

Some winter preparation tips

· Know the terms relating to winter storms and severe cold weather

• Winterize your home to extend the life of your fuel supply • Prevent water pipes from freezing • Prepare for being unable to leave your home

• Prepare your vehicles for severe winter weather

Sullivan also said the application process for the Lowe Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) is currently unthat allows families with incomes of up to 150 percent of the poverty level to receive financial assistance for their energy needs. Currently a family of two can qualify with a monthly income of up to $1,493 and a family of four can qualify with a monthly income of p to $2,263.

Proven experience, dependability, quality workmanship. When you're contracting work to be done in your own home you can demand and expect the best.

In some cases, that may mean paying a bit extra; inother instances it could mean putting off the work until a contractor can fit you into his or her schedule.

Sometimes, however, concessions are not necessary. There are contractors who have relied on their honest work and quality products to build their business. Everdry Waterproofing has done just that.

"We take great pride in our approach to customer. service, timely installations and quality work," said Bill Crawford, general manager of Everdry Water proofing.

A veteran in the competitive waterproofing industry, Everdry has serviced more than 70,000 satisfied customers throughout the Midwest during the past 25 ve ars.

As a certified basement waterproofer, Everdry offers an exclusive, patented system that combats water from both inside and outside the house. "We stand behind our work" with a lifetime-of-the-home quarantee on all waterproofing: installations," he said.

Everdry offers custom, free-in-home inspections to detect any water related problems in the foundation or basement. The informational meeting with the homeowner includes an assessment of the basement conditions, solutions for alleviating any identified problems, and a cost estimate for the proposed work.

It is the personal approach to service and customer relations that sets Everdry apart from other waterproofing contractors.

"We invest time and money in our greatest resource our people. The well-trained and highly-experienced Everdry team offers our customers a consistently superior product, while attending to the customer's needs on a personal level," said Bill Crawford.

How to Refinance Your Auto Loan and Save

(NU) - Almost everyone knows that they can save big moncy by refinancing their home mortgage, but most people don't realize that they can save hundreds, if not thousands, of dollars by refinancing their auto loan.

If you're an owner of one of the 50 million new vehicles that have been sold in the last three years with an interest rate greater than 6.5 percent, you're a prime candidate to refinance your auto loan. Even if you only slightly lower your interest rate, the savings can be substantial.

For example, a typical interest rate in December 2000 was 9.26 percent for a $20,000 auto loan. By refinancing and reducing that interest rate to 6.59 percent, you could save more than $1,500 over the life of the loan.

You can easily determine how much money you may be able to save by using online calculators like the one available at calculator, you don't have to en-ter any personally identifiable in-of the loan. ter any personally identifiable in-

Unlike many other financial transactions, there's not a lot of rigmarole associated with the process. You don't have to worry about dealing with appointments, appraisals or mounds of documents to sign. And the easiest way to do it is online, so you never have to leave your home or office desk. By doing it online, you'll save yourself time and money, too. In addition to exceptionally low rates, online lenders such as E-LOAN have an application that only takes a few minutes to fill out and they e-mail your approval decision within an

There are no hidden costs or fees with E-LOAN, so you're never surprised by a list of unexpected charges at the end of the transaction. Since you pay only the cost of the title transfer - usually $30 or less — it's easier to evaluate the true cost of refinanc-. www.eloan.com. With E-LOAN's ing and reap the rewards of low-

Edward Jones:

Contributing to Charity This Holiday Season.

During this upcoming holiday season, we may think fondly of the many wonderful things that haritable organization has done for us, our family and others.

We may donate our time and efforts at the local food or toy drive. We may volunteer at our children's or grandchildren's school. But as we reflect on the ways that these organizations make the lives of there they ouch brighter, we may also wish we could do more for them:

If you feel like this, there are additional ways you can help, strictly beyond cash donations.

If you have stocks that have weathered recent market conditions and grown significantly in value over the years, you can donate them to the charity of your choice. You, too, can benefit from this donation. By doing so, you'll owe no capital gains tax when the stock is sold if you've owned the appreciated stock for at least a year. And you can deduct all or part of the gift from your taxes.

You also can help your estate planning by making your donation through a charitable remainder trust You may do so by contributing appreciated assets - such as stocks or real estate - to the charitable remainder trust. The trust then sells the assets and uses the proceeds to purchase a portfolio of securities. You are then paid an income stream for life, and the organization receives the principal upon your death. By setting up such a trust, you avoid capital gains tax, and you can claim a deduction on your current-year taxes. And because you're moving assets from your estate, your beneficiaries will have fewer estate taxes to pay.

By transferring the bulk of your appreciated assets to a charitable remainder trust, you need not forget about your heirs. You may wish to use the income from the charitable remainder trust to purchase a life insurance policy on yourself. It is important to note, however, that the proceeds from such a policy will go into your taxable estate. If you'd like to avoid this, consider purchasing an insurance policy in an irrevocable life insurance trust. Because the trust actually owns the insurance policy, the proceeds are kept out of your taxable estate and your heirs will owe less in estate taxes. You can also direct the trust to provide your heirs with

Before establishing a trust, consult with your legal adviser to learn the full advantages and disadvantages of these complex estate-planning instruments. Should you simply donate an appreciated stock or make your donation through a charitable remainder trust? The answer depends on your financial goals. If a tax deduction is your primary objective. a straight donation may be the best choice for you. If you would like to establish a steady stream of income, a charitable remainder trust may be the more attractive option.

Regardless of which option you choose, you'll be helping a valued institution and yourself. In short, everyone would be thankful.
